JUVENILES' COURT HELD BY JUDGE VAIL

Five Plainfield Lads Arraigned at First Session in Elizabeth Yesterday.

DISPOSITION OF CASES

BOYS CHARGED WITH PLACING DUMMY ON CENTRAL JERSEY'S TRACKS.

Albert Renwanz Was Sent to Reform School and His Companions Placed in Charge of the Probation Officer.

The first session of Juvenile Court in Union County, as established under an act of the Legislature of 1903, was held yesterday morning before Judge Vail at Elizabeth.

Six boys, ranging in age from 11 to 15 years, were arraigned and each was, with one exception, in the custody of Mrs. Emily E. Williamson, the probation officer, who was in court in person to look after the juveniles' interest.

Of the six offenders arraigned yesterday morning only one was from Elizabeth, the remainder being from this city.

The five Plainfield lads were the ones who caused considerable excitement some weeks ago by placing a dummy on the tracks of the Central near Plainfield avenue.

Albert Renwanz, fourteen years old and an orphan, was committed to the State Reformatory at Rahway, he being considered incorrigible. His companions, William Doyle, Michael Gunisky and the Eskerson brothers, Howard and Chrystal, were released on parole in the custody of the probation officer.

The object of the law under which the Juvenile Court is established is to protect children under sixteen years of age, first offenders, from going to jail and those being placed in the company of old offenders.

Juvenile Court will be held on the first Wednesday morning of each month. Parents against whose children complaint has been entered are in response to notification expected to produce their child complained of. The complaint is then heard by the court, and if substantiated the offender, instead of going to jail is given another chance by being placed in the custody of the probation officer. If, however, the offender repeats his offense or proves incorrigible, on being re-arraigned he may be committed to some institution set apart for such offenders.

One of the main objects in establishing the Juvenile Court is to dispose of the cases brought before it without giving them undue publicity.

LANNING TO BE JUDGE.

Congressman Succeeds the Late Andrew Kirkpatrick on U. S. District Bench.

After a conference with the President yesterday Attorney General Knox announced the appointment of William M. Lanning, of Trenton, to be United States District Judge for the district of New Jersey. Mr. Lanning now represents the IVth New Jersey District, composed of Mercer, Somerset and Hunterdon counties, in the House of Representatives. He succeeds the late Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of Newark.

Representative William Mershon Lanning was born in Ewing Township, Mercer County, N. J., on January 1, 1849; was graduated from the Lawrenceville School in 1866, and employed as a teacher in the public schools of Mercer County and in the Trenton Academy from 1866 to 1880; the honorary degree of master of arts was conferred on him by Rutgers College in 1894, and by Princeton University in 1901. He was admitted to the bar as attorney in 1880, and as counselor in 1883. He was elected to the LVIIIth Congress, receiving 17,172 votes to 16,906 for Lewis Perkins, Democrat.

Karnell-Eriksen.

Miss Ada E. R. Karnell and Rasmus Eriksen, of this city, were quietly married last night at 8 o'clock at the home of Andrew Kroz, 701 East Sixth street. Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel, performed the ceremony in the presence of a small company of relatives and friends. Miss Ida Kinder, of this city, was the bridesmaid, and Gunnor Karnell, brother of the bride, was best man. The couple will reside here. The groom is employed at 500 Steelle avenue as a coachman.

MRS. E. C. MULFORD DEAD

PASSES AWAY AT AGE OF SIXTY-FOUR, LEAVING FIVE CHILDREN.

Mrs. E. C. Mulford, widow of the late Edward C. Mulford, died suddenly at her home in East Fifth street, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, from heart trouble. She had been ill about two weeks, but her condition was not considered critical.

Mrs. Mulford was born at Mt. Bethel and was sixty-four years old. After her marriage she came to this city and lived here the rest of her life. She was a faithful member and regular attendant of the First M. E. church.

Four daughters, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. F. S. Cutter, Mrs. William R. Townsend and Miss Carrie Mulford, and one son, Armstrong Mulford, survive her.

The funeral services will be held from the late home Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will be in charge of Rev. Dr. W. O. Snodgrass. The interment will be in Hillside cemetery.

PUPILS GIVE PIANO RECITAL

ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE AT MISS MINNIE S. MARSH'S ON MADISON AVE.

A large and enthusiastic audience listened to the piano recital given yesterday afternoon by the pupils of Miss Minnie S. Marsh at her residence on Madison avenue. The solos, duos and quartettes were all played in a pleasing manner showing individuality in style and fine execution.

The young women taking part in the programme were the Misses Anna Scott Yerkes, Pauline A. Ralli, Madeline Reed, Katherine H. McCutcheon, Elizabeth McGee, Marguerite Lee, Gladys Peck, Verna H. McCutcheon, Ruth O. Fredricks, Mary E. Valiant, Marian H. McCutcheon, Edith C. Fisk and Miss Baldee Mae Howell, a former pupil.

A reception was held after the recital and teacher and pupils received the congratulations of those present.

STRAWBERRIES AND MUSIC

FEAST GIVEN BY ORGANIZATION IN SEVENTH-DAY BAPTIST CHURCH.

Music, both vocal and instrumental, as well as the best of Miss Evaline De B. Benton's recitations figured on the programme at the strawberry festival in the Seventh-day Baptist church parlors last evening.

Beside Miss Benton, J. Edmund Skiff, choirmaster at the Church of the Holy Cross, sang tenor solos, accompanied on the piano by Miss Alberta Waterbury.

A violin duet by Mrs. Robert Johnston and Miss Burnett, to piano accompaniment by Miss Burnett's sister, was also heartily applauded.

The affair was under the auspices of the Women's Christian Work Society and owed its success to the following committees: Committee in charge—Mrs. J. P. Mosher and Mrs. George H. Babcock; decorations—Mrs. I. N. VanSickle and Mrs. F. A. Dunham; refreshments—Mrs. T. C. Smith, Mrs. H. M. Maxson and Mrs. D. E. Titsworth.

Miss Cornelia Miller was in charge of the lemonade table. Miss Ernestine Smith acted as head waitress and was assisted by the Misses Etta Randolph, Bessie Dunham, Eva Rogers, Eliza Dufford, Isabel Randolph, Kizzie Neagle, Lenise VanSickle, Mildred Green and Mary St. John.

Elected to Exclusive Club.

Ames Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Brooks, of West Seventh street, has been elected a member of the Monday Night Club, of Princeton University. This club has a membership of twelve, composed of seniors who have distinguished themselves in athletics or literary work. Mr. Brooks has been associated in an editorial capacity with one of the college papers.

Church Festival.

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, of the First Presbyterian church, the annual strawberry festival will be held in the chapel of the church Tuesday night, June 14, from 6 to 10 o'clock.

Baseball Club Fair.

The second annual fair of the North Plainfield Crescents will be held Wednesday afternoon, June 29, at 2:30 o'clock on the corner of Grove street and Prospect place.

—S. W. Frecht, 224 West Front street, is making a big reduction on pianos, bicycles and sheet music for Saturday. See ad.

COUNCIL TO RECEIVE SEWER EXTENSION BIDS

Special Meeting to be Held on Friday Night, June 17, to Act on Proposed Improvement.

TO USE EIGHT-INCH PIPE

STREETS TO BE BENEFITTED BY THE EXTENSION AS PLANNED.

Mr. Gloak Offers Resolution—Notice of Special Meeting to be Published—Just a Quorum Present.

Further action was taken at a special meeting of the Common Council last night in the matter of extending the system of sanitary sewers as provided by an ordinance recently adopted. It was a short meeting, and there was just a quorum present, President Tolles and Councilmen Tyler, Lee, Gloak, Murphy, Bullock and Higham.

Mr. Gloak offered a resolution providing that the regular two weeks' notice be given in the city papers that the Council will meet Friday night, June 17, to receive bids for constructing the proposed extension. He also filed specifications and other necessary papers giving the detailed plans of the improvement.

Since the adoption of the ordinance a few changes were made in the proposed extension and these streets are now specified:

Leland avenue, from South avenue to a point 1,500 feet south of East Seventh street; South avenue, between Leland avenue and Belvidere avenue; Denmark road; Berkeley avenue, between Denmark road and Ravine road; Hillside avenue, between Prospect avenue and Evergreen avenue; Evergreen avenue, from Hillside avenue, 600 feet east; Webster place, between Putnam avenue and Berckman street; Arlington avenue, between West Ninth street and Union street; Union street, from Arlington avenue 600 feet south; Grant avenue, between West Eighth street and Sherman avenue; East Seventh street, between Richmond street and Woodland avenue.

Eight inch pipe is to be used in all sewers, except the one in Grant avenue.

MISS CONOVER IS MARRIED

REV. FRANK FLETCHER OFFICIATED AT CEREMONY AT CONOVER'S CORNER.

Under an arch of green, in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives, Miss Ida May Conover, daughter of George Conover, of Conover's Corner, was married last night to L. V. Powelson, of Martin's Creek, Pa.

Profuse decorations of oak and smilax made the house a sort of floral festival hall in which the guests moved about as if at a pastoral carnival, in spite of the threatening weather outside.

Entering the parlor to the strains of a wedding march played by Miss Lizzie Field, of North Branch, the couple, attended by Ray VanDerveer, of Somerville, as best man, Miss Mary Conover, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, and Emma Conover, a younger sister, as flower girl, were married by Rev. Frank Fletcher, pastor of the Baptist church, of New Market.

William J. Kitchen, Mr. Field, John Nelson and Walter Nelson, of New Market, acted as ushers.

The bride carried a splendid bouquet of swainsonia and bride roses. The maid of honor carried carnations and asparagus fern, tied with pink chiffon and the flower girl a basket of sweet pea blossoms tied with smilax and white gauze ribbon.

After the ceremony the bride and groom left for St. Louis, where they will spend some time at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition; later making a visit with Mrs. Stasks, a sister of the bride's father, who lives in Illinois. Mr. and Mrs. Powelson will make their home at Martin's Creek, Pa., where the groom holds a responsible position with the Tide Water Oil Co.

There were over 100 guests present from Dunellen, Far Hills, New York, North Branch, Brooklyn, Somerville, Whitehouse, Plainfield, New Market and Bound Brook.

—Big and sweet and tender, the fancy Maryland strawberries sold by Neuman Bros. are really notable as examples of fruit culture. The price is ridiculously low when the quality is considered.

TALK ON BASEBALL DIAMOND

ALIS PREPARES FOR SECOND CONTEST WITH WESTFIELD.

One week from Saturday the second game in the series will be played between Alis and Westfield at Westfield. In the minds of those who follow baseball, last Saturday's defeat, while a hard one, is by no means discouraging. It will result in putting more life in Alis and making them more determined than ever to win the next contest. When one considers the work of "Lefty" Davis, as against Thatcher, formerly of the Brooklyn Nationals, it is all the more to be regretted that Alis lost. The general work shows that Davis was superior to his opponent in the box and if he had been given the same support in the ninth inning that he received through the other part of the game, Westfield would have been defeated.

That Mehler and Roberts should have made three errors between them at a critical time, is the fortunes of baseball, and most unfortunate. The first baseman's error was almost excusable, although he was a trifle slow in his work. As for "Kid" Roberts, his admirers cannot account for his misplays, at least one of them. It is said that he was not in his position when one ball was driven in his territory, that Davis did not give him time to get there. This may be true, but the second error made by the popular short stop was not excusable.

Captain Lauder is a valuable man for the team, though handicapped by a sprained ankle. His superior headwork often works to advantage. This has been demonstrated in several games. He is watching every point and when possible makes the most of it. Many blames him for coaching Farmer home in Saturday's game with only one man out. It is the opinion of veterans that that was the play, that it was a possible chance to score. The fact that Alis lost the first game should bring the friends to its support more than ever and cheer them on to victory.

Manager Johnston feels confident that when his team visits Westfield on Saturday, June 11, that victory will be the result. He is sure that he has players that can play around the Westfield aggregation in batting and fielding and he does not propose to give up the hope of winning the county championship. When the team goes to Westfield there will be a large crowd of fans to accompany it and they are sure of returning home with victory.

Manager Denman may pad his team for the next game, although on Thursday prior to the first contest he telephoned his lineup to The Daily Press and appeared Saturday with another pitcher than the one announced. He says that Waller failed to show up and he was obliged to get another player. This was true, although it is reported that Waller was in Westfield that afternoon. If "Red" was good enough for Westfield last season and this season up to the time of meeting Alis, why is he not good enough now? This is the question the fans are asking. They now believe that Denman is afraid to put Waller against Plainfield, and maybe he has reason to be.

MINISTERS-DOCTORS LINEUPS

POSITIONS OF PLAYERS IN HOSPITAL BENEFIT GAME ON THE OVAL.

Details for the baseball game between the ministers and doctors, to be played on Crescent Oval, Saturday, June 11, for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey, as captain of the team of ministers, has announced this lineup, which is subject to change:

Rev. Gilbert Lovell, c; Rev. Henry Pearce, p; Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, 1b; Rev. C. L. Goodrich, 2b; Rev. J. O. McKelvey, ss; Rev. L. R. Howard, 3b; Rev. William Montgomery Downey, lf; Rev. George Mooney, cf; Rev. Charles R. Herring, rf.

The probable line-up of the medical men is announced as follows: Lawrence Doyle, p; P. B. Cregar, c; B. VanD. Hedges, 1b; P. J. Zeglio, 2b; F. C. Ard, 3b; J. H. Carman, ss; M. W. Hedges, rf; G. W. Endicott, cf, and M. B. Long, lf.

These positions are announced subject to possible changes as may appear advisable.

Miss Murphy Recited.

Miss Josephine Murphy, of West Fifth street, gave several recitations at an entertainment for the benefit of St. Joseph's church, New York, last night. The entertainment was held in Farrell Hall, Sixth avenue and Washington place.

WARM TIME EXPECTED OVER BOROUGH SCHOOL

The North Plainfield Citizens Likely to Show Their Disapproval of Board's Action.

DISREGARD RESOLUTION

VOTERS TO ASSEMBLE AT SOMERSET STREET SCHOOL MONDAY NIGHT.

Board Believes That to Consider Other Sites Than One at Corner of Somerset and Park Place a Waste of Time, Owing to Price.

Unless all signs fail, the Borough School Board will face another chorus of dissatisfaction at the vote on the proposed new school lot Monday night. Mutterings of the approaching storm have been growing louder ever since the notice of the meeting has been posted, and the outburst promises to be almost as strenuous as the row at the first vote.

The kicks all hinge on the refusal of the Board to submit more than one site. At the after-meeting following the last vote on the site question, a resolution was passed distinctly calling for the submission of three sites. It was expected by the citizens that three sites would be offered, and in many quarters it is felt that the Board has disregarded the will of the people in an unwarranted manner, by confining the voters to the one site on the corner of Somerset street and Park place.

In announcing that only one site would be submitted, the school board explained that the prices attached to other available sites of "central location," which was a requisite demanded by a resolution at the after-meeting, made them all out of the question; that the discrepancy between them and the corner site in this respect took away the element of real choice, and practically forced the voters to consider only the lot on the corner. It was pointed out that to get plans and estimates for these other sites, under such circumstances, would be a sheer waste of money that the board could put to much better uses. This explanation, however, has not had the desired effect in allaying the somewhat general suspicion that the board, or at any rate, a majority of the board, has sought to force one particular lot upon the people.

From the statements made by voters interested in the matter, it is expected that some free and outspoken opinions upon the whole matter will be made at the approaching meeting.

PLANS FOR BOROUGH JAIL

METHODS IN VOGUE AT PLAINFIELD STATION HOUSE TO BE INTRODUCED.

To consider further the plans for the improvement of the borough jail, which includes the remodelling of the old engine house on Somerset street, the jail committee of the Borough Council, met last night. The features of the improvement mentioned in the article on the jail in yesterday's Daily Press were discussed, and the committee decided that all those features be incorporated in the plans.

After the meeting the committee visited the city jail to inspect its general character and the methods of keeping criminal records. Detective McCarthy took the committeemen all over the place, and explained the record system at length.

The committee was delighted with the methods and means of the city police, and agreed that the new jail could not be planned on better lines than those of the one on this side. Allowing, of course, for the limitations imposed by the difference in the size of the municipalities, the new borough jail will be conducted exactly like the station-house that Chief Kiely has made so up-to-date.

Another Strawberry Festival.

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, there will be a strawberry and ice cream festival at Grace M. E. church tonight and tomorrow night. A programme of entertainment will be a feature of the affair.

Mr. Swackhamer to Speak.

Hon. G. S. Swackhamer will be the speaker of the evening at the monthly meeting of the Men's Club, of the Congregational church, next Tuesday night.

Macadamizing Brook Avenue.

The borough street committee is having a part of Brook avenue macadamized. The work extends from Franklin to Norwood avenue.

E. MABEL SYMONS WEDS

DAUGHTER OF PAUL SYMONS BECOMES THE WIFE OF WALTER ROLL.

With simple ceremony in the presence of their immediate relatives, Miss E. Mabel Symons, daughter of Paul Symons, of East Third street, and Walter Roll, of New York, were married at the home of the bride's parents at 8 o'clock last night.

The bride wore white silk and carried roses. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shearer, as best man and matron of honor, accompanied the bridal couple to the floral bower where Rev. Dr. W. O. Snodgrass, pastor of First M. E. church, tied the knot. Mrs. Shearer is a sister of the bride.

As the couple approached the minister, the Lohengrin wedding march was played.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Roll left for New York to take up their residence in the Bronx. Mr. Roll is in the employ of a large machine manufacturing concern in the metropolis.

MRS. AMES GIVES LUNCHEON

[redacted] HILLSIDE [redacted] HOUSE.

One of the most brilliant luncheons of the season was given yesterday by Mrs. Charles Ames, of West Seventh street, at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club house. There were over eighty guests present, including society folk of both the city and borough.

While there was no special color scheme, the clubhouse was decorated elaborately with flowers. At each of the tables arranged about the dining rooms, there were simple, yet effective decorations.

Mrs. Ames, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Brooks, received the guests. Among those present were many of the older members of society who for some time have not been active in social functions.

RUN OVER BY HEAVY WAGON

CLARENCE THORN, COLORED, INJURED IN AN ACCIDENT THIS MORNING.

Clarence Thorn, a young colored man living on West Third street, was run over by one of the heavy tank wagons of the Standard Oil Company, near the corner of Park avenue on West Fourth street, this morning. One of the wheels passed over both legs near the thighs, but as far as the doctors can discover no bones were broken.

Thorn was riding a bicycle between the sidewalk and the wagon, which was going at a slow pace close to the curb, the driver preparing to stop at the delivery door of Ortner's grocery. Thorn was talking to a friend on the walk. Just before the driver had decided to stop, Thorn's wheel slipped and fell, carrying the negro directly under the rear wheel.

The negro was carried into the rear room of the grocery, where Dr. Long examined him. The physician said he could detect no sign of broken bones, but thought the young man might be hurt internally. Thorn was taken home in the patrol wagon, and his physician, Dr. Anderson, was notified to take charge of the case.

Burglars at Stationery Store.

Burglars effected an entrance into Mulford Estil's store on Park avenue, Monday night and got away with the contents of the money drawer, a small amount of change. Entrance to the store was made through a window in the rear, it being found open Tuesday morning when the place was opened for business. There is no clew to the thief.

INDEPENDENT GUN CLUB HAS CRACK MARKSMEN

Announcement is Made of the Results of the Memorial Day Shoot of Club's Tournament.

LEADERS IN CONTEST

DR. C. W. LEONARD AND DR. C. M. LUCKEY LIKELY WINNERS.

C. W. Krausse and W. W. Mills Stand Good Show of Winning First Prize—Wirth and Haurand Tie for Bullseye Prize.

Shooting that figures out the highest scores in years on the range of the Independent Gun Club, was done by nearly all the contestants in the Memorial Day tournament on the Maple avenue grounds.

In the rifle contest at 200 yards, Dr. C. W. Leonard leads in the first class at the present time with W. E. Stewart a good second. In the second class, C. W. Krausse leads by so large a margin that he is placed alone as an almost certain winner.

Edward Sebring will probably secure first honors in the third class. Guests from the Saengerbund were offered an opportunity to prove their skill in the short range competition for guests especially. Those shooting one for prizes in this event were, Emil Dembowski, first prize—pearl handled pocket-knife; August Marohler, second prize—French briar pipe; George Blobter, third—an imported decorated stein of one-half litre capacity.

In the scoring for the bullseye prize, John Wirth and Henry Haurand are on even terms and will probably have to shoot off a tie on July 4.

At the traps, Dr. C. M. Luckey leads in the first class, Dr. C. W. Leonard, in the second, closely followed by C. W. Krausse. First honors in the third class seem to be sure to fall to the lot of W. W. Mills, who has a good lead so far.

Several sweepstakes were shot at the traps in addition to the regular competition, Henry Haurand winning two of those in which he was entered and being in the money in several others.

Drs. Leonard and Luckey and Dennis Gavin each won in the sweepstakes also and managed to get into the money most of the time.

Those who did not shoot found plenty of opportunity to show their skill at quoit pitching and other games in some of which the women joined.

The officers in charge of the shoot were, Captain Henry Haurand, C. Stoeckler, master of rifle shooting, and Louis VanDyke, master of trap shooting.

Matthias Menzenbach and Louis, his son, were in charge of the provisions.

A chorus from the singing section of the Saengerbund and Turn Verein under the skilled leadership of H. Eichhorn, of Newark.

Interest is taken in this shoot more particularly because the next will be the final one of the year. The season opens on Thanksgiving Day and runs on until the Fourth of July, the shoots are held on as many different holidays; the total of each man's scores being averaged up and prizes awarded accordingly.

The biggest shoot of the year, however, is the king-shoot which comes on Labor Day. In point of size the crowd at Monday's event was equal to some of the king-shoots of former years, over one hundred persons attending, some of them from New [redacted]

...anned to issue on Thursday of each ...ems of library news. This will frequent... take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

Public Library Notes.

To those planning a trip to England, the following books are recommended by the Public Library:

Trip to Engyland.

Baedeker, K., Great Britain, handbook.

Brown, Alice, By oak and thorn. "Descriptions of journeyings through England, largely in Devon, one of its most fascinating and picturesque districts."

Ditchfield, P. H., English villages.

Green, J. R., Short history of the English people.

Holmes, O. W., Our hundred days in Europe.

Honeyman, A. V. D., Bright days in merrie England.

Howitt, W., Visits to remarkable places.

Johnson, Clifton, Among English hedgerows.

Le Gallienne, R., Travels in England.

Stoddard, J. L., England.

White, R. G., England without and within.

Women's rest tour association. Summer in England, with a continental supplement, a handbook for the use of American women. "Compiled especially for those who are making the trip for the first time."

Special localities.

Baedeker, K., London and its environs.

Cook, E. C., Highways and byways in London.

Dodd, Mrs. A. B., On the Broads. "The Broads district lies between the sea-beaches of Yarmouth and Lowestoft, the grain fields of Wroxham, and the crowded river-warves of Norwich. Mrs. Dodd's work, a charming book of adventure, starts from Wroxham and leads the reader through many lively, picturesque scenes."

Hutton, Laurence, Literary landmarks of Oxford.

Dutt, W. A., Highways and byways in East Anglia.

Hare, A. J. C., Walks in London.

Lefroy, W. C., Ruined abbeys of Yorkshire.

Loftie, W. J., London afternoons, chapters on the social life, architecture, and records of the great city and its neighborhood.

Payn, James, Handbook to the English lakes.

Rawnsley, H. D., Literary associations of the English lakes.

Singleton, Esther, ed. and tr., London as seen and described by famous writers.

Cathedrals.

Dodd, A. B., Cathedral days, a tour through southern England.

Farrar, F. W. and others, Westminster Abbey and the Cathedrals of England. "Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, Canterbury Cathedral, York Minster, Durham, Lincoln, Winchester, Salisbury and Chester Cathedrals are described by men eminent in the Church of England, and illustrated from recent photographs."

Gilchrist, J. C., comp., Itinerary of the English cathedrals.

Marshall, Mrs. E. M., Stories of the cathedral cities of England.

Parker, J. H., Introduction to the study of Gothic architecture.

VanRensselaer, Mrs. S., English cathedrals, Canterbury, Peterborough, Durham, Salisbury, Litchfield, Lincoln, Ely, Wells, Winchester, Gloucester, York, London.

Lake Excursion.

The beauty spot of New Jersey is Lake Hopatcong and one who visits the place is charmed with the diversified entertainment afforded. The surroundings are delightful in every respect and a day spent in the rarified mountain air of the Jersey foothills will do wonders for the tourist. There are ample facilities for fishing and boating and one who enjoys the rambles in wooded paths and the quietness of the natural pins, to him Lake Hopatcong is the gem of places. On June 5 the New Jersey Central is going to run one of its famous low priced and popular excursions to the Lake. Round-trip $1, and special train leaves Plainfield at 9:20 a. m. The run is made in three hours and the entire day can be spent in delightful enjoyment. 623

John H. McVey, formerly of this city, who is living at Red Bank, returned from a business trip to this city.

S. Clinton Crane and family, of New York, have been the guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. B. Crane.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reynolds, of Brooklyn, have returned home after a visit to the latter's mother, Mrs. Moore, of East Fifth street.

AT PORT ARTHUR.

Japanese Have Begun Fierce Land Attack.

BESIEGED CITY MUST SOON SUCCUMB

Many Attacking Columns on March. Kuropatkin Defeated Near Saimatza—Japanese Warship Fuji Reported on a Reef.

LONDON, June 2.—A Chefu dispatch says:

"The Japanese land attack at Port Arthur has now begun in earnest. The Russian forces that were driven southward from Dalny and Kinchau by the Japanese are assisting the garrison at Port Arthur, and the Russian navy has joined in the movement to repulse the enemy.

"There may be several days of skirmishing and outpost work before the Russian city is taken, but it is the opinion of refugees who have arrived here from the besieged city that the Russians eventually must succumb to overwhelming numbers."

Many Japanese columns are advancing along the shore toward Port Arthur. Pitsewo has been strongly fortified by the Japanese.

From Tokyo comes a report that General Kuroki has completely defeated General Kuropatkin's forces near Saimatsza.

All the Russian positions east of Haicheng have been abandoned. Several guns have been taken by the Japanese and whole squadrons of Cossacks captured.

Rear Admirals Wittsoeft and Grigorovitch have reported to St. Petersburg that numerous Japanese mines have been discovered and exploded in the roadstead of Port Arthur. The Japanese evidently have replaced the fireships which they formerly used by mines sown by merchant steamers in their service.

An unconfirmed report from Mukden says that the Japanese battleship Fuji is aground on a reef off the Miaotao islands, between the Kwangtung and Shangtung promontories, where she is being guarded by torpedo boats.

A Liaoyang dispatch says the Japanese lost 200 killed and a number of horses in the fight at Vagenfuchu. The Russians opened fire at 8 o'clock in the morning, and after two hours and a half of long range firing the Japanese, under General Akkiama, prepared to charge and crush the force which had been harassing them for twenty-one days.

In the meantime General Samsonoff was approaching Vagenfuchu with a strong force of cavalry. It was a sight worth seeing when, at the word of command, the Russian squadrons formed and rushed like a whirlwind across the terribly cut up country, clearing away all obstacles, the batteries at the same time trotting along the frightful roads.

Having passed the railroad station, the troops came under the fire of the Japanese machine guns, but withdrew without suffering much loss.

A New College For Oregon.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 2.—Mrs. A. W. Reed, who died at Pasadena, Cal., a few days ago, has provided in her will for the founding of an institution here, to be known as the Reed institute, in memory of her husband, the late Simon G. Reed, a pioneer and capitalist of Portland. The bequest will amount to about $2,000,000. Her will specifies that the institute shall combine instruction in the fine arts and sciences and manual training and that it shall be conducted with special regard to the needs of young men and women compelled to earn their own living.

A Million For the Mikado.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Ito Himatsu, a Japanese merchant of New York, has arrived in Chicago with a common split leather valise containing $1,120,000 in United States money, which he will give to the mikado to help defeat Russia. The cash is all in United States gold notes and bank bills. The money was deposited here with a trust company on the advice of the local Japanese consul. Ito Himatsu expects to sail from San Francisco on June 11.

Negro Lynched at Arlington, Ga.

ALBANY, Ga., June 2.—A special from Arlington says: Arthur Thompson, a negro, shot and killed M. L. Dudley, a young white man, early last night. A crowd of determined men caught the negro, lynched him and riddled the body with bullets before daylight. The cause of the difficulty between Dudley and the negro is not known. Dudley was manager of the city electric lighting plant, and Thompson was a fireman at the same plant.

Former Govenor Dead.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 2.—Former Lieutenant Governor Benjamin F. Gue died suddenly of heart failure here, aged seventy-six years. Mr. Gue came here in the early fifties from Greene county, N. Y., where he was born and educated, and at once became active in Iowa public affairs. He was one of the founders of the Republican party and was made lieutenant governor in 1865.

Escaped Kidnaper Caught.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 2.—August Leuth, the man convicted of kidnaping Mrs. Telsrow of Tipton and holding her for ransom and who escaped from jail after assaulting the jailer, has been recaptured at Durant.

Body of Captain Price Recovered.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 2. — The body of Captain Price of the towboat Fred Wilson has been found two miles below the scene of last Thursday's explosion. It was shipped to Braddock, Pa.

THE VACATION HABIT.

Russell Sage Fails to See Anything Legitimate in Holidays.

NEW YORK, June 2.—"During the eighty-three years of my career I have but once taken a vacation," said Russell Sage, the New York millionaire money lender and broker, speaking of the vacation habit.

"A young man said to me the other day, 'Mr. Sage, would you not have taken a vacation if you had worked for some one else?'

"I replied that I would not.

"I have never been an advocate of what some term the 'vacation habit.' When I was a boy the practice was not in vogue. As a matter of fact, I was so glad to get a chance to learn business that the idea of asking my employer to make me a present of two weeks of the time that belonged to him, because he had paid for it, would have been preposterous. Besides, I was eager to advance in business and could not see how I could do this by wasting valuable time.

"Neither did any of my youthful associates take vacations, and I am sure you will agree with me that the fact did not retard their progress when I say that among them were Thurlow Weed, the king maker; Horace Greeley, Governor Seward and George Jones. These men were constantly at work, and they were history makers.

"I think the 'vacation habit' is the outgrowth of abnormal or distorted business methods. I fail to see anything legitimate in it.

"Let us assume that an employer and his clerk make an agreement to exchange just remuneration for reasonable services and each one keeps his part of the agreement. Are they not then quits? If there is any obligation I think it is on the part of the clerk, who avails of the credit, skill and organization of the employer to learn a business and advance himself along a path which has already been prepared for him. What right has he then to demand or expect pay for two weeks' time for which he renders no equivalent?"

PERDICARIS AND VARLEY.

French Agents Now Working For Bandit Captives' Release.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—It is stated at the state department that several days will elapse before the result of the efforts of the French agents in behalf of Ion Perdicaris and Varley, the captives of the Morocco bandits, can be known.

Reports that other tribal chieftains are talking about kidnaping Europeans tend to confirm the officials here in their original reluctance to compound a felony by paying ransom and thus encourage kidnaping. When the European squadron, commanded by Rear Admiral Jewell, joins the south Atlantic squadron, commanded by Rear Admiral Chadwick, at Tangier, Admiral Chadwick will have command of the combined fleet of seven vessels.

He has been specially charged by the navy department with the conduct of the naval operations in connection with the Perdicaris case.

It has been learned from London that the British minister at Tangier, acting on instructions from the foreign office at London, is co-operating with the French minister in the endeavor to secure the release of Messrs. Perdicaris and Varley. It is believed that if the captives' release is possible it can best be achieved through French influence. There is no intention at present to send a British fleet or squadron to Tangier, the view of the foreign office being that nothing would be accomplished thereby. Spain is fully informed of the course of action being pursued. At both the foreign office and Spanish embassy it was stated that Spain fully concurs with the British and American action in utilizing French intervention. By this means it is thought here the sultan of Morocco will be enabled to bring such pressure to bear on Raisull, the bandit chief, as to compel him to release his captives without necessitating the forcible intervention of either of the nations to which the captives belong.

Austro-American Liner Grounded.

VENICE, June 2.—The Austro-American line steamer Alberta, Captain Bussinich, from Triest for Philadelphia, while entering Porto di Lido, came in collision with the Cunard line steamer Pavia, Captain Thomson, and was so badly damaged that she was grounded to prevent sinking. Her first hold is full of water, and the second hold is leaking. The damage below the water line is believed to be serious. The Pavia had her bows damaged.

Collision Near Chambersburg.

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., June 2.—A head-on collision of freight trains occurred on the Cumberland Valley railroad six miles east of here. Elmer Walck, aged forty years, an engineer, was instantly killed, and William Conklin, a trainman, is believed to be fatally hurt. Five other trainmen sustained injuries. The two engines and fourteen cars were wrecked.

Panama's Monetary System.

PANAMA, June 2.—The currency question has been settled on the following basis: The gold standard will be adopted and the Colombian silver now in use will be exchanged at 110 per cent. To prevent fluctuations in the value of the new silver coins the government will guarantee their face value by making a deposit of gold to their full value.

Foul Play In Hull Case.

HAMMOND, Ind., June 2.—It is reported that J. Fred Hull, whose body was found in an oil tank car at Whiting, Ind., last week, was murdered. James Allen of Bangor, Pa., demands $100, for which sum he says he will come to Hammond and testify as to the killing.

ROTHSCHILD'S COLT WON.

English Derby Was Run on Heavy Track—St. Amant Victor.

LONDON, June 2.—The Derby of 1904 was run on Epsom downs and was won by Leopold de Rothschild's bay colt St. Amant.

Sir Tatton Sykes' bay colt John of Gaunt was second and S. B. Joel's bay colt St. Denis third.

Only eight horses ran. The betting was 5 to 1 against St. Amant, 4 to 1 against John of Gaunt and 50 to 1 against St. Denis.

Derby day broke with a pelting rain falling. In consequence of the bad weather the queen decided not to go to the race, and the great turf event lost many other of its most picturesque features. The travel from London to Epsom was the smallest known for years, most of the spectators going by rail.

An hour or more before the race the clouds cleared away and the sun shone out gloriously. The course was, however, very heavy.

[illegible] Made Good.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Bearcatcher, one of the California candidates for the American Derby, made his debut on Chicago tracks in the second race at Hawthorne and made good by winning handily. When the barrier was sprung Bearcatcher was off like a shot, and it took him only a few strides to get to the front. Ananias raced along with the leader for five furlongs and then gave it up. New Mown Hay and Soufriere then undertook to catch Bearcatcher, but he galloped along, winning easily by nearly two lengths. Soufriere, backed from 100 to 1 to 60 to 1, finished second, a half length in front of New Mown Hay. Opening at 8 to 5, the play was so heavy on Bearcatcher that he went to the post an odds on favorite.

Montreson at Gravesend.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Montreson, second choice at 9 to 5, won the Carlton stakes for three-year-olds, one mile, the feature of the card at Gravesend. He won handily by two lengths from the favorite, Ormonde's Right. Orthodox was last, ten lengths back and beaten off. Only three horses faced the starter, Delhi, Auditor and Bobadil being scratched, their owners not wishing to risk them in the heavy going. Redfern rushed Montreson to the front at the lifting of the barrier and, holding his lead to the finish, won. Martha Gorman, backed down from 5 to 1 to 13 to 5, won the third race by a head from the 2 to 5 favorite, Bella Strome.

Travis a Wonder.

LONDON, June 2.—The third and fourth rounds of the amateur golf championship have been played at Sandwich. Walter J. Travis, the American champion, was again a winner in the third round. He defeated R. Graham Murray, son of the secretary for Scotland. W. W. Burton of the Ekwanok club was beaten by Mr. Read, for several years the Irish champion. Devereaux Emmett of Garden City was beaten by Mr. Cairns. E. D. Blackwell beat W. A. Henderson. In the fourth round Travis beat Mr. Read by two holes in a sensational finish. Travis won the last four holes.

Maggie S. at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, June 2.—The 2:17 class pace at Prospect park was won by Maggie S. Jack of Diamonds was second, Ella Goddard third and Climax fourth. Best time, 2 minutes 21¼ seconds. Miss Penn won the 2:20 trot. Lillian S. was second, Margie Z. third and Hildescrof fourth. Honest Joe won the 2:20 pace. Ready Boy was second, Hal Fredda third and Raven Rush fourth.

Deutschland Won the Feature.

ST. LOUIS, June 2.—Deutschland won the feature of an ordinary card at Delmar park. Getting off in front, Deutschland won all the way. Taby Tosa after a splendid drive through the last eighth got second place from Tomakis at the wire. W. J. BRYAN CHOICE

Nebraska Democracy [illegible] Kansas City Platform.

SILVER MAN TO HEAD DELEGATION

No Opposition to His Views as Embodied In Programme Written by the Nebraska Statesman.

OMAHA, Neb., June 2.—The Nebraska Democratic state convention here has unanimously selected W. J. Bryan to head the delegation to the national gathering at St. Louis and adopted a platform which reaffirms the Kansas City platform of 1900 and places before the public Mr. Bryan's views of what should be embodied in the platform of the coming national convention. Mr. Bryan was himself chairman of the committee on resolutions and wrote the platform. He had associated with him men who have been his most loyal supporters.

There was no opposition to the adoption of the platform as read, although one delegate attempted to secure the adoption of an additional plank pledging Nebraska Democracy to support of the nominees of the St. Louis convention regardless of whom they might be. He was ruled out of order, however, after reading his resolution.

There were but a handful of delegates who had not been pledged to the support of a reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform, and they came from Lancaster, Mr. Bryan's own county. They did not, however, attempt to secure recognition, and Mr. Bryan sat with the Lancaster delegation while he was on the floor of the convention.

The proceedings were characterized by harmony. Several speeches were delivered, among them being addresses by Mr. Bryan in support of the platform and by Congressman Charles F. Cochran of Missouri.

SPRINGFIELD CONVENTION.

Deadlock Still Continues at Illinois Republican Assembly.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 2. — The Springfield convention by a large majority voted in favor of tabling the resolution that the choice of a candidate for governor be submitted to Republican state primaries.

The sixty-sixth ballot showed: Yates, 474; Lowden, 411½; Deneen, 384½; Hamlin, 119; Warner, 36; Sherman, 51; Pierce, 26.

The committee on resolutions then reported recommending that the Gross resolution for a secret ballot be laid on the table. The committee's recommendation was adopted by the convention.

Graeme Stewart offered a resolution releasing delegates from instructions. This was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Henry Irving Will Retire In 1906.

LONDON, June 2.—Sir Henry Irving, at a reception given in his honor by the Manchester Art club last night, definitely announced that he would retire from the stage in 1906. Sir Henry, in the course of a speech on the drama, reminded his hearers that it had been forty-eight years since he had first trod the stage. "Fifty years of active work as a player is enough," said he, "and when I have completed the tally to those years I shall make my last bow to the public that has shown to me so much love, patience and sympathy. I shall take with me as I go back from the glare of the footlights a memory which shall give pride and pleasure to whatever period of rest may be my lot."

Mount Washington Tunnel Opened.

PITTSBURG, June 2.—Amid a chorus of steamboat and railroad whistles and the cheers of thousands of people the first Wabash train emerged from the new Mount Washington tunnel and crossed the Monongahela river bridge to the Pittsburg side. On board were President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash railroad and a number of minor officials. The crossing of the bridge for the first time symbolized the end of the great task which President Ramsey had undertaken several years ago, when he announced that he would build a line into Pittsburg.

Tornado Demolished a Church.

NORTON, Kan., June 2.—A tornado which struck the little town of Selden, west of Norton, on the Rock Island railway, demolished a church, five dwellings and much farm property. Plainfield, N. J., June 2, 1904.

Will Samuel S. Swackhamer be the next congressman of the Fourth New Jersey District?

This is the month for the D.D., LL.D., and Ph.D., to be handed out by the colleges to a few deserving and many undeserving.

It is not true that pigeon was on the menu at the banquet given by Davy Baird to the Legislative Correspondents' Club at Trenton.

No special election will be ordered to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of Representative Lanning to the judgeship of the United States District Court.

The appointment of Representative W. M. Lanning as United States District Court judge for New Jersey, will no doubt meet with the approval of the people of the State. Since his candidacy was announced no objection to his qualification for the office has been made. The Fourth Congressional District gives up a good representative and the State gains a good Federal judge.

The newspaper is the source from which the large store draws its sustenance—for the newspaper is the essential tribute that enables them to profitably exist. I can say with a conviction founded upon years of experience that the store of today that would attempt to depend upon general publicity—such as signs, billboards, programmes, etc., for its support, would find itself a derelict upon the commercial sea, drifting toward the reefs of adversity that always await the enterprise that does not solve the problem of judicious advertising.—W. S. Peck, advertising manager of the Simpson-Crawford Company, New York.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be stripped of personalities, and must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:

In regard to article in Tuesday's issue of The Daily Press about the flag being at full staff on Memorial Day, thus is the usual custom after 12 o'clock or noon, but from sunrise to noon at half staff. The following army regulations may interest the reader of The Daily Press and may be useful for future reference. The United States Army regulation, in paragraph 516, gives explicit directions as to the proper manner in which it should be done: On Memorial Day, May 30, at all army posts and stations, the National flag will be displayed at half staff from sunrise to midday and immediately before noon the band or field music will play a dirge, "The Departed Days," or some other appropriate air and the National salute of twenty-one guns will be fired at 12 o'clock noon at all posts and stations provided with artillery. At the conclusion of this memorial tribute, at noon, the flag will be hoisted to the top of the staff, and will remain there until sunset. When hoisted to the top of the staff the flag will be saluted by playing one or more of the National airs. In this way, fitting testimonial of respect for the heroic dead and honor to their patriotic devotion will be appropriately rendered. This has been the custom since the inauguration of Memorial Day. A common error is the calling of the day Decoration Day, instead of Memorial Day.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

While a short distance east of Dunellen station, on Tuesday night, Engineer John Rihmling, in charge of a freight train drawn by engine 476, leaned too far out of his cab window and hit his head on a freight car which was standing on a siding. Although somewhat dazed, the injured man had presence of mind enough to bring his train to a stop when he arrived at the station and he was at once taken to the office of Dr. Platt, who found it necessary to take six stitches in his head. The train was taken to Somerville by the conductor, and an engineer was procured there to run it through to its destination, Mauch Chunk. Rihmling spent the night in the station and left for his home in Mauch Chunk on the paper train yesterday morning.

Dunellen Council, True Blue, which was organized last week, has elected these officers to serve for one year: John G. Gardner, councillor; Joel D DeGroff, past councillor; Charles C. Dunham, vice councillor; Herbert B. Wyckoff, secretary and treasurer; Alfred F. Osman, chaplain; Arthur J. Hamley, guide; T. J. Ronayne, warden; George I. Apgar, sentry; Dr. Thomas Platt, physician.

Riotous fun of a rather cruel kind was enjoyed by a crowd of boys yesterday afternoon at the expense of the not over-bright individual known as "Charlie," who appeared to be about two-thirds drunk. After chasing a number of the lads about the depot grounds, he crossed the New Market road and was later seen lying along the gutter.

WEARING AIGRETTES

WOMEN WHO DO SO CONSTITUTE A THIRD SEX.

A Pathetic Story of the Extermination of a Flock of Snowy Herons to Gratify Feminine Vanity.

In the humble opinion of some of us, the three sexes no longer consist, as Sydney Smith (or somebody else) suggested, of "men, women and clergymen," but of men, women and "the women who wear aigrettes." The lines which separate them are not sharply defined. As we all know, some men are exceedingly ladylike, and some women are so mannish in manner and dress as to be difficult of identification. In the same way, it is occasionally quite easy to mistake one of "the women who wear the aigrettes" for a woman, but the "types" are now unmistakable, always.

Let me tell you a tragic little story which was told to me by a friend who some years ago spent a large part of his time in Florida. He was wandering in a quiet swamp, when he came upon a colony of snowy herons.

Many of the beautiful birds were walking along the shore of the pond, and many others were sitting on their nests. At his approach, the sitting birds arose, white and silent as great snowflakes lifted by the wind, and alighting in the trees which surrounded the pond, they stood, anxiously watching the intruder. Their dazzling beauty was enhanced by their bridal robes, formed of long, airy plumes which stretched in graceful curves from between the shoulders, down over the back and beyond the tail, the tips rounding upward and backward with subtle turn. It was a wondrous sight, those spotless birds, whose dainty grace was heightened by contrast with the rude platforms which held their pale blue eggs or awkward nestlings: a sight not to be seen in Florida now.

About a week later, my friend was passing within a mile of this heronry, when he heard the report of a gun. It came from the direction of the little pond, and as it was quickly followed by several other reports, he hurried to the spot, to find out what the matter was. As he went along, many more guns were discharged, and when he reached the heronry, he saw as sad a sight as ever met the eyes of a lover of birds. The shores of the little pond were strewn with the white bodies of herons, some already dead, and others struggling with the pain of wounds from from which trickled the blood which dyed their snowy plumage. Others still had evidently been dead for a day or two, for the flies arose from them in clouds. On the back of each of these was a large space, clear of feathers and covered with dried blood, showing whence had been torn the graceful plumes, donned for a bridal. A few wounded herons lay flapping in the water, which here and there was streaked with red. At different points along the shore and among the trees were stationed the four men who had committed this crime. Now and then, one of the few remaining herons, faithful to her young, would come flying over the ruined city, and alight upon some lookout perch before going to the nest with food. This was the moment the men were waiting for, and the bang of the gun was nearly always followed by the thump of the bird's body as it struck the ground. There was nothing to be done. These men were plume "hunters," acting under the protection of the laws of Florida; hireling slaughter-house butchers directly in the employ of large millinery establishments, and indirectly in the employ of soft-voiced women who would shudder if they accidentally stepped upon a worm.

Sick at heart at the horror of the sight, and at the hopelessness of protest, my friend turned away. [illegible] day he returned to the [illegible] might know all the [illegible] were gone; their bloody [illegible] but the pitiful carcasses [illegible] tims still lay rotting in the [illegible] but one, for a faint rustle [illegible] tion to a bird, mangled and [illegible] but still alive, gasping out its last [illegible] in agony. All the previous night [illegible] bird had lain, doubtless suffering [illegible] tortures of the damned, that a woman might declare herself "in the fashion" by flaunting its dead plumes upon her head. Quickly putting the suffering creature out of its misery, my friend turned his attention to other sounds which came from the direction of the rookery itself. In some of the nests lay the pale blue eggs, now cold and lifeless, and in others tiny young which had quickly perished after their parents had ceased to provide for them. But from several came the clamor of more advanced nestlings, which were literally starving to death, simply because the men who slaughtered their parents were not paid to save these wretched little beings from a lingering death. ERNEST HAROLD BAYNES.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

June 5: "Betraying Christ by Silence."—Matt. xii, 30; Luke xvii, 12-19.

A secret friend is sometimes more annoying than an open enemy. Candid opposition can be estimated in its effect and, if not overcome, can at least be provided for in one's arrangements. But a friend who refuses to come out into the open and be counted is an embarrassment and practically worse than worthless. You cannot ignore him; you cannot forget him; you will, in spite of yourself, expect some assistance, but only to find that help withheld in the critical moment. Your plans are upset, and you can scarcely avoid irritation. Some one may be a friend to you in secret, but you will never be able to feel particularly friendly to him, however hard you may try, if he persists in keeping his friendliness concealed from others.

Can you imagine a real, hearty, generous soul indulging in such concealment? Friendship demands open alliance—"He that is not for Me is against Me!" This must ever hold as the rule among earnest, true hearted folks. Neutrality on questions of right is an injury as well as insult. Too much is at stake in this life contest of ours to tolerate sham, and secret friendship is the veriest imposition.

Gideon was not weakened when he sent the faint hearted ones home. We are never made stronger by the regard of those ashamed or afraid to stand beside us in the time of our need.

Jesus is not well served by any one too busy to speak for Him. The excuse of timidity is often pleaded as explanation of silence when one should have spoken. Lack of ability or being less gifted in expression of thought than other people is the way many quiet conscience [illegible]ty.

All such attitude [illegible] plain obligation which [illegible] is utterly unworthy [illegible] whose name we bear and [illegible] profess to serve.

Perhaps a Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathea deserve some credit for furnishing spices and a tomb for a dead prophet, but the need of the Christ is for men who dare in the daytime stand in defense of the truth and right, and speak from their places in the council and in the ears of Pilate when the mob is raging and the rulers are in league against the innocent and godly. Boldness in begging a dead body is scant compensation for silence when one's soul is among the beasts of prey.

No after repentance can absolve one from the charge of cowardice and rescue from self contempt the soul who has preferred his own safety to the defense of an imperiled friend. If you love me truly, say so, but not in my ears alone. Say so when men show me hatred and prove your love by deeds in my behalf!

If you are hesitant to let your regard be known, examine yourself and see certainly if you do in reality have love for Him.

If you, deep in your heart, praise Him then let no timidity and no difficulty stand in the way of open profession of your love. Confidence and facility will come with exercise and experience, but whatever exertion it may cost to openly befriend the Saviour never allow yourself to betray Him by silence when speech and action are yours to give.

A Christian Pledge.

First.—Constant trust in Christ for strength.

Second.—Constant effort to do whatever Christ would like to have me do.

Third.—Daily prayer and daily Bible study.

Fourth.—Laying by in store upon the first day of the week as the Lord hath prospered.

Fifth.—To be present at and participate in the Sunday and week day services of the church.

Sixth.—To have and to make no excuses for neglect of duty, except such as I would give to my Master were I face to face with Him.

Seventh.—To aim, throughout my whole life, to be a Christian.

The pledge is a means, not an end. Like other scaffolding, when the glorious temple of Christian character is complete it will be taken down and laid away.—Evangelist.

Look Within.

The divine principle of work is the vital principle. God works from within outward. When God wishes to bless His people He has first to get into the hearts of His people. It is when He is enthroned there, when He dwells there, that the life of blessing is fully known. If we, therefore, would prepare the way of the Lord we must prepare our hearts; if we would discover stumbling blocks we must begin our [illegible]rch here.—Rev. G. H. C. MacGregor.

[illegible]sons For Being Thankful.

[illegible]o sees in the heavens and the [illegible]loving power of Almighty [illegible] in want of reasons for [illegible] The light of the sun [illegible]n and the stars by [illegible]es of the sustaining [illegible]d. Knowing these [illegible]all to be thankful? [illegible] for home and its [illegible]s and shelter, for [illegible] sense of obligation [illegible] Lutheran.

If you w[illegible]ith you in your streets, [illegible] in your offices, and be [illegible]r homes, and teach you [illegible]es, and abide with you as [illegible] Presence in your hearts, y[illegible] shall know what freedom is [illegible]hile you do your duties be above your duties, and while you own yourselves the sons of men know you are the sons of God.—Phillips Brooks.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning June 5.

Topic.—How my silence witnesses against Christ.—Matt. xii, 30; Luke xvii, 12-19.

That any one who has really found Christ as his Saviour should want to be silent concerning Him seems almost incredible, and yet we all know that this is frequently the case. Many claim to know Christ, yet they do not want to confess Him by uniting with His people and engaging in active Christian work. Others who have united with the church are often silent when it comes to personal testimony concerning His goodness. The opportunity to speak for Christ in public meeting is theirs, yet, having the ability to use it, they do not avail themselves of it. Again, some particular blessing comes to us through the Master, yet we do not tell it to His glory. Like the nine lepers who were healed, we accept the benefaction, but fail to praise the benefactor.

The silent attitude when the occasion demands confession or testimony is a false one. But let us particularly emphasize the condition. The believers should always confess Christ, of course, and yet there are many not qualified to testify before others, and no one's salvation is dependent upon his being able to speak for Christ or to pray in public. Some people witness against Christ more by a speech than by silence. "Swift to hear, slow to speak," was the apostles' motto, and it is corroborated by the world's proverb, "Speech is silver, silence is golden." But, there being the man and the hour, the speaker and the occasion, silence is not the true attitude toward Christ. "Let the redeemed of the Lord say so" is the exhortation of the psalmist, and Christ Himself commands us to confess Him before men, and this cannot be done by silence. There may be times when silence is golden, but there are also times when silence is cowardice, and cowardly silence has no place in the Christian's creed or life.

Silence when we should speak witnesses against Christ in two ways. (1) "He that is not with Me is against Me." The world judges a man's attitude toward Christ by whether or not he confesses Him and takes his stand among Christ's people. If a man were at heart a Christian and yet was silent upon the subject, the world would count him against Christ, upon the ground that if he were for Him he would manifest it. By silence, therefore, all his influence would be against Christ. (2) By silence we lose golden opportunities to present Christ to others and thus witness against Him. The nine lepers who were silent lost most splendid opportunities to tell others what Jesus had done for them, and in the telling they might have won many converts for Him. Who can tell what a word in season will do? By it Andrew led Peter to Christ, Nathaniel led Philip, and the Samaritan woman brought her entire village to see Him. Has a word of ours ever led a soul to Him? If not, let us seek pardon for past opportunities and not fail to take advantage of those to come.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ps. xix, 14; li, 12, 13; cvii, 1-8; Matt. xxviii, 1-8; xix, 20; Mark v, 18, 20; Luke xii, 8, 9; John iv, 25-30; Rom. x, 9; Phil. ii, 1-11.

A Soul Winning Campaign.

The matter which we have promised each other to make supreme this year is the work of winning souls for Christ. You will be glad to know that in many sections of our own state the Endeavorers are taking hold of the work with new zeal. Some of the district and local unions are using for their convention motto the suggestion made some months ago, "Something definite for souls." If your union or your society has not undertaken any work of this sort, do it without delay. Let us make this year a mighty one in its service for Christ. At the same time, however, the deepening process should go on. Not only "longer cords" should be our determination, but "stronger stakes" as well. A more faithful observance of the quiet hour, a more intelligent study of the word of God, a better loyalty to our own pastor and our own church—these will help to make it in the largest sense our best year.—Rev. Edwin Forrest Hallenbeck, Writing to Endeavorers From Great Pittsburg Evangelistic Campaign.

Dr. Clark's Journey.

Dr. Clark cables that he is to visit South Africa on his way back from Australia. The untiring efforts of the founder of the great Christian Endeavor movement and his self denying spirit and loyal devotion should serve as an inspiration to every person who marches under the banner on which is inscribed "For Christ and the Church." Dr. Clark is a leader in every sense of the word—a strenuous leader, if you please, particularly in the matter of downright hard work for the good of the world and the advancement of Christ's cause and kingdom. Would that we all might catch his spirit.—J. R. C. in "Empire State Notes."

A Labor of Love.

Among other resolutions passed at the Philadelphia conference was the following:

Resolved, That in view of the fact that the method of providing for the expenses of the various trips of Dr. Clark in the interest of worldwide Christian Endeavor has been so frequently misunderstood, we, the trustees, state officers and other Endeavorers in attendance at this conference, desire to express our thanks to Mr. William Shaw, the treasurer of the United society, for the official statement that not a cent of any of these expenses is borne by the United society, nor does it come from any of the funds contributed for Christian Endeavor work, the proceeds of Dr. Clark's literary work being used to meet the expenses of this branch of the extension work.

Margaret Haley

Leader In the War on Chicago Tax Dodgers

WHEN the story of the Chicago vote for municipal ownership of street railways comes to be fully known it will also be known that this result was produced largely through the work of women. Those women are public school teachers, and their leader is Miss Margaret Haley, president of the Chicago Teachers' federation; also of the National Federation of Teachers.

At the beginning of the winter of 1899 the Chicago board of education announced that the treasury was empty; that there was no more money to pay the teachers and keep the public schools going. With characteristic feminine humility—that weakness which Helen Wilmans declares to be the most contemptible of all the virtues—the majority of the Chicago teachers prepared to submit and go out of business or starve, or both.

But among those thousands of women teachers was a Margaret Haley—just one. She had spent years and money learning to be a teacher, and there was nothing else she knew how to earn a living at. Her pay was $825 a year, less than even a small fry head of a corporation gets in a week.

One evening Margaret Haley was going home in a street car, reading a newspaper. In it she saw an observation to the effect that if the corporations which held franchises from the city of Chicago could be made to pay their taxes there would be plenty of money to keep the schools going. Margaret Haley did not sleep that night. The remark in the newspaper opened wide the eyes of her understanding. By morning she had resolved to fight for the teachers and for the school children of Chicago. She got leave of absence. She studied the subject of taxation. She went to the county clerk and asked to see the last report of the state board of equalization, the body that fixed the tax rate. The clerk refused to let her have it, saying it was not his custom to show it to anybody. Miss Haley demanded it, declaring it was a public document and one the public had a right to see.

Finally she got it. She found there were 10,000 corporations doing business in Cook county and that less than 200 of them were on the county's tax list. There was more than a quarter billion dollars' worth of property that paid not a cent of taxes. One of these was the trolley company in one of whose cars she was riding home that night. By quiet investigation she found that this very company was paying large annual dividends, and the president of the board of education was a son-in-law of the president of one of these street railway companies.

The grade teachers held a mass meeting. Out of their poor little means they raised a fund of $2,000 at that meeting and directed Miss Haley to go ahead. From that day to this she has never been in a class room. She is too valuable to woman and humanity in the larger public capacity in which she has been called to serve. Women teachers have paid her a salary from the time she began hunting down the corporations that dodge taxes. An invaluable help all through has been Mrs. Katherine Goggin.

Miss Haley went to the governor of Illinois. She told him she was going to get the supreme court of Illinois to command the board of equalization to show cause why the billionaire corporations should be let off from paying their taxes. He told her she could do nothing, but she did. She asked for the order. The courts trifled with and evaded it as long as possible. The board of equalization put off meeting for a year in order to dodge these women who were after them like avengeance. the board of education tried to bamboozle them, but all efforts to choke off the women were vain. They did not rest a day. They studied the law and justice of the case, they aroused public opinion, they forced inspection of the books of some of the great corporations and got an addition to Chicago's taxable property of $268,000,000. But the tax fight had broadened the women's knowledge and ideas till they believed they saw in municipal ownership of all public franchises the only solution of various troublesome questions. For this they and their leader, Margaret Haley, are now working.

DORA BEILE DENISON.

FOUND IN CANADA.

Pastor Cordova and Julia Bowne at a Toronto Hotel.

MONTREAL, June 2.—A dispatch from Toronto says that the Rev. J. F. Cordova, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of South River, N. J., and Miss Julia Bowne, the twenty-year-old daughter of J. Conover Bowne, a member of his church, are at a small hotel in Yonge street in that city.

The pastor left a wife and three children behind him when he departed from South River about two weeks ago. Miss Bowne, who is described as a beautiful girl, was a singer in the church choir, and her father, the village blacksmith, was one of the trustees of the church.

Cordova was last reported in Camden, N. J., where he surrendered some stock in a building and loan association, receiving a check for $900, which he cashed at a bank and then departed. Cordova is of Mexican birth and is about forty years old. He has been pastor of the South River church for two years.

The minister and Miss Bowne left South River after a prayer meeting, and the last seen of them in that village was when they boarded a trolley car bound for Milltown, five miles away. The girl's father followed in an automobile, but by the time he reached Milltown all trace of them was lost.

STOLE FOR HER FATHER.

Agnes Malone, Held For Shoplifting, Told a Pitiful Tale.

NEW YORK, June 2. — Admitting that she had made it a practice to steal costly articles from dry goods stores so that she could raise $400 to place her invalid father in an institution, Miss Agnes Malone, young, pretty and refined, was held in $500 bail for examination on a charge of shoplifting in the Jefferson market police court.

Magistrate Moss ordered that a thorough investigation be made of the young woman's story. She admitted that she had not given her right name, and it is said she comes of a good family, once wealthy, but now in reduced circumstances.

The young woman shrank from the gaze of the court attendants and spectators when arraigned in court and covered her face with her hands. Dressed in deep mourning, she presented a pathetic figure while standing before the magistrate, and when led away to await her examination she broke down and wept.

She was charged with having taken more than $50 worth of laces, etc., from one of the largest department stores in the city.

Funeral of Mayor McLane.

BALTIMORE, June 2.—The funeral of the late Mayor Robert McLane, who shot and killed himself last Monday, took place here. After a brief ceremony at his late home, conducted by Dr. J. B. S. Hodges of Old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, the body was conveyed to Greenmount cemetery, where the interment was made. There were no honorary pallbearers, the members of the family preferring to have a private funeral. The body bearers included city officials and college friends of the dead mayor.

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

TO ARREST OCTOROON

Mrs. Hannah Elias Hunted by New York Officers.

J. R. PLATT DEMANDS HOUSES AND LOTS

Millionaire Claims He Was Forced to Pay Thousands as Blackmail to Avoid Exposure—Showered Her With Gold.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Justice Dugro has issued an order of arrest for Hannah Elias, according to a report current in the supreme court building.

The warrant, it is presumed, was issued to prevent the woman from leaving the jurisdiction of the court.

Deputy Sheriff Wolgering did not find the woman at her home in Central Park West and reported that he had been unable to serve the warrant.

The Elias woman has twenty days in which to answer the complaint of the octogenarian millionaire John R. Platt, who demands the return of $685,000 obtained from him, as he alleges, by blackmailing threats.

Apparently as surprised and startled as the public has been by the tale of how, as alleged, Mrs. Elias forced the millionaire and octogenarian to pay out a great fortune under threats of exposure, the negress accused has so far failed to file an answer to the suit brought against her by Mr. Platt. The octoroon, who from being an inmate of an almshouse rose to be the mistress of four houses, a patron of art and contributor to charity, has even denied herself to all callers, and the name of her counsel has not been revealed.

That Mr. Platt, who, as charged, had been fairly showering the woman with gold for something like eight years under constant fear that the story of his relations with her would be revealed, would finally turn and expose the whole sensational affair was something Mrs. Elias apparently never dreamed. But Mr. Platt, after having given $685,385, as alleged in the papers of the suit, to Mrs. Elias, finally decided to give no more.

While the publicity attending the action against the woman has placed Mr. Platt in an unenviable light, it has at last brought absolute vindication to the name of Andrew H. Green, known as the "father of Greater New York," who was murdered by Cornelius Williams, a negro, on Nov. 13 last. The likeness between Mr. Green and Mr. Platt is remarkable, and this, coupled with the fact that Mr. Platt used the name of Green in the Elias home, explains how Williams mistook the identity of the man he killed.

District Attorney Jerome, who talked with Mrs. Elias after the murder of Mr. Green, learned the story about Mr. Platt, but did not feel justified in revealing it, though he positively asserted that Mr. Green had not been acquainted with Mrs. Elias.

It is said that in Philadelphia, from which place she came, Mrs. Davis, or Mrs. Elias, had served a term in the Moyamensing prison for petty larceny. Later she was an inmate of an almshouse, where a child was born to her. The father of this child, a negro, is now married and a prosperous druggist. When she first came to New York Mrs. Davis annoyed this man until she was sent to Blackwell's island for three months.

Up to that time the woman's efforts to obtain money without work had not met with success, but the tide in her fortunes turned soon after leaving the Blackwell's Island penitentiary, when she met Mr. Platt. From that time she ceased to be a negress, by her own representations, and, as Mr. Platt swears, represented herself as an unmarried woman of pure Spanish blood. She obtained a divorce from Matthew C. Davis, a negro car porter, and directed her efforts toward winning Mr. Platt's confidence.

After her position of pressing poverty had been changed to one of ease and luxury another man, Cato, a Japanese servant, was introduced into the Elias household and became an important factor there.

When he first met the woman, Mr. Platt declares, he did not know [illegible] had ever been married and be[illegible] her character to be without stain. [illegible] called on her frequently and was finally told by her, as he states, that he had gained her love and affection. It was later, Mr. Platt continues, that he learned of her true character and, under threats of bodily harm and exposure, was subjected to the first of a long series of blackmailing threats.

The woman then known as Mrs. Elias told Mr. Platt that her husband was a powerful man of violent temper and that if she informed him of her relations with Mr. Platt he (Mr. Platt) would be sure to suffer bodily harm.

It is said that when a child was born to Mr[illegible] on April 5, 1904, she told M[illegible] was the father. This as[illegible]ionaire says, is untrue, [illegible] of the child being a [illegible] Cato. Under threat of [illegible]tions with her again [illegible] that from January to [illegible]ear she got $31,553. In [illegible]e demands as set forth in [illegible] suit increased in the following [illegible]anuary, $5,000; February, $11,[illegible]May, $15,500.

[illegible]e amounts which the woman demanded kept on increasing until in 1902 they summed up nearly $200,000 for the year. The ascending scale for that year is shown by the following figures: February, $6,000; April, $9,600; August, $12,828; December, $23,040.

As her demands for June of this year, $15,000, or $500 per day, exceeded all former demands, Mr. Platt decided he no longer would pay, and that he would himself bring about the exposure she threatened, thus putting an end to the blackmail to which he claims, he has been subjected.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Plainfield High School baseball team will meet the Cedarcroft boys next Wednesday on Alis Oval.

It is possible that Captain Lauder, of Alis, may not play Saturday. It is believed that a couple of weeks rest may greatly benefit his sprained ankle. If he does not play, he will be on hand to coach the team to victory against Acolan.

Y. M. C. A. will play a return game with Garwood Saturday afternoon, on the home grounds on Myrtle avenue. Whitley will pitch and Herman will do the trick behind the glad gum. Teddy Overton will not play, because he is out of town. His substitute at center has not yet been fixed upon.

Many persons are inclined to blame Manager Johnston for the failure of Griffin, the Alis pitcher, to play at Scotch Plains, last week. Manager Johnston told the 'Plains management that they could have Griffin, and supposed that he was going there. Instead he came here, saying that he did not want to play at Scotch Plains.

GOLF.

Golf enthusiasts who have played on the course of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, this season, pronounce it to be the equal of any in the metropolitan district.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Senator Dryden has set at rest the rumor that he was a candidate for the chairmanship of the National Republican committee to succeed the late Senator Hanna, by announcing that he was not only not a candidate, but that he would not accept it if the position were tendered to him. He so announced that he has told the President that he favors Governor Franklin Murphy for chairman and if the Governor is out of the race he would cast his vote for Secretary George B. Cortelyou.

Librarian Tyler's Visit.

W. A. Tyler, formerly of this city, but now connected with the Congressional Library at Washington, returned today after spending several days with his sister, Mrs. Rufus Lincoln, of West Eighth street. Mr. Tyler performed an important part in the founding of Plainfield's Public Library, the matter of selecting the first books for the institution being left to him. It was through his efforts as well as those of Col. Mason W. Tyler and Job Male, former mayor, that the local library got its first start.

Rally Service.

The Congregational Sunday-school is preparing for a rally service next Sunday afternoon, which will be the last afternoon session for the summer, as after Children's Day the school will meet at 9:30 in the morning. A male quartette will render two selections and Rev. Walter Thorpe, of Elizabeth, will give an address illustrated with the drawing of pictures with crayons. All members of the home department as well as of the other departments are expected to be present.

Mr. Butt's Niece to Wed.

Miss Maude Frances Butt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Butt, and Dr. Frederick C. VanDuzer, both of Toronto, Canada, will be married at the home of the bride's parents, in Toronto, next Wednesday night. The bride is a niece of Charles Butt, of East Front street, and he will leave here Sunday to attend the wedding.

G. A. R. Committee Meeting.

There will be a final meeting of the G. A. R. Memorial Detail in Grand Army headquarters, Saturday night, for the purpose of closing up the financial end of the affair.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Rev. Titus E. Davis will occupy the pulpit of Trinity church Sunday.

Preparatory services will be held at Warren chapel tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and on Sunday morning the regular communion service will be held.

An important business meeting will be held tonight by the Young Men's Class, of the Monroe Avenue church Sunday-school, at the home of Richard Lewis, 1412 West Front street.

Two persons were baptized at the First Baptist church last night by the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss. They will be received into the church on Sunday at the communion service.

Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will have charge of the meeting at the Rescue Mission tonight. Rev. William J. Wright, superintendent of missions for the American Christian Missionary Society, will also speak.

W. R. Wright, a well known Washington, D. C., evangelist, is holding nightly services at the Rescue Mission. Mr. Wright was at the mission last year, and became deeply interested in its work. Through Mr. Wright the mission hopes to get Prof. Harry Garfield, of Princeton University, interested in its progress. Mr. Wright saw Prof. Garfield yesterday, and it was announced this morning, by one of the mission trustees, that it is probable Prof. Garfield will deliver several lectures [illegible] next autumn. Prof. [illegible] recently addressed the Young [illegible]'s Association of the Crescent Avenue church.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Two candidates will be put through the first rank degree at the meeting of Perseverance Lodge, K. of P., tomorrow night.

Several applications for membership will be received at the meeting of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., tonight.

During June, July and August, Benevolent Council, No. 256, Jr. O. U. A. M., will meet but twice a month, the second and fourth Friday evenings.

Six candidates came in contact with the goat at the meeting of Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., last night. There were 72 of the 99 members present.

The members in good standing April 1, 1904, in the entire order of the Ancient Order United Workmen, aggregates 402,991. During the months of January and February 5,090 new members were received.

AMUSEMENTS.

Probably the most enjoyable things connected with the performance of "Wang" at the Lyric Theatre are the rollicking good nature of DeWolf Hopper and his associates and the boundless spirit with which all the players go at the work in hand. Mr. Hopper sets a pace for the company that keeps the entire aggregation jumping in the effort to keep up with the joyous musical procession. Another enjoyable thing about the Hopper shows is that the long fun-maker with the sepulchral voice is not afraid to surround himself with the best players it is possible to secure.

That some idea may be obtained of the magnitude of Dreamland, "The World's Fair" of amusement resorts, these statistics have been carefully compiled: Dreamland is 39 acres in area. Its real estate cost $750,000 and the buildings and construction work $2,750,000, making a total cost of $3,500,000. Fourteen thousand employes worked day and night on the construction work. One week's payroll amounted to $85,000 Seventeen hundred tons of asbestos were used in fireproofing. Ninety miles of piping were used in installing the conduit, sewer, gas and water systems. AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Herbert Perry, of the Aluminum Press Company's plant, is ill.

James Scott, of Muhlenberg place, has returned from a trip to Buffalo.

William O'Loughlin, of the Potter plant, is on the sick list with a bad cold.

John Canary, of South Second street, has returned from a visit with friends at Phillipsburg.

Fritz Freehold, of the Standard Surgical Instrument Company's plant, is in Philadelphia on business for the firm.

Dick Thomas, of West Dunellen, has returned to his position at the Potter Press Company's works after a week's vacation.

Joe Higgins will play ball with the Potter's Crossing team, Saturday. The nine will play the Willow Grove team on the latter's grounds.

Adrian Shasselut has resigned his position at the Perrin Frere glove house on Washington avenue. Mr. Shasselut has returned to his old home in Gloversville, N. Y.

George Sheing, of the Aluminum Press Company's plant, has returned from repairing a two-color press at the Sackett & Whilhelm publishing house, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Robert Larmour, Jr., has resigned his position at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant. Mr. Larmour will take a position at the Central Railroad shops at Elizabethport.

John Alster, of the Standard Surgical Instrument Company's plant, entertained a number of friends at his home last night. Joseph Lougbead played several selections on his banjo.

Clarence Lyons has resigned his position at the drawing office of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant to take a similar one at the office of the Manganese Steel Safe Company's works.

Adam Alster, of the Standard Surgical Instrument Company's works, is wearing the "smile that won't come off." A baby boy arrived at his home yesterday. Frank Newman, of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant, is on the sick list.

All of the alternate gang at the Potter Press Company's plant is at work this week. The ten 4-4 roll century presses for the Campbell people are just being set up in the erecting department. These machines will keep the entire plant busy for at least two months.

Unless the trouble is compromised, it is said that both the Pennsylvania and New Jersey Central Railroad companies will be enjoined from refilling their locomotive tanks with water from scoop troughs between the rails. The method allows locomotives to refill tanks from a trough while the train is running at a speed of thirty miles an hour. These appliances are at Rahway and West Dunellen, each of which is half a mile long in all four tracks. The prospect of a change grows out of the claim of C. N. Devinney that he is patentee of the device, and that the companies have been infringing.

LITERARY.

The issue of The Outlook dated June 4 is its fifteenth annual illustrated recreation number. As is the custom of The Outlook, this issue in addition to the usual editorial and interpretative treatment of news events, important public questions and current literature, contains a group of out-of-door articles, the majority of them carefully and fully illustrated. Most notable among these articles in this year's recreation number is the first instalment of Stewart Edward White's serial "The Mountains." This may be called a companion series to Mr. White's "The Forest," which was published in The Outlook last summer.

To Examine High School Essays.

Dr. J. B. Probasco, president of the Board of Education, has appointed a committee, composed of Mrs. H. M. Maxson, and Rev. J. S. Zelie and Israel O. Pierson, to examine the essays submitted by pupils of the Plainfield High School in competition for the Babcock prize.

Swedish Pilgrim's Affair.

An entertainment consisting of vocal selections, accompanied by stringed instruments and readings, will be given tonight in the Swedish Pilgrim church under the auspices of the Young People's Society. After the entertainment refreshments will be served.

Ira Teeter, of this city, has returned from a visit with his father, G. C. Teeter, of Annandale.

Mrs. John Hiscox and daughter, Susan, of West Sixth street, left yesterday for Little Genesee, N. Y., where they will remain during the summer.

—VanWyck Brooks, who graduates from the Plainfield High School this month, has decided to enter Harvard next fall.

WEDDED IN ST. JOSEPH'S

MISS MARY RAFFERTY BECOMES MRS. THOMAS FREEMAN.

Miss Mary Rafferty and Thomas Freeman, both well known young people of the borough, were married at St. Joseph's R. C. church yesterday afternoon.

The wedding was a pretty one, and many friends and relatives attended it. The altar was lavishly decorated with flowers. Father Miller, the pastor, performed the ceremony at 5 o'clock. Mrs. A. E. LaPorte, the church organist, played the usual marches.

Miss Rafferty was attended by her sister, Miss Maggie Rafferty, as maid of honor, and John Payne was best man.

After the ceremony the bride and groom repaired to their own home at 21 Regent street, where they held a reception and supper.

The couple received many handsome gifts.

Stone Steps to Edifice.

A substantial improvement in the appearance of the front of the new synagogue on New street will result from the decision reached today to place a fight of stone steps at the door, instead of the wooden ones originally proposed.

Proposals For Sewers.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a special meeting held Wednesday, June 1, 1904, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Friday, June 17, 1904, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials in the construction of such portions of the sewers contemplated in the ordinance, entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the Construction of an addition to the System of Sewerage already constructed in the City of Plainfield", approved November 6 1897, and "An Ordinance to provide for the Construction of a Further Addition to the System of Sewerage already Constructed in the City of Plainfield", approved May 18, 1904, as provided for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council, June 1, 1904, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, No. 151 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals, the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for $200, payable to the Treasurer of the City of Plainfield.

The Engineer's approximate estimate of the quantities of material required, and the work to be done, is as follows:

10,050 feet 8 inch sewer, 4 to 13 feet deep,
1,000 feet 12 inch sewer, 7 feet deep,
336 Branches on 8 inch sewer,
30 Branches on 12 inch sewer,
1,150 feet 4 in house connections,
22 Manholes,
8 Flush Manholes.

Duplicate plans may be examined, and forms of proposals, specifications, contract and bond, may be obtained at the office of the Engineer, 151 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

Proposals should be endorsed "Proposals for Sewers".

PLAINFIELDERS QUALIFY IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Members of the Hillside Club Participating in N. J. State Golf Association Contest.

ABBOTT MAKES AN 85

W. L. GLENNEY AND J. WHITNEY BAKER ALSO DO CREDITABLE WORK.

Championship Competition at Englewood—Montclair Man Makes the Lowest Score—Prizes Are Offered.

W. L. Glenney, Robert Abbott and J. Whitney Baker, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, were among those who qualified yesterday, in the opening play of the annual championship tournament of the New Jersey State Golf Association, begun at Englewood. T. T. Reid, of Montclair, made the lowest score, 82, and Mr. Abbott finished fifth with a score of 85. Mr. Glenney came in with a score of 90, while Mr. Baker qualified with a score of 90. Barring accidents, any one of the three Plainfielders should land well toward the top as the play continues.

Robert Abbott is considered one of the most promising players at Hillside and those who have watched his work on the course, have predicted great things for him in the near future. He bids fair to win some of the State honors before he is much older.

The accounts of yesterday's play give Mr. Glenney much credit and he is classed as one of the strong players. His work heretofore at Hillside and on other courses, has called forth well deserved praise from golf enthusiasts.

As for Mr. Baker, he has not of late devoted much time to championship play. He has been rated among the leaders in the past and no doubt he will be heard from this year as the season progresses and he gets in the game. It was a high-class field that took part in the opening play yesterday, including the present titleholder, Marc[illegible] M. Michael; Archie Graham and Allan Kennaday, former State titleholders.

The Plainfielders were among the first sixteen who are entitled to continue on at match play for the championship cup. Prizes have been offered for second, third and fourth sixteens, and there will also be something for the defeated eights in the various divisions to "shoot at."

The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, although without the services of its strongest player, Frank O. Reinhart, won the banner for the best showing by a club team in the qualifying round and each of the winning teams received a gold medal. The team summary:

Hillside—Abbott, 85; Baker, 90; Wright, 86; W. L. Glenney, 90. Total, 351.

Unfortunately, in the first round of the championship play, the Hillside men met defeat. Kirker beat Baker, by 6 up and 5 to play; Marcellus beat Glenney, by 4 up and 2 to play; Ward beat Wright, by 7 up and 6 to play, and Blake beat Abbott, by 3 up and 2 to play.

WOODEN PAVEMENTS STRONGLY CONDEMNED

Vitrified Brick is Preferable According to the Trend of Discussion at Board of Trade.

WEARING QUALITIES

WATCHUNG AVENUE BLOCK NO PLACE TO MAKE EXPERIMENTS.

Impossible to Place Additional Fire Hydrants in Centre of City at Present—That Metuchen Trolley—No Meetings Until Fall.

Further discussion of improved pavement for the business section of the city was held by the Board of Trade at its monthly meeting last night. There was a bare majority present, but everybody took a whack at the proposed wooden pavement. It was condemned for various reasons, and vitrified brick was extolled as the best character of pavement that could be secured.

Reporting for the committee in charge of the investigation of the question, H. C. Runyon said that the cities using wooden pavement had found it to be unsatisfactory in wearing qualities, except where the conditions exactly favor it. Where it is subject to any great amount of moisture it is worn down quickly by horses' hoofs and where the sun shines on it steadily the creosote dries out and the wood becomes very much like pulp.

Brick, on the contrary, resisted the weather like granite. It was much the cheapest pavement in the end, if properly selected and laid. These last two conditions are important.

In the course of the discussion it was agreed that the Watchung avenue block selected for the purpose is a poor one on which to test the wooden blocks. On account of the trolley tangle, it was held, drivers of trucks and wagons avoid that block as much as possible, a condition of affairs that makes it totally unrepresentative of the heavy traffic of the city.

For the committee that was instructed to ask for more fire hydrants in the central part of the city, Charles Runyon reported that nothing could be expected in that direction this year. The fire committee, he said, had acknowledged the need of more hydrants in the section mentioned, but explained that lack of funds prevented their installation. Next year they might be looked for.

H. C. Runyon reported that the new Metuchen trolley was getting on. The route has been selected and all the consents are available, and it is expected that cars will be running before the summer ends.

It was voted to suspend sessions until September.

SWEDISH PILGRIM MUSICALE

PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL BOYS WERE AMONG THE ENTERTAINERS.

Quite a large number of people turned out last night to enjoy the entertainment at the Swedish Pilgrim church. Instrumental music was rendered by the High School Banjo and Mandolin Club and a song was sung by the Misses Anna Lindmark, Elizabeth Anderson, Judith Johnson, Ida Johnson and Gerda Carlson. Miss Lindmark and Miss Anderson played the guitar and Miss Judith Johnson the organ.

Miss Ida Johnson gave several readings and the pastor took part in a dialogue with Ferdinand Jacobson. A mandolin solo with organ accompaniment by Irving Martin, was given also.

In charge of the entertainment was a committee composed of Hannah Swenson, Elizabeth Anderson and Ferdinand Jacobson.

Championship Golf Tournament.

There are 108 entries for the championship tournament of the New Jersey State Golf Association, starting yesterday and ending tomorrow, the players including the titleholder, M. M. Michael, and the former champions, Allan Kennaday and Archibald Graham. The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club has four contestants entered.

BISHOP O'CONNOR CONFIRMS CLASS OF 250

Impressive Scene at St. Mary's R. C. Church When Candidates Are Presented.

THEIR FIRST COMMUNION

FORMER RECTOR OF AN EPISCOPAL CHURCH AMONG THE NUMBER.

Chancellor of the Diocese and a Number of Priests Assist at the Service—Great Congregation Witnesses Ceremony.

Bishop O'Connor, the head of the Newark Diocese of the Roman Catholic church, was in the city yesterday to confirm a big class of candidates at St. Mary's church. There were 250 boys and girls in the class, the largest that has ever been presented for confirmation at St. Mary's

The confirmation took place in the afternoon, before a large congregation. Preparation for it was made in the morning, at 8 o'clock, when the boys and girls in the "confirmation and first communion" classes took part in their first communion. Father Egan celebrated the service.

Marked by the solemn ritual of the Roman church, the confirmation was carried out with a high degree of impressiveness. There was a procession by the entire 250 candidates, headed by the altar boys. The girls were clad in white, white long veils and wreaths, and the boys wore white gloves, white flowers in their buttonholes, and big white ribbon bows hung from their right arms. In the confirmation service Bishop O'Connor was assisted by Father Wallace, his chancellor; Father Westman, of Cranford; Father Miller, of St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, and Fathers Egan and Federici, of St. Mary's.

The church was crowded. Lavish floral decorations almost hid the front of the altar. A feature of the music was the singing of Master Knowlton, who rendered two solos, "Abide With Me," and "Onward Christian Soldiers"

In full the list of children confirmed is as follows:

BOROUGH FIRE BOYS FOOLED

DEPARTMENT CALLED OUT THREE TIMES DURING THE NIGHT.

Three more false alarms were added to the lengthening list that is wearing the patience of the borough firemen and authorities down, last night. From tracks in the mud it is deduced that one man rang in all three.

The first sounded from box 151, Prospect place and Willow avenue, at 11:10. Shortly after 3 o'clock box 154, Rockview avenue and Rockview terrace, came in, and less than five minutes after, while the men were still out, box 153, Giraud and Willow avenues, sounded.

When the officers investigated they found that in every case wheel tracks led to the boxes. The rain soaked dirt made the reading of the impressions easy. There were no footprints at any of the boxes, and it is supposed that the man reached from the wagon, broke in the glass with the butt of his whip and turned the keys without leaving his seat. The hoof prints in the mud showed that the horse's forefeet were shod with padded shoes and his hind feet with steel shoes.

Shortly before the first alarm sounded Marshal Sherman saw a man acting suspiciously at the box at Mountain and Westervelt avenues. He called to the man to stand, and the suspect broke into a run. Sherman gave chase but the fugitive escaped.

As a result of that incident the police force has been instructed to shoot in every instance where a suspect at a fire box takes to flight when accosted. The police are desperately determined to put a stop to the false alarms, and the officers will be sustained in every case of gunplay under the circumstances outlined, no matter what the result.

ALIS VS. ORGAN GRINDERS

BASEBALL CHATTER ABOUT TOMORROW'S GREAT GAME.

Manager Johnston, of Alis, has been unable to furnish the exact lineup for tomorrow's game with Aeolian on Crescent Oval, but it has been learned that Gauven, who played first base for Rahway Decoration Day morning, will cover that bag for Alis. Captain Lauder was much impressed with his work here and is favorable to a trial. It is hoped to have Quinby at second, and the plan is to have Oregar, McGoey and either Myers or Lynch in the outfield. Roberts will be at short and Lauder feels well enough to cover third, his ankle being much improved. Davis and Farmer will be the battery.

Manager Lentz has not furnished his lineup as yet, but it is heard on good authority that Deegan, of Orange A. C., and Poole will be the battery. No doubt the Aeolians will make a determined effort to retrieve lost honors, when Alis gave them a whitewash a few weeks ago.

Many fans have been anxious to see another strong pitcher on the Alis line, and it is understood that Manager Johnston has arranged to give Badgley, the crack Lehigh University pitcher, a trial after college closes. If he pans out all right, he may be retained. Badgley wants to play here.

The report that Quinby received his first pay for playing baseball on Monday, is stoutly denied. He has always played amateur ball and it is understood that he will continue to do so. He is without doubt one of the most popular men playing here.

Death of Mrs. A. M. Vanderbeek.

Mrs. Andrew M. Vanderbeek died this morning at her home on Grove street, after a sudden illness. She is survived by her husband and two sons, one twelve years old and the other an infant. Mrs. Vanderbeek was taken ill with stomach trouble last night. She sank suddenly this morning and died at 8:30 o'clock, despite the efforts of two physicians to save her. She was a devoted member of Grace M. E. church.

Mrs. Jobs Breaks Her Arm.

Mrs. Harriet Jobs, who is over eighty years old and has been bedridden for forty years, broke her arm as the result of a fall in her room at the home of her sister, Mrs. Martha Drake, of Duer street, Wednesday night. On account of her advanced age, the shock has affected Mrs. Jobs severely.

Grand Jury Reports on Monday.

The Grand Jury concluded its labors this afternoon, and adjourned to report on Monday. It is rumored that over one hundred bills of indictment were found, including several against "speak-easies" in this city.

"MRS. W. C. WHITNEY" IN A JUSTICE'S COURT

Woman Claiming to be the Widow of Former Secretary of the Navy Owes Rent.

FOUR MONTHS OVERDUE

CHARLES H. HAND SEEKS TO RECOVER THE MONEY.

She Appears at Mineola and Examines the Dead Man's Will—Dresses in Deep Mourning Now.

Charged with impersonation for the purpose of gaining credit, the woman who calls herself Mrs. W. C. Whitney, and claims to be the widow of the late William C. Whitney, of New York, is to be called into Justice Hand's court in quasi-criminal proceedings. The action was instituted this morning by Charles H. Hand, who is seeking to collect four months' rent for the woman's apartments on Watchung avenue.

Mr. Hand claims that he was led to believe that the woman was W. C. Whitney's lawful wife, and that his estate would bear the expense of her rent. He wrote to the estate for the money, according to H. C. Runyon, his lawyer, but the executor, Harry Payne Whitney, through his lawyers, denied absolutely that the woman had any claim whatever on the estate. Mr. Hand was told that the estate would not entertain the idea of bearing any of her debts.

It is said, however, that when Mr. Hand stated his intention of bringing action against the widow for impersonation, the estate lawyers deprecated such action. They said it would regrettably drag the matter into publicity.

These proceedings do not necessarily hold the woman open to jail. If the rent alleged to be due is paid during or immediately after the action the case is thereby ended.

In the face of repeated and firm denials from all those connected with the Whitney estate, the woman still clings to her story. On Wednesday she entered the Surrogate's Court at Mineola, L. I., and put in a claim against the estate as the widow. She was dressed in black, with a heavy black veil.

She was referred to Harry Payne Whitney, but was allowed to look over the will at her request. "There is no mention of me here," she said after reading it carefully and taking notes. "It is queer that there is no mention of his wife. It was understood that no will was to be made."

ANNUAL FESTIVAL AT GRACE M. E.

One Night Only Owing to Death of Mrs. A. M. Vanderbeek.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of Grace M. E. church, held its annual strawberry festival last night. On account of the weather the attendance was light.

These women served at the various tables: Mrs. George Nelson, Mrs. Edwin L. Earp, Mrs. A. E. Lutkins, Mrs. Edward Stein, Mrs. J. W. A. Bauersachs, Mrs. John Sheppard, Mrs. Mary Morton, Miss Emma Smalley, Mrs. Charles Lippincott, Mrs. Edward Vermeule, Miss Ada VanHorn, Miss May Fairchild, Miss Mary Hoagland, Miss Addie Carney Benjamin Schuck and John Carney assisted.

The affair was to have been repeated tonight, but this plan was abandoned on account of the death of Mrs. Andrew M. Vanderbeek, who was a prominent member of the society.

Bible Students Meet.

Gathering at the home of Richard Lewis, of West Front street, last night, the Young Men's Bible Class, of the Monroe Avenue church, transacted some business including the reading of the treasurer's report, which showed a satisfactory condition of the class finances. Plans were also discussed regarding the social features of class work during the summer and several young men were reported desirous of joining the class. A short but very enjoyable musical programme was rendered by several members during the evening. A majority of the membership was present.

FIRE PROTECTION FOR MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL

A System of Private Alarm Boxes Installed in the Buildings.

GIFT OF CHAS. J. FISK

ALARM OF FIRE CAN BE GIVEN FROM ANY PART OF HOSPITAL.

Increased Water Supply Agitated for Fire Purposes—Can Remove Patients From the Building in a Few Minutes.

Extensive improvements in the fire protection at Muhlenberg Hospital have been under way for some time and are about completed, so far as the inside of the buildings are concerned.

In addition to the private alarm box number 85, installed in the administration building, there have been placed in the various wards and the engine room, five auxiliary boxes of the keyless pattern; an arrangement which will obviate the necessity of going all the way from the extreme of the [illegible], in case of fire there, to the main box in order to turn in the alarm.

These auxiliary boxes are located in the kitchen, engine room, operating room, men's ward and women's ward The engineer has also two alarm bells in the engine room, one of which indicates the presence of trouble of any nature with the wires, such as an open circuit, cross or ground, and the other to ring whenever an alarm has been sent in from any of the boxes in the building. These bells will insure the promptest attention to necessary repairs and in case of fire, the co-operation of the engineer without loss of time.

It is expected that the ease with which the patients in the wards can be wheeled out to the porches at the rear would make it possible to empty either ward in an emergency in less than five minutes.

Charles J. Fisk, president of the Board of Governors of the hospital, who has defrayed the expense of this improvement, is in favor of increasing the amount of water available for fire purposes and Chief T. O. Doane is of the opinion that two hydrants, one immediately in front of the administration building, and another in the rear of the kitchen and laundry, would be the best means to this end.

Taking water from the nearest hydrant at Randolph road and Park avenue, necessitates the use of a very long line of hose, which is bad not only because of the chance for interruption of the flow on account of failure in the hose itself, but also because of the excessive loss of pressure, due to friction, which is always greater in hose than in pipes.

RELIEF ASSOCIATION'S SALE

REALIZES SEVENTY DOLLARS TOWARDS ERECTING WOOD SHEDS.

For the purpose of raising funds to make a necessary extension to the woodsheds at the Plainfield Relief Association yards on West Front street, a successful sale of cake, candy and lemonade was held in the rooms, yesterday afternoon. A profit of about $70 was made.

Mrs. J. K. Myers, as president of the association, had general supervision at the sale. At the lemonade table were Mrs. Mason W. Tyler, Mrs. L. V. F. Randolph, Miss Blossom Randolph and Miss Helen Martin.

Those in charge of the cake table were Mrs. Samuel Huntington, Mrs. George H. Goddard and Mrs. Will[illegible] E. Lowe, while those at the [illegible] table were Mrs. John M. [illegible] Mrs. Ernest R. Ackerman, M[illegible] and Miss Ryder.

CENTRAL RAILROAD ENTERTAINS EDITORS

RAIN NOT A DRAWBACK

OFFICIALS OF THE ROAD SUCCEED IN MAKING THE TIME ATTRACTIVE.

Pleasant Sail Around the Lake and Some Good Meals—Former Speaker Farr's Praise—250 Present.

The New Jersey Central Railroad, the new up-to-date road not the old one of unpleasant memory, entertained the editors from along their lines, at Lake Hopatcong yesterday, in royal fashion. Not even a damp, dismal weather could have any effect on the degree of enjoyment and the editors, their wives and friends had seven hours' pleasure at the popular resort.

There were two sections of the train, one from Scranton and the other from Point Pleasant. On the section stopping at this city were Assistant Passenger Agent Hope and District Passenger Agents W. C. Walsh and Ira E. Whyte. Neil Van Middleworth was at the throttle and P. Davis saw that the steam was kept up. The conductor was Thomas Flanagan. The brakemen were M. Collins and H. A. Slight. Attached to the two vestibule coaches was a combination smoker and the private car Atlas.

When the guests had gathered in the large villa at Nolan's Point, General Passenger Agent C. M. Burt made an informal address of welcome, pointing out that all the attractions of the resort were at the disposal of the Railroad's guests. After a hearty repast, the party were given a sail about the Lake in a double decked steamer. After landing again, dancing was the attractive pastime, the Neptune township high school orchestra furnishing delightful music.

Former Speaker of Pennsylvania House of Representatives, Hon. J. R. Farr, editor of Commerical Progress of Scranton, Pa., made a ringing address at the dinner at 6 o'clock. P. H. Packer, of Seabright Sentinel, acted as toastmaster. Speeches were also made by many of the editors, all sounding the praises of the new management of the road and a few taking occasion to roast the old Warren regime. Remarks were also made by some of the officials. There were about 200 guests. It was the birthday of W. H. Hayden, the general advertising agent of the road, and he received the congratulations of his newspaper friends.

At 8 o'clock the section for Scranson pulled out of the station and twenty minutes later the Plainfield section left, the latter arriving here in two hours' time. Until 5 o'clock there was no rain at the Lake and by that time all the guests were under cover.

These officials of the road entertained the party: C. M. Burt, general passenger agent; C. W. Huntington, general superintendent; H. E. Ruhe, district passenger agent; W. H. Hayden, general advertising agent; Ira E. Whyte, district passenger agent; W. C. Walsh, Jr., district passenger agent; F. A. Dickinson, district passenger agent.

W. G. Besler, the vice president and general manager, could not be present but he sent a telegram of good-will which was read to the party. A. L. Force, editor of The Daily Press, and his wife, and Harry H. [illegible] of the North Plainfield [illegible] and wife, were among the [illegible] Miss Hallard.

[illegible]ty-five friends of Miss [illegible]ard, including a delegation [illegible]ona Council, of which she is a [illegible]er, surprised her at her Clinton [illegible] home last night. They spent [illegible] evening in playing pit and other games, listening to vocal and instrumental music and dancing.

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

John McCoy has taken a position at the Hall Signal works at Garwood.

Charles Statts, of West Fifth street, has returned home after a visit with relatives in Connecticut.

Plans have been completed for important improvements on the Lackawanna Railroad, to cost about $500,000.

Frank Eick, who recently resigned his position at the Aluminum Press and Plate Works, has returned to his old job.

Work is picking up in the foundry of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant, several more men started at the plant this week.

Michael Mack has taken the position which was recently vacated by Hank Anderson, at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant.

George McComb, who recently resigned his position at the Pond plant, has taken a position at the Campbell Press Company's plant.

Peter McDonough has resigned his position at the Postal Telegraph office at Red Bank. The young operator expects a position near home some time this month.

Ralph Ralston, of Jersey City, has resigned his position at the Campbell Press Company's plant. Mr. Ralston will take a position at the American Automobile Works at Jersey City.

The Bricklayers elected these officers last night: President, Edward Smith; vice president, William Day; recording secretary, John Williams; corresponding secretary, Frank McInerney; financial secretary, John Sheppard; treasurer, Jacob Higgins; sergeant-at-arms, Albert Sutterlein.

The new French model locomotive is not as speedy as the builders claim it to be. Two test runs were made last week over the West Jersey and Seashore lines by officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad system to gage its speed, its power and endurance in making steady time across the level stretch of roadway from Camden to the shore, and the best the crew will say for it is that "She doesn't touch the fliers built in the Pensylvania Railroad shops." The locomotive is medium in size and weight and instead of a throttle there is a wheel

Game will be called at 3:45.

The North Plainfield Township Committee is at last going to erect a stone wall as a protection for the sidewalk along Park avenue, near the brook. The danger spot has been marked at night, for several weeks past, with a lantern.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., held a well attended and interesting meeting last night. The plan of having a Junior Order baseball team has about been given up owing to a lack of interest by the members.

The women of the Baptist church will hold a strawberry and ice cream festival on the lawn about the church tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 9. This is the first festival treat of the season.

The weekly prayer and teachers' meeting will be held in the parlors of the Baptist church tonight. As this is the monthly covenant meeting there should be a good attendance.

Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., of Plainfield, will attend service Sunday night at the Baptist church. Rev. G. M. Shott preaches a special sermon to the veterans.

Rev. G. M. Shott makes the address Sunday afternoon at the Children's Day exercises to be held by the Willow Grove Sunday-school.

Sunday, June 12, will be observed by the various Sunday-schools here as Children's Day. Programmes are now in course of preparation for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mackillop, of Easton, Pa., who have been visiting relatives here, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Wean, of Milford, N. J., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Wean, of West Fourth street.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Use the Newspapers.

The Board of Aldermen of St. Paul having turned down hard a resolution to appropriate $1,500 to pay for pamphlets advertising the city at the World's Fair, the St. Paul Globe says: Money so expended would simply be wasted. The price quoted was out of reason, but that is less important because the whole project is antiquated and behind the times. There was an era in the early days of advertising when pamphlets and circulars had value. They were new to the public; people actually examined them through curiosity, and they were real advertising mediums. Today they are mere litter. They are thrust into the hands of an unwilling recipient, who holds them a few seconds as a matter of mere courtesy, and then throws them into the first corner lot or upon the street.—From the Atlantic City Review.

A Newspaper Censorship ?

And so the Government has decided to establish a newspaper censorship. All classes of suggestive literature, with particular reference to certain patent compounds, will come under the censorship of the postal authorities. On general principles we are opposed to the establishment of a newspaper censorship. It may be the opening of a bad door and the adoption of a tyrannical precedent. Yet there does seem to be good reason why there should be some jurisdiction over the class of indecent advertisements that are printed in so many papers.—Paterson Call.

Leads in "Trust" Business.

New Jersey maintains her lead in the chartering of big corporations. During the month of May the capitalization chartered amounted to $85,000,000 against $53,500,000 for five other principal States. The two largest capitalizations, the Lake Superior Company and the United States Realty and Construction Company, both incorporated in this State. The prospect is that the registration fees for incorporations, paid to the Secretary of State, will equal the amount received during the last fiscal year of the State. There will be no falling off in the total of taxes paid by miscellaneous corporations, which last year exceeded two million dollars.—Newark Advertiser.

The Coming Governor.

On page 477 of Fitzgerald's Legislative Manual for this year there is a table showing that the Republican plurality on the Assembly vote was 28,581 last November. The plurality will undoubtedly be much larger next November, because this is presidential year and all Republicans vote for president. It is not unreasonable to expect that the Republican plurality for 1904 will be 50,000, and these Republicans have but one candidate for governor. They have not made the nomination yet, because it is not time to do so, but every one of them has made up his mind who the candidate will be and the nominating convention will meet, not to select a candidate, but to indorse the will of the people, that is of a large majority of the people. The opposition has been unable to find a candidate so far. More than forty have been named in connection with the nomination, but each in turn has made light of it and went his way, one to his farm, another to his merchandise, and none will accept the invitation. When the time comes that a Democratic nomination must be made it will be done simply to conform to custom, because about September in each third year somebody must be named to head the State ticket. There will be neither hope nor intention of selecting a governor. It will be a candidate. Only this and nothing more. The people have selected the next governor and any man in the State can name him offhand.—Morris County Chronicle.

FEAR OUR WARSHIPS

Moroccan Tribal Chiefs Will Appeal to Raisuli.

TO RELEASE PERDICARIS AND VARLEY

Mohammedans Unite In Appeal Because of Danger to Their Religious Supremacy In Morocco. Italy Has Sent a Cruiser.

TANGIER, Morocco, June 3.—A delegation of Moroccan chiefs of the Angerra tribe has left to make a personal appeal to Raisuli, the bandit chief, to release Messrs. Perdicaris and Varley "in order to prevent the debarkment and permanent occupation of Morocco by foreigners opposing the Moslem faith and the expulsion of native Mohammedans." This mission is considered important, as the Mohammedan chiefs unite in appealing to Raisuli not to endanger their religious supremacy in Morocco. The French government relies much upon the appeal to Mohammedan sentiment.

The natives are greatly excited by the arrival of so many foreign warships. They call all foreigners "roumis," meaning infidels, and they fear the "roumis" are about to make a united effort to drive out those who are of the Mohammedan faith.

Rear Admiral Jewell, accompanied by United States Consul General Gummere, visited the representative of the sultan, Mohammed el Torres, and were saluted by the town battery. Mohammed returned the visit at the consulate, the flagship Olympia firing a salute in his honor.

Admiral Jewell subsequently called on the British minister.

The Italian third class cruiser Dogali has arrived here.

Intended to Kill Four.

WINSTED, Conn., June 3.—It was stated in the Litchfield County hospital, where Sherman Beeman, the farm hand who shot his wife and then tried to commit suicide, now lies, that Beeman has made known the fact that he intended to take four lives on the day that he killed his wife. Beeman is alleged to have declared that his wife's sister, Edith Colby, and Archie Adams, both of Canaan, were also to be victims of his revolver as well as his wife and himself. Beeman's condition is practically unchanged, and the hospital authorities state that at frequent intervals he expressed the wish that he could die. He has with him about fifty newspaper clippings relating to murders and murder trials.

Earl of Dartmouth Coming.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The Dartmouth Society of Chicago has been notified by Hon. Charles T. Gallagher of Boston that the present Earl of Dartmouth intends coming to America in the autumn and will visit the college. He will arrive in New York about Sept. 7. His ancestor was the active patron of the college in 1765, and his name was given to it by Dr. Wheelock. Prominent graduates are to meet the earl on his arrival and entertain him in New York, Boston and Hanover. It is likely that the trustees will ask the earl to lay the cornerstone of the new Dartmouth hall, for the erection of which funds are now being raised.

Second German Cable Laid.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The second German cable from Borkum to New York via the Azores has been completed. It was laid by the cable steamer Stephan, which left New York on May 10 with 2,100 nautical miles of cable on board. She commenced to pay out on May 11 from a point off Fire island. The shore end between Fire island and Coney Island, where the American end of the cable is landed, has already been laid. There are now two complete submarine cables between Germany and the United States. The total length of the new cable is 4,200 nautical miles.

Dewey at Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 3.—Admiral George Dewey was the feature at the graduation exercises at the Naval academy. He was given a salute of nineteen guns as he entered the grounds of the academy. Later in the day he witnessed drills and demonstrations by cadets in the machine shop and armory. The admiral presided at the exercises incident to the dedication of the tablet to be erected by his former classmates to the memory of the late Commander E. F. Wood, who took part in the battle of Manila Bay.

Young Van Cott Resigns.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Postmaster General Payne has received and accepted the resignation of Richard Van Cott, assistant postmaster at New York, to take effect at once. The resignation is the direct result of the recent ... Assistant Attorney General ... investigation of the af... New York postoffice.

...erman of Nyack Dead.

... N. Y., June 3.—Michael B. ..., a trustee and one of the ...rs of the Round Lake Camp ...ing association, is dead at the age ... sixty-eight years. He was one of the most prominent citizens of Nyack and had large property interests at Round Lake and Saratoga Springs.

Rush For Indian Lands.

CHICAGO, June 3.—The inquiries received at railroad offices regarding the opening of the Rosebud Indian reservation, South Dakota, in July number nearly a thousand a day and indicate that about 50,000 people will go to the reservation in the hope of getting a quarter of a section each.

That distinguished Englishman, James Bryce, rates Roosevelt next to Washington in greatness as a President of this Republic. That may be all right from the point of view taken by the author of The American Commonwealth but most Americans would be inclined to consider this compliment to Roosevelt an insult to the memory of Lincoln. Roosevelt is all right so long as John Hay is at his side, but he is not the greatest thing on earth by a long shot.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Preparatory services will be held at Warren chapel tonight and communion service on Sunday.

Mrs. J. A. Powlison, superintendent of the Primary Department of the First Baptist church Sunday-school, was able to attend the session of the school Sunday for the first time since her long illness. She is slowly convalescing.

At the prayer meeting last night, Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel, reported matters of interest to his congregation from the proceedings of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, which he attended last week in Buffalo.

A mortuary will be built in the new chapel of the St. Michael's Catholic Orphanage Asylum at Hopewell for the body of the late Rt. Rev. Michael Joseph O'Farrell, of the diocese of Trenton. The body now lies in St. Mary's Cemetery, Trenton.

"What constitute valid grounds for a divorce, and what shall be the attitude of the Church regarding the remarriage of divorced persons?" was the chief topic before the General Synod of the Reformed Church yesterday afternoon at Grand Rapids, Mich. A committee report, presented by Dr. C. D. Wells, of New York city, recommending that ministers be enjoined not to remarry divorced persons, except the innocent party to a divorce that has been granted on Scriptural grounds, was finally adopted without amendment.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

The Wednesday evening prayer meeting at the Methodist church proved unexpectedly interesting to those who attended, as they were addressed by Rev. Augustus Todd, who formerly had the Reformed church at Somerville. His talk outlined, in a most engaging way, the forty and more years of ministerial work done by him and was greatly enjoyed by all who heard him.

A meeting of the Holy Name Society will be held a the parish house Sunday to hear the report of the committee having in charge the arrangements for reorganization as a benefit society. The committee, which includes, beside Father Dunphy, Terence J. Ronyane and Joseph Kelly, has drafted a new constitution which will be passed upon at this meeting.

The New Market boys are in fine trim for their game of ball against the Triangle A. C. team, of New Brunswick, which they will play on Nelson's field tomorrow afternoon. "Al" Squires will do the twirling for the local team.

Under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. a union temperance meeting will take place Sunday evening at the Presbyterian church. Rev. W. W. Casselberry, pastor of the church, will speak.

The Aluminum Plate and Press Company shipped their first carload of goods from their Dunellen factory on Wednesday. It was consigned to a New York firm.

Commencement exercises will close the year for the scholars in the tenth grade of the New Market school on Wednesday, June 15.

Joseph Maier is improving from an attack of rheumatism which has bothered him for the past two or three days.

Miss Sarah Brokaw, of Front street, is improving from an illness which has kept her in the house for several weeks past.

George Day, editor of The Call, together with his wife, went to Lake Hopatcong yesterday on the editors' excursion.

Mrs. Lizzie Dunham, of New Market, has returned home after spending several days with relatives in Boonton, N. J.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education takes place next Tuesday evening at the Whittier School.

Mrs. Mary Squires, of New Market, is entertaining her sister, Mrs. John W. Herbert, of Marlboro, N. J.

$10 Men's Suit Sale.

They are far better suits than you ever bought at ⅓ more.

Pure Worsteds, All-Wool Cassimeres, Scotch Cheviots, Ballyho Homespuns.

Every suit a remarkable value at the price. The style, fit and make-up of these garments are the acme of perfection. The little things that don't show at a glance usually betray a cheap suit into speedy seediness. Padded shoulders, shrunken linen canvass, hand-felled collars and lapels, fadeless colors, all go to make these suits the best value at the price ever offered you in the clothing line.

BANKER ARRESTED.

Douglas M. Smith Held For Large Embezzlement.

PECULATIONS AMOUNT TO $30,000

Teller of Tradesmen's Bank of New Haven, Conn., Caught by Failure of Bucklin & Co. of Boston.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 3.—A loss of from $30,000 to $60,000 through the embezzlement of its funds by a trusted employee, Douglas M. Smith, is admitted by the officers of the National Tradesmen's bank of this city. The exact amount of money lost will not be known until a careful and farreaching examination that is now being made is finished. Smith, who was paying and receiving teller of the bank, has acknowledged voluntarily that he has embezzled about $30,000, and the greater part of it, if not all, within the past eight or nine months.

A statement given out by Cashier H. W. Thompson of the bank summarized all that is known of the situation. It is as follows:

"The national bank examiner's visit each year is supplemented by a private examination by the directors' committee. The examination by the national examiner was held last December and that given by the committee was held shortly afterward. In neither examination was any discrepancy in the accounts of Mr. Smith discovered. But he knew that another examination would shortly be held by the directors' committee, and when it was decided to have the examination begin on Tuesday last Mr. Smith did not come down to the bank. During the morning he sent a message saying that he had been taking money from the bank and that he was not able to cover it up. He also said that as he could not hope to make good the loss he would not run away, but would meet whatever punishment the courts might mete out to him.

"As near as we can make out by the examination thus far given we believe that he has taken about $30,000. That is the sum which he himself estimates. He was under bonds for $15,000, given by an indemnity company. As Mr. Smith says he has not saved a penny during his lifetime and cannot make good the loss we shall have to stand the balance of the defalcation above the $15,000 in the bonds.

"Mr. Smith says he has been speculating and that he took the money for that purpose. He speculated at the local agents of Bucklin & Co. of Boston, by whose failure he was caught like some other customers. The bank is safe and sound, as we have a surplus of about $300,000. There is no danger to either our depositors or our stockholders.

"Mr. Smith has been with the bank twenty-five years and during the last eight years of that period has been teller."

Smith has been arrested on a bench warrant. Smith awaited the officer's coming at his rooms in Duncan hall, where he has lived recently with his wife and young son. Mrs. Smith had steeled herself for the trouble and bore up well. She assisted her husband in getting together what necessaries he might be expected to require if he had to go to jail. President William T. Fields of the bank was with Smith when the officer came and left with a bagful of papers, some of which are believed to be papers showing where Smith has speculated and in what securities. Smith was brought before Commissioner Wright, and his case was continued until June 11 in bonds of $15,000. Smith returned to his wife and children in Duncan hall.

Great surprise was felt over the embezzlement. Business men at first were somewhat apprehensive, but when the full facts became known the excitement subsided, as the bank is now known to be strong and its securities excellent.

Child Ran Under the Motor Car.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The navy department has received a report from Lieutenant Commander Scribner of his automobile accident, which resulted in the death of a child in Boston on Memorial day. He says that he was proceeding slowly and cautiously, but that the little girl became frightened "and dashed back to the curbstone so quickly that there was not sufficient time to stop before his car struck her."

New Phthisis Microbe.

NAPLES, June 3.—Professor Schron, the discoverer of life in crystals, gave a public demonstration to show that he had found a new microbe which causes phthisis, a microbe quite different from that causing tuberculosis. Professor Schron affirms that this discovery explains why Dr. Koch's serum not only did not cure phthisis, but aggravated it.

QUAKER CITY HORSE SHOW.

Reginald Vanderbilt's Horses Took Two Blue Ribbons.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—The Corinthian class, open to all hunters, was the feature of the fourth day of the open air horse show at Wissahickon Heights. There were more than fifty entries in this class, among which were as fine a lot of timber toppers as ever stepped into a horse show oval.

The Brandywine stables gr. m. imp. Vengeance took first prize. The second ribbon went to Loyalty, br. m., owned by W. Hinckle Smith of Bryn Mawr, Pa. Third prize went to the b. g. Hiawatha, exhibited by Mrs. Courtland H. Smith of Alexandria, Va., and fourth to Courtland H. Smith's b. g. Up to Date.

Reginald Vanderbilt took two blue ribbons. His first victory was in the harness class, in which Astonishment, b. g., and Amazement, b. m., showed to the best advantage. His second blue ribbon was won by Fad, blk. g., and Fancy, blk. g., which were shown before a carriage with Mrs. Vanderbilt holding the reins.

Mrs. J. B. M. Grosvenor of New York won the blue ribbon in the tandem class with Admiration, ch. m., and Sensation, ch. g.

In the hunting class with hounds the Orange County hunt won.

Schulamite Won the Criterion.

NEW YORK, June 3.—On a track that was still heavy and holding Schulamite, backed from 7 to 5 to even money, won the Criterion stakes of $6,000, for two-year-olds, five furlongs, at Gravesend. Hildebrand sent Schulamite to the front and, gradually increasing her lead to the finish, won easily by three lengths from Chrysitis, who in turn was six lengths in front of Simplicity. Thistle Heather, while at the post in the first race, was badly kicked and was withdrawn. E. E. Smathers has decided to send McChesney west to compete in the World's Fair handicap at St. Louis this month.

Connecticut Women at Golf.

NOROTON, Conn., June 3.—On the links of the Weeburn Golf club Miss Helen Carrington of the New Haven Country club won the first open golf tournament for women ever played in Connecticut by defeating Mrs. E. F. Sanford of the Essex Country club by a score of 3 up and 2 to play. The consolation prize was won by Miss Helen Bishop of the Brooklawn club, who defeated Miss Edith Hart of the New Haven Country club by the same score that won the championship round.

Gregor K. at Hawthorne.

CHICAGO, June 3.—Gregor K. won the mile handicap at Hawthorne in a drive. Moharib, a close second, was gaining rapidly and would have won in another stride. Wainamoinen, which quit twenty yards from the wire when in a good lead, was an easy third. Gregor K., although heavily backed, went to the post at odds of 13 to 2. The winning favorites were Luzarien, Admonition and Spencerian.

Mum Was a Good Thing.

CINCINNATI, O., June 3.—One of the few good things that have gone through at Latonia was Mum in the second race. The race was for two-year-old fillies at five furlongs. The betting on Mum opened at 3 to 1, but heavy commissions by her owners and others soon forced the price down to 8 to 5. She got away flying and was never headed, winning easily by two lengths.

Elastic Beaten In the Stretch.

ST. LOUIS, June 3.—Favorites won at Delmar park. Radium won the first very handily, My Eleanor was first to the wire in the second, Alfio got the verdict in the third, and Mordella, the favorite in the feature event, a handicap at six furlongs, beat Elastic a head in the home stretch. Pathos won the fifth in a drive and Boodler the sixth easily.

Harvard Accepts English Challenge.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 3.—It is officially announced that Harvard university has accepted the challenge of Oxford and Cambridge universities for an international athletic meet in London this summer between Oxford and Cambridge and Harvard and Yale.

Swarthmore Lacrosse Champions.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.— The Swarthmore college lacrosse team has won the intercollegiate lacrosse championship of America by defeating the University of Toronto team by a score of 4 to 2.

An Ideal Location

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

SURROUND FORTRESS

Large Japanese Army Landed to Re-enforce Besiegers.

PORT ARTHUR TO FALL BY JUNE 10

Czar Has Ordered Stoessel In Event City Is Captured to Blow Up Fortifications and Important Buildings.

LONDON, June 3.—Japanese siege guns in large numbers are already trained upon Port Arthur, and the final assault has begun, according to rumors current here.

An army of re-enforcements has landed at Pigeon bay, just north of Port Arthur. Japanese gunboats have entered Dalny harbor, and it is said more guns and troops will be landed there.

Troops are being pushed down the Liautong peninsula from Pitsewo, which the Japs have fortified.

It is declared the Japanese have torn up the railroad, thrown up intrenchments and occupied commanding positions all along the line north of Port Arthur, so as to be able with the aid of the fleet to prevent any relief reaching the besieged city.

It is expected that several days of fighting and bombardment will precede the final capture, but the mikado's men expect Port Arthur to fall by June 10.

The Japanese have five divisions and five reserve corps, about 80,000 men, on the Liautong peninsula and at least seven divisions and seven reserve corps, about 125,000 men, in southern Manchuria.

St. Petersburg dispatches say the czar has ordered General Stoessel in the event of the capture of the fortress by the Japanese to blow up the fortifications, the banks and the most important buildings.

Lieutenant Colonel Gourko, who succeeded in eluding the Japanese on the Liautong peninsula and reaching the Russian headquarters at Mukden, is attached to the staff of General Fock and was the bearer of important information regarding the fighting at Kinchau and the situation at Port Arthur.

A Newchwang report says General Stalkenberg, with 14,000 Russians, made up of artillery, cavalry and infantry, is marching south of Liaoyang in the direction of Wafangtein.

The Japanese have landed another army of 50,000 men at Takushan.

Japanese posts have been withdrawn from positions near Vafangow, destroying the bridges as they retired. They were busy during the night removing the wounded from the battlefield and burying the dead.

Russian raiders have succeeded in penetrating as far as Gensan and also south of Anju. They have destroyed depots of Japanese supplies and captured provision trains. Many Koreans are fleeing into Manchuria to escape the hardships of war.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says General Kuropatkin has been advised to attempt to relieve Port Arthur, but to act with the greatest prudence. A general interviewed on the subject said:

"If Kuropatkin is weak enough to advance he will commit a serious blunder. The number of his troops is insufficient. The conditions under which he acts are unfavorable. He might meet an almost irreparable reverse and Port Arthur be further from relief than ever. If we try to relieve Port Arthur we will be doing exactly what the Japanese are hoping for."

World's Fair Athletics.

ST. LOUIS, June 3.—The first day's events of the A. A. U. handicap meet at the Stadium were held under most discouraging circumstances. The field was muddy and the track soft. The 880 yards handicap run was won by F. A. Rodgers, M. H. A. C., New York. The 100 yards handicap run was won by James McGarvan of Bethlehem, Pa. The mile run was won by W. Hall, Washington university, St. Louis. The two mile run was won by Robert Todd, N. W. S. A. C., New York.

DIAMOND DUST.

Madison and Chatham contested for the honors at baseball on Memorial Day. The game finally ended in a riot, in which the policemen were knocked down, and a general fight ensued. The game ended in the last half of the sixth inning, the score was 4 to 3 in favor of Chatham. The umpire declared the game no contest.—Morristown Chronicle.

The Same Old Story.

Chauncey Burt, while at the Alis-Seventh Regiment baseball game Monday afternoon, lost a valuable claw watch-fob. He advertised his loss in The Daily Press. John Yost, a Press carrier, who found the fob, saw the advertisement, and the lost property was returned to the owner, while the finder received a suitable reward.

Col. Bryant to be Here.

REAL ESTATE MAN NAILS FALSEHOODS

Elston M. French Denies the Truth of Rumors Concerning a School Building Site Deal.

HIS PART IN AFFAIR

NO MONEY IN THE PROPOSITION FOR HIM OR THE MAYOR.

Site as Suggested by Majority of Board is Not in Proper Location —Recommends Site at Greenbrook Road and Stone Street.

Editor, The Daily Press:

Wishing to correct some erroneous impressions that have been given out by some people who are opposed to the site which I offered for the new school in the borough, located on Grove street, between Rockview avenue and Greenbrook road, I would state that at the beginning of the agitation for the new school one of the members of the building committee of the Board came to me and requested that I obtain options of certain sites, and I submitted three to the Board of Education, who selected from these three the site on Grove street. I wish to state that I have no personal interest whatever in any profits that may be derived from the sale of this site beyond the regular real estate brokerage amounting to $45, and this I have agreed to donate to the Board of Education to be used for school purposes, stating in my letter making this offer that "it is not my desire to make any money on the transaction."

Another rumor that has been put in circulation is to the effect that Mayor Smalley is to receive a sum of money in case this site is sold to the Board of Education. I wish to state that this is absolutely false and made out of the whole cloth. Having no interest in this site I do not care whether it is purchased by the School Board or not, and in fact, I would recommend the lot located on the corner of Greenbrook road and Stone street, owned by Mr. Coddington.

The site which five of the nine members of the School Board have selected for the citizens to vote upon at the meeting next Monday night is, in my opinion, not only too expensive but it is not in the right location. In the next five or ten years the greatest real estate development is bound to take place in the Western part of the borough, as the land is much cheaper there than in the Eastern, where the property East of Westervelt avenue, extending to the borough line, is held largely by two estates and is not offered in the market for sale. In actual figures about two-thirds of the taxes are derived from that portion of the borough located West of Somerset street, and the majority of the inhabitants are located in that section. In a few years it may be necessary to locate a new school in the eastern end of the borough, but at the present time it should, in my opinion, be located in the central portion of the West End.

There are now a number of sites available in addition to those above mentioned, viz: property belonging to Mrs. Truslow, opposite Colonel John F. Wilson on Greenbrook road; property belonging to the estate of Cadmus, located on Willow avenue, just west of Giraud avenue; a vacant lot on the corner of Washington avenue and Prospect place; property on Rockview avenue, near the triangular park at Rockview terrace, owned by Colonel John F. Wilson; the two lots located on Sycamore avenue, between Mercer and Linden avenues.

The idea that the people in Washington Park do not want a school is, to my mind, erroneous. Doubtless a six-room school building in the West End will meet the requirements for the present, and it can be built so that it can be enlarged to meet future demands.

The scheme of appropriating $36,000 to purchase the Somerset street site and build an eight-room school is most unreasonable. Of the total tax rate last year of $2.59; $1.09 went for school purposes, while in the city of Plainfield of the total tax rate of $2.52 only .87½ was expended for school purposes.

If $36,000 is voted for a new school and the borough bonded at the rate of 4 per cent., it will add .06 per $100 valuation to the tax rate next year. Since 1897 the special school tax has increased from 59 cents to 91 cents on the $100, an advance of 54 per cent., notwithstanding the fact that the

PAROCHIAL SCHOOL PUPILS CLASS DAY

Seniors in Commercial Course Hold Customary Exercises in St. Mary's School Hall.

FATHER EGAN SPEAKS

THE PROGRAMME INCLUDES MANY MUSICAL NUMBERS.

Miss Christine McEachen Delivers a Salutatory—Miss Helen Hanrahan as Class Prophet—Class Poem Read by Margaret King.

Leaving thoughts of work behind them for a short time, the seniors in the commercial course at St. Mary's parochial school held their class day exercises in the school hall, in Liberty street, yesterday afternoon. The programme, which included several selections of classical music, was altogether in the hands of the pupils and the opportunity for demonstrating their ability in the different directions embraced by it, was improved to the full extent.

The class prophet was Miss Helen Hanrahan. The salutatorian was Miss Christine McEachen, and the class historian, James Caulfield. Miss Margaret Lutz read the class motto and the class will was read by John Kyle.

In addition to these, Miss Mary McCarthy read an essay on the "Class Colors," which was very good, as was Miss Margaret King's class poem and Miss Helen Hanrahan's essay on "Alma Mater."

Among the other features on the programme were the vocal duet, "Come Let Us Dance," rendered by Miss Blanche Skinner and Miss Margaret King, and the class song, the words of which were written by Miss Helen Hanrahan and which was sung to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne." Miss Blanche Skinner recited "King Robert of Sicily."

An address by Father Egan, in which he spoke encouragingly to the class, closed the exercises.

Y. M. C. A. ATHLETIC CONTEST

MANY EVENTS ARRANGED FOR MEET TO TAKE PLACE AT ORANGE IN JULY.

Championship honors in athletics in the State Association of Y. M. C. A.'s will be contested for at Orange Saturday, July 2, and Plainfield will take an important part. The meet will be held under sanction of the A. L. N. A., and prizes will be awarded in the form of silver and bronze fobs, Y. M. C. A. design, for individual work, silver cup to the winning relay team and a shield to the association scoring the highest total of points.

The track events to be contested are the 100 yard dash; the 220 yard dash, 440 yard run; the 880 yard run and the one mile run. This last event will be for relay teams. A half-mile relay run for boys under sixteen years will be run off also.

Three other events, the 12-pound shot-put, the running high jump and the running broad jump are scheduled too. Physical Director A. M. Chesley, of the Orange Association, is in charge of the entries which will close Saturday, June 20.

PLAINFIELDERS IN BIG SHOOT

INDEPENDENT GUN CLUB TO BE REPRESENTED AT SCHEUTZENBUND.

Plans are being made by the Independent Gun Club to send a delegation to the monster shoot to be held by the National Scheutzenbund at its annual gathering in Hoboken during the week of June 12.

On the opening day Henry Haurand will be present to take part in some of the contests. It is probable that other members of the club will accompany him on that day, but the idea is to send the representative delegation on Thursday, June 16, the gala day of the meeting. On Thursday prominent men from all over the United States are expected, including Governor Odell, Senator Platt, Mayor McClellan and other big political lights, besides noted trap, range and wing shots. The Plainfielders will shoot in several contests, and they are confident of making a good showing.

SETTLE JUDGMENT AFTER TWENTY YEARS

Nine Members of Dissolved Co-operative Store Finally Pay Long Standing Claim.

STORY OF CONCERN

EXECUTION ISSUES SIMULTANEOUSLY IN THREE COUNTIES.

Walter L. Shotwell's Original Demand for $2,000 Revived From Time to Time—Settlement Made Here.

Settlement of a judgment that had been in force for twenty years was effected in Codington & Swackhamer's office yesterday. The defendants were the former members of a co-operative concern that conducted a store in Stirling in the early '80s.

The combination included residents of Stirling and thereabouts. Dissension broke the concern up, but just before the dissolution Walter L. Shotwell secured a judgment for $2,000. Several executions were issued, but they were returned unsatisfied, and the case dragged on from year to year. A few of the partners settled their liabilities and the judgment simmered down to $1,600. As time wore on the defendants became scattered or lost their property and the judgment fell on the shoulders of nine of the original shareholders.

Execution against them was issued on May 19, from the Sheriff's offices of Morris, Somerset and Union Counties. Eight of the defendants retained S. S. Swackhamer to defend them, and he arranged a conference. The plaintiff had acted under a law passed last year, which allowed the issuance of execution without notice to the defendants. Mr. Swackhamer maintained that this law was not retroactive, and had not covered the twenty-year-old judgment. After consideration of the matter, the plaintiff agreed to compromise for $150.

One of the defendants is William Mernegh, a Stirling milkman, who has a large route in this city and is well known here.

MRS. VANDERBEEK'S FUNERAL.

Services to be Held at Her Late Home and at Cherryville.

The funeral service over the remains of Mrs. Andrew M. Vanderbeek will be held at her late home on Grove street tomorrow night at 7 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Earp, of Grace M. E. church, her pastor, will be in charge. The body will be interred in Cherryville on Monday.

At Cherryville the service will be in charge of Rev. Daniel Halleron, presiding elder of the Elizabeth District of the Methodist church, who was Mrs. Vanderbeek's former pastor.

Lanning to Take Oath.

Judge William M. Lanning received from President Roosevelt yesterday his commission as judge of the United States court for the Trenton district and will be sworn into office next Monday morning at Trenton. The oath will be administered by former Senator George T. Cranmer, clerk of the United States district court, in the court room on the third floor of the federal building. There will be no formalities and no other judge will be present.

Mono A. C.'s Fair.

The Mono A. C. will hold a fair on the lot at the corner of Fairview and Watchung avenues this afternoon and evening, for the benefit of the ball team. Elaborate decorations will beautify the grounds for the occasion. The committee in charge consists of William Nischwitz, chairman; Arthur VanArsdale, Herbert Conover, William Heath.

Infant Buried.

Funeral services for the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Keiderling, of East Second street, were held this morning from the home of the parents and were in charge of Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel. The interment will be at Somerville, today.

Held Its Last Meeting.

The Thimble Club held its last meeting for the season in Vincent chapel yesterday afternoon. Appropriate exercises were held and refreshments served. The club has been holding meetings every week during the spring months.

Another League Man in Game.

John Bradley, a crack infielder from one of the big leagues, arrived in town today noon from Philadelphia, for the purpose of playing with Alis this afternoon. He was sent here by Jack Dunn at the solicitation of Captain Lauder and Manager Johnston.

BANDAGES FOR HOSPITALS

TRINITY CHURCH BAND SPENDS TIME IN PROFITABLE WAY.

Under the auspices of the domestic mission committee, the Young Women's Mission Band, of Trinity Reformed church, held its last meeting for the season, yesterday afternoon. The time was taken up chiefly in rolling bandages for hospitals. It is quite likely that some of them will be used for the Indian work in the West.

At this meeting each member was expected to contribute a dollar and tell how she earned it. About fifteen dollars were received, the money being earned through the sale of cakes, candy, trimming hats and in many other ways. The Band will not resume its meetings again until fall.

HOPE CHAPEL PEOPLE BUSY

SEVERAL ORGANIZATIONS HAVE PLANS FOR ENTERTAINMENTS.

Three different organizations of Hope chapel have arranged entertainments of one sort or another for the dates in the near future.

On June 10 the Boys' Club will hold a musical entertainment. The affair is being arranged by G. Herbert Condict.

The Choral Club will hold a concert on June 18. A long and striking programme is being arranged for that affair by the club conductor and teacher, William P. Schneider. The chorus work of the club has improved wonderfully since its organization several months ago.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold its annual strawberry festival on June 23. There will be a programme of music.

KING'S DAUGHTERS LUNCHEON

PLEASANT AFFAIR AT THE HILLSIDE TENNIS AND GOLF CLUBHOUSE.

The King's Daughters' Circle of Loyal Daughters, of which Mrs. Dorsey Hyde is the president, gave a delightful luncheon at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, yesterday, for the purpose of raising funds for the support of the City Union, King's Daughters' nurse. There were about sixty-five members and friends present. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Heistrom from a number of small tables and two large ones.

Among those who presided at these tables were Mrs. Dorsey Hyde, Mrs. J. G. Drayton, Mrs. Arthur L. Otterson, Mrs. Theodore D. Wilson, Mrs. John Kirkner, Mrs. T. Lewis Thomas, Mrs. Paul Taylor Brown, Mrs. C. C. Burke, Mrs. Edmund Wright and Mrs. J. H. VanDeventer.

Following the luncheon the rest of the afternoon was spent in a social way. Altogether the affair was a profitable, as well as a pleasant one for the Circle and its friends.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL'S END.

Scotch Plains Institution Closes for the Season.

The Industrial School, which has been one of the successes of the year at Scotch Plains, closed yesterday for the summer months. On Thursday the friends of the school were treated to an exhibition of the work done by the boys and girls. Basket making has progressed with the boys until the work done would do credit to older and more experienced hands. The girls have taken up sewing and have proved to be apt pupils with the needle.

Hurt By Fall.

Victor Miner, a boy living on West Sixth street, was hurt about the head by a fall from his bicycle yesterday afternoon. The front wheel struck a stone at the corner of Liberty and Sixth streets, throwing him headforemost into the road. He was cared for at home.

Stephen Cahoone to Speak.

Stephen Cahoone will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. An orchestra, led by Kenneth Shupp, will render special selections and accompany the singing. There will also be vocal music.

Health Board's Report.

The Board of Health has distributed a large number of copies of its annual report for the last year. Any citizen desiring a copy may obtain it by applying at the health office in the Smalley building.

Will Spend the Summer in Country.

W. F. Arnold, cashier of the City National Bank, and his family, will soon go to Lebanon, Hunterdon county, to spend the summer, and, as usual, will take their horse and carriage.

BOROUGH COUNCILMEN DO LITTLE BUSINESS

June Meeting of North Plainfield's Fathers Proves to be an Exceedingly Dull Session.

MAP REFUSED ASSESSOR

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN TO GET THEIR EXEMPTION PAPERS.

No Money for Band Concerts—To Enforce Dog Muzzling Ordinance —That Building Ordinance is Discussed.

Warm weather dulness characterized the monthly meeting of the borough Council last night. The tameness of the session was particularly noticeable in comparison with the stormy nature of the preceding meetings.

All the business transacted was done in less than an hour, and the most absorbing thing that arose was a question as to whether Mrs. Cecilia Lewis, a colored woman, should or should not be allowed to remodel the hovel on Manning avenue that was recently damaged by fire.

The Mayor expressed an inclination to take advantage of the new fire ordinance to prevent the reconstruction of the building on anything like the same dilapidated lines. Councilman VanWinkle suggested that the humble householder might perhaps be unable to meet the requirements of the ordinance, and spoke for considerate action in the case. Councilmen Lee, Arnold and Humble all joined in the discussion, which finally resulted in a reference of the matter to the fire, water and lamps committee.

Assessor Cooley, in a communication, asked for a map of Jefferson avenue, to aid him in his work. Chairman Arnold, of the street committee, protested against granting the request. Pointing out that the street had not yet been accepted by the borough, he opposed the expenditure of four hundred or five hundred dollars for a survey of private property. Mr. VanWinkle arose to remind the Council, in very amiable phrase, that it might want to aid Mr. Cooley in his work. Mr. Arnold made no reply and nothing acrimonious developed. The Mayor said it had always been the custom for the officials to help each other, and the question was dropped. But Mr. Arnold made it plain that Assessor Cooley would not get his map.

By motion of Councilman Humble, all the members of the volunteer department, not already in possession of them, were granted exemption papers. This motion followed the reading of Borough Counsel Reed's opinion that members of departments forced out of business are entitled to papers where they have served two years. All the ex-volunteers were in that class.

A resolution ordered the dog ordinance into force for the summer months. All unmuzzled dogs in the borough are liable to confiscation and death, and owners are subject to fine for failing to muzzle their pets.

Mayor Smalley reported that the walk in front of the engine house is to be relaid. The walk is now under grade, and has suffered because it was laid while there was frost in the ground. The work will be done at nominal cost.

The fire, water and lamps committee was instructed to get after the lighting company to see that the electric globes are changed according to agreement. The Mayor said some of the lamps have been getting dim through age. A petition for a light on Harrison avenue, above the brook was referred to the committee.

Three new suits for the paid members of the fire department were ordered, at a cost of $50, and the cops were authorized to get a new bicycle.

Councilman VanArsdale, treasurer of Benjamin LaVere's band concert fund, made an appeal to his colleagues for assistance in swelling the subscriptions. It was hoped to have the borough appropriate something for the concerts, but Counsellor Reed rules that the municipality cannot donate any money unless it gets a borough park, in which the concerts must be held.

The police committee reported that eight arrests were made during the month. Twenty-three dollars in fines was collected, and four prisoners were suspended.

Chairman Arnold, for the street committee, reported that $69 had been expended on repair work, $43 for macadamizing Brook avenues and $52 for street sprinkling, a total of $165.

WEST FIFTH STREET TO BE MACADAMIZED

Section of Thoroughfare Between Grant and Monroe Avenues to be Put in Repair.

NEEDED IMPROVEMENT

FOR SIX YEARS THERE HAS BEEN A CLAMOR ABOUT ITS CONDITION.

For Eight Months Past Dirt Has Been Dumped Along the Stretch and Now Contractor Meeker Will Get Down to Work on It.

After years of suffering under street conditions almost intolerable, the residents of West Fifth street between Grant and Monroe avenues are on the verge of relief. Contractor Meeker is looking forward to a start in the work of macadamizing the stretch in a week or so.

For more than five years the condition of that section of West Fifth street has been the source of bitter and unceasing complaint, and with ample cause. The germs of the trouble were laid nearly six years ago, when property owners sold lots there before the street had been graded or even accepted by the city. No provision was made for grading, and even after several fine houses had been erected the roadway was in remarkably bad shape. Sometimes, after rains, the roadway has been under water waist deep. Every winter, for the past five years, and at other seasons when the rain or the dust was troublesome, the papers, the Council and almost every city officer that could be reached, have been bombarded with complaints over the matter.

Scarcely any improvement that the city could order will be productive of more relief to the section afforded than the grading and macadamizing of that section. For nearly eight months past the city has had its contractor dumping dirt along the stretch, bringing the level to its proper heighth, and when the macadamizing work is completed the aggravating conditions will be completely eliminated.

PRIEST'S TALK ON DEVOTION

FATHER CORNELIUS CLIFFORD'S INSTRUCTIVE SERMON AT ST. MARY'S.

Regular monthly devotions to the Sacred Heart were held at St. Mary's church last night, Rev. Cornelius Clifford officiating. After reciting the rosary, Father Clifford preached from the 110th Psalm as found in the Vulgate; his text being the fourth and fifth verses: "The Lord, who is a gracious and forgiving Lord, hath made a memorial of all his wonders. He hath given food to them that fear him."

Father Clifford's sermon on this text was a scholarly and instructive discourse and dealt in so plain a fashion, with the principals of the order, as to afford great spiritual benefit to those who had the good fortune to be present.

The discourse consisted of a brief meditation in the form of a conference on the relation between the devotion of the Sacred Heart as historically developed in the Church, and devotion to the Blessed Sacrament.

Devotion to the Sacred Heart, he contended, was first carried out in practice, by a living devotion to the Holy Eucharist which is an epitome of the divine wonders and Incarnation of the Word is the greatest of the divine wonders.

After his sermon, Father Clifford closed the service with the benediction of the Sacred Heart.

SHARP REPLY MADE HOMER J. WIGHTMAN

Samuel Townsend, a Member of the Borough School Board, Answers Superintendent.

SCHOOL HOUSE SITE

QUESTION NOT ONE WITHIN THE SUPERINTENDENT'S PROVINCE.

Believes That Mr. Wightman Should Not be Drawn Into Discussion—As to the Central Location Property.

"While admitting the right of Superintendent Wightman as a citizen to voice his opinions in the press with reference to the selection of a school site as well as on any other subject, I cannot but think that he was ill advised in permitting himself to be drawn into this controversy. As I regard it a superintendent of a school occupies a position similar to that of the pastor of a church.

"If he takes strong ground on questions that do not come within his particular line of duty he is apt to arouse antagonisms and so impair his usefulness for the special work in which he is supposed to be engaged. As he has, however, seen fit to air his views and as his utterances may carry weight because of his position as superintendent, I do not think they should pass unnoticed.

"The Board has discussed the question of a school site at a great many of its meetings and was certainly entitled at the earliest possible moment to any information that Mr. Wightman possessed bearing on the subject, but only at the last Board meeting did he mention the reasons given in his interview for favoring the Somerset street site.

"He speaks of the difficulty of grading the pupils in a smaller school, but I cannot see why there should be any greater difficulty than has been experienced in the Watchung School and we seem to have got along there pretty well. If, however, there is this difficulty in small schools why not put an addition to the Watchung School and so overcome it? It could be done without buying more land and at about one-half the cost of the proposed new Somerset building. I am not saying that this is the wisest thing to do but I certainly think it would be preferable to add more class rooms to the present six-room Watchung building than build right along side of the present twenty-room Somerset building.

"He is also reported as saying: 'Morever, the people do not really mind sending their children from the outskirts to the Somerset street school.' It would be interesting to know just how many people living on the outskirts really feel this way. I have attended every meeting of the Board but one for over a year and I am sure that this view of the people's sentiment was never before advanced. When anyone ventures to say what the people want he should be well informed and not take the opinions of one or two as the voice of the people.

"'To believe that parents living on the outskirts of the borough would prefer to have their children travel a long distance to reach the Somerset school rather than a short distance to a school located near their homes is incredible. If obliged to go the long distance in bad weather or compelled to go home through a storm coming on while at school, the danger from wet clothing and wet feet—to say nothing of the extra expense of keeping them in shoes—would be a consideration that would certainly have weight with their parents. However, the fact that a petition to the Board signed by some seventy citizens, most of them living in what is termed the outskirts, asking that a school building be erected on the Grove street lot, originally submitted, shows that the people in this section at least do not ask that their children shall go to the Somerset street school.

"'Whatever may be the outcome of the present situation, fair minded men must regard it as unfortunate that the principal sites favored could not have all been submitted to the voters and the question settled once and for all."

Father Delahanty's Return.

On Friday, June 10, Father Delahanty, of St. Mary's church, will sail from Naples on the Koenig Albert, and expects to reach New York Wednesday, June 22. Father Delahanty returns in company with Father Nardiello, of Bloomfield, N. J.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

Have no hesitancy in entrusting your electrical work to A. B. Laing, of North avenue. He is the best man in the business in this city.

Real luxury and solid comfort are to be found in the sumptuously furnished lounging room of the Hotel Waldorf cafe, on East Front street.

John H. McCullough is doing a lot of wiring for different people who are building. He does the kind of work that you want; good work, at right prices.

Two fine smokes—the Pinar del Rio and the Yara, the standard of cigar values in their class. M. C. Dobbins, of Park avenue, is the maker, and he makes them right. All kinds of smoking tobaccoes.

The old buildings which are continually being torn down, often contain valuable material which can be used in repairing or new construction. Ask Alex. Kane about it; he makes a business of housewrecking.

Charles Conover & Co., of Elmwood place, are showing a fine assortment of wall-papers in the latest design and they can furnish you with paper at prices to suit. As for painting the firm has the reputation for doing the best work.

Whenever J. W. VanSickle's delivery wagon is seen stopping to leave a roast or steak at some house you can depend upon it that the person who bought that meat either knows a lot about meat, or is a first-class judge of a good butcher.

Within the coming month there will be a number of weddings in the city and borough. If you have received invitations to them, the proper thing to do is to go to J. Hervey Doane's jewelry store and select a suitable present for the bride. His stock of goods is large.

The stock of men's and boys' clothing at M. Weinberger's clothing store is just the kind you want for this kind of weather. It is light in weight, of the best material and the prices are right. If you need furnishings of any kind this is the place to get them, a full line of shirts, collars, cuffs and ties being kept in stock.

When in need of a lawn mower, garden or farm seeds or implements of any kind, go to the Gayle Hardware Company store. The stock is large, the materials the best and the prices are within reach of your purse. The company also keeps a complete line of hardware from the smallest nail to building materials of all kind.

Now is the time for the summer girl to think of her shirtwaist sets. Novel designs in silver are on hand at L. Moraller & Son, Park avenue. Many other pretty little trinkets dear to the heart of women. Clocks and heavy pieces of jewelry of all kinds. Repair work that puts the repaired article in the just-as-good-as-new class.

Milk upon which you can depend for purity and excellence and a dealer who is just as reliable in service are found when you deal with William Lindsay & Co. During the hot weather when baby is liable to suffer seriously from any impurity in diet, you can feel perfectly safe if all the milk and cream for your household comes from Lindsay's dairy farm.

C. M. Nagle has a large number of regular customers for other things than the ice cream soda about which everyone speaks so highly. His prescription department is second to none and any proprietary remedy you may name will be secured for you if it is not in stock, as quickly as any dealer can get it. 'Phone your order and have it sent by wagon.

Roth & Co., the East Front street butchers, would be pleased to have you numbered among their many customers, for they believe that they can please you with the best quality of meat, fresh fish or game of any kind. The firm is making every effort to cater to the wants of Plainfielders and that they are succeeding is clearly shown by the increase in trade.

STEINWAY & SONS

About Piano Tuning

are continually doing a great deal of mischief to good pianos. It will therefore doubtless be of interest to owners of Steinway and other pianos, residing at not too great a distance from New York, to learn that we are now prepared to take orders for the tuning and regulating of pianos during the summer months at special rates. Not only the members of our large regular tuning force but also those of our staff of experts who, during the winter season, have been traveling with eminent pianists on their concert tours, and who have now returned to New York, are available for this work. The greater the number of orders from any one place or vicinity the lower our charge will be for each piano attended to. Consequently we would suggest to prospective customers in any locality that they "club together" in sending us their orders, whenever feasible and agreeable, as the most economical and satisfactory plan. Your patronage is respectfully solicited.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

If there is any flaw in the logic of this story, for which the Kansas Ranch News is responsible, it is not easy to find: Mr. Brown, a Kansas gentleman, keeps a boarding house, it appears. Around his table at a recent occasion sat his wife, Mrs. Brown; the village milliner, Mrs. Andrews; Mr. Black, the baker; Mr. Jordan, a carpenter, and Mr. Hadley, a flour, feed and lumber merchant. Mr. Brown took a $10 bill out of his pocketbook and handed it to Mrs. Brown, with the remark that there was $10 toward the twenty he had promised her. Mrs. Brown handed the bill to Mrs. Andrews, the Milliner, saying, "That pays for my new bonnet." Mr. Jordan, remarking that it would pay for the carpentering work he had done for her. Mr. Jordan handed it to Mr. Hadley, requesting his receipted bill for flour, feed and lumber. Mr. Hadley gave the bill back to Mr. Brown, saying, "That pays $10 on my board." Mr. Brown again passed it to Mrs. Brown, remarking that he had now paid her the $20 he had promised her. She, in turn, paid it to Mr. Black to settle her bread and pastry account; Mr. Black handed it to Mr. Hadley, asking credit for the amount of his flour bill, Mr. Hadley again returning it to Mr. Brown, with there mark that it settled for that month's board; whereupon Brown put it back into his pocketbook, observing that he had not supposed a greenback would go so far. —Harper's Weekly.

AMUSEMENTS.

Duss, who, with his orchestra, is nightly delighting thousands of people in the Madison Square Garden production of "Venice," had little encouragement in his early youth towards things musical. The harmony community, where Duss was born, did not believe in music. These straight laced followers of Father Rapp thought young John had sold his soul to the devil because he took to playing the violin. One evening while Duss was dreamily improvising, eight of the patriarchs headed by Father Henrici, stalked into the room. They surrounded the boy and all fell on their pious knees in prayer. After a longwinded explanation to a wrathful God came the solemn "Amen." Then Father Henrici took the violin from Duss, broke it over his knee and threw the precious splinters into the open fire. As the smoke curled lazily up the chimney it bore to high Heaven the resolve of a masterful, unconquerable soul. Through his tears this boy saw the solemn faced saints depart and with a true philosophical spirit he said: "These men are mistaken. Music is not sinful. They hate it because they do not understand it. I'll give my whole life to the work of helping people come to a knowledge of the good in music." Since that November evening three decades have become history, yet John S. Duss never once lost sight of his serious purpose in life—popularizing good music. In the commercial world fortune smiled on him but dime grabing and dollar chasing was only a diversion—music his life's work. To this end he directs the finest company of high priced performers ever in a musical organization nightly at Madison Square Garden.

Church Notes.

The finest city and village Churches are painted with the Longman & Martinez Paints, and we want every Church to accept our donation whenever they paint.

8 & 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight of L. & M. and mix six gallons of pure Linseed Oil with it, making actual cost of paint about $1.20 per gallon.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil (worth 60 cents) which you do when you buy other paints in a can with a label on it.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons of Linseed Oil mixed therewith.

Wears and covers like gold.

These Celebrated Paints are sold by Woolston & Buckle, Plainfield; H. C. Meyer, Scotch Plains.

Lake Excursion.

The beauty spot of New Jersey is Lake Hopatcong and one who visits the place is charmed with the diversified entertainment afforded. The surroundings are delightful in every respect and a day spent in the rarified mountain air of the Jersey foothills will do wonders for the tourist. There are ample facilities for fishing and boating and one who enjoys the rambles in wooded paths and the quietness of the natural pins, to him Lake Hopatcong is the gem of places. On June 5 the New Jersey Central is going to run one of its famous low priced and popular excursions to the Lake. Round trip $1, and special train leaves Plainfield at 9:20 a. m. The run is made in three hours and the entire day can be spent in delightful enjoyment. 6 2 3

THE CONQUERING JAP

Port Arthur's First Line of Defense Occupied.

FORESHADOWS FALL OF FORTRESS

A Japanese Division Has Captured Kwangtung Heights That Dominate the Far Eastern Gibraltar. Russian Sortie Beaten Back.

LONDON, June 4.—A Tokyo dispatch says:

"The Japanese have occupied the first line of the outer fortifications of Port Arthur after a feeble resistance.

"Four divisions of Japanese troops have occupied Kwangtung heights, on which they have placed heavy artillery dominating Port Arthur.

"The Russian garrison attempted a sortie, but was forced to return, being threatened by the Japanese fleet."

General Stoessel from Port Arthur reports to St. Petersburg as follows:

"After a fierce battle lasting two days I ordered our positions at Kinchau to be evacuated at night, as we had opposed to us at least three divisions of the Japanese army, with 120 guns.

"The enemy's fire, particularly that from four gunboats and six torpedo boats, completely annihilated our batteries mounted at Kinchau. The Fifth regiment, which was posted on this spot, stood their ground heroically. Their fire as well as that of our batteries and the gunboat Bobr off Khounoueza inflicted enormous losses on the Japanese.

"Our losses amounted to 30 officers and 800 men killed or wounded. We blew up or damaged all our guns which we had to leave except those that the Japanese had put out of action.

"It would have been inexpedient to bring up siege artillery during the fierce fighting.

"The battle began at 5 a. m. and lasted until 8 p. m., when I ordered the position evacuated gradually. The explosion of a number of our mines and forcastles was rendered impossible because the Japanese turned our position with a rush. The Japanese advanced pluckily through water up to their waists under the protection of their ships.

"The spirit of our troops is excellent."

A dispatch from Tokyo says that Field Marshal Yamagata has been appointed commander in chief of all the forces in the field. He is expected to proceed to the Liautong district shortly.

It appears that the Russian relief column of 30,000 men mobilized for the succor of Port Arthur has abandoned its project owing to the fall of Kinchau and the landing of Japanese re-enforcements.

PENNSYLVANIA'S ATTITUDE.

Colonel James M. Guffey, National Committeeman, Issues Statement.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Colonel James M. Guffey, Democratic national committeeman for Pennsylvania, issued the following statement at the Holland House:

"Since coming to New York I have met a number of gentlemen prominent in local and national Democratic politics with whom I discussed in a general way the political situation. I made a statement some time ago that 'Pennsylvania's delegation, uninstructed and governed by the unit rule, would go to the St. Louis convention ready and willing to join with her sister states in selecting candidates who would bring success to the Democratic party of the country.'

"From this position we have not changed, and no combination has been or will be entered into by me until after free and full conference with the delegates to the convention at St. Louis."

During the day Colonel Guffey conferred with ex-United States Senator James Smith, Jr., of New Jersey, United States Senator A. P. Gorman of Maryland, William F. Sheehan and August Belmont, two of Chief Judge Alton B. Parker's representatives, and others.

Mrs. Elias May Be Indicted.

NEW YORK, June 4.—By order of Acting District Attorney Rand an investigation of the blackmail and extortion charges made by John R. Platt against Mrs. Hannah Elias has begun in the district attorney's office. Lyman G. Warren, counsel for Platt, has laid before Mr. Rand the documentary evidence in his possession. This consisted principally of the affidavit of Mr. Platt. Mr. Rand turned the matter over to Assistant District Attorney Lord. Neither Mr. Rand nor Mr. Lord would discuss the subject. They said all inquiries would have to be answered by District Attorney Jerome when he returned to his office.

Trooper Was Killed by Accident.

BURLINGTON, Vt., June 4.—The violent death on Saturday night of Frank Bernhardt, a private in Troop K, Fifteenth regiment of the United States cavalry, stationed at Fort Ethan Allen, was investigated by a military court of inquiry at the post. The court was unable to find any one who saw Bernhardt at the time he met death, and the official report of the court will declare that the trooper was killed accidentally.

Canals Suffer From Strike.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 4.—Superintendent of Public Works Boyd reports the canals are still suffering quite as much as the railways from the labor troubles on the great lakes. The total loss to the canals since the season of navigation opened May 5 to date is 155,712 tons.

Moses King, Jr., Got the Cup.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 4.—Moses King, Jr., of Newton, a senior, won the annual Harvard race for the Carroll cup on the Charles river. The race was rowed down stream over a mile course. King's time was 7 minutes 24 seconds. P. B. Fischer of Wheaton, Ill., a third year student in the law school, was second and less than a length behind. The Carroll cup is offered for a single scull race, open to any member of Harvard university who is not connected with the college boat crews.

Spring Meeting Ends.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—The spring meeting of the Prospect Park Driving club has closed: Lorna McGregor won the 2:27 trot in straight heats, Ceyled Bay second, Robert Burns third and Lady Ella Louise fourth. The 2:22 pace was won in straight heats by Judge Joseph, Bedgecraft second, Goldenthorne third and Annie Marioner fourth. In the free for all Effie Powers won the second, third and fourth heats. Nerva Patchen second, Gypsy Red third and March Gale fourth.

Tennis Tourney at the Capital.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The finals in the men's singles of the lawn tennis tournament for the championship of the south were played. Harry F. Allen of New York defeated John C. Davidson, a former holder of the southern championship. In the women's singles Miss C. B. Neely of Chicago, the champion of the west, defeated Miss Marie Wimer, and Miss Spurgin defeated Miss Ethel Wimer, leaving Miss Neely and Miss Spurgin to contest for the women's championship.

Hildred Won the Challenge Cup.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—Eben D. Jordan's beautiful chestnut mare Hildred won the Challenge cup, the most attractive prize at the Philadelphia horse show. The brown stallion Burlington, owned by James Hobart Moore of New York, won the reserve ribbon. Among the other entries in this class was Reginald Vanderbilt's brown gelding Herald, which defeated Hildred a few days ago in the harness class with lady drivers.

Bad News Got There.

CHICAGO, June 4.—The spring meeting at Hawthorne has ended, and the Harlem track has opened with the Harlem National handicap, worth $15,000. The feature at Hawthorne, a mile handicap, was won by the odds on favorite, Bad News. Miss Crawford was second and Foresight third. All calculations were upset in the first race when Garvice, backed from 100 to 1 to 40 to 1, galloped in an easy winner.

John F. Won the May Stakes.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Bright, clear weather drew a big crowd to the races at Gravesend. The May stakes, for three-year-olds, at about six furlongs, the feature of the card, was won easily by John F. Seymour, heavily played for the place, was second and the favorite, Dick Bernard, third. John F. broke in front and, making all the pace, won easily by three lengths.

Joe Gans Bested Kid Griffo.

BALTIMORE, June 4.—Joe Gans, the lightweight champion pugilist, was given the decision over Harry Cohen (Kid Griffo) of Brooklyn in the seventh round of their fifteen round bout to a decision before the Eureka Athletic club. Gans was the stronger of the combatants and floored the New Yorker nine times during the seven rounds of the combat.

Faraday, Jr., Won Driving.

CINCINNATI, O., June 4.—Faraday, Jr., won the steeplechase at Latonia in a driving finish. Percy R. started to make a runaway race of it and was leading by ten lengths at the sixth jump when he fell. The others all cleared the jumps nicely, and it was a pretty contest throughout. Jockey Richsteiger carried off the honors by riding three winners.

Prentice Beat Morse at Tennis.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 4.—B. S. Prentice, 1905, of New York has won the college championship in tennis by defeating J. M. Morse, 1907, of Worcester in straight sets, 6—3, 8—6, 6—2.

A SOUTHERN TRAGEDY.

Race Troubles at Trail Lake Cost Five Lives.

GREENVILLE, Miss., June 4.—As a result of a fight which occurred on the Sims & Williams plantation at Trail Lake, Miss., thirty miles east of here, John Sims and his manager, named Cato, were killed by negroes, and three of the negroes have been killed also.

The country is in a state of intense excitement, and it is feared further trouble may ensue between the whites and blacks.

The fight started about 10 o'clock, when Sims and Cato were shot down in their store by a negro named Samuel Clark. Sims was engaged in checking up his cash when Clark came in. Before he could make any kind of move Clark raised a Winchester and fired, the shot taking effect first in Sims' back and then breaking the collar bone. He died instantly.

Clark immediately turned on Cato, the manager, who was in another part of the store, and shot him in the right side, the ball coming out on the left side.

Cato staggered into the back of the store, and as he reached the door a negro convict guard named Van Horn, who was in waiting, struck him over the head with a rifle. Cato died at 7 o'clock in the morning, and the physician gives it as his opinion that the blow over the head caused his death.

News of the tragedy was immediately sent to Greenville, and Sheriff John Crouch, with a posse, went to the scene.

The negroes, Van Horn and Clark, had made their escape before the posse arrived, but the trail of Van Horn was found, and he was tracked about a quarter of a mile into the woods. Here another negro convict guard named Mayfield interfered with the posse, and he was shot down in his tracks.

Van Horn was captured and taken to Leland, fourteen miles distant, where he was placed in the jail. He remained in jail all night under a strong guard, and at 8:30 o'clock in the morning he was taken out and lynched by the mob.

While the sheriff and posse were busy with Van Horn the other negro, Sam Clark, returned to Sims' store with the intention, it is said, of killing Buck Williams, the other partner; the bookkeeper, named Crow, who was also at work, and others. Crow, however, after the previous shooting, had armed himself and a negro who worked about the place named Aaron Fuller. When Clark made his appearance he was shot by both Crow and Fuller and killed. It is believed at Trail Lake that the shooting was the outcome of a meeting held in the vicinity of Trail Lake by a negro secret society and that the negroes involved were picked out to do the killing.

RAISULI'S ATTACK.

Mrs. Varley Describes Capture of Perdicaris and Her Husband.

LONDON, June 4.—Mrs. Cromwell Varley, wife of the Raisuli captive, has sent her relatives in Norfolk an interesting description of the seizure of Ion Perdicaris and Mr. Varley, her husband, by bandits near Tangier, Morocco. After describing the sudden attack of the bandits and the capture of the outbuildings, she continues:

"Hearing a noise, uncle and Cromwell rushed out to see what was the matter. They were immediately surrounded, overpowered and bound. When we reached the scene the bandits threw mother and myself down a flight of steps, warning us not to interfere in any way, so we retired. One of the maids, however, with great pluck and presence of mind, slipped away to the telephone and shouted:

"'Thieves! They are killing us!'

"Before she could say more Raisuli dashed the instrument from her hand and said he would shoot us if we called for help.

"We waited ten minutes while uncle, as we thought, was arranging terms with the bandits, when a soldier informed us that Raisuli had carried off uncle and Cromwell."

Mrs. Varley's report confirms the news sent by Mr. Perdicaris, who acknowledges that he is well treated. The captives are lodged in a Moorish hut, with an anteroom in which one of Perdicaris' soldiers sleeps. This soldier voluntarily became a captive so that he might accompany Perdicaris. The wife's statement concludes:

"I have been able to send them clothing, provisions and some luxuries."

Dewey Laid Cornerstone.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 4.—Admiral George Dewey officiated at the ceremonies incident to the laying of the cornerstone of the new chapel in the Naval academy grounds. Secretary of the Navy Moody delivered a stirring address to the large concourse of naval men, midshipmen and civilians. Among the articles placed in a copper box beneath the stone were autograph photographs of President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Navy Moody, Admiral George Dewey and Captain W. H. Brownson.

Will Defend Seawanhaka Cup.

MONTREAL, June 4.—The first boat built by the members of the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht club for the purpose of defending the Seawanhaka cup has been launched here. She is the Noorna, owned by Huntley Drummond. Great things are expected of the new boat by those who have seen her.

TRAVIS IS CHAMPION

American Golfer "Carries the War Into Africa."

BEAT BRITONS AT THEIR OWN GAME

Our Player's Superiority Over Scotch Expert Blackwell Was Generally Acknowledged—Victor Heartily Cheered.

LONDON, June 4.—The American champion, Walter J. Travis, now holds the title of amateur champion of Great Britain, won on the links at Sandwich, where he defeated E. D. Blackwell, a representative of the Royal and Ancient club, by four up and three to play.

The sky was overcast, with occasional flurries of rain and a stiff, raw wind from the northwest, which, however, appeared to have little effect on Travis' driving, while his approach work and putting maintained the wonderful accuracy which characterized his game throughout the tournament.

The gallery numbered about 500. Although their sympathies were practically unanimously with Blackwell, they could not refrain from applause at Travis' brilliant game, and the American's superiority over the Scotchman was admitted, coupled with expressions of regret that one of the older and more representative golfers was not pitted against the visitor in the final.

About a score of Americans followed the game, including the competitors in the earlier stages of the championship and Simeon Fogl and Miss Higgins. Mr. Ford acted as referee for Travis.

The Britishers extracted some comfort from the fact that Travis was born in Australia. The best feeling was manifested on both sides, and the winner was heartily cheered.

The American's brilliant game elicited bursts of applause at almost every hole.

The large Scotch contingent was the most ready to concede Travis' superiority even before the last round was started.

Blackwell after the match said:

"Travis is a great golfer. He deserved to win. I was a trifle off my game and lost several holes I ought to have won."

Travis must defend the championship on this side next year. The Prestwick (Ayrshire) green has been selected for the contest.

Earlier Travis defeated his opponent, E. D. Blackwell, in the first round by four up. There was a high wind, which greatly affected the driving.

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Director Skiff Honored—Five Airships Entered For Race.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—At the world's fair grounds the athletes and A. A. U. officials, together with the officials of bodies allied to the A. A. U. and athletic officials of the various colleges, have presented Director of Exhibits Frederick J. V. Skiff with a handsomely engrossed set of resolutions bound in morocco and silk, with his initials in silver on the cover.

Only five airships have been entered to date for the aerial contests in the early part of July, although eighty contestants have applied for admission. The five to pay the $250 necessary to enter are Edward Hutchinson, Chicago; Charles Stivin, New York; S. M. Williams, San Francisco; Emery Curtis and George Davis, Gillespie, N. Y., and M. Santos-Dumont of France.

Officers Fired on Strikers.

EVELETH, Minn., June 4.—A mob of several hundred Finnish miners who have been on a strike here for two or three days against a reduction in wages attacked a gang of nonunion men hired to take their places. The nonunion men were guarded by deputy sheriffs, and a running fight ensued. It became so desperate that the officers were compelled to fire at the rioters, two of whom were wounded so seriously that their recovery is doubtful. A third man was placed in jail. After the arrest of their companion the strikers made a demonstration against the jail, but Sheriff Richard and a strong guard overawed them.

Daniels Has Been Released.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 4.—The contempt proceedings of Federal Judge Purnell against Editor Josephus Daniels of the News and Observer, who has been in custody since Monday for refusal to pay a $2,000 fine, has ended, Mr. Daniels being released. The habeas corpus writ was heard by Judge Jeter C. Pritchard. After argument, Judge Pritchard dismissed the case and released Mr. Daniels, saying that he failed to find anything in section 725 of the Revised Statutes of the United States to warrant the action.

Five Buried In Clay.

TROY, N. Y., June 4.—Five men in the employ of the Troy Brick company were buried by a falling wall of clay in the brickyard here. Two horses were also covered. James Egan was taken out dead. Alonzo Atkins sustained a fractured ankle, and he is severely injured. Edward Whalen was uninjured. Edward Daley and David Riley are still buried by tons of clay, and it is supposed that they are dead. One horse was removed safely, but the other is still hidden. All the men live in Troy.

Rev. Dr. Selden's Death.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 4.—Rev. Dr. Edward G. Selden, aged fifty-eight, pastor of the Madison Avenue Reformed church of Albany, who had been in failing health, has died suddenly here. He was a native of Norwich, Conn., and a graduate of Yale and of Andover Theological seminary.

Plainfield, N. J., June 4, 1904.

Unless the Democrats get together, Roosevelt won't need any National chairman.

In an advertising periodical is reported the experience of two men as personally known to the writer of the report. One went into the fancy poultry business, but did not advertise. Eventually he grew discouraged from lack of buyers and gave up the business. A hundred miles away another man went into the same business, but advertised in a number of leading newspapers. He is still at it on a large scale, still advertises and is a rich man.—Ex.

The citizens of North Plainfield will meet Monday night to consider the question of location for the new school building. Their instructions to the Board of Education to suggest three available sites have been disregarded and but one location will be recommended. It is at the corner of Somerset street and Park place. Well informed citizens condemn the site recommended by the Board of Education. The action of the people will be watched with interest.

State now pays to the borough for school purposes under the new law much more than it has ever done before.

If the same proportionate increase is made in the next six years, and no increase is made in the other departments, our tax rate will be over $3.

According to the map, the geographical center of the borough is about at the corner of Greenbrook road and Harrison street, and the shape of the borough is oblong, being about one mile wide and three miles long. From the present High School to Rock avenue (the western end of the borough) by road is over two miles.

In a few years this section will be built up and the residents will clamor for a school. Why not build it there now? Elston M. French.

Told of Assembly's Work.

The meeting of the Young People's Association, of the Crescent Avenue church, was led last evening by Rev. Lawrence R. Howard. Mr. Howard has lately been attending the sessions of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, held in Buffalo, and he spoke of the proceedings of the Assembly.

Card Club at Hillside.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. DeGraff, of Stelle avenue, entertained the card club, of which they are members, at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, last night. It was the last meeting for the season and there were many pleasant features. After the play, refreshments were served.

Old-Time Fourth Celebration.

The members of the Park Club are planning to celebrate Fourth of July with a display of fireworks and dancing in the evening. It has always been the custom of the club to celebrate and a big time is promised.

Romeyn VanZandt and children, of Madison avenue, were recent visitors at East Millstone.

A MUSICAL SERVICE ARRANGED

CHOIRMASTER THOMAS ANNOUNCES PROGRAMME AT CRESCENT AVENUE.

Choirmaster Rhys Thomas has prepared a notable programme of music for the monthly praise service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow night. The musical numbers will be as follows:

St. Stephen's P. E. church will shortly be without a rector. Since the recent departure of Rev. William Vincent Dawson to Elk Rapids, Ind., Rev. William R. Harris has been filling the rectorship temporarily, and he will shortly leave the charge. No successor to Rev. Mr. Dawson has been chosen, and the vestry has not fully decided on a plan of proceedure that will insure a continuance of Sunday services until a regular rector is installed.

Bertha Winn's Birthday.

In honor of her twelfth birthday, friends of Bertha Winn surprised her at her home on West Fourth street last night. Games, music and refreshments were the features of the affair. A huge, illuminated birthday cake was the central piece of the table decorations.

FOG-BOUND COASTS

THEY ARE A BAR TO CANADIAN OCEAN TRAFFIC.

Despite These, However, the Dominion Will Attempt to Compete with New York and Boston for Atlantic Business.

On the first of July a new trans-Atlantic steamship service will begin between Montreal and Liverpool, a service by which Canada hopes to divert much of the ocean transport business that now goes by way of Boston or New York. The government will pay heavily for this opportunity of retaining in English liners the transportation of her products and people across the ocean, and it is doubtful, if, after all, she can be successful. This new line will consist of two splendid boats, driven by turbines, and each capable of making 17 knots so that the trip across should be made in six days, and it is hoped in time to cut from this a full day by the introduction of faster boats.

The route from Montreal to Liverpool is far shorter than that either from Boston or New York, but what Canada gains in distance she loses in conditions attending safe navigation, and the fogs of Newfoundland will more than offset her advantages under ruling conditions. The first drawback to Canada's operating successfully a "fast" service is the ice, fog and currents about the Newfoundland coast, which cause so many shipping disasters there. Indeed, it is Newfoundland, rather than Canada, which is the determining factor in this connection, for until the danger zones about the three points of the triangle Newfoundland makes at the mouth of the Gulf of St. Lawrence—Cape Rice, Cape Ray and Belle Isle—are properly safeguarded, no sane man will run ocean fliers there, and a "fast" Atlantic service will remain a dream.

Canada really has to face two considerations. Should she aim at "greyhounds" or ships of moderate speed, what port and route should be chosen? In weighing these two matters she must take into account that her population is less than 6,000,000; her wealthy class limited in proportion, and her traveling public inadequate to fill the saloon accommodations of an up-to-date New York liner. To provide boats to compete with these would mean a passenger service only, for the "greyhound" carries little or no freight, and makes her profit out of heavy berth rates charged, while ships of 17 knots can give over to cargo the space she has to use for coal, and can reach port within a day of their speedier rival, cabin fares being also suited to people of moderate means. This would appear to be the service most likely to be productive of the greatest good to Canada.

With slow boats Canada can carry her own freight to Europe, but that she will, at least in the near future, be able to compete with fast boats in the passenger traffic between the two continents is scarcely probable. The St. Lawrence river has been deepened, and the channel widened, straightened and buttoneled, until to-day ships of 10,000 tons are plying fearlessly where 20 years ago craft of half that tonnage could not float. Last year more ships visited Montreal than ever before, and the imports and exports were the largest in Canada's history. But the passenger traffic, save in the matter of immigrants, showed no proportionate expansion.

Last the geographical disadvantages from which Canada's Atlantic seaboard suffers make it very doubtful if the service would ever be a really fast one, in the sense in which that phrase is usually understood. The New York greyhounds have scarcely anything to obstruct them, for the whole ocean trip being able to run at full speed until they near the land on either side. But the Canadian liner must slow down when she reaches the ice and fog-infested areas or else she will batter herself against a floe or the rocky coast of Newfoundland. Thus, while theoretically the Montreal liner would gain a day on her New York rival, she would really make no faster passage, on an average, for she is plying in congested and danger strewn waters for one-third of the whole voyage—the stretch between Montreal and the Grand Banks, and only in the finest weather can she make her best speed. The prospects, therefore, of a fast Canadian line are not very encouraging.

When Baby Is Asleep.

When your babe is asleep watch his face. If the eyelids are not perfectly closed suspect weakness. If you see a furrow passing from either side of the nose round the mouth there is probably something the matter with stomach or intestines. A furrow from either mouth corner, passing outward, may indicate something wrong with the throat or lungs. None of these signs is conclusive; but they are infinitely valuable in causing the careful parent to investigate the state of the child's health.

WILLIAM R. HEARST.

New York Editor Would Like to Be President.

Volunteer Clubs in All Parts of the Country Organized for the Sole Purpose of Making Him the Democratic Candidate.

William Randolph Hearst is now in his fortieth year.

He is a tall, broad-shouldered man, deep-chested and in perfect health, the consequence of a naturally fine constitution, an athletic youth and a temperate manhood.

He was born in San Francisco, and is the only child of the late United States Senator George Hearst and Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst. On both sides he comes of old Virginia stock and his ancestors migrated from the Old Dominion shortly after the revolutionary war to Missouri, where his grandfather, William G. Hearst, was a trapper and farmer and pioneer early in the century.

His father went to California with the gold seekers in 1849 and up to the time of his death was a man of peculiar power and influence on the Pacific coast. His son attended the public schools in San Francisco and then went to Harvard college.

In religion he follows the faith of his forbears, having been baptized in the Episcopal church. He was united in marriage April 28, 1903, with Millicent Wilson at Grace church, New York, by Bishop Potter, who has been his friend from boyhood.

He risked his life on the firing line in the Spanish war before Santiago. He equipped his private yacht as a cruiser and presented her to the government, accepting an ensign's commission in the navy, so that his person as well as his boat was at the nation's service. He was in the thick of battle when the destruction of Admiral Cervera's fleet sounded the end of the Spanish war, and with his own hands effected the capture of a dozen or more prisoners and turned them over to the commander of the United States forces.

He has never since owned a yacht, does not keep a stable, and, in fact, has never owned a horse since those his father gave him soon after he left college were sold about the time of Senator Hearst's death. He is a very capable chauffeur, and enjoys automobiling as a diversion, but he has never taken part in a speed contest, and considers contests of that kind to be dangerous and foolish.

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.
(New York Editor Who Is a Candidate for the Presidency.)

Throughout the last national campaign he was especially active. He organized a series of monster meetings, the most notable of which was the Jefferson meeting at Madison Square Garden in New York—which was, with one exception, the largest political gathering ever held in the United States. The only occasion on which the attendance at the garden was exceeded was on October 27, 1902, when Mr. Hearst, as president of the National Association of Democratic clubs, arranged a rally in the interests of the congressional candidates from New York.

The first party nomination he ever accepted was for congress from the Eleventh district of New York. He debated the question of accepting this for some time, but finally decided that as a member of the national legislature he could accomplish even more than as a private citizen, and allowed his name to go before the people. He received 72 per cent. of the total vote cast in the district, a record never before approached in any district even in democratic New York.

Several hundred newspapers and many prominent democrats have declared for him for president. More than a hundred of volunteer clubs have already been formed, and their sole purpose is to elevate Mr. Hearst to the presidency.

Unique Masonic Gathering.

There was a unique masonic gathering in London recently when Viscount Hayashi, Japanese minister to London, was installed as worshipful master of the Empire [illegible] of 40 members. The grand [illegible] members were witnesses to the ceremony and visitors from a distance included the past grand master of the state of New York, who sat on the immediate right of Hayashi and who initiated President Roosevelt into the craft.

Ship Subsidies in Austria.

The ship subsidy law of Austria provides bounties and premiums. Iron and steel steamships receive an annual bounty of $2.44 per ton, while the bounty of iron and steel sailing ships is $1.83, and that of wooden and part iron sailing ships have their bounties increased by ten per cent. if built in Austrian shipyards, and by 25 per cent. if at least half the raw material used in their construction is of Austrian origin.

FASHION NOVELTIES.

Henriette Rousseau Tells of New Things Seen In the Shops.

To keep up with everything that is going on in the world of fashion makes one busy, for generally before one gets the chance to really see something the style has changed completely, so rapidly do new things come out.

Thin goods we have seen ever since January. They are pretty, too, but now we are treated to a whole long list of gowns and wraps comparatively thick. The newest of these is to be seen for travel and country wear. Some of the gowns are certainly made of washable goods, but they are so thick that they would be quite comfortable for winter, with a wrap sufficiently warm for the weather. But we are treated to such a variety of cloth and silk made in tailor fashion that a choice is difficult. The cloth gowns are made with flounces, folds and in other ways of using up cloth unnecessarily, so that they become heavy and in some instances almost clumsy.

In the illustration is shown a gown of rather thick peau de soie, made in a very plain manner as to the skirt, but the waist and sleeves are as ornate as the skirt is plain. The whole waist is covered with a rich crocheted lace of black silk thread, in which are strung beads, small, but finely cut. The forearm pieces are made of the same crocheted work, which is very costly, as it must be made by hand. Beneath the black work is a shirred waist of white silk mull, and this shows through with beautiful effect.

The coat, which is a model of its kind, is made of silk or mohair or cravenette, as the case may be, and is unlined. It is shown in all the season's colors, even red. It is quite a fad for a young woman to have a whole outfit of red, hat, coat and gown. But those of gray or russet in the cravenette or one of the slightly iridescent shades in silk or in gray or tan in mohair are considered the best. Mohair is such a fashionable fabric this season that nothing made of it would be amiss. If one prefers black, there is black in plenty in all grades. The way the mohair is made now is equal to silk, so far as appearance goes. It is well adapted for coats, as it is made entirely waterproof.

These coats are made with a deep yoke, to hang down off the shoulders in the approved fashion, and open in front to close with hooks and eyes, as they generally are expected to be left to hang unless it should really rain. Shirring of the same, stitching and a little ruffling are all applied. One I saw with a two inch band of self reversed plaiting around the shoulders, down the front and on the yoke. These coats have no real name.

Hats are becoming larger all the time, and if they continue on this line it is difficult to know how they will be kept on. They are big enough now for umbrellas; still they are pretty. I recently saw a hat of black lace, with a fall of lace all around, hanging down in the back quite to the shoulders. On the hat was a bow of satin ribbon under the brim and on the crown a fancy jet ornament. It was a handsome hat, stylish and becoming to any one.

Another one was an enormous contrivance of dark green straw as to the brim. The crown was in the shape of a triangle. At each of the three flat sides was posed a rosette made of the straw, with a fancy jet button in the center. Another black hat had the brim made of horsehair lace, and around the crown were set several bunches of flowers. The center of each bunch was a white aster surrounded by violets. Along the crown was a line of violet foliage, but without blossoms. This hat was quite unique and was priced at $25. Any clever woman ought to be able to get up such a hat for herself, and it should not cost the sixth part of the price; but, then, this one was in a fashionable shop.

Feather boas are to be as popular as ever, but the finest ones are black, with white edges to the flues. Just how this is accomplished deponent knoweth not. Where they fasten in front there is a big bunch of violets. And, speaking of violets, I may tell something new, or at least I think it is new. There are now artificial violets made of the pith of a palm. These are colored and become virtually waterproof, a great desideratum in such an unregenerate climate. They are the most natural looking artificial flowers I ever saw.

QUAINT EFFECTS.

Grandmother's Shawls Revived Again—Embroidered Hosiery.

Crepe de chine shawls beautifully embroidered are a revival of the modes of our grandmothers. They will form part of the wardrobe of the up to date belle this summer.

Crepe lisse, either shirred or plain, is in vogue. It is used particularly in millinery.

Hats of pale blue and pale green straw are among the smartest of smart headgear.

A dainty linen costume seen recently had a trimming of fringe, ending in tiny balls of a contrasting shade of tan. Trimmings of wash fringe are seen on many of the smarter linen costumes both in white and in colors.

Hosiery is more beautiful than ever this year. Dainty embroidered sprays of flowers are the favorite adornment. There is a craze just now for green ornamentations on black or white, and plain lavender stockings of every tint are very smart.

Very pretty are the artistic hand painted ties, the designs often representing the wearer's favorite or name flowers.

Fancy buttons are used in profusion, particularly those tiny Dresden ones, which make a neat trimming for boleros and blouse waists. A favorite decoration for loose Paquin coats consists in ornamenting the lower edges both of the body and of the sleeves with tiny white and gold straps fastened down by these little buttons.

Voiles will still continue to be worn this summer in pale tints. A very pretty pink voile seen recently was trimmed with medallions of white mousseline de soie, ornamented with black French knots.

The picture shows a bride's dress of crepe de chine with a tucked collarless yoke. The bertha and wide skirt flounce are of point lace.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Modish Materials and Shades—Linen Gowns In Natural Tones.

The revival of taffetas, brocades and velvets leads to further extravagance in the way of trimmings, and certainly these have never before been more artistic and more expensive.

Some of the fashionable shades are really very trying, such as the olive tints and the browns. The rose tints are becoming more faded, and this is not apt to be becoming in hot weather.

The furore for spots is rapidly changing into one for checks, but these are becoming so common that it is doubtful whether they will long remain smart.

Linen gowns in the natural tones will be richly trimmed with lace and applications. They will be used even for very dressy occasions this summer, and the little jacket and skirt suits of linen will be used almost entirely for street wear during the warm weather.

The long shouldered effect is an absolutely necessary feature of the season's modes.

Both the very straight and the very upturned brims figure prominently in millinery.

Fichus are sewed to the gowns instead of being draped carelessly. In this way a better effect is secured, especially across the shoulders, where a loose fichu is apt to be lumpy.

The picture in the illustration shows a crepe de chine waist made with a cross over effect and shoulder straps fastened down with fancy buttons. The inner vest is of lace.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report an Unsatisfactory Situation.

NEW YORK, June 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Interruption of industrial progress by the holiday, labor conflicts and inclement weather again produced a somewhat unsatisfactory trade situation, yet the money market is easy and accommodation readily obtained in legitimate business channels. More manufacturing plants have reduced hours or wages, and several strikes have added to the army of unemployed. Somewhat contradictory dispatches are received from the leading cities. Boston reports a better feeling as the crops advance, the situation grows less satisfactory at Pittsburg, trade is dull at Cincinnati, Baltimore finds retail distribution retarded, increased conservatism among manufacturers is the only adverse factor at Chicago, and at Philadelphia the textile manufacture is poor, although building operations expand, and activity is noted in machine shops and shipyards.

Foreign commerce at this port is little changed in comparison with the corresponding week of 1903, exports declining $905,332, while imports increased $486,329. Lake traffic is still tied up.

Unusually wide variations have occurred in the leading markets for farm staples. Grain was first depressed by good crop news. Subsequently there was an upward movement, started by reports of excessive rains and accompanied by some aggressive support. Arrivals of 1,675,004 bushels of wheat compare with 1,543,415 a year ago, while exports from the United States, flour included, were 894,522 bushels against 3,641,517 last year.

Defaults in May were slightly more numerous than in the same month of recent preceding years, but in amount of liabilities there was a gratifying decrease. There were 245 suspensions of manufacturers, involving $3,509,884, against 217 in May, 1903, for $3,403,615. Trading defaults numbered 717 and liabilities were $5,214,499 compared with 665 failures for $6,645,447 last year. Other commercial failures were thirty-five in number and $1,093,615 in amount against 61 defaults for $2,265,144. In banking and other fiduciary lines the showing was less satisfactory, eight failures, with liabilities of $3,438,078, largely exceeding the three small suspensions for $112,588 in May, 1903.

Big Miners' Strike Looked For.

TAMAQUA, Pa., June 4.—The three district executive boards of the United Mine Workers of the anthracite region have been ordered to meet at Lansford on Monday for the purpose of inaugurating a general strike of the miners employed by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company, about 5,000 in number. "The only thing that can prevent this action," said District President Dettray, "will be a change by the company from the position it has taken in regard to the nineteen union miners who were refused reinstatement at the No. 11 colliery."

An Ideal Location
Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.
FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

DENEEN NOMINATED

Deadlock at Springfield Convention Is Broken.

YATES, HAMLIN, SHERMAN WITHDRAW

Seventy-nine Ballots Cast Before Charles S. Deneen Was Named as Democratic Nominee For Governor of Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 4.—By making a combination with Charles S. Deneen, L. Y. Sherman, Howland J. Hamlin and John H. Pierce Governor Yates has broken the deadlock in the Republican state convention and brought about the nomination of Deneen for governor. The nomination was made on the seventy-ninth ballot, which stood: Yates, 1; Lowden, 522½; Deneen, 957½; Warner, 21.

The combination was the result of a series of conferences which were participated in by Yates, Deneen, Hamlin, Sherman and Pierce. The agreement had not been consummated when the convention met, and the Yates and Deneen people forced a recess. Then the parties to the combination met and finally agreed upon Deneen as the candidate. When the convention reconvened Yates, Hamlin and Sherman withdrew their names from the consideration of the delegates and urged their friends to vote for Deneen.

When the seventy-ninth roll call was ordered and Adams county led off with "One vote for Yates and nineteen for Deneen" the wildest excitement prevailed. As the call proceeded it became evident that the new combination in Illinois politics would win, but the original Lowden men for the most part remained firm and went to defeat with him. When the call was completed Lowden moved to make the nomination unanimous, and Chairman Cannon declared the motion carried. All of the pent up enthusiasm of the delegates manifested itself as Deneen came to the platform and briefly thanked the convention for the honor. In response to the demands of the assemblage Colonel Lowden made an address pledging his support to the ticket.

The convention now took up the nomination of a candidate for lieutenant governor, but the leaders of the new combination were not prepared for this, and a recess was taken. In the meantime the parties to the combination which had nominated Deneen met at the executive mansion and prepared a slate for the remainder of the ticket.

BARGE CANAL.

Large Force of Engineers at Work on the Great Project.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 4.—Preparations for the issue of bonds for the barge canal improvement have now been completed by State Comptroller Kelsey, and the money will be provided promptly when required. A large force, under the state engineer, has been at work since December in making surveys of certain portions of the proposed route, and from their reports experts at the state engineer's office and the advisory board of consulting engineers are compiling the data and preparing the plans and estimates under which proposals by contractors will be asked for.

"An immense amount of preliminary work is involved in so great an undertaking and care and thoroughness at the outset are indispensable if costly errors are to be avoided in the future," said Comptroller Kelsey.

"The state engineer expects to have plans and specifications ready for inspection in July for several sections of the canal upon which contracts may be let in August and operations begin immediately thereafter. The first installment of bonds issued will probably not exceed $3,000,000, as the estimates of the state engineer and superintendent of public works may show that funds can be used to advantage during the ensuing year in prosecuting the work."

Suicide Was E. D. Sheets.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 4.—A man who committed suicide at the Arcade hotel in this city by inhaling illuminating gas has been identified as E. D. Sheets, who for the past twenty years had been in the employ of the Snyder-Trunkamp company of Cleveland. Colonel G. F. Sheets of Oregon, Ill., a lay delegate to the Methodist general conference, read the published reports of the suicide, together with the description, and at once recognized the man as his brother. Domestic troubles are said to have been the cause of the suicide.

Jefferson Davis' Natal Day.

RICHMOND, Va., June 4.—Jefferson Davis' birthday was observed as a half holiday by state officials here and as a whole holiday by the schools of the commonwealth. It was made a public holiday by the state legislature in 1900. At Lee camp, Confederate Veterans' hall, the Daughters of the Confederacy presented "Crosses of Honor" to surviving members of the Confederate army.

Toronto Lacrosse Team Wins.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—In a hard fought lacrosse match here the University of Toronto (Canada) team defeated the Quaker university students by 6 goals to 1.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

Captain Launder, of Alis, now holds a clerical position in New York, and incidentally is studying law.

Manager Denman will take his team to Trenton today and try conclusions with the Y. M. C. A. team at that place.

Myers and Lynch, who will play field positions for Alis today, have the reputation of being exceptionally fast in the field and heavy stickers.

John Ramsey, formerly of the Jersey City Eastern League team, has returned to his home at High Bridge, where he will twirl for his old team.

George Dupee, of the borough, is "making good" as a pitcher for the East Millstone team. Recently he defeated the strong St. Agnes Lyceum team, of New Brunswick, and today he will pitch against a team from Somerville. George is rapidly getting in condition and will surely be heard from on the right side.

"Lefty" Davis, who occupies the box for Alis this year, has the reputation of being the strongest pitcher in the Metropolitan district, not excepting Linderman, of the Hobokens. He never "goes up in the air" and he always pitches the same even game. After his performances here this season, it is not to be wondered that Manager Johnston has the greatest confidence in his ability.

FRIENDS' RECEPTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Vail Have Returned From Honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brooks Vail, who were recently married at Chester, Pa., were given a reception Wednesday night at the Friends meeting-house by the Society of Friends. The affair was held in the parlors and was attended by a large number of friends, both old and young. During the evening an address of welcome was given by W. D. Williams. Mercy R. Vail read an appropriate piece of poetry and Margaret L. Vail read a poem entitled the "Quakeress Bride." This poem was read at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Harned in the same meeting-house sixty-four years ago.

Dr. Chambliss Indisposed.

Owing to a throat affection, the result of a cold recently contracted, Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss will not be present at the First Baptist church services tomorrow. Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, pastor emeritus, will have charge of the communion service, and the members of the East Third Street chapel will unite. There will be no evening service at the church.

TO AID EAST SIDE WORK

SUNDAY-SCHOOL WILL HELP THE SLUM MISSIONARIES.

Through an appeal made by Rev. F. E. Whiteside, chief assistant of the head of the Evangelistic Commission of the New York East Conference of the Methodist church, the Sunday-school of the Monroe Avenue church, has become interested in the work of relieving the distress among the New York slum dwellers. Mr. Whiteside's work is among the East Side sufferers.

He painted the terrible condition of the extreme poor of the metropolis to the Sunday-school last Sunday, and aroused so much interest in the matter that Superintendent McGee promised substantial aid from the school. One of the older men present was so affected by the appeal that he slipped two dollars into Mr. Whiteside's hands for the work as he passed out, although no contributions had been asked at that time.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Prof. Lovatt, of Princeton University, has promised to give a lecture at the Rescue Mission in the near future.

The regular communion service will be held at the First Baptist church tomorrow and two persons will receive the right-hand-of-fellowship.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the First Presbyterian church, will hold a strawberry festival in the chapel of the church Tuesday night, June 14, from 6 to 10 o'clock.

Rev. John W. Musson, who recently accepted a call to the pastorate of the East Third Street chapel, was graduated from Crozer Theological Seminary on Wednesday. He will soon be ordained in the First Baptist church, Washington, after which he will enter upon his new duties here.

Members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 78, G. A. R., will meet at headquarters tomorrow night at 7:15 and will leave on the 7:30 trolley for Scotch Plains, where they will attend divine services in the Baptist church. Rev. G. M. Shott, the pastor, will deliver a patriotic sermon. The veterans will be accompanied by members of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Indians to Smoke Up.

Arrangements have been made for a smoker by Wetumpkah Tribe, Improved O. R. M., for next Thursday night. Before the calumet is lighted the braves will enjoy much corn and venison, and maybe some minnehaha.

—Miss Mary Brown, of West Front street, has received several orders for sewing cabinets, her own invention, to be given as wedding presents. One will be sent to Albany.

Traveled Over Sands.

H. W. Marshall, Edward Sebring and Caspar Bolsterli, of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., visited Salaam Temple, Ancient and Honorable Order of the Mystic Shrine, at Newark last night. Thirty-seven candidates, including Grand Master Wilkins and a member of Trinity, who resides at Somerville, were initiated. After the ceremonies, there was a banquet. This was the last meeting until fall.

Mare Strayed Away.

Straying from her stable, a bay mare belonging on the premises of C. E. Gulick, of Marion avenue, got into the garden on the Bourgeois farm yesterday morning, and as a result was taken to George Cole's livery stable to await a claimant. Mr. Gulick came in late in the day, and took the animal back to her stall after entering a vigorous protest against what he termed the exorbitant charge of one dollar.

Dramatic Impersonator.

Willard D. Howe, president of the Yale Dramatic Association, will appear at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night, impersonating David Copperfield. Mr. Howe is considered to be one of the best impersonators and he should be greeted by a full house. The entertainment is under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Wedding Anniversary.

Celebrating the anniversary of their marriage, which took place a year ago, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson entertained a number of friends at their home on Somerset place last night. Games, music and refreshments were the features of the evening.

Appeal Cases.

Appeal cases from justices' court will be heard before Judge Vail in the district court next Tuesday. The Plainfield cases to come up are Kingston against Stevens and Kirch against Hill & Shupp.

ALIS TEAM PRESENTS A COMEDY OF ERRORS

Organ Grinders Meet a Second Defeat Before a Big Crowd at Crescent Oval.

BRADLEY'S HOME RUN

TERRIFIC HITTING BRINGS VICTORY TO LOCAL TEAM.

Fine Work of Davis and Farmer—Alis Makes Eleven Runs, Eleven Hits and Eleven Errors—The Score in Detail.

An extravaganza was presented on Crescent Oval, Saturday afternoon, in the second of the series of concerts between the Alis and Aeolian bands. There were plenty of discordant notes, especially on the part of Alis. Between Roberts, Bradley, Gauven, Davis and McGoey eleven misplays were made, but before the concert was over the band struck the scale for eleven safe notes and as many runs. The organ grinders could only find "Lefty" Davis for four safe notes and they made five runs, but chiefly through the misplays of their opponents.

Director Johnston, during the week, dropped Devens, Hollywood and Mehler, and in their places he secured Rothfuss, Gauven and Myers, while Bradley came from Philadelphia to play third, so that Captain Lauder could give his sprained ankle a rest. In some respects the changes were beneficial, but there was plenty of discord to jar the feelings of the crowd.

This is the detailed score of Saturday's game:

Alis.

	R	1B	PO	A	E
Roberts, ss	1	2	3	0	4
Myers, rf	1	0	2	0	0
Oregan, lf	2	1	2	0	0

McGoey, cf	2	2	1	0	1
Bradley, 3b	1	1	2	1	4
Gauven, 2b	0	0	3	2	1
Davis, p	1	1	0	4	1
	11	11	27	8	11

Aeolians.

	R	1B	PO	A	E
Goldstein, cf	0	1	1	1	0
D. Poole, 1b	0	0	11	0	0
Flynn, 2b	1	2	2	3	2

Score by innings:

Alis..... 0 0 0 2 0 2 5 2 x—11
Aeolians..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 2 1 1— 5

Earned runs—Farmer, 2; Bradley, Davis, Oregan. Two-base hits—Farmer, Flynn. Home runs—Bradley. First base on balls—Off Landis, 8. Struck out—By Davis, 3; by Landis, 3. Left on bases—Alis, 6; Aeolian, 3. Double plays—Flynn to D. Poole. Wild pitches—Landis, 2. Passed balls—D. Poole. First base on errors—Alis, 1; Aeolian, 9. Hit by pitcher—Gauven, 2, McGoey. Time of game—Two hours. Umpire—Merity. Attendance—1,500.

If it had not been for the terrific hitting qualities of Alis that team would have been lost in the shuffle. Farmer, the plucky catcher, lead in batting, making a two bagger and three singles, for a total of three runs, while Bradley redeemed himself partially by making a home run. McGoey and Roberts touched the Aeolian's grinder, Landis, for two singles each, while Oregan and Rothfuss secured singles. This sort of hitting put the organists completely out of harmony, although they made deseperate chances to recover.

Davis and Farmer were as steady as ever, their work being features. Although "Lefty" only struck out three men, there were plenty of flies that were taken care of in good style. "Poor Roberts," was the expression heard on every side. The favorite little short-stop is up against it and Saturday night he quit. He has completely lost his nerve and realizes that it is useless to continue the game. He made a total of four errors, any one of which ordinarily he would have escaped. He will be succeeded by Quinby.

Bradley, who took Lauder's place at third, fell down four times on stops and throws, but finished up with a homer, scoring Myers, Oregan, Farmer and himself. Gauven, of Rahway, was put on second, and with the

PYTHIANS DECORATED GRAVE

JOURNEY MADE TO HARVEY L. PATTERSON'S RESTING PLACE.

More than forty members of Perseverance Lodge, K. of P., went to Portchester, N. Y., yesterday to decorate the grave of Harvey L. Patterson, a member of Perseverance and of Crescent Company, its uniformed rank, who was killed in the Westfield wreck. At least half the party were members of the Company, and travelled in uniform.

The journey was begun in the forenoon. After the ceremony at the grave, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson entertained the Plainfielders at lunch at their home. In the afternoon Portchester Lodge, No. 33, K. of P., took the visitors in charge and entertained them lavishly. They were given a trip in a special trolley car to Rye Beach, and in the evening a course dinner was served to them at the Portchester Hotel.

ENTERTAINED PRIMARY PUPILS

OF CRESCENT AVENUE SUNDAY-SCHOOL ON LAWN AT HOME OF W. D. MURRAY.

Superintendent W. D. Murray, of the primary department of the Crescent Avenue Sunday-school, gave his pupils their annual lawn party Saturday afternoon at his West Ninth street residence.

The pupils to the number of about 125 gathered early in the afternoon and enjoyed various games on the lawn, some of which were enjoyed in by the teachers of the department. Refreshments were served out of doors and the fun continued till about 6 o'clock. Miss Dewey, Miss Edith Tracy, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. R. F. Murray and Mrs. John Ulrich were among the teachers present.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE OVAL

ADDITIONAL SEATING ACCOMMODATIONS ARE CONTEMPLATED BY CLUB.

In the opinion of the best baseball players who have appeared on Crescent Oval, this season, the diamond is by all odds the fastest in this section. Early in the season it was graded and one thousand pounds of salt were rolled into it. The diamond is so much faster than the average one that it is held to be responsible for some of the infield errors.

Benj. A. Mumford, who has charge of the field, proposes to cut a thirty foot circle at the edge of the diamond, and this, it is claimed, will be of advantage to the infielders. The rain of the past week has greatly benefitted the ground, the water helping to cement the salt and sand rolled into it.

From time to time the seating capacity has been increased on the oval, and it is now proposed to secure an additional grandstand for next year. Several times this year the full seating capacity has been tested, and if the attendance continues to increase, it may be necessary to get the other stand before the season is over.

This year's improvements at the oval have been greatly appreciated, adding much to the comfort and convenience of the patrons. The bleachers are well arranged, giving the crowd an unobstructed view of the field, while the grandstands are located in just the right place.

Sunday Trains to Asbury.

Sunday trains were inaugurated in Asbury Park yesterday, the first one being the New Jersey Central theatre train No. 50, arriving at North Asbury at 1:15 in the morning in charge of Engineer John Kohler and Conductor James Shearn, of Somerville. A large number of citizens were at the station and a handsome bouquet of flowers, tied with satin ribbon, was presented to Mr. Shearn. All of the regular trains stopped at the new station yesterday. They will be published in the summer time tables.

Birthday Party.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Lyon, 410 Grant avenue, was the scene of a double birthday party, Saturday afternoon, their daughters, Dorothy and Ruth, entertaining about twenty of their little girl friends. The afternoon was spent in playing games, after which there was music. The affair terminated about 7 o'clock.

Increasing Directors.

The Central Building and Loan Association will meet tonight in its office room, No. 25, at 149 North avenue. The principal business will be the presentation of an amendment to the bylaws, increasing the board of directors to fifteen members.

REV. GILBERT LOVELL ON MISSIONARY WORK

Tells of Condition in China at Praise Service in Crescent Ave. Presbyterian Church.

TO PAY HIS SALARY

CHURCH AND CHAPELS SUBSCRIBE FOR HIS SUPPORT.

Musical Numbers in Service of a High Order—Miss Carroll Sings Gallilee—Other Features of Meeting.

Those who attended praise service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church last night, however, felt amply repaid for the risk of being caught in the rain, by the feast of song in which the choir fairly surpassed itself. "Gallilee" was rendered by Miss Grace Carroll, alto, in her usual faultless style and Mr. Thomas was fully as good in his tenor solo, Mendelssohn's "If With All Your Heart."

Beside these numbers, the opening anthem, "God be Merciful Unto Us," by Gouvy and the offertory, "O God, Thou Art My God," by Tozer, gave convincing evidence of the painstaking and concientious work done by the whole choir in preparing for these services.

While Miss Grace J. Davis, soprano, and Herman Greinert, bass, sang only in the ensemble portions of the programme, their voices were sufficiently prominent there to indicate that neither of them are a bit less able singers than Miss Carroll and Mr. Thomas. Organist Arthur G. Drake presided as usual at the organ.

Preceding the offertory, Rev. Gilbert Lovell, a member of the church, gave a missionary talk in connection with the work of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions in the province of Hunan, China.

This province, which extends up the Yangtse river for several hundred miles, has a population of about twenty-five millions and offers the most promising field for missionary endeavor in the whole Chinese Empire by reason of its strategic importance and the tendency of the people to embrace almost any movement, social or political, which promises a change.

It was this progressive tendency, following a wrong channel, which led the people of Hunan to become the leaders in the Boxer uprising, he said, and the same characteristics will make them the most powerful factors in Christianising the vast multitude of the compatriots.

Contrary to the general belief, said Mr. Lovell, the Boxer troubles have resulted in strengthening the position of the Chinese converts to Christianity, instead of making their lot unbearable as was expected. These native Christians now possess the respect of their fellows as a result of their unflinching fortitude shown on many occasions during the persecutions to which they were subjected by the fanatical sect bent on the extermination of both missionaries and converts.

Subscriptions amounting to considerable more than the sum required for Mr. Lovell's maintainance for the first year were secured at the morning services. Something over $200 was raised in the two chapels, Warren and Hope and the $700 which the home church undertook to raise was also oversubscribed.

Rev. Gilbert Lovell, who has been a lifelong resident of Plainfield, is a graduate of Yale University and of Hartford Theological Seminary and will leave for the field next month.

MRS. MULFORD BURIED.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass Officiated at Services Held at Home.

Simple funeral services over the body of Mrs. M. A. Mulford, widow of the late Edward C. Mulford, were held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the home on East Fifth street. Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass officiated.

The floral tributes from friends and relatives were varied and beautiful. I. L. McVoy, W. R. Codington, George Rittenhouse, Garrett Q. Packer, John Cory and Charles M. Raybert acted as pall bearers. Interment was made in the family plot at Hillside.

Fred Conover, Jr.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Conover, of Somerset street, Saturday night.

Arthur Pierson, of Jersey City, spent Sunday at the home of his aunt, Mrs. F. W. Bailey, 86 Duer street.

GRAND JURY INDICTS SIXTY

Indictments have been returned by the Grand Jury in the cases of several Plainfielders charged with conducting speak-easies and resorts of a less savory repute, the report being presented at Elizabeth this morning.

About sixty indictments in all were brought in, most of them being for illegally selling liquor. Many of those indicted are residents of Elizabeth and vicinity.

A presentment has been returned against the Public Service Corporation regarding the excessive speed.

Resolutions were also passed directing the various municipalities in the county to strictly enforce the laws concerning speeding of automobiles, horse-drawn vehicles, bicycles and motor-cycles.

ILDEERAN OUTING CLUB WINS MIXED DOUBLES

After Stubborn Fight Roselle's Team is Defeated by Rahway's Clever Pair.

TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

CROWD WITNESSES FINE EXHIBITION ON HILLSIDE CLUB'S COURTS.

Mrs. H. R. Edgar and B. Berry Defeat Miss Miller and D. W. Mulford in An Exciting Contest.

Almost perfect weather Saturday made the finals in the mixed doubles championship contest of the East Jersey Lawn Tennis Association a success from the viewpoint of both players and spectators. The only defect in the weather conditions was the light breeze, which sprang up toward the close of the playing, deflecting the ball.

The condition of the courts could hardly have been improved upon and as a result of this fact the agreement to play the whole three sets of the final match on Saturday, instead of allowing the score made in last Monday's play to stand, gives all concerned an additional satisfaction.

Facing each other for the struggle which decided an important championship, were Mrs. H. R. Edgar and B. Berry, of the Ilderan Outing Club, of Rahway, and Miss Miller and D. W. Mulford, of the Roselle Casino, the survivors of the most spirited tournament yet played on the local courts.

Miss Miller and Mr. Mulford took the first set by the score of 6-3, play being very even and fairly fast. In this set Mrs. Edgar gave some indication of her all-round ability but seemed not to have warmed to her fame thoroughly.

In the second set, Miss Miller and Mr. Mulford had the tables turned upon them effectually, by a score of 6-4. Faster play characterized this set and round after round of applause greeted each brilliant play. There was some rapid volleying at close quarters during this set which was thoroughly appreciated by the large and enthusiastic gallery.

Early in the third game of the last set, Mrs. Edgar, of the Ilderan Outing Club, gave a fine exhibition of rapid volleying and showed remarkable control of the ball as well. Miss Miller showed at her best in groundplay and service the latter being very strong and accurate.

After the most stubborn contest of the afternoon, and when the Roselle Casino representatives had several times had victory fairly within their grasp, Mrs. Edgar succeeded in crossing the court with a viciously quick return which bounded low from a point only a few inches inside the line, proving a trifle too quick for Mr. Mulford, and giving the Ilderan Outing Club, of Rahway, the set, 6 4.

P. H. S. Won.

In Saturday's game with the Cranford High School nine, on the Cranford grounds, the local high school team won fresh laurels by making six runs to the two that Cranford got over the plate.

New Members of Church.

SOME LOW SCORES ON HILLSIDE COURSE

Robert Abbott and Willard Wadsworth Each Make a Seventy-Three.

THE CUP CONTESTS

M. TOWNSEND WINS FIRST HONORS AT PARK CLUB LINKS.

Miss Elsie Brokaw and J. H. Howell Capture Approaching and Putting Contest Trophy—South Orange Defeats Cranford.

Low scores were the rule at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Saturday, in the weekly competition for the Golf committee cup. Robert Abbott, who took part in the State championship play during the week, came home and divided first honors for the cup with Willard Wadsworth with a net score of 73, each receiving two and a half points. S. D. Lounsbery won the remaining point with a 79 net.

These scores were posted forthe cup:

Robert Abbott, 73, 0—73; Willard Wadsworth, 78, 5—73; S. D. Lounsbery, 87, 8—79; H. deP. Wright, 81, 1—80; H. C. Munger, 93, 12—81; T. W. T. Maxwell, 107, 25—82; D. H. Rowland, 93, 10—83; H. F. Fox, 103, 20—83; Julius E. Erickson, 94, 10—84; E. E. Iremonger, 96, 11—85; Arthur Murphy, 97, 12—85; Walter Peterson, 92, 5—87; Olaf Saugstad, 96, 8—88.

The tie for the kickers' handicap on Memorial Day among seven contestants, was played off and H. deP. Wright won with a net score of 80, while H. C. Munger, with a net score of 75, won the playoff of the tie with George E. Cathcart for the Holiday cup, giving him the first leg on this cup.

In the continuation of play for the President's and Park Golf Club cups at the Park Golf Club on Saturday, E. Maxwell Honeyman won first honors for the President's cup, while H. C. Wells finished second and Frank Rogers and Charles A. Reed were tie for the one remaining point. For the other cup, scratch event, Morgan Townsend won first points, Arthur Peck second and Mr. Reed came in third. There was a good field and much interest was shown in the play.

These scores were posted for the two cups:

E. Maxwell Honeyman, 105, 23—82; H. C. Wells, 105, 21—84; Charles A. Reed, 97, 9—88; Frank Rogers, 111, 23—88; Morgan Townsend, 91, 0—91; Arthur Peck, 98, 6—92; J. H. Howell, 103, 11—92; C. L. Nichols, 119, 27—92; Rev. J. C. McKelvey, 105, 12—93; H. S. Rogers, 104, 9—95; William Townsend, 118, 13—100; J. L. Watson, 135, 30—105.

Another event was the approaching and putting contest, postponed from Memorial Day. This was won by Miss Elsie Brokaw and J. H. Howell with a score of 9.

The South Orange Golf Club team was victorious on Saturday in its match with the team from the Cranford Golf Club, in the East Jersey Golf League championship series. The match was played at Cranford and the visitors won by 22 to 8½ holes.

In the first team match between Westfield and the Colonia Golf Club teams at Colonia, on Saturday, the Westfield team won by a score of 14 to 4.

J. W. DOYLE DEAD.

After a Long Illness He Passed Away on Saturday.

After an illness lasting several months, John W. Doyle died at his home, 601 Richmond street, Saturday last. He leaves a mother, Mrs. William Dagnall, three sisters, Mrs. William Townley, Mrs. Ulysses Force and Miss Nora Doyle, and one brother, Dr. Lawrence D. Doyle.

Mr. Doyle was prominently identified with the interests of St. Mary's Baseball Association. He was president of the association last year.

BAPTIST MEETING AT RAHWAY

PLAINFIELD TO BE REPRESENTED AT ASSOCIATION'S SESSION.

Many Baptists will gather in Rahway tomorrow to attend the sixty-third anniversary of the East New Jersey Baptist Association will meet Plainfield will be largely represented, good-sized delegations being expected from the First and Park Avenue Baptist churches.

The South Plainfield, New Market and Scotch Plains churches will also be represented.

O. B. Leonard, of this city, will be the presiding officer. Among the speakers will be Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue church.

There are thirty-two churches in the association, which includes the Baptist organizations of Newark, Elizabeth, Plainfield and their suburban towns.

MAYOR BILL AT ST. LOUIS

BROTHER OF THE LATE MRS. C. L. FAIR SPENDS A WEEK AT THE EXPOSITION.

"Bill" Smith, of New Market, the brother of the late Mrs. Charles L. Fair, has just started from St. Louis for California after a week spent at the expostion at an outlay of about $100.

St. Louis had entirely the wrong tip on "Bill." News came that he proposed separating himself from a considerable part of his inheritance. Consequently the Pike lived in a state of delighted expectancy awaiting the arrival of the Mayor of the New Jersey Village.

But Bill found a modest boarding place for himself, his wife, and their three little girls. They allowed themselves $20 a day for all expenses, and not even the boarders at their stopping place suspected who Smith might be until, just before his departure, he invited all the men to drink "something good," and paid for it out of an enormous roll of bills. Then he confessed all.

ELIZABETH PASTOR SPOKE

REV. WALTER THORPE ADDRESSED CONGREGATIONAL SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

Rallying for the last time before the afternoon sessions ended until autumn, the pupils of the Congregational church Sunday-school gathered in large numbers yesterday afternoon. There was a special programme to mark the final character of the meeting.

After a review of the lessons, Rev. Walter Thorpe, of Elizabeth, gave a talk on general morality. The discourse was made highly interesting to the children by rapidly executed sketches of flowers, drawn in vivid colored crayons by Rev. Mr. Thorpe as he spoke. The flowers were used as symbols of sinfulness and virtue.

Two songs were splendidly rendered by the quartette of Holy Cross church choir. J. Edmund Skiff sang first tenor; Hardly S. Hall, second tenor; Frederick J. Pope, first basso; Carlos C. Gallup, second bass. Miss Alberta Waterbury was at the piano.

Next Sunday the annual Children's Day service will be held in the morning. The primary scholars will be graduated into the main school.

HIS BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Harold Sharkey Entertains Forty of His Little Playmates.

Harold Sharkey, of East Second street, celebrated the ninth anniversary of his birthday Saturday afternoon, by entertaining forty of his young friends. Games and music helped to pass the hours pleasantly. In the prize game played, Donald Sminck and Ethel Neal were awarded first prizes, and Craig Blair and Marion Blair won the consolation prizes.

These young folks were present: The Misses Madeline Blimm, Martha Reid, Isabel Gloak, Madeline Blair, Jeanie Reid, Elizabeth Kenny, Ethel Neal, Dorothy Hetfield, Bessie Adelberg, Marion Blair, Katherine Sminck, Helen Leitheusser, Marion Blimm, Hilda Blimm, Beatrice Bedford, Katherine Hughes, Lilian Ryno, Beatrice Overbaugh and Harold Sharkey, Leonard Church, Harvey Thorn, Harold Ryno, Ray Boice, John Kenny, Leo Leek, John Cansbrook, Benjamin Adelberg, Bernard Beekman, William Dodd, Donald Sminck, Walter Fisher, Harold Adams, Albert Neal, Craig Blair, Harold Fisher and Ralph Adams.

RESULTS IN VARIOUS GAMES OF INTEREST TO LOCAL FANS.

'Plains Boys Have an Easy Thing of It—Horan Pitches Great Game for Westfield—Local Y. M. C. A.'s Game.

The Scotch Plains team found the Murray Hill nine an easy mark on Saturday afternoon, winning the contest by a score of 16 to 0. The game took place at Scotch Plains and the visitors were disappointed as Manager Schultz, who made the arrangement, promised not only to get a team of college players together that would win, but would rub it into the colts so bad that they would remember it for the balance of the season. How well he succeeded is shown by the score

The visitors, taken individually, could play ball, but as a team were not up to the standard. The only interesting point of the contest was their efforts to score. This the locals were determined they should not do and they succeeded. Following is the lineup and score by innings:

Scotch Plains—Baldwin, 1b; Williams, 3b; Allen, c; Flannery, cf; Cruzius, ss; Enright, 2b; Montross, p; Taylor, lf; Alberts and Frentz, rf.

Murray Hills—Donnelly, ss; Cashman, 1b; H. O'Connors, 2b; Allen, 3b; C. O'Connors, c; Gynne, lf; Schultz, rf; Clark, cf, Collinder, p.

Unless the teams that are to meet Westfield can arrange some holidays on their own account, they must induce Mr. Waller, twirler-in-ordinary to the Denmanic athletes, to quit taking vacations, or resign themselves to the sad, sad inevitableness. Mr. Waller had another vacation Saturday afternoon, and in consequence the confident and awe-inspiring Trenton Y. M. C. A. combination went up against it good and hard. On their own grounds, too. Three to one was the way the Trenton epitaph read.

It was all, more or less, owing to one Horan, who filled the gap left by the indolent Mr. Waller. It was whispered that Horan wasn't Horan at all, at all, but a murthering Sassenach of a college pitcher and a 14 k phenom. He didn't look as if he ought to be called Horan.

The Westfields played a dazzling game, in the field. Hickman was particularly like the tower-of-strength that used to happen in the old-time games. His work at short was phenomenal.

Trenton would have been frozen to the zero mark but for an excusable error in the fifth. The run started around through a mix-up between Mallen and Hickman over a short fly.

Score by innings:

Batteries: Horan and Burk; Klein, Egner and McCune.

By a score of 6 to 5 the local Y. M. C. A. nine defeated the Garwood F. C. team on the Myrtle avenue grounds Saturday afternoon in a game that proved interesting to a good-sized crowd, in spite of rather ragged playing at certain stages of the contest.

The most spectacular features of the game was the double play in the sixth inning, when, with Marsh on first, Doliner sent a fly out to right garden which found Frantz waiting for it. Frentz got the ball to Atkinson in such short order, that Marsh, who had started for second on the hit, was caught just before he could get back to the bag.

Conover knocked in the winning run in the ninth inning, with two men on bases. The lineup and score:

Y. M. C. A.—Conover, ss; Marsh, 3b; Herman, c; Doliner, 2b; Jackson, cf; Armstrong, rf; Hand, lf; Whitley, p; Jacot, 1b.

Garwood F. C.—Mack, 3b; Singer, c; Atkinson, 1b; Malone, 2b; Mundrane, p; Tremby, cf; Frentz, rf; Hoffman, lf; Bracher, ss.

Score by innings:

Y. M. C. A	0 0 4 1 0 0 0 0 1—6
Garwood	0 3 0 0 1 0 0 1 0—5

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

Better meat than M. R. Giles, of Park avenue, sells, is not to be found in Plainfield—or anywhere else. Fine vegetables, too.

That dull domestic finish so much praised and sought after is what the Meissner laundry, Watchung avenue, has always put on its work.

Hodge's ice cream soda is finding new friends every hot day. Stop in there when out for a drive or while waiting for a car and sip one.

Thinking of having your house repainted? Decide to do it, and give Woolston & Buckle the contract. You will be very glad after you see their work.

The summer dry goods offered by Putnam & DeGraw, of West Front street, is attracting the attention of the women folks. The goods are just the proper thing for warm weather.

Seems pretty hot to talk about the winter's coal supply, don't it? If you want to discuss this important question, however, John Johnston, of South avenue, is the man to talk to.

An attractive line of summer clothing for women is being shown at the Boston Cloak and Fur store on West Front street. The goods are all of the latest style and best make, while the prices are reasonable.

A. M. Harper, of Park avenue, besides carrying a full line of stationery and writing materials, will be on hand this year with a large stock of fireworks. Wait for his supply before purchasing elsewhere.

If in doubt as to where to get a lunch or a full meal, stop at Timbo's and think it over and at the same time patronize this popular restaurant. You will make no mistake and you will be satisfied with the meal and be surprised at the price.

There is nothing so refreshing these warm days than a drink of L. W. Randolph's famous soda, made from pure fruit syrups. His ice cream is just as popular, as is also the price. As for drugs or medicines you can do no better than at this pharmacy.

Now for bargains that are bargains in the real sense of the word! The June sale of The Fair, 130 West Front street, is on. A matchless assortment, in remarkable values, in women's underwear and babies' wear leads off. Just as fine values in women's skirts and shirtwaist suits. Worthy of special note are the handsome voile and brilliantine skirts.

The man who tells you that low shoes are a nuisance on account of the mosquito bites bestowed on the ankles of those who wear them, don't know what he is talking about. The most comfortable shoes to be had in the city are those handled by M. C. Van Arsdale and low shoes of all styles lead. Tennis shoes, yachting shoes and special athletic footwear always in stock.

Fred Endress can fill your wants in almost any particular where provisions are concerned. The best meats, killed, dressed, shipped and stored, in the most hygenic manner, are on hand always. Seafood of the freshest and most carefully selected offers a welcome variety in the bill of fare and no disappointment awaits the family who depend on Endress for prompt deliveries.

WORLD'S FAIR.

Great Coach Excursions via Pennsylvania Railroad.

June 9, 16, 23 and 30 are the next dates for great coach excursions to St. Louis via Pennsylvania Railroad, on account of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. The rates for these excursions have been fixed at such a low figure that they afford those of limited means an opportunity of seeing the World's Fair at an exceptionally small cost. The unusual success attending the first Pennsylvania Railroad excursion indicates that these will be very popular.

Special trains of standard Pennsylvania Railroad coaches of the most modern pattern will be run on the above-mentioned dates from New York, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Altoona, and Pittsburg, directly through to St. Louis, with ample stops for meals at convenient hours. Each train will be in charge of a Tourist Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The rates will be the same as for the first excursion, May 10, $20 from New York, $18 50 from Philadelphia and proportionate rates from other stations.

Special information regarding time of special train and connections, and rates from principal stations east of Pittsburg, will be announced shortly.

CONFEDERATE GRAVES.

First Formal Services Held Over Southern Soldiers at Arlington.

WASHINGTON, June 6. — In the presence of thousands of ex-Confederate and ex-Union soldiers and of numbers of officers of the United States army and the G. A. R. the first formal memorial exercises ever held over the graves in the Confederate section of Arlington cemetery were held here. As the result of a movement initiated by the late President McKinley the Confederate dead now have been gathered in one large and beautiful circle in the southern part of the cemetery, where the graves have been marked with separate stones.

When the vast crowd had gathered to hold the memorial services over the graves of the Confederate dead the exercises were opened with music by the Fifteenth cavalry band. In a spirit of good will and fraternity after the exercises over the graves of the Confederate dead those in charge of the services repeated them over the grave of the 2,000 unknown Union soldier dead at Arlington and decorated the grave with flowers.

The Rev. Alexander W. Pitzer, pastor of the Southern Presbyterian church in this city and an ex-Confederate soldier, was the orator of the day. He referred to the fact that the government of the United States through representatives of its army was participating in the exercises and that the government of the United States had collected the remains of the Confederate soldiers and had erected suitable stones to mark their graves. He asked the ex-Confederates present if they should not recognize that as true magnanimity. He feelingly referred to the interest Mr. McKinley while a member of congress had taken in the proper care by the government of the graves of the Confederate dead and how the establishment of a Confederate section in Arlington was a fulfillment of Mr. McKinley's cherished hope.

The exercises were brought to a close by the Rev. Dr. Prettyman, who prayed fervently for the living representatives of those who fell on both sides and for the coming of universal peace and good will which the ceremonies of the day foreshadowed.

SPORTS NEAR AND FAR.

General Lord Cheylesmore's Explanation of Palma Controversy.

Truth About the Palma Trophy.

LONDON, June 6.—"Perhaps it looks as if we could not take a licking," said Major General Lord Cheylesmore, president of the National Rifle association, referring to the controversy over the rifles used by the Americans in the match for the Palma trophy, which was won by the American team in July last. "However," continued the former commander of the Grenadier guards, "that is not the case. There is no resentment on our part, and we continue to hold the American rifle team in the highest respect. We were beaten, and we own it. We looked on them while here as good sportsmen and did our best to make them feel at home. All we say is that unfortunately a mistake occurred on account of the American team using rifles they themselves admit are not similar to those issued to the American army. The Palma trophy contest calls for regulation army rifles."

Fair City Team Downed Washington.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—St. Louis defeated Washington after fourteen innings of brilliant playing. After pitching eight and a half innings Jacobson was replaced by Patten, who finished the game. Sudhoff pitched the complete fourteen innings for St. Louis and allowed Washington only ten hits. In the tenth inning of the game Coughlin was put out of the game for disputing a decision of the umpire. Moran took his place. Score, 6 to 5.

A British Athlete.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Over 4,000 persons assembled at Celtic park, Long Island City, to greet Thomas F. Kiely, champion all around athlete of Great Britain and Ireland, who made his first public appearance in this country at the Kickhams Athletic club track and field games. He is entered for the all around championship of the A. A. U., which is to take place during the first week in July at St. Louis.

Pitcher's Work Almost Perfect.

BROOKLYN, June 6.—In a closely contested game the champion Pittsburg team defeated the home club here by a score of 4 to 3. Phillippe was in the box for the visitors. His work at all times was almost perfect. Garvin pitched the first seven innings for Brooklyn and did good work, but was wretchedly supported.

Had on Batting Clothes.

CHICAGO, June 6. — The Chicago Americans had on their batting clothes here, banging the ball all over the lot for a total of twenty-one hits and fourteen runs. Owen was in great form, holding the Quakers to three scattered hits and but for two inexcusable errors in the eighth inning would have shut them out. Score, 14 to 2.

English Golf Tournament.

THOUSANDS WILL DIE

Japanese Must Sacrifice an Army to Win Port Arthur.

KUROKI REPORTED TO BE A CAPTIVE

Late Resident of Besieged Fortress Says Russia Will Defend It to the Last—Garrisoned by 38,000 Determined Men.

LONDON, June 6.—A St. Petersburg dispatch says:

W. S. Smith, a brother of Samuel Smith, United States consul at Moscow, and who is in business at Port Arthur, has arrived here. Mr. Smith expresses confidence that Port Arthur will never be taken unless the Japanese sacrifice thousands of men. He said:

"The Russians had 38,000 men at Port Arthur at the time I left there, and every man was hale and hearty and prepared to fight till the last to prevent the capture of the fortress. All the surrounding heights are strongly fortified by intrenchments, embankments and gun emplacements scientifically disposed. I counted in one day between 300 and 400 guns.

"The Japanese can only take the place if they are in overwhelming force or if the Russians are asleep, and I do not believe the latter will occur in view of the vigilance everywhere manifested.

"Before I left the Russians came to me and asked me if I intended to stay, desiring me to take arms and join the fire patrol, and requesting my wife and myself to become members of the Red Cross. Had it not been for my American citizenship I undoubtedly would have been compelled to serve. All the other men remaining in the fortress are now on duty. I was allowed to take out only a small amount of luggage owing to the rigid restrictions under which the railway is being operated.

"Rarely a night passed at Port Arthur without cannonading by the Japanese. The fire always opened about 2 o'clock and stopped at 6. Now I awaken regularly at 2 o'clock and cannot sleep again for four hours.

"For a time after the war began the battleships Retvizan and Cezarevitch were used as floating fortresses to guard the mouth of the harbor. The Russians have ample stores of provisions for four and a half years.

"The railroad had a heavy strain put upon it, but it stood the work finely until the fortress was cut off. After leaving Port Arthur our train was frequently sidetracked to permit military trains to pass us.

"Before going to Port Arthur I lived at Vladivostok, which is of course smaller, but is well protected."

Advices from Tokyo say:

"It is suspected here that the Russians at Port Arthur are communicating with points on the Chinese coast by means of wireless telegraphy. It was reported that a wireless station had been erected secretly at the village of Pehwang, on Takin island, one of the Miaotao group, situated in Pechili strait, and the Japanese cruiser Chitose has been sent to the island to investigate. It is reported that another such station has been erected near Shanhaikwan.

"The Chitose steamed in close to Liaoteshan promontory and discovered four masts and a watch house near the coast. One of these masts evidently was fitted for wireless telegraphy operations. The Chitose reports having heard a series of explosions at Port Arthur and believes them to have resulted from blastings preparatory to the emplacing of new batteries.

"The Japanese torpedo boat destroyer Ikazuchi has discovered and exploded a large mine off Sanshan island at the entrance to Talienwan bay.

"The Japanese naval authorities engaged in clearing out the mines in the vicinity of Talienwan bay are employing Japanese shell divers from Kushiu province for the purpose. These divers volunteered for this work and are wonderfully expert. It is said that with their diving paraphernalia they can stay under water for half a day at a time. Hundreds of Japanese fishermen are volunteering to assist in clearing away Russian mines, and it is probable that some of them will be used for this work. These voluntary offers are taken to illustrate the unity of the Japanese people in the war."

Reports from Newchwang say that two carrier pigeons have arrived from General Stoessel at Port Arthur. The Russians will not divulge the messages carried by the birds, but declare they contain good information and are very cheerful since the pigeons arrived.

A messenger from the north reports that the magistrates of Haicheng and Liaoyang were recently arrested by the Russians and charged with furnishing supplies and information to the enemy. They were taken to Mukden, but released after an investigation. Influential natives declare that the arrests were made not because the Russians believed they could prove the charges, but because the magistrates were noncommittal and refused to aid either side.

The Russians are printing a newspaper in Chinese at Mukden for the purpose of influencing the natives. The latest copy received at Newchwang says that the Japanese attempted to float a second loan in America for $3,750,000, but was coldly rejected. Other contents of the paper explains that the Russian loss in the Yalu battle was due to the preponderance of Japanese cavalry and says also that the Russians will soon dictate peace terms in Tokyo and that the leading Japanese statesmen will be reduced to ranks.

A dispatch from Paris says an unconfirmed rumor is circulated there that General Kuroki has been captured by the Russians.

At St. Petersburg nothing is known in government circles regarding the rumored capture of General Kuroki, the authorities having received no news from the front since the announcement of the fight at Saimatsza. News of such great importance would not be held back a moment if it had been received.

A Tokyo report says the commander of the Japanese forces south of the Yalu river has telegraphed that the Japanese and Russian forces located north of Pulantien have had a number of skirmishes. In one serious encounter near Chuchiatun the Japanese cavalrymen met a Russian detachment numbering 2,000 men composed of infantry, cavalry and artillery. They were pressing the Japanese cavalry scouts when the Japanese assembled their entire force and engaged the enemy. The Russians drew off gradually, and at half past 5 in the afternoon they retired to Telishu. A report has been received from General Kuroki saying that a detachment had been dispatched from Aiyangcheng to the east of Fengwangcheng to make a reconnoissance toward Simatsi. This detachment encountered 600 Cossacks, and after a brisk engagement the Russians retreated.

General Kuroki reports that the Russian loss was heavy.

LORBERRY SANK QUICKLY.

Captain Burroughs, Trying to Clear Boat, Was Drowned.

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., June 6.—The barge Lorberry of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal company has been sunk off Vineyard sound lightship during a dense fog through a collision with the steamer Tallahassee, Savannah for Boston. Captain Burroughs of the barge was drowned. The Tallahassee was saved from sinking by her water tight compartments and arrived here last night. Her passengers will be sent to Boston by rail this morning.

The Tallahassee, which carried nineteen passengers, had a large hole stove in her bow and ran into Menensha bight for safety.

The accident occurred within a quarter of a mile off the lightship. The Lorberry, coal laden, was the stern barge of a tow of three behind the tug Gettysburg and was proceeding slowly, when the Tallahassee, which was hunting for the lightship under slow speed, came suddenly upon her.

The Lorberry was struck on the starboard bow and sank within a few minutes. Captain Burroughs was on deck when the collision occurred and, rushing aft with the steward, endeavored to clear the boat. The barge, however, filled rapidly and sank before the boat could be lowered. The steward clung to a piece of wreckage and was picked up.

Three others of the crew, who ran to the bow, climbed up the anchor chains to the steamer.

FLOOD IN BLACK HILLS.

Deadwood City Hall Badly Damaged. Bridges Carried Away.

DEADWOOD, S. D., June 6.—As a result of the heavy rainfall throughout the Black hills, which has continued for nearly a week, Whitewood, Deadwood and City creeks, three streams passing within the city limits, have left their banks, carrying away a number of houses, barns, sidewalks and lumber yards. The Waite building, one of the most substantial in the city, was partially wrecked and the city hall badly damaged. One large bridge was carried away. Two lives are known to have been lost.

No trains have been able to enter or leave Deadwood since Friday on either the Burlington or Northwestern railroads on account of washouts.

The damage was greatest at Central City. A large number of homes at Gayville, a few miles distant, were carried away, and the lower part of the town is under water.

From reports thus far of the floods it is believed the property loss in Deadwood and other Black hills cities and to railroads will exceed half a million dollars. The water is still high, but it is believed the crest of the flood has been reached.

Shot Wife For Burglar.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., June 6.—A message received from East Putney, thirteen miles from Brattleboro, says Mrs. E. D. Bailey was shot and killed by her husband, Sydney Bailey. Bailey has been held pending an investigation. He says he heard some one moving about the house and fired his rifle in the dark, thinking a burglar was there. On lighting a lamp he found he had killed his wife and informed the authorities.

Warships May Have Work to Do.

Tried to Save His Own Son.

ROCHESTER, June 6. — Patrick Duffy saw a boy drowning in the river here. He plunged in, rescued the body and swam ashore with it and laid it on the river bank, then, looking at the face, saw it was his ten-year-old son. The boy was dead, and the father fainted.

Miss Roosevelt Home.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Miss Alice Roosevelt, who has been the guest of St. Louis friends for the past nine days, arrived home today over the Pennsylvania railroad.

WHISKY EXPLODED.

Corning Distillery at Peoria Is In Complete Ruin.

TEN EMPLOYEES BURNED TO DEATH

Fire Followed the First Disaster—No Time to Get Out—Thousands of Steers, Chained Fast, Were Roasted Alive.

PEORIA, Ill., June 6.—A terrific explosion which occurred in the eleven story warehouse of the Corning distillery here, the second largest in the world, has completely wrecked the building.

The ruins immediately took fire and communicated to three adjoining buildings, burning them to the ground. Ten men were buried beneath the ruins and burned to death, and six others were seriously injured. The loss on buildings and whisky and spirits stored will approximate $1,000,000.

The fire spread to the stockyards district, where a dozen large cattle barns filled with cattle for market were burned.

The cause of the explosion cannot yet be determined.

The wildest excitement prevailed after the explosion. The immense plant was surrounded by thousands of people, who, however, were unable to get close to the structure on account of the intense heat.

The warehouse, containing in the neighborhood of 30,000 barrels of whisky, was instantaneously a seething caldron, and it was seen that no one inside the big structure could escape.

The warehouse in crushing the smaller structure near by set that on fire, the whisky from the bursting barrels flooding everything in that section. Large streams ran down toward the river, and in a short time there was a foot of whisky in the cattle pens east of the warehouse, where 3,200 steers were chained fast.

Their distress lasted but a few moments, however, for they were soon roasted to death or suffocated. They were the property of Dodd & Kiefer of Chicago. It is impossible to compute their loss, but it will amount to thousands of dollars.

The two fermenting houses were speedily food for the flames. They were structures of good dimensions, and both of them were destroyed.

The firemen got near the fire with difficulty, and the water had little or no effect. A high wind was blowing and fanning the flames in the direction of the Monarch distillery, and for a time it was feared that the fire would sweep along the entire river bank. However, the heroic work of the firemen began to tell, and at 7 o'clock the flames were under control.

Two Badly Hurt in Trolley Smash.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 6.—Two persons were seriously hurt and eighteen others injured in a collision between two street cars on a curve near Cornell's campus. Motorman Ditts and Conductor Swick on one of the cars had failed to wait for the other on a switch on which they had met a number of times during the day. Both cars were demolished. The passengers saw the impending accident, and all but four jumped. Mrs. Meeker Seely and Mrs. Frank Price were caught by the dashboard, and their legs were broken. Three persons sustained scalp wounds, but others were only cut and bruised as the result of falling to the ground.

Sailboat Turned Turtle.

BOSTON, June 6.—A sailboat accident in the harbor here imperiled the lives of an excursion party, the members of which were rescued as their craft sank. The thirty-two foot sloop yacht Venture sailed from Charlestown with forty-two persons on board, eighteen of whom were women. While proceeding down the harbor the yacht was struck by a squall that threw her almost on her beam ends. The water poured in over the rail, filled the cockpit, and the boat began to sink. The police boat Watchman hurried to the assistance of the distressed craft and took off her passengers.

Farmer Shot Two Men.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 6.—Edward McCormick, a young farmer of Brownsburg, shot and instantly killed John W. Wade and Arthur Blackwell. The shooting was the result of bad feeling that had existed between the men for three years. It is asserted that the dead men had been drinking and waylaid McCormick and his father on their way home and stoned them, when upon young McCormick fired, shooting Wade through the heart and Blackwell through the lungs. McCormick has been arrested.

A "Perfect" Railroad.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—The Rock Island's new St. Louis-Kansas City line has been opened for traffic, the first train for Kansas City leaving here at 7:20 p. m. A new standard in railroad building has been created in the construction of the new line. The track is "perfect." The rails weigh eighty pounds to the yard, the ties are of oak, the bridges of steel, and the track is splendidly ballasted.

Pity the fellow who says: "Is it hot enough for you."

Representative Fowler's declaration that Senator Fairbanks will be the Vice Presidential nominee of the Republican party may be interesting to the people of this district. What is more important at this time is whether Charles N. Fowler will be the next Congressional nominee.

Boroughites should not neglect to attend the school-meeting at the Somerset street building tonight. The purpose of the meeting is to select a site for a new school building. From all that can be learned there appears to be much opposition to the suggested location of a structure at the corner of Somerset street and Park place. This is the recommendation of the Board, or rather of a majority of its members.

exception of one error, played well. Myers, who occupied right field, failed in batting, but accepted two chances in his garden. He is hardly fast enough for Alis and will not be held. Rothfuss, the veteran, held down the initial bag in faultless style and his coaching was a feature. He only came for the one game, as he plays Saturdays with Newton, and happened to have a day off. The rest of the team was up to standard, Oregan and McGoey doing fine work.

Laudis, who stood on the firing line for Aeolian, did well up to the seventh inning and then he was knocked out of the box, Hegeman taking his place. Fred only pitched one ball, however, when the side was retired, after making five runs. Joe Alberts in left field, had hard luck. He was spiked by the center fielder, while chasing a fly and had to retire from the game. Flynn, formerly of Alis, was on second for Aeolian, and he put up the real article. He secured two of the team's four hits, one being a two-bagger.

While Captain Lauder did not play, his coaching was valuable, netting good results. "Billy" hopes to be in the game Saturday against Westfield, and he feels confident that his team will reverse the order of May 28.

To Defend Alleged Murderer.

Isaac P. Runyon, Esq., has been retained by Mrs. Wassen, the mother of George H. Wassen, of Washington, D. C., to look after the interest of George H. struck out thirteen men, Mundrane seven; Whitley gave one man first base on balls, to three who got past Mundrane, but Whitley struck three men with pitched balls while Mundrane only committed this fault once. Hits were made as follows by the Y. M. C. A. men—Jacot, 1; Conover, 2; Marsh, 1; Whitley, 1; Herman, 1; Hand, 1, and Jackson, 1. Jacot, Conover, Marsh and Jackson each scored once and Whitley got over the plate for two runs.

The seven errors made by the locals were distributed as follows—Conover 2; Marsh, 1; Dollner, 4.

For the Garwood team Bracher, Hoffmns and Frentz each made one hit and Mundrane and Malone made two each.

"The Highlands of Ontario for Your Holidays."

With the knowledge of what America has to offer the summer tourist and the rest and health-seeker, the thousands of summer travellers who spend their vacations in "The Highlands of Ontario," unhesitatingly pronounce the Muskoka Lakes region the ideal, the perfectly satisfying summer resort. Such an ideal is a combination of two features—primeval nature in a perfect bewilderment of beauty, charm and variety, along with the facilities for most of the modern necessaries and conveniences. In addition to these, the even temperature, the high altitude (1,000 feet above the sea), the health-giving ozone from pine, hemlock and fir, and the dark, soft waters of innumerable lakes, teeming with the gamiest of fresh water fish. What more has a weary, nerve-racked man or lover of nature to desire? Handsome, illustrated, descriptive publications will be sent free on application to Frank P. Dwyer, E. P. 'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

"The Foundation of National Statutes" was the topic of Rev. G. M. Shott's sermon at the Baptist church Sunday night to the members of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., of Plainfield. The Post was accompanied by the members of the Women's Relief Corps, an auxiliary order to the Post. The church was appropriately trimmed in honor of the veterans, with flags and palms. During the service special music was rendered by the choir.

The Ladies' Circle, of the Baptist church, held a successful as well as enjoyable strawberry and ice cream festival on the church lawn Saturday afternoon from 3 to 9. The lawns were tastefully trimmed with Chinese lanterns, the effect at night when lighted, being very pretty. The tables and booths were well patronized as this was the first local festival of the season. The result in a financial way was very gratifying to the Circle.

The Dunellen ball team journeyed to Somerville on Saturday afternoon and defeated the A. C. team of that place by a score of 25 to 12 in a six inning game. The following is the score by innings:

Dunellen B. A. . .	6	1	14	1	3	0	—	25
Somerville A. C. .	3	0	4	3	2	0	—	12

Batteries — Ettlinger and Brown, Thomas and Stryker.

The New Market Y. M. A. ball team added another victory to their already long string on Saturday afternoon by defeating the Triangle A. C. team, of New Brunswick, in an interesting game by a score of 13 to 11. Following is the score by innings:

N. M. Y. M. A. . .	0	0	5	3	2	3	0	0	x	—13
Triangle A. C. . .	1	0	5	2	0	1	1	1	0	—11

The beautiful residence of the late Christian Schepflin, at the corner of Grove street and Prospect avenue, has been sold to I. H. Boehm, a Plainfield merchant. It is reported that $12,000 was the purchase price.

The Florodora ball team had no game scheduled for yesterday afternoon, so the local fans were obliged to journey to Elizabethport and Rahway for their usual Sunday game.

The Dunellen F. C. ball team will cross bats with the Somerville High School team next Thursday afternoon. The game will be played on the Lincoln avenue grounds in Dunellen.

Cars on the local trolley lines were run on an eight-minute schedule Sunday afternoon to accommodate the crowds who were bound for the ball games and Galvin's Park.

Rev. G. M. Shott, of the Baptist church, made the address at the Children's Day exercises held Sunday afternoon at the Willow Grove Sunday-school.

Miss Lulu Hollingsworth led the weekly meeting of the Epworth League, held last night at the Methodist church.

The local ball team goes to Garwood Saturday to redeem the defeat given them by the Garwood A. C. team two weeks ago.

The regular monthly communion was held at the close of the morning service at the Baptist church yesterday.

Assessor Peters, wife and daughter will sail for Germany on the Deutschland on Thursday of this week.

The Potter A. C. team defeated the Scotch Plains Seconds Saturday afternoon by the score of 11 to 9.

Miss Evelyn Buckley, of South avenue, spent Saturday and Sunday with her aunt, Miss Susie Parse.

D. S. Osborn, of Elizabeth, has taken possession of the Martine house on First street.

Miss Ann Osborn, of Newark, is spending several weeks with friends in town.

Miss Sadie Lee has been detained at home for several days with the measles.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The East New Jersey Baptist Association will hold its sixty-third annual meeting tomorrow morning, afternoon and evening with the Baptist church of Rahway. Delegates from here will attend.

The commencement exercises of the township schools will be held on Wednesday evening in the Baptist church at New Market.

The township collector is preparing notices for the sale of lands for unpaid taxes assessed in the year 1902.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Manning and daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Manning, in Newark, yesterday.

During the last year thirty-one persons were killed from railroad accidents in this county

Miss Elizabeth Smith is entertaining her friend, Mrs. Gowdy, of Tom's River.

MRS. VANDERBEEK BURIED

INTERMENT TOOK PLACE AT CHERRYVILLE, SERVICES BEING HELD.

Many mourning friends gathered last night to pay loving tribute to the memory of Mrs. Andrew M. Vanderbeek, whose sad death occurred Friday morning. The service was held at her late residence on Grove street.

There was a large number of floral tributes, including handsome pieces from the trustees of Grace M. E. church, and the Ladies' Aid Society of the church, in which the dead woman had worked hard and faithfully.

Rev. Dr. Earp, the pastor of the church, conducted the service. His sermon was sympathetic eulogy of the dead woman's purity of life and strength of soul.

The body was sent to Cherryville for interment this morning. At Cherryville Rev. Daniel Halleron, presiding elder of the Elizabeth District of the M. E. Church, will conduct the service.

MONO A. C. HOLDS A FAIR

BOROUGH BASEBALL ORGANIZATION REALIZES A SNUG SUM.

To swell their baseball fund, the members of the Mono Athletic Club held a lawn fair on the lot at the corner of Fairview and Watchung avenues Saturday afternoon and night. It was highly successful from every standpoint. The attendance was large, the features were much enjoyed, and the sum cleared will make a most substantial addition to the club treasury.

The lot was very festal in appearance. Bunting was lavishly used with staring effect about the booths and tables, and long strings of pretty maroon and white lanterns were hung about. When lighted, after dark, the swaying strings of lanterns produced an exceedingly pretty effect and attracted a good many passersby into the fair.

The various tables and booths were in charge of the following members:

Soda and lemonade, Herbert Conover and Arthur VanArsdale; cake, Frank Webster and William Nischwitz; candy, Russell Conroy; prize-bags, Fred McClintock; hit-the-baby game, Ernest Jackson. Byron McClintock, Otto Meuck and Leo Kenny were waiters. William Heath was in charge of the tickets.

The committee in charge of the affair was made up of William Nischwitz, chairman; Frank Webster, Arthur VanArsdale, Herbert Conover and William Heath.

BULLFIGHT RIOTERS

Building Containing Arena Burned to the Ground.

POLICE STOP GENUINE SPANISH SPORT

Crowd Near St. Louis Fair Grounds, Incensed at Alleged Fake and Failing Return of Their Money, Wrecked the Whole Plant.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—Incensed over their failure to see a "genuine Spanish bullfight" which the authorities had ordered stopped, a riot was started in an arena near the world's fair grounds by a crowd of 2,500 men and boys who were unable to get their money back, and the building was burned to the ground. The price of admission charged was $1. Four men were placed under arrest by the authorities of St. Louis county charged with destruction of property. The crowd, thinking these men were connected with the show, made an attempt to mob them, and in their encounter with the deputy sheriffs a number were roughly handled, and some received scalp wounds. The building is said to have cost $25,000. It is a total loss.

The initial performance by the company of Spanish bullfighters had been advertised widely, but Governor Dockery, to whom numerous protests had been made by religious and humane societies, ordered that it should not be allowed to take place.

Despite these orders a large crowd assembled in the arena at the advertised time of opening. Before the regular performance a number of cowboys drove in some bulls, which they ran around the arena in true wild west style. The crowd soon became tired of this and called for the bullfight.

The announcement was then made that the bullfight would be proceeded with. As the matadors came into the ring a county official stepped up to the announcer and handed him a paper informing him that the proposed show could not take place. When this became known to the crowd they leaped into the arena and demanded the return of their money. Failing to get this, the crowd went to the office, which was located in a small building outside the arena, and began to stone the structure. This was followed by attempts to burn the arena, which is an immense building constructed of pine. Bits of burning paper were thrown at the woodwork, and finally some one went inside and dropped a lighted match in a pile of hay under the arena. The whole structure was soon on fire and before long was in ruins.

A call was made for the fire department, but the single engine that responded stuck in the mud, and there was nothing to stop the progress of the flames. The fire department of the world's fair was called out to protect the exposition buildings.

Father Took His Children.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Lawrence Gowie Phipps, a Pittsburg millionaire and philanthropist, caused his two young daughters to be secretly taken by force from rooms of their mother in the Hotel Netherland here and fled with them. Mrs. Phipps, as soon as she learned that the children had been removed, pursued husband and children to the Pennsylvania depot. Her attorney demanded that the police arrest the husband as a kidnaper, but the guardians of the law refused to have anything to do with what they termed a "family disagreement." As Mr. Phipps and the children moved off on the train Mrs. Phipps fainted away in the arms of the policeman who had refused to arrest her husband.

Life the Test of Truth.

NEWTON, Mass., June 6.—Rev. Nathan E. Wood, president of the Newton Theological seminary, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class here. Dr. Wood's theme was "The Trial Test of Truth." The speaker said that the test of truth is not found in logical processes, creeds or ecclesiasticism, but in the truth of life. The truth which a man really believes is that which he lives, therefore life is the test of truth.

Oregon Gunners to Get Pennant.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Although not officially announced, it is understood that the order of merit of the battleships in the recent record target practice, so far as completed, is as follows: Oregon first and probably winner of the pennant, Wisconsin second and Iowa third. The battleship Illinois is now engaged in target practice at Martha's Vineyard.

Antonio Shut Up For Life.

UTICA, N. Y., June 6.—The jury in the case of Antonio Lendini, the Rome Italian who shot and killed his wife in that city, has returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree, and Justice Rogers sentenced him to Auburn prison for life.

HYPNOTIZED A BEAR.

CROSS-EYED BEAST YIELDS TO CROSS-EYED MAN.

Bruin Meekly Followed Si's Hired Man and Was Led to Slaughter Without a Single Growl of Protest.

From Sherburg, Vt., a New York World correspondent writes as follows: "If you ever run foul of a cross-eyed bear and can't capture him get a cross-eyed man to hynotize him and you're sure to get the bear." This is the advice Si Bugbee gave out at the general store the other night, and Si should know, for he's about the most likely individual in the fishing and hunting line in these parts. Besides he's had an experience of the kind himself.

When Si was down from the "Medders" last week to hire Ben Jerome to help him sugar he let on that the cross-eyed he-bear which caused him no end of trouble stealing his live stock last summer had come back and he was "pestered most t' death."

"I've been arter him fer nigh ont' a year," he declared, "an' I ain't no cluser t' gittin' him now than I was last fall. Even th' parson's son again th' critter sense he broke up th' meetin' down t' th' Holler b' runnin' up th' aisle an' scarin' th' people."

Ben, who is afflicted with one cross-eye, admitted that some action should be taken to rid the community of the pest.

A big boiling of sap was just reaching the consistency of sirup late one afternoon early in the week when Si, who was keeping a sharp watch on the fluid, heard footfalls without the door. Thinking it was Ben returning with more sap, he lifted one end of the big pan and yelled to him to help pour off the sirup. There was no response.

"Hurry up, gol durn ye, er th' hull mess'll burn!" he shouted.

Still there was no response and Si was very angry. Peering through the steam,

BRUIN WAS HYPNOTIZED.

he made out a cross-eye blinking at him through a knot-hole in the door. The sight exasperated the farmer beyond measure and, dropping the pan on the arch, he threw the door open and the cross-eyed bear jumped on him and bore him to the floor. There is some question as to which was the most startled, but the odds favor Si. At all events the farmer leaped over the sirup pan frog fashion and dove through the only window, taking the sash with him, an ran into the arms of Ben.

"B'ar, th' cross-eyed un," he gasped.

"Whur?" asked Ben.

Si motioned toward the sugar house, from which the strong odor of burned maple sirup was issuing. Ben gripped the farmer by the shoulder.

"I'll git him!" he whispered, hoarsely. "You scoot t' th' house fer a gun while I hypnotize th' cuss. I seen a feller with an eye suthin' like mine do it t' a dawg down t' th' county fair last fall an' I kin do th' same t't h' b'ar.'"

Si didn't just comprehend, but he was only too glad of an excuse, and he legged it to the house a quarter of a mile distant for his carbine. The moment he had turned his back Ben drew in a long breath and cautiously approached the sugar house. Ther were sounds of pans rattling within, and he rightly judged that bruin was investigating the results of the last boiling. Cautiously opening the door, he swung his swivel eye on the bear and whistled.

For an instant the astonished animal stood motionless, and then uttering a low whine arose on his haunches and almost grinned. This was Ben's cue to back out, and slowly and with his eye diving from one point of vision to another he cautiously withdrew. The bear, hynotized, followed.

"I seen 'em jest es soon es I climb over th' pasture fence," said Si, telling the rest of the story, "Ben was backin' and th' b'ar was movin' 'long on all fours jest es peaceable es a dawg an' now an' then lickin' th' sirup off his chops. He didn't pay no attention t' me an' I yelled t' Ben so he wouldn't take his eyes off the varmint.

"I was afeard if I went round the cuss he'd turn tail, so I hid b'hind the stun wall an' waited fer 'em to pass. When they got 'longside Ben's eyes was most poppin' out an' I histed th' ole carbine an' let th' b'ar hev it back of the left ear. That finished him."

Ben is so proud of the episode that he wouldn't take a yoke of oxen for his game eye. He is thinking of going into the hynotizing business some fall. He has risen in Si's estimation and the farmer has agreed to give him an all summer's job.

FASHION NOTES.

Simple Foulard Dresses—Black Hats Trimmed With Gold or Silver.

Morning and street gowns made of foulard silk are very smart. They are very little trimmed, mostly with bands of plain silk or fancy buttons. Tiny pipings of contrasting silk are sometimes used, and very often the waist blouses, both back and front. Many of the newest evening frocks have a lace net or lingerie bertha around the decolletage.

Tape lace is very effective used as a trimming for handsome gowns. It is made especially for the gowns with which it is used, being dyed to match and softened with a lining of chiffon.

Black hats trimmed with touches of silver and of gold are very smart, especially in the tricorne shapes.

Messaline is a new silk which is being employed for every garment, from the morning shirt waist to the most elaborate evening toilet. It has a satin surface, while its suppleness makes it an ideal fabric for the ruchings so popular at present.

The flounced skirt is one of the striking features of this year's fashions. Many skirts show from three to five flounces, and dressy frocks show even many more.

Very fine muslins called painted mousselines are ultra fashionable for smart warm weather gowns. This thin material is invariably made up over lustrous silk or satin.

The picture shows a black hat made of straw chantilly, and large ostrich plumes are placed partly above and partly below the brim.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

COLORS AND MATERIALS.

Tobacco Colored Cloths—Blue Much Worn—Fruits on Hats.

Tobacco colored cloths are much worn, and these are trimmed with Persian trimmings or pipings of silk or satin.

A great deal of fruit is being used on hats, especially those of the Breton shape. Apples, currants, cherries and grapes are all sometimes seen on one hat.

A great deal of blue in all the brighter shades is being worn this season, and this is becoming alike to blonds and brunettes. Blue linen costumes embroidered in white are particularly chic, and with these are worn large ecru or white sailor hats relieved with a touch of blue or vivid green.

PEAU DE SOIE GOWN.

On many large hats one notices a touch of black, and where it is possible the inner brim is of black. This was especially noticeable on a white hat seen recently. The top of the brim was of white straw, and the trimming was of white roses, while there were a four inch facing of black straw and touches of black velvet among the roses.

Pompadour muslins with large flowered patterns are combined with yellowish insertions and laces.

French heels, even for ordinary wear, are being used more than ever. They are even seen with the walking skirt.

The coral shades of red are especially smart when combined with tan and brown.

The new summer shirts are cut away slightly from the throat at the sides and in a shallow V or square in front, where unlined lace or embroidered chemisettes are inserted. The neck and front are finished by a band of embroidery or lace medallions, the same trimming appearing on the cuffs and girdle.

The picture shows a peau de soie gown trimmed with soft white lace. The waist has a novel bertha of folds of the silk and of the lace.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

MILLINERY NOTES.

Straight Brimmed Hats Are Returning to Favor—Net Blouses.

There is a tendency toward straight brims this season in millinery. These straight brims are seen especially in tiny sailor hats with exaggerated crowns. They are trimmed with wreaths of roses and smart bows.

The French sailor also comes in for its share of popularity. It is trimmed with roses, geraniums or other bright colored flowers.

Green is a very smart millinery tint, both in the vivid grass green shades and in the paler nile tints. A smart hat seen recently had a ruching of two shades of nile green ribbon going around the crown, and on the left side this was joined under a white owl's head.

The baby hat, which was so loudly heralded at the beginning of the season, has fallen into disfavor on account of its many imitations.

The black hat seems to have given way entirely to the hat of lighter tone, burnt straw especially. This, when trimmed with white lace or ostrich tips, is particularly becoming and goes with a great number of gowns.

Blouse coats are now being made to pouch both back and front, and the wide girdle prevents the outlines of the figure from being entirely concealed.

Braids of all sizes and description are used both on tailor made and on dressy gowns, and these are worked into attractive patterns and combined with lace figurings.

Net blouses are very fashionable. In the picture we have a shirred blouse of yellow net. It has the long shouldered effect and deep yoke which are so fashionable.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT TO WEAR.

Costumes For Horseback Riding and Automobiling—Street Gowns.

A very dark shade of gray whipcord is the smart thing for horseback riding at present.

Gray and drab are also the favorite tints for automobile wear, for they show the dust least. Pongee and linen make admirable dust coats, particularly when relieved by a touch of red. The automobile cap to match generally has a curtain at the back.

The round walking length has been so generally adopted for street wear that costumes for the country do not differ materially from those intended for town wear. These ankle length skirts are now entirely made of the thinnest materials, such as veiling, pongees and embroidered linens. Mohair also plays an important part in the season's tailor mades, both for the dressier costumes and those intended for rough wear.

The loose swinging jacket is the favorite mode, as it is even more generally becoming than the blouse.

Among the season's novelties are suits of black heavy meshed linen embroidered in white.

One of the modifications of the Napoleon hat has four sections turning upward, giving a hollow at the back a little to the right.

Bolero effects are here to stay and are to be seen on every hand. The new bolero, however, is very wide and quite without any attempt at being fitted. Quite often there is no visible shoulder seam, shoulder and seam being in one, after the fashion of a cape.

The picture shows a pongee gown trimmed with ecru applique worked in red. The hat is of ecru straw trimmed with cherries.

SOUTH AFRICAN KAFFIRS.

Queer Functionary of Their Court, Quaint Beliefs and Mode of Living.

In a recent published book on the Kaffirs of South Africa the author tells of the practice of the native chiefs of keeping a court praiser—which might be translated poet laureate—whose business it is to go before the chief and sing his praises. Sometimes it happens that this functionary is apt to be embarrassed for lack of matter, as in the case of the Swazi king Bunu. One day he went out hunting with a hundred warriors, and after a whole day's effort he managed to kill only one miserable little hare. Yet the court praiser ran in front of the king, calling out: "Bunu, the king of the Swazies, the chief of chiefs, has killed a hare. Let all the people listen. It was as big as an ox, as fierce as a lion and as swift as a buck. The brave King Bunu killed the hare all alone. He killed it with his assegai. Listen, ye people. Bunu the king has killed a hare. Without any help the king has killed a hare. It was as terrible as a tiger, as large as an elephant; its eyes were flames of fire; and yet Bunu, the great king, has killed the hare." This long rigamarole was repeated over and over, while the king followed behind with great gravity.

The bushmen have a quaint belief, according to this same book, that the world was made by a spirit with his left hand—so unsatisfactory a piece of work is it. The notions about astronomy are many and curious, including the familiar one that the old moons are cut up into stars; "but," as an old man told Mr. Kidd, the author, "we are only black men, and know very little about these things." The natives are very respectful to snakes, which they believe to be a revivified form of their ancestors' backbones. They are afraid to look into deep pools lest a monster should lay hold of their shadows and drag them into the water; and they dread being photographed, on the medieval ground that if any enemy gets hold of your portrait he can work you all sorts of harm through its agency. Of course there are witch doctors and rain doctors—most of whom, by the way, come to violent ends at the hands of a disappointed populace—and in Zululand the women sometimes bury their children up to their necks in the ground in the expectation that the heavens will melt with tenderness at the noise they make.

Here is another Kaffir story told in the book: "When the first wagon appeared the people of the kraals all turned out to see the new wonder—a hut which moved on wheels. Mile after mile the people clapped hands and cheered the little wheels, which seemed to form the center of attraction. On being asked what they saw in the small wheels to make them so excited they replied that they thought it was so plucky of them to be able to keep up with the large ones."

INDIVIDUALISTS IN DRESS.

Extraordinary Diversity in the Garb of Frenchmen Is a Marked Characteristic.

The Frenchman and Frenchwoman are individualists in dress. Rome stands out as the field for all the gamut of color in ecclesiastical robes, but the Gallic center is the scene of every shade of color, every form of drapery, every kind of fantastic caprice in the way of dress. Aside from the social world, for which pretty nearly the same measure may be taken in all countries, everyone seems to dress as he pleases, says a Paris report.

In feminine attire there is even more latitude than in masculine. It seems inconceivable if one did see them how many different things the French women don in the way of footwear. Outside of the legion of high-heeled slippers and shoes, with all sorts of coquetry embroidered or rosetted upon them, there is everything in the way of sabots that the market women and street venders wear. There are even high heeled, narrow toed productions among the latter. Then there is the felt shoe or slipper, of every color and form, and it takes a Frenchwoman to adjust neatly this pliable footgear.

Skirts are of every length and form, from the bunching short ones of the women of the markets to trailing or flowing ones, with ruffles galore, or plain as a shroud. The Frenchwoman, a true Latine likes red, and she knows how to work it up in the jauntiest jackets or waists. This gives a picturesque glow to a Paris street, which the habit of wearing lace scarfs and mantillas enhances. The latter are usually affected by working women, and it is astonishing with what effect they know how to throw them about their heads and shoulders.

A Book's Life.

The duration of a book's life by no means depends upon the length of time devoted to its creation, or even the importance attached to it by the author. Cardinal Newman's "Apologia," which, after 40 years of existence, is about to be issued at sixpence, took only ten weeks in its composition. As with prose, so also with poetry. The same author's "Dream of Gerontius," which Queen Alexandra and all musical London wants to hear at Covent garden next week, in Dr. Elgar's setting, was written as a pastime, and was put away as worthless in a drawer, whence it was doubtfully rescued when an application for "something" came from the editor of a magazine. Newman sent it, but said he did not think it was "anything."—London Chronicle.

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark, 14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

HOW TO OBTAIN

Summer Boarders!

There is in New York City one daily newspaper which has made tremendous gains in popular favor during the past five years. Its net cash paid circulation is over 100,000 copies daily throughout every section of New York City (including Brooklyn), larger than that of any other recognized resort medium. This newspaper's readers are among the wealthy, and well-to-do, intelligent people—those who can afford and do take extended vacations in the country during the Summer. It carries more resort advertising than any other morning newspaper, so the public naturally look to it for information as to where to go.

An advertisement in its columns is, therefore, exceedingly valuable and sure to produce results. This paper is ELMIRA, N. Y., June 6.—There have been numerous washouts and landslides on the Northern Central railroad between Elmira and Williamsport, Pa., and the whole division has been inoperative for the past twenty-four hours. The washouts between Gillets and Troy, Pa., were the worst. Two of these washouts were ten feet in depth and forty feet long.

There were a half dozen other washouts and landslides in a distance of ten miles between Gillets and Troy. Between Roaring Branch and Ralston there were two bad washouts, the main track and switches being washed away. The water is seven feet deep in the Pennsylvania railroad yard at Ralston.

There were landslides south of Ralston, and in many places the gravel washed down from the hills and covered the tracks to a depth of four feet. Between Ralston and Williamsport there were three or four washouts of from 250 to 350 feet each and of an average depth of four feet. Seven bents of bridge No. 5 at Cogan Valley were washed away.

The entire construction force of the Elmira and Canandaigua divisions have been working night and day repairing the roadbed and expect soon to have the divisions open. Passengers from Williamsport are coming to Elmira by way of Corning on the New York Central, and passengers southbound are using the same route.

Dry Run Flooded Farms and Villages

ELMIRA, N. Y., June 6.—The electrical storm caused great damage to crops north and south of this city. There were severe hailstorms north of the city, but at Pine City, five miles south of here, the worst flood in years occurred. Dry run, ordinarily an insignificant stream, devastated the whole countryside. Water mounted up to window sills of the farm and village houses, and families had to seek shelter in the upper floors. The gravel washed down from the hillsides and covered the farms, while the water in its onrush dug channels through the farms and washed away promising crops. The damage will mount up into the thousands.

"CAESAR" YOUNG KILLED.

On His Way to Sail For Europe. Western Actress Held.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Frank Thomas Young, a successful bookmaker and owner of race horses and at one time an amateur athlete, whose prowess won for him the nickname of "Caesar," was shot and killed here in a hansom cab at Franklin street and West Broadway.

It was at first announced that the wound was self inflicted. After an autopsy had been performed on Young's body and as a result of certain other developments of the day, however, Nan Patterson, an actress, known on the western stage as Nina Randolph, who was the only person with Young in the cab at the time the shooting took place, was locked up in the Tombs without bail pending an inquest. At first the young woman had merely been detained under nominal bail to insure her appearance as a witness.

The mysterious shooting marks the tragic end of what has been more than an episode in the life of the dead bookmaker. For the last two years Nan Patterson has played a part in Young's life. When the shot was fired, the bookmaker was on his way to the American line pier to join his wife for a trip to Europe, which she had planned in order to take her husband beyond the influence of the western actress. They were to have sailed on the Germanic.

Fleeing From the Flood.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark, June 6.—A special from Fort Smith says: "This city has been visited by a terrific electrical and rain storm. Rain fell in torrents and flooded the main avenue and deluged the streets. The Arkansas river began to show signs of the floods along its tributaries and soon had reached the danger line and rose at a rate of six inches an hour. The Potesu bottom is inundated, and the residents are fleeing to this city for safety from the floods."

No Houston Trolleys Run.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 6.—The utmost quiet prevailed. No attempt was made to run street cars, and no crowds collected on the streets. It is reported that the company has increased its force of strike breakers by eighty men. The Central Labor union has adopted a resolution calling on the mayor to appoint citizens of Houston as guards.

Trolley Struck a Shade Tree.

BURLINGTON, Ia., June 6.—A heavily loaded electric street car on the Valley street line here was wrecked against a shade tree. The passengers jumped, and the car flew along. Mrs. Joseph Keehn was killed, and sixteen others were seriously injured.

Western Freight Handlers Strike.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Freight handlers at the Third and Townsend street station of the Southern Pacific company to the number of 500 have gone on strike. The men demand an increase of pay and a reduction of the working day to nine hours.

One of Hobson's Men Dead.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 6.—George Phillips, engineer of the collier Merrimack, which was sunk by Lieutenant Commander Richmond Pearson Hobson at the mouth of Santiago harbor, is dead at his home in Cambridgeport.

SCHOOL MEETING TONIGHT

A BOROUGHITE PRESENTS ARGUMENTS AGAINST PROPOSED SITE.

The proposition to buy the lot at the corner of Somerset street and Park place for the new school site will be submitted to the borough voters tonight. More fireworks is expected before the matter is disposed of. In an interview with a Daily Press reporter this morning, a boroughite had this to say on the question:

"Residents of North Plainfield living near the present school on Somerset street will lose nothing if the proposition to build on the lot adjoining is defeated tonight. A mistaken notion prevails in the minds of some that locating a school in the western end of the boorugh would compel children living in the eastern end to go a long distance to the new school. This is not so, as the grammar and high school pupils must attend the Somerset street school in any event, while the relief afforded by taking out the young children living at a distance would give ample room in the Somerset and Watchung Schools for all of those living in the vicinity."

So great opposition to the site has developed through the failure of the Board to name more than one lot that it is beginning to appear as if the project would have a hard time getting through. So much time has been lost in passing the matter, however, that many of the boroughites are weary of the delay and bickering, and will vote for the site offered without regard to the arguments pro and con, simply to get the question settled.

RECOVERED VOICE.

Newark Girl Had An Odd Experience of Three Months.

Frightened by a mischievous boy, Miss Hazel Crum, a young Newark woman, recovered her voice in North Plainfield yesterday after three months of speechlessness. Miss Crum's voice failed her suddenly in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, one day in March.

Yesterday, while Miss Crum was visiting at the home of Fred Zimmer, of the borough, the latter's little brother came into the room with a toad in his hand. He threw the toad at the girl, and she startled the whole family by giving a shrill scream. The next instant Miss Crum's fear was turned to a very great joy. She found that she could speak.

Went to Greet Murphy.

The legislatorial greeting to Governor Murphy aboard the Celtic was spoiled Saturday by the failure of the big ship to arrive in port at the expected time. Among those in the party were Charles N. Fowler and James T. MacMurray.

Dr. F. P. Smith, president of the New Jersey Osteopathic Association, and his wife, Dr. Helen Smith, were the guests of Drs. Wilcox, of Crescent avenue, Saturday.

COMMENTS ON CLIME'S SPEECH

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS ON REMARKS AT CO. K'S BANQUET.

Don't Knock.

The newspaper criticisms of the disturbance in the National Guard are not as enlightening as they are brilliant. The National Guard undoubtedly has troubles, incident to every human organization, but its troubles are not improved by being ignorantly exploited; and as long as the Guard remains under its able management, it might well be spared the captious criticism of those not informed of the conditions or remedies.—Trenton True American.

Unwarranted Criticism.

When the bill to reorganize the National Guard was considered in the Assembly there was a general disposition to turn it down, partly because it was not properly explained to the House and partly because those who had looked into it were not pleased with its provisions. It was attacked, who, judging by his speech, knew less about it, or anything else relating to the National Guard, than any other person on the floor. His comments were silly. Some of the National Guardsmen who were not present when the speech was made seem to have accepted it as the sentiment of the House, and a variety of peppery criticism has been the result. One officer attracted special notice by his remarks, and he has been attacked and defended by several newspapers. The comment led the New York "Evening Sun" into error. It says:

"It appears that the New Jersey lawmakers regard criticism of their public acts as less majestic. They want to hold an investigation because some militia condemned the failure of the Legislature to reorganize the State guards under the Dick statute. It is more than likely that the public will take the side of those who really have the good of the service at heart."

So far as heard from, the New Jersey lawmakers have had nothing to say about the matter, and they do not "want to hold an investigation." The Legislature is not in session, and the fact that a man is a member of the National Guard does not in New Jersey deprive him of a right to an opinion or of the privilege of expressing it.—Jersey City Evening Journal.

Colonel Clime's Offense.

Lieutenant Colonel Clime is so high in rank that he should know that in the absence of specific law or order to the contrary, the United States army regulations govern his actions as an officer of the National Guard, and that when he inveighed against the Legislature for its refusal to pass the so-called "Dick bill," he was rendering himself liable to court martial. It would be magnifying both Colonel Clime and his offense to call his utterances treasonable, as he suggested; but they were decidedly offensive. Doubtless the humble privates, who are haled before a trial board on slight provocation, will wait with some interest to see whether those "higher up" in the military establishment of the State take official notice of the Burlington man's bad break. An explanation and apology or a resignation ought to be demanded. — Trenton Times.

Poll Parrots.

If Colonels Collins and Clime had placed themselves under the tutorship of Judge Parker for a few days previous to that Plainfield banquet there would probably have been no cause for the investigation. — Elizabeth Journal.

Bathing in Ice-Cold Water.

Prof. Sugarman, of Little Falls, who began taking daily winter baths in the Mohawk river several years ago, is still at it. He has not missed a day this winter, despite the fact that the temperature the last week ranged from 18 to 30 degrees below zero. Whether or not he has been benefited, the fact remains that Prof. Sugarman is a fine-looking specimen of the healthy man. Since he began taking these arctic plunges he says that he is no longer troubled by colds in the head or by catarrh. At times he has been obliged to cut the ice to get into the water. All winter he wears summer clothing, disdaining mufflers and overcoats, and seems to thrive on exposure to cold that would immediately kill an average man.—N. Y. Commercial.

Egyptian Turquoise Merchants.

Among the most picturesque of tradespeople in the east are the turquois merchants of Egypt. Scores of these quaint old characters are to be found at Cairo. The stock of a single merchant is frequently of great value, yet he is content to display it much the same as an Italian in an American city displays his fruit. The stones are laid out in little piles and parcels on a little stand, which may be carried from place to place.

SCHOOL BUILDING SITE FINALLY CHOSEN

Boroughites Decided to Locate Structure in Central Section.

BELIEVED PREFERABLE

A. V. D. HONEYMAN EXPLAINED REASONS FOR SELECTION.

Well Attended Meeting and No Disorder—Former Mayor Place as Chairman—Majority of Fifty-Three.

Disposition of the school site question that has been vexing the borough voters for nearly a year was effected last night after a tame meeting. Of the 305 votes cast, 179 were deposited in favor of the Somerset street lot, a majority of 53.

There was no acrimony, and, apart from a long statement by A. V. D. Honeyman, who spoke for the majority of the Board, no argument.

In order to explain why the five anti-administration members voted for the presentation of the Somerset street lot, in opposition to the other four members, Mr Honeyman read a carefully prepared speech of forty minutes duration. With the aid of a large colored map, drawn by himself on a blackboard, he explained how the site met the requirements of the congested districts as to nearness of location; it was ideal in meeting the needs of the building as far as light, air and ground space went; it will always be a central location; it admits of direct control by the supervising principal, a strong factor in school work; it was cheap, because already graded, and the sanitary arrangements of the present building will cover the new one; it will admit of adding the needed heat to the old building without a special appropriation for the purpose; and its purchase made certain that no undesirable structure would ever be erected alongside the present school. Mr. Honeyman's statments were followed with much interest, despite their length and the oppressive heat, and loud and sustained applause indicated that a majority of those present a greed with them.

A very brief statement for the minority was read by James R. Joy. It said that the submission of the proposed site had been opposed by them because three sites, as called for by the popular vote at the meeting after the last ballot on the question, were not favored by the majority, and that all compromise had been rejected by the latter party. The statement was signed by Mr. Joy, Samuel Townsend, H. A. Woodruff and John Valiant.

Mr. Honeyman asked Mr. Joy if it was not true that the majority had offered to submit two other sites if the minority could present two that had not already been voted upon? Mr. Joy said he believed that was substantially correct and the crowd applauded vigorously. It was apparent that the majority of the voters regarded Mr. Honeyman's question as a knockout.

Mayor Smalley and several others who helped to make the preceding meetings interesting were present, but none of them made any effort to get into the discussion. The voters dispersed rapidly after the count had been fairly launched, the opponents of the site early conceding their defeat.

Former Mayor Charles Place was chairman of the meeting, and J. H. Case was secretary. Councilman Van Winkle and J. W. A. Bauersachs were tellers.

By their vote last night, the borough electors have authorized the expenditure of $36,000. The proposed building will cost $30,500 and the lot $5,500. Work upon the new structure will be started in as short a time as possible.

Plans for the building have not yet been drawn, and not even the exact dimensions have been decided on yet. A. L. C. Marsh has been commissioned to draw the plans, and his designs are expected to go before the Board for consideration within a few days. It is known, of course, that the building will have eight rooms. Other features are still to be fixed upon, although it is a foregone conclusion that the building will harmonize architecturally with the present school.

First Band Concert.

The first concert by Benjamin LaVere's band will be given in the borough on Thursday night, June 16.

CITY FATHERS REFUSE TO EXTEND GOOD ROADS

Ordinance to Macadamize Two and Three Quarter Miles of Streets Defeated by Council.

TOO HEAVY A BURDEN

MUNICIPALITY HAS ALREADY ALL IT CAN ATTEND TO NOW.

Sycamore Street, Between Fourth and Fifth Streets, to be Widened—Signs Warning Automobilists.

Many matters occupied the attention of the Common Council at its June meeting, held last night. All of the members excepting Mr. Tyler and Mr. Randolph were present, and the session was remarkable for the fact that only one three-minute recess was held. Another attempt was made to hold a second recess, but Mr. Murphy, who asked for it, failed in his purpose. He wanted the members to retire that they might discuss the question of macadamizing 2¾ miles of streets.

There was a division of opinion and Mr. Murphy thought the best way to settle the matter would be in secret session. A previous motion prevailed and the recess was not taken, neither was it voted to macadamize the streets named, the vote being six against and three in favor. Those against were Councilmen Bullock, Daniel, Garrigues, Higham, Lee and Murphy. Councilmen Gloak, Wilson and Tolles voted in the affirmative.

The streets provided for in the ordinance offered by Mr. Gloak were Monroe avenue to West Seventh street, Spooner avenue to West Eighth street, Lee place to West Seventh street, Carlton avenue to East Seventh street, Kensington avenue to East Seventh street, Randolph road to Cedar brook, Norwood avenue and New street. The ordinance provided for the issuance of ten municipal bonds in denominations of $1,000 each, the same to run three years and the Court of Common Pleas was to appoint commissioners to assess benefits and damages, the city to pay one-third of the cost and the abutting property-owners the other two-thirds.

Mr. Daniel started the discussion by asking the question as whether or not the city did not at present have about all the macadamized roads it could well afford to care for. He cited the fact that the funds available this year for street improvements are less than usual and he thought it unwise to make such extended improvements.

Mr. Lee stated that he understood that Randolph road could be cut out of the plan, at a saving of $1,000 and in view of the fact that there are few houses on the road he did not favor macadamizing it.

Mr. Garrigues said that there are many miles of streets in the city that are not kept up to the high mark of condition, and mentioned West Front street, which was recently torn up by the trolley company, and he thought it useless to extend the work.

Mr. Gloak took exception to Mr. Garrigues' remarks, claiming that the trolley company had, at an expense of thousands of dollars, repaired West Front street. In reply, Mr. Garrigues said that he guessed Mr. Gloak had not gone over the road in a carriage.

Mr. Lee said he wanted Lee place, Spooner and Monroe avenues taken care of, the residents on these streets having paid taxes long enough to macadamize streets in other parts of the city.

It was then that Mr. Murphy spoke against the improvement and asked for a recess. The question of adopting the ordinance was before the Council and it took precedence over Mr. Murphy's motion, but was lost.

Mr. Gloak introduced another ordinance providing for the widening of Sycamore street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, so that the street may be uniform between Fourth and Seventh streets. The action was taken in response to repeated petitions from property-owners. The ordinance was adopted on first and second readings and ordered advertised, and Mr. Gloak offered a resolution fixing Tuesday night, July 5, as the time when a public hearing will be given in the matter.

Another resolution by Mr. Gloak provided for the placing of signs on West Front street, East Front street, Park avenue, South avenue and Plainfield avenue at the city line, informing drivers of automobiles the speed allowed by law. According to the new State law, which supercedes all local

ALLEGED SPEAKEASY PROPRIETORS INDICTED

Eight Persons Must Answer Charge, Grand Jury Having Found True Bills.

MOSTLY STOREKEEPERS

SOME ARE EXPECTED TO GET HEAVY SENTENCES.

Credit Due Chief Kiely for Working Up the Cases—Pleas of Non-Vult Unavailing This Time—The Second Offense.

Indictments against eight alleged keepers of speak-easies in this city were returned yesterday by the Grand Jury.

Some of the alleged speakeasy operators were captured in the last dragnet thrown out by the police, and a second appearance in court is expected to get them into a lot of trouble. At the time they all pleaded non vult, and fines were inflicted. Taking the pleas as quasi-confessions, the Court, at the time sentence was passed, warned them that conviction on a similar charge would bring down sentences of imprisonment upon them. It is said that one woman was warned particularly that imprisonment awaited her if she was found guilty of selling illegally again.

Chief Kiely has worked up his cases against the alleged joints very carefully, and he is confident of securing convictions in every case that is fought. While it is expected that some of the accused will plead non vult, the county authorities are not sure that they will not have contests before the cases are disposed of. It is argued that the indicted keepers can gain nothing by pleading non vult where they have a previous arrest and plea against them, and may be able to force the prosecution to drop its case by showing a possible lack of evidence. The lawyers who are to defend the accused keepers, however, are not forgetting that in every case where a speakeasy case is fought, conviction is always followed by a heavier sentence than is inflicted when the prisoners do not compel the county to undergo the expense of a trial.

Whatever the outcome of the arraignments may be, the speakeasy business in the city is at a standstill temporarily at least as a result of the drag-in. Those who have been selling illegally are afraid to carry on the traffic while the heavy police assault is on.

SYMPHONY CLUB'S CONCERT

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION GIVEN Y. M. C. A. MUSICIANS LAST NIGHT.

Appreciating the opportunity of hearing a fine musical and elocutionary programme, an audience that taxed the seating capacity of the Park Avenue Baptist church attended the concert given there last night by the Y. M. C. A. Symphony Club for the benefit of the church.

C. Kenneth Shupp conducted the orchestra and solos were rendered by B. A. Paroubek, violin; Miss Helen May Shupp, soprano, and Whitney Frazee, cornet.

Miss Aimee Louise Emmons received a flattering reception in the portions of the programme which fell to her share and the approval of the pieces executed by the whole orchestra was unqualified.

Some Naughty Stories.

Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, captain of the doctors' team, which will try conclusions with the ministers' team on Crescent Oval Saturday afternoon, is spending his odd moments reading up the history of the National game, in four volumes, in preparation for the contest. Dr. P. J. Cregar, who will pitch for the physicians, absolutely denies the report that his brother-in-law, Christy Matthewson, is spending his evenings coaching him in the parlor how to deliver an in-shoot and how to slide bases. Rev. J. O. McKelvey, captain of the ministers' aggregation, declines to talk for publication until after his team is in the lead.

Sentence Suspended on Drunks.

John Martin and Jacob Long, arrested for drunkenness in the borough Saturday night, were arraigned before Recorder Doud last night. They were released under suspended sentence.

Mrs. E. G. Young Dead.

Mrs. Ellen G. Young, sister of Mrs. DeForest, of West Second street, is dead at her home in Brooklyn.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR PAINTING SCHOOLS

Board of Education Arranges to Have Stillman, Irving and Lincoln Buildings Painted.

LIST OF THE BIDDERS

MEDICAL EXAMINERS REPORT EXCELLENT CONDITION.

Balance on Hand $8,824.60—Board Needs $68,300 From the City to Maintain the Schools Next Year.

Routine business was transacted by the Board of Education at their regular monthly meeting last night, the most important question being that of repainting several of the buildings.

The meeting was called to order with Leander N. Lovell in the chair; E. M. Cave and Charles F. Abbott being present also, as were Superintendent H. M. Maxson and Clerk Frank B. Clark.

The question of repainting was taken up. Bids were on hand from five painters. For the work at the Irving School, where most of the expense will be incurred, bids were received as follows: Harold Hansen, $1,785; Woolston & Buckle, $1,780; J. C. Hansen, $1,665; J. M. Cabart, $1,708.20, in two bids, one of $976.70 for the interior work and the other, $731.50 for the exterior, including fences and out-buildings. The low bid for this work was put in by Mundy & Moulton, who bid $1,265.

Work at the Stillman High School was bid on by J. M. Cabart, $930.50; Harold Hansen, $647; Woolston & Buckle, $630; J. C. Hansen, $525, and Mundy & Moulton, $343. The only bidders for the work at the Lincoln School were J. C. Hansen, $185 and Woolston & Buckle, $130.

Consideration of these bids being postponed until the other routine work was completed, the statement of school tax receipts by Collector Frank H. Smith was heard. This showed that the sum of $756 had been received during the month of May. The income from non-resident scholars was $477.60.

A representative of the Encyclopaedia Americana, a new reference publication, was present and gave a full description of the scope and character of the work which interested the members considerably.

A report from the custodian of the school funds was also read, stating that starting with a cash balance of $14,630 on May 1, the total receipts for the month had brought this sum up to $15,407.10, out of which disbursements amounting to $6,582.50 had been paid, leaving a balance of $8,824.60 on hand.

The report of the medical examiners stated that 133 children have been examined by them during the past month and spoke encouragingly of the improvement noticeable in the average of health among the children in the Plainfield schools. It was also stated that the parents show a more marked tendency to assist the examiners in maintaining the health of the pupils.

F. T. Woodhull's report as secretary of the board of estimate, called for $68,300, exclusive of the amount of the county appropriation for the next year.

On a motion made by Superintendent Maxson at the suggestion of Mr. Lovell, a vote of thanks was ordered extended to the Seventh-Day Baptist church for their generosity in giving the use of their church for the High School musicale.

After hearing from Mr. Clark that the coal supply for next winter is so nearly delivered that it will all be on hand in about two weeks, that board adjourned on a motion by Mr. Abbott.

Representing the low bidders of the evening, Mundy & Moulton, Clarence Mundy who showed a letter from the firm of whom his materials are bought, guaranteeing delivery of same in the event of this firm securing the contracts. The matter was talked over a few minutes and Mr. Mundy was told that he could have the contracts for both the Stillman and Irving schools if he would secure and furnish a bond for the faithful performance of the work, in the sum of $300.

The foregoing, together with a number of bills which were ordered paid constituted the whole of the business done by the board.

Ran Auto Too Fast.

The chauffeur employed by Foster Milliken, formerly of this city, was arrested in New York on Sunday near the Circle, Central Park, for fast driving, and was fined $10.

HIGH SCHOOL BONDS ARE SOLD AT $102,311

Gilt-Edge Price Fixed by Successful Bidder An Indication of Plainfield's Credit.

TEN BIDS SUBMITTED

KOUNTZE BROTHERS, OF NEW YORK, THE SUCCESSFUL ONES.

H. K. Stokes Offered $102.06—To Bear Interest From June 1, 1904—Interest at Four Per Cent.

That the credit of the city is gilt-edged was shown at the Common Council meeting last night in the very favorable and satisfactory bid received and accepted for the $60,000 High School bonds, advertised for during the past two weeks. There were eleven bids received, one, not accompanied by the necessary $1,000 check. The successful bidders were Kountze Brothers, New York bankers. Their bid was $102,311, or $1.18 more than the original one made by Ladenburg, Thalman & Co., a year ago. The bid of Kountze Brothers being the highest, Mr. Daniel offered a resolution that the same be accepted and that the checks for the unsuccessful ones be returned.

These were the bids received:

Kountze Brothers, $102,311; O'Connor & Kahler, $101.19; W. T. Hayes, $101.98; Spitzer & Co., $101.07; Farson, Leech & Co., $100.677; Ladenburg, Thalman & Co., $101.61; H. K. Stokes, $102.06; John D. Everett, $100.53; City National Bank, $101.3055; Plainfield Trust Company, $100.75. With the exception of the two local banking institutions and W. T. Hayes, the others were New York firms, and Mr. Hayes is of Cleveland. S. A. Keene, of New York, submitted a bid of par, but the thousand dollar check did not accompany the bid. All bids stipulated accrued interest.

The city officials are much pleased with the successful bid, it being what is known in financial circles on a $3 80 basis. The bonds are to bear interest at 4 per cent. from June 1st last, and will be delivered at the City National Bank to the successful bidders.

A TRINITY ORGANIZATION BUSY

LADIES' CHRISTIAN WORK SOCIETY APPOINTS COMMITTEES.

Appointment of standing committees and the reports of delegates to the thirtieth annual meeting of the Woman's Board of Domestic Missions in New York, comprised the principal business at the regular meeting of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church, held yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the church. During the meeting a letter of greeting and congratulation was read from Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, who is attending the sessions of the General Synod at Grand Rapids, Michigan, with Dr. Schenck.

Mrs. A. L. Force and Mrs. A. M. Gilem were the delegates to the thirtieth annual meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions, in New York, and they presented interesting reports of the meeting.

These are the chairmen of the standing committees: Devotional, Mrs. Charles E. Ball; missionary, Mrs. A. E. Leggett; reception, Mrs. Cornelius Schenck; sewing, Mrs. Seaman Williams; visiting, Mrs. Henry VanName; flower, Mrs. J. C. VanDyke; poor, Mrs. E. T. VanWinkle; needle work guild, Mrs. W. A. Woodruff.

'Change's Annual Report.

Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph, of East Front street, has just issued his annual report as president of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, of New York. It shows a most gratifying condition of affairs financially, which is largely attributed to the careful and painstaking management of the president.

League Player Fined.

It is said that it cost Doerscher, of the Brooklyn National League team, $50 to pitch for Aeolian against Westfield two weeks ago. It is understood that the League pitcher went to Westfield without the knowledge of Manager Hanlon.

Heat Stops School Session.

On account of the terrific heat, the borough school annexes in the store opposite the big school house on Somerset street were dismissed yesterday at 12 o'clock, an hour earlier than usual.

GOVERNING BOARD RE-ELECTS MR. FISK

Former Mayor is Chosen President of Muhlenberg Hospital Board for Fifth Time.

SIX NEW MEMBERS

FIVE ARE CHOSEN IN INCREASING NUMERICAL STRENGTH.

During Last Year 344 Operations and 457 Cases Treated in Hospital—Committees Are Chosen for the Year.

The annual meeting of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital took place last night at the Public Library, and was protracted until past 10 o'clock by reason of the election of new members and the re-election of officers.

Reports from the president, treasurer, building committee and finance committee were read, this business being followed by the election of officers and new members. Of the latter there are five: J. W. DeGraff, Frank J. Hubbard, H. G. Runkle, E. H. Booth and Julius E. Erickson. George P. Mellick succeeds Francis Wood, who resigned.

Former Mayor Charles Joel Fisk was elected president for the fifth consecutive time and the following officers were also re-elected: First vice president, W. R. Cook; second vice president, E. H. Ladd, Jr.; secretary, C. E. Brooks and treasurer, W. C. Kinney.

The various committees were formed of the following: Buildings and grounds committee, D. C. Ivins, George A. Chapman, F. J. Hubbard, E. H. Booth and H. G. Runkle; managing committee, Samuel Huntington, Charles E. Brooks, J. W. DeGraff, George P. Mellick, Mrs. Samuel Huntington, Mrs. J. G. Foster and Miss Emilie Schipper; finance committee, E. H. Ladd, Jr., B. A. Hegeman, W. L. Saunders, E. R. Ackerman and W. C. Kinney; insurance committee, E. R. Ackerman; printing and press, J. E. Tracy and G. H. Goddard; auditing committee, W. L. Saunders and Julius E. Erickson.

A most satisfactory report was read from the hospital, which gave the number of patients treated during the past as 457 and the total number of operations as 344. During the same time there have been 710 cases at the dispensary, each making several calls, the total of calls being 1,818. Operations to the number of 124 have been performed at the dispensary.

The monthly report showed the number of cases at the hospital on May 1, to have been 18, the number admitted during May, 36, a total of 54. Of these, 27 were discharged cured, 6 were discharged improved, 3 died and the month of June opens with the same number of patients as did May.

In the dispensary 53 patients were treated during May. They called 108 times and 8 operations were performed among the number.

Altogether, more work has been done at the institution during the last year than ever before and with its vastly increased facilities, it is in a position to cope successfully with any emergency.

Satisfactory progress was reported on the new Nurses' Home which is being erected on the grounds.

Last night's meeting was really a double one, the old board of nineteen members first transacting their business and then sitting in the first meeting of the enlarged board which numbers twenty-four members.

Mrs. Williamson President.

Mrs. Emily D. Williamson, of Elizabeth, has been elected president of the State Charities Aid Association, succeeding the late Dr. Charleton T. Lewis, of Morristown, who was at the head of the organization for many years. In the opinion of those qualified to speak, no better person than Mrs. Williamson could have been chosen for the position. Rev. Francis A. Foy, pastor of St. Mary's church, of Avondale, has been elected secretary and he will have charge of the department formerly attended to by Mrs. Williamson.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE ASKS FOR $68,300

That Sum in Addition to What is Received From County Necessary for Schools.

A MONTH'S REPORTS

COMMON COUNCIL FINDS NO MOSQUITOES LIVE HERE.

Hitch Over Gas Furnished the City—Twenty-Three Building Permits Granted Last Month.

Besides the more important things engaging the time of the members, at the June meeting of the Common Council, last night, there were a number of matters of minor interest. A petition was received from residents of East Third and Richmond streets, asking for a fire box in that vicinity and another one asking for two fire hydrants on East Third street. The petitions took the usual course.

The Board of School Estimate reported that the amount needed for the public schools during the coming year is $68,300, exclusive of the amount received from the county. This report was received and filed and later Mr. Daniel offered an ordinance providing for the raising of this amount by taxation, the same as other money is raised for city purposes. The ordinance was adopted.

E. L. Finch, of Park avenue, who owns property at 1057 and 1063 Arlington avenue, stated that he had been assessed for property at 1051 and 1055 Arlington avenue. He asked to have the assessment changed. The matter took the usual course.

A petition was received from residents on East Sixth street, between Scott avenue and Berckman street, asking for two electric lights. They cited the fact that there are seventeen houses on the street, all occupied and believe that they are entitled to the lights.

Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported that twenty-three permits were granted last month. Mr. Daniel reported that the original bond furnished by John E. Keely, who contracted to sprinkle the city streets, was defective, and that a new bond approved by the corporation counsel, has been drafted. He offered the same and moved that it be filed in the county clerk's office, Elizabeth.

Mr. Murphy asked to have the bills of the Public Service Corporation for the past month held up until the special meeting, as there appeared to be a misunderstanding with the company regarding the charge for gas burned in the fire department houses. By way of explanation Mr. Lee stated that some years ago the city paid for this gas, but when the matter was explained to H. G. Runkle, the charge was omitted. During the past few years the city was furnished the gas for nothing. The matter will be adjusted within a short time.

Mr. Daniel offered a resolution transferring $1,030 from the general fund to the fire fund and $500 from the general fund to the poor account, also a resolution authorizing H. C. VanEmburgh, civil engineer, to make all necessary changes of transfer of property on the city maps for one year from date at an expense not to exceed $100. These resolutions were adopted.

Another resolution by Mr. Daniel, presented at the suggestion of Corporation Counsel Marsh, provided that the statement of all taxable property in the city be returned by the Board of Assessors between May 20 and July 15 of each year. This was adopted.

Mr. Lee, in a jocular vein, made a motion that Mr. Smalley, owner of the building, provide window screens for the Council Chambers at his own expense.

Mr. Daniel replied in a semi-serious manner that he hoped that Mr. Lee's motion would not prevail, for if there was one thing that Plainfielders are proud of it is that there are no mosquitoes here. The motion did not prevail.

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Plainfield Citizens Show the Way.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the dangers of diabetes or any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Plainfield citizen says:

Mrs. I. L. Holmes, of 442 West Second street, says: "I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and derived more benefit from them than anything else. Before I tried this remedy I was bothered almost constantly with a severe pain across the small of my back, so bad at times that I thought I must give up. If I sat down and got up or was lying down and attempted to raise quickly or retained one position for any length of time, sharp acute pain always followed. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised for such troubles and went to L. W. Randolph's drug store and got a box. They helped me from the first and I improved right along as I continued their use."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

Clinton Avenue A. C. defeated the Pilot A. A., 11 to 5, Saturday afternoon, on the home grounds.

It was a hard pill for the organ grinders to accept their second defeat, but they did it as gracefully as possible.

Gauven, who played second for Alis on Saturday, although in fast company, handled himself well. He is a promising player.

Captain Lauder is one of the hardest of losers, although he does not show it. He does not believe in giving up the game until the last man is out.

There is a possibility that Rothfuss, who played first for Alis on Saturday, may continue with the team. He was popular with the crowd and played an errorless game.

"Mike" Lynch, the star fielder and hitter from the Ridgewoods, is expected to play right field for Alis on Saturday. If he pans out all right he may be retained.

Myers, who played right field for Alis on Saturday, comes from Long Island. He is an excellent fielder, but it was plainly evident that the company was too fast.

The Potter A. C. defeated the Scotch Plains High School team at Scotch Plains on Saturday, by a score of 12 to 9. On Saturday the Potter A. C. will play Metuchen.

"Dave" Vroom, the veteran baseball catcher, well-known to local fans, is playing on various teams on Staten Island. He wanted to play with Alis this year, but there was no opening.

"Matty" McIntyre, who formerly played for Westfield, but has been with Detroit, this season, has fallen off in fielding and batting, owing to illness. He is now back in the game.

Farmer, the Alis catcher, was a great find for the team. In the six games he has played he has not made an error, and only one passed ball is credited to him. His catching and throwing to bases are faultless.

Laudis, who pitched for Aeolian on Saturday, is said to come from Manhattan College. He was invincible for a few innings, but when the hard hitters of the local team connected with his shoots, the runs piled up very quick.

Manager Johnston, of Alis, expects to give Badgley, the crack Lehigh University pitcher, a try-out here on Saturday, June 18, against the fast Hoboken team. The college twirler is anxious for a trial, believing that he can make good.

It may interest many baseball fans to know that Sneeden, the old Crescent pitcher, who brought the team to victory over the West Ends, of Somerville, is still living on Staten Island. He is engaged in the ice business, having given up playing entirely.

Manager Johnston certainly did good work when he secured McGoey and Cregan for Alis. Two more popular players have not appeared here. They are ball players in every sense. McGoey missed one fly on Saturday, the first of the season, but it was almost an impossible chance.

With every indication pointing toward success where they failed last year, the P. H. S. baseball team, together with about seventy-five sympathizers, went by special car to Elizabeth this afternoon for their annual battle on the diamond against the Pingry aggregation.

Manager Denman, of Westfield, it is said, is "swelled" over the showing of his team against Trenton Y. M. C. A., on Saturday, and he has a right to be. But this should not give the doughty little manager any false hopes regarding Saturday's bout with Alis. The locals expect to retrieve lost honors and a victory can be looked for. It is understood that Westfield will have the same lineup that played on Saturday.

Among other things, the Trenton State Gazette has this to say regarding the Westfield-Trenton Y. M. C. A. game at Trenton on Saturday: "In a slow and tiresome game the Westfield aggregation of ball tossers put it on to the Y. M. C. A. bunch on Saturday by the score of 8 to 1. Although the closeness of the score would make many believe that the game was of the first-class order, it was nothing of the kind. Of the four runs scored not one was earned. McLane, who twirled for the visitors, is the same chap that has been doing such great work in the box for Fordham College, and he upheld his reputation here by allowing the locals but three hits. * * * * The visitors were a scrappy lot of players and kicked on several of Sheehan's decisions."

Charles Ossinger, of Philadelphia, visited friends here Sunday.

Miss Mildred Everitt and the Misses Julia and Isabelle Williams, of Somerset street, are spending a few days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Montania, at Sylvan Shade, Tea-Neck, N. J.

OLD RAILROAD TIMETABLE

SCHEDULE OF THE SOMERVILLE AND ELIZABETHTOWN RAILROAD.

Through the efforts of former conductor Philip VanArsdale, of the New Jersey Central, the Employee reproduces on the front cover of its current issue a copy of a time table, of the old Somerville and Elizabethtown railroad and connecting stage line printed in the Somerville Messenger of July 2, 1839, nearly sixty-five years ago, which it believes is the oldest schedule of this line in existence.

The Railroad Employee says: "It will be noted at this time that the railroad extended from Elizabethport to Plainfield and that stages met the trains at the latter named station and conveyed passengers to and from Somerville and intermediate points, and that the railroad was known as the Somerville and Elizabethtown, the name having been changed some time after this date to Elizabethport and Somerville Railroad, under which title it was absorbed by the Central Railroad of New Jersey, when the line was extended west to Whitehouse and afterwards to Phillipsburg in 1852.

"When these time tables were originally printed, Martin Van Buren was President of the United States and William Pennington Governor of New Jersey. The Morris and Essex had just commenced running trains; the New Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company was in operation and there was spirited rivalry between the stage lines and the railroads.

"The copy of the Messenger in which the tables were printed is in a remarkable state of preservation and contains many items of historic interest, which lack of space will not permit us to mention in this number.

"Mr. VanArsdale, who is at present seventy-six years of age, commenced his railroad career with what is now the New Jersey Central in 1846, seven years after this old issue of the Messenger was printed. Mr. VanArsdale says that in 1839, the road's motive power consisted of one locomotive called the 'Eagle,' which easily handled all the traffic offered to the line."

Baseball Players Arrested.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Warrants have been issued by Supreme Court Justice Gaynor of Brooklyn for the arrest of Frank Dillon and Edward Poole, players attached to the Brooklyn club of the National Baseball league. The warrants were issued at the request of representatives of the Sunday observance committee of Brooklyn, who charge that the men violated the law by playing a public game on Sunday. The two men will be arraigned before Justice Gaynor in the supreme court today.

Czaraphine Won the Bedford.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Czaraphine, favorite at 7 to 10, won the Bedford stakes, for two-year-olds, at Gravesend. Half a length back came Gold Ten, second choice, with Red Friar, the outsider, third. Czaraphine jumped to the front at the lifting of the barrier and, making all the pace, won. J. C. Yeager made a killing in the first race when his filly Mimosa, backed from 5 to 1 to 11 to 5, scored an easy victory. The favorite, Unmasked, finished away back in the ruck.

Lawn Tennis Tournament.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The Manhattan double championship tennis cups were won here by the former Princeton intercollegiate champions, F. B. Alexander and R. D. Little. This was the main event in the tournament of the New York Lawn Tennis club. They defeated W. P. Blagden of Harvard and C. F. Watson, Jr., of Orange. After winning the doubles Alexander lost a set at 7—5 in the singles to Robert Le Roy of Columbia and then defaulted.

Sjambock Won at Latonia.

CINCINNATI, O., June 7.—Three favorites won at Latonia. The longest priced winner was Sjambock, which was 7 to 1 in the betting. This event she won by a head in the best race of the day. The first four horses came down the stretch in a close bunch and could hardly be separated at the wire.

Dishabille Won In Hard Drive.

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—Dishabille, from the stables of G. C. Bennett, was the medium of a heavy play in the third race at Delmar park. The filly was backed from 5 to 1 to 7 to 2 at post time and, after a hard drive in the stretch, beat the odds on favorite, Colonel White, by a head.

Will Join Federation of Labor.

CLEVELAND, O., June 7. — Telegrams were sent to all harbors of the Masters and Pilots' association by District Captain Howell asking that an immediate vote be taken on the proposition to affiliate the organization with the American Federation of Labor. Reports thus far received at the headquarters of the association here indicate that the vote in favor of affiliation will be carried almost unanimously.

Antinegro Mob at Madill.

ARDMORE, I. T., June 7.—A mob at Madill, in the Chickasaw nation, shot into twenty-five houses occupied by negroes. From one of the houses a shot was returned, striking a member of the mob. Nearly all the negroes have fled from Madill. The federal authorities will prosecute the disturbers.

Two Killed by Weak Staging.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 7.—Eli Fournier, aged thirty-four, and William McDonald, aged sixty-five, carpenters, were almost instantly killed by the collapse of a forty foot staging upon which they were at work today. A flaw in a piece of studding was responsible for the accident.

Wilson on Inspection Tour.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Secretary Wilson left here today for a tour of about ten days in western states to inspect the agricultural colleges and experiment stations. He will visit Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa.

Payne Goes to Chicago.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Postmaster General Payne will leave here next Sunday for Chicago, where he will remain until after the Republican national convention.

About Piano Tuning

are continually doing a great deal of mischief to good pianos. It will therefore doubtless be of interest to owners of Steinway and other pianos, residing at not too great a distance from New York, to learn that we are now prepared to take orders for the tuning and regulating of pianos during the summer months at special rates. Not only the members of our large regular tuning force but also those of our staff of experts who, during the winter season, have been traveling with eminent pianists on their concert tours, and who have now returned to New York, are available for this work. The greater the number of orders from any one place or vicinity the lower our charge will be for each piano attended to. Consequently we would suggest to prospective customers in any locality that they "club together" in sending us their orders, whenever feasible and agreeable, as the most economical and satisfactory plan. Your patronage is respectfully solicited.

SUBMARINES IN WAR

Holland Type Boat Makes a Successful Trial Trip.

UNDER WATER FOR TWELVE HOURS

Naval Officials Go Down In Destroyer and Enjoy Food Cooked by Electricity—Boat Sunk and Raised at Will.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 7.—The final tests in the submarine trials which have been conducted for a week past by the trial board of the navy department were begun last night, when the Holland type submarine torpedo boat Fulton was taken to a point between Point Judith and Narragansett Pier and at 8:30 o'clock sunk to the bottom of the bay, where she remained for twelve hours. The submarine rose to the surface this morning and had a full speed surface run, which concluded her trials.

On board the Fulton were Naval Constructor J. J. Woodward, Lieutenant Charles P. Nelson of the submarine torpedo boat Porpoise, representing the United States navy; Captain F. C. Cable, Lawrence J. Speir and a crew of eight men. A supply of food was taken aboard and cooked on electric stoves.

The submarine trials began early in the forenoon. The Fulton was taken to a point off Point Judith and from there went submerged through a ten mile course. The periscope was used successfully, the submarine coming to the surface directly between two targets off Black island, which marked the end of the course. The ten miles were covered in one hour and twenty minutes.

On the supposition that the periscope had been injured the Fulton was again submerged, the intention being to attack imaginary warships, rising to the surface from time to time to take observations from the conning tower.

Captain Train, chairman of the trial board, said that all the maneuvers had been entirely successful as was also the ten mile run.

Hard to Handle Freight Traffic.

SYDNEY, C. B., June 7.—The Dominion Iron and Steel company is finding it difficult to handle traffic in the harbor on account of the general strike. A number of the foremen at the plant were asked to unload a steamer, but they declined. An effort was made to procure men at North Sydney to unload two vessels, and thirty laborers were engaged to come here on a yacht. Sympathizers with the union heard of the plan and succeeded in inducing all but three to remain away.

Marcell Gets Thirty-five Years.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 7.—J. E. Marcell, whose forgeries of $300,000 wrecked the Highland bank, has been sentenced to thirty-five years in prison, five years on each of seven counts. He has begun to serve time in the penitentiary. Marcell was cashier of the wrecked bank. What he did with the thousands he stole is still a mystery. Marcell cannot be paroled until he has served at least eighteen years of his sentence.

Jailed Because He Would Not Squeal.

RICHMOND, Va., June 7.—John T. West, councilman from Madison ward, has been sent to jail by Judge S. B. Witt of the hustings court because he declined to give the grand jury the name of the man who offered him $1,500 to stay away from a certain meeting of the street committee. The particular meeting referred to above is supposed to have concerned asphalt paving contracts.

Assault at Shriners' "Oasis."

HARTFORD, Conn., June 7.—In a quarrel this afternoon between Edward F. Rooney of this city and his wife the woman's throat was cut, and her condition is critical. The affair occurred at Hockanum, in the "Oasis," the summer home of the Mystic Shriners, on the Connecticut river, where Mrs. Rooney was employed. The police here have been asked to assist in the search for Rooney.

King and Queen at Bryan Ball.

LISBON, June 7.—The king and queen were present at the ball given by Minister Bryan in honor of the officers of the American squadron. The wives of Rear Admirals Barker and Jewell and Mmes. R. C. Smith, Timons and Gannon and Miss Maywell were presented to their majesties. The king, on the royal yacht, inspected the American vessels from her deck.

Habeas Corpus In Young Case.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The fight to liberate Nan Patterson, the actress who was in a cab with Bookmaker Caesar Young when he was mysteriously shot and killed, took a new turn when Supreme Court Justice Clarke issued a writ of habeas corpus directing the warden of the tombs to produce the woman in court this morning.

Will Entertain For Charity.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Miss Helen Miller Gould will open Lyndhurst, her country place at Irvington-on-Hudson, on Saturday, June 25, between 3 and 6 o'clock, for a lawn party and band concert. The proceeds from tickets sold will be given to the army and navy department of the international committee of the Young Men's Christian association.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, will hold a business meeting tonight.

Charles Dallen, Alma Johnson, Esther Johnson and Clara Anderson were admitted to membership in the German Lutheran church Sunday night.

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the First Presbyterian church, will be entertained Thursday night by Augustus Searing, Jr., at his home on Westervelt avenue, in the borough.

Rev. Dr. Seymour, of New York, one of the early pastors of the Ruggles Street Baptist church, Boston, and a talented divine, will occupy the pulpit at the First Baptist church on Sunday.

An event of more than usual interest is the entertainment and strawberry festival to be held in the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church, Thursday night, under the auspices of the Ladies' Christian Work Society. There will be instrumental music and readings by a talented woman from Westfield. There will also be a feast of good things to eat.

SUITS OVER SEWAGE PLANT

LONG STANDING LITIGATION AGAINST CITY IS STILL PENDING.

Corporation Counsel Craig A. Marsh, at the June meeting of the Common Council, last night, reported on the suits pending between the American Sewage Disposal Company, of Boston, and the Cameron Septic Tank Company against the city. It is now some time since these suits were started against the city for the alleged infringements of certain patents, and as stated in Mr. Marsh's report, it is about a year since anything has been heard from either company regarding the matter in dispute, although they are in the courts.

Another matter reported on by Mr. Marsh was in reference to the petition of Mary Lawrence, who asked for the redemption of certain lands sold under the Martin Act, for $112.68 consideration. In his opinion, as cited by a similar case it would be unconstitutional to grant the request, Mr. Marsh adding that the petitioner should have made application earlier.

Still another matter, was that regarding the case of Elston M. French before the State Board of Taxation, in which he petitioned to have an assessment reduced from $12,500 to $5,500. Mr. Marsh reported that the official assessment will stand by a recent action of the State Board.

ROBERT LEE LARGELY RESPONSIBLE FOR NEEDED ACTION.

Automobiles Are Run Too Fast Over Country Roads and the Authorities Must Bring the Tourists to Time.

Strong condemnation of the high rate of speed at which the Public Service Corporation sends its cars through the various municipalities of the county was expressed by the Grand Jury in a presentment to the court at Elizabeth yesterday. The presentment declared that the corporation endangered the lives and safety of the citizens by allowing its motormen to maintain a high rate of speed "irrespective of street crossings or other places at which it is likely cars may come in contact with people or vehicles."

The presentment was the result of a complaint made particularly for the residents of Roselle, but the tenor of it made the application general throughout the county. John F. Howe, of Roselle, and Councilman Robert Lee, of this city, who has come to be known as the trolley-trust buster, were chiefly responsible in bringing the matter to a head in the jury [illegible]

All through this county the speed at which the big trolley cars run has been a source of complaint. The Plainfield public has condemned the P. S. C. for that state of affairs ever since the new schedule was put into effect. As an instance of the way in which the conveyances are run, the attention of the jury was called to the fact that one car, carefully timed for purposes of report, made the run from Roselle to Elizabeth in the express train time of six and a half minutes.

At the same time that the jurors prepared their statement against the P. S. C. they passed a resolution condemning the fast time made by automobiles over the county roads and municipal highways, and the laxity with which the various municipal government are enforcing the provisions against the evil. Such failure to enforce the law was decried as detrimental to the welfare of the public, and the municipal authorities were asked to see that the speed regulations governing motorists are obeyed.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

Manager Smith has not as yet decided with what team he will cross bats next Saturday. The Somerville A. C. team was to have played a return game at Dunellen, but they put up such a poor article of ball last Saturday that Smith was compelled to cancel the game. The New Market Y. M. A. team has an open date next Saturday and the Piscataway fans are very anxious to have their pets meet the Dunellen boys. No doubt it would be an interesting game as the New Markets have a better team this season than at any previous time.

Albert Doolittle, son of Rev. S. K. Doolittle, arrived home on Saturday from a four months' trip in the West, where he journeyed in hopes of benefitting his health. Mr. Doolittle went as far West as Pheonix, Arizona, but spent most of his time in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where the climate is very healthful. Although he has not entirely recovered his health, Mr. Doolittle is very much improved and expects to be able to take a position in the near future.

John Eike has resigned his position with the Sperry & Hutchinson Trading Stamp Co., and is at present filling the position of telegraph operator at the Cranford station in place of Charles Dunham, of Walnut street, who is detained at his home by illness.

After being in the grocery business in New Market for more than a year, the Meeker Brothers decided that farming was more profitable, and consequently closed their store for the last time on Saturday evening.

The union temperance meeting, which was held in the Presbyterian church Sunday evening under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., was slimly attended. Rev. W. W. Casselberry delivered a speech.

William Giles returned to work Sunday after being detained from business for nearly a week on account of an injury to his ankle, which he sustained while playing baseball.

The fourth and eighth year grades, of the Whittier School, are practicing daily for the entertainment that they are to give in the Presbyterian church next Tuesday evening.

Hudson Wilcox has returned home after a two months' sojourn in Buffalo, N. Y., and has accepted a position with Craig & Apgar, electrical contractors in Plainfield.

Albert Apgar, of the firm of Craig & Apgar, electrical contractors, left for Lancaster, Pa., this morning, where he will spend the week with relatives.

The election for three light commissioners and the raising of $300 for lighting purposes for next year, will be held today from 4 to 7 o'clock.

Grovel Kratzel is hard at work getting in trim for a bicycle race that will be run between him and John McMahon on the Fourth of July.

Miss Amy Sampson, who is attending the State Normal School at Trenton, will return home on Friday to spend her summer vacation.

Mrs. James Craig, of Front street, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Joseph Kissam, of New York city.

The Dunellen Board of Education will hold an important meeting in the Whittier School house tonight.

David Smith has returned to his home in New York, after a visit with friends in the borough.

Miss Myrtle Fedderman has returned home after spending several days with friends in Somerville.

Seymour Shafer, of Newark, is spending the week with his mother, Mrs. Fred Shafer.

Mrs. T. W. Day is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Maude Denton, of Brooklyn.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

It has been reported that Scotch Plains is about to sanction Sunday baseball and allow the game to be played Sunday afternoons on the local diamond. Somebody has been dreaming. The local ball club claims that there is no truth in the story.

A delegation from the Baptist Sunday-school is attending the East New Jersey Baptist Sunday-school convention being held today in the First Baptist church at Rahway.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kalloway, who have been visiting Mrs. Kalloway's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Coddington, have returned to their home at Stelton.

Fanwood Council, R. A., holds a special meeting in the Library rooms tonight to take action on the death of their late brother, Norman Dunn.

The Y. M. C. A. Symphony concert at the Park Avenue Baptist church last night, was enjoyed by a number of the lovers of music in town.

The electric light circuit on North and South avenues, which has been out of commission for a night or two, has been repaired.

There should be a large number of the fans accompany the local ball team to Garwood on Saturday afternoon.

Rev. G. M. Shott was in New York Monday, attending the ministers' weekly conference meeting.

Louis Allen, formerly of the village, but now of Passaic, N. J., has been visiting friends in town.

Rev. and Mrs. George Francis, of Westfield, have been visiting relatives and friends in town.

laws on the subject, provides for a speed of twenty miles an hour in the country, ten miles in sections where houses are more than 100 yards apart and 8¾ miles in cities. This resolution was adopted.

As Patrick Plunkitt, the sewer contractor, has completed his contract here, Mr. Gloak offered a resolution authorizing the City Trust and Surety Company, of Philadelphia, to cancel the bond furnished for the contractor.

PARK ATHLETIC, 2; LEAL'S, 1

SCHOOL BOYS GIVE A FINE EXHIBITION OF BASEBALL.

By the score of 2 to 1, the Park Athletic Club, of the borough, defeated the crack Leal School baseball team of this city on the Myrtle avenue grounds yesterday afternoon in a close and interesting game. The game was the best exhibition of ball playing which has yet been given by any of the local school nines. The lineup:

Leals—J. Haughey, c; L. Haughey, p; Doane, 1b; Wills, 2b; Glenny, ss; Chapman, 3b; Daniels, lf; Curtis, cf; Pope, rf.

Park A. C.—Elbert, c; Ovens, p; Pond, 1b; Roome, 2b; Fawcett, ss; Howard, 3b; Lyman, lf; Brokaw, cf; Slocum, rf.

DYNAMITE IS USED

Nonunion Miners Blown to Pieces.

BY HIDDEN INFERNAL MACHINE

Forty-five Men Hoisted In Air From Platform.

THIRTEEN WORKERS SUFFER DEATH

While Gang Just Off Work In Mines Waited For Train an Explosion Under the Railway Station Took Place, Killing or Wounding Nearby All.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 7.—Thirteen nonunion miners were instantly killed and eight or ten others badly injured by an explosion of dynamite deliberately set off after midnight at the Independence station of the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad.

The machine that exploded the dynamite was found and apparently indicates a plot against the nonunion miners on the night shift at the Shurtleff, Findlay and Last Dollar mines. These men had just finished work and were about to return to their homes. About forty-five or fifty of them from the Shurtleff, Findlay and Last Dollar mines had gathered at the station platform, and they were blown into the air in every direction.

The explosion occurred at the moment the whistle of the approaching train was heard.

One man's body, cut in two, was found 100 yards from the scene of the explosion. Seven bodies were laid out together, and the remnants of others were secured as fast as possible. On account of the terrible nature of their wounds identification was difficult.

Several bodies dropped into the pit made by the explosion, but heads, hands, ears, legs, arms and trunks were strewn about on all sides. Pieces of flesh were found on buildings fifty feet away, while splashes of blood were found on everything within a radius of fifty feet. The force of the explosion was felt throughout the camp, and the crash awakened everybody. The approaching train was stopped, and the trainmen rushed ahead to the scene of the disaster They were joined in a few minutes by hundreds of persons, and relief work was begun at once.

The explosion occurred beneath the platform on which they were waiting for the train, hurling many of them high into the air, destroying the adjoining depot and rending a great hole in the earth.

That the crime was carefully planned and perpetrated there seems small cause for doubt. The authorities are at loss for a clew. There is much excitement and talk of burning the perpetrators at the stake if caught. Groups of men carrying clubs are to be seen in all portions of Independence. The usual rowdy element is not in evidence.

The infernal machine which set off the powder under the platform consisted of a revolver and 300 feet of steel wire. The revolver was placed underneath the platform close to the dynamite. The other end of the wire was fastened to a chair leg, which was used as a lever.

The revolver was fastened so that the pulling of the trigger would not draw it away. The wire ran from under the station platform to the cribbing of the Delmonico property, about 400 feet away, where its end was fastened to a rung of a chair. The dynamite was placed close to the muzzle of the revolver, which was discharged by pulling the wire. The ball from the revolver and the resultant concussion exploded the dynamite. A man was seen running down the hill from the Delmonico property after the explosion.

It is supposed that at least 200 pounds of dynamite must have been used to produce such an explosion. The station was destroyed. On the ground where it stood there is a great hole, as if made by an earthquake.

The shock of the explosion was felt in every direction. The miners who stood on the platform were literally shot far into the air.

The whole district is aroused over the catastrophe.

The Victor militia, under Captain Moore, is under arms.

City Marshal O'Connell of Victor has sworn in a large number of special policemen, who are patrolling the streets with shotguns. Many union men have armed themselves and say they will resist with violence any attempt to run them out of town, as is proposed. Detectives have been engaged to shadow the movements of every prominent union leader in the camp.

Clarence Hamlin of the Mine Owners' association has arrived at Victor and has taken charge of affairs there. He declared this afternoon that the men who are responsible for the Independence outrage should be hanged from a telephone pole and that he would be only too glad to help pull the rope if the murderers could be discovered and captured.

A Victor dispatch says that deadly rioting broke out there while a mass meeting was being held to discuss the murder of the nonunion miners by the explosion. Forty shots were fired into a crowd in the street.

E. McGee of Victor was shot dead, and at least six persons were injured as follows: William Hoskins, Goldfield, shot through the body, may die Alfred Miller, Goldfield, shot in body may die; J. D. Davis, skull fractured by blow from revolver; Peter Fleming gunshot wound; Fred Strudevess, engineer at Independence mine; an unidentified woman.

Secretary Clarence N. Hamlin of the Mine Owners' association was making a short address and in concluding said, "I want to hear what the boys in the mines have got to say about this trouble," referring to the disaster.

William Hoskins, a union miner from Goldfield, threw up his hand and shouted, "Let me talk!" At this the crowd began to hiss Hoskins and cried, "Put him out!" A free for all fight followed and shooting began.

Hoskins fell with a bullet in the body, and the crowd scattered. Secretary Hamlin, who was standing on a wagon, kept talking, unmindful of the storm of bullets that whizzed about his head.

After the first excitement had somewhat cleared away the injured and the dying were gathered up.

R. McGee of Victor, who was instantly killed, had been standing on an embankment thirty feet above the men who had been fighting and was an innocent spectator.

Alfred Miller and J. D. Davis were carried to the Victor hospital.

A witness of the shooting said, "I saw them carry away three men, one shot through the head and another shot through the arm."

A pitched battle is looked for at any moment. There are 5,000 men on the streets, and union men are arming themselves. They are thronging the streets making threats.

A Denver dispatch says that Adjutant General Bell has been informed by telephone from Victor that an attack has been made on miners' union hall by a squad of soldiers. Major Taylor sent guards to aid in quelling the disturbance on Fourth street. When the uniformed men swung into Fourth street they were fired on from houses on both sides of the street. They returned the fire and raced on at a double quick until they were near the miners' union hall. At that point the mob scattered, and as the soldiers halted several shots were fired at them from the windows of the hall.

The doors of the building had been left open, and a dozen guardsmen fired into the hall as fast as they could work their rifles. After a few volleys the order to take the place by assault was given, and they jumped in. It was reported to General Bell that a number of men were killed, but none of the guardsmen was injured.

The detail of guardsmen was in command of Captain Harry C. Moore of Cripple Creek.

After the rioting Sheriff Bell ordered out all the soldiers in the region. He has also appointed 100 deputies. Wholesale arrests of union men will be made, it is said.

Soldiers have already arrested three editors and printers of the Record and City Marshal O'Connell and put them in the bull pen.

All mine owners are carrying weapons.

APPEAL TO ROOSEVELT.

Residents of San Miguel County Will Resist Military Orders.

TELLURIDE, Colo., June 7.—O. A. Floaten, one of the proprietors of the People's Supply store; M. J. Sullivan, secretary of the local miners' union, and Tony Rolla, a bartender, who have been advised by the military authorities to leave San Miguel county, have retained Congressman H. M. Hogg as counsel and, acting under his advice, have decided to remain here until forced to leave. The following telegram has been sent to President Roosevelt at Washington, to which no reply has yet been received:

"Have been ordered to leave our homes today, but do not intend to go. We, as citizens of the United States, demand your protection under the constitutional rights. The civil courts would protect us, but they are powerless. The governor will not protect us."

Miners Will Probe Outrage.

DENVER, June 7.—The Western Federation of Miners will investigate the dynamite outrage at Cripple Creek. At the session of the federation convention a committee was appointed to go to the Cripple Creek region to make a thorough investigation of the affair and to spare no one in its report.

Strikers' Places Filled.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 7.—The local freight handlers, about fifteen in number, who recently formulated and presented demands to the management of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, are on strike here. Their places were promptly filled with local recruits, and it was stated that work was proceeding as usual. The strikers demand a revision of the time schedule.

Postage Rates Extended to Zone.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The domestic postage rates are extended to the canal zone of Panama under an order issued by Postmaster General Payne, making all mail matter originating in the United States for transmission to Hawaii and Porto Rico, the Philippines, Guam, Tutuila and the canal zone and vice versa subject to the domestic rates.

Drydock Gate Adrift.

BOSTON, June 7.—An obstruction dangerous to navigation was passed by the steamer Hippolite, which has arrived here from Santo Domingo. It was seventy feet in length and twelve feet wide and appeared to be a gate of a drydock. That it had been long adrift was apparent from a heavy growth of barnacles on the top and sides.

BURIED LEG WITH HONORS.

Member Had Been Useful Enough to John Haverty to Be Entitled to Burial.

A faithful friend of John Haverty—his left leg—was buried in St. Raymond's cemetery, at New York.

Haverty was crossing a track Wednesday evening in the Melrose yards of the New York Central & Hudson River railroad, at One Hundred and Fiftieth street and Park avenue, accompanied by Mrs. Katherine O'Keefe, a car cleaner, when he saw a train bearing down on the woman.

He started to throw her aside when the engine hit both of them. The woman had half a dozen ribs broken and was internally injured. Haverty's leg was cut off just above the knee.

As soon as Haverty recovered consciousness in Lebanon hospital and discovered that his leg was gone he inquired what had become of the limb. They told him that it had been sent to the hospital morgue. Haverty objected to this.

"That old leg of mine," he said to the doctors, "has helped me earn a living for some years. I think it is entitled to decent burial."

Haverty gave orders that the leg should be dressed with a new sock, the foot encased in a new shoe and the whole placed in a coffin. A white child's coffin was used for the purpose. The leg was placed on a cushion in the coffin.

The leg was waked in the hospital morgue Thursday night by several of Haverty's friends.

The board of health refused to accept the certificate made out by the hospital surgeons for the interment of the leg so the coroner's office was appealed to and Coroner's Physician Riegelman issued the permit. The funeral cortege was followed to St. Raymond's cemetery by several of Haverty's friends and by his sweetheart. The coffin was lowered into the grave with all the ceremony attending a regular burial.

ARRESTED THE WRONG MAN

Stout Mechanic Makes Vigorous Fight Before Being Confined in Almshouse Cell.

Battered, half smothered, fighting angry, with energetic fists and heels, John Kalaher, a well-to-do mechanic, of Waterbury, Conn., was put into the padded cell at the almshouse by Policemen Michael and John Sullivan, who, being stout and not so active as they once were, are on the reserve force. Their task done, they sat down and breathed heavily in unison.

"Poor fellow," said Policeman Michael, "he's plum daffy."

"You're a liar!" howled Kalaher from behind the padded bars.

"Only sane in little streaks," said Policeman John. "Gee, don't these crazy fellows fight, though?"

"I ain't crazy," howled raging Kalaher, "and you're a lot of fools."

"They always carry on like that," commented the Sullivans.

A moment later Keeper Moran, who had arrived, was apologizing to the released Kalaher and enthusiastically confirming that gentleman's opinion of the astonished policemen. It seems that John Kalaher, Jr., had been acting strangely, and his physicians telephoned to the police to take him to the almshouse. The Sullivans went to his home and asked for Kalaher.

"That's him," answered a little girl, pointing to her father, and the Sullivans effected a gallant capture.

"We took him up like a gentleman in a hack, but he smashed all the glass and knocked out John's best front teeth," said Michael Sullivan. "Anyway, we got the right man the second time we tried, and you can't expect detective work out of bounced patrolmen, anyway."

PARIS NOVELTIES.

Kid Belts With Tailor Made Costumes—Changeable Silk.

Pink and blue changeable materials form many smart little Paris gowns. The only trimming on these gowns is in the shape of a few touches of real lace and ruches of the frayed out silk.

Skirts of dressy gowns must be long and full, with a good deal of trimming in the way of tucks and ruching.

Kid and suede belts are the correct thing with tailor made gowns, while for smarter occasions there are the wide oriental satin and taffeta pointed bands and sashes.

Plain and spotted pongees will be well to the fore this summer, and so also will plain and embroidered linens, both in pure white and in the natural tints.

Pompadour muslins are the rage of the hour. They are made up over soft silk slips of the color of the figuring. All kinds of Louis XV. designs are smart, no matter in what material they appear.

The smartest evening coat of the moment is made of dyed lace with a lustrous lining of soft louisine silk and chiffon.

The dressing jacket of today is a garment that commands great attention. A veritable chef d'oeuvre was of pale cream liberty satin, on which were embroidered maize colored flowers of velvet, the lining consisting of soft draperies of accordion plaited chiffon.

The picture shows a cloth gown trimmed with embroidery figures. The shade is cadet blue.

WHAT WOMEN ARE WEARING

Belts Are Most Varied—Undersleeves of Net and Chiffon.

Belts are most varied in shape and make, but the folded kid and suede belts are very becoming. The newest are wide at the back and sides only, while they crush down to nothing in front.

Undersleeves of net chiffon and plisse muslin come in pale shades to embellish the wide cuffs. Evening sleeves and lace berthas to match are also to be found in up to date shops.

A great deal of violet is being worn this season in all its tones, from the palest to the deepest.

The present trend of fashion tends to present a full wide appearance instead of the narrow clinging look formerly so fashionable. The smart black gown is always desirable, and some of the prettiest models are in black chiffon cloth trimmed with lustrous appliques and a judicious touch of cream white.

The combination of ecru lace and white material is voted very smart by leaders of fashion.

Quillings of ribbon are used on mousseline de soie gowns, and are seen also on evening dresses of fine net and point d'esprit.

Cream material is more popular than ever. Its neutral tint makes it very practical, for it can be given an entirely different aspect by the addition of a few touches of color.

White flannel, heavily embroidered in wool thread, will be much worn at the seashore and the mountains.

The picture shows a blue mull gown with a wide yoke. It is trimmed principally with bands of shirring.

DUKE VALENCAY'S DIVORCE.

Duchess Was Helen, Daughter of Levi P. Morton of New York.

PARIS, June 7.—In consequence of differences between the Duke and Duchess of Valencay steps have been taken to dissolve the marriage. The duchess was Helen Morton, a daughter of Levi P. Morton of New York. It is learned in authoritative quarters that, the duke's mother having asked the sanction of the pope for an annulment on the ground that the marriage had been without issue, the duchess has applied to the civil courts for a legal dissolution, the grounds being withheld for the present.

The American colony of Paris is greatly disturbed by the news of the affair.

Mark Twain's Wife Dead.

FLORENCE, Italy, June 7.—Mrs. Samuel M. Clemens, the wife of Mark Twain, the American author and lecturer, is dead of syncope here. Half an hour before her death she had conversed cheerfully with her husband. Mrs. Clemens died painlessly. The body has been embalmed and will be sent to the United States. Mr. Clemens kneels continually by the coffin. He speaks to no one. Mrs. Clemens was married in 1870. Her maiden name was Olivia L. Langdon. She was born in Elmira, N. Y. Mr and Mrs. Clemens arrived in Florence Nov. 8 last, and a month later it was announced that Mrs. Clemens had been so indisposed since she arrived at Florence that no one outside her family had been allowed to see her.

Ninety-eight Degrees of Heat.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Little relief from the oppressive heat was afforded those who followed the steadily upward course of the mercury, for as the afternoon wore on thermometers in New York registered 98 degrees, and the usual salutation was changed from "Good afternoon" to "Isn't it hot?" The weather man promises relief, however, and but two heat prostrations have been so far recorded. John Reynolds of 506 Hudson street was overcome by heat in front of 45 Carmine street. He was taken to St. Vincent's hospital in a serious condition. Adam Holenbeck, thirty-three years old, of 721 Sixth street was overcome by heat in front of 97 Second avenue. He was taken to Bellevue hospital.

Mother Is Critically Ill.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—As the result of shock caused by the connection of her daughter's name with the shooting of Caesar Young, Mrs. J. B. Patterson, mother of Nan Patterson, is critically ill in this city. Since the news first was received by her she has had a succession of fainting spells, and these, in connection with predisposed heart trouble, have left her in a much weakened state. At times her life is despaired of.

Captain and Crew Missing.

BOOTH BAY HARBOR, Me., June 7.—The schooner Bertha V., bound from Beverly, Mass., with lumber and fittings for the Great Wass Island Life Saving station, near Jonesport, has been towed in here dismasted and with her captain and crew missing. She was picked up twenty-five miles southeast of Monhegan by the fishing schooner Alice M. Guthrie.

For Great Lakes Naval Station.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The president has appointed Captain William H. Reeder of the navy, William M. Bradley of Portland, Me., and Henry M. Waite of Lexington, Ky., a grandson of the late Chief Justice Waite of the supreme court, a board to select the most available site for a naval training station on the great lakes.

An Ideal Location

Rosedale and Linden Park Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark.

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

HOW TO OBTAIN

Summer Boarders!

There is in New York City one daily newspaper which has made tremendous gains in popular favor during the past five years. Its net cash paid circulation is over 100,000 copies daily throughout every section of New York City (including Brooklyn), larger than that of any other recognized resort medium. This newspaper's readers are among the wealthy, and well-to-do, intelligent people—those who can afford and do take extended vacations in the country during the Summer. It carries more resort advertising than any other morning newspaper, so the public naturally look to it for information as to where to go.

An advertisement in its columns is, therefore, exceedingly valuable and sure to produce results. This paper is

GUNBOAT WAS SUNK

Russians Lost Ship of Giliak Type Near Chentaoshan.

WAS SEEN TO EXPLODE AND GO DOWN

Russian Commander Claims a Loud Victory Near Wafengkau—Japanese Stopped by Accurate Artillery Fire.

LONDON, June 7.—Advices from Tokyo say:

"The destroyer flotilla engaged in watching Port Arthur from the eastward reports that a Russian gunboat of the Giliak type was seen to explode and sink near Chentaoshan. The vessel, with another gunboat, a destroyer and other steamers, was evidently engaged in clearing the vicinity of mines.

"When the explosion occurred the others hurried back into Port Arthur. Vice Admiral Togo expresses the opinion that the explosion was caused by a Japanese torpedo.

"The name of the gunboat destroyed is unknown, but it had been seen before upon several occasions by the Japanese acting as guard ship at the north of the harbor."

A St. Petersburg report says General Kuropatkin has telegraphed to the emperor as follows:

"A detachment of Russian cavalry, consisting of dragoons, Cossacks and mounted chasseurs, with a battery, on their way from Vanzalen were informed that two companies of the frontier guard were engaged with the enemy occupying a position near the village of Yondziatun. A portion of our cavalry advanced toward Wafengkau, while two squadrons of dragoons were sent to support the frontier guard, and one company of chasseurs was sent to protect and reconnoiter on our right flank in the valley of Fuchau. After accomplishing this mission the chasseurs and a company of Cossacks formed the right flank of our position.

"Toward 1 o'clock the enemy began to debouch in considerable force from Lutsiatun with the object of attacking our advance line. Two companies of Siberian Cossacks crossed the railway in front of the cavalry and attacked a squadron of the Japanese advance guard, almost entirely destroying it in a hand to hand fight. They afterward encountered the fire of the Japanese infantry. Two squadrons of our cavalry and a battery of machine guns hurried up, and then retiring drew after them a second squadron of Japanese cavalry. This squadron followed until it came in contact with a detachment of chasseurs, who succeeded in firing eight volleys at a fixed range into the squadron, which then fell back, having suffered considerable loss.

"Our Cossacks were fired upon by Japanese infantry occupying a fortified position on the heights near the village of Khotsiaputse, eighteen miles from Fengwangcheng. At the outset the Japanese attempted to advance across the valley of Koaulindzyphe, but were stopped by an accurate fire from our field guns, which the Cossacks had succeeded in bringing into position."

A Liaoyang dispatch says:

"The throbbing of the whole great Manchurian war engine can be felt here. The town is animated, full of officers from all branches of the service. The real work is carried on in the second story of the railway station, being the army headquarters. Telegraph wires radiating in every direction control the movements of the Russian forces throughout Manchuria.

"A hundred yards up the track upon an isolated siding stands a military train shaded by a white tent, where General Kuropatkin makes his home and uses his movable headquarters for flying visits to outlying points."

A St. Petersburg dispatch says:

"The government has no advices of a sortie having been made from Port Arthur by the Russian squadron, resulting in the sinking of four Japanese ships. The increased reticence and increased activity of the general staff might presage important developments from the seat of war. They neither affirm nor deny the report that General Baron Stakelberg is moving south."

Workman's Fatal Fall on Comrade.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Charles Williams, a laborer, fell from the sixth floor of a new hotel on Park avenue, landing squarely on the shoulders of Joseph Davidson, a fellow workman, four stories lower, and then bounded off on to a pile of stones, receiving injuries from which he died later in the hospital. Davidson was knocked unconscious, both shoulders being broken, and his condition is serious.

Miss Roosevelt In Accident.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—When Miss Roosevelt was returning from St. Louis, within a block of the White House, one of the horses attached to the family carriage shied at an automobile and in doing so fell, breaking one of the shafts. Miss Roosevelt and her maid calmly alighted and walked the short distance to her home.

COMMENCEMENT DAY AT PLAINFIELD SEMINARY

Exercises in the School Hall Are Attended by a Large Number of Friends.

THREE ARE GRADUATED

FINE PIANO RECITAL BY PUPILS OF MISS MAY.

Miss Kenyon Presents Diplomas—Principal Talks on the Gospel of Work and Offers a Motto.

Seminary Hall, of the Plainfield Seminary, was filled this morning with the class and pupils of the school, when a musical recital was given. The programme was rendered with the nicety of touch and brilliancy of execution that mark the performance of Miss May and her pupils.

These took part: Mrs. Hubbard, and the Misses Whiton, Wadsworth, Kieb, Helen Hooley, Marion Hall, Margaret Leal, Elsie Harman, Janet Close, Ruth Dudley, Mary Wadsworth, Kieb.

The graduates, the Misses Adelene Margaret Curtis, Mary Armitage Faber and Christina Beatrice Scott, were presented with their diplomas by Miss Kenyon in a few impressive words. She reminded them that during their course of study, they had been taught the gospel of work, not only by precept but example and bade them remember that to do a small thing greatly was better than to do a great thing meanly. She gave them for a motto "Work and Trust."

A charming French play, "Une Place a la Cour," was given at the Seminary last Friday morning. The cast was composed of the Misses Dorothy Hoar, Ray Hooley, Aurelie Asten, Norma Northrop, Margaret Curtis, Molly Perkins, Queena Tillotson, Edith Griscom.

The parts were admirably taken by the pupils of Mlle. Dutris, the instructor on French, and the fine accent acquired under her tuition gave great pleasure and satisfaction. The moral of the play was the success of the natural and unaffected Lucie, who was chosen to be the companion at court of the daughter of the duchess instead of the intriguing and scheming Valerie and Caroline. Hearty applause and armfuls of flowers bestowed on the successful actors gave evidence of the appreciation of the audience.

OSTEOPATHS MEET HERE

ARRANGE FOR DELEGATES TO A CONGRESS AT ST. LOUIS.

About thirty members of the New Jersey Osteopathic Society met at the offices of Dr. George D. Herring, secretary and treasurer of the society, Saturday evening, to arrange for representatives to attend the convention of the American Osteopathic Association which will open at St. Louis on July 10, that day having been set aside for their benefit at the convention hall.

After the regular routine business of the meeting Saturday night had been transacted, it was decided to leave the appointment of the delegates, probably two in number, to the president, Dr. Forrest Preston Smith, of Montclair. These appointments will probably be announced in the near future.

The number of Osteopathic practitioners in this State has increased more than twelve fold in the past three years. In 1901 there were but three graduate Osteopaths practicing in New Jersey and at the present time the number has increased to forty-three. Dr. Herring, of this city, is one of the pioneers in the East, having been the third to locate in the State.

CONTRACT CASES DECIDED.

Trial of Suits Brought by Carpenter Against Department Store.

The contract case of William H. Kirch & Co., against Hill & Shupp came up yesterday at Elizabeth, before Judge Vail, sitting in the Court of Common Pleas. Hill & Shupp refused to pay the bill as rendered on the ground that it was excessive and the result of the trial yesterday, which was on appeal from the verdict of the Justice's Court, justifies the stand taken by them.

The second case was in relation to an allowance of $10 to be made by Kirch on some wall papering that was done at the store. Judge Vail held that although the defendants showed there was an agreement to allow $10 on the work, yet as there was no consideration for the allowance, consequently it could not stand. Kirch & Co. was represented by Charles L. Dolliver, Esq., and Hill & Shupp were represented by Counsellor Geo. W. V. Moy. Esq.

Revolution Soldiers Resting Place.

Mrs. Lewis D. Gallison, of Orange, State Regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, communicated with the Common Council, last night, regarding an old and unused cemetery along the line of the New Jersey Central, within the city limits, where several revolutionary soldiers are believed to be buried. She wanted data with a view to securing the land and putting it in good condition. The property referred to is probably located just west of the Pederick-Ayer Machine Works on West Front street.

John W. Doyle Buried.

Funeral services over the body of John W. Doyle were held at his late residence and from St. Mary's church this morning, a solemn requiem mass being held. Interment was made in St Mary's cemetery. The floral tributes were numerous.

Henry Wierenga Hurt.

One of his horses kicked a long gash in Henry Wierenga's head this morning. Dr. Pittis took five stitches in the wound.

—Fruit is the thing to eat in weather like this—fruit, and plenty of it. Scan this list of Neuman Bros. and be tempted: Florida grape fruit, fancy naval oranges, California cherries, Georgia peaches, Northern Spy apples, muskmelons, ruddy, rich-flavored strawberries.

HORRIBLE CRIME AT ROSELLE

MAN MURDERS THREE OF HIS CHILDREN AND THEN KILLS HIMSELF.

Joseph M. Pouch murdered three of his children, and, after wounding a fourth, killed himself last night, at his home near the Roselle station of the New Jersey Central.

Pouch killed his two youngest children early in the day by giving them carbolic acid. He wrote a letter dated June 1, to a Mrs. Reynolds, of Mountain avenue, Scotch Plains, a friend, telling her of the crime and asking her to come to his home and lay out the children. This letter was received at 6 o'clock last night, and Mrs. Reynolds at once took it to County Physician Westcott, who notified the authorities at Roselle. As the police neared the Pouch home the father shot the other two children, boys, and blew his own brains out. One of the boys died instantly, and the other is fatally hurt.

Pouch's wife died some weeks ago and since then he has acted queerly. An investigation as to the cause of the wife's death is to be made.

MISS MEHL DEAD.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mehl Passed Away Today.

After being in poor health for about a year, Miss Carrie E. Mehl, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mehl, of West Second street, passed away this morning. She is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George Mehl, three sisters, Mrs. George R. Schlereth, Mrs. Charles F. Debele and Mrs. Frederick B. Primber, of Hoboken, and two brothers, John W., of Hoboken, and George, who lives in this city.

Miss Mehl was a member of Trinity Reformed church.

S. S. SWACKHAMER SPEAKS ON CITIZENSHIP

Somerset's Assemblyman Addresses the Congregational Church Men's Club.

PLEA FOR HIGH IDEAL

WILLIAM JEFFERY RENDERS SOME PLEASING SOLOS.

No More Meetings Until October—Club's Record for the Past Year—Eight Social Sessions Held.

Marking its final meeting of the season, the Men's Club, of the Congregational church, held a pleasant sociable in the church parlors last night. The feature of the evening was an address by Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer upon "Citizenship."

Mr. Swackhamer's address was well rounded and highly interesting. He held up a high ideal of citizenship for the electors to follow, and set a very lofty standard for office holders. His remarks were interlarded with characteristic anecdotes and flashes of wit and humor. He was very loudly applauded at the conclusion of the address.

Solos by William Jeffery were much enjoyed. Dr. J. H. Buchanan played the piano.

Following the programme, refreshments were served, and an informal social hour was used to make the distinguished legislator acquainted with the club members. The refreshments were served by the following committee: H. W. Satterfield, chairman; Percy VanAlstyne and John Gaub.

The club will not meet again until the first Tuesday in October, when the annual session will be held. During the past season the organization has held eight notable social sessions, at each of which some address has been delivered. The total attendance at the eight meetings has been 447. This includes the attendance at the recent ladies' night affair, when 200 were present, but when the average attendance of men was figured out it was found to be 41; the enrollment of the club is 40.

All the addresses, excepting the first and the last, were delivered by members of the club.

BOROUGH'S PETITION HELD UP

COURT HAS MADE NO DECISION REGARDING LICENSE FEE RAISE.

As yet Judge Schenck has not given his decision in the matter of the application of North Plainfield borough for higher license fees. Just when he will is a matter of conjecture. When asked about it he said he was considering the case and would be most likely to take it up at any time.

It is not believed, however, he will publicly mention the matter until the opening day of the Somerset courts in September.

The criminal cases from the April term, are now being tried at Somerville. The jury disagreed in the trial of Angelo DeAngelo, indicted for atrocious assault and battery. The case of "Tony" Caruso, assault and battery, will be taken up tomorrow.

THAT PALMA TROPHY.

Criticism May Lead in Its Being Sent Back to England.

That American riflemen may not rest under even a technical imputation of unsportsmanlike conduct, the executive committee of the American Rifle Association may offer to restore the Palma Trophy to the British association, agreeing that the match at Bisley, England, last July, shall be erased.

General Bird W. Spencer, president of the American association, is said to be of the opinion that a restoration of the trophy would be the best way out of the discussion now going on, and he has called a meeting of the executive committee, of which he is ex-officio chairman. It is likely the committee will meet within ten days and settle the matter.

Children's Day Exercises.

Under the auspices of the First Baptist church Sunday-school, informal Children's Day exercises will be held in the Sunday-school room Sunday afternoon.

DISTINGUISHED JAPANESE HERE

ISSA TANIMURA, COMMISSIONER OF COMMERCE, GUEST OF DR. WHITNEY.

Rev. Dr. G. H. Whitney, of this city, has been entertaining a very distinguished foreigner in the person of Issa Tanimura, of Tokio, Japan. Mr. Tanimura is a Commissioner of Commerce, appointed to visit Canada, the United States, Mexico and Europe to study commercial conditions for his government.

He is a notable example of the intellectual Japanese with an American education. He is a graduate of Hackettstown Institute, Yale University, Chautauqua University (four years' course) and of the law department of Dickinson College. He is a Ph. B and an LL. B. He is a wide student and impresses those with whom he comes into contact as an universal genius.

Dr. Whitney is Mr. Yanimura's former guardian. As soon as the distinguished Oriental arrived in this country he proceeded at once to this city to visit Dr. Whitney.

Yesterday Mr. Tanimura was introduced to the Consolidated Exchange, at the morning session, by the president, L. V. F. Randolph, of this city. He made a brief but taking address.

MISS DEWEY'S PUPILS RECITAL

CLEVER PERFORMANCES ON THE PIANO ENJOYED BY AUDIENCE.

In a programme consisting of nearly twenty difficult numbers, selections from the best composers, the pupils of Miss Carolyn C. Dewey yesterday afternoon demonstrated to an audience composed of their friends and relatives, the progress made by them at the piano, under Miss Dewey's instruction. The musicale was given in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church.

So thoroughly good was the playing of every one of the pupils that it would be almost unfair to mention any one of them as being better than the others. Surprisingly well executed, however, were the selections falling to the five who have had the shortest period of instruction. Coming into Miss Dewey's charge last September, Miss Ethel Searing, Miss Kate Elliott, Elmer French, Lawrence French and Sewell Ulrich have, in spite of their youth and short experience, sufficiently mastered the instrument to play such pieces as Streabog's "Melodies from Weber," the "Miniature Dance," by Webb and selections from Rhode, Engel and Reinecke not only with clearness and definition but at the same time putting a sympathetic quality into their work which speaks highly not only for their aptitude, but for the ability of their instructress.

Those of the young musicians who by reason of their greater experience showed even more favorably, were Miss Ellen Ulrich, Miss Hannah Bingham, Miss Florence Smalley, Miss Laura Bristol, Miss Constance Pittis, Miss Winifred Rapalje, Miss Marion Mortimer, Miss Lillian King, Miss Barbara Fleming, Miss Marion Lambert, Miss Louise Andrews, Miss Bessie Alpaugh and Miss Emeline Alpaugh and Lee Manning.

The chapel was prettily decorated with roses, peonies and other flowers and refreshments were served to the pupils after the programme was over.

FAIR ESTATE PERSONALTY SALE

MRS. HANNAH NELSON RETURNS TO HER NEW MARKET HOME.

At the Knickerbocker Art Galleries, in New York yesterday, C. E. Smith began the sale of the collection of furniture, paintings and art objects belonging to the estate of Mrs. Charles L. Fair.

At the sale Mr. and Mrs. Abe Nelson, relatives of Mrs. Fair, purchased a number of articles.

Mrs. Hannah Nelson, mother of Mrs. Charles L. Fair, who has been living with relatives at Caldwell for some time past, was brought to her home at New Market today in a carriage. She has been very ill for a long time and her general condition is not improved.

Violated Game Laws.

A well known young man of this city is in hiding on account of the capture of a bird protected by the game laws. He talked pretty freely of the feathery find he had made, and word of it came to the ears of Game Warden Hawkins. The latter promptly took out a warrant against the man, and the latter barely got warning in time to disappear.

BABY CAMP SEASON TO START IN TEN DAYS

Institution Managed by City Union, King's Daughters, Almost Ready for Work.

SOME IMPROVEMENTS

LAUNDRY BUILDING TO BE ADDED TO PRESENT STRUCTURE.

Subscriptions Urgently Needed—Donations for the Camp to be Received by The Daily Press.

Within the next ten days the City Union, King's Daughters, hopes to open its summer camp on the mountains, preparations for that event now being underway. Before the camp can be opened certain improvements are necessary. Yesterday the work of surveying for a drain and a laundry building in the form of an addition to the camp building, was started and the laundry building will be put up within a few days. Last year the camp work was seriously handicapped by reason of the fact that there was no suitable place to wash clothing and the improvement will be greatly appreciated.

Several days ago, several officers visited the camp and they were very much afraid upon investigation that the spring water supply had failed and this would mean almost the abandonment of the camp. Work was started by men at the spring and after it was thoroughly cleaned out, the supply was found to be just as plentiful as ever, much to the delight of the women.

There is one feature of the work this year that has not been very encouraging thus far. That is the matter of subscriptions. While the usual subscriptions have been received from the same persons of means who contribute every year, there has been a noticeable falling off in contributions from others. It was hoped that many new friends would be made for the camp work this summer and that the popular subscription idea would prevail. Amounts ranging from the smallest coin up to $5, $10 and $25 help very much. There are many who can only afford to give $2 or perhaps only a dollar, but hesitate about putting their mite along side of the much larger sums. The King's Daughters want it understood that the smaller amounts are just as acceptable as the larger ones and will be received gladly at all times.

For the purpose of furthering this popular-subscription plan, inaugurated two years ago by The Daily Press, amounts of any size, no matter how small or how large will be received at this office and forwarded to the treasurer of the King's Daughters and credit given for the same in the columns of the paper. It is believed that this may serve as a stimulus among friends of this work toward supporting it in a substantial manner.

The good accomplished at this camp since the work was started, is incalculable. The lives of many babies have been saved by the outing of a day or a week in the mountains, where fresh air and proper treatment were possible. An officer of the City Union in speaking about the work recently, cited a particular instance, where a sick baby was taken to the camp in a dying condition. The change, together with the heroic work of the trained nurse, saved the child and it is today a healthy person. Many similar instances could be cited.

This season Miss Olive DeLany, the city nurse, will have an assistant from Brooklyn. This assistant, a woman of experience in such work, comes to the camp solely for the benefit she will derive and she will not receive any compensation. The needs of the camp are many and subscriptions promptly received will be greatly appreciated and help to get the work started. Mrs. Howard Runyon is chairman of the camp committee this year and she is rapidly getting the details of her department in shape for the opening.

Miss Corson Married.

Word of the marriage of Miss Carrie Taylor Corson, of Staten Island, who is well known to many young people of the city and borough, has just been received by her friends here. Miss Corson was married to William Huntington Vreeland, at her home in West New Brighton, S. I., on June 1.

John Hubbard, of Central avenue, has lost a valuable row boat by theft. The craft was tied up on South Plainfield lake. It was stolen Sunday.

WILLIAM DAY PIKE WEDS

QUIETLY MARRIED AT THE LITTLE CHURCH AROUND-THE-CORNER.

Miss Drucilla Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Smith, of 68th street and Central Park, New York, and William Day Pike, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Pike, of East Front street, were quietly married last night at the Little Church Around the Corner, by Rev. Dr. Houghton, the pasor.

The ceremony followed a bridal supper at the home of the bride's parents. Those present at the marriage were the immediate relatives, including the father and sisters of the bride, Mrs. N. W. Pike and Garfield Pike. After the marriage the couple went to the Waldorf-Astoria, from which place they will sail today for New Orleans for a two weeks' trip. They will reside here upon their return.

A few days ago announcement of the indefinite postponement of the wedding was made by the bride's parents, owing to the sudden illness of Mrs. Smith. It was then decided to change the plans for a large wedding and have the affair performed quietly.

Lost Set of Tools.

Too much interest in baseball has cost Edward Smith a cherished set of mason's tools. Mr. Smith was at the Alis game Saturday afternoon, going there directly from work, with his tools in their bag. He put the bag down beside him, and promptly forgot every thing but the game and his duties as a rooter. He didn't remember the tools until he had gotten back into town. He hurried back to the field but the tools had disappeared, and he hasn't been able to get a trace of them since.

Two Years Old.

With more than unusual pride can the officials and patrons of the Plainfield Trust Company rejoice in the second anniversary of that popular institution. The company began business June 4, 1902, and its growth has been phenomenal. Today its deposits amount to one million dollars. The company has issued a neat statement, showing briefly its general condition and invites additional patronage.

SANITARY INSPECTION OF ALL DWELLINGS

Board of Health Decides Upon Important Proposition at Regular Monthly Meeting.

REPORT VIOLATIONS

ICE SUPPLY TO BE THOROUGHLY INVESTIGATED DURING SUMMER.

Permits to Sell Milk Granted Fourteen Applicants—Public Health is Good—Births, Marriages and Deaths.

It has been decided by the Board of Health to start a sanitary survey of the city and to have as many houses as possible visited and thoroughly inspected. This action was taken at the June meeting of the Board held yesterday afternoon. Those present were President C. J. Fisk and Drs. B. VanD. Hedges, T. S. Davis, and F. W. Dunn and Charles Dunham.

In making this inspection, it is quite likely that Street Commissioner Gavett's son will be employed. He will be expected to report all violations of the sanitary code. The purpose of this work is to bring about a thorough cleaning up of the city. Defects in plumbing systems, overcrowding of tenements, unsanitary conditions of cellars and back yards will be especially looked for.

It is also proposed during the coming month to thoroughly investigate the ice supply of the city.

A communication was received from a number of citizens of Netherwood regarding a nuisance arising from the use of soft coal by the Plainfield Water Supply Company. The company had already promised to stop the use of soft coal.

Permits to sell milk in the city were granted to fourteen applicants, and one permit to carry on the business of scavenger was granted. Two applications to collect offal and one to collect garbage were refused. It was also stated that the annual report was printed during the past month and about 900 copies were delivered to the citizens of Plainfield.

At present there are very few cases of contagious disease in the city, the general sanitary condition being good. During the month of May there were reported twelve marriages, twenty-eight births, one still-birth and twelve deaths, a total of fifty-three. Of the twelve marriages, nine were white and three colored and of the twenty-eight births, all but five were white and the rest colored; thirteen were female and fifteen were male. Of the twelve deaths, nine were white and three colored; seven were female and the remainder male. There were 206 inspections made during the month and sixteen samples of milk were analyzed.

ROUND UP OF SPEAKEASIES

SEVEN ALLEGED PROPRIETORS HELD IN BAIL TO ANSWER INDICTMENT.

Arrests in the speakeasy round-up were made yesterday. Seven accused keepers were taken into custody—Bennett Britten, of West Front street; David Ramazotti, Park avenue; Carrie Carbone, Park avenue; Tony Charelleri, West Second street; James Brown, Netherwood; Lorenzo Paoli, North avenue; Thomas Barbericci, West Third street.

The warrants were served by Deputy Sheriff Weaver, with the assistance of four police officers, Sergeant Fredrickson, Roundsman Flynn and Officers McCarthy and McGinley.

The seven prisoners were taken to Elizabeth at once and this morning they were arraigned in the county court. They all entered pleas of not guilty. Bail in the sum of $250 was furnished by each for appearance on the day of trial.

Dr. Hedges Re-Elected.

Dr. E. W. Hedges was elected corresponding secretary of the New Jersey Medical Society, at its concluding session held at Atlantic City, yesterday. Among the papers read was one by Dr. F. C. Ard, on the topic, "Progress in Rhinology and Laryngology." The session was one of the most successful yet held.

Party for Prospective Brides.

Invitations have been sent out by Miss Ball and Miss Adelaide Graybiel Ball, of Myrtle avenue, for a card party to be given Friday afternoon, June 17, for Miss Berry and Miss Eleanor VanDeventer.

WILLARD D. HOWE AT Y. M. C. A.

EXCELLENTLY IMPERSONATED DAVID COPPERFIELD BEFORE A GOOD CROWD.

Although all those who purchased tickets for last night's entertainment at the Y. M. C. A., for the benefit of the association's baseball team, did not attend, there was a goodly audience to hear Willard D. Howe, president of Yale Dramatic Association, in his impersonation of "David Copperfield."

Many impersonators have appeared at different times at the Y. M. C. A. entertainments, but it was the general verdict last night that the performance of Mr. Howe entitles him to a high position among them.

In the passage describing the revelations by Micawber of the business methods pursued by Uriah Heep, he was particularly good, his inimitable gestures lending themselves particularly well to that part of the story.

An afterpiece entitled "A Glove Affair," was given by Mr. Howe in which he acted out the perplexity of a young lover who is soliloquizing as to the relative merits and defects of a moneyed but quick-tempered girl.

It is expected that Plainfielders will have another opportunity, perhaps several, of hearing Mr. Howe this fall.

STRUCK BY TROLLEY POLE

ALEXIS OSTERMOOR HURT AT WATCHUNG AVENUE STAND.

While on his way to school this morning, Alexis Ostermoor, of 645 Belvidere avenue, was struck and cut at the Watchung avenue trolley stand by the trolley pole of car No. 126, of the Netherwood line. The car was in charge of Conductor Bishop and Motorman Mark Hipp.

The boy was standing near the car when, without any warning, the pole, which is secured to a pivot on the roof of the car, became detached and fell to the street, striking young Ostermoor's head and cutting his scalp deeply.

He was taken into Cadmus Brothers' drug store and the wound was temporarily dressed pending an examination by Dr. J. H. Buchanan, who said that there was a slight abrasion of the left arm in addition to the lacerated wound on the right temple.

He was removed to his home in a carriage, being considerably shaken by the shock. At the time of the accident, the little fellow was the most contained of anyone, simply asking if it would "have to be sewed up."

PLAINFIELD HIGH, 1; PINGRY, 0

RATTLING GOOD GAME OF BASEBALL AT ELIZABETH.

Yesterday, supported by sixty-four sturdy rooters the Plainfield High School baseball team defeated the Pingry School at Elizabeth by a score of 1 to 0. The victory was a complete one. Pingry only got one hit.

Smith, the Plainfield High School pitcher, showed his best curves and proved his mastery of the sphere, striking out twelve men, while Mertens, Pingry's professional pitcher, struck out but thirteen men.

But three hits were made on either side; a single by Craig and a two-base hit by Collier, of the Plainfield High School nine, and a single by Wilson, of Pingry. The single run was made on a wild pitch of Pingry's pitcher to first base.

Score by innings:

P. H. S. ..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1

Base on balls—Off Smith, 3; Mertens, 1. Errors—P. H. S., 2; Pingry, 2. Left on bases—P. H. S., 6; Pingry, 4.

The enthusiasm of the victory over the Pingry School team, of Elizabeth, yesterday, was renewed at the High School this morning, when Principal Travell praised the players individually for their work of the season and the interest shown in the sport. The school song was sung and cheers were given for the team, Mr. Travell and Mr. Best.

Thursday night Mr. Best will entertain the team at his home on East Ninth street in honor of their recent victory at Elizabeth.

Girls in Outdoor Basket Ball.

The girls' basket ball team of the P. H. S. will play its first outside game this afternoon at the Casino grounds, when it will meet the team from Randolph-Cooley Collegiate School. The High School girls are confident of victory as they have been having regular indoor practice during the past few weeks, under the coaching of Miss Helen Monroe and Miss Moody.

COLONEL COLLINS WILL NOT RESIGN

Fake Story From Trenton That He Would Leave National Guard is Denied.

NOTHING OFFICIAL

REPORT AN AFTERMATH OF CO. K'S BANQUET HERE.

Col. Clime Also Made a Target by Enemies in the National Guard—Both Men Are Popular.

Dispatches emanating from Trenton predict the resignation of Colonel D. F. Collins, of Elizabeth, commandant of the Second Regiment, National Guard, and Lieutenant-Colonel Clime. The newspaper stories are to the effect that both will tender their resignation rather than be placed on trial before a special military board on account of their statements reported to have been made at a recent dinner of Company K in Plainfield. Both officers are charged by the press with making remarks derogatory to the members of the Legislature because of their attitude toward the Dick bill.

Colonel Collins, when interviewed by an Elizabeth Journal reporter yesterday morning, said he had not heard anything officially about the rumored trial. All that he knew about the matter was what he had seen in the newspapers. He reiterated his former statement of the report being considerably gobled and stated he was satisfied and even courted, since the matter has been given such publicity, a full investigation.

"I will gladly appear before any board," he said, "and give account of my actions at that dinner. I have been a member of the National Guard almost sixteen years, having entered it as a private, and I am not yet tired of it."

The Trenton stories go even so far as to mention Colonel Collins' successor. It says:

"Coupled with the rumor is the report that either Colonel Thomas S. Chambers, assistant adjutant-general of the division, or Major Frederick L. Gilkyson, assistant adjutant-general of the Second Brigade, would be selected to command the regiment."

Colonel Collins had not heard of his probable successor until the Trenton story was shown him and after reading it he enjoyed a hearty laugh.

Whether Colonels Collins and Clime made the statements attributed to them or not they evidently, in case of having done so, championed the popular side among guardsmen and soldiers generally.

At a recent meeting of veterans of the Spanish-American War, held in Newark, the matter was discussed informally and basing their remarks on the supposition that the Legislature was attacked by the distinguished guardsmen the veterans were unanimous in commending their attitude.—Elizabeth Journal.

ARGUMENT IN GOODWIN CASE

CERTIORARI PROCEEDINGS AGAINST BOROUGH IN SUPREME COURT.

Final argument in the certiorari case brought by John Goodwin against the borough was heard in the Supreme Court at Trenton yesterday. Justices Fort, Pitney and VanSyckle were on the bench.

All the arguments presented before were reiterated in new form. S. S. Swackhamer appeared for the plaintiff. Borough Counsel Reed appeared to deny Mr. Swackhamer's contentions. Decision in the case is expected in three months. Both sides are confident of winning.

To Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon.

Rev. Dr. G. H. Whitney, of this city, will deliver the annual sermon on commencement Sunday at the Hackettstown Institute. The service on this occasion will be in the Presbyterian church.

"The Highlands of Ontario for Your Holidays."

With the knowledge of what America has to offer the summer tourist and the rest and health-seeker, the thousands of summer travellers who spend their vacations in "The Highlands of Ontario," unhesitatingly pronounce the Muskoka Lakes region the ideal, the perfectly satisfying summer resort. Such an ideal is a combination of two features—primeval nature in a perfect bewilderment of beauty, charm and variety, along with the facilities for most of the modern necessaries and conveniences. In addition to these, the even temperature, the high altitude (1,000 feet above the sea), the health-giving ozone from pine, hemlock and fir, and the dark, soft waters of innumerable lakes, teeming with the gamiest of fresh water fish. What more has a weary, nerve-racked man or lover of nature to desire? Handsome, illustrated, descriptive publications will be sent free on application to Frank P. Dwyer, E. P. SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

John Hall was among those who witnessed the New York-Pittsburg game at the Polo grounds, yesterday.

VanZandt, formerly of Westfield, but now of Nashua, is in his old batting stride and is winning many a game for his team.

While it is not known what "Kid" Roberts will do, it is likely that he will join some team and make good. It may be that a change will put him in his old-time condition.

The crack Morrisville baseball team has quit for the season. The stock company has lost money and decided that rather than continue this way it would be better to give up.

Bradley, who played third for Alis on Saturday, is spending the week here. He says he expects to redeem himself in Saturday's game against Westfield. It is not known just what position he will play.

B. A. Mumford, who has charge of Crescent Oval, has his plans for the cutting of a thirty-foot circle on the infield, and he hopes to have the improvement completed soon. This will greatly benefit the infield quartette.

The Hartford pitching staff now includes Foxen, Parkins, Ramsey and Bender. It will be noticed that Ramsey, of High Bridge, has not been released, even though he did make a poor showing for Hartford, who still hold his contract.

Bridgeport, of the Connecticut League, has suspended "Red" Waller. Manager O'Rourke, as well as Denman, of Westfield, has gotten tired of being fooled by this blonde-hair curve-twister. He seems to have a bunch of disappointments up his sleeve for managers as well as batsmen.

The Philadelphia Athletics have released Pitcher Chas. McGeehan to Toronto, of the Eastern League. It will be remembered that he started to pitch a game for St. Mary last season against Alis, and he got his bumps good and plenty. If the rain had not stopped the contest no telling what Alis would have done to this slab artist.

The Park Athletic Club has organized for the coming season. The team is composed of a number of crack players residing in the Park. Games are wanted with any school teams, in this part of the State. Games are also wanted with Laurel A. C., of Bound Brook, and the Mono A. C. All challenges should be addressed to the manager, Tracy Howard, 80 Mercer avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

The longest game of baseball this season was played in the Western League at Omaha on May 19, between Omaha and St. Joseph. It was a great exhibition of pitching talent for seventeen innings, the score being 1 to 0 in the eighth inning when St. Joseph tied the score. From that time the game was of an exciting nature. St. Joseph scored in the seventeenth inning on two singles and an error, making the tally 2 to 1. Both teams hit heavy, Omaha making thirteen hits and St. Joseph eleven, and each team made three errors.

Now that Manager Johnston, it is said, has signed Charles Walton, the fast infielder and sure hitter of the Ingersolls, it is understood that he will play him at short, and place Quinby on second, providing he is certain the popular Yale man will remain here. Walton comes from a baseball family, he having several brothers who are stars in the business. He is nineteen years old and those who have seen him play pronounce him a wizard both as a short stop and hitter. He expects to play his first game on Saturday against Westfield.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

A handicap chess tournament will start at the Y. M. C. A. shortly, the entry list rapidly filling up.

Two bicycle runs are being arranged for the members of the Y. M. C. A. The first will take place Thursday evening, June 16 and the second on July 4.

—C. B. Rittenhouse, of West Sixth street, has taken a position with one of the large safe companies of New York.

—Miss Nora Schenck, of the borough, has taken a position at Woodhull & Martin's store, succeeding Miss Anna Morrison.

—John Auten, clerk at the Hotel Kensington, and his family, will move this week from East Front street to the Bantle flats on Watchung avenue.

—A. P. Hetfield, of Madison avenue, a conductor on the New Jersey Central, has about recovered from injuries received in a recent accident while riding his bicycle.

—If you want a good time tomorrow night go to Trinity Reformed church and attend the strawberry festival and entertainment, to be held under the auspices of the Ladies' Christian Work Society. There will be instrumental music and readings.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. George Stewart, of Duer street, has recovered from her recent illness.

Miss Daisy Snyder, of West Front street, entertained out-of-town friends Sunday.

Miss Proctor, of Philadelphia, is a guest at the home of E. M. Laing, of Grove street.

Mrs. J. B. Tigar, of Duer street, has returned from a stay with New York friends.

F. L. C. Martin, of Park avenue, left yesterday for Detroit, Mich., on a business trip.

Miss Elsie Elmhurst, of Rahway, spent Sunday with Miss Morrison, of West Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. Worth, of Washington avenue, have been visiting relatives at Phenixville, Pa.

Mrs. A. D. Edgar, of West Front street, is entertaining her mother, from High Bridge.

John H. Cose, of Spooner avenue, has returned from a week's business trip in Pennsylvania.

William Cowan, of New York city, has returned home after a visit to friends in Central avenue.

Harry Moore, of Grove street, is taking a business trip West and will stop at the St. Louis Exposition on his way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Drange were guests over Sunday of Mrs. Drange's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rulif S. Swackhamer, in Whitehouse.

Rev. and Mrs. Kionka, of Riverside, N. J., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Borsum, of Woodland avenue. Mr. Kionka formerly preached here.

AMUSEMENTS.

A number of current dramatic successes have been presented at the Fifth Avenue Theatre in the past few weeks, and to that number must be added "The Cowboy and the Lady," in which Nat C. Goodwin originally scored a distinct success at the Knickerbocker Theatre. Since its initial performance the piece has enjoyed a most prosperous career on the road, and will here be given its first stock presentation, with S. Miller Kent, who succeeded Mr. Goodwin in the principal role, playing the part with which he has become associated. Others in the cast will be George Bryant, Lotta Linthicum, Leo Hawley, Loretta Healy and other favorites. In the vaudeville section Matthews and Ashley, who differ from most Hebrew comedians, will head the list with a capital comedy offering of a distinctly novel flavor, while Spenser Kelly, will sing some of the newest ballads, most of his repertoire being formed of songs not yet published. Laura Bennet, a comedienne of marked talent and bright personality, will present some unique characterizations, while the McGrath Bros., banjoists, will offer selections comprising popular marches and modern operatic numbers.

Keith anihilates the superlative. What is the best at other vaudeville houses is but common-place at the Union Square Theatre. Never a believer in the so-called headliners, at the expense of the balance of the entertainment, Keith's bills are noted for their all around merit diversity and novelty. One act cannot make a good variety show, no matter how attractive it may be. Thus while one sees all that is worth while seeing at Keith's, in addition they find always a show of the kind that has made his name famous the world over.

LEHIGH VALLEY RAILROAD.

World's Fair Excursions June 9, 16, 23 and 30.

Eighteen dollars for round trip. Tickets good going on train leaving South Plainfield at 8:43 a. m.; returning on regular trains, leaving St. Louis within ten days of date of sale. For full particulars inquire of Frank Rowley, city ticket agent, 218 West Front street. 6 8 4 oaw

—It has been decided to have the pictures of the Senior Class at the Plainfield High School taken individually instead of as a group and to mount them in a portfolio. This scheme will allow of several poses being made by those who care for more than one.

Lake Excursion.

The beauty spot of New Jersey is Lake Hopatcong and one who visits the place is charmed with the diversified entertainment afforded. The surroundings are delightful in every respect and a day spent in the rarified mountain air of the Jersey foothills will do wonders for the tourist. There are ample facilities for fishing and boating and one who enjoys the rambles in wooded paths and the quietness of the natural pines, to him Lake Hopatcong is the gem of places. On June 19 the New Jersey Central is going to run one of its famous low priced and popular excursions to the Lake. Round trip $1, and special train leaves Plainfield at 9:20 a. m. The run is made in three hours and the entire day can be spent in delightful enjoyment. 6 8 5 eod

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

James Keating, of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant, is on the sick list.

John Hardin has resigned his position at the Aluminum Press Company's plant.

William Rankin has resigned his position at the Aluminum Press Company's plant.

John Martin has resigned his position at the Aluminum Press Company's works.

Harry Mallinson is seriously ill at Muhlenberg Hospital with an attack of the painter's colic.

Twenty-six men were laid off temporarily at the Aluminum Press Company's plant Saturday.

Michael Galleger was among those who were laid off at the Aluminum Press Company's plant.

Richard Forster, of the pattern shop of the Pond Machine Tool Company's works, is on the sick list.

George Traynor has resigned his position at the Aluminum Press Company's plant at Dewey Park.

Richard Crowley has taken a position in the foundry of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant.

Robert Hart has resumed his old position in the foundry of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant.

Peter McDonough has taken a position in the blacksmith shop of the Hall Signal Company's works at Garwood.

John Hallaway, of this city, has taken a position as blacksmith at the Hall Signal Company's plant at Garwood.

Brit Martin was among those who were laid off temporarily at the Aluminum Press Company's plant Saturday.

John Conway, an employe at Marshall's laundry, is convalescing at Muhlenberg Hospital after a recent operation.

Fred Williams, of Elmwood place, was among those laid off at the Aluminum Press Company's works last week.

Owing to the falling off of freight traffic the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad since June 1 has discharged about 1,000 men.

Joseph Walls, who recently resigned his position at the Potter Press Company's plant, has taken a position in the foundry of the Pond plant.

Work is picking up in the foundry of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant. Some of the employes are working all day Saturday and until 9 p. m. every night.

William McKinley, of West Front street, has resigned his position at the Pedrick-Ayer plant. Mr. McKinley will take a position at the Standard Oil Company's plant in Bayonne.

The Garwood foundry is one of the busiest plants in the State at present. Men are being taken on every day. A large contract has just been booked for both small and large castings for a Rhode Island firm. A new thirty-ton electric traveling crane has just been installed in the shop.

The large automobile owned by the Niles-Bement-Pond syndicate, which is driven through the streets of New York, carrying a lathe and a milling machine as an advertisement, was run into a ditch on Broadway, yesterday. It was nearly three hours before the machine was raised to the level by a hoisting derrick. The lathe, which is on the auto, was built at the Pond plant.

The Hall Signal Works, of Garwood, which has been slack for some time past, is expected to be running full force in about two weeks. Two big rush orders are on the company's books, one for the Erie and one for the Union Pacific Railroad Company. 1,200 signals all told. A large number of pattern makers were taken on yesterday.

Union men and their families must purchase union labeled articles hereafter or suffer heavy fines, and probable expulsion from their organizations, according to resolutions which were adopted by the Federation of Labor, of Chicago, declaring that the union men of the city who do not patronize the employers of the union labor are assisting the Employers' Association to disrupt the trade-union movement.

James Peney, of Grant avenue, is in Easton, Pa., visiting friends.

Miss Bella Booth, formerly of Plainfield, is visiting friends in this city.

Mrs. J. T. Babbitt, of Washington, D. C., left for Freehold, Monmouth County Monday after a short visit at the home of Mrs. L. J. Denton, of Washington avenue.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Minnie A. Callahan, daughter of Thomas Callahan, of Richmond street and John P. Owens, of this city. The wedding will take place in St. Mary's church, Wednesday morning, June 29.

Plainfield, N. J., June 8, 1904.

The whole Cabinet intends to Root for Roosevelt in the fall, believing that they should make Hay while the sun shines.

New Jersey's politicians went to greet their Governor, but saw the sights at Coney instead. Their trip was a success.

Probably to show their appreciation of the way the Chinese officials acted in behalf of the foreigners a few years ago, some distinguished Americans, Depew among the number, have been falling all over themselves in honoring Prince Pu Lon and a half dozen other heathen.

Henry Watterson has at last decided that there is a man fit to represent the principles of the Democratic party. His candidate for the Presidency is Mayor McClellan. Probably the Kentucky Colonel could be induced to accept the Vice Presidency, his suggestion giving evidence that he believes that there are at least two "safe and sane" Democrats left.

"The newspaper which circulates among the people, all the people, is the medium in which I advertise my most expensive carpets and rugs," said a high-class dealer. "Rich people do not have papers of their own, but read the most enterprising. Some of the people who buy costly goods may make you wonder where they get the money to do it. Anyhow, they do not read the magazines, but do read the newspapers. In short, everybody reads the newspapers."—Ex.

In advertising, as in flying, it is the steady, majestic sweep rather than the swift, mad flight that keeps things above the ground. This leads up to the question of whether the advertiser should seek quick, direct results or regard his advertising as publicity pure and simple—something to bring his goods before the people who should buy them, with the reasonable certainty of indirectly getting his money back with a profit, provided he tells the right kind of a story and sticks to it long enough.—Ex.

The best test of the business rating of this municipality is the price bid for its bonds and Plainfield has always enjoyed being placed at a high figure. The bids for the school bonds considered at Monday's meeting of the Common Council were all above par. Kountze Brothers, to whom the bonds were sold, bid $102.311 and H. K. Stokes offered $102.06. Laderburg, Thalman & Company made an effort to get the bonds for $101.61. These bids are all very gratifying, but Plainfield is only one of the many cities in the State which finds an eager market for its bonds. Newark, Trenton and Camden are particularly fortunate in this respect. As the Trenton State Gazette said recently: "The readiness with which the bonds offered for sale by the various municipalities in this State are taken up by investors, is convincing evidence that New Jersey stands pretty high in the estimation of the business world."

Laying Off Men.

It is said that the Aluminum Plate and Press Works laid off a large part of their force Saturday. One of the men declared that the force has been cut in two. According to some of the workmen in the shop there is plenty of work on hand, and the curtailment puzzles them.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The Junior Epworth League, of Monroe Avenue church, will hold a picnic Friday afternoon.

There will be a business meeting of more than ordinary importance of the Grace M. E. church Epworth League on Friday night.

"The Epistle that Wrote Itself," will be the topic of the prayer-meeting service at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tonight.

L. H. Biglow, Jr., and family, of Central avenue, will soon move to Montclair, much to the regret of their many friends here. In view of the change Mr. Biglow has resigned his position as an assistant superintendent of the First Baptist church Sunday school.

Is is quite likely that in view of the great amount of work that Rev. Dr. J. A. Chamblies, of the First Baptist church, has been called upon to perform since assuming the pastorate of the church, he will be given a vacation during July and August and the pulpit will be occupied by supplies.

A Horse's Pranks.

One of J. A. Smith's horses escaped from his barn back of the Smith house on Central avenue yesterday forenoon and defied all efforts to capture him for nearly a half hour. The horse, apparently, simply came out for a gambol, and confined himself to the Smith grounds and a vacant lot adjoining. He made no attempt to run away, but dodged the men who tried to capture him all over the Smith lawn. Flower beds suffered considerably before the frisky animal was driven to his quarters.

Seton Hall Commencement.

The annual commencement exercises of Seton Hall College will be held on June 15. Thirteen young men will receive diplomas. Bishop J. J. O'Connor, of the Catholic Diocese of Newark, will preside and will be assisted by Mgr. John A. Stafford, president of the college; the Rev. John A. Dillon, vice president, and members of the faculty. The exercises will be held on the campus fronting the alumni hall.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank the North Plainfield Fire Department for prompt and efficient work at the fire at my home. They deserve great praise as their quick work saved my house from total destruction. The insurance adjuster thought it remarkable that the house was not totally destroyed. Appreciating the department's action, I wish to record my thanks. John C. Milne.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

Harry Shugars, who has been suffering with an attack of neuralgia in his face for the last two weeks, nearly burned the skin off of his right cheek a few nights ago. He had been suffering so intensely that he decided to try one of Vail's famous mustard plasters, and it worked to perfection, relieving the pain in a very short time, after which the young man travelled to dreamland, and on awaking a few hours afterward found that his face was the color of a lobster instead of its usual peach and cream complexion.

All the members, excepting Wilson Fredrick, were present at the regular monthly meeting of the borough Council Monday night, but beyond ordering the payment of some bills and the transaction of other purely routine business, nothing was done. No new measures came before the Council for consideration and an adjournment was taken until July 4, when the next meeting is scheduled.

While at work Monday evening, Runyon Clawson, night foreman at the Dunellen round house, was struck by the tank step of drill engine No. 27, which was going at a slow rate of speed, and quite severely injured. He was, however, able to proceed to his home in New Market, and is now confined to his bed.

Assessor Peters, wife and daughter will sail for Germany on the Deutschland tomorrow morning. They expect to be gone eight weeks, during which time they will visit many places of interest in Mr. Peters' fatherland.

Mrs. Hannah Nelson, mother of Mayor Bill Smith, who has been seriously ill at the home of a relative in Cadwell, N. J., is slightly improved, and will be brought to her home in New Market tomorrow.

The commencement exercises of the township schools will be held in the New Market First Baptist church this evening. Eight o'clock is the time set for the opening piece.

Miss Emma Space, who is a teacher in the Lincoln School, will leave for her home in Port Jervis, N. Y., next week, where she will spend her summer vacation.

After spending several weeks with her son, Fowler, of North avenue, Mrs. Jane Vail has returned to her home in Quakertown, N. J.

Willie Staats, of Raritan, who was employed in Siriski's tonsorial parlor last winter, visited among his borough friends on Sunday.

Miss Christina Megg has returned to her home in Plainfield after spending several days with her sister, Mrs. A. F. Sampson.

The Young Ladies' Card Club was very pleasantly entertained by Miss Jessie Haynes yesterday afternoon.

Charlie Dunham, of Walnut street, has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to be around.

William Brokaw and Frank Smalley have taken the contract to paint two houses in Basking Ridge.

Otto Waldron has returned home after a visit with friends in Scotch Plains.

Mrs. B Siriski has returned home after a visit with friends in Elizabeth.

Miss Margaret VanArtsdale is enjoying a week's vacation.

Mrs. Clement Dixon is visiting relatives in Raritan.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mallen, charged by Freeman Strait, of Park avenue, with being disorderly and abusing him while driving past her home on South avenue several days ago, was arraigned before Judge Clark last night. The Judge decided that the evidence submitted was conclusive and imposed a fine of $5 and costs. The fine was paid.

There will be no change made by Manager Hand in the lineup against the Garwood A. C. team in the game at Garwood Saturday afternoon. With the game the locals are playing at present they should return home with a decisive victory.

Baldwin, at first base for the locals, is putting up a great game. This is George's first season covering the initial bag, but he is making good and incidentally helping to swell the base hits.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perry, of McKinley avenue, have been visiting Mrs. Perry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schreiner, of Mountain avenue.

The Ladies' Circle, of the Baptist church, cleared $50 at their strawberry and ice cream festival held Saturday afternoon on the church lawn.

The 6 o'clock trolley car, bound east, jumped the track at the Park avenue switch last night. Traffic was delayed but little by the accident.

Miss Ethel Reynolds, of Jerusalem road, entertains the members of the Amity Club at their weekly meeting for reading and study this week.

Fanwood Council, R. A., held a special meeting last night to take action on proof of death of their late brother, Norman Dunn.

Charles Reick, who has been visiting his father, John Reick, of Forest avenue, has returned to his home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, of East Front street, have been entertaining friends from New York for a few days.

The yearly road repairs are being made on Midway avenue by the borough street commissioners.

Miss Sadie Lee, who has been detained at home for a week with the measles, has recovered.

The weekly meeting of the Bible Study Class was held as usual last night.

Miss Cora Miller has been visiting friends in Plainfield.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Those who attended the Baptist Association convention, held at Rahway yesterday, from here were Mrs. M. W. Payne, Mrs. Lewis Meeker, and Rev. J. A. Cubberley, Bethune Dunham, Edgar J. Boice and Lewis D. Walker.

M. W. Payne is repairing houses in Plainfield for William Connett and George Shucks.

Farmers are anticipating a large hay crop as a result of frequent showers.

Early cabbage has been injured by a worm at the root in some patches.

Mrs. Stillman Randolph is reported confined to her home by illness.

Isaac Winans is gathering his crop of early strawberries.

School Superintendent Wilson visited the school yesterday.

The evening prayer meeting will be omitted tonight.

Look Out for the Captain.

Rev. J. O. McKelvey, captain of the ministers' baseball team, will not appear in the baseball togs of the great Kelly, a famous slugger on Old Nassau's team in days gone by, as reported, Dr. J. H. Buchanan, of the doctors' nine, having made arrangements to borrow them for the occasion. Rev. Mr. McKelvey will don a brand new uniform imported from South Plainfield. The game takes place on Crescent Oval, on Saturday.

Special Trolley Engaged.

That its members may attend a group rally, the members of Chapter No. 1, Epworth League of the First M. E. church, has arranged for a special trolley car to take them to Somerville tomorrow night. The car will leave Front street and Madison avenue at 7 o'clock.

Anniversary of Somerset Council.

Members of all the brother lodges have been invited to the thirteenth anniversary celebration at Somerset Council, No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., at the lodge rooms in the Babcock building, Friday evening, June 10. Initiation exercises will be a feature of the evening.

A Silvery Result.

In the game between the Leal's School and Whittier School nines at Alis Oval yesterday, the Leal boys had a walkover by the score of 16 to 1. The batteries were Harding and Taylor for Whittier, and L. Haughey and J. Haughey for Leal's.

Missionary at Hu-Nan.

Rev. Gilbert Lovell, who is soon to take charge of a mission station in China under the auspices of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, will be located at Hu-Nan and not Neng-Po, as previously announced.

Reunion of College Fraternity.

Several Plainfielders, members of Mu Alpha, of Peddie Institute, Hightstown, have received invitations to attend the reunion of the society to be held at Peddie on Tuesday, June 14.

TOWN MAY BE BURNED

Troops Will Be Sent to Victor--Mob In Possession.

VIGILANCE GUARDS PATROL STREETS

Posse, Fully Armed, Rounded Up Union Men, and Many Have Been Warned Never to Return to Teller County.

DENVER, June 8.—It is reported at the capital that troops from Colorado Springs and neighboring cities will be ordered to Victor at once. Fears that the town will be burned are entertained. Nearly 500 troops are now mobilized and can be rushed to the Cripple Creek district on short notice.

A Cripple Creek report says that 2,000 people are congregated at Second and Bennett avenues, where they were addressed by the mine owners and business men. Lynching is freely talked of, and almost every man is a walking arsenal. Armed squads are searching for several men.

Chief of Police Graham of this city has been induced to resign by methods similar to those used with Sheriff Robertson. Mine owners and members of the Citizens' alliance have declared their intention of forcing out of office County Judge Frost, Assistant District Attorney Cole and Justice of the Peace Herrington, who are regarded as union sympathizers.

Wholesale arrests of union miners are to be made. Mounted armed men have been sent on a quick march to the extreme northern and southern ends of the district to guard all avenues of escape of the union miners who are to be arrested.

All mines except the Portland, which employs union men, are still closed and will be until after the inquest and funeral of the victims of the dynamite outrage.

Company H, Colorado national guard, is under arms ready for any emergency.

Composed of mine owners, their employees and sympathizers, a thoroughly organized vigilance committee at Victor has taken charge of the government of Teller county, where it was feared that the rioting between the union and nonunion miners would be renewed. Large squads of armed men are patrolling the streets, determined to prevent a recurrence of yesterday's outrages, when fifteen persons were killed by the explosion of a dynamite bomb and lawlessness reigned throughout the district.

A posse of 300 deputy sheriffs, armed with rifles and revolvers, is now scouring the hills of Cripple Creek district, with the object of rounding up every union man and every idler in the camp. They will be escorted to the county lines and warned never again to return to Teller county.

The union men are also well armed and say they will resist any attempt at deportation. Many of them are desperate, and serious trouble may occur.

Photographs of Charles McCormack and Melvin Beck, who were killed by an infernal machine in the Vindicator mine Nov. 21, 1903, and of other Vindicator miners were found in possession of Frank Cochrane, secretary of one of the miners' unions of Victor. This discovery greatly agitated the officials of the Mine Owners' association, who declare that Cochrane shall be strung up until he discloses all that he knows concerning the outrage. They believe he has information that will lead to the arrest of the perpetrators of that crime.

It is estimated that a thousand deputies had been sworn in by Sheriff Bell. The Victor Record was censored by a special committee appointed by the sheriff before publication was permitted.

Boys playing in the neighborhood of the hole made by the explosion at Independence found a portion of a cheaply made British bulldog revolver. The weapon contained one shell, and when taken to the office of the Citizens' alliance it was regarded as conclusive proof that the dynamite was set off in the fashion similar to the explosion of giant powder in the Vindicator mine.

Bloodhounds in charge of Hugo Palmer of Trinidad trailed the assassin who killed the Findlay miners to a mile beyond Clyde Station, a distance of three miles. There the scent was completely lost.

Crowds around the depots at Victor continue to increase, and the soldiers and deputies experienced difficulty in keeping the streets free of blockades. By order of Mayor French the fire department has stretched a line of hose along Victor avenue and Third street to the armory in order to disperse the crowd without resorting to arms.

Deported Miners For Denver.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 8.—A special train consisting of an engine and two coaches bearing fifty union miners deported from Cripple Creek by the citizens passed through this city last night. It was going at the rate of thirty miles an hour and did not stop here. The first car was empty, and the second car had all the blinds drawn, and armed guards were on the platform. The police and sheriff's officers were determined not to let the deported men stop here, and arrangements were made with the Rio Grande road to carry them past this city. It is presumed they are headed for Denver.

Drowned Off Tolchester Beach.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 8.—Samuel Howard Baldwin of New Haven, Conn., who on Monday passed the physical examination for admission to the Naval academy, has been drowned off Tolchester Beach, an excursion resort on the eastern shore of the Chesapeake.

Major Daingerfield at Gravesend.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Major Daingerfield, at 6 to 1 in the betting, won the Standard stakes of $5,000, one mile and a quarter, at Gravesend. Three-quarters of a length back came Africander, the favorite, with Hermis third, fifteen lengths back and very tired. With The Picket, Irish Lad and Highball carded as starters in the Standard stakes, a big crowd was in attendance, but after the heavy rain the owners of the three last named horses decided to withdraw their entries, leaving six to battle for the prize. At the lifting of the barrier Hermis went to the front, followed by Montreson and Major Daingerfield. This order was maintained around the paddock turn and into the backstretch. At the three-quarter pole Fuller sent Africander up to the leader, Hermis, and in a few strides Africander was leading. Rounding into the stretch, Major Daingerfield moved up and in a hot drive in the last eighth gained the decision.

Latonia Oaks to Outcome.

CINCINNATI, O., June 8.—The historic Latonia Oaks was decided at Latonia by an easy victory for Clay Bros.' entry, Outcome and Memories. Outcome won first money, and Memories took the place easily. Variora, the only other starter, was third all the way. The net value to the winner was $3,750. The Clay entry was coupled in the betting at odds of 1 to 5. The track was lightning fast, and the distance of a mile and a quarter was made in 2:08¼. Handzara again showed her class by winning the second race at five furlongs, pulled up, by four lengths. She ran the first quarter of a mile in twenty-three seconds and was under restraint the remainder of the journey.

Adare Landed In Front.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The bad luck of favorites was finally broken at Harlem. Not since the first race on the opening day has a favorite won until Adare landed in front in the second race, and his margin was less than a length. Adare was the first favorite in thirteen races to win. Johnny Dugan of Oakland, Cal., who was badly injured by a fall while exercising Mansard a few days ago, is dead at the Garfield sanitarium.

Harvard Crew at Work.

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 8.—The Harvard varsity crew went over the four mile course on the Thames river, starting about 6 o'clock, but were unable to make the distance in much better than 24 minutes, the time for the trial being given as 23 minutes 50 seconds. Weather conditions were not good, there being little tide and a strong head wind. The Yale crew arrived today.

Baseball In the Far East.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The great American game of baseball has been introduced into the far east by the jackies of American warships. Teams made up from the crews of the vessels in Admiral Cooper's command have formed the Asiatic Fleet Baseball league. The series consists of fifteen games, the first of which is scheduled as the Oregon versus Flotilla.

Yale Expert Beaten at Tennis.

NEW YORK, June 8.—There was a surprise in the second round of the metropolitan lawn tennis championship. The holder of the title in 1902, H. H. Hackett, was defeated in two sets by S. C. Millett. Hackett, a former Yale expert, played a fine game in the first set, which was very fast. He lost it, however, and then Millett took the next set at love.

Racing at Delmar Park.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—Belcoove, Elastic and Gay Adelaide were the successful favorites of a fair card at Delmar park. Mildred L. was backed from 20 to 1 to 8 to 1 to win the third race. The filly had bad racing luck, being pocketed in the stretch, finishing fourth.

Cure Led In Billiard Match.

PARIS, June 8.—At the end of the second round of the billiard match between Schaefer and Cure for 3,000 points the score stood: Cure, 1,000; Schaefer, 960.

BOATS IN HEAD-ON COLLISION.

Steamer General Rammed the Conanicut Near Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 8.—The steamer General of the Newport and Wickford line, from Wickford, with passengers from New York on board, and the ferryboat Conanicut of the Newport and Jamestown Ferry company's service were in a head-on collision just off the long wharf in the inner harbor here during a dense fog.

One passenger on the General, Mrs. C. F. McDonald of Wickford, was cut on the face, and another woman passenger fainted from excitement, but no one else suffered, although several barely escaped injury. Hugh D. Auchincloss of New York, who was sitting by the door on the port side of the General, had a narrow escape from death, jumping from his position just in time to escape being caught between the colliding vessels.

Both vessels were considerably damaged and will be docked for repairs. The Conanicut had her rudder split and her railings and cabin work stove in, while the General's rails were carried away, and her port side forward was badly damaged.

Signor Spadoni's Suit.

ROME, June 8.—The Very Rev. Ludovico Martin, general of the Jesuits has been examined in court for the first time in connection with the civil suit for about $4,000 brought by Signor Spadoni, who claims that amount for a series of articles against "the Americanization of the Catholic church in the United States," published in the True Catholic American, of which Signor Spadoni was then editor. Father Martin said that he had had a conversation with Signor Spadoni approving the idea of a paper to combat false Americanism if such a paper should be in accord with the directions of the holy see. Signor Spadoni had sent him proofs of the paper, which he had returned. He had never allowed the publication to enter the house of the Jesuits nor promised to participate in Signor Spadoni's work nor to remunerate him.

Will Be Buried at Home.

ELMIRA, N. Y., June 8.—A funeral service of the simplest character took place over the body of Mrs. Samuel L. Clemens, who died here on Monday last, in the Villa Quarto, after a vexatious visit from sanitary officers and compliance with annoying formal regulations. Only members of the family were present. The coffin was taken to a temporary vault from which it will be sent to Genoa and placed aboard a German steamer sailing for New York, June 25. Mr. Clemens (Mark Twain) will go to the United States with the body.

Trolley Car Crew Held.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 8.—Motorman Fred Diltz and Conductor Howard Swick, who manned the trolley car that was run past a switch on Sunday and crashed into a southbound car, have been arrested charged with misdemeanor. More than a hundred persons were in peril, but from the latest conservative reports only thirty-two were seriously injured. In a John Doe investigation street railway officials swore that the crew disobeyed orders in not waiting on the switch for the other car.

Results In Oregon.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 8.—It is believed as the count comes in that the Republican party has scored a victory. Returns from isolated counties are coming in slowly. Congressman Binger Herrman has been re-elected in the First district, with a majority of about 7,000, while J. N. Williamson, the Republican nominee in the Second district, rolled up a majority of 10,000, and later returns may swell this estimate somewhat.

Trunk Exploded.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 8.—The trunk that exploded in the Union station at Kansas City is supposed to belong to E. P. McCarty, instructor in the University of Minnesota school of mines. There is a party of junior mining engineers in the field near Sacramento, Cal., and it is supposed that the trunk was sent from there.

Conger Bribery Trial.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 8.—At the Conger trial here Mr. Conger testified that George E. Ellis approached him with the suggestion that there would be $10,000 in the Lake Michigan water deal for him. Mr. Conger said he replied that he would not saddle such a contract as that upon the city for $1,000,000.

Middies Imitate the Russians.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 8.—The torpedo boat destroyer Worden of the coast fleet, aboard which the midshipmen sailed on their summer cruise, lost a torpedo in the Chesapeake and has returned for a diving apparatus. An effort will be made to recover the lost explosive. It cannot be said just where the torpedo sank.

Recruits to Lake Strike.

BUFFALO, June 8.—Harbor 41 of the Masters and Pilots' association of this city has voted unanimously to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor. This affiliation, it is said, gives the masters and pilots the support of 104 labor unions in their strike against the Lake Carriers' association.

Strike Keeps Mills Closed.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., June 8.—There is no change here in the strike situation at the mill of the International Paper company. The plant is closed down entirely, even the rivermen, log sorters and drivers being out.

British to Advance on Lassa.

LONDON, June 8.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Simla says that the British advance on Lassa has been ordered for June 26.

SUMMER STYLES.

New Shades of Yellow—Novel Blouse Waists For Hot Weather.

There is a new shade on the order of a deep apricot or a pale orange tone. It goes admirably with brown, pongee color and certain tints of blue.

The new white blouses are made of fine Persian lawn heavily trimmed with applique flowers in Irish lace work.

A charming hat of pale blue straw was adorned with two long feathers. They were brown and blue, arranged on either side of the hat, falling over the back, where they were fastened by a cluster of pale blue roses.

Velvet ribbons in different widths are being used to trim smart gowns of net.

Gray and ecru netgowns are thickly spangled with sequins of the same shade.

Very pretty novelty coats are made of black and white chantilly lace, and pongee also when trimmed with tinted embroidery is very smart for summer driving and evening coats.

The woman who can only afford one evening wrap will find the unlined loose coat of white cloth both pretty and economical, for it can be easily cleaned, especially if it be trimmed with a removable lace collar.

The favorite length is the three-quarter, and the coats hang very full without any goring. They are often shirred about a round yoke.

Ecru batiste blouses embroidered in white or in a deeper tone of ecru are the latest and the smartest to go with pongee skirts.

Another pale blue hat was trimmed with a band of very small pink roses set closely together, while on the left side were small raised wings to match the straw.

Organdie is a favorite with dressmakers this summer and it comes in a variety of old world patterns which can be made up quaintly with the addition of ruchings or fichus. Combinations of mauve and white and green and white are particularly smart.

The picture shows a green straw hat trimmed with a shaded feather.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FOR WARM WEATHER.

Picturesque Muslin Frocks—Panama Hats With Lace Veils.

Some of the muslin frocks are quaint revivals of old fashioned styles. They are made up very simply with full plaited skirts, chemisettes and fichus of embroidered lawn or muslin. With these are worn large flower trimmed hats. Vivid violets, odd blues and mauves are much to the fore.

A great deal of panama is being used for summer hats. The crowns of some of these are high and square, while others are tall and conical, with rather severe brims. The chief trimming is a wreath of roses and foliage, with a lace or chiffon veil hanging down.

Taffeta suits are being worn. These are made with jacket and skirt, and they are worn with soft blouses of net or lace. The favorite colors are tan and red.

Green is the most up to date shade this season.

The plaited skirt precedes all others and this is used for silk as well as for serge. These skirts all barely escape the ground, and they are much fuller than the skirts worn last year.

The picture shows a veiling gown trimmed with yellow applique lace. Notice particularly the fashionable fichu effect. JUDIC CHOLLET.

TOGO AND KUROKI.

Port Arthur Again Attacked by Land and Sea.

LEWIS ETZEL KILLED BY CHINESE

Correspondents Mistaken For Pirates—Kuropatkin to Attack Japanese on Liautong From North and South Simultaneously.

LONDON, June 8.—A dispatch from Chefu reports that the Japanese have made a determined attack on Port Arthur by land and sea. The Russians sent out the Port Arthur squadron to give battle to the Japanese fleet.

The report of the sinking of a Japanese ship in Talienwan bay is denied.

A St. Petersburg report says that the czar has received from General Kuropatkin a message reading, "It is done." What the message refers to is not yet revealed.

A Tokyo report says that Admiral Togo has stated that despite unfavorable weather during the past three days the sweeping operations in Talienwan bay have been very successful.

The Japanese have destroyed in all forty-one mines. The channel to Dalny is now open for vessels of light draft. The work is being continued with the assistance of a pilot who was formerly in the employ of the Russians.

The third squadron reports that its mine sweepers reconnoitered Nanshan island and the village of Takukou and found that they were abandoned ten days ago.

A dispatch from Tokyo says that a wireless message from Port Arthur, intercepted by the Japanese, shows that the Russians in Port Arthur and north of the Liautong peninsula intend to act simultaneously. General Kuropatkin attacking the Japanese on the peninsula, in the hope of annihilating them before General Kuroki can come to their aid. Another entire division is therefore being dispatched from Tokyo. Part of it will be landed at Dalny and part at Kinchau.

Ernest Brindle, the Daily Mail's correspondent in Manchuria, in a description of the death of Lewis Etzel, the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who was shot by Chinese soldiers while in a junk between Siwantaitze and Erdiko, says:

"Our intention was to cruise along the Liautong coast. About 6 o'clock in the morning the junk was surrounded by four sailing boats manned by Chinese soldiers, who without explanation opened fire, their shots falling all over our boat. We were below reading and writing, and Etzel, looking out, received a fearful wound in the back of his head and expired in a few moments.

"The soldiers, who were dressed like pirates, said they mistook us for a pirate boat they were seeking for. They afterward donned uniforms.

"I walked to Tienchwangtai to summon assistance. One of the Chinese crew was badly wounded, and it is not likely he will recover."

A St. Petersburg report says:

"The Grand Duke Alexis, commander in chief of the navy, has obtained the permission of the emperor to create a third Pacific squadron from the ships of the Black sea fleet, and permission has already been obtained from Turkey to take the ships through the Dardanelles on the condition that they will not return. This squadron will be composed of the battleships Rostislav, Dvenadzat Apostoloff and Tria Sviatitelia and will be accompanied by torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers and will sail for the far east simultaneously with the Baltic squadron."

A Tokyo report says:

"The commander of the Fourth Japanese flotilla, who has returned to the rendezvous of the fleet from a reconnoissance in the vicinity of Port Arthur, mentions the loss of the Russian gunboat Giliyak and the blowing up of another Russian gunboat about the same time."

Captain Ernest C. T. Troubridge, formerly British naval attache at Tokyo, now in London, denies the report that he was present or planned the Japanese naval attack at Port Arthur at the beginning of the war or is in any way responsible for Admiral Togo's successes.

Captain Troubridge is described as one of the brightest officers in the British navy. A week ago it was said that he had disappeared from his post in Tokyo at the outbreak of the war and that the British government had made no efforts to find him.

Etzel Was an American.

BUTLER, Pa., June 8.—Lewis Etzel, the correspondent of the London Telegraph killed by Chinese soldiers at Newchwang, is stated by his cousin, Miss Edith Knittle, to have been the eldest son of Gabriel Etzel, once a prominent merchant of this city, who has been dead for twenty years. His mother now lives at Silver Cliff, Colo., with a daughter. Lewis was about forty years of age and was unmarried.

Submarines For Japan.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 8.—It is said that the submarine boat Protector has been shipped to Japan from New York and that four boats modeled after the Protector are now under construction at the works of the Newport News Drydock and Shipbuilding company.

Fair Must Repay Promptly.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—In a letter received by the Exposition company Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, gave formal notification that if payments on the $4,600,000 government loan are not promptly forthcoming when due, he, as guardian of the United States treasury, will take charge of the receipts and collection of fair tickets.

ODELL SAILS TODAY.

Governor Declined to Make Any Formal Statement on Result of Visit.

PARIS, June 8.—Governor Odell of New York has made a number of farewell calls preparatory to sailing for home on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse from Cherbourg today.

Asked concerning the results of his conferences with Ambassador Porter the governor said they went over the New York situation, but he did not deem it desirable to make a formal statement, as the state convention would not occur until September.

Governor Odell added that whatever may have been said during the conferences relative to the nomination for the governorship was without prejudice to any other candidacy and was mainly tentative.

Mrs. Phipps Tells Her Story.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Mrs. Lawrence Phipps, whose children were taken away by her husband at the Netherland hotel here, through her attorney, has given out a statement concerning the recent removal by her husband of their children without her knowledge from a hotel in this city. Mrs. Phipps says that she was about to undergo a surgical operation and desired the presence of her children in what might prove to be the last hours of her life and that it was not her purpose to take the children from Mr. Phipps. She says that it is due to Mr. Phipps to say that the statement that she was bound and gagged in her room at the hotel when the children were taken is untrue. She declines to state the cause of the differences that she says "have existed between her husband and herself for several years."

Two Thousand Quit Work.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Two thousand men engaged in construction work in North Hudson, N. J., have quit work because of the refusal of the contractors to grant a working day of nine hours. The men have been working ten hours a day. About a year ago they demanded an increase of wages and a reduction of hours. They got the increase of wages, but no reduction of hours, and they served notice at the time that this year they would insist upon a nine hour day. The strikers are nearly all Italians.

Do Honor to a Washington Editor.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—One thousand of the best known citizens of Washington last night tendered a reception to Crosby S. Noyes, editor in chief of the Washington Evening Star and known as the nestor of journalism in this city. It was a testimonial of their affection, esteem and gratitude for Mr. Noyes' work and accomplishments in more than a half century of Washington life in developing the national capital through the instrumentality of his paper and as a citizen.

Shot Wife; Killed Himself.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., June 8.—Harry T. Wolff, a railroad trainman, shot his wife on the street here last night and then killed himself. His victim will likely die. Wolff sued his wife for alleged assault and battery, and the case being dismissed the couple left the office of the justice together. On reaching the street Wolff sent a bullet into his wife's body and another one through his heart.

Ideal Location
Dale and Linden Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.
FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation for prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

A BRITISH WARSHIP

Prince of Wales, at Tangier, Joins American Squadron.

SPAIN WILL NOT TAKE EXCEPTION

Minister at Washington Well Acquainted With Prisoner, Perdicaris. Says Spain's Object Is Only to Protect Spanish Interests.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—A cablegram from Tangier says that the British battleship Prince of Wales has arrived there from Gibraltar and has joined the American squadron.

The sultan has not yet answered the demands for the release of Messrs. Perdicaris and Varley, but a telegram from the representatives of the sultan has reached the diplomatic officials at Tangier saying that a letter is now on its way fully defining what the sultan is willing to do to secure the release of the prisoners. The prisoners concerning the treatment of the prisoners continue to be favorable.

A Paris dispatch says the statement that the French Mediterranean squadron has been ordered to Tangier meets with a specific denial at the foreign office at Paris, where it is added that no French squadron will be sent to Tangier unless extraordinary developments arise.

The officials say that the present efforts to obtain the release of Messrs. Perdicaris and Varley are entirely along diplomatic lines, and they are earnestly hopeful that there will be no occasion to adopt more energetic measures.

Senor Ojeda, the Spanish minister at Washington, who has spent much time in Morocco and is well acquainted with the American citizen Perdicaris, who is held a prisoner by Moroccan bandits, in conversation said:

"My government does not of course credit the report that the United States desires a Moroccan port. The only object Spain has in sending warships to Tangier is to protect Spanish interests there in the event of trouble. My government will not take exception to the sending of American warships to the coast of Morocco for the purpose of assisting in the release of Messrs. Perdicaris and Varley, the British stepson of Perdicaris."

Did Not Go to Tangier.

LONDON, June 8.—The British Mediterranean squadron has sailed from Gibraltar, but, according to a late report, did not go to Tangier.

Millionaire Phipps Wants Divorce.

DENVER, June 8.—A local attorney has filed in the district court a suit for divorce brought by Lawrence C. Phipps, the millionaire steel manufacturer of Pittsburg, against Genevieve Chandler Phipps. An injunction is sought, it is said, to restrain J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., the United States Steel corporation and the United States Trust company from paying to Mrs. Phipps further dividends upon stock and bonds formerly held by her husband, but now in her possession.

Delaware Instructs For Gray.

DOVER, Del., June 8.—Contrary to the expressed wish of Judge George Gray, the Delaware Democratic state convention by a unanimous vote last night instructed its delegates to the St. Louis convention to present the name of Judge Gray to the convention as the choice of the Delaware Democrats for president and to work for his nomination. This action was taken after one of the most stormy conventions ever held in the state. The leader of the opposition to the Gray resolution was former United States Senator Richard R. Kenney, who was opposed to the word "instruct." He offered a resolution that the delegates be "requested" to place Judge Gray's name before the national convention.

A Voluminous Document.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Enough fine tough rice paper to cover if spread out a considerable portion of the property acquired was used to engross the deed by which the Chinese owners transferred to the United States government the site upon which the new American legation building in Peking is being erected. The document was received at the state department and was covered with large Chinese characters which nobody could read.

Nine Fishermen Missing.

BOSTON, June 8.—Captain Joseph Silva of the fishing schooner Ida Silva, which has just arrived here, reports nine men of his crew missing. They went astray in a fog about thirty miles off Chatham on Sunday while fishing. It is hoped that the men were rescued by some vessel or rowed ashore.

A Railroad Station Robbed.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., June 8.—The station of the New Jersey Central railroad at Junction has been looted by burglars. The baggage and freight departments were thoroughly ransacked. The money drawer was also rifled. It is not known yet just how much was taken.

Denounced All Other Parties.

HELENA, Mont., June 8.—Socialists of Montana in convention have nominated George O'Malley of Anaconda for governor. The convention adopted a platform in which all other parties are denounced as the friends of capitalists and enemies of labor.

Suicide of Johannesburg Man.

JOHANNESBURG, June 8.—Rudolph Strakosch, a member of Goerz & Co., one of the leading Rand corporations, has committed suicide with a revolver here.

Weather Probabilities.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

The Scotch Plains ball team will play the Garwood A. C., at Garwood on Saturday.

The baseball team at Peddie Institute, Hightstown, claims the preparatory school championship of the State, not having lost one of the nine games played with the leading prep schools. The team scored a total of 108 runs. Among the teams played was the Central High School, of Philadelphia.

Y. M. C. A. will meet the New Market team next Saturday afternoon, on the latter's grounds. Neither team has been defeated yet, and a hot fight is expected. Whitley, the boxman for the Plainfielders, used to pitch for New Market. Allen Squier, the old Clinton Avenue stand by, will be in the box for New Market.

GOLF.

Among the events at the Westfield Golf Club course on Saturday, will be a team match between Cranford and Westfield in the East Jersey Golf Association series. This will be the second match of the season, Westfield having won the first one with Colonia last Saturday.

LINE ON ALIS' MAKE-UP

PROBABLE ARRANGEMENT OF TEAM FOR SATURDAY'S GAME.

Manager George Johnston, of the Alis Club, is rapidly completing arrangements for the great game at Westfield on Saturday. He is confident of having a strong team in the field. It is an assured fact that Davis and Farmer will be the battery.

More serious difficulties have confronted Manager Johnston regarding his infield. He has decided to hold fast to Gauven, who played an excellent game at short last week. As for first base he may be able to get Rothfuss, but in case of failure he may use Gauven there. The position of second base has not been definitely decided, although Bradley may hold the bag down. By tomorrow it will be known whether Charles Walton will play short. Captain Lauder believes that he will be in good condition to play on third base and that he will give a good account of himself. There has been some talk of having Jack Dunn on the infield, but nothing definite is known about this at present.

As for the outfield, Cregan, McGoey and Lynch will take care of the garden. Lynch comes from the Ridgewoods and is reported to be just as fast as the other two fielders and as good a hitter. If this is true he will be retained. The disbanding of the Morrisville team has given Manager Johnston a chance to get extra material. McManus, well-known to local fans, who has been playing on the Reading, Pa., team, would like to play a field position for Alis, but if Lynch comes up to expectation, no change will be made. McManus is a fine fielder and heavy hitter.

Stablings, who played for Westfield early in the season, later going with Morrisville, it is said, wants to come here. He can play either the in or outfield and is considered a valuable man. By tomorrow, Manager Johnston will have his team completed for Saturday's contest. He learned yesterday that Quinby, who he expected to have on second base for the rest of the season, cannot play here until the last of July or first of August. He is with the Crescent A. C., members of an amateur league, and cannot get away. If Manager Johnston completes a strong infield before that time he will not break it to take in Quinby, however much he would like to have him play here.

"MRS. WHITNEY'S" LETTER

MISS BRADLEY WRITES ABOUT HER VARIOUS GRIEVANCES.

Miss Bradley, of Watchung avenue, who alleges that she is the widow of William C. Whitney, doesn't like the way the press has treated her. She refuses to discuss her claim, saying that in due time all will be right.

She appeared at The Daily Press office this morning in deep mourning and requested that the following letter be given publicity:

Editor, The Daily Press:

Kindly insert the following in your paper. The New York Tribune has fallen in error in making the statement in regard to my writing to men. I am and have been for many years a song and recitation writer and as The Press is aware of the old saying, "the pen is mightier than the sword," I am at liberty to use the same in a good cause. If all writers are considered insane, God help the newspaper business, the magazine and novel creator, and the book-selling business in general. The disparaging and insulting remarks of the would-be friend of my husband's would do better if "before his own door he swept." As for the reflection on the Catholic church his remarks imply, this I now say in justice to them: Mr. W. C. Whitney and myself were both members of the Episcopal church, therefore not married in the Catholic church. I have written for them and have the kindest and warmest friends among them, and do not wish by wrong statements any mean conception be on their truly beautiful religion. In due season my affairs will be public property, if necessary. As it is a newspaper's business to set to right wrongs, if it wishes success to crown it, I send this statement to be published. Very sincerely,

Mrs. W. C. Whitney.

AUTHOR OF HUMOR IN HIS FANWOOD HOME

A Sketch of Charles Battell Loomis, Who Has Made Millions Laugh.

HIS MANY BOOKS

STORY OF HIS CAREER PUBLISHED IN THE NEWARK NEWS.

Threw Up a Job As a Clerk to Write the Funny Things in Life—Has Contributed to Most of the Magazines.

The Newark Evening and Sunday News published the following sketch of Charles Battell Loomis, of Fanwood, in its issue of Sunday, May 29:

"Over in Fanwood lives Charles Battell Loomis, whose humorous writings have found their way at some time or other into almost every household in the land. The other day a reporter sought him out on his little 'farm' and, after a good deal of persuasion, got this doctor of fun to forget his books and tell him something about himself.

"Eighteen years ago Mr. Loomis made up his mind that the life of a clerk in the Nassau Gas Company's office in New York was not to his fancy, and that he could spend his days a good deal more profitably by letting others know of the funny things in the world. He was a graduate of the Polytechnic Institute. While yet a clerk he had sent some contributions to the comic weeklies and his donations found their way to the waste basket. In fact, it was six years before Mr. Loomis saw any of his stuff in type.

"When he threw up his job in the gas office, Mr. Loomis settled on a farm at Torringford, Litchfield county, Conn. He stayed there until five years ago, and during all that time he worked, not on the farm, for agriculture was no more his taste than clerking. He devoted his days to writing up funny things, or rather what he thought were funny things, in everyday life. Some of these got into print and others didn't. According to Mr. Loomis, most of them got no further than a discriminating editor's desk. Anyhow he made enough to live on and found time to give some readings—from other people's work.

"Not noticing anything in his general appearance to denote that he possessed any fund of wit, the correspondent asked him where his gift came from. It was inherited. Yes, his grandfather, whose chief claim to fame lies in the fact that he was the first minister in Bangor, Me., was known as a man of quaint humor. In the Annals of the American Pulpit is the statement that Rev. Harvey Loomis, pastor of the Congregational church at Bangor during the early part of the nineteenth century, had a strong sense of humor.

"About 1887 many comic papers afforded space for his brightness. In addition to jokes, here and there among the files of the comic papers, were short sketches from his pen. Since that time there has hardly been a magazine in the country which has not at some period contained more or less writings by the farmer-humorist.

"The newspapers have published a number of Mr. Loomis's articles, and at the present time the New York Herald is running some of his stories in its Sunday supplement. 'Jack's Adventure' appeared in that medium some time ago. 'The Yankee Enchantments' originally appeared in The Sun, and 'Tales of an Ugly Brass Lamp,' which has not been done into book form, came out in the New York Press.

"While grinding out for the magazines, he has found some time to devote to still more lucrative employment. In 1899 'Just Rhymes' was published by the house of R. H. Russell for him. The collection of verses took well, and Mr. Loomis hints that he realized enough to start his boys in the chicken raising business. He says that the little Loomises now raise both chickens and prices, and that he is the victim of their good turn of fortune, most of the birds being consumed at his table.

"A year later 'The Four-masted Catboat,' a collection of thirty odd humorous sketches, was issued. The book is named for the first story of the lot, and it, like all the others, is enjoyable to a degree. Although Mr. Loomis has contributed many tales for children to various magazine publishers, including St. Nicholas and The

NO SPECIAL ELECTION NOW

JUDGE LANNING'S SUCCESSOR AS REPRESENTATIVE TO BE CHOSEN.

Governor Murphy has received the resignation of Judge William M. Lanning, of the United States district court, as representative in Congress from the Fourth district.

The resignation brought up the question whether the Governor would have to call a special election to choose Judge Lanning's successor.

The Governor says he does not wish to do so unless it becomes absolutely necessary, as he desires to save the heavy expense it would entail. The matter has been referred to the attorney general.

Attorney General McCarter said that as an offhand impression he does not believe a special election to choose Mr. Lanning's successor is necessary. He takes this view because there is no change in congressional districts as there was in the Salmon case, and therefore no legal necessity to go to the expense of a special election.

COUNTY ENDEAVORERS TO MEET

REV. W. T. S. LUMBAR TO SPEAK AT TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

The Christian Endeavorers of Union county will hold their annual meeting at Trinity Reformed church tomorrow night. An excellent programme has been arranged for the meeting.

Rev. W. T. S. Lumbar, of Newark, formerly State president of the Endeavorers, will be the speaker of the evening. He is so well known as a bright, entertaining and inspiring speaker that is is probable a large audience will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear him.

The banner of the county union, now held by the Bethany Chapel Society, of Elizabeth, will be a part of the decorations and will be awarded to the society having the largest percentage of its members present. No notices of the meeting have been sent to the local societies, but it is hoped that large delegations will attend from Elizabeth.

The Christian Endeavorers of Trinity Reformed church have never before entertained the county union. The choir of the church will sing. Officers will be elected and there will be other interesting exercises.

ELKS INCREASING IN NUMBERS

YOUNGEST LODGE IN PLAINFIELD ALREADY HAS 100 ON ITS ROLL.

Members are still pouring into Plainfield Lodge, B. P. O. E., No. 885. The list contains 100 names now, and there is a waiting list of a score or more. Seven new members were put through last night at the regular weekly meeting.

On account of the long waiting list, and because the new Elks have found the lodge such a fine one for sociability and camaraderie, the question of suspending the meetings for the summer, as is usual in orders of the kind, has not yet been settled. Under ordinary circumstances, the lodge would quit business until cooler weather made the rooms bearable, but in order to get the anxious ones in out of the wet, it is not unlikely that the meetings will go on without cessation.

Express Company's Souvenirs.

In commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding the United States Express Company, 1854-1904, the company is distributing to its friends a handsome gold-plated medal, on one side of which is the familiar trade-mark of the company, a horseshoe, in the center of which is a small safe on either side of which are wings. The whole is surrounded by a wreath. On the reversed side is the inscription. E. Wickham Mills, the local manager, is very proud of his company's showing.

Fifth Wedding Anniversary.

Celebrating the fifth anniversary of their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reeder, of Stebbins place, entertained a number of friends at their home last night. Games and music were the features. Early in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Reeder entertained twelve intimate friends, all of whom had been present at their wedding, at dinner.

Orchestra at Church Service.

The Y. M. C. A. Symphony orchestra will assist in the musical part of the Children's Day exercises at the Park Avenue Baptist church on Sunday morning.

MISS L. F. CHAMBERLIN WEDS MAURICE F. ANSON

Ceremony Takes Place at the Home of Bride's Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chamberlin.

TWO HUNDRED PRESENT

MISS KATHARINE BACH, OF NEW YORK, AS BRIDESMAID.

Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey Officiates—George Ianson, of Somerville, Best Man—The Couple to Reside Here.

Beneath a floral bower and surrounded by friends and relatives, Miss Lottie Frances Chamberlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Chamberlin, of East Third street, was married to Maurice J. Anson at 8 o'clock last night.

The parlor was handsomely decorated and the bower, where the ceremony was performed, was draped with one large American flag, while another of fine silk and heavily fringed, formed the back of this beautiful nook, which was completely banked in with a mass of ferns and peonies.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel. The bride's gown was of point d'esprit over white silk, while the bridesmaid, Miss Katherine Bach, of New York, wore white albatross and the flower girl, Miss Marion Miller, wore white organdie. When the bride left for the train she was tastefully costumed in a travelling dress of pongee silk.

The bridesmaid and flower girl received hand-painted gauze fans from the bride, while the groom's gifts to the best man, George Ianson, of Somerville, and the ushers, Joseph Stevens and Robert Ianson, of Plainfield, and Clarence Chamberlin, of Westfield, consisted of gold sleeve links in the design of friendship knots.

The bride received a large number of valuable and handsome articles of china, glassware, linen, silver and furniture, among which were a silver service from Old Glory Council, Daughters of Liberty, in which organization the bride stood Councilor, and an elaborate and expensive skirt from her employers factory, made under his personal supervision.

After the ceremony, the guests, who numbered nearly two hundred, were treated to a bountiful collation which Caterer Fred Covely had prepared. After a long and enjoyable evening, the assembly broke up and the happy pair left for Philadelphia and Atlantic City to be gone some time. On boarding the 1:17 train, however, they discovered that some of their friends had come to give them an introduction to their fellow-passengers, which they did by means of posters which they distributed through the train. These posters were printed with the words "We have just been married."

Mr. and Mrs. Anson will return here in two weeks or less and establish their residence here.

MONO ATHLETIC CLUB WINS

PLAINFIELD BOYS DEFEAT DUNELLEN BY SCORE OF 7 TO 2.

The Mono A. C. ball team defeated the Dunellen Field Club nine in an interesting game at Dunellen yesterday by a score of 7 to 2. The Dunellen team lost the game through errors by their second baseman, Smith.

A feature of the game was the excellent all-round work of "Manny" Mullin, of Plainfield, who played at short for the Dunellen boys. Following is the score by innings:

Mono A. C..... 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—7
Dunellen F. C... 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—2

Batteries — Conover and Webster; "Amy" Bogardus and Giles.

No More Dances.

Like the Criterion Club, the I. C. T. Club has decided not to give any dances during the warm weather. Both organizations were active last summer, but it has been decided that summer dances in town are much to Tophetish to make them worth the trouble of planning. In the autumn the I. C. T. will re-open the social whirl with an elaborate reception.

Social Postponed.

Three more members were added to the roll at the meeting of the Hope Chapel Y. M. A. Tuesday night. The much-postponed sociable was again put off, this time until June 21.

BRIDAL PARTY ENTERTAINED

DR. AND MRS. MARCUS L. CLAWSON GAVE A DINNER LAST NIGHT.

Dr. and Mrs. Marcus L. Clawson gave a dinner at their home on East Front street, last night, for the members of the bridal party who are to take part in the wedding of Miss Louella A. Clawson and Asa F. Randolph at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, tonight.

These persons were present at the dinner: Miss Cora Tomlinson, of New York, who is to be bridesmaid; Charles M. Dolliver, of the borough, the best man; Miss Louella A. Clawson, the bride; Asa F. Randolph, the groom; Alfred Holmes, of Brooklyn; Henry L. Maxson, of New York; Orra S. Rogers and Dr. Marcus L. Clawson, ushers and Mrs. Marcus L. Clawson.

MISS E. G. TURNEY A BRIDE

WASHINGTONVILLE BELLE WEDS FREDERICK W. HOSE, OF NEWARK.

Miss Elisabeth Gilmore Turney, of Washingtonville, and Frederick William Hose, of Newark, were married last night at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Samuel J. Kutze, Washingtonville, by Rev. Isaac B. Hopewood, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church, Newark. There were many guests present from this city, Washingtonville and vicinity and Newark. The house was attractively decorated with flowers and greens.

The bride and groom were unattended. The bride's wedding gown was of crepe de chine, while her travelling gown was of blue voile over taffeta. After the ceremony a reception was held and supper was served. Later Mr. and Mrs. Hose left for a two months' wedding trip which will be spent at Bar Harbor and in Canada.

The groom is engaged in Newark as a grocer and both he and his wife are popular in a large circle of friends. They received a great many gifts from relatives and friends.

FOUR DWELLINGS.

Permits for Their Erection Granted the Merchantile and Realty Co.

Applications have been filed with Building Inspector T. O. Doane for four two and a half story frame dwellings to be erected on West Third street, near Plainfield avenue, by the Mercantile and Realty Company.

These houses are to be built adjoining each other and will be twenty-six feet deep by twenty feet front. It is the intention of the company to begin construction immediately after the permits are issued.

C. M. Dewey Dead.

Charles M. Dewey, who formerly resided at 412 East Fifth street, and who moved to St. Louis, six years ago, was found dead on the outskirts of the city on Monday morning, after being absent from his home since the preceding Wednesday. The body, which was found in a clump of bushes, bore no marks of violence and it is the belief of the city that Mr. Dewey died a natural death due to a long illness. He was engaged in the clothing business in St. Louis and a member of the Masonic order. He leaves a wife and two sons.

High School Cadets Drill.

The High School battalion will drill in Company K's armory this afternoon preparatory to the exhibition drill tomorrow on Crescent Oval. The exhibition drill will be held under command of Major Anderson, with Captain Edwards, of Cranford, formerly commandant of the cadets here, as reviewing officer. Bronze medals will be presented to those who have maintained an attendance of 100 per cent. during the spring drills.

Defendants Secure Counsel.

Five of the accused speakeasy operators have secured lawyers to defend them. Mrs. Carrie Carbone and David Ramazotti are represented by William G. DeMeza, Esq., Bennett Britten and James Brown are to be defended by Codington & Swackhamer and J. P. Owens, Esq., will appear for Thomas Charelleri.

P. S. C. Testimonial.

The Union County Grand Jury has presented the Public Service Corporation with a reputation of giving the people of Roselle rapid transit. The trolley company, by rights, ought to pay for the testimonial and use it for advertising purposes.—Newark Evening News.

—Much has been said and sung in praise of good coffee. All of it applies to the coffee sold by Neuman Bros. Fine for iced drink—splendid for any coffee use.

CONGRESSIONAL CALIBRE LACKING IN THOMPSON

Former Senator of Somerset County Has Not the Qualifications to Represent District.

STRONG OPPOSITION

STATE GAZETTE OF TRENTON DISCUSSES HIS CANDIDACY.

Intimates That He Puts Personal Interests Above Those of His Party—Not Known in the District.

The Daily State Gazette, Republican, of Trenton, does not think that former State Senator Lewis A. Thompson, of Somerville, is of congressional calibre and consequently it is opposed to any boom which has for its object his selection as successor to Judge Lanning. The Trenton paper says editorially:

"The Times suggests that if Somerset County is disposed to present a man for Congress to succeed William M. Lanning, it thrust to the fore Lewis A. Thompson.

"Mr. Thompson is remembered as a passive member of the Legislature, who has more or less influence in Somerset County but who has not always held the interests of his party above personal interests.

"Mr. Thompson undoubtedly has the character necessary to the office of Congressman, but there is good reason to doubt that he measures up to that position fully.

"He has made whatever success in life he enjoys in the millinery business and no doubt, understands it from a to izzard, but when the Fourth district selects a man to succeed William M. Lanning in Congress, he should be one of force and capable of holding his own with the representatives of any other Congressional district in the United States.

"There are such men in the Fourth Congressional district and they would, we believe, accept the nomination. Mr. Thompson has not an impressive personality. He is not a man who is capable of going among strangers and blazing his way into popular favor. He is undoubtedly a good and conscientious man, but the office of representative in Congress calls for more than that.

"Outside of Somerset County, Mr. Thompson is not known. The Times says that he was for several years engaged in business in Trenton, but we venture the opinion that not one per cent. of the people of Trenton ever heard of him.

"There is nothing in this speculation that should weigh against Mr. Thompson's character, citizenship or ability, so far as the ordinary affairs of business go, but the man nominated for Congressman by the Republican party next fall should be one capable of making votes either by coming in personal contact with voters or by influencing them from the public platform.

"Mr. Thompson would be weak in either position."

A LOCAL SOCIETY DIRECTORY

REGISTRY IN WHICH NONE BUT NAMES OF THE "400" ARE TO APPEAR.

Plainfield is to have one of those awe-inspiring things known as a "social register." A directory from which the names of everybody but the "most prominent families" is to be excluded is in process of completion.

The advance notice of the compiler says that the book is intended as a "convenient reception or visiting list." It is to contain the names, addresses and reception days of the elite of Plainfield and vicinity. In addition to this, there will be the names and addresses of non-residents lately married or removed, alphabetically arranged in groups according to each houshold. The compiler says the need for the book has long been felt here.

It is expected that the volume will be out in the latter part of the autumn. It is to be bound attractively, so as not to appear out of place in the drawing room.

Mr. Brooks' Bungalow.

Plans are being completed by Architect Edward V. French, of this city, for a large bungalow to be built at Jupiter, Florida, for Warren Brooks, Esq., who formerly resided on Myrtle avenue, Washington Park. Mr. French also has the plans for a $5,000 residence at Metuchen for George W. Greason.

THE PROHIBITION CONVENTION

COLD WATER PARTY TO NOMINATE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNORSHIP.

The Prohibition State convention, which meets in Association Hall, Trenton, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, will be one of the largest ever held in the history of the party in this State, there being nearly 400 delegates elected. The work of the convention will be to nominate a candidate for Governor.

It is the general wish of the party that Joel G. VanCise, of Summit, permit the use of his name, but he has not yet given his consent.

Besides nominating a candidate for Governor, there will be thirty-six delegates named to attend the National Prohibition convention, which meets at Indianapolis the last of the month.

The choice of twelve presidential electors and the election of a State chairman, secretary, treasurer and executive committee will be other matters requiring attention.

PUPILS ANNUAL RECITAL

CREDITABLE WORK ON PIANO BY THOSE UNDER MISS MARSH'S INSTRUCTION.

With much credit to themselves and to their instructor, the piano pupils of Miss Anna O. Marsh gave their annual recital yesterday afternoon. The affair was held at Miss Marsh's home on Madison avenue. Parents and friends in large numbers attended.

The programme was vastly enjoyed, and the listeners needed no sympathetic friendliness to help them to the enjoyment. The playing was remarkably good, strong of touch, and distinguished by character and verve. After the recital the audience was very lavish in its praise of the players. Miss Marsh was warmly congratulated upon the way in which the pupils had performed.

These pupils took part in the programme presented: Bessie and Grace Stephenson, Helen L. Smith, Marguerite and Ethel VanZandt, Roy M. McCutcheon, Mrs. Probasco and Mrs. Beedle, Edna Sebring, George M. Rittenhouse, Misses Weston and Mac Intosh.

Following the recital a reception was held.

COL. CLIME'S QUEER ACTION

REPORTED TO DENY ACCOUNTS OF HIS SPEECH AT CO. K'S BANQUET.

The publication of the statement that Colonel J. Frank Clime, of Burlington, and Colonel Collins, of Trenton, would resign their commissions in the National Guard rather than submit to an investigation of the reports that they had maligned the recent Legislature in speeches at a banquet in Plainfield, brought an emphatic denial from Clime at Burlington on Tuesday.

"I have not, nor have I ever, entertained the least intention of resigning," he said. "Such a thing is absurd. The originator of the statement that I would give up my office sooner than court an investigation certainly does not know Clime. When I go out of the Guard it will be only in full compliance with the laws of the organization; resignation cannot be forced upon me.

"I have made no attempt to dodge the investigation. There is no reason for so doing. The report of my speech at Plainfield was a prevarication of the most pronounced type. Up to this time I have not considered it worth contradicting. I said nothing conflicting with any law or rule of the State or Guard and I stand prepared to offer proof thereof before any body appointed to investigate the matter."

McLane in the Box.

One of the local fans of the pronounced type visited Westfield yesterday, and was informed most assuredly that the Westfield team would win Saturday's game with Alis. The Mt. Aarat bunch declares that Alis will not have a ghost of a show. It is expected that McLane, the Fordham College twirler, will occupy the box for Westfield. It is not known whether there will be any other changes in the Westfield lineup, although Manager Denman can be depended upon to present the real article.

Volunteer Firemen to Parade.

Warren Engine Company, North Plainfield Firemen's Exempt Association, will take part in the parade at Flemington next October. The invitation from the Flemington department was accepted by the Warren met at a meeting Tuesday night.

QUAKER CITY BRIDE FOR HENRY B. DRAKE

Miss Edna Pusey Williams, of Philadelphia, is Wedded to a Well-Known Boroughite.

FRIENDS' CEREMONY

GEORGE A. HORNE, OF NORTH PLAINFIELD, AS BEST MAN.

Marriage Takes Place at Richard D. Williams' Home on Darrow Avenue—Miss Elizabeth A. Williams As Bridesmaid.

Miss Edna Pusey Williams, daughter of the late Henry B. Williams, of Philadelphia, was quietly wedded to Henry Baldwin Drake, of 34 Duer street, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The ceremony was held at the residence of a cousin of the bride, Richard D. Williams, of 600 Darrow avenue. Owing to the recent death of the bride's father, the guests were limited to members of the two families and a few intimate friends.

As the bride is a member of the Philadelphia Society of Friends, the Friends' service was followed. It was presided over by overseers appointed by the Race Street Meeting House, Philadelphia. The overseers present were Mr. and Mrs. George D. Miller and Miss Mary E. Dunham.

Simplicity and impressiveness were happily combined in the ceremony. The bride was gowned in white chiffon and wore a tulle veil caught up at the forehead with a sprig of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and sweet peas. Her attendant was Miss Elizabeth A. Williams, a sister, of Philadelphia, who was gowned in white mousseline de soie over green taffeta. Her bouquet was of marguerites. The best man was George A. Horne, of Willow avenue, a classmate of the groom in the borough and city high schools.

The parlor, where the ceremony was performed, was effectively decorated with daisies and ferns. After the guests, who numbered fifty in all, had signed the marriage certificate according to the custom of the Friends, the bridal supper was served. The table decorations were green and white.

Early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Drake departed on a week's outing after a rousing send off from their friends. On their return they will take up their residence at 34 Duer street, where they will be "at home" after October.

The bride has frequently visited here and has a large circle of friends in city and borough. It was while a guest at the home of her uncle, E. P. Williams, of West Seventh street, that she first met Mr. Drake.

Mr. Drake is a native of Plainfield. He was graduated from the North Plainfield public school in 1903 and from the city High School in 1895. He completed a course at the Philadelphia Textile School and is now on the selling force of the American Woolen Co. He is a member of the First Baptist church.

Among the beautiful gifts for the young people was a complete silver service from the employes of the American Woolen Company.

G. A. R.'s Convention.

The annual encampment of the G. A. R., of New Jersey, will be held at Asbury Park commencing Wednesday, June 15, and it is expected that there will be a large delegation from Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, of this city, also from the Woman's Relief Corps, as the women's organization will hold its annual convention at the same time. So far as known there are no local aspirants for department honors.

Fourth Regiment Chosen.

The Fourth Regiment of Jersey City has been designated by Governor Murphy to represent the State at the coming military maneuvers at Manassas, Va.

The selection was made upon the recommendation of the State Military Board, which considered the matter at its meeting last Tuesday. The maneuvers will be under the control of the regular army.

Suit Against A. B. Roselli.

Fred Ivamy has sued A. B. Roselli, proprietor of the Hotel Roselli, for a fish bill. The demand is $100. The case will be heard in Justice Huff's court Monday afternoon. Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., of the law firm of Hetfield & Hetfield, will appear for the plaintiff.

Strawberry Festival.

Marconnier chapel will hold its annual strawberry and ice cream festival on Tuesday night, June 14, on the Teeple's lawn, Park avenue.

Among the many merchants who claim to set a standard either for price or quality, Peck holds his place at the top. You can cool off very comfortably these hot days in his large, cool and airy store while examining some of the fabrics that he has on hand for summer.

There are always specials of one kind or another at L. C. Ortner's grocery, Park avenue and Fourth street. Pretty nearly everything he offers is special as compared with other store offerings, but there are special specials that no housewife can afford to overlook. This week there are remarkable values in fine Mocha and Java coffees, Maracaibo coffee, O'Donohue's Fifth Avenue Coffee and Alaska salmon.

David Dreier, proprietor of the new trunk and leather goods' store, 110 West Front street, makes a specialty of trunks and leather goods, which he sells at popular prices. A few days ago Mr. Dreier observed a man looking at some trunks on the sidewalk, and said to him, "Can I sell you a nice trunk today?" and was met with the reply, "and what the dickens do ol be after want in a trunk?" To put your clothes in of course, said Mr. Dreier. "And go naked—by my soul not a bit of it."

Time for congratulations now on the part of those who did not rush off and buy the first low-priced summer suit they came across because the weather began to get warm. These people can get about fifty per cent. more for their money now, at the Plainfield Surprise Store, than the ones who rushed the season. One hundred and fifty men's and young men's suits, double and single breasted, serges, diagonals, cheviots and mixed worsteds. Outing suits at surprisingly low prices. The nattiest of straw hats at a figure that fairly take away your breath, but leaves most of your money.

"The Highlands of Ontario for Your Holidays."

With the knowledge of what America has to offer the summer tourist and the rest and health-seeker, the thousands of summer travellers who spend their vacations in "The Highlands of Ontario," unhesitatingly pronounce the Muskoka Lakes region the ideal, the perfectly satisfying summer resort. Such an ideal is a combination of two features—primeval nature in a perfect bewilderment of beauty, charm and variety, along with the facilities for most of the modern necessaries and conveniences. In addition to these, the even temperature, the high altitude (1,000 feet above the sea), the health-giving ozone from pine, hemlock and fir, and the dark, soft waters of innumerable lakes, teeming with the gamiest of fresh water fish. What more has a weary, nerve-racked man or lover of nature to desire? Handsome, illustrated, descriptive publications will be sent free on application to Frank P. Dwyer, E. P. NO REASON FOR IT.

When Plainfield Citizens Show the Way.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the dangers of diabetes or any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Plainfield citizen says:

Mrs. I. L. Holmes, of 442 West Second street, says: "I used several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and derived more benefit from them than anything else. Before I tried this remedy I was bothered almost constantly with a severe pain across the small of my back, so bad at times that I thought I must give up. If I sat down and got up or was lying down and attempted to raise quickly or retained one position for any length of time, sharp acute pain always followed. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised for such troubles and went to L. W. Randolph's drug store and got a box. They helped me from the first and I improved right along as I continued their use."

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance, entitled "An Ordinance to lay out and widen Sycamore street from the southeasterly side line of East Fourth street to the northwesterly side line of East Fifth street," a copy of which is subjoined to this notice, has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Common Council to adopt such ordinance at the regular meeting of the Common Council to be held in the Council Chamber, No. 149 North avenue, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., at eight o'clock p. m., on Tuesday, the fifth day of July, A. D. nineteen hundred and four, at which time and place, prior to the adoption of said ordinance, said ordinance will be considered by the Common Council, and all persons interested may be heard before the Common Council with reference to the proposed ordinance.

By order of the Common Council.

JAMES T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.

Dated: Plainfield, N. J., June 6, 1904.

AN ORDINANCE

to Lay Out and Widen Sycamore Street From the Southeasterly Side Line of East Fourth Street to the Northwesterly Side Line of East Fifth Street.

WHEREAS, The Common Council judge that the public good requires the laying out and widening of Sycamore street between the points named in the title to this ordinance, therefore

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That Sycamore street in the City of Plainfield, from the southeasterly side line of East Fourth street to the northwesterly side line of East Fifth street, be laid out and widened so that said portion of Sycamore street shall be of the uniform width of thirty feet on each side of the center line thereof, which said center line is described as follows:

Beginning at an iron bar in the center line of said Sycamore street, where the same is intersected by the southeasterly side line of East Fourth Street as now laid out and now opened, and running from said point in a magnetic course of south forty-four degrees and forty-four minutes east, a distance of three hundred sixty-two and twenty-one one-hundredths feet to an iron bar in the northwesterly side line of East Fifth street.

The land to be taken for such purposes on the northeasterly side of said street, in addition to the lands already dedicated to the public, includes that part of the property now or formerly of Margaret Thatcher, Catharine Lynch, Agnes Littell, Charles H. Hand and Elizabeth Chapin, which lies between the present northeasterly side line of said street as now laid out and opened, and a line parallel with the center line of said street and distant therefrom thirty feet in a northeasterly direction.

The land to be taken for such purposes on the southwesterly side of the said street in addition to the lands already dedicated to the public, includes that part of the property now or formerly of Michael Quinn, William B. Wadsworth, Joel Manning and Sarah J. Brower, which lies between the present southwesterly side line of said street as now laid out and opened, and a line parallel with the centre line of said street and distant therefrom thirty feet in a southwesterly direction.

That the lands and real estate and appurtenances necessary therefor shall be taken and appropriated for the said laying out and widening of Sycamore street, as aforesaid, pursuant to the charter of the City of Plainfield and the general statutes in such case made and provided.

The land to be taken and the lines of Sycamore street, as the same is hereinabove ordered to be laid out and widened, are shown on a map on file with the City Clerk entitled: "Map for Laying Out and Widening Sycamore street from East Fourth street to East Fifth street, City of Plainfield, N. J.," dated May, 1904, which said map is hereby referred to and made a part of this ordinance.

Section 2. That all ordinances and parts of ordinances inconsistent with this ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed.

Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the following Ordinance has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Council to adopt the same.

JAMES T. MacMURRAY,
Plainfield, N. J., June 6, 1904. City Clerk.

A Supplement to an Ordinance, entitled for the Assessment of Taxes for the Year 1904," Approved May 4, 1904.

"AN ORDINANCE

WHEREAS, The Board of School Estimate of this district, that is to say, the school district comprising the City of Plainfield, has fixed upon and determined the amount of money necessary to be appropriated for the use of the public schools in such district for the ensuing school year, exclusive of the amount apportioned to it by the County Superintendent of Schools, to wit, the sum of Sixty-Eight Thousand, Three Hundred Dollars ($68,300), and has made two certificates for said amount signed by all the members of said Board, one of which certificates has been delivered to the Board of Education, and the other to the Common Council of said City:

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That pursuant to the Act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, entitled "An Act to establish a thorough and efficient system of Free Public Schools and to provide for the maintenance, support and management thereof," Approved October 19, 1903, the sum of Sixty-Eight Thousand, Three Hundred Dollars ($68,300) be, and the same is hereby appropriated for the purposes aforesaid as other appropriations are made by the Common Council, and that said amount shall be assessed, levied and collected for the year nineteen hundred and four in the same manner as moneys appropriated for other purposes in this City are required to be assessed, levied and collected.

BOOK NEWS.

It is planned to issue on Thursday of each week items of library news. This will frequently take the form of book lists, such as lists of books recently added, lists on special subjects and like topics. Frequently the lists will be annotated, the aim being to make these annotations of real service to the reader, by giving him the opinion of a trustworthy critic as to the value of the books or a few words as to their scope. Borrowers should keep these lists. The Plainfield Public Library will furnish to anyone making application a list of its books on a given subject.

Public Library Notes.

AMUSEMENTS.

The stork has paid several visits to Bostock's, at Coney Island, during the past ten days, the latest being to Nellie, a performing leopardess in the trio of Mlle. Dorine. Two cubs were born Sunday, which have yet to be named. In an adjoining den is Sheba and her lion cub, just able to walk. Nearby is Ben, a cub wolf, who wants to be petted all of the time. Then there are six lion cubs which have reached the mature age of three months, the baby Japanese bear, Togo, the infant monkeys and many other young animals. The little folks are flocking to the beautiful building and in inspecting the animals, are acquiring a knowledge of wild beasts, and natural history, impossible to obtain in any other manner.

A PITCHED BATTLE

General Bell's Command Fired on by Intrenched Miners.

SIX UNION MEN DEAD, FIFTEEN HELD

Military and Deputies Stormed Position—Martial Law Has Again Been Declared—Prisoners Will Be Tried by Soldiers' Court.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 9.—A pitched battle at Dunnville, twenty miles south of Victor, took place at 4 o'clock between 200 deputies and guards under Adjutant General Bell and about 150 miners from the Cripple Creek district. The miners were intrenched in the surrounding hills. Fifteen miners were captured, and six union miners were killed.

The captured miners included John James, charged with shooting John Davis in the riot at Victor. Among the dead was John Carley, a union miner of Cripple Creek. Great excitement prevailed in this city upon the receipt of the news of the battle.

The deputies secured the arms and ammunition of part of the miners.

As the special bearing the deputies drew up at Dunnville the union miners intrenched in the neighborhood opened fire. General Bell got his men out and stormed the intrenched position, capturing fifteen, the arms and ammunition of these men being captured. In the fierce fight which followed six union miners were killed.

At 4:50 the battle was still in progress, the union miners fighting stubbornly. The miners occupied well intrenched positions in the hills and fired down at the soldiers and guards at every opportunity. The surrounding country is favorable to the miners, and it seems that General Bell will have to take every defense separately.

Teller county is once more under martial law, and the military is in supreme command. Adjutant General Sherman M. Bell has promulgated military rule by posting on the door of the armory, where a large number of union men and sympathizers are imprisoned, Acting Governor Warren A. Haggett's proclamation of martial law. General Bell will be assisted by Colonel Edward Verdeckberg.

General Bell has appointed a commission to try all prisoners. The commission is composed of Mayor French of Victor, Captain Gall Hoag, Colorado national guard, and Judge M. Gray.

"The prisoners will be treated fairly," said General Bell. "It is not my desire to inflict upon any of them punishment that they do not deserve, and as fast as this is practicable they will be sent away or placed in the class that will be held indefinitely. I intend that every man innocent of the crimes that have been perpetrated in the district shall go free and every one who is guilty shall be punished. I intend to have matters in shape soon, so that every business house and every mine in the district can open and proceed with business unmolested."

Justice of the Peace D. L. Kelly has complied with a request from a citizens' alliance committee for his resignation. State Labor Commissioner W. H. Montgomery has arrived here to investigate the labor conditions and report to the governor.

Coroner Doran, being informed that he would not be permitted by the military authorities to proceed with the inquest or to act as coroner in this county, relinquished the office during the day and discharged the jury which he had summoned. The inquests will be conducted by George Haik who has been appointed coroner by the county board.

General Bell, military commander, with a squad of soldiers, went by train to Dunnville, a new camp opened by union men about twenty miles south of the city in Fremont county. The soldiers were given orders to break up the camp and arrest all union men found there. It was in executing this order that the fight took place.

Dunnville sprang into prominence last week when it was reported that enormous amounts of free gold had been discovered, and there was an immediate rush to the place by union men, who declared that no others should be permitted in the camp. All others were barred. But the camp was of mushroom growth, and the thousands who encamped there in the first two days of its existence dwindled away fifty or a hundred a day. General Bell has expressed the opinion that the camp was nothing but a decoy and would be used by the miners as a base of operations.

Seven soldiers sent on horseback to Big hill, two miles east of Victor, to arrest union miners found them intrenched. The men refused to surrender, and the soldiers opened fire. Over 200 shots were fired.

The miners opened fire on the soldiers as soon as they saw them coming up the hill. Seven men were captured by the guards and taken to Cripple Creek.

Intense excitement again reigns here.

Unusual Report From Manila.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The war department is in receipt of a cablegram from General Wade at Manila, commanding the Philippine division, saying that no deaths have been reported throughout the division between May 16 and June 1. It is extremely unusual for no deaths to occur during a fortnight among so large a body of troops serving in the tropics.

Prophet Dowie Turns Up.

BERLIN, June 9.—John Alexander Dowie has arrived here from Switzerland. He has taken rooms lately occupied by one of the Vanderbilts, costing $40 a day. He addressed a crowded meeting, depicting glowingly Zion City, near Chicago.

PORT ARTHUR FALLS

Czar's Far Eastern Stronghold Reported Captured.

RUMOR SAYS JAPANESE LOST 11,000

After Five Days' Fighting Mikado's Forces Envelop the Fortress. Togo Assists With a Hundred Warships.

LONDON, June 9.—It is reported here that Port Arthur has fallen.

The report says the Japanese lost 11,000.

On the Stock Exchange many reports are current that Port Arthur has fallen.

A Yinkow telegram that passed the Russian censor says "the fall of Port Arthur is imminent."

The besieged fortress has been under fire by land and sea almost continuously since Saturday.

The Japanese envelop the fortress in a semicircular line twenty-five miles long and have mounted heavy guns on all the heights.

Admiral Togo is said to have a hundred warships of all grades about the peninsula.

A report from Chefu says the roar of heavy guns proves the Japanese attack on Port Arthur is continuing without intermission. The attack is being made by land and sea. The firing has continued for days, and it is reported there have been heavy losses on both sides.

A Reuter telegram from St. Petersburg says:

"The Japanese have made several sustained and stubborn attacks on Port Arthur simultaneously by land and sea. They were repulsed with severe loss.

"The position of the Japanese in Kwangtung is said to be precarious.

"There are rumors that the Vladivostok squadron has effected a junction with the Port Arthur fleet, that a naval battle took place and that the Japanese lost four large ships."

A Mukden report says:

"According to information here, a Japanese squadron of nine vessels has been bombarding the coast between Siungyucheng and Kaichou, on the west coast of the Liautong peninsula, just below Newchwang, since Tuesday morning."

News from Port Arthur, the Liautong peninsula and the Yalu river is cut off from Russian sources by the Japanese, who are between the Russians and the territory mentioned. It is officially asserted that the cables connecting Japan with China are not working, which would prevent Tokyo also from having knowledge of events in that section of Manchuria. The "interruption" of the cable work, however, is more likely to be "official" and due to a censorship at Tokyo.

A Shanghai report says:

"General Stakelberg's Russian brigade, marching in the direction of Port Arthur, suffered a reverse near Wafangtein and retired to Tashichiao."

Miss Etzel Appeals to Roosevelt.

DENVER, June 9.—Miss Anna Etzel, sister of Lewis Etzel, correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, who was killed by Chinese soldiers, has appealed to President Roosevelt for his assistance in securing the shipment of the body from Newchwang to Denver. A reply to her message was received from the president's secretary saying that the matter had been referred to the department of state.

Spaniards Will Celebrate the Fourth.

MANILA, June 9.—The Casino Espanol, the Spanish club of Manila, has decided to participate in the forthcoming Fourth of July celebrations here. The Casino decided on this course because of the honors paid by the American army and navy to the dead Spanish soldiers and sailors buried at Manila and Baler. At the latter place, in north Luzon, a few Spanish soldiers during the native insurrection against Spain defended themselves most heroically against a large force of insurgents.

Jiminez Again Disturbing Domingo.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Within three days of Admiral Sigsbee's announcement that peace had been concluded in Santo Domingo another revolution has broken out in that country. Minister Powell cabled the state department from Port au Prince, Haiti, that "the British cruiser Indefatigable had left that place, it having been reported that General Jiminez had effected a landing at Macoris. Telegraph communication has been interrupted."

Hitt Did Not Withdraw.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—After Representative Hitt had called at the White House a rumor gained currency that Mr. Hitt had announced the withdrawal of his name from consideration in connection with the Republican vice presidential nomination, but it can be stated positively that the rumor was without any foundation whatever in fact.

First Death In Our Peking Guard.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—General Ainsworth, the military secretary, has been informed of the death of Private Wilhelm Fischer, Ninth infantry, by drowning while bathing at Peking. This is the first death of any United States soldier while on duty as guard of the legation at Peking.

Porto Rican Homicide Free.

STILLWATER, Minn., June 9.—Rafael Ortiz, the Porto Rican who killed a United States soldier, completed his sentence of five years in the Minnesota penitentiary and is free. He will sail for Porto Rico from New York on the 18th.

Tennis Championships.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Both of the Columbia university players striving for the metropolitan tennis championship won their matches on the West Side courts. Mahan beat Mollenhauer, the Vermont champion, in three exciting sets. This brings him against the European-American player, Hobart. Le Roy, the Columbia team captain, beat a local player setless. In the doubles the old Princeton team, Alexander and Little, were successful, as were Hobart and Millett. Play in the women's singles was started, the chief interest centering about the play of Miss Moore, the national champion.

Arrests to Abate a Nuisance.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Thirty professional touts or race track tipsters were arrested at the entrance to the Gravesend track, the action having been taken to abate an evil that has existed to the annoyance of passengers going by rail from the city to the tracks in this vicinity. It has been the practice of touts to crowd and push through the trains on the way to the races, soliciting passengers to purchase "tips" on horses on the day's racing card. The nuisance had grown to such dimensions that there was a general demand for its abatement.

Bad Day For Favorites.

CINCINNATI, O., June 9.—Favorites at Latonia in each one of the six events went down in defeat. The feature of the day was the mile and a sixteenth handicap, which was won by Handmore at odds of 8 to 1. Sir Gallant was coupled with Handmore and finished second. Ed Tierney, second choice, finished last. He met with an accident at the five-eighths pole. One of the horses in the race jumped on him and cut off both hind shoes.

Chrysitis Won With a Rush.

NEW YORK, June 9. — Chrysitis, heavily played, won the Clover stakes for two-year-olds at Gravesend by a head from Czaraphine. Incantation was third, five lengths back. Lyne rushed Czaraphine to the front and held the lead to within a few strides from the finish, where O'Neil brought Chrysitis up with a rush and won.

Favorites Won at Delmar.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—Just So, Taby Tosa and Pathos were the winning favorites of a good card at Delmar park. Taby Tosa, Lucian and Dan McKenna, in the feature, fought it out through the stretch, the former getting the verdict by a neck.

Minister Russell Comes Home.

NEW YORK, June 9.—William W. Russell, former United States charge d'affaires at Panama, who recently was appointed minister to Colombia, has arrived here on the Steamer Seguranca from Colon. Mr. Russell is entering on a three months' leave of absence, the Colombian government having intimated that it does not care to receive a minister from the United States at present. Among other passengers on the Seguranca was Jose Domingo de Obaldia, minister of Panama to the United States.

Proposals for School Bonds.

Notice is hereby given that on Monday, the sixth day of June, 1904, at the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., at 8 o'clock p. m., the Common Council of said City will receive and open sealed proposals for the purchase of sixty school bonds of $1,000 each, being part of an authorized issue of not exceeding $125,000 of school bonds, pursuant to the ordinance of said City entitled, "An Ordinance to appropriate and borrow money, and to secure the repayment thereof by the issue of school bonds, for the purchase of lands and erecting a school house in the City of Plainfield," approved April 6, 1904. The bonds, proposals for which are now invited, are in denominations of $1,000 each, will bear date June 1st, 1904, and be payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of weight and fineness, and bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, according to the terms of interest coupons annexed to the bonds, and the bonds shall respectively mature as follows: On December 1st, 1912, three bonds; on June 1st in each of the years, 1913 to 1922, both inclusive, five bonds; on June 1st, 1923, six bonds; and on June 1st, 1924, one bond. The form of bond and coupons is on file in the office of the City Clerk and there open to inspection by bidders.

All bids shall provide that the bidder will in addition to the amount specified in his bid, pay accrued interest on the bonds from the day of their date to the time of their delivery. The time of delivery of the bonds and payment of the purchase money, is June 15th, 1904, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Banking Room of the City National Bank, Plainfield, N. J., provided that the City shall have the option to extend the time for not more than twenty days thereafter if the bonds are not ready for delivery on June 15th.

Every bidder, as a condition precedent to the reception of consideration of his proposal, shall deposit with the City Treasurer, in money or by certified check, drawn to the order of the City Treasurer of the City of Plainfield, N. J., One Thousand Dollars. No proposal shall be received or considered which is not accompanied by such deposit. All such deposits, except the deposit made by the party or parties whose bids shall be accepted, shall be promptly returned by the City Treasurer to the person making the same.

Each proposal, together with the security deposit, shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope, endorsed, "Proposal for School Bonds," and addressed "The Common Council of the City of Plainfield, N. J.," and delivered to the City Clerk, on or before June 6th, 1904, at 8 o'clock p. m.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals, the Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same, and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

The right to reject any or all bids is expressly reserved.

By order of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

FLAGGED WITH RED SWEATER.

Quick Witted Boys Avert Disaster to Pittsfield-New York Express.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., June 9.—The wrecking of the Pittsfield-New York express, with the almost certainty of a great loss of life, was barely averted last night by the presence of mind of Raymond Perbizet and Stephen McCue, two youths of this town.

The train was flagged by the boys when it was within less than its own length of a great washout.

An unusually severe rainstorm had undermined the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad on the outskirts of the town and carried away twenty-five feet of the roadbed. The dangerous spot was discovered by the boys shortly before the express from Pittsfield for New York was due at this station. Realizing that an accident was inevitable unless the train could be stopped, the boys ran to their home near by and procuring a red colored sweater returned to the track and succeeded in attracting the attention of the engineer, who brought his locomotive to a standstill within a few yards of the washout. The train was well filled, most of the passengers being for New York. The wit of the boys was rewarded by a purse of $17 made up by the passengers.

Denver Train Held Up.

DENVER, June 9.—Denver and Rio Grande passenger train No. 5, westbound from Denver, has been held up by five masked men three miles west of Parachute, a small fruit station midway between Grand Junction and Glenwood Springs. One sealed bag containing specie was taken from the express safe, which was dynamited. The express car was badly wrecked by dynamite, but the robbers were forced to take to the mountains before they could gather up the valuables in the car. Sheriff W. G. Struthers and Deputy Sheriff D. M. Hardy of Grand Junction are now on the trail of the robbers with a posse of farmers and ranchers quickly summoned from the vicinity of Grand Junction.

General Strike of Marine Firemen.

BOSTON, June 9.—A general strike of the marine firemen has been declared, and all the firemen employed on steamships in this harbor who belong to the union are expected to quit work within the next three days. A telegram from New York states that a strike of the marine firemen on all lines had been decided upon by the general executive board in that city. In the jurisdiction of the Boston union are Portland, Eastport and other places along the New England coast. The strike was ordered in sympathy with the New York freight handlers.

Forty-five Fire Engines at Work.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Damage estimated at $400,000 was caused by a fire last night which destroyed the building at 54-60 South Canal street, known as Machinery hall. The building, which was owned by Alderman W. T. Maypole and John Jacob Maypole, was occupied by several firms of manufacturing machinists. The fire was in a district occupied solely by large manufacturing establishments and warehouses, and for a time a general conflagration was feared. Forty-five engines were called out.

General Knox For the Senate.

PHILADELPHIA, June 9.—Much interest was manifested in the senatorial situation last night when it was announced by H. C. Frick of Pittsburg, who has arrived in the city, that he came here in the interest of United States Attorney General Philander C. Knox. Mr. Frick in formally launching Mr. Knox's condidacy said he thought the attorney general would be an excellent choice and felt that the rank and file of the party throughout the state would look favorably upon his selection.

Forecaster Clark Found Dead.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 9.—Frederic M. Clark, forecast official of the weather bureau, was found dead in a chair in his office here. Death was due to heart failure. Mr. Clark was a member of an old Virginia family. He was the weather observer on one of the Greely relief expeditions and spent a year at Point Barrow and afterward three years at Sitka, Alaska. He had been in the government employ for more than a quarter of a century.

Virginia Convention Opens.

RICHMOND, Va., June 9.—The Democratic state convention has opened here and is choosing delegates and alternates to the Democratic national convention. It will elect a new state committee and pass on the question of continuing the existing system of primary elections. The membership of the convention numbers about 1,500.

Arrest For Polluting Water.

RICHMOND, Va., June 9.—Justice Crutchfield of the city police court issued a warrant for the arrest of E. Gordon Winston of the Winston company, which is in charge of the construction of a new city waterworks settling basin, for alleged pollution of the city's water supply.

Lynchers Quieting Down.

CARMI, Ill., June 9. — No further trouble is reported from Maunie, where a demonstration was made against John Robinson, the slayer of his wife and brother-in-law. The crowd which had threatened to lynch Robinson was dispersed. Robinson, who also shot himself, is still alive.

Major Alleges Desertion.

WOOSTER, O., June 9.—Major E. J. Taggart of the United States army brought suit here for divorce from Grace Viola Culvert Taggart, who was a prominent society girl of Chicago. He alleges desertion.

MARINES IN TANGIER

Chadwick Has Landed Guard For Belgian Legation.

SULTAN GRANTS RAISULI'S TERMS

Bandit's Demand For Guarantee the Sticking Point—Great Britain or France May Step In With Necessary Assurance, Then—

WASHINGTON, June 9.—American marines have been landed at Tangier, Africa. Admiral Chadwick, commanding the squadron in European waters, has cabled the navy department as follows:

"I have placed a guard at the Blegian legation, having been asked to do so by our consul general here."

It is said at the state department that there is ample precedent for the employment of an American naval force for the temporary protection of the exposed interests of another party which has no available force at hand. A few years ago it was the common understanding that British vessels should protect American interests in South American ports where the United States had no warships and that the United States gunboats should look after British interests exposed in the same way. We also have looked after German interests in Santo Domingo and elsewhere. It is stated that Admiral Chadwick in landing his marines in Africa for the first time in half a century was therefore but meeting the requirements of international comity. It is supposed here that the Belgian legation is in an outlying section of the city, easily accessible to the tribesmen of the interior.

The state department has received assurance through Mr. Gummere, who had it from the British consul at Fez, that the sultan of Morocco will accede to all of Raisuli's terms. The bandit's demand that Great Britain and the United States shall guarantee the execution of the sultan's promises, however, is the sticking point, and this probably can be got around only by the acceptance of this obligation by Great Britain or France or some other country not so strongly bound as the United States by its traditions not to entangle itself in the internal affairs of other countries. It is stated positively that under no conditions can the United States government execute these guarantees.

A Tangier report says:

"The sultan's letter in reply to the diplomatic representations made in regard to the kidnaping of Messrs. Perdicaris and Varley has arrived here.

"The sultan has given orders to grant all the conditions demanded by Raisuli, the bandit leader, in order to expedite the release of the captives.

"The sultan, in his letter, appoints Herid el Barrada to be governor of Tangier, which step was included among Raisuli's demands.

"Barrada is a member of the council of Mohammed el Torres, the representative of the sultan here, and formerly was governor of Mazagan.

"The authorities assert that the raid made by armed Anjera tribesmen on the home of an Englishman here, during which they obtained several rifles, was only a common robbery and had no political significance.

"Rear Admirals Jewell and Chadwick visited the British battleship Prince of Wales and were received with the customary honors."

The navy department has received a cablegram from Rear Admiral Chadwick, at Tangier, to the effect that he has been informed that Perdicaris and his stepson, Varley, are in need of medical assistance and that the consul general has sent to Raisuli to inquire whether a surgeon will be given safe conduct.

The admiral says that if so one will be sent in company with the shereef of Wazan. Raisuli's reply is expected today.

A Tangier report says:

"The sultan has not yet complied with all of Raisuli's demands. Those unsettled will necessitate considerable further negotiations. There is no likelihood that the captives will be released speedily.

Mob Surrounds Murderer's House.

CHICAGO, June 9.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Carmi, Ill., says that a mob surrounded the home of John Robinson at Maunie, clamoring for his life. Sheriff Connery and thirty-six armed deputies were keeping back the riotous crowd. It was thought the mob would not succeed in its mission, as the officers were determined to do their duty. Robinson killed his wife and brother-in-law and then attempted to take his own life on Monday.

Mormon Bishop Killed.

SANTA FE, N. M., June 9.—J. B. Ashcroft of Fruitland, a bishop of the Mormon church and manager of the cooperative store at Fruitland, has been accidentally killed while blasting rock in the construction of an irrigating ditch for the Navajo Indians near Fruitland. He was knocked from a cliff by falling rock, death resulting instantly.

Court Martial at Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., June 9.—The military court martial called to try Major Kirkpatrick for alleged neglect of duty at the Springfield riots has opened here. The greater part of the time was occupied by Prosecuting Attorney John P. McGraw, whose testimony reflected upon the accused.

Will Marry No Divorcees.

ROCKFORD, Ill., June 9.—Ministers of the Swedish Free Church of America in conference here have voted to unite in marriage no divorced person hereafter.

Former State Senator L. A. Thompson, of Somerville, has been mentioned as a likely candidate to succeed Judge Lanning as representative of the Fourth New Jersey Congressional district. Pretty good joke.

A well-written, well-arranged and well-displayed advertisement attracts to the advertiser's place of business large numbers of people, who invariably become purchasers. Clear, concise and direct statements impress the minds of the readers of advertisements.—Printer's Ink.

Instead of frankly confessing that he made a savage attack on the Legislature at Company K's banquet, Lieut. Col. Clime, of Burlington, makes himself ridiculous by declaring that the report of his speech was "a prevarication of the most pronounced type." His denial of the correctness of the speech as reported will be a surprise to the men who sat and listened to his arraignment of the legislators. Before going any further it will be well for Col. Clime to consult some of those who attended the banquet. They may be able to refresh on his memory somewhat.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Under the auspices of the Woman's Exchange a luncheon is being held today at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club.

—There will be a meeting of the Union County Republican Executive Committee at Elizabeth on Tuesday night.

—Mrs. A. M. Tucker, of 409 East Sixth street, lost a valuable dog Monday night, the canine being killed by a trolley car.

—It is said that the Freeholders of Union and Somerset counties have been assured that the Giraud avenue bridge will be completed by fall.

—Special summer rates for the swimming pool and other attractions are offered by the Y. M. C. A. in their advertisement in another column.

—That the auto is rapidly finding its way into the country is shown by a statement in the Flemington Democrat, this week, that there are five machines now in town.

—Miss Ada Angleman, of West Front street, one of the editors in the Methodist Book Concern, New York, is attending a convention of religious educators at Richmond, Va.

—Grace Church Epworth League will go to Somerville in a body tonight to attend the rally of Groupe No. 4. The delegation will leave on the 7 o'clock trolley at the North avenue station.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

The King's Daughters, of the Mt. Olive church, will give a concert and entertainment at the church this evening.

Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will lead the meeting at Reform Hall tonight. There will be special music.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, who has been severely troubled with a throat affection for several weeks, went to New York today to consult a specialist. It is believed that the throat will be completely restored to its normal condition within a short time.

Cardinal Satolli, who is about to visit this country, will, in all likelihood, be the guest of the Rt. Rev. Bishop McFaul at Trenton some time during his stay in the States. In the event of his again paying a visit to Trenton he will be banqueted by the Knights of Columbus at that place.

A man from India, Geo. Benton Smith, who has recently returned from Madras, India, will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Sunday at 4 o'clock. He will relate thrilling incidents that will give some idea of what it means to give up the Hindu worship for the rue religion. The address will be full of interest.

INCREASING LIBRARY SALARIES

IMPORTANT TRANSACTION AT MONTHLY MEETING OF THE DIRECTORS.

The treasurer presented his monthly report and read his annual report for the year ending May 31, 1904, at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Plainfield Public Library and Reading Room, held at the library last night. The president was authorized to send the reports with the others to the Common Council and file the same with the city clerk.

It was decided to slightly increase the salary scale. The librarian's annual report was on motion referred to the library committee. The monthly report of the librarian was also presented and the bills presented for the general and for the Babcock libraries were ordered paid.

REFLECTED ON PRESIDENT.

Decision Given Against Miss Taylor, Dismissed From War Department.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The court of appeals of the District of Columbia has affirmed the decision of the court below in refusing to compel the secretary of war by mandamus proceedings to reinstate Miss Rebecca J. Taylor as a clerk in the war department. Miss Taylor admitted the authorship of a newspaper article which the defense claimed to be a severe reflection on the president of the United States. For this she was dismissed. Reinstatement was sought through the courts on the ground that Miss Taylor was removed because of her political belief and that this was contrary to the civil service law.

Justice Clabaugh in rendering the opinion announced the purpose of the civil service law to be to restrict the power of appointment; that the right of removal in the appointing power was not restricted with the single exception that no removal could be made because of the refusal of an employee to contribute money or services to a political party.

A Compromise at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 9.—At the Democratic convention here there was a short but spirited debate in committee on resolutions over the platform, five of the members demanding the reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform. In order to prevent a contest on the floor of the convention a compromise was effected by adopting the following opening clause: "The Democratic party of Kentucky in convention assembled affirms its faith in and adherence to the great fundamental principles of Democracy as expounded by Jefferson, exemplified by Jackson and ably defended by Bryan."

Shook Denies Extortion.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Lieutenant John M. Shook of Kansas, late of the United States army, has taken exception to a statement made at the war department to the effect that he and his interpreter, Lerma, were guilty of extorting 600 pesos from an old Filipino woman. Shook says there is nothing in his record in the war department concerning this alleged affair and that he has never heard officially or otherwise that his name was connected with the business at all. Lerma is a wealthy planter and acted as interpretor for nearly two years for the government without pay.

Polygamy Caused a Fight.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 9.—The question of polygamy and the action that should be taken on it by the national conventions has caused a sharp fight in the Democratic state convention, which opened here today, to select state delegates to the national convention. A proposition made on the floor of the convention to give delegates to the national convention explicit instructions to oppose the proposed plank in the platform providing for a uniform marriage and divorce law for every state and territory in the Union caused the trouble.

Commencement at Vassar.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 9.—Commencement exercises at Vassar were held in the new chapel in the presence of a large number of students and their friends. This was the largest class ever graduated from Vassar, numbering 176.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning June 12.

Topic.—What must I do to become a Christian?—Matt. xvi, 24-26; John xiii, 33-35.

The question of the topic is the most important and practical one that can be addressed to a Christian, and yet it is no easy question to answer in the abstract. It is the office work of God's Spirit to make us Christians, and the Spirit "works when and where and how He pleases." In no two cases does He work exactly alike. The overlooking of this fact has been a stumbling block in the way of many people. They have heard of the experience of some one else in becoming a Christian and have concluded that their experience must be exactly similar, and if not they seriously doubt their conversion. But this is folly. Take any two Biblical cases and how they differ. To Matthew Jesus said, "Follow Me," and he arose and followed Him, and thus became a devout and faithful Christian. But how vastly different the experience of Paul, who was stricken down by a heavenly vision and thus found Christ.

That there are different ways of becoming Christians is proved also by the teaching of the Scriptures. Jesus said, "If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow Me." Paul said, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved," and again he said, "If thou wilt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God raised Him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." Confession is here added to faith. The fact, therefore, is that this question cannot be definitely answered in the abstract. There is but one Christ, yet various ways to find Him, and hence various definitions of how to do it. But if we find Him, no matter what the way, then we are Christians and will express it not only by our love for Him, but also by our love for each other. "By this shall all men know that ye are My disciples, if ye have love one to another."

But while all that has been said is perfectly true, yet there are certain processes through which the soul must pass in conversion that are well known and understood. The difficulty is to arrange them in any consecutive order. In some cases conversion is instantaneous. The Holy Spirit applies the benefits of Christ's redemption to the soul in an instant, and no orderly arrangement of the soul's experiences can be made. But if they could be they would be something like this—(1) conviction of sin; (2) repentance of sin; (3) faith, or the apprehension of the mercy of God in Christ Jesus; (4) confession and consecration of ourselves to God in Christ. To become a Christian, if I am not one, I must be convicted of my sinfulness, and hence of my need of a Saviour. I must be willing to give up my sins and to accept by faith the atonement that Christ has made for my sins, and then, confessing this repentance and faith, to consecrate my life to God in Christ.

This is the theory of becoming a Christian and perhaps as near to it as we can come, but if you are not a Christian and feel your need of becoming one go to the Master in prayer, asking Him that He will by the power of His Holy Spirit make you a disciple of His, make you willing and able to "deny yourself and take up your cross that you may follow Him."

A Versatile Man.

Professor Amos R. Wells has been called "the most versatile man in Christian Endeavor." As managing editor of the Christian Endeavor World he has displayed unusual ability. His articles on strictly Christian Endeavor themes have done not a little to advance the cause. His books are numbered by the score, his poems by the hundred, and his fame as a speaker is far reaching and pleasing.

PROF. AMOS R. WELLS.

Baltimore's Grit.

The next international Christian Endeavor convention is to be held in Baltimore, July 5 to 10, 1905. Although the majority of the members of the committee, as well as many other persons prominent in Christian Endeavor circles, lost heavily from the fire, the committee is confident that the same degree of patriotism and pluck that prevails among the business men of the city will be manifested by the Christian people of Baltimore and Maryland. Arrangements are being made to entertain 50,000 delegates from all over the world. It is stated positively by the committee that the use of the Fifth regiment armory for the convention has already been assured.

The Pastor.

I do not think that a pastor can help the young people much if his attendance at their meetings is felt by him to be a bore or a burden. His inner thought will out. But if he goes because he loves the young people and rejoices in this opportunity of worshiping with them, actually getting help from them while he gives it to them, they will speedily perceive his spirit and respond to it.—Amos R. Wells in Christian Endeavor World.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

June 12: "Conditions of Christian Discipleship."—Matt. xvi, 24-26; John xiii, 33-35.

One of the surest tests of loyalty is obedience to orders. But there is wide difference in the manner in which orders are executed. We may exhibit such carelessness while going through a form of service as to rob it of all value. On shipboard or on the drill ground sailors and soldiers may put such snap and zest into the routine of drill as to leave no doubt of their patriotism, or they may be so listless and uninterested as to make their devotion seriously to be doubted.

So in our service to God the supreme test of discipleship is love. The basal condition of fellowship with Jesus is cross bearing. He has announced the terms on which He will receive us to companionship. No one can alter them. If we love one another the world will know that we are His disciples. Unless we take up our cross daily and follow Him we cannot be His disciples.

This lies in the very nature of things and could not be made different. It is not arbitrary on His part, but a necessity from human nature. The motive impulse of His whole life is the desire to give and to bless. He came not to receive service from others and make them slaves to His desires, but to release men from bondage to their evil passions and make them free in the glad work of helping others into like freedom. The relationship between things may be that of force and the law one of necessity unavoidable. But the relationship between spirits must be that of love in liberty. Compulsion here destroys all attachment and replaces attraction by instinctive repulsion.

The assurance of God's love to us could not have been made clearer or stronger than it has been in the incarnation, life, death, resurrection and ascension of Jesus Christ.

With this revelation, as clew to human history and destiny, there is adequate reason for the existence of this world and universe. Without this explanation of the real nature and proper course of life all this complex existence is without meaning, or, still worse, a hideous nightmare of malignity and woe.

The bliss of spirit is to love, and life without love is torture. Not in being loved, but in active exercise of one's own powers of self assertion, is the essence of real affection. We need to be loving. Our whole nature craves some one on whom we may lavish affection. Deny us the proper object and we are driven by this mastering passion to take up the unworthy into our regard. We are lost when instead of loving we demand service and love from others. No force is possible here, no compulsion. You cannot command; you can only commend yourself, and, if lovable, others will love you as surely as steel replies to magnet and image in mind to object presented.

"We love Him because He first loved us." He was loving and is lovable, "chiefest among ten thousand and one altogether lovely."

We are Christ's if we love others and follow His footsteps in this path which He alone of all the sons of men has found and marked for us. This is the road to heavenly happiness, the highway of holiness, the path to our Father's house. Let us walk in it!

Look Ahead!

There are two kinds of people—some that live on the past, and some that live on the future. You never saw a person living upon the past all the time, and always talking about the past, that did not have a good many wrinkles on his brow. Instead of casting all their care on Him that careth for them, they are all the time thinking about their troubles. They go to a meeting, and when it is over they say: "Wasn't it splendid! I enjoyed it so much; I forgot all my cares and all my troubles." They laid their bundle down under the seat, but the moment the benediction was over they picked it up again. Remember that everything before the believer is glory. —D. L. Moody.

Saved by Grace.

An infidel who had never been moved by eloquent sermons was led to Christ by the influence of an illiterate hod-carrier who joyfully sang as he pursued his calling:

"I'm a poor sinner and nothing at all,
But Jesus, my Saviour, is All and in all.

"I'm a poor sinner and nothing at all,
But Jesus, my Saviour, is All and in all."
So sang the toiler, plodding away
At his commonplace task, from day to day.

"I'm a poor sinner," I humbly confess,
But Jesus, the Lord, is my righteousness.
I am all weakness, but Jesus is strong.
This is my confidence all the day long.

"I'm a poor sinner" and wretched would be,
But He lifts the light of His face upon me.
He fills me with peace and washes me white
And sheds on my pathway His wonderful light.

"I'm a poor sinner" and must have been lost
Had Jesus not ransomed my soul at the cost
Of His own precious blood. So now I must sing
Of Him as my Prophet, my Priest and my King.

"I'm a poor sinner," yet happy am I
As bird on the wing mounting up to the sky.
I'm free since my Jesus has broken my thrall,
And I praise Him and bless Him, my "All and in all."

"I'm a poor sinner." My life is not mine
Since Jesus has stamped it with value divine.
Being bought with a price, I call nothing my own.
At the feet of my Lord I lay everything down.

"I'm a poor sinner" and weakest of all,
But He will not suffer His weakest to fall,
And so when He makes up His jewels at last
My crown at His feet I will hasten to cast.

—Rev. A. Parke Burgess, D. D.

VAGARIES OF FASHION.

Mohair Is Very Popular—Black and White Taffeta Silks.

Mohair is once more to the fore among tailor made materials. It is seen in white, in gray, in heliotrope and in a new rich shade of red.

Black and white taffeta silk is used for many gowns, both tailor mades and dressy creations. One of the former seen recently had its jacket made blouse fashion. The back was tucked into a wide swathed belt. The front and sleeve cuffs were trimmed with applications of grass green cloth outlined by black and white braid. The skirt was made very full. It was laid into tucks around the hips, but allowed to flare from the hips downward. The rest of the skirt was plain with the exception of a cluster of three large tucks about five inches from the bottom.

Very many trimmings are of oriental embroidery in figures which can be detached and used singly or in groups. Prominent among these are embroideries combining grass green and red.

The picture shows a tailor made of purple mohair. The coat is strapped a darker shade, and the wide cuffs and hip yoke are also strapped.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

ACCESSORIES OF DRESS.

Touches of Color In Belts and Stocks. Neckties of Lace.

Accessories play a very important part in dress nowadays, and both neckties and belts show a touch of color or of detail which adds much to a gown. The dresses of dull colored linen, for instance, are made much more becoming by the addition of bits of grass green or pinkish red in the way of belts or stocks.

The necktie is shown in its most attractive form in lace, and charming littie "fold over" stocks are sold that in addition to the charm of daintiness will launder beautifully.

A curious but smart effect is produced by the introduction of cloth bands on taffeta gowns. A lavender silk gown seen recently had its skirt made in flounces, each flounce being edged with an application of cloth of a lighter shade done in scallops.

White taffeta for evening wear is excessively smart, and leading dressmakers are exhausting their ingenuity in planning new varieties of the dressy white gown.

In the way of trimming cluny lace, both in lozenge and in square figures, is used a good deal on wash gowns. The figures are detached and appliqued on the waists and skirts as fancy dictates. Often the design is helped out by the addition of French knots made of heavy linen in contrasting shades.

Valenciennes lace is rather light in texture for the present modes, which seem to demand a heavier style of appliqué. In fact, the heaviest yellow laces are used even on light thin fabrics.

The picture shows a child's suit of blue brilliantine. The skirt is kilted, and the little jacket is trimmed with gold braid and buttons.

TO FRENCH HEROES

NEW MONUMENT TO BE ERECTED AT WATERLOO.

To Be a Fit Companion Piece to That Erected to the Victors of the Allied Armies by Queen Victoria.

Up to the present the achievements of the victors were the only ones to which any monument has been erected on the field of Waterloo. This appeared regretable to a certain number of Frenchmen, who thought, with justice, that the courage and bravery of Napoleon's army was also worthy of being immortalized by the chisel of the sculptor. They thought that the famous lion which crowns the pyramid on the celebrated battlefield, and which is the memorial of British, German and Belgian courage, should find its pendant in some monument to the glory of French arms.

The French people will never forget the magnificent courage of the 71,947

THE BRITISH, GERMAN AND BELGIAN MEMORIAL.

French troops who fought the allied armies on that day, or the fact that had Marshal Grouchy interposed his forces between the British and Prussian armies as Napoleon had expected, the result of the battle would have been different, and instead of marking the downfall of the great French leader it would have marked the zenith of his military career.

Accordingly, on the initiative of the Bonapartist society known as "Le Petit Chapeau," a subscription was opened, and the late M. Gerome was intrusted with the work of preparing the monument. The result was the execution of the famous "Eagle of Waterloo," which is undoubtedly one of the greatest of the famous sculptor's great works. I well remember the impression it made on me when I saw it for the first time two years ago. It was on one winter evening, when I had gone to see the master in his studio. Coming through the vestibule on the ground floor M. Gerome switched on the electric light, and "The Eagle" stood before us.

It is truly a noble work. It represents an eagle wounded unto death grasping the staff of a French regimental color. The strong talons of one foot are closed round the staff, while those of the other are raised in the air. On the bird's left breast one sees a ragged hole by which it has received its death-wound. But, though wounded unto death, the noble bird is still unconquered. With open beak it still streams defiance to its foes.

The work which M. Gerome showed me was considerably above life size, but it was, nevertheless, only the model for the final monument. This is of immense size, as is necessary for a work which will require to be visible at a great distance. The plaster cast of the completed monument was one of the clous of last year's salon, and was greatly admired. It did not, however, appear to the best advantage in the crowded sculpture gallery of the Grand Palais. In order to have its full effect the monument requires the isolation of the Plain of

THE WOUNDED EAGLE TO SURMOUNT THE FRENCH MEMORIAL.

Waterloo. Seen from a distance its immense proportions will be modified. It is a great monument to a great event in the history of the world, and is a striking symbol of the unconquerable spirit of the people who delight to call themselves la grande nation.

The great pyramid surrounded by a British lion which stands as a monument to the courage of the allied armies, whose combined efforts caused the setting of Napoleon's sun, was erected by Queen Victoria and unveiled by the duke of Cambridge on August 26, 1890. The French monument will be a fit companion piece, and will be no less worthy of the defeated than the other is of the victors.

Greeley, Col.

Greeley, Col., is becoming almost as noted for its lamb as for its potato industry. Shipments of young lambs from Greeley to eastern and other markets are now being made at the rate of from 75 to 100 carloads a week. The experiment of feeding lambs during the winter months on a food composed, in large part, of sugar-beet pulp, from the many beet sugar factories in that section of the state has proved a success in northern Colorado. Tens of thousands of sheep and lambs are now being fed in that manner at Greeley, Ft. Collins, Loveland and elsewhere, in the region referred to.

AUTO WON HIM A BRIDE.

Happy Consequence of an Altogether Unexpected Breakdown After Late Dinner.

Possibly Jacobus never would have won his bride if it hadn't been for the kindly freakishness of his auto. The machine broke down at precisely the proper psychological moment and pitchforked him into matrimony—but let the history be told in due order.

Russell Jacobus lives in Cedar Grove, N. J. For months his heart beat solely for Miss Hattie Sigler, the lovely daughter of wealthy Isaac Sigler, of Upper Montclair. Russell took Miss Hattie to Plainfield in his automobile the other afternoon. The level New Jersey roads spun past and under them in one smooth, grand, sweet song. At early dusk they sat down to dinner. After dinner they started for home.

"WILL YOU MARRY ME?"

But Dan Cupid had foozled the carburetter, smashed the sparkler, mauled the mufflers—in one word, the auto most thoroughly broke down, balked, wouldn't move a blessed inch.

Mr. Jacobus visited every automobile shop in town. All were closed. He tried the village blacksmiths. You may be sure that love laughs just as heartily at blacksmiths as at locksmiths. It was ten o'clock. Empty-handed and with beaded, furrowed brow the young man returned to where Miss Hattie patiently perched in the tonneau.

"I wish—I guess—now the—well, will you please marry me? and it'll be all right," he gasped. "It's our only chance."

"Oh, Russell; this is so sudden!" said she. But, just the same they hastened to the parsonage of the Crescent Presbyterian church, where Rev. Dr. Zelie made them man and wife. They remained at Plainfield that night and telephoned home. Papa Sigler stormed a bit at first, but soon became reconciled.

OLD MAN MARRIED CHILD.

Girl Was Just Nine Years Old When She Became the Wife of Sixty-Year-Old Iowan.

A New York World correspondent, writing from Washington, Ia., says that, clad in a dress that scarcely cleared her knees and with her dark brown hair falling in long curls over her shoulders, Gertie Trust, 11 years old, filed a petition before Judge Scott for the annulment of her marriage with John Leeper, 60 years old, a resident of Brighton, Ia., whom she had been forced to wed, she declared, when she was nine years old.

The girl's story is a shocking revelation of the primitive theory of life followed by the scarcely civilized dwellers in the wild mountainous districts of Missouri.

Two years ago, according to her story, she lived with her mother in one of the most inaccessible regions of the Ozark mountains, near Lebanon, Mo. She was then scarcely nine years old. It was there she first met Leeper. He made a contract, the details of which she does not know, with her mother. Leeper stayed in their cabin. Then a traveling preacher—Buck was his name so far as the child could remember—came to the cabin. There was a ceremony, the nature of which she did not understand, and she was told she was Leeper's wife.

Some months after their marriage Leeper returned to his home in Iowa. The girl put off the long dresses her mother had forced her to wear for the ceremony and was a child again.

About a month ago the old man sent for his child bride, and her mother sent her to him.

Neighbors heard her story, and refused to let her live with the old man. County Attorney Benley brought the case to the attention of the court.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL, IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

A NOVEL SUBMARINE

THE INVENTION OF SIMEON LAKE OF BALTIMORE.

He Claims for It Many Advantages Over Other Underwater Craft —Some of Its Peculiar Features.

The fact that two small submarines of the Lynx type have been sent to the far east on a French battleship is sufficient indication that, should France be drawn into war, she will make use of her under-water flotilla. Japan has no submarine boats, but Rusisa has one, at least, of a new type—the Petr Kochka—completed, which could be sent out in sections to the Pacific. Possibly she also possess some of the Goubet type.

The illustration accompanying this article represent the Protector, an entirely novel type of American submarine, which differs very greatly from the boats belonging to the British, French or our own government. She has been built as a private speculation by Mr. Simon Lake, of Baltimore, who is now in Europe, and hopes to induce the admiralties there to give his boat a trial. The Protector is 65 feet long by 11 foot beam, and displaces 115 tons. On the surface she is driven by a 250-horse power petrol motor, actuating twin screws, and is submerged by an electric motor of 75 horse power. She is fitted with three torpedo tubes, has a speed of about 14 knots on the surface and eight and nine-tenths knots below, and has a diver's compartment, by which divers can leave and enter the vessel while submerged.

Mr. Lake has built two submarines fitted with wheels whereby they roll along the ocean floor. The first is intended for peaceful operations, and is named the Argonaut; the second, which is armed with torpedoes, is the Protector. Mr. Lake believes that underwater vessels have a very useful future before them, both from a peaceful and from a warlike point of view, and already his submarine wrecking boat Argonaut has performed valuable service in wreck-raising, recovering coal from sunken barges, and in similar operations.

Mr. Lake commenced the study of submarine navigation nearly 20 years ago, and he claims that he has traveled greater distances under water than any other builder on either side of the Atlantic. The first practical and successful boat built by Mr. Lake was the Argonaut, and she has proved the practicability of this type of vessel for commercial purposes. She can remain for days under the surface; she can steer as correct courses as on the surface, and affords the crew the same co[illegible] when on the surface, with ample sleeping, cooking facilities, and she has means of enabling divers to enter and leave the hull through an open door through which no water can possibly enter.

The main feature that distinguishes the "Lake" type of submarine is the power of traveling on the floor of the ocean. For this purpose they are fitted with wheels, and when on the bottom they run along the sea bed, just as a carriage rolls along a highroad. They also differ from the "diving torpedo boats" of the Holland type in the British and American navies, in that they go under on an even keel. The Lake boats need not always run on the ocean bed, but can be navigated at any predetermined depth between the surface and the bottom. In this position the depth of submergence is maintained nearly constant by means of hydroplanes, one or more on each side of the vessel. These hydroplanes, or horizontal ruders, are controlled automatically, and the boat in submerging always maintains a level keel. The method of submersion by the side vanes, or hydroplanes, is as follows: Water ballast is taken in to bring the boat to the "awash" condition. The vanes are then turned downwards, and the water flowing against the upper portion of the planes, forces the structure beneath the surface until the required depth is reached.

JUNIOR ENDEAVORERS AFFAIR

A TRINITY REFORMED SOCIETY HOLDS ITS CLOSING EXERCISES.

An interesting literary and musical programme marked the closing exercises of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society, of Trinity Reformed church, yesterday afternoon, and in addition there were several presentations. Miss Violet VanWinkle, as president of the society, was in charge of the programme, which included recitations by the Misses Adelaide Coles, Ida VanArsdale, Beulah VanWinkle and Rosamon Rogers and Milford McAffee. There were also piano selections by the Misses Pansy Luckey, Elsie Dunham, Nettie Robinson and Edna Coles.

The roll call of members was followed by the reading of a letter of congratulation from Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, who is in Grand Rapids, Mich., attending the General Synod. In the letter he said that the past year had been the most successful in the history of the society. This pleased the young Endeavorers.

Mrs. J. M. Tier, who has charge of the society, was presented with a handsome pocketbook by the members, as a token of esteem for her faithful labors. Harold Schenck made the presentation and in turn he received a picture for having collected the most money during the year, and Miss Violet VanWinkle also received a picture for having attended every meeting during the year.

After the entertainment refreshments were served by the social committee and everyone had a general good time. The society now numbers 130, an increase of several over a year ago.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

An old landmark is being done away with where B. F. Tallamy is about to erect a dwelling on his lot No. 548-50 West Front street. An elm tree, one of the largest on the street, is being removed from in front of the site chosen for the house and considerable difficulty has been experienced in cutting the roots which spread in every direction. As soon as F. J. Hubbard completes the survey of the property, the excavation for the house will be made and construction will begin.

Dr. Wadsworth Secures Fellowship.

At the commencement of Columbia University, New York, held yesterday, Augustus B. Wadsworth, M. D., secured the fellowship of the Alumni Association in pathology. Its value is $500. Dr. Wadsworth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wadsworth, of New York, formerly of this place.

The doctors went through a lively practice on Crescent Oval yesterday afternoon in anticipation of their game with the ministers Saturday.

Youth's Companion, his first serious efforts in this department of story writing is to be found in 'The Yankee Enchantments.' It appeared in 1900. The volume contains a number of bright little stories, which would captivate the interest of the average youth, and its sale shows that the author has a decided gift of telling children's stories.

"Mr. Loomis again ventured to relate stories for children a year ago, the product of his labor taking the name 'A Partnership in Magic.' This was a somewhat lengthy tale, and it was proportionately clever. His last work is entitled 'Cheerful Americans,' a collection of humorous sketches. The material for this consisted of a group of observations by Mr. Loomis while he was abroad several years ago. It has been highly praised by book reviewers, and still commands a large sale. He has another work under way, which is likely to appear in the fall, but he is reluctant to talk about it.

"Like many writers he has reduced his work to a system and follows his schedule day by day. It is his custom to pass four mornings a week at his typewriter. That's where he does all his work, and it doesn't bother him a bit to have his children playing around the study while he is banging away at the keys. It might be mentioned that Mr. Loomis seldom makes any plans beforehand. When he sits down at his typewriter he grabs the machine and an idea about the same time. If the idea goes back on him, the Fanwood man takes his hat and goes out to the road leading past his house and whiles away his time. Then he seeks the company of the typewriting machine again. Usually he writes three or four stories or sketches a week, and, in addition, works up a few jokes just for the fun of it. Two days a week he is in New York. The afternoons he spends in the country, every now and then driving into Plainfield to do some shopping. The summer months are spent in Litchfield County, Conn., and while there he slacks up a bit on his work. He is a quick writer and always rewrites his articles at least once. His 'Partnership in Magic' is a work of 40,000 words, and the correspondent has his statement for it that the 'deed' was done in two weeks.

"In the fall Mr. Loomis intends to take a Southern trip and his time will be devoted in giving readings and recitations, mostly from his works. In the past he has been quite successful in drawing good audiences. He has scored decided hits in addressing the students at Columbia College, University of Michigan and at West Point. But he much prefers to be at home, surrounded by his wife and three children, Battell, Alfred and Edith, three bright youngsters. His brother, Harvey Worthington Loomis, who lives in New York, has made a reputation as a composer of music. He is devoting his hours to harmonizing Indian melodies and is keeping up his task of composing vocal and instrumental selections."

Woman's Exchange Officers.

These officers were elected by the Plainfield Woman's Exchange, yesterday: President, Mrs. O. T. Waring; vice presidents, Mrs. Julia M. VanBuren, Miss Elizabeth R. Cock; treasurer for consignors, Mrs. R. M. Stover; treasurer for exchange, Mrs. W. M. Stillman; recording secretary, Mrs. T. W. T. Maxwell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hugh Hastings. During the past year the exchange has been quite successful in its work, although it needs all the support possible.

West Ends Defeated.

The American Eagles defeated the West Ends on the Cricket field yesterday afternoon by a score of 20 to 2. Blazier, Denton and Abbott were the battery for the Eagles and Bailey and William VanWinkle for the West Ends. Dave Rogers made a home run.

MINISTER DEPLORES GAMBLING

REV. L. R. HOWARD'S ARGUMENT AGAINST BETTING.

Betting of all kinds was denounced by Rev. L. R. Howard, at the meeting of the Young People's Society, of Hope chapel, last night. Mr. Howard said there was no real difference between small bets on games and fortunes wagered on race horses.

Four cardinal reasons were cited for the utter condemnation of betting: First, it affected the winner so that he was pauperized in as true a sense as applied to any other instance where sociologists use the term. Second, the winner was as truly robbed as the victim of the highwayman, because his money was taken from him against his will; Mr. Howard held that no man betted without being sure that his superior cunning would enable him to keep his money and take the other man's. Third, the effect upon the person who indulges in beting is like that of a disease that grows; even inconsiderable, and so-called innocent betting, eventually brought the bettor into the grip of the vice. Fourth, betting was like a contagious disease, and spread through a community unless rebuked; for this reason, Mr. Howard held, the community had as much interest in it as the individual follower of the vice, and was justified in forbidding it.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

The regular meeting of Martha Washington Council, No. 23, D. of A., will be held Saturday evening.

Three candidates are to be admitted to membership by Somerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., tomorrow night.

The district deputy from Elizabeth will visit Friendship Degree Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, on Tuesday night.

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Ancient Order Hibernians, a strawberry festival will be held in St. Mary's Hall on Thursday and Friday nights, June 16 and 17.

Benevolent Council, No. 256, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening. All members are requested to be present as business of importance will be transacted.

HIGH SCHOOL'S WINNING TEAM

SCHOOL BOYS HAVE A CRACK AGGREGATION ON THE DIAMOND.

There are two more games on the High School baseball schedule. One is with the Cedarcroft combination and the other with Leal's. Both teams have been met before and defeated, so the High School players look for victories in both games.

As a whole, the season has been one of the best the High School has pulled into history. Pingry, Leal's, Rutgers Preparatory, the three big teams that High School goes after every year, have been larrupped soundly. That trio of scalps alone gives the public school boys a considerable curve of chest.

Children's Day Service.

A "Children's Day and Flag Day" service will be held next Sunday morning at 10:30 in place of the usual preaching service at the Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday-school. A programme of unusual interest has been arraigned, including exercises, recitations and music by members of the school. An orchestra and junior choir will lead the singing and render several selections. There will also be talent from New York and Brooklyn. A cordial invitations is extended to all.

Educators Take a Sail.

S. St. John McCutchen, of the borough, who is a member of the State Board of Education, was among the party of educators who took a pleasant sailing voyage on Captain J. Holmes Longstreth's yacht "May" on Tuesday. It was the annual outing given by Hon. J. Bingham Woodward, of Bordentown, to his colleagues and friends. During the trip the question of a site for the new Normal School was introduced, but no action was taken, the full board not being present.

No Betting on Result.

Dr. B. vanD. Hedges, captain of the doctors' baseball team, says that no rain checks or trading stamps will be given at the game to be played on Crescent Oval Saturday afternoon for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. All efforts to get the ministers to back their team have been unavailing, much to the chagrin of Dr. Lufburrow, who says that he has some coin to spare on the result of the game.

CEDARCROFT'S EASY VICTORY

WESTFIELD HIGH SCHOOL LOSES GAME SCORE BEING 13 TO 1.

The Cedarcroft baseball nine defeated the Westfield High School nine on Cedarcroft field yesterday afternoon by the score of 13 to 1. In fielding, batting and base running the local boys had the best of the "down the line" team. Ovens pitched a gilt-edged game and had the Westfield boys completely at his mercy.

The visitors were unable to hit his delivery. On the other hand the local boys pounded Posey out of the box in the fourth inning. Abrams then went in but the Cedarcroft aggregation did not let up in their batting and he was pounded fully as hard as Posey.

Elbert caught Ovens in faultless style. Horton, the Cedarcroft first baseman who lives in Binghamton, N. Y., will play that position on the All-Collegiate team of that city. Captain Torrey and Hommann both played their usual snappy game. Only five innings were played on account of the rain.

MRS. SARAH S. MOON DEAD

SUCCUMBS TO RHEUMATISM AT THE AGE OF EIGHTY-THREE.

Mrs. Sarah S. Moon, of 44 Grandview avenue, passed away at 8:30 this morning. For many years she has been a great sufferer with rheumatism which so crippled her that she was barely able to move about the house by means of a wheeled chair. She has borne her sufferings with gentle patience and noble fortitude, and looked forward to the time of her departure with confident hope.

From a child she walked in Christian ways; and for three score and eleven of her four score and three years she has been a member of the Christian church. For eighteen years she has resided in this city with her only son, Joseph D. Moon. Her early home was at Clover Hill, N. J., and there the interment will be made.

COLORED SOCIETY WEDDING.

Miss Jennie Green Becomes the Wife of James Gilette.

The wedding of James Gilette and Miss Jennie Green was quietly celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gilette, Park avenue, yesterday afternoon in the presence of a goodly number of their friends. The house was prettily decorated with ferns and flowers and the ceremony was performed by Rev. F. D. Tildon. The bride was handsomely attired in white satin trimmed with Spanish point lace and wore a tulle veil. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Barnes, of Jersey City, while John H. Worts, of Bound Brook, accompanied the groom as best man. Mendlessohn's wedding march was played by Charles E. VanHorn.

Among the guests present were: The bride's mother, Mrs. Green, and two sisters from Piscataway, Miss Thickstun, the Misses Ackerman, Mrs. Lewis Brown, Mrs. Albert Shipley, Miss Cora Shipley, Frank Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. Postum, Simon Robinson, Miss Hinton, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Green, Emory and John Gilette, of Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. Gilette and Herbert Rogers, of Somerville; Charles Warnack, of Jersey City, Mr. and Mrs. Gilette, of Flagtown; Miss Clara Hoag, of Rutherford; Mr. and Mrs. Carr, of Orange.

Her Heirs Defeated.

By a decision handed down yesterday by Justice Scott in the Supreme Court, in New York, the heirs of Mrs. Elizabeth Rice were defeated in an action which they brought to recover $235,000 from the estate of William M. Rice, for whose death Albert T. Patrick is under sentence of death, awaiting a hearing and determination in the Court of Appeals. The Central theatre, in this city, is owned by the estate.

Horse Show Entries.

Entries for the Plainfield horse show close tonight. Already fifty entries have been made and many more are expected today. Weaven Brothers, of New York, will show fifteen horses.

Doorman's Pay Cut.

The monthly salary of Doorman Thomas McCue, who completed his twentieth year of service on the Plainfield police force only a few days ago, has been cut from $75 to $50.

P. H. S. Class Day.

Arrangements have been completed by the High School seniors for class day exercises. They will be held in Franklin School Hall Tuesday night, June 14, at 8 o'clock.

Social at Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. Boys' Baseball League players will hold a social at the association building tomorrow night.

Mrs. Swayze, of Philadelphia, is visiting with Mrs. J. S. Powlison, of Grandview avenue.

HORACE A. WOODWARD WEDS

PLAINFIELDER TAKES PHILADELPHIA GIRL AS HIS BRIDE.

Miss Helen-Lee Schiedt, daughter of Mrs. Jacob Arnold Schiedt, of Germantown, Philadelphia, and Horace Arthur Woodward, of this city, were married Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in St. Peter's church, Wayne avenue and Harvey street, Germantown, in the presence of a large number of relative and friends. The ceremony was performed by the assistant rector of the church, Rev. Mr. Hayden.

The bride was attended by her sisters, Miss Alice Schiedt, as bridesmaid and Gladys Schiedt as flower girl. The best man was Percival G. Browne, of this city, and the ushers were Carlos C. Gallup, of this city and Mr. Rees, of Philadelphia.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, 1211 Morris avenue, Germantown, there being over 150 present. The affair was attended by many pleasant features. Mr. and Mrs. Woodward are now enjoying a two weeks' honeymoon and upon their return they will live in New York.

The groom is well-known here, having been employed by Frank W. Bowley, the druggist for several years. He now holds a very responsible position as chemist for G. B. Seely's Sons, 319 West Fifteenth street, New York. The bride is a graduate of Bryn Mawr College, and is an accomplished young woman. They have the best wishes of their many friends. The bride was the recipient of many gifts of value and use. Among the guests at the wedding was a number of friends from this city.

PERSONAL.

H. C. Runyon, of Madison avenue, has been visiting friends in Hunterdon county.

Miss Jeanette Summers, of Orchard place, has returned from a visit to New Brunswick.

TOMORROW'S SCHEDULE ON DIAMOND AND LINKS

Ministers and Doctors to Cross Bats on Crescent Oval for the Benefit of Hospital.

ALIS AT WESTFIELD

COMPETITION FOR COMMITTEE CUP ON HILLSIDE CLUB'S COURSE.

Weekly Play for President's and Club Cups at the Park Golf Club—Woman's Handicap at Hillside.

Among the sports arranged and scheduled for tomorrow, several games of baseball will be played for the amusement of those who like the National game. The chief game of interest here will be played on Crescent Oval between teams composed of the ministers and physicians of the city. This contest, for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital, will be called at 3 o'clock and every one who wants to see it is requested to be on hand promptly at this hour.

The ministers will lineup as follows: Lovell, c; Pearce, p; Stevenson, 1b; McKelvey, ss; Downey, 2b; Howard, 3b; Herring, rf; Mooney, cf; Finn, lf.

This is the way the medicos will face up in the struggle: Doyle, p; Browning, c; Cregar, ss; Adams, 3b; Zeglio, 2b; Hedges, B., 1b; Hedges, E. W., lf; Ard, cf; Long, rf; Buchanan, Carman, Pittis, substitutes.

Another game of interest will be between Alis and Westfield at Westfield. Manager Johnston will try conclusions with Manager Denman in the second game of the series and he hopes to wrest victory from the down-the-line team. No doubt a large crowd of fans will accompany the team and cheer it on to victory.

The Y. M. C. A. team will journey to New Market for a contest and as neither side has lost a game this season, the match should be a good one. Scotch Plains, who were defeated a few weeks ago by the Garwood A. C., will go to Garwood and make a desperate effort to win. The A. U. U. W. team, of Westfield, is scheduled to meet the Clinton Avenue team on the Clinton avenue grounds.

For those who do not care for baseball there will be plenty doing in golf. At the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club there will be the regular play in the morning for the Womens' Handicap cup and in the afternoon the weekly competition for the Golf Committee cup. At the Park Golf Club there will be the weekly play for the President's and Park Golf Club cups.

The events at the Westfield Golf Club include ball sweepstakes handicap, and the second team match in the East Jersey Golf Club series, between Westfield and Cranford. There is already considerable interest in this series and the Park Golf Club team gives promise of making a good showing before the end of the season. It has excellent material to draw from, the likely candidates being in good condition for play.

MINISTER MAKES A KICK

A WELL-KNOWN DIVINE THINKS HIS BROTHERS ARE IN ERROR.

Parson Jackson, of Mt. Olive Baptist church, rang up The Daily Press office yesterday to register his prediction that rainy weather will prevail tomorrow. He is "dogmatically and otherwise" opposed to ministers playing baseball, declaring that they should spend their time feeding their flocks.

Notwithstanding the lack of the parson's support, Plainfield's clergymen and physicians will wage a contest on Crescent Oval tomorrow afternoon for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital. Lewis G. Timpson, the manager of the affair, has abandoned his idea to translate some Russian war songs into baseball yells for the occasion.

Levi Backer Dead.

Levi C. Backer, father of Charles Backer, of this city, died yesterday at his home in Whitehouse, Hunterdon County. For eighteen years he ran a grocery route between that place and this city and was well known here, where he had a number of relatives. For many years he conducted a store at Whitehouse and was postmaster there under President Cleveland. A widow and five children survive him. The funeral will be held Sunday at Whitehouse.

MISS L. A. CLAWSON A BRIDE

SHE BECOMES MRS. ASA F. RANDOLPH AT A CHURCH WEDDING.

Before a large gathering of friends and relatives, Miss Louella A. Clawson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Clawson, of West Seventh street, and Asa F. Randolph, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Randolph, of Park avenue, were married last night in the Seventh-Day Baptist church, at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. George Shaw, the pastor, performed the ceremony. The church platform was decorated with smilax, daisies and ferns.

The bride was given away by her father. She was attended by Miss Cora Tomlinson, of New York. Charles M. Dolliver was best man. The ushers were Orra S. Rogers, Dr. Marc Clawson, of this city; Henry L. Maxson, of New York, and Alfred Holmes, of Brooklyn. Holmes Clawson and Witter Clawson, youthful nephews of the bride, carried a basket of flowers in the bridal procession. They strewed flowers down the aisle as the party retired after the ceremony.

The bride was dressed in chiffon, with a tulle veil, caught up with a spray of orange blossoms. The bridesmaid wore mouseline de soie, with applique trimmings.

A small reception, for the relatives and out-of-town guests, was held at the home of Dr. Frank Clawson, of West Seventh street, after the marriage. At 10 o'clock the bridal couple left for an extended trip. Their destination has been kept a secret.

EPWORTH LEAGUE'S RALLY

PLAINFIELD METHODISTS ATTEND DISTRICT MEETING AT SOMERVILLE.

Members of the various chapters of the Epworth League in this city and in the borough attended an Epworthian rally held with Chapter No. 4, at Somerville, last night. The local members made the trip to the county seat of Somerset in two special trolley cars. They report having had an enjoyable and profitable time.

The programme of the evening included special music and helpful addresses by ministers and others prominent in the Epworth League work. Every Methodist church in this city was represented at the gathering.

School Entertainment.

The pupils of the sixth grade, of the Franklin School, assisted by Miss Evalina DuBois Benton, reader; Miss Cornelia Miller, soloist, and William VanEps, will give an entertainment in the Assembly Hall, tomorrow evening.

ANNUAL INSPECTION OF CO. K, SECOND REGT.

Col. Bullman and Major Dungan Review Plainfield's Soldier Boys at Their Armory.

EXCELLENT DRILLING

CROWD WITNESSES THE MILITIA'S MANEOUVERS.

Col. Bullman Praises Captain Martin's Men—The Company May Get One Hundred Per Cent. for Attendance.

Company K, Second Regiment, N. G. N. J., was inspected at its armory last night by Col. Bullman, of Governor Murphy's staff and Major Nelson Y. Dungan, of Somerville.

It is expected that the company will receive a mark of 100 per cent. for attendance last night as the absence were only four in number and two of those had leave.

After the inspection of clothing, the new chevrons for the khaki uniforms were issued to the non-commissioned officers.

A large number of friends of the members were present to witness their execution of the drill manoeuvers and manual of arms. In this portion of the work the men showed up almost like regulars, their motions and step being in perfect unison.

Capt. Martin's command was highly complimented in the remarks of Col. Bullman to a Daily Press reporter after the drill was over.

Peddie's New Gym.

The special attraction of commencement week at Peddie Institute, Hightstown, June 12-15, will be the laying of the corner-stone of the new gymnasium, secured to Peddie through the generosity of Alumni and friends of the Institute. This will occur on Tuesday. Several members of the Alumni reside here.

Westfield's Full Schedule.

According to the Elizabeth Journal, Westfield's Saturday schedule is filled for the season, but the team is willing to play a series of Wednesday games with the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. team on the association grounds and will accept as a guarantee actual expenses.

BABE'S BODY FOUND IN LOT

Boy Picks Up Bundle Containing Remains of An Infant Weighing 10 Pounds.

INDICATES AWFUL DEED

Supposed That Child Was Born Alive, and Was Then Thrown in a Field on Grove Street, Where It Was Discovered by the Lad.

While playing ball in the lot at the corner of Grove street and Greenbrook road, on Wednesday, twelve-year-old George Benson, son of Andrew Benson, of Duer street, found a bulky parcel, carefully wrapped in paper and containing the body of an infant of normal size and weight.

The lad and his mates took the package to the edge of Stony brook and opened it, and ran to tell their elders.

The Benson boy spoke to his grandfather, Martin Benson, of 318 Grove street, and he saw where the object lay as it lay exposed on a roughly made sort of cheesecloth quilt padded with cotton and newspapers. As indications pointed to a serious crime, he despatched one of the boys to notify Chief Marshal George Weiss. Mr. Benson believes the child to have been born alive.

Chief Marshal Weiss heard nothing of the matter until 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, when Herman Klinsman, son of Herman Klinsman, of Harrison street, told Chief Weiss of the discovery.

Chief Meiss hastened to the spot and found that the water rats infesting the brook had made a clean sweep of the remains and even started to devour the quilt.

No clue has been afforded thus far to lead to the identity of the person who left the bundle at the place where it was found.

OFFICIAL RECORDS IN Y. M. C. A. SPORTS

Athletic League of Y. M. C. A. of North America, Confirms Plainfielders Records.

CHAMPIONS IN STATE

RAYMOND M. SMITH AND WALTER M'NAUGHTON THE WINNERS.

State Records As Made by Local Athletes—Report is Transmitted to Physical Director C. E. A. Heywood.

Acting Secretary S. A. Lewis, of the Athletic League of Young Men's Christian Associations of North America, has transmitted to Physical Director C. E. A. Heywood, of the local association, the records made by Plainfielders who took part in the meet held here last winter. They have been approved by the governing committee.

These are the records: New Jersey State record, indoor, potato race, Raymond M. Smith, one minute, forty-three and three-fifths seconds; New Jersey State record, indoor, three standing broad jumps, twenty-nine feet and one-half inch; twelve pound shot-up, indoor, thirty-nine feet and four and one-half inches; New Jersey State record, indoor, running high dive, Walter C. McNaughton, five feet, eleven inches.

At the time these records were made, Secretary Hepburn, of the league, who was present in an official capacity, stated that the performances of Munger in both the events he took part in and McNaughton in the high dive constituted new records for the Eastern Section of the league; so that the approval of these performances as State records merely, would seem to indicate that they have been beaten somewhere in the Eastern Section outside New Jersey. McNaughton's record comes within one inch of the National record.

Baptists to Assemble.

The Morris and Essex Baptist Association will hold its annual convention at the Milburn Baptist church, Tuesday, June 14. Rev. D. S. Mulhern, of West Orange, will preach the annual sermon.

Former Mayor W. L. Saunders and family, of the borough, will sail for Europe on Thursday, July 5.

EXCHANGE'S BIG BUSINESS

WOMEN'S ORGANIZATION PAYS OUT $10,000 TO 140 CONSIGNORS.

The great amount of good accomplished by the Plainfield Woman's Exchange is shown in the annual report of the treasurer, just presented for the past year. It shows that there were about 140 consignors to the exchange during the year and that nearly $10,000 was paid to them for their work. This represents a large amount of work and the members are glad to be able to assist so many persons. Of this sum the exchange receives 10 per cent., which is used to pay rent, salaries and other expenses. A great many times the members are obliged to go down in their pockets to assist, the receipts not being sufficient to meet them. During the past few months several luncheons have been given and in this way money is secured to help in the work.

Yesterday afternoon at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Clubhouse, a successful luncheon was held under the auspices of the exchange. There were 108 persons present. Owing to the disagreeable weather the small tables were placed inside. They were in charge of the members of the executive board, including Mrs. O. T. Waring, Mrs. Julia M. VanBuren, Mrs. Hugh Hastings, Miss Elizabeth R. Cock and Mrs. B. M. Stover. The tables were decorated with flowers and made attractive and the luncheon served by Mrs. Hellstrom was satisfactory in every respect.

After the luncheon the afternoon was spent in playing cards, there being an interesting game of bridge whist. It was about 4 o'clock when the women left the clubhouse and all agreed that the affair was one of the best of the series.

THREE BROTHERS GRADUATE

TWO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS FROM COLUMBIA AND ONE FROM CORNELL.

Charles A. Squires, the son of Henry C. Squires, of this city, was graduated from Cornell University Medical School, at Carnegie Lyceum, as one of the honor men. He took first prize in otology, and stood fourth in a class of fifty-five.

On the same day two other sons of Mr. Squires were graduated from Columbia University. Fred Squires received the degree of B S, in architecture and Lewis Squires was sent out from the law school with an LL. B. sheepskin.

TWO ARRESTS FOLLOW FALSE ALARM OF FIRE

Ring in From Box in Borough and F. Moncton and R. A. Perine Taken Into Custody.

INDICATION OF CRIME

ONE MAN TAKES TO HIS HEELS WHEN POLICE APPEAR.

Mayor Smalley Orders the Arrest—Prisoners to be Brought Up for a Hearing Monday Evening.

Two arrests were made in the false alarm case in the borough last night. In consequence of a ring-in from box 154, Rockview Terrace and Rockview avenue, Frank Moncton and Robert A. Perine, the latter of Arlington avenue, were taken into custody upon circumstantial evidence.

Moncton has a police record for drunkenness and vagrancy.

The alarm came in at 1:30 o'clock. Just before it sounded Officer Flack saw the two men, and recognized them, near the box. He saw them in the same vicinity directly after the ring-in. He spoke to them and received an answer. At the same time he espied a fleeing figure going over the Howell place nearby, and gave chase. The fugitive escaped.

When Chief Woolston arrived on the scene Flack told him what he had seen. The Chief called up Mayor Smalley and asked for instructions, laying the case before him. The Mayor told him to have the two suspects arrested. Warrants were immediately sworn out before Recorder Doud, and the police on this side of the brook were told to watch for Perine. The warrant for his arrest was placed in Officer Messler's hands, with instructions to go to the suspect's house at once. While on his way at 3:30 o'clock, Messler found Perine talking to Officer McKeon, and placed him under arrest. Up to noontime today Perine was still in the city jail awaiting transfer to the borough.

While Messler was out after Perine, Chiefs Woolston and Weiss, and the latter's officers were scouring the borough for the other suspect. Officer Pope found him on Somerset street and locked him up in the borough jail. Both men deny the charge and disclaim all knowledge of the alarms. Officer Messler has reported to the city department that on the night the three alarms were turned in he met Perine near his home on Arlington avenue, after the alarms had rung. The suspects will be arraigned in court tonight.

It was rumored about the borough this morning that one of the members of the paid department was implicated in the matter. Mayor Smalley said that one of the paid men was in the company of the suspects earlier in the evening, but that there is no evidence to indicate that he was with them at the time the alarm rung.

The hearings have been set for Monday night.

MISS CARRIE E. MEHL BURIED

HANDSOME FLORAL TRIBUTES AT THE SERVICE HELD YESTERDAY.

Funeral services over the body of Miss Carrie E. Mehl were held yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, on West Second street. Rev. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, officiated in the absence of Rev. Dr. Cornelius Sobenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, of which Miss Mehl was a member.

The house was crowded with friends and relatives, many of the former being those with who Miss Mehl had worked for a long time in church and charitable affairs.

From the Sunday-school friends of the dead woman came a large bunch of cut flowers and among the other floral pieces, which were so numerous as to require a separate carriage, was a large initial "C" in sweet peas.

During her illness of about a year, Miss Mehl was a great sufferer so that recently she had longed for release from her constant pain. No matter what her sufferings might be, however, she was patient and uncomplaining.

Two brothers, John and George Mehl and two brothers-in-law, Charles F. Debele and George R. Schlereth, were the pall-bearers.

Interment was made in Hillside.

A Suggestion from

STEINWAY & SONS

About Piano Tuning

are continually doing a great deal of mischief to good pianos. It will therefore doubtless be of interest to owners of Steinway and other pianos, residing at not too great a distance from New York, to learn that we are now prepared to take orders for the tuning and regulating of pianos during the summer months at special rates. Not only the members of our large regular tuning force but also those of our staff of experts who, during the winter season, have been traveling with eminent pianists on their concert tours, and who have now returned to New York, are available for this work. The greater the number of orders from any one place or vicinity the lower our charge will be for each piano attended to. Consequently we would suggest to prospective customers in any locality that they "club together" in sending us their orders, whenever feasible and agreeable, as the most economical and satisfactory plan. Your patronage is respectfully solicited.

Every suit a remarkable value at the price. The style, fit and make-up of these garments are the acme of perfection. The little things that don't show at a glance usually betray a cheap suit into speedy seediness. Padded shoulders, shrunken linen canvass, hand-felled collars and lapels, fadeless colors, all go to make these suits the best value at the price ever offered you in the clothing line.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Daniel Olson, of the Standard Surgical Intrument Company's plant, is on the sick list.

Fred Stewart, of West Front street, has resigned his position at the Rushmore Dynamo Company's plant.

Andrew Frank has returned to his position at the Campbell Press Company's plant after a week's illness.

Adam Aister, of the Standard Surgical Company's plant, is entertaining Mrs. and Miss Lamontague, of Brooklyn.

A fifty-four inch lathe was shipped to the Japanese Government from the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant yesterday.

Miss Lillian Casey has returned to her position at the Standard Surgical Instrument Company's plant after a week's illness.

Samuel Clouston, of the Manganese Steel Safe Company's plant, who has been at the St. Louis fair for the past month, has returned to his position.

The employes of the erecting department of the Potter Press Company's works worked until 9 last night on a rush order of a No. 2 lithograph press.

Paul Wagner, of the Campbell Press Company's plant, has returned from repairing a Century press in a publishing house at Port Richmond, S. I.

Harry Jones, a former employe at the Potter Press Company's plant, has taken a position on an ice wagon belonging to the Hygeia Ice Company.

A strike of marine firemen on the coastwise steamships was started yesterday. 1,000 men are already out. The union ordered a strike against nine lines. The demand is for a new wage scale to abolish the crimping system.

A strike of the 3,500 mine workers at the eight collieries of the Temple Coal and Iron Company, and the 5,300 men at the ten collieries of the Scranton Coal Company is threatened unless the companies agree to deduct the wages of the check weighmen and the check docking bosses from the wages of the men. Leaders of the mine workers said that the men are rapidly losing patience at the failure of the companies to act. The bosses' wages are now paid by the union, and the non-union men are not contributing.

Going to St. Louis.

City Clerk J. T. MacMurray and Postmaster E. H. Bird will leave on Saturday for St. Louis to attend the Exposition. Mr. MacMurray is one of the New Jersey Commissioners and his trip will be a combination of pleasure and business. Yesterday the city clerk was one of the guests at a dinner given at Lake Hopatcong for several prominent men of the State.

Directory of Baptist Dominies.

Rev. E. C. Romine, of Philadelphia, has been making a list of Baptist ministers in the country who have been ordained fifty years or more. There are several in this State, including Rev. Dr. D. J. DEATH TO UNIONISM Citizens' Alliance Issues Bold Challenge to Miners.

ACTION TO QUELL RIOT AND MURDER

Absolute Annihilation of Labor Unions In Cripple Creek Predicted. General Bell's Mounted Infantry In Pursuit of Rioters.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 10.—"Death to unionism in the Cripple Creek district" is the new slogan of the Citizens' alliance, which has sent a decree broadcast that every person connected with any union here must either sever his or her connection with such organization or leave this district.

The latest stand of the antiunionists was vaguely hinted at two days ago, but the movement on the part of the alliance seemed so absurd to 3,000 or 4,000 unionists in the camp and its enforcement fraught with so many difficulties that it was not taken seriously.

Tyson S. Dines, a Denver attorney and one of the executors of the Stratton estate, is here in conference with Citizens' alliance leaders, and it is announced that he is preparing a form which will be presented to every merchant and business man and other employers of labor in the entire district pledging them not to employ any person who is affiliated with a labor union.

No person who works for a living will be exempt, and the absolute annihilation of unionism in this country is predicted by members of the Citizens' alliance and the Mine Owners' association. This is considered the most drastic step yet taken by the alliance since it secured the upper hold in the district, and its enforcement will affect 3,000 men and women now affiliated with the various unions. Among the unions that will be affected are the clerks, cooks and waiters, bartenders, carpenters, electricians, trainmen and stone and brick masons. The unionists assert they will fight the movement to a finish.

General Bell issued the following statement regarding the raid on the Victor Record office and the destruction of the newspaper plant:

"I cannot be too emphatic in my condemnation of this unmerited act. Such action as this reflects upon the military, because martial law prevails. As military commander I am solely responsible for the cleaning up of this crime if it is possible.

"I am aware that Editor Kyner was bitterly denounced and threatened and accused of selling out when his editorial appeared asking the Western Federation of Miners to call off the strike. The socialistic element of the federation were the ones who took the principal stand in this thing. However, whoever the perpetrators of this crime may be they will land in the bull pen if apprehended."

F. W. Langdon, the linotype operator who was driven out of the Record office at the point of rifles, says that he will not leave the district as ordered. He will send his family away, however. The other employees of the Record also say that they will remain in the city.

A squad of mounted infantrymen has left Victor in pursuit of fifty-five union miners, said to be encamped in the Beaver Creek region, east of this city. The troops have orders to shoot the men when found if they resist arrest.

Marshal Naylor and his squad have captured George Fridley near Canon City and returned with him to Victor. He is charged with having killed Roxie McGee in Victor and with having attempted to shoot C. C. Hamlin, secretary of the Mine Owners' association, when he was addressing the meeting in Victor.

The mining exchange hall is being used as a bull pen in addition to the Victor armory. Armed deputies are placed in the galleries of the exchange, the prisoners occupying the pit of the callroom. Several guards are at the door, each carrying repeating shotguns that contain buckshot. Families and wives of the prisoners constantly endeavor to see and talk with the husbands and fathers incarcerated, in most cases permission being refused. Five of the six members of the Goldfield city council are in the bull pen, so that the town is without an executive body.

Coroner George Hall, who succeeded Coroner James Doran, who resigned under compulsion, has impaneled a new jury, which will hold an inquest over the men murdered at Independence by an infernal machine.

To Release President Moyer.

DENVER, June 10.—Attorneys for the Western Federation of Miners are preparing an application to the supreme court for a rehearing in the case of Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who is held as a military prisoner at Telluride by order of Governor Peabody.

College President Attempts Suicide.

ODESSA, Mo., June 10.—L. G. Gehman, president of Odessa college, has been found unconscious in his apartments in the college building. He had shot himself in the region of the heart and it is believed will die. President Gehman was born in Philadelphia seventy years ago and for ten years was superintendent of the schools of Fruitland, Md.

Killed En Route to World's Fair.

CATSKILL, N. Y., June 10.—Gilbert Ernest Lanzey, aged twenty-two years, one of four youths of this village who left here on Sunday night bound for the world's fair at St. Louis, was run over and killed by a train on the New York Central and Hudson River railroad near Canajoharie.

TROLLEYS' SUMMER SCHEDULE

PUBLIC SERVICE CORPORATION OFFICIALS BUSY ON NEW TIME TABLES.

Col. Edwin W. Hine, of the Public Service Corporation, has his hands full these days perfecting as rapidly as possible his plans for the heavy summer traffic on the mutifarious roads controlled by the corporation, and in a few days he hopes to have them in working order.

The first thing to be considered is an adequate supply of cars. Plenty have been ordered by the corporation, and if only the car builders will hurry them up, the full number of the new order, 150, ought to be shipped within a couple of weeks.

Hitherto the corporation has been considerably hampered by the delay in shipping the cars occasioned by strikes and other disturbances. At the Meadow shops on the Plankroad there are waiting the wheels and other equipments, and as fast as the cars arrive they are equipped. Men have been steadily working night and day there for some months preparing for the traffic.

Supt. Akarman, in charge of the traffic department, has been laboring for weeks over the schedules, and these include the "through" trips to Trenton and Philadelphia, and Trenton to the Amboys and the seashore resorts. In a very short time, he says, it will be possible to take through cars at the Exchange Place depot to almost every important point on the system.

A GENERAL ASSAULT

Japanese Contemplate Storming Port Arthur Today.

TOGO BOMBARDS ALL ALONG COAST

Russians Driven Out From Fortified Position at Saimatze With Heavy Loss—Kuroki's Strategy May Be a Feint.

LONDON, June 10.—Advices from Chefu say that Chinese arriving from Port Arthur report the Japanese fleet bombarding Port Arthur daily from a considerable distance offshore, fearing to attempt a closer range of fire on account of danger from Russian mines.

The Chinese, both merchants and coolies, are leaving Port Arthur with the permission of the Russian authorities. Fifty junks with Chinese passengers have arrived at Chefu.

The reports of the latest arrivals vary in minor details, but agree in a general statement that a battle had been raging for four days within ten miles of Port Arthur. All the Russian soldiers have, it is said, left Port Arthur for the front, and only three large ships and some small ones remain in the harbor.

It is reported that Japanese plans contemplated a general attack on Port Arthur today.

A St. Petersburg dispatch says all Japanese movements are interpreted there as caused by anxiety to hamper as much as possible whatever movement General Kuropatkin may be making to help Port Arthur. Not only have the Japanese bombarded the west coast of Liautong peninsula, where the railway runs close to the shore, making feints of debarkation, but General Kuroki has assumed the offensive eastward. He has sent an overpoweringly strong column that drove out the Russians from a fortified position at Saimatze, twenty miles northwest of Fengwangcheng, inflicting a loss of 100 men.

Military critics profess to be not altogether certain whether General Kuroki's movement means a real advance or is simply a feint to distract Russian attention from Port Arthur, but they incline to the latter view.

General Kuropatkin has telegraphed to the emperor as follows:

"A Japanese brigade has attacked the Russian detachment occupying Saimatze. The Russians retired slowly because of the enemy's great superiority toward Fenchulin pass. Our losses were two officers wounded and 100 soldiers killed or wounded."

It is announced at St. Petersburg that no negotiations are taking place between Russia and Turkey concerning the passage of the Black sea fleet through the Dardanelles. The Turkish government has affirmed positively its intention to maintain neutrality and to observe strictly the obligations of the Berlin treaty.

While diplomatic circles disbelieve in the existence of danger in the Balkans, yet it is not thought that Russia would consider a reduction of the Black sea fleet at this time.

A Tientsin report says that 10,000 Russian infantry, with several batteries of artillery, are intrenched in a strong position at Pochichia, twelve miles south of Kaichau and thirty-five miles from Newchwang.

The Russians, apparently taking the offensive, have reached Suihaling, and are advancing along the railway. They are being heavily re-enforced.

A Shanghai telegram avers that the Japanese Third army, under General Nogi, will assault Port Arthur, while the Second army, under General Oku, will co-operate with General Kuroki.

Mrs. Etzel Will Demand $20,000.

DENVER, June 10.—Mrs. Mary Etzel, mother of Louis Etzel, the war correspondent who was killed by Chinese soldiers, will file a claim against the Chinese government for $20,000 damages. The case has been put into the hands of attorneys, who will seek the aid of the state department at Washington in enforcing the claim. Mrs. Etzel has received a telegram from Francis B. Loomis, acting secretary of state at Washington, stating that the consul at Newchwang had been instructed to arrange for the transportation of the body to this country.

Prison Rather Than Native Italy.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 10.—Antonio Sperano, a life prisoner at the state penitentiary, who on Monday last was granted a conditional release by the board of pardons, has declined to accept the release offered him. When informed of the condition of his release, which was that he should return to Italy, he became very much excited and said: "I cannot go back to Italy and work for 15 cents a day. I would rather stay in prison."

Moses Weil a Suicide.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Moses Weil, a director of the J. Spencer Turner company, commission merchants at 88 Worth street, has been found dead in his apartments at Sherry's. He had committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart. Ill health, members of the firm believe, was the cause of his act.

Attack on British Post In Tibet.

GYANGTSE, Tibet, June 10.—Eleven hundred Tibetans attacked the British post at Kangna, on the road to Lassa, with great ferocity yesterday. They were repulsed, the British loss being one Sepoy killed and several wounded. The Tibetans bombard Gyangtse daily.

Missouri to Go to Tangier.

NORFOLK, Va., June 10.—The battleship Missouri has sailed from Hampton Roads for Gibraltar. It is understood the vessel will join the fleet at Tangier.

Dr. Ellis W. Hedges gives as a quiet little tip on the game tomorrow: "Shout for the doctors but bet on the ministers." He intimates that it's a sure thing. The third baseman on the dominies' nine says: "Don't bet at all but pray for us."

The New England gas companies have employed an expert to conduct a campaign of newspaper advertising as the only means of "overcoming prejudices against gas as a fuel, as well as to cope with the advertising of a certain oil stove."—Philadelphia Record.

Plainfield will rejoice if severe punishment be inflicted on all those indicted for maintaining alleged speakeasies here who may be found guilty of the offense. These shops have been notorious and are a blot on the city. There is absolutely no reason for showing this class of culprits any mercy. They defy the police department and take advantage of the law which permits them to keep open on Sundays on the hypocritical ground that they observe Saturday as a Sabbath day. Plainfield wants the speakeasies put out of business once for all.

COACHMAN TO OWN AN AUTO

PETER HANSEN TO GET ONE IN EXCHANGE FOR TOBACCO COUPONS.

Out of the ashes of innumerable cigarettes and pipesful of tobacco, Peter Hansen, the coachman employed by Dr. Zeglio, will get an automobile. That sounds like the beginning of a fairy tale, but it is only the record of painstaking and successful collection of tobacco coupons.

The company back of the coupon scheme offers an Oldsmobile for 80,000 slips. By hard and constant effort Hansen has gathered the required number, and is on the point of sending for the gasolene carriage.

Postman Thomas Burns is nearing the 80,000 mark in coupon-collecting. He has all but 1,500 of the automobile number, and will have the full complement in a very short time.

The coupons are collected in various ways. The collector has all his friends hunting and saving them, hunt and save them himself, and, when he can't get them any other way, he buys them.

PERSONAL.

James Horton, who has been a resident of this city, has returned to his former home in Binghamton, N. Y.

Henry and David Torrey, of this city, left last night for St. Louis, where they will spend their summer vacation at the Exposition.

Mr. Teagle and family, of New York, will take possession of B. A. Hegeman's house on Myrtle avenue, tomorrow, for the summer. Mr. Teagle, who is connected with the Standard Oil Company, is expected to return tomorrow from a business trip to Europe.

—It is the hope of Councilman W. L. Gloak, chairman of the street committee, that the ordinance providing for the macadamizing of certain streets in the city will again be introduced at the July meeting and go through. According to the ordinance the work must be completed before November.

HELD STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

TRINITY'S LADIES' CHRISTIAN WORK SOCIETY SCORES A SUCCESS.

Unfavorable weather could not prevent the success of the annual strawberry and ice cream festival of the Ladies' Christian Work Society, of Trinity Reformed church, last night. Despite the chill and the forbidding clouds, the affair was well attended. It passed off delightfully, as much a success socially as financially.

Pretty decorations transformed the lecture room of the church, where the affair was held, into a most inviting bower. Flowers, real and paper, were used lavishly with most attractive effect. Garlands hung from all the chandeliers, and palms banked the back of the platform. Jars of cut flowers of various kinds were on each of the nine tables set for the guests. Broad strips of bunting hung from pillar to pillar.

There was a charming programme of entertainment. Miss Etta Raybert and Miss May Randolph played a piano duet; Mrs. Frazer, of Elizabeth, rendered two readings, and Edward Young played cornet solos, accompanied by Miss Randolph. All the numbers were thoroughly enjoyed, and encores were insisted upon.

In addition to the ice cream and berries, there was candy, cake and lemonade to tempt the guests. The candy table was in charge of Mrs Anna Leggett, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Cole and Mrs. Edward VanWinkle. The cake table was presided over by Mrs. Henry VanName, assisted by Mrs. Julia Williams. Miss Grace Emmons was in charge of the lemonade.

These young women served as waitresses: Misses May VanFleet, Grace Rowland, Elizabeth Davenport, Minnie Wyman, Ada VanDoren, Eva Dunavan, Nettie Krietling, Jessie Garthwaite, Kate Bodine, Lida Wyman, Florence Bennett.

The general committee on the festival was made up of Mrs. H. B. Paul, chairman; Mrs. Peter Emmons, Mrs. Salmon Baker, Mrs. Seaman Williams, Mrs. G. Q. Dolliver, Mrs. Winfield Schomp. The decorations were placed by Mrs. John VanDyke, assisted by Miss Grace Emmons and A. E. Smith. Mrs. Leggett arranged the programme.

The reception committee consists of Mrs. Mary Disborough, Mrs. B. D. Newell, Mrs. E. A. Parse and Mrs. M. E. Kershaw.

Miss Demarest is detained at her home in West Fourth street with an attack of typhoid fever.

Drs. E. W. Hedges and F. C. Ard have returned from Atlantic City, where they attended the annual meeting of the New Jersey State Medical Association.

Alfred Holmes, a former resident of this city, but now of New York, has been visiting in town for a few days. He was one of the ushers at the Clawson-Randolph wedding last night.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

Manager Smith has cancelled the game that he had scheduled with the Somerville A. C. for tomorrow afternoon and has arranged for a game with the Clinton Avenue A. A., which will be played on the Madison avenue grounds. Smith has made a good move by securing Mathews, of Bound Brook, to play behind the bat. Giles and Craig will both be back in their old positions in tomorrow's game and the borough team will probably make a good showing.

William Dunham, the manager of the railroad men's baseball nine, is considerably disappointed at the change in programme of the Dunellen team. The Dunellen boys had promised to play him Saturday afternoon and afterward took the same date for a game with Clinton Avenue.

Mrs. Hannah Nelson returned to her home in New Market, on Wednesday, after an absence of over a year, during which time she was severely ill at the home of a friend in Cadwell, N. J. Her health is much improved and she expects to be able to be about again in a few weeks.

John Dent, who has been proprietor of the Nelson Hotel in New Market, for the last four years, will leave with his family, on next Wednesday for Bloomfield, N. J., where they will make their home in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Apgar returned to their home on Front street, last evening, after spending several days with relatives in Lancaster, Pa.

Miss Annie Roselle Wilcox has returned to her home in Plainfield, after spending several days with Miss Emma Nelson, of New Market.

Charles Thornton has taken charge of the Nelson Hotel, which his brother-in-law, Mayor Bill Smith, purchased a short time ago.

Mayor Wyckoff and family will leave for Mauch Chunk tomorrow, where they will spend several days visiting friends.

Miss Margaret VanArtsdale left for West Point, yesterday morning, where she will spend several days, visiting relatives.

Children's Day exercises will be held in the New Market First Baptist church next Sunday evening.

Holy communion celebration will be held at Holy Innocents' church at 8:30 Sunday morning.

Mrs. W. G. Clawson is slowly recovering from a severe attack of tonsilitis.

Grover Kratzel expects to leave for St. Louis next Monday to see the Exposition.

Mrs. O. A. Douglas is entertaining her niece, Mrs. Ella Seitz, of Scarsdale, N. Y.

Little Helen Tinsman is suffering with an attack of tonsilitis.

Mrs. Foster Sofield is visiting in Bound Brook.

William Craig spent yesterday in Elizabeth.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The local ball team in the game at Garwood tomorrow afternoon against the Garwood A. C. team, will lineup as follows: Baldwin, 1b; Williams, 3b; Allen, c; Flannery, cf; Alberts or Frentz, rf; Cruisus, ss; Enright, 2b; Taylor, lf; Montross, p. If the weather is pleasant the fans will no doubt be found at the game helping to root for the locals. Game will be called at 3:45.

Mrs. F. L. Carey, of New York, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Corey, for several weeks, and who has been very ill during a portion of the time, was taken to New York on Wednesday by Mr. Corey, from which place she went to Berlin, Rensselaer county, N. Y., where she will remain with relatives for a time.

The Children's Day exercises of the Methodist Sunday-school will be held Sunday night in the church. A pleasing programme has been arranged and the friends of the school will no doubt be out in force to enjoy the event with the school.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., met in the Library rooms last night. Routine business only was transacted. Owing to the inclement weather the attendance was unusually small for Twilight.

Rev. Warren D. Coon, who has been spending several weeks at his home in Boston, has returned and will occupy his pulpit in the Methodist church as usual on Sunday.

The weekly prayer and teachers' meeting at the Baptist church tonight will be in charge of the pastor, Rev. G. M. Shott.

Miss Flossie Smith is spending a few weeks in the State of Arkansas.

CORRECTING HOUSE NUMBERS

STREET COMMISSIONER TO STIR UP THOSE NOT COMPLYING.

Ever since the Common Council adopted an ordinance directing property-owners to place the correct official number of their house in a conspicuous place, where it could be seen, many residents have paid no attention whatever to the ordinance. From time to time the matter has received attention on the part of city officials, but the effort has been productive of no special result.

Now it is proposed to get after the delinquent and Street Commissioner Gavett is going to notify him by postal card what the correct official number of his house is, according to the map on file in the City Collector's office. He will be instructed to have the number placed on the house at once, in compliance with the ordinance.

"Residents are careless about this important matter," said an official yesterday. "They do not realize what an inconvenience the absence of the correct number or any number at all is to the letter-carriers, express companies as well as many others who are constantly in search of persons in the city." Wherever it is possible Mr. Gavett will see that the correct numbers are put in a place where they can be seen plainly. Any person in doubt as to the number of his house can get the desired information at the office of the street commissioner.

Mr. Gavett will send out the postal cards within the coming week and he hopes that prompt attention will be given the matter.

—Michael Higgins has completed extensive improvements about his residence and grounds on West Front street.

—For Saturday's trade, Alex. Lusardi will have in the fruit line, peaches, plums, cherries, pineapples, Spy apples, red bananas and a large assortment of naval oranges.

—Charles Jenkins, of Webster place, who was hit in the leg by a batted ball recently, while witnessing a game at Crescent Oval, is now much better. The ball was batted in practice, Mr. Jenkins being seated on the bleachers, and he suffered intense pain for several days.

Henry L. Maxson, Esq., of New Rochelle, N. Y., who was one of the ushers at the Clawson Randolph wedding, last night, has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Amanda Maxson, of Truell Court.

UTAH'S CONVENTION

Democrats of Intermountain State Do Not Instruct.

NEED ONLY ANTI-ROOSEVELT PLANK

Question of Polygamy Thrown Out by Party Leaders, Fearing Rumpus—No Platform Presented.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 10.—The six delegates from Utah to the Democratic national convention will go uninstructed. Four of the six, it is understood, are against William R. Hearst, with a leaning toward Judge Parker as first choice. Two delegates probably will support Hearst.

For some time before the Democratic state convention opened it seemed almost certain that a bitter factional fight would be waged over the question of instructions to the national delegates with regard to the polygamy question. One faction, led by Brigham H. Roberts, were outspoken in their demands that the delegates be instructed to fight any antipolygamy plank in the national platform. Another faction strongly favored the adoption of a plank in the state platform similar to that adopted by the Idaho Democratic convention, demanding that the federal government take into its own hands the suppression of polygamy.

It was finally decided by the party leaders to avoid all reference to the question, and so thoroughly was this plan carried out that no committee on resolutions was appointed, and no platform was presented to the convention. Temporary Chairman Tillman D. Johnson in his opening speech made a plea for an uninstructed delegation and said the only platform the Democratic party needed this year to win was an anti-Roosevelt plank. This was the only reference to national issues made.

The delegates to the national convention are Joseph Mason, George C. Whitmore, former Senators Frank F. Cannon and Joseph L. Rawlings, S. A. King and Simeon Bamberger. D. H. Peary, Jr., a young mining man of Salt Lake City, was elected national committeeman from Utah.

Vice Presidency Not Mentioned.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—It was declared that at the luncheon given by the president last night the subject of the vice presidency was not mentioned and that politics was not discussed at all except in the most general way, and it was pointed out that a number of ladies were guests at the luncheon. Inquiries along this line led to it being stated at the White House that "the subject of the vice presidency will not be discussed with Mr. Roosevelt, the president preferring that that matter should be left entirely to the delegates at Chicago." Senator Dryden expressed approval of the proposed selection of Secretary Cortelyou as chairman of the Republican national committee.

Levi Z. Leiter Dead.

BAR HARBOR, Me., June 10.—Levi Z. Leiter of Chicago has died of heart failure at the Vanderbilt cottage, which the Leiters had taken for the season here. Mr. Leiter had not been well for a long time. Mrs. Leiter and two daughters were by the bedside at the last. Mr. Leiter was seventy years of age. He was the father of Lady Curzon of Kedleston, wife of the viceroy and governor general of India; of Miss Daisy Leiter, whose beauty has been a subject of note in English court circles, and of Joseph W. Leiter, speculator and investor.

Trailer Turned Completely Over.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 10.—Twenty-seven people, including several prominent politicians and a number of old soldiers, were injured in an accident last night on the Mason City and Clear Lake electric line as they were returning to Mason City from the last campfire of the state G. A. R. encampment. A trailer on a heavily loaded train jumped the track while going at a high rate of speed and turned completely over.

A Band of Incendiaries.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Charles Hughes, who says that he came from New York, has been arrested on a charge of being a member of a band of incendiaries who, according to the police and fire departments, have started a number of fires on the northwest side of the city, causing a property loss in the aggregate of about $100,000.

Miss Morton's Condition Critical.

PARIS, June 10.—The condition of Miss Lena Morton, daughter of Levi P. Morton of New York, has become critical owing to the development of blood poisoning. A member of the family said that only a ray of hope remained. The patient is at a private sanitarium, where the family is assembled most of the time.

Duane Miles Held For Arson.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., June 10.—Duane Miles of Gouverneur has been held for the grand jury, charged with having set fire to the buildings on the A. R. Flower farm, which have been totally destroyed.

Jiminez at Curacao.

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, June 10.—General Jiminez, former Dominican president, has arrived here seeking resources for his projects in Santo Domingo.

Insane Man Ran Amuck.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Abraham Judinski, who while running amuck on the street was arrested, charged with being an anarchist, has been declared insane.

Disagreeable Girls

Why They Are Not Invited Very Often

"I FEEL so sorry for some poor girls who never seem to have a good time. No one appears to care to have them around, and they miss all the little pleasures that belong to their age, while other girls seem to 'catch on' and are invited everywhere," remarked the kind hearted woman.

"Well, those poor girls usually have themselves to blame," retorted the woman who had experience. "As a rule, you will find them written down in hostesses' books as disagreeable girls."

"Well, if any one were to ask me which kind of girl I preferred not to invite I should reply the girl who makes conversation out of her private affairs and, worse still, sometimes out of the private affairs of her parents or the people she is living with."

"That reminds me of a young married woman who used to come to my parties a good deal, and her inevitable subject when talking to her partner between dances—an entirely strange man, mind you—was how the pipes kept leaking in her new house and how the baby was having such trouble with its teeth."

"I haven't much use either for the superior young person who comes to your young people's party prepared to dazzle everybody by her epigrams and who when she sees the fun waxing fast and furious all around her leans back in her chair looking unutterably bored."

"And what of the girl who comes horribly overdressed and prinks in every mirror?"

"I feel like shaking her as I feel when I see a girl suddenly stricken blind so she cannot see the approach of her dearest friend merely because a couple of men are paying her some attention."

"That sort of disagreeable girl would die rather than introduce a man."

"Yes, indeed. She doesn't seem to realize the other side of the picture, that it is the greatest blow to her charms, for it looks as if she were afraid."

"What about the whiners? You haven't mentioned them."

"Nor do I even want to think of them. I had one such precious individual at a picnic party I gave. I don't know what she expected a picnic to be, but I know that her voice was heard in lamentation from start to finish and that the only time when it wasn't heard was when she might have made herself useful, and then she was always out of sight and hearing."

"Have you ever had in your crowd at the mountains or seashore the contrary girl, who always wanted to do something different from what the others cared to do, even if it involved golfing on a very hot day or attempting to sail in a dead calm?"

"Yes, and after a bit we have always left her to follow out the desire of her heart all by her lonely."

"And the girl who says cattish things?"

"Such as by innuendo making me out an old fossil or replying brutally to a playful phrase like: 'Oh, you naughty girl! You kept that handsome man all to yourself last evening.' 'Well, I couldn't help that!' or some equally graceful remark. She's no favorite of mine."

"Don't forget the damsel who thinks she is irresistible and deserts the man you have provided for her at a dinner party in favor of the one you have provided for yourself, even if conversation with the latter is of the long distance order across the table."

"Or my husband? Well, poor man; he is used to these attacks. Come, my dear, on the whole you must admit that if a girl isn't invited she usually has only herself to blame. We married women love to have at our houses nice, bright, attractive girls who are always smiling and agreeable. And to tell you the truth there are so many of these that, thank heaven, we don't have to bother with the disagreeable ones." MAUD ROBINSON.

YOUNG TIPSTERS JAILED.

Twenty-six Youths Accused as Nuisances Get Swift Punishment.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Twenty-six youths, who tried to sell "tips" on the races to patrons of Gravesend and who were gathered in by Police Captain Dooley and his men, were arraigned in the Coney Island court and fined $5 each on a charge of obstructing the streets. They were unable to pay and went to jail.

The crowd groaned when they heard their sentence, but as they were hustled into the Black Maria to be taken to Raymond street jail they laughed and sang and whistled. They took their predicament philosophically.

The prisoners had been in the habit of shoving typewritten sheets, with the names of the horses they had picked to win, in the faces of patrons getting off trains and trolleys. They offered to sell them for a small sum. They were a great nuisance, and many complaints were made about them.

Captain Dooley thinks he has effectually stopped the operations of the young "tipsters."

TRAIN ROBBERS CAPTURED.

Posse of Ranchmen and Cowboys Round Up Rio Grande Thieves.

NEW CASTLE, Colo., June 10.—A posse of ranchmen and cowboys living in the neighborhood of Garfield, west of this place, came upon three men supposed to be the Denver and Rio Grande train robbers who dynamited the express car of a train near Parachute, Colo., Tuesday night, and in a battle which followed one of the men pursued was killed. The other two escaped into Garfield canyon and at last accounts were completely surrounded. It is thought that escape is impossible.

The dead man has been brought to this place and was identified as one of the three men who worked several days last week on the Denver and Rio Grande section near Parachute. He went under the name of J. H. Ross. It is reported that at least 200 men, heavily armed, are watching the other two men in the Garfield canyon and will shoot them down if they attempt to escape.

Secretary Shaw a Busy Man.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Secretary Shaw, accompanied by Mrs. Shaw, will leave here next Sunday for Mount Vernon, Ia., where they will attend the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of Cornell college, the secretary's alma mater. His daughter Enid graduated there last year. The secretary will be the bearer of President Roosevelt's felicitations on the completion of the college's half century of uninterrupted success. From Iowa the secretary and Mrs. Shaw will go to Chicago to attend the Republican national convention, whence they will return to Washington. On Monday, the 27th inst., the secretary will go to Chester, Pa., where he will deliver an address to the students of the public schools, and from there he will go to Vermont on customs business.

Train Wrecker May Be Lynched.

SALISBURY, N. C., June 10.—Doc Arthur, colored, fireman at the Salisbury, Ice factory, has been arrested here on a charge of wrecking No. 40, the fast mail train on the Southern railway, in this city. Engineer Haynes and his colored fireman, Jim Watkins, were killed in the wreck. It is known that he had threatened the life of the dead fireman, and it is rumored that a partial confession of his guilt has been made. Feeling runs high here.

Had $4,000 In Counterfeit Notes.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—A man giving his name at Marcus Crahan has been arrested at the Delmar race track by Secret Service Operator Murphy charged with having in his possession counterfeit money. In the prisoner's possession the officers found a total of $4,000 in $100 gold certificates, which are said to be counterfeits similar to those passed last Saturday or Monday on bookmakers at the Kenilworth and Gravesend tracks.

Wants Bryan to Hand Over $150,000.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 10.—An application by Mrs. Grace Imogene Bennett will be heard in the probate court on June 20 asking that William J. Bryan be required to bring from New York to the jurisdiction of the court $150,000 in cash and to make immediate payment to her of the $75,000 special bequest which her husband, Philo S. Bennett, made in her favor.

Will Fight For Her Children.

DENVER, June 10. — Mrs. L. C. Phipps has arrived here. Shortly after her arrival an answer to Mr. Phipps' petition for a divorce and a cross bill were filed. A copy of Mr. Phipps' petition for a divorce has been served upon Mrs. Phipps' attorney. She will make a big fight for the custody of her two children taken from her in New York by Mr. Phipps.

Bill Was Unwise and Unjust.

BOSTON, June 10.—The fifteenth veto has been sent to the legislature by Governor Bates. It was sent in disapproval of the so called soldiers' bounty bill, which provided for the payment of a bounty of $125 to all honorably discharged veterans of the civil war who had never received such pay. Governor Bates considered the bill unwise and unjust.

Very Particular About the Cooks.

TOLEDO, O., June 10.—Another trouble has broken out in marine circles. When Captain Galton wanted to start the big freighter Moses Taylor, the sailors here refused to ride with a cook not affiliated with the Lake Seamen's union and the firemen refused to ride with a cook not affiliated with the longshoremen.

Ideal Location
Dale and Linden Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
Beautiful and Accessible
2 Miles from Elizabeth. 7 Miles from Newark.
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.
FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

Cincinnati Trophy to Oiseau.

CINCINNATI, June 10.—The feature of the racing at Latonia was the Cincinnati trophy for two-year-olds at five and a half furlongs. The race was won by Oiseau in a driving finish by a nose. He beat Fisherman, the pacemaker, in the very last stride. Seven youngsters started, and they produced an exciting contest throughout. Besides the $3,130 which went to the winner a silver trophy, presented by Mayor Fleischmann of Cincinnati, was given to the winner's owner, J. J. Greener of Nashville.

Coup For Poseur.

CHICAGO, June 10. — Poseur was made the medium of a coup in the first race at Harlem, which she won with ease. Badly beaten by cheap fields in her last two times out, her sudden reversal of form brought about an investigation by the stewards of the Harlem Jockey club, with the result that J. Gray & Co. and their trainer, M. Foster, as well as the horses running in the name of the firm, including Poseur, Gus Heidern and others, were suspended pending an investigation.

New World's Auto Record.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 10.—James F. Moran of Chelsea created a new world's record for one hour's riding behind four horsepower machines at Charles River park last night, making the distance of 41 2-5 miles in the hour. There were seven starters in the race, including besides the winner Will C. Stinson, Sammy Sulkins, Benny Munroe, Basil de Guichard, Patsy Keegan and Louis Mettling. The last named withdrew.

On Electric Park Track.

BALTIMORE, June 10.—Lillian S. won the 2:17 class trotting race at Electric park in three straight heats. Paul Kruger was second, Marveline third and Hildercroft fourth. Best time, 2:19½. The 2:11 mixed race and the 2:17 pace were unfinished. Dr. Marvin won two heats and John W. Patterson one in the former. Blackbird has two heats credited to him in the pace, while Knox Gelatine has one.

Beldame's Easy Win.

NEW YORK, June 10.—On a very muddy track Beldame, at 1 to 2, won the Gazelle stakes for three-year-old fillies at Gravesend. She was not extended the entire distance of one mile and a sixteenth and won easily by five lengths. The fight for the place was hot and exciting, Graceful beating Little Em a length for second money.

"Twin" Sullivan Got the D.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—Jack ("Twin") Sullivan of Boston received the decision last night over Andrew Walsh of Brooklyn at the end of fifteen rounds of vicious fighting. The men weighed in at 158 pounds. Except in the ninth and fourteenth rounds Sullivan had considerably the better of the fighting.

Racing at Delmar Park.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—Mildred L., Wissendine and Milton Young were the successful favorites at Delmar park. Velasquez, winner of the fourth race, was heavily played, also Murmur, winner of the closing event.

Favorites Fared Badly.

BUFFALO, June 10. — Favorites fared badly at Kenilworth, Early Boy and Incense being the only first choices that won.

Brown Pleaded Not Guilty.

STONINGTON, Conn., June 10.—Colonel J. A. Brown, treasurer of the People's Saving bank, pleaded not guilty through his counsel in the town court here to a charge of the embezzlement of $20,000 from the funds of the bank. He was bound over to the September term of the superior court. Brown was immediately released on $10,000 bail, Miss Hattie P. Babcock, one of the bank's depositors, being the surety.

Fight Against Ugly Billboards.

CHICAGO, June 10. — Four years' fight here against unsightly billboards has failed. The appellate court has declared the city's billboard ordinance invalid and unreasonable. The court holds that owners, if they do not imperil others, have the constitutional right to erect on vacant property any structure they please, no matter how unsightly.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

Boys of fifteen and under will be admitted to the doctors-ministers game tomorrow for twenty-five cents.

The baseball game scheduled for yesterday between teams from the Plainfield High and Leal's Schools was cancelled on account of wet grounds.

The game a week ago between Westfield and the Trenton Y. M. C. A., was the first of a series of six games arranged between these two teams this season.

"Matty" McIntyre, who played with Westfield after the league season was concluded last year, and who is now playing with Detroit, is getting his eye on the ball. He is giving a good account of himself.

The Bloomfield Field Club would like to arrange games with the Somerset Athletic Club, of this city. Open dates are June 11, 18, 25 and July 2 and 9. All challenges should be sent to C. T. Adams, 87 Broad street, Bloomfield, N. J.

From Westfield comes the report that Stallings, formerly of Morrisville, will play first base tomorrow, and in this city there is a report that Manager Johnston will play him on the Alis team. The two managers will probably arrange in some way to divide this player so that he can appear on the lineup of both teams.

"Chiniwhisky," who made a great reputation in a recent land battle between the Japan and Russians, has been engaged to pitch for Westfield against Alis, tomorrow. It is said that there are no end to his curves and that thus far this season not a single hit has been made off his delivery. If he fails or should be batted out of the box, it is understood that Manager Brennan has arranged to have the patented pitching machine on hand to relieve the Jap.

The fast bunch of baseball players representing the Trenton Y. M. C. A. defeated the Murray Hills at Trenton on Wednesday by a score of 6 to 1, Deegan, the opposing pitcher, receiving his bumps to the tune of eleven hits. The Murray Hills recently defeated Westfield by the score of 7 to 1, and Westfield a week ago defeated the Trenton team by the score of 3 to 1. It is agreed that even those who follow closely the National game in this vicinity can get mighty little satisfaction from these results to guide their judgment in Saturday's game between Alis and Westfield.

New York papers announce that Walter Clarkson, the crack Harvard pitcher, who is considered the strongest slab artist among the colleges, has signed to play for the New York American League team, at a salary of $8,000 a year. For some time many of the big league managers have been after Clarkson and especially the New York Americans. Willie Keeler coached Harvard in the spring and he was more than favorably impressed with Clarkson's work.

Following this announcement is one quoting Clarkson. The popular pitcher declares that he has not signed to play in New York or with any league team. He has never made up his mind to play professional baseball and insists that he will continue as an amateur. Clarkson is a brother of John Clarkson, who was graduated from Harvard and became the star pitcher for the Chicago National League team under Anson's captaincy.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Practice for the athletic meet of the Young Men's Christian Associations to take place at Orange, will be held at the Driving Park on Monday evening.

The Most Desirable Building Site in Plainfield.

Are you seeking a part'cularly desirable building site on which to erect a home, or for investment?

We have just what you're looking for—the most magnificent building sites in all Plainfield—located on

BELVIDERE AVENUE,

Netherwood,—the ideal and exclusive residential section,—both summer and winter. We offer you:

ONE LOT—Belvidere Ave, East Side, 225 x 450 ft., running through to Bowne Road.

TWO LOTS—Belvidere Avenue, West Side, 100 x 250 ft., near Putnam Avenue.

Belvidere Avenue affords you every convenience of the city—and the delight of the country. But a few minutes' walk to station and trolley. A high and dry mountain air prevails, making it exceedingly healthy. The elevation is the highest,—commanding a charming view. These lots are near the fine residences of Palmer Smith, Mr. Cruikshank, Mr. Rheinhart, A. D. Thompson and others. Prices reasonable. It will pay you to investigate.

COMPELLED TO LAY MEN OFF

LOCKOUT OF LITHOGRAPHERS IS SERIOUSLY FELT AT SHOP HERE.

Explanation of the recent cut-down in the force at the Aluminum Plate and Press Works, in Dewey Park, was made last night by Manager Leary. The lockout of the lithograph workers is held responsible for the trouble.

Twenty-eight men were laid off Saturday. Mr. Leary says the step was made necessary by cancellations of orders from printing firms affected by the lithograph trade trouble. He is hopeful of resuming with a full force in a week or two. The trouble is in process of settlement, and the work is expected to be re-ordered just as soon as the fight is ended. Mr. Leary says there is plenty of work ahead, and all the men laid off will be taken back just as soon as the lockout is ended.

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Perth Amboy Lodge, 784, B. P. O. E., celebrated their second anniversary last night.

Queen City Lodge, No. 236, I. O. O. F., is rapidly increasing its membership. On Wednesday night seven propositions were received and the initiatory degree was worked on two candidates.

SI DRAKE'S OFFER.

Postmaster of Lincoln Offers Land for Normal School Building.

Silas Dewey Drake has offered a State Normal School site at Lincoln, free of all charge, to the State Board of Education. He has written Judge Scott, head of the Board, that he will give a site as large as is desired. He has requested the committee to inspect the site "before closing deal elsewhere at much expense to the State."

Twenty-Five Years Married.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bushnell, formerly of this city, but now of Newark, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding this week in a novel way by taking a trolley ride from Newark to Boston.

Quiet Marriage.

Miss Julia Heenen and Charles Schirley, of this city, were married quietly at Metuchen on Sunday afternoon.

—In the fancy Jersey strawberries sold by Neuman Bros. the fruit culturist may see the farthest advance in his art as far as berry raising goes. Luscious is a weak word in describing their flavor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Greenleaf and son, of this city, are at their country residence, Mt. Verde, near Somerville.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Infant baptism will be the feature of the service at Grace M. E. church Sunday morning. Dr. Earp's youngest son will be one of the candidates. There will be a special musical programme in the evening. Kenneth Shupp is arranging the music.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Graham, of this city, have been guests of Raritan friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Drange, of Park avenue, have been visiting relatives at Whitehouse.

Mrs. Jane Madison, of this city, has been visiting Mrs. Jane Hoagland, of Whitehouse Station.

Mrs. Nathan Samuels, of Somerville, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myer Leichtentritt, of West Front street.

John Kelly, of this city, who is employed in an Elizabethport machine shop, had has arm mangled while at work yesterday. The injury is not serious.

KNOX AS SENATOR.

Attorney General Succeeds Late Senator Quay—President Pleased.

PHILADELPHIA, June 10.—Announcement has been made by the Republican leaders that Attorney General Philander C. Knox has been agreed upon as the successor to United States Senator M. S. Quay.

Just before Attorney General Knox left Washington a few days ago he called on the president and told him that he had been tendered the appointment of United States senator to succeed Mr. Quay and that if the president was willing he would accept. The president told him that while it was true that probably no other man in the country could quite fill the position of attorney general as he had filled it, yet he believed that his services would be exceptionally valuable not only to the state of Pennsylvania but to the whole country.

The president said that during the next session or two of congress it was a fair assumption that there would be considerable constructive legislation on the subject of trusts and combinations of one character or another and in that matter Mr. Knox would be of greater service than perhaps any other man could be.

The president is greatly pleased that Mr. Knox will accept the position. The latter probably will not resign as attorney general until congress convenes next December.

Want Justice For Sculptor Biondi.

ROME, June 10. — Signor Fusinato, undersecretary of state for foreign affairs, in reply to an interrogation in the chamber of deputies about the infringement of rights of Signor Biondi, the sculptor, in New York said that the Metropolitan Museum of Art, a private institution, had signed a contract to exhibit Signor Biondi's "Saturnalia," but had afterward refused to do so. The Italian government could not interfere, but Signor Biondi had asked advice of the consulate general in New York, which had been given. Deputy Cerri said that it was absurd to consider the "Saturnalia" immoral. Americans came purposely to Italy to admire nude figures in the museums. He suspected that the rivalry of American artists was the true cause of the treatment that had been given to Signor Biondi. He urged that the government should see justice done.

Open Verdict In Cervera Case.

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—The coroner's jury which has investigated the killing of Don Manuel Cervera, the Spanish bullfighter who was shot by E. Carleton Bass, known as the American matador, returned an open verdict of homicide, leaving the question of responsibility under the law with the prosecuting attorney's office. Bass was returned to jail. One of the witnesses at the inquest was Cervera's widow, who testified strongly in support of Bass' statement that Cervera attacked him first with a butcher knife.

THAT WIDE OUT DROP OF "FARMER" SMITH

Plainfield High School's Rattling Good Pitcher and His Wonderful Curves.

LAD OF SEVENTEEN

IN TWELVE GAMES HE STRIKES OUT 134 BATTERS.

Promising Player Equally Good With the Stick—What He Has Done in Some of the Games Recently.

One of the big surprises of the baseball season so far is the form developed by Philip "Farmer" Smith, the High School pitcher. Smith came into prominence after the glittering game with the Pingry School cranks, on Tuesday, when he held the fast youngsters from Elizabeth down to one hit, and since then the fanatics have been asking about him. All they have learned indicates that the South Plainfield lad is a 14-k phenom, and is fine material for big work with the globule a year or two hence.

Smith came up as a pitcher something like the impetuous mushroom. He is only seventeen and a freshman, and until last year nobody, himself included, knew that he could play ball in any way out of the ordinary schoolboy style. Last year Smith played third base for the school scrub team, and went into one or two regular games. When Fred VanAuken left school for Annapolis, the team was left without a twirler. Smith had shown some interest in pitching, and he was supposed to have a curve or two that might be developed. Nobody was very hopeful of making him into a real pitcher, but he was the only thing in sight, and the team managers asked him to get himself into shape.

Smith settled down to steady, hard work. Every day at recess, as regularly as the days themselves rolled around, he went out into the school yard and practiced his curves. When the season opened Smith's work astonished his team mates.

The best batters on the strongest teams that High School met, like Leal's, Rutgers Prep School and Montclair, fell down before his twists. He has a wide out drop that is the worst thing for hitting that most of the local batters ever saw. In twelve games Smith has a record of 134 strike-outs. And in addition to all this he fields and bats well, particularly the latter—notable for a pitcher. Although the averages have not been made up yet, it is believed that Smith leads his team in swats.

At present Smith is plenty fast enough for any of the minor teams here. In a year or two, when he has developed his full strength and learns the headwork that must go with good pitching, he will be in the semi-professional class.

W. J. Boome and family, of New York, will take possession of their summer home, corner of Sycamore and Myrtle avenues, today.

SUCCESS ATTENDS FESTIVAL

MANY PEOPLE EAT STRAWBERRIES AT CHURCH OF HEAVENLY REST.

Although driven indoors by the threatening weather, the "lawn" festival of the Women's Guild, of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, was a highly successful affair yesterday afternoon and evening. There was a large attendance and the financial result was as gratifying as the social aspects.

The festival was held in the Guild Room. There were a number of prettily decorated booths and tables from which ice cream, cake, lemonade, groceries, fancy articles and useful articles were sold.

The women who worked to arrange the affair and make it a success were Mrs. E. E. Brown, Mrs. Graves, the Misses Forster, Mrs. Juan A. Babcock and Mrs. Trapney.

PLAY AT SEMINARY.

"Nance Oldfield" to be Reproduced at Girls' School Tonight.

"Nance Oldfield," the play given so successfully at the Plainfield Seminary a year ago, will be repeated at the same institution tonight as one of the concluding events of commencement week. Miss Edith Burt will take the part of Nathan Old worthy.

The rest of the cast is as follows: Alexander Oldworthy, Miss Margaret Tracy; Nance Oldfield, Miss Louise Saunders; Susan, cousin to Nance Oldfield, Miss Marion Hall; Robert, butler to Nance Oldfield, Miss Louise Booth.

MIXED PAIRS AT GOLF.

Excellent Scores at Hillside Despite the Weather.

An informal team match for mixed pairs was an attraction at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, yesterday afternoon. Despite the disagreeable weather, the contestants made the rounds of the course, the scores being excellent. Thomas R. VanBoskerck led the men's side and Miss Maude VanBoskerck the women's side. After the match the team and friends to the number of about thirty-five enjoyed dinner at the clubhouse. Mrs. Helstrom, the stewardess, was in charge.

Housing His Devices.

Application has been filed by T. W. Tygard, of 920 South avenue, for a permit to erect a frame building, twenty-four by forty feet, on his premises. Mr. Tygard holds patents on a new system of gasoline engine construction originated by him and the shop he is going to have built will be used for housing automobiles while the engines are being placed in them, the engines themselves being built elsewhere.

New Auto Station.

Allen B. Laing, electrical contractor, is about to equip the building at 416 Sycamore avenue as an automobile station and general machine shop. New machinery is to be installed and vulcanizing, storage battery work and special features of all kinds will be executed in addition to the gasoline engine work which will be the principal class of work.

PRINCETON HEROICS BY M'CREADY SYKES

Poe's Run and Other Poems the Title of a Bright Little Volume Just Published.

HIS BOOK DESCRIBED

GREAT DEED OF ARTHUR POE IS DONE INTO POETRY BY '94 MAN.

Author a Scotch Plains Resident Who Was Popular at Old Nassau—Something About His Work.

Valorous deeds of mighty sons of Old Nassau as recorded by M'Cready Sykes are presented to the public in a little volume just issued by The Canoe Press, of Princeton. The collection is entitled "Poe's Run and other Poems," being, as the author explains, "the true and authentic narration of certain notable games wherein are set forth many marvelous good deeds wrought by the Princeton team; all done into verse in the vulgar tongue." To this collection is appended The Book of the Chronicles of the Elias, a somewhat unique and exceptionally clever series of stories on the battle of Old Yale. Booth Tarkington has made the volume all the more prized by a collection of illustrations. William B. Pell and Harold Imbrie, equally Princeton grads, have also contributed their artistic efforts.

M'Cready Sykes, who slumbers nightly in the dreary village of Scotch Plains, and plods away at the law by day in busy New York, is a Princeton man known far and wide for his bright sayings and brilliant writings. The tales he narrates in "Poe's Run and other Poems" all relate to strenuous contests on the diamond and on the gridiron, which have been fought since the author carried away a sheepskin and a pile of prizes from tiger town. In a confession of responsibility for the collection, Mr. Sykes says "It is perhaps superfluous to point out that this small book is put forth with no serious purpose on the part either of the author or the artists."

The first of the heroics are verses on the famous run of Arthur Poe, which brought victory and excessive joy to Princeton men, in the memorable conflict between Nassau and Yale on the twelfth of November, 1898. Poe's spectacular dash down the field is vividly portrayed. The historian

"Kynge Hillebrand hys myghtye Hoste
Hath mustered on ye Playne;
Palmer and Wheeler, Ayres and Booth,
And More I cannot name.

"Edwards was there, and Crowdis 400,
Among ye valiante Knyghtes;
Crowdis, whom all ye classes calle
Ye Manne of Seventye Fyghtes.

Suddenly little Poe gets the ball on a fumble and "saunters down ye Fielde" while

"From Eli's Lyne a Crye of Rage
Both rende ye quyverrynge Ayre,
All ye Teame with one Accourde
Poursueth him for fayre.
* * * * * *
"Ye Multitude doth yelle and shoute;
Ye Tumulte fylles ye Ayre;
And Gabriel noteth on hys Sleeve—
'Ye Welkin needs Repayre.'"
"Ye Elis tear in fierce Pursuite;
But Poe eludes them alle;
He rushes twixte ye quyverrage Posters,
And sitteth on ye Balle."

Following this narrative is one entitled "Poe's Kick; being ye Ballade of Ye Holye Manne and ye Sorroughynge Youthe." It recalls the battle between the two ancient foes on November 25, 1899, when in the last thirty seconds of play, Yale was jubiliant

"But Arthur Poe hathe kyckt ye Balle
'(Oh, woefulle, woefully Daye!)
'As straighte as myghtie Dewey's Gunnes
'Upon ye fyrste of Maye.'"
And "Princetonne wonne ye Game."

In a much different style the victory of Princeton over Yale on the diamond on June 23, 1896, is told under the title of "Kelly's hit." Kelly's home run in the eleventh inning when the score stood three to three is the theme of the poet. This is followed by the tale of "Steinwender's catch in the game on June 7, 1902.

The Book of the Chronicles unfolds the tale of the great battle between the "children of Nassau" and the

SENIORS IN "ANTIGONE" AS CLASS DAY EVENT

Borough High School's Graduating Class Presents Sophocles' Famous Tragedy.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS

GRECIANS COSTUMES HISTORICALLY CORRECT IN EVERY DETAIL.

Miss Jackson in the Title Roll Does Remarkably Well—Otto Mueck Creditable in Creon—Dance at Close of Performance.

Class Day was observed by the seniors of the borough High School last night, with the usual play and class song, followed by a reception. The play presented was an English version of Sophocles' tragedy, "Antigone."

It was remarkably well performed. It moved smoothly, and the cast interpreted their parts so successfully that the audience followed the course of the tragic story with as much interest as if a practiced troupe were presenting it.

Following the custom of the ancient Greeks, there was no attempt at elaborate stage setting. The platform was hung with flowers and bunting. The end of the five acts was marked by the brief closing of the curtains.

The cast was as follows:

Creon, King of Thebes	Otto Mueck
Haemon, son of Creon	Leslie H. Backer
Tiresias, a blind prophet	Ernest Powlison
Eurydice, wife of Creon	Florence White
Antigone, daughter of Œdipus	Angelina Jackson
Ismene, sister of Antigone	Mary Davenport
Messenger	Ethel Quipp
Guard	Leonard Mantz
Attendant on King	Bertha Lindsay
Guide for Tiresias	Mabel Farlee
Elders of Thebes, representing the Chorus in the Original Play	Mary Mair, Ethel Daggett, Fannie Wolfe, Carl Steiner, Lawrence Milne, Stanley Fisher, Clarence Hand

Every member of the cast made a good impression. Miss Jackson's "Antigone" was strong and Otto Meuck made a very good "Creon." Leslie Backer won particular notice in his "Haemon" and Miss White was particularly good as "Eurydice."

The players were handsomely costumed. Their Grecian dresses were complete and accurate to the smallest detail.

During the progress of the play Miss Waterbury and Miss VanFleet, of the faculty, alternated in playing the musical accompaniment that in olden times was sung by the chorus.

Much credit for the success of the production belongs to Miss Snodgrass, who trained the cast.

After the play the entire class arose and sang the senior song, written by Miss Mary Elizabeth Mair. The class yell followed.

The room was cleared and an hour of dancing was enjoyed before the young people dispersed.

The affair was attended by a very large crowd.

MARTIN ACT SALE JUNE 16

COLLECTOR SMITH TO DISPOSE OF TEN DELINQUENT PROPERTIES.

There are about ten delinquent properties remaining to be sold by Collector F. H. Smith on June 16, under the provisions of the Martin Act. In connection with these sales a strange fact is noticed. At the first sale the bids amounted to about $3,100 over the amount of the city's claim, something unexpected. When the owner wants to redeem his property he will be obliged to pay this extra sum. In Newark recently the bids were run up so high that it startled the officials and they are helpless in the matter, there being no law to prevent it. At Camden the collector is selling such properties by wards.

Bishop Vincent to Speak.

Many Plainfielders will be interested to learn that Bishop Vincent, well-known to nearly everyone here, will preach the baccalaureate sermon at Yale tomorrow, and on Sunday, June 26, he will preach the baccalaureate sermon at Wesleyan University.

Rev. Dr. Earp Returns.

Rev. Dr. E. L. Earp, of the Grace M. E. church, who has been attending commencement exercises at Syracuse University, as the representative of the Newark Conference, returned to his home in Park place, Thursday night.

Minister Must Rest His Voice.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, has been advised by his physician that he cannot preach for a few weeks. He must rest his throat during that period.

BARRY UNDER BAIL AS A THIRD SUSPECT

Captain of Paid Fire Department is Arrested on Charge of Turning in False Alarm.

NO ONE WILL TALK

MONCTON, PERINE AND BARRY TO BE ARRAIGNED MONDAY NIGHT.

Suspicion Resting Against Members of the Old Department Now Dispelled—Moncton and Perine Are Still in Jail.

Involved in the false alarm case, Capt. Barry, of Hose Company No. 2, N. P. F. D., was arrested yesterday afternoon. He is the suspected member of the paid department referred to in yesterday's Daily Press.

Barry's arrest has caused something like a sensation, particularly among the members of the anti-administration party. All the time the alarms have been coming in the members of the old department have felt that they were under suspicion, and the implication of one of the leading members of the new department has given them a peculiar satisfaction that borders on excitement and ecstasy.

Regarding Barry's connection with the case the police are reticent. It was learned yesterday from Mayor Smalley that the hose company captain was seen in company with Perine and Moncton, the other suspects, a short time before the alarm came in from box 154 early yesterday morning, but no further information would be vouchsafed by Recorder Doud or Chief Weiss last night when approached by a Daily Press reporter. "There isn't any use in making the case public yet," said the former. "If the hearing isn't adjourned it will all come out on Monday night." He said that none of the prisoners had made a statement.

In reporting on the suspicious characters seen near the box when the alarm was turned in yesterday morning, Officer Flack mentioned a fleeing figure on the Howell place. It is suspected that this might have been Barry. Barry was virtually under arrest all morning before he was formally taken into custody. He was under complete surveillance and Chief Weiss had merely to give the word to bring him into the toils.

Recorder Doud fixed the bail in each case at $200. Barry promptly secured a cash bond, but the others are still locked up.

According to the present programme, as far as the authorities will make public, the men will be arraigned under the borough ordinance, before Recorder Doud. It is not believed, however, that if the case against the suspects has any strength at all that the trio will escape prosecution under the State law, which provides a rigorous penalty for the offence.

CHERRIES AT $4.50 A QUART

THREE BOROUGH BOYS BEFORE RECORDER DOUD FOR STEALING FRUIT.

For something like two quarts of cherries three borough boys paid nine dollars last night. William Bird, Edmund Fitzgerald and Lucas Coddington are the boys. The cherries were stolen from a Manning avenue lot, and the borough got the money.

The boys were blissfully raking in all the fruit they could reach yesterday afternoon when the woman who owns the tree came on the scene. They unwisely "sassed" her when she protested against the theft, and warrants were promptly sworn out against them. They were captured later by Chief Weiss, although they had assumed nom de guerres for the occasion. Recorder Doud made it three dollars apiece. The fathers paid the fines.

Endeavor Social.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Searing, Jr., of Westervelt avenue, the borough, entertained the Christian Endeavor Society, of the First Presbyterian church, Thursday night, the members enjoying an informal entertainment and social. During the evening there were recitations by Miss Jessica Hill, vocal selections by Mrs. Ralph Miner and instrumental selections by Mrs. Poinier. Then followed the social and serving of refreshments. The affair was in charge of the social committee of the society, of which Miss Beatrice Miner is the chairman.

PYTHIAN MEMORIAL DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Perseverance Lodge Arranges Its Plans to Honor Dead Members of Fraternity.

VISIT TO CEMETERIES

COMMITTEES APPOINTED TO CARRY OUT THE DETAILS.

Independent Fife and Drum Corps is Engaged—Port Chester Lodge and Rathbone Lodge to be Here.

Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., met last night and completed arrangements for the Pythian Memorial Day observance on Sunday, June 19 At that time Crescent Company, No. 13, U. R. K. of P., and Perseverance Lodge will entertain Port Chester Lodge, of Port Chester, N. Y., and Rathbone Company, of Brooklyn. Each will furnish music and the local lodges will engage the Independent Fife and Drum Corps. The Knights will visit the local cemeteries and the one at Scotch Plains and at the latter place dinner will be served.

This committee on entertainment was appointed: William N. Runyon, Stephen Higham, Robert L. Lee, John Cose and Alex Muir. On Tuesday night Crescent Company will meet and also make arrangements for the event.

The thirty-second anniversary of the founding of the Knights of Pythias here falls on Monday and on Friday night the event will be appropriately observed. The organization was founded here June 13, 1872. John Cose, George Cose and Matthew D. Sweeney were appointed a committee to make arrangements for Perseverance's celebration, which will include an entertainment and supper. The second rank will be conferred on one at that time.

FRANKLIN SCHOOL AFFAIR

MUSICAL PROGRAMME ARRANGED FOR TONIGHT'S ENTERTAINMENT.

Under the auspices of the sixth grade pupils of the Franklin School, an excellent entertainment will be given in the Franklin School Assembly Hall tonight at 8 o'clock. Miss Noel J. Bullock, principal, will be in charge and the pupils will be assisted by Miss Evalina Du Bois Benton, reader; Miss Cornelia Miller, soprano; Mrs. Charles L. Lewis, accompanist, and William VanEps, mandolin.

In part first there will be a mandolin solo by William VanEps, a piano duet by the Misses Leggett and Rittenhouse, and a series of fifteen pictures from life, representing many familiar characters, a soprano solo by Miss Miller, a recitation by Miss Muriel Collins and a violin solo by Miss Arline Brown.

This programme will be followed in part second:

Reading, Miss Evalina DuBois Benton; piano solo, Miss Frances Rittenhouse; recitation, "What She Said," Miss Marion Wean; mandolin solo, William VanEps; recitation, "Princess Lovely Locks," Miss Helen Ryder; recitation, "The Faries Party," Miss Frances Rittenhouse; piano solo, Miss Margaret Leggett; reading, Miss Benton; recitation, "Mice at Play," Miss Arline Brown; solo, Miss Miller; flower drill, kindness of the Whittier girls.

Graduated From Normal.

Among those who were graduated yesterday from the State Normal School at Trenton, are these young women from this city and the borough: Miss Nettie L. Bauersachs and Miss Elisabeth Cameron Davenport, kindergarten, North Plainfield; Miss Daisy May Brouard and Miss Alice M. Brick, Plainfield.

Freeholders Condemn Statuary.

The Freeholders have condemned the statues of Liberty and Justice that uphold the portico of the new court house on artistic grounds. They say the figures are atrocious, and refuse to allow them to remain in place. Despite the expense attached, the board has ordered new statues.

—Perth Amboy has 134 licensed liquor places and the Council there has refused to increase the number this year.

—The exhibition drill of the High School battalion has been postponed indefinitely on account of the uncertainty of the weather.

SUPURB PRODUCTION OF "NANCE OLDFIELD"

Plainfield Seminary Students Present a Play, the Interpretation Being Excellent.

DELIGHT AUDIENCE

MISS LOUISE SAUNDERS AN ACTRESS OF NO MEAN ABILITY.

After the Performance a Dance is Given—Affair Takes Place at the Seminary Hall—The Cast.

Before a gathering of friends and relatives that completely filled the house, a highly creditable performance of "Nance Oldfield" was given by five of the young women of the Plainfield Seminary last night. All the parts were extremely well taken, Miss Frances E. Kenyon, who had charge of the affair, having used rare discrimination in allotting the characters.

Miss Louise Saunders, who distinguished herself in last year's production, gained fresh laurels by her interpretation of the title role. She received several bouquets from among the audience in recognition of her ability. The other performers were rewarded in a similar way more than once.

The part of Susan, which was to have been taken by Miss Marion Hall, had to be filled by Miss Nanon West. Miss West gave a finished performance and was complimented highly by those familiar with the circumstances.

Miss Louise Boot, in the part of Robert, the butler, had a difficult task before her and merited all the praise she received. In the other two male characters, Nathan and Alexander Oldworthy, the Misses Edith Burt and Margaret Tracy acquitted themselves perfectly, leaving not the least opportunity for adverse criticism. The whole piece was given with an entire absence of the amateurisms that ordinarily crop out in school theatricals.

After the play a dance was enjoyed which lasted until midnight, bringing the affair to a very pleasant close. Altogether about 170 people were present.

DESIGN FOR NEW SCHOOL

ARCHITECTUALLY STRUCTURE IS TO CONFORM WITH OLD BUILDING.

Architect A. L. C. Marsh laid rough plans for the new school house before the borough School Board at a special meeting last night. The plans, while not at all complete, were detailed enough to show the general plan of the structure, and enable the board to arrive at a definite idea of what the building is to look like.

In design the structure is to be exactly like the present building, harmonizing thoroughly with its lines. The main entrance is to be what is known architecturally as a "tower entrance." There are to be seven class rooms and one large room for use as a library. This library room may be used as a reception room. In addition to the eight large rooms there is to be an office for the principal.

The board ordered $500 into Collector George F. Brown's hands for the first payment on the lot. The balance, $5,000, will not fall due until July 12.

It is expected that Architect Marsh will submit complete plans and specifications in two weeks. As soon thereafter as possible actual work on the building will be started, and the contract will be rushed to a finish.

One of the board members said last night that he expected to see the building open to use by early spring next year.

Equal Suffrage League Meeting.

The last meeting of the season of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, 910 Madison avenue Monday afternoon. Delegates to the convention at Asbury Park, to be held July 18 and 19, will be chosen.

Rev. Dr. Seymour to Preach.

Rev. Dr. Seymour, formerly pastor of the Bugglee Street Baptist church, Boston, and now associated with the mission enterprises of the denomination, will preach at the First Baptist church tomorrow.

Schools Close Thursday.

The Plainfield Public Schools will close on Thursday for the summer vacation.

KICKING AGAINST MANAGERS' METHODS

Baseball Fans Loudly Protest Against the Repeated Changes in Teams' Makeups.

TWO NINES AT FAULT

FAILURE TO ANNOUNCE LINEUP IS STRONGLY CONDEMNED.

Fictitious Names of Players is Cause of Complaint—Lineup for Today's Game at Westfield.

If there is one thing that the local baseball fans are now anxious for it is that Manager Johnston shall decide upon his team for the rest of the season and not resort to weekly changes.

Of course, it was realized that it would take a few weeks to select the right material, but that time is now up and the followers of the game here want to see familiar faces on the diamond each week. Constant changes marked last season's management, there scarcely being a week that some new face was not seen on the team.

If Manager Johnston and Captain Lauder get together and complete the infield, making it as strong as the outfield, all will be well and the supporters of the game will be satisfied. Up to the time of playing Westfield, the Alis lineup was published the day before the game and it should be so now. The foxy manager of the Westfield team sent his lineup to The Daily Press on Thursday, giving a fictitious name for the pitcher, otherwise the nine appears on paper as it did at Trenton a week ago. This reserved manner in giving out the names of players will not help the game in this vicinity and the quicker the management of teams learn this fact the better it will be.

Yesterday and today there were all sorts of rumors as to who would play on both teams, some going so far as to intimate that National League and Eastern League players would be imported for today's game at Westfield. If this sort of thing continues there will be no telling where it will stop and from a financial standpoint it will not benefit either team.

Manager Johnston has about completed his lineup and with the exception of third base position, he is reasonably sure of his team. Captain Lauder may decide to remain on the bench and give his ankle a further rest. In case he does, it is possible that Jack Dunn may go in the game. It is now announced that Rothfuss, who played first last week so acceptably, will cover that position for the rest of the season, and Charles Walton, the crack short-stop from the Ingersolls, will take care of his regular position. Mike Lynch, of the Ridgewoods, will cover right field, making a fast trio, McGoey, Cregan and Lynch. Flynn, who played second base for Alis last season and who filled that position for Aeolian last Saturday, will hold the bag for Alis today and Davis and Farmer will be the battery.

MR. DAY WANTS HIS SALARY

COLLECTOR BELIEVES DUNELLEN COUNCIL SHOULD PAY HIM AS CUSTODIAN.

Considerable talk has been caused in Dunellen by the report that Collector Day would push his claim for back salary due him in his capacity of custodian of the Dunellen school monies. What Mr. Day really did say was that according to the State school law of 1900, the Council was obliged to fix upon, and pay to him, a salary for his service as custodian of the school funds. The matter was referred to the committee on laws and ordinances.

Nothing was said regarding extra compensation for the collection of school taxes, which are collected always in any municipality as all the other taxes are collected, even where, as in the present case, the collector holds the office of borough treasurer and custodian of the school monies.

Suit on Contract.

ENDEAVORERS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING

J. W. DeGroff, of Dunellen, is President of the Union County Union.

AWARD THE BANNER

REV. W. S. LUMBAR, OF NEWARK, MAKES AN ABLE ADDRESS.

Several Local Societies Withdraw From Union—Rev. B. H. Rankins Remarks—Election of Officers.

Interesting reports, election of officers, the awarding of the banner for the largest attendance of members and an able address by Rev. W. S. Lumbar, of Newark, were features of the annual meeting of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union held in Trinity Reformed church, last night. There were about one hundred and fifty Endeavorers present, representing the various societies in the county and the meeting was a helpful and inspiring one.

The retiring president, Rev. B. H. Rankin, of Bethany chapel, Elizabeth, presided. After the Scripture reading by Rev. Dr. W. B. Hamilton, of Hope chapel, Elizabeth, Rev. A. E. Finn, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, offered prayer. In the absence of the retiring secretary, James Angus Knowles, of Cranford, George B. Clark, of Westfield, filled that position.

Under the direction of Horace J. Martin, Sr., there was a song service in which the church choir assisted. Arthur L. Titsworth, organist, presided at the piano.

In the report of the district secretary, Miss Nellie K. Foote, of Elizabeth, it was noted that the Seventh-Day Baptist Church Society, of this city, had contributed $146.75 toward the work and the intermediate department, the only one in the county, gave $13. The Warren chapel society also received mention for its giving, as did also the society of the Congregational church, the members having contributed nearly $70. It was regretted that the societies of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Hope chapel, First Baptist church, as well as the one of the Summit M. E. church have withdrawn from the Union to form other societies. In all there are forty Endeavor Societies in the Union.

Miss Mary E. Baumgartner, of Rahway, treasurer, presented her report showing that the total receipts for the year with the balance on hand at last report, were $37.51, the disbursements $15.13, leaving a balance of $22.38.

These officers were then elected for the coming year:

President, J. W. DeGroff, Dunellen, M. E. church; first vice president, F. E. Woodruff, First Presbyterian church, Cranford; second vice president, Rev. B. H. Rankin, Bethany chapel, Elizabeth; third vice president, Mrs. C. F. Pierson, Branch Mills, Westfield; secretary, Mrs. L. W. Linaweaver, East Baptist church, Elizabeth; treasurer, George B. Clark, First Presbyterian church, Westfield.

Then followed the roll call of societies for the purpose of determining the number of active members in each and the number present so that the county banner could be presented to the one having the largest attendance. The society at Washingtonville, winners of the banner two years ago, again secured the prize, having an active membership of fifteen, ten of whom were present. The Park Avenue Baptist church society was second with thirty-seven active members and fourteen present. The Trinity Reformed church society reported one hundred active members and sixteen present. The other Plainfield societies reported as follows: First Presbyterian church, thirty-five members and five present; Warren chapel, fifty-six members and one present; East Third Street chapel, twenty-eight members and one present. The other local societies not mentioned were not represented. There was a little dispute about giving Washingtonville the banner, it being a question as to whether the society was in the Union. The question was settled quickly in the affirmative.

Mr. Rankin then conducted an open parliament in which many perplexing problems were answered in a helpful way. The questions referred to the best way to raise funds, keep societies alive, times for holding consecration services and many others of a similar character. In conclusion it was an-

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

New York assortments in New York goods are always on hand at James R. Blair's haberdashery, Park avenue. The celebrated Hawes hat in full display.

Perfect service is certain to meet the purchaser at the store of W. W. Dunn, the Park Grocer, Lincoln place and Duer street. He is the best grocer in the borough.

There is a sure index to the kind of meat sold by a butcher in the class of trade that patronizes him. Smalley Bros., North avenue, have the most prominent families on their list.

Mebrten's candy is just as seasonable these cool days we have been having, as his ice cream is when the thermometer goes to roost at the top of he scale and forgets to come down.

What better for delicate palates than peanut butter? R. W. Barnes, Park avenue, has the finest peanut butter in the market, for sale by the pound. Fine sugar cookies and crisp potato chips.

If you are in search of a suitable wedding gift, call at J. Hervey Doane's jewelry store in Park avenue. You will have no trouble at all in making a selection and the price will be just right for your pocketbook.

Before contracting to have any papering or painting done, consult Charles Conover & Co., of Elmwood place. The firm can show you the finest stock of papers, foreign and domestic manufacture, while in painting only the best materials are used.

All the latest designs in Chinese and Japanese mattings are on sale at Shirley & Johnson's store, the Babcock building, West Front street. The patterns are most attractive and appear in a very wide range. Values are remarkably low. Other fine floor coverings.

M. Weinberger, the West Front street clothier, is prepared for all weather changes, his stock of clothing being about the largest and best in the State. It is complete as to sizes, the quality of the goods is fine and the suits are made according to the latest styles.

Every farmer should visit the H. E. Gayle Hardware Company store and see what a complete stock of goods is carried. Everything for the farm and garden and many household articles. You will also find the best lawn mowers, window screens, refrigerators and kitchen utensils, all at the lowest prices.

If your bill of fare is to consist of meat, fish or poultry, you want the best in the market. This you will find at Roth & Co., at the firm's modern market on East Front street, and everything sold here is guaranteed to be the best quality and at the lowest prices. Deliveries are made promptly to all parts of the city and vicinity.

Many of the Plainfielders who go to New York or Newark for furniture find that Powlison & Jones could have served them at prices every bit as reasonable. The goods bought in this store arrive at the customer's home in perfect condition, not scared and scratched as to finish and strained and racked as to joints, a thing too often happening to the furniture delivered by the strong-arm men who operate suburban delivery wagons.

Lake Excursion.

The beauty spot of New Jersey is Lake Hopatcong and one who visits the place is charmed with the diversified entertainment afforded. The surroundings are delightful in every respect and a day spent in the rarified mountain air of the Jersey foothills will do wonders for the tourist. There are ample facilities for fishing and boating and one who enjoys the rambles in wooded paths and the quietness of the natural pines, to him Lake Hopatcong is the gem of places. On June 19 the New Jersey Central is going to run one of its famous low priced and popular excursions to the Lake. Round trip $1, and special train leaves Plainfield at 9:20 a. m. The run is made in three hours and the entire day can be spent in delightful enjoyment. 6 8 5 eod

Casselberry, the new pastor of the Presbyterian church, will make the address of the evening. There will be four graduates.

The Oldest Wines in the United States.

Family wines that rival the world in excellence are from Speer's old Vineyards, Passaic, N. J. The Claret, Burgundy and Port are very old superior wines. The XXX Climax Brandy is unexcelled by any in the world.

George L. Babcock, who is among those to conclude their studies at the Plainfield High School, this year, will enter Alfred University in the fall.

Church Notes.

The finest city and village Churches are painted with the Longman & Martinez Paints, and we want every Church to accept our donation whenever they paint.

8 & 6 make 14, therefore when you want fourteen gallons of paint, buy only eight of L. & M. and mix six gallons of pure Linseed Oil with it, making actual cost of paint about $1.20 per gallon.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for Linseed Oil (worth 60 cents) which you do when you buy other paints in a can with a label on it.

Many houses are well painted with four gallons of L. & M. and three gallons of Linseed Oil mixed therewith.

"Lo! it shall come to pass that there shall be a mighty fight between the children of Nassau and the children of Eli;

"And the children of Nassau shall prevail, and the score shall be eleven to six."

At the end of the first half the score was six to six and in the second Captain DeWitt made a place kick

"And the ball went through the air, over the heads of the children of Eli, even between their goal-posts;

"So the children of Nassau overcame the children of Eli that day."

Chronicle XLIV concerns a football game between Harvard and Yale on Soldiers' field, which resulted in a victory for the blue.

Mr. Sykes is a '94 man and possesses marked literary talent. During his college days he was managing editor of the Nassau Literary Magazine and was one of the editors of The Tiger. He took part in college dramatics to some extent as well. It is commonly said that he captured more prizes during his college course than any other man who ever attended that institution. After receiving the degree of bachelor of arts, he took up the practice of law in New York, having been admitted to the bar before entering Princeton. He is a member of the firm of Goldsborough, Warner & Sykes. Wherever the sons of Old Nassau gather, M'Cready Sykes receives a hearty welcome. He has a peculiar way of talking at a public gathering which throws his audience into convulsions of laughter, his tales being extremely bright and invariably original.

"The Highlands of Ontario for Your Holidays."

With the knowledge of what America has to offer the summer tourist and the rest and health-seeker, the thousands of summer travellers who spend their vacations in "The Highlands of Ontario," unhesitatingly pronounce the Muskoka Lakes region the ideal, the perfectly satisfying summer resort. Such an ideal is a combination of two features—primeval nature in a perfect bewilderment of beauty, charm and variety, along with the facilities for most of the modern necessaries and conveniences. In addition to these, the even temperature, the high altitude (1,000 feet above the sea), the health-giving ozone from pine, hemlock and fir, and the dark, soft waters of innumerable lakes, teeming with the gamiest of fresh water fish. What more has a weary, nerve-racked man or lover of nature to desire? Handsome, illustrated, descriptive publications will be sent free on application to Frank P. Dwyer, E. P. Tennis Tourney at Norfolk.

NORFOLK, Va., June 11.—H. C. Allen of New York defeated J. C. Davidson of Washington for the Virginia championship at the lawn tennis tournament at the Norfolk Country club here. The game was one of the finest exhibitions ever seen here. Davidson last year won the championship. The cup holder must win three times consecutively. The Virginia ladies' championship was won from Mrs. W. Hardy of Norfolk by Miss C. B. Neely of Chicago.

Gold Ten Got Hanover Stakes.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Gold Ten, even money favorite, easily won the Hanover selling stakes at Gravesend by a length from the 20 to 1 shot, Gamara. Red Friar was third, five lengths back. Africander was played for a good thing in the fourth race, but third to Audience and Garnish was the best he could do. Hyland, backed down from 25 to 1 to 8 to 1, won the fifth race easily, and the ring suffered a hard blow by his victory.

American Billiardist Leads.

PARIS, June 11.—The score at the end of the fifth round in the billiard match between Schaefer and Cure last night was: Cure, 2,500; Schaefer, 2,495. The American played magnificently, making runs of 117, 117 and 166. One more round of 500 points remains to be palyed.

Just So Won the Feature.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—Just So won the feature of getaway day at Delmar park. Just So indulged Hilee with the lead to the stretch turn, where he came in and won, pulled to a walk, in the good time for Delmar track of 1 minute 29 seconds.

RAISULI'S CAPTIVES.

Tangier Report Says They Will Soon Be Free.

LONDON, June 11.—A Tangier cablegram says that the release of Perdicaris and Varley may be expected in a few days.

Practically all of Raisuli's conditions have been accepted by the sultan, and the shereef of Wazan, who is conducting the negotiations, is satisfied that Raisuli will receive the sultan's pardon.

It is understood that the bulk of the ransom will be furnished by the deposed governor of Tangier, Abder Sadek, who leaves for Fez immediately. It is feared that a tribe inimical to Raisuli, which holds the country between Tangier and Beniaros, may attempt to seize the money in transit.

There is no doubt that the United States is determined to deter further acts of brigandage which are likely to be encouraged as a result of Raisuli's success, and the release of Perdicaris will see the beginning of a real crisis here.

Attempt to Wreck a Train.

DANBURY, Conn., June 11.—What is believed to have been an attempt to wreck a passenger train on the Highland division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford road was made near here when an eastbound train approaching this city struck a large rock which had been placed on the inside of a rail in a cut near the highway bridge on West street. Engineer Veght discovered the obstruction, but was unable to stop the train before reaching it. The rock was broken and strewn along the track several hundred feet. The passengers were badly shaken up.

Captains Refuse to Sail.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., June 11.—The Ogdensburg captains of the Anchor line, who were called to Buffalo, have returned home after refusing to take boats out until the strike is settled. The Rutland Transit line captains, in conference here with General Manager Jarvis, gave a similar refusal and will follow the lead of the Anchor line men.

NO EXTRA SESSION

Pennypacker Announces His Appointment of Knox.

CONSTITUTION GIVES HIM POWER

Takes Full Responsibility For Declining to Call Pennsylvania Legislature Together to Fill Late Senator Quay's Place.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 11.—A formal announcement of the appointment by Governor Pennypacker of Attorney General Knox to succeed the late Senator Quay has been made here. The announcement of Mr. Knox's appointment was followed by a long statement from the governor giving his reasons for not calling an extra session of the legislature for the selection of a senator for the unexpired term of Senator Quay, which expires on March 4.

Governor Pennypacker first discusses the federal constitution on the subject, saying in part:

"The question arises as to the manner in which the vacancy in the United States senate caused by the death of the Hon. Matthew Stanley Quay shall be filled. It is a question which since the adoption of the constitution has arisen at various times and in different ways and has led to much discussion and is still involved in much uncertainty. The last time that a decision was rendered by the United States senate it was reached by a vote of 32 senators in the affirmative and 33 senators in the negative.

"This question, if it is to be determined, requires a consideration of the provisions of the constitution of the United States as well as those of the constitution of Pennsylvania. The governor of the commonwealth is required by his official oath to give heed to both of them. Section 3 of article 1 of the constitution of the United States provides 'the senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, chosen by the legislature thereof for six years.' The same section further provides that 'if vacancies happen by resignation or otherwise during the recess of the legislature of any state the executive thereof may make the temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancy.'

"It is plain that the purpose to be accomplished by these provisions is that vacancies in whatever way they may arise may be filled and that each state may have its full representation in the senate. The present vacancy occurred under the provisions of the constitution, and since a United States senator is an officer of the federal government its provisions with respect to the filling of vacancies are paramount, and nothing in the constitution of the state can justify disobedience to them if there be any conflict."

Governor Pennypacker then discusses the provisionns of the Pennsylvania constitution on the subject and concludes as follows:

"I take the responsibility of declining to call a special session for the purpose of electing a United States senator to fill the vacancy existing, and I shall make a temporary appointment in compliance with section 3, article 1, of the constitution of the United States."

W. E. Woodend Expelled.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The expulsion of W. E. Woodend of the suspended firm of W. E. Miners at Denver Appeal to Washington.

VERDICT PLACES CRIME ON THEM

Federation of Miners Charge Present Military Control With Outrages on Innocent Persons—Teller County Officials Are Exiled.

DENVER, June 11.—The executive board of the Western Federation of Miners has appealed to President Roosevelt to investigate conditions in Colorado. Secretary W. D. Haywood was instructed to send the following telegram to the president:

"A duty devolves upon you as president of the United States to investigate the terrible crimes that are being perpetrated in Colorado in the name of law and order. We will render every possible assistance to the proper authorities in such investigation to the end that the people of the country may realize the outrages that are being inflicted on innocent persons by those in temporary official power."

It was further decided that a history of the labor troubles in Colorado shall be taken to Washington by an emissary and placed in the president's hands.

It also was voted to appeal President Moyer's habeas corpus case to the United States supreme court.

A Victor report says at the inquest on the explosion victims several witnesses testified to the finding of the wire with which a revolver was discharged, exploding the dynamite under the depot platform.

Arthur Beard, a boy, told of finding a bulldog revolver near the scene of the crime.

A sensation was caused by C. C. Hathaway, a carpenter, who lives within 300 feet of where the explosion occurred. He said he hurried to the place. He met a man and asked him what was the matter, to which he received the reply, "Oh, nothing; only a lot of scabs gone to hell."

At that instant witness in stepping oved a gully fell directly on to one of the victims. He did not know who the man was who had used the language, as it was still dark, but later on heard him use about the same words to another person. He inquired the man's name and was told that it was Joe Craig.

The inquest jury's verdict says:

"The jurors upon their oaths do say that the victims came to their death by an explosion of dynamite or other explosives at the Florence and Cripple Creek depot at or near the town of Independence.

"We further find that said explosive was exploded by an infernal machine purposely and artfully set and discharged by some persons to the jury unknown for the purpose of willfully, maliciously and feloniously killing and murdering said persons and others; that said crime is one of similar crimes designed and committed in the Cripple Creek district during the past few months and perpetrated for the purpose of intimidating nonunion miners and thereby preventing them from working, and said crimes are the result of a conspiracy entered into by certain members of the Western Federation of Miners and known, incited and furthered by certain officers of that organization."

The following Teller county officials are exiles from their homes and will not return to Cripple Creek while the military is in control, owing to reports that the citizens' committee, which is co-operating with the military, intended to force them to resign their offices:

District Judge W. P. Seeds, County Judge A. S. Frost, County Assessor P. J. Devault, County Treasurer D. J. McNeill, County Clerk F. P. Mannix. All of these officials except Judge Seeds are in Denver.

"I have not been asked for my resignation," said Judge Frost, "but I have heard that members of the mob which has taken control of the affairs of the county are after me as well as the other county officers. I shall stay in Denver until after the militia has been withdrawn from the district. I have no idea of resigning, but it is impossible to do business properly and orderly in Cripple Creek under present conditions."

Jumped Overboard and Died.

NEW YORK, June 11.—While the Old Dominion line steamer Princess Anne, Captain Tapley, from Newport News and Norfolk, was steaming up the lower bay off the Romer shoal George Billups of Norfolk, Va., a cabin passenger, jumped overboard from one of the ship's portholes. An alarm was quickly given, and the ship was stopped. A lifeboat was launched, and within twenty minutes the boat was alongside the steamer and the man taken on board in a dying condition. Every effort was made to restore life, but without avail.

Yale to Honor Don Cayetano.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Don Cayetano Areliano, chief justice of the supreme court of the Philippines, is on a visit to this city on his way from the St. Louis exposition to New Haven, where he is to receive a degree from Yale. He attended the president's reception in honor of the Philippine commissioners at the White House.

Canary Land Comes High.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—In a report to the department of commerce and labor United States Consul Berliner, at Tenerife, Canary Islands, says he thinks that nowhere else in the world is land held at as high figures as there. He says good tobacco land, with water facilities, has been sold at $4,866 per acre.

OCTOROON WAS DISCHARGED.

John R. Platt Case Against Mrs. Elias For Extortion Collapses.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Mrs. Hannah Elias was discharged on motion of Assistant District Attorney Rand, acting for District Attorney Jerome, at the conclusion of the testimony of John R. Platt, the aged millionaire who caused her arrest for extortion. Mr. Platt had proved a disappointing witness. To questions bearing directly on the charges on which the woman's arrest had been made he had answered repeatedly, "I don't know." His helplessness and his weak and apparently unreliable memory surprised those who attended his examination, but his plight did not appear to awaken general sympathy. He did not remember whether he had given Mrs. Elias large sums of money during the past ten years, as charged, and did not remember signing certain of the papers in connection with his charges against her. The ordeal had been a trying one for the aged man, and his replies had become scarcely audible toward the last. As soon as he had left the witness chair Assistant District Attorney Rand said:

"Your honor, I think the parties to this miserable scandal ought to be allowed to stew in their own grease. There is no evidence before you that will possibly serve to hold this woman on a charge of extortion. I recommend that she be discharged."

"I agree with you," said the magistrate. "Mrs. Elias, you are discharged."

Immediately afterward the woman was rearrested on a writ in the civil suit originally brought against her by Mr. Platt to recover $685,000. She was released a few minutes later on $20,000 bail and was escorted by two detectives through the crowded corridors of the criminal courts building to the street, where her carriage was waiting. Several thousand persons, attracted by the case, thronged the building and stood crowded in the streets outside. Among them were many negroes.

When Mr. Platt, feeble and trembling and apparently dazed, was helped out of the building the crowd hooted and hissed.

FILIPINO COMMISSIONERS.

Luncheon and Reception at the White House.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Following a state luncheon a reception was held at the White House in honor of the Filipino commissioners. More than 600 callers were received by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt in the blue room.

The assembly was in the east room, and there the callers enjoyed an hour with the Filipino commissioners, who were entirely at their ease despite the fact that a number of them do not speak English. The Marine band played during the reception.

Originally Mrs. Roosevelt intended to have a garden reception, but a heavy mist made necessary the change in the programme. Army officers and their families, who had spent a number of years in the Philippines and are therefore familiar with the language spoken there, did much to add to the pleasure of the guests of honor.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

R. G. Dun & Co. Report Outlook For Fall Business Good.

NEW YORK, June 11.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Current trade conditions are without change and collections continue slow as a rule, but there is growing confidence in the future, dealers exhibiting an inclination to prepare for fall and winter on a larger scale. There is still much complaint that the weather is unseasonable for retail distribution, and payments are not prompt. It is encouraging to find that the best authorities concur in the opinion that present unsatisfactory results will be temporary, and several branches of manufacture are operating on this basis.

Reports regarding the building trades are almost uniformly favorable, structural work increasing as the season advances, and transporting prospects are brighter on the lakes. Railway earnings, now practically complete for April, show a loss of only 2.9 per cent compared with last year, and surpass the corresponding month of any preceding year. The decline in the cost of living has continued without interruption since March 1. Foreign commerce at this port for the last week shows a loss of $2,064,535 in exports, and a gain of $888,825 in imports, as compared with the same week last year. Speculation is still narrow and professional, which accounts in a large measure for the loss of 27.4 per cent in bank exchanges at this city, compared with the same week of 1903. At other leading cities the decrease was 5.5 per cent.

List prices for iron and steel products are maintained in most cases mainly because of agreements rather than the support of consumption. Demand is extremely limited.

Reaction continues in the cotton market. The July option fell to a point $32.25 a bale below the highest point of the crop year. Western wheat receipts of 1,783,789 bushels for the week fell short of the 1,951,973 last year, and exports were still smaller by comparison, 921,277 bushels, flour included, comparing with 3,078,719. Corn arrivals were 4,872,541 bushels against 2,409,898 bushels, and Atlantic coast exports of 1,0?9 bushels were much smaller than the 765,844 bushels in 1903.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for June aggregated $1,005,157, of which $486,423 were in manufacturing, $378,007 in trading and $290,727 in other commercial lines. Failures this week numbered 227 in the United States against 215 last year and 20 in Canada compared with 14 a year ago.

RUSSIAN MINISTER SHOT.

M. Jadovski, Ambassador to Switzerland, Shot at Berne.

BERNE, Switzerland, June 11.—The Russian minister to Switzerland, M. V. Jadovski, has been shot in the street here and seriously injured in the head.

His would be assassin, a Russian named Ilnitzki, has been arrested. He had been in Berne for some weeks and complained that the Russian authorities had confiscated an estate belonging to him.

M. Jadovski's wound, although it at first appeared to be severe, is not dangerous.

Ilnitzki is an engineer and was formerly a Russian officer. He is a Turkish subject and has a Turkish passport. The Russian minister received several threatening letters from Ilnitzki, which he turned over to the police. In an interview Ilnitzki questioned the minister regarding his claim, but obtained no satisfactory reply. He then shot the minister.

A surgeon has successfully extracted the bullet. It is believed the wound will heal normally.

The federal council in extraordinary session decided to bring Ilnitzki before the federal tribunal.

The president of the confederation personally called to inquire about the condition of M. Jadovski, and the federal council telegraphed its condolences to the minister's family and also to the foreign office at St. Petersburg.

Ilnitzky is well known to the European police. He was expelled from Copenhagen in 1891 for an attempt to thrust a petition upon the emperor of Russia. In 1901 he was sentenced in Vienna to a term of imprisonment for slander. Ilnitzky's complaint is that he lost a fortune through official corruption and spent forty months in Russian prisons on an unfounded charge.

Miss Morton Dead at Paris.

PARIS, June 11.—Miss Lena Morton, daughter of Levi P. Morton of New York, is dead here from the effects of blood poisoning following an operation for appendicitis. Miss Morton rallied slightly, but later her case became hopeless, and she sank gradually until her death occurred. The body will be embalmed and taken to New York for interment. Miss Morton was twenty-seven years of age and was the elder of the two unmarried daughters of former Vice President Morton. Her father was United States ambassador to France. She was a linguist, finely educated and was a general favorite. Her father, mother and sister, the Duchess of Valencay, were with her at the last.

CANNOT STOP JAPS

Russian Forces Driven Out of Siuyen.

NEWS COMES FROM RUSSIAN CAPITAL

After Two Hours' Fighting Cossacks Withdrew Under Fire of Batteries—Kuroki Keeps Czar's Generals Guessing.

LONDON, June 11.—A St. Petersburg dispatch says the Japanese have taken Siuyen, driving out the Russians. The enemy appears to be advancing on Haicheng.

A Japanese infantry brigade, two mountain batteries and five squadrons of cavalry appeared before the town of Siuyen on the south side, but were checked by a very successful fire from the Russian batteries.

Japanese infantry advancing by the Fengwangcheng road came in contact with the Cossacks holding the pass to the town. After two hours' fighting the Cossacks were obliged to retire, and the Russian artillery opened fire along the pass, not allowing the Japanese to establish themselves. At this moment a Japanese mountain battery arrived and took a position to the south, but after firing a few rounds was silenced by the Russian guns. A second Japanese battery did not succeed in getting into action, but was compelled to evacuate its position under the Russian fire.

"In the course of the fight a flanking movement by several battalions of Japanese infantry was observed northeast of Siuyen, threatening our line of retreat. Consequently our Cossacks gradually withdrew five miles from Siuyen, keeping up their fire from a battery on a dense column of the enemy at a range of 600 yards. The fire slackened about 5 in the afternoon. Among our losses were Cheremissineff, chief of Cossacks; Coronet Komarovski and Lieutenant Colonel Possokhoff. To all appearances the Cossacks were engaged with troops of the Tenth division."

News of the Japanese victory at Siuyen furnishes food for considerable speculation regarding the real Japanese objective. Whether the capture of Siuyen constitutes a forward movement in force, military authorities here do not pretend to know. Its character depends largely upon whether General Kuroki has the number of troops with which reports credit him. If he has, it is considered possible that the Japanese may attempt to push across the peninsula and establish a new base at Newchwang.

The direct road to Newchwang passes south of Haicheng. Such a movement on the part of General Kuroki might precipitate a serious engagement in the neighborhood of Haicheng if General Kuropatkin considered the time ripe to contest the advance seriously. But it is also pointed out that the Japanese movements to Saimatze and Siuyen may be either feints or merely a continuation of an effort to distract the Russian attention from Port Arthur.

Details of the affair at Saimatze show that an outpost company on the Aiyang road was attacked by the Japanese. A detachment of chasseurs was sent as a re-enforcement. More Japanese then appeared, one battalion, with a mountain battery, positioned before Saimatze. The chasseurs at first pressed the Japanese, inflicting losses and taking rifles and equipment from the killed, but the advance was checked by a very severe fire. Re-enforcements now joined the enemy, bringing up their strength to a brigade of infantry, two batteries of artillery and three squadrons of cavalry. Thereupon the commander of the Russian detachment ordered a retreat toward Fenchulin pass. The detachment withdrew slowly and in good order, holding successive positions. The Russian wounded included Captain Makharoff and Lieutenant Ronjitski. Both officers, however, remained in the ranks. About 100 men were killed or wounded. The enemy suffered severely. Accouterments taken from the Japanese dead show that they belonged to the Twelfth division.

A Chefu dispatch says: "The Japanese consul has discovered that a wireless telegraph apparatus is attached in the night time to the Russian consular flagstaff here and that the consulate is in communication with Port Arthur."

Mechanism Working to Kill Czar.

LONDON, June 11.—The Daily Mail asserts: "Two infernal machines have been found concealed in tobacco boxes in the Tsarskoye Selo palace, where the Russian emperor is now residing. One of the machines was in the dining room, the other in the audience chamber. The mechanism in each was working when discovered. The strictest secrecy is observed, and this statement, although true in every detail, is sure to be categorically denied."

C. P. Dewey Dead.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 11.—C. P. Dewey of Manhattan, the millionaire ranchman, is dead at Wheeling, W. Va., according to a message received here. Mr. Dewey came to Kansas from Chicago twenty years ago. His son, Chauncey Dewey, and two cowboys were recently acquitted of the murder of the Berry boys. The murder was the result of a ranch feud in northwestern Kansas.

Plainfield, N. J., June 11, 1904.

For efficient advertising it is necessary to use the newspaper. A book publisher who got out an expensive booklet to advertise a popular novel had to spend even more money for newspaper space in order to get his booklet into the hands of prospective customers. An advertiser can get better results from a poster by calling attention to it through the press.—Ex.

The Camden Post-Telegram says that Col. Clime is entitled to the benefit of the doubt when he denies having attacked the Legislature at Company K's banquet. The Camden paper will please take notice that the Burlington officer is the only man foolish enough to deny the published accounts of his speech. Others frankly admit that if anything the newspaper story was not couched in as strong language as that actually used by the undiplomatic colonel.

FLAG DAY NEXT TUESDAY

ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH OF NATION'S PROUD EMBLEM.

Flag Day throughout the United States will be observed on June 14, and in every city, town and hamlet of the country patriotic children and lovers of the flag will display the stars and stripes from the homes and schools and playgrounds. Allan C. Bakewell, chief aide to the commander-in-chief Grand Army of the Republic, who has charge of the patriotic education in the schools of the country, has issued a circular calling upon everyone to "rally to the color" and celebrate the one hundred and twenty-seventh anniversary of the birth of the United States flag.

In the circular Mr. Bakewell says:

For more than a century and a quarter this flag has triumphantly floated in honor—a beautiful token of perfect liberty.

The flag is the signal of protection; whether against foreign or domestic foe, the invader or lawbreaker, the revolutionist, socialist or anarchist, it is a sign the Nation has set up, proclaiming freedom to all, protection and humanity.

After ten years of earnest endeavor the several States had enacted laws providing for the display of the flag over the schoolhouses of all districts where patriotism reigns. Under it millions of children who will govern the country, in the next decade or two are being educated to be loyal citizens.

Fly it from every housetop, every public building, the shipping, from every movable vehicle, that the world may know the American people honor the birthday of the flag, the love of which is the Nation's safety, as necessary as preparation for way.

More Warm Weather.

There is a promise of much more warm weather, and as many people will leave their homes for cool resorts, it is wise to provide for the care of silverware and other valuable articles. The vaults of the City National Bank are especially arranged for storage.

Entertainment Called Off.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of one of the expected entertainers, the Boy's Club of Hope chapel had to postpone its entertainment last night until some time in July.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

In connection with the communication received by the Dunellen Council at the Monday night meeting, from Alvah A. Clark, Esq., counsel for State Senator John M. Welch, of Morristown, and John Fedderman, of the borough, notifying the Council that their Washington avenue property has been greatly damaged by reason of the rain flooding the cellar since the change in grade, a Dunellen official said yesterday, that both these men have had every opportunity for making their requests of the councilmen but have never mentioned to them the condition of which they complain. He also said that the change in grade was made before the property came into the hands of its present owners and that whatever promises had been made to macadamize this street, were made by the Republican administration then in power, and not by the present one.

While at work in Levering & Garrigues' factory, early yesterday afternoon, Clement Dixon, a well-known borough young man, was struck by a heavy piece of iron that fell from one of the shop cranes and very badly injured. Dr. Platt of Dunellen, was sent for immediately and upon his arrival at the factory he at once telephoned to Muhlenberg Hospital for the ambulances. Owing to the fact that the ambulance was in use at the time, the police patrol wagon was sent and the injured man was conveyed to the hospital. Upon examination Doctor Platt discovered that the injured man had his right leg broken in three places below the knee and his right hand is also broken. His fellow workers highly praise Dixon for the pluck that he showed, as never a groan escaped his lips.

Stephen Kennedy made short work of a runaway yesterday when the Cawley beer wagon team from Bound Brook took fright and started on a wild dash down the street. The rig got under way all right, but came to a quick stop when tackled by the fearless Stephen.

The following young women will graduate from the Dunellen High School next Thursday evening, Miss Mary Baldwin, Miss Ethel Clum, Miss Viola Dunham and Miss Alice Apgar. This is the smallest class graduated in a number of years.

Miss Martha Whitenack, who has been a teacher in the Lincoln School for the past four years, has tendered her resignation. She has secured a position in Bayonne.

Mrs. James Craig has returned to her home on Front street, after spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Joseph Kissam, of New York city.

Mrs. John Tinsman and her little son are suffering with the sore throat and her daughter, Helen, is quite ill with diphtheria.

John Dodwell, of Newark, has returned home afte spending several days with his brother, Charles, of Front street.

Jimmie McMahon has accepted a position as night engine cleaner in the Dunellen roundhouse.

Miss Ethel Garretson, of North avenue, is entertaining Miss Carrie Fuller, of Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. John Logan have returned home after a visit with relatives in Trenton.

Dan Guest landed one of the largest carp ever taken from New Market Lake, yesterday.

Paul Kratzel is making extensive improvements to his property on North avenue.

James Hill has accepted a position at Levering & Garrigues' factory.

Ellis Benwood is entertaining his cousin from Asbury, N. J.

Annie Selvitch is visiting friends in Elizabeth.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Rev. G. M. Francis, of Westfield, will occupy the pulpit at the Baptist church tomorrow. The usual services will be held: Sunday-school, at 9:30 a. m.; morning preaching, 10:45, B. Y. P. U. meeting, 7 p. m.; evening preaching, 7:45. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock the Sunday-school members and their friends will observe Children's Day exercises. An interesting programme has been arranged by Superintendent Vincent and the teachers. The public is invited to attend. At the Methodist church, Rev. Mr. Coons will occupy his pulpit again after a three weeks' vacation, which he has been spending at his home in Boston. In the evening the Children's Day exercises of the Sunday-school will be held at 7:30.

The Suburban Club, which has been taking an active interest in bowling and other pleasurers during the past winter and spring, will remain inactive during the summer months. In the fall the social season will reopen with a reception and dance.

The Homestead, at Fanwood, which has become a very popular summer resort for a number of New York families, is rapidly filling up with those who enjoy suburban life in the summer at least.

Rev. G. M. Shott occupies the pulpit at the Third Street Mission tomorrow at both services. In the afternoon he makes the address at the Rescue Mission 4 o'clock meeting.

No ball game will be played this afternoon on the local diamond, the team will meet the Garwood A. C. team on the latter's diamond at Garwood.

An auction sale of the farming utensils and goods of the late James Riley will be held from the farm in Washington Valley on Tuesday, June 14.

King street, in the lower end of the township, is being scraped and put in good condition, under the direction of the street committee.

Miss Alice Shott, who has adopted the profession of a trained nurse, is taking a course in one of the New York hospitals.

Miss Bertha Elle, who is taking a pleasure trip through England, is expected to arrive home the first week in July.

Miss Nancy Wade, of Milburn, is spending Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Wade.

Mrs. H. Hand, of East Sixth street, has been visiting her sister, Miss Hattie Coles, of Front street.

John Wade, who is a student at Dickinson College, is home for the summer vacation.

John Mooney is quite ill at his home on the valley road, being threatened with pneumonia.

Miss Sadie Lee has recovered from an illness of a week with the measles.

Mrs. Augusta Miller was the guest Friday of friends in Newark.

BRIDE AFTER HUBBY

EXCITING CHASE WHICH DAZED ALL BEHOLDERS.

Young Wife, Sans Gown, Pursues Her Husband Up the Side of a Cliff —Patrolman Haggerty Is Baffled.

There was an open exhibit of lingerie at New York the other morning that beat anything the dressmakers' show charged half a dollar to see, and it was free to all Harlem.

A domestic quarrel which began in an apartment house at 14 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street was adjourned to the sidewalk so quickly that Mrs. Martin Spiehler, a bride, didn't have time to put on all her clothes without losing a few words on her side of the argument.

She didn't lose a word, but chased her young husband down three flights of stairs and into the street just as she was. Although, according to a member of the Kingsbridge Yacht club, the bride was quick in stays, she could not catch her husband, and gave it up after a run of three blocks, and after the cop who joined her had tried to drag the wrong man off a Madison avenue car, thinking that he was the fugitive husband.

Spiehler, the bridegroom, wore a long rain coat buttoned all the way down. What he had on or didn't have on under that nobody seemed to know, but up to a late hour last night he had not returned for more clothes.

Mrs. Spiehler wore a straight front corset, a short white petticoat with three or four, perhaps seven or eight, rows of insertion, black stockings and high button shoes. For further details see any department store advertisement of bargains in muslin goods.

Spiehler plunged down the high stoop of the apartment house and dodged round the corner into Fifth avenue, with his wife in close pursuit. She was dressed just right for sprinting, and would have caught up if her husband hadn't dodged into Mount Morris park and taken to the path that winds round and round to the top of the big rock elevation. The road wasn't built for a bridal path, and that may have helped Spiehler.

By this time there was an audience and a host of voluntary pursuers led by Policeman Haggerty.

"I'm no goat," said Haggerty, as the chase led up the steep face of the rock. "I'll surround the bowlder and wait for the lady and gentleman to come down."

The citizens of Harlem helped Haggerty surround the rock and watched the fleeing bridegroom and the sprinting bride as they appeared and disappeared in their spiral ascent.

"They'll throw each other from the precipice," shouted a man who was getting late for work, but didn't seem to care.

"Officer, you must form a human chain at once," said a woman.

"What for?" said Haggerty.

"Didn't you ever go to the theater? Did you ever see a piece where the gentleman throws the lady from a rock without the police forming a human chain?"

Just then the bridegroom reached the summit, dodged through a little pavillion up there, and started down the path again just as his wife reached the summit on the other side. She stopped to get her breath, and that lost her the race, for on the trip down the bridegroom beat her by two laps and a half around the hill. He also eluded Policeman Haggerty and dodged through the crowd in the park to Madison avenue, where he boarded a car.

"He got on a car," yelled some one as Haggerty came up.

The policeman jumped aboard the wrong car (there was a string of them) and nabbed a man who looked like the young husband.

He had persuaded his prisoner to come as far as the rear platform when Mrs. Spiehler, standing on the curb in her short petticoat, said that that wasn't her husband at all.

Haggerty let go, and the man who had been disturbed got so interested in the crowd and the bride that he forgot to take the cop's number. That was the end of the chase.

"What's it all about?" asked Haggerty of the breathless bride.

"He struck me," she said, "and we quarreled, and we've only been married since November. He struck me because I asked him for some money to buy clothes."

"You do need clothes, madam," interrupted Haggerty, holding his helmet before his eyes as he spoke.

A CONFEDERATE IDOL.

Southern Veterans Pay Tribute to Girl Who Wouldn't Sing "Marching Through Georgia."

The confederacy has a sweetheart. Every veteran who followed the stars and bars vows fealty to a 14-year-old Kentucky girl, Laura Talbot Galt, of Louisville, Ky.

The devotion of confederates to her is one of the notable incidents in the history of the army of the south. For a year now she has been given every tribute the veterans could pay. She has been the guest at encampments throughout the south and has received medals and other tokens of esteem. Nearly every camp in the United Confederate Veterans' association has passed resolutions in her honor, and there is now under way a movement to name her the Daughter of the Confederacy, the title once held by Winnie Davis.

There is one song which grates on southern ears, that is "Marching

LAURA TALBOT GALT.
(Louisville Girl Who Is the Idol of Southern Veterans.)

Through Georgia." To every confederate it sounds like the pean of a triumphant foe.

Consequently, when Laura Talbot Galt last spring refused to sing this song, which somehow or other had crept into the melodies of her class in school, and this refusal caused an official investigation in the Louisville public schools, confederates were greatly pleased. Such a decided method of showing resentment struck their fancy.

Since then it has been impossible for little Miss Galt to accept all the invitations to attend reunions and confederate gatherings. The last reunion she attended was that of the Georgia confederates, at which a movement to have her made "Daughter of the Confederacy" received a great impetus, and some think it likely that this crowning mark of recognition will be hers.

Meanwhile Laura Talbot Galt, unspoiled by the praises she has received, is going to school in Louisville. She lives with her grandmother, Mrs. Ross, in a suburb of the city.

It is worthy to note that through the Ross branch of her family Laura Talbot Galt is related to Betsy Ross, who made the first American flag.

HORACE NEWTON ALLEN.

American Minister to Corea Is Thoroughly Familiar with the Affairs of That Country.

Horace Newton Allen, who is Uncle Sam's minister to Corea, figures to some extent in the troubles that now beset the ruler of the country. Minister Allen is well known in Chicago, having been in charge of the Corean exhibit at the Columbian world's fair. He was a medical missionary of the Presbyterian church before he became a diplomat, and for a time was a physician in the palace at Seoul. Minister Allen brought the first Corean mission to Washington, and was made minister resident and consul general in 1897, being promoted to his present position in 1901. He was born

HORACE NEWTON ALLEN.
(Minister of the United States at Seoul, Corea.)

at Delaware, O., April 23, 1859, and was educated in the Ohio Wesleyan university, and at Miami medical college. Emperor Heui-Yi is about 15 years older than Minister Allen. He ascended the throne in 1864 and was satisfied with the title of king until 1897, when he declared himself emperor, and takes great pride in the title. His wife, known as Empress Om, is said to be not a native Corean, but the daughter of a Protestant missionary. The residence of Minister Allen at Seoul, which is now guarded by marines from the gunboat Pittsburg, differs little from other dwellings in the Corean capital. It is one story high, built of brick, with a bamboo roof, but is in a rather exposed position, should a riot or insurrection take place.

ON BOARD A YACHT.

Just a Few Things a Girl Must Avoid if She Wishes to Be Popular.

There are some men who will think nine times before they will take a woman in a yacht with them. And, really, you can hardly blame them, for they often have a hard time as the result of their misguided hospitality.

There is the sweet young thing, for instance, who comes aboard dressed as if for a party. She plants herself in the place where she is most in the way, and then, in order to make navigation easier, she opens her parasol! Later she complains that the waves are getting her dress all wet, and why on earth can't the man who is running the boat keep it straight? Still later on she vanishes below stairs—and we will draw a curtain over that picture, save that her cries to be put back on land are something piteous, and she keeps everybody running in every direction waiting on her.

For the benefit of amateur sailors let me give a few don'ts which they would do well to cherish if they wish to be popular on boating and sailing excursions this summer.

Don't sit too close to the man at the tiller and don't bother the skipper with a volley of questions. He has to sail the boat.

Don't monkey with all the little ropes you come across, and, for heaven's sake, leave the anchor rope alone!

Don't crowd on the lee side of the boat.

When the boat tips dangerously don't scream; be sure to sit still.

Don't jiggle the centerboard because it's such fun, or for many other reasons, and particularly don't do so at the entrance to a harbor or you will have a chance to stick in the mud until the tide floats you off.

Don't try to be kittenish and scramble from the tender to the yacht unaided, as the result is apt to be anything but attractive.

If you are going out rowing, for goodness' sake step in the center of the boat, and do it quietly and steadily.

Don't tease to sail the boat when you don't know anything about it.

And if you are stranded in a calm don't be peevish about it, but do your little best to help entertain the crowd.

WOODWORK IN DINING ROOMS

It Is Often Ornate to Match the Massive Furniture.

The wainscoting and the beaming in the modern dining room are its important features.

In the illustration is shown a model room which is both attractive and simple. The woodwork is of green oak, and the paper, which is of the tapestry order, is of the same dark shade. The beamed ceiling is relieved by hanging lamps of stained glass in red and green. The somber woodwork is likewise set off by the bits of artistic pottery scattered about. The furniture follows the style of the woodwork and likewise its tone.

A copper bowl filled with ferns gives an agreeable touch of color to the room.

R. DE LA BAUME.

The New Woman

Where Working Women Are Recognized Socially

In one respect our national capital sets a noble example to all the world. In Washington the women department clerks, who are refined and cultured, may move in what is considered the highest social set, even the cabinet circle, and be looked on as the equal of anybody. Washington socially is the most democratic and truly republican city in civilization. There, where the commercial spirit is mostly lacking and where the inhabitants are more given to entertaining than in any other city in America, those who can give pleasure socially are sought after as nowhere else. Wit, learning and genius count. The women clerks who have attained respectable rank and salary in the departments are a superior class generally. Numbers of them are the widows or relatives of United States senators and military and naval officers. Before their officeholding days they were socially at the top of the Washington ladder, and when they entered on the performance of their clerical duties they did not slide down. The most highly paid women clerks those who have passed the severe civil service examination grade by grade and been promoted, receive from $1,200 to $2,100 a year. Of our large cities Washington is one of the least expensive in which to live. It is at the same time socially the most delightful of all our cities, largely because of the fact that there, if you have brains, you are somebody, whether you have much money or not. The government clerks work seven hours a day and have a month's vacation every year. The lowest salary is about $480. Perhaps in the course of four or five centuries more women who work for their living in other American cities will be recognized as not only as good as any others, but better than others, because they give a reason for their existence.

That witty writer, Haryot Holt Dey, has prepared what ought to be called "the cheerful calendar." It contains a hopeful, inspiring quotation for every day in the year. The quotations are from eminent writers the world over. One of them from Harriet Beecher Stowe reads, "When you are in a tight place and everything goes against you till it seems as if you could not hold on a minute longer, never give up then, for that is just the time and place when the tide will turn."

* *

"I can't understand," said a woman recently at the close of a club meeting, "how women can talk so much and say so little." Can you?

* *

Martha Craig, the explorer, who journeyed 500 miles into the Canadian wilderness with two Indian guides, believes that tobacco and the overmuch eating of meat are stupefying the senses of the masculine sex.

* *

On general principles Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy is right in laying down the law against "single sex" clubs. Certainly the ideal club will be one composed of men and women both, but there is at present an insuperable objection to it—namely, wherever men and women both belong to an organization the men always crowd the women out of all the offices and all management or say in the society's affairs. I have seen that happen over and over again. For the present, therefore, until men are more modest and less "bossy" toward women, the only refuge is for women to have their own clubs.

The famous decision given by a New Jersey judge in a suit for damages that a girl's life is worth to the world only half as much as a boy's has naturally aroused indignation among the feminine sex. Well, if women had a vote no American judge would dare render such a decision. Better work for woman suffrage.

* *

Most people, men and women both, mistake their prejudices for profound moral convictions.

* *

It is evident that the white masculine sex must get some of the conceit taken out of it before it can progress further. It is also plain that the inevitable is beginning with the Russians, where the monstrous old Salic law is in force, forbidding a woman to occupy the imperial throne. Fitting, most fitting, this, and poetic justice. Every woman's heart in civilization has sorrowed for unhappy Empress Alix.

* *

Get health—above all things, get robust physical health. You can get it if you are determined, and, having that, you can get everything else.

* *

Don't shoot off your opinions concerning matters you don't know all about and understand. To do this is one of the besetting sins of woman.

* *

Professor C. A. Briggs recommends young ministers who are studying the higher criticism to defer matrimony till they finish a postgraduate course. Considering how some ministers' wives and children are supported, it would be advisable for them to put off matrimony altogether.

ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

LOST LIKE A PRINCE.

THE GAMEST LOSER THAT EVER STRUCK GAMBLING JOINT.

Got Rid of $18,000 in One Hour and Then Went Back to Herding Sheep on a Ranch in Wyoming.

"There's no way of telling in advance how a man's going to take his complete wiping out in a game of chance," said a Wyoming man to a Washington Post reporter. "I've seen men of long-tested gameness go all to pieces after big losings; seen them suddenly struck speechless, as weak as children, with their lips trembling, like those of women, who are about to cry. On the other hand, I've seen chaps with low foreheads and weak chins and reputations for crawfishing and backing water in tight places, stand four-square to the finishing wrenches of long runs of cevilish luck and take their bitter medicine with hearts apparently as brave as their faces were weak.

"The gamest loser I ever saw was a sheep herder, who didn't look to have enough character to stuff a gnat pelt. He was bunching sheep on the Idaho sage ranges for $25 a month and his grub, when an aunt in the east whom he had scarcely ever heard of, much less seen, died and left him $18,000. He didn't have to come east to get the money; a lawyer handed him the bundle in Pocatello. He went to Bud McGrath's faro bank and told Bud that he wanted to make a few $1,000 bets. McGrath told him that he'd better hang on to his coin. The herder told Bud that he wanted action on his money, and that if he couldn't get it at McGrath's layout, why, there were others. So McGrath dealt them from the box himself, with a $1,000 limit. I saw the whole play. It lasted only 40 minutes. The herder wasn't in it at any stage of the route, and the game was on the level beyond all doubt. Coppered or open, the herder couldn't land right. It was the fiercest run of evil luck I ever saw a man have at faro bank.

"I'VE HAD MY WHIZZ."

When the herder had lost $13,000, McGrath said to him:

"'You'd better pinch out the remaining $5,000—give yourself a chance.'

"'You hand me out another boxful,' replied the herder. 'When I get enough I'll be broke.'

"The man was perfectly cool and collected, and he laid down his last five $1,000 bills without a tremor. He picked four straight losers. By that time the box was nearly out. The herder put down his last $1,000 note in an effort to call the turn. He lost out.

"'Son,' said McGrath to the sheepherder. 'I'm no hog. I'll just cut it in two with you,' and he began to count half of the money that he had won from the herder.

"'No, you won't,' replied the herder, 'but you can give me a drink and a bottle to put in my pocket.'

"'Better take a couple thousand, anyhow, and run to 'Frisco or Denver, and have a whizz for yourself,' persisted McGrath.

"'I've had my whizz,' was the man's reply. He wasn't sulky at all, and he didn't try to look abused. He was simply all man and all game.

"'Where are you bound for now?' asked McGrath, after setting out the drinks and a pocket bottle.

"'Back to the old Circle-X,' said the herder, and he started for the ranch an hour later. He had bought three blue flannel shirts, a pair of top boots and a poncho, and he took these things along with him in a bundle. He was found frozen stiff on the bank of the Snake river next winter."

Electro-Magnet in Surgery.

At Salt Lake City, Utah, a nail was drawn from a point close to the heart of Louise Cherry, age 16 months, by means of an electro magnet. The child put the nail in its mouth two weeks ago, while playing on its back, and drew it into one of the bronchial tubes. The exact location was discovered by means of an X-ray skiograph. Dr. A. J. Hosmer, who performed the operation, decided it would be fatal to cut through the lung. Experiments on a dog showed it impossible to extract the nail by ordinary instruments. A long, curved piece of steel, attached to a powerful electro magnet, was pushed down the windpipe. As soon as the current was turned on the nail became attached to it and was withdrawn.

New Way of Dressing Wounds.

Parisian surgeons now dress wounds with sliver leaf. The silver is carefully placed on the wound or ulcer, and as cotton soaked in collodion is sufficient it sticks closely to the surface, a little to keep it in place. The effects of this sheet of silver are said to be very beneficial.

GRAIN CURED IN HOSPITAL.

Unique Method of Treating Damaged Wheat and Restoring It to Usefulness.

Port Arthur (Ont.) Special.

Most of us are familiar with hospitals and retreats where life and health may be restored to human beings and animals, but a new and interesting phase is a sanitarium for grain.

Plants and flowers are subject to disease, and as the loss of crops throughout the United States alone has been estimated at some $18,000,000, it becomes imperative that an effort should be made to save the diseased grain. Very often farmers lose the whole crop because of being compelled to harvest in wet weather.

To the new hospital, which is located at Port Arthur, Ontario, the farmers may send their grain to be treated and carefully nursed. After passing out of the care of the experts the grain is said to be cleaner and more wholesome than wheat which has not been subjected to this process. Convalescent wheat has been stored away and kept in perfect health for several years.

When the wheat ill unto death arrives, a nurse places it in a bath of pure water, where it is brushed and scoured in machines made for the purpose until the grains are highly polished and in good shape for the mill. It is then placed upon a bed made of screening and subjected to a jamming process, first of hot and then of cold air, until it is perfectly dry.

Again the grain is subjected to another cleaning process, after which it is ready to be returned to the owner, with the guarantee that it is thoroughly cured. Strange to say, when it is weighed it seems to have lost nothing, and, being all grain, and no chaff, it weighs three or four pounds heavier to the bushel.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR.

Son of Standard Oil Magnate Goes In for Money-Making and Practical Theology.

New York Special.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., already one of the richest young men on the continent, will doubtless be the richest when he inherits his father's vast fortune. Young Rockefeller goes in for theology as a fad. He teaches Sunday school, preaches now and then, and is also a good business man, holding responsible position with the Standard Oil company. Young Rockefeller is an economical chap, living simply and saving money. He was educated at Brown university and was once accused of plagiarism. He not only refuted the charge, but forced the faculty to apologize.

A few Sundays ago he was talking to his Sunday school class about industry.

"Our industry," he said, with a faint smile, "should not be of such a nature that the remark once applied to a certain Scot could ever be applied to us.

"I'll tell you what the remark I allude to was.

"Two old farmers were walking down a road near Dunfermline, when one of them pointed to a distant field and said, shading his eyes from the sun:

"'That figure over there—I wonder if it's a scarecrow.'

"He stopped and regarded the figure very attentively for a space. Then he concluded, in a satisfied tone:

"'Yes, it's not moving. It must be a scarecrow.'

"But the other farmer had sharper eyes and a better understanding, maybe, of certain types of human nature.

"'No,' he said, dryly; 'no, it's not a scarecrow. It's a man working by the day.'"

The Sabbath in Heligoland.

In Heligoland the Sabbath begins on Saturday evening at six o'clock, and extends until the same hour on the next day. In former times no vessel was allowed to leave port between those hours.

Ideal Location

dale and Linden Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE

LINDEN, N. J.

Beautiful and Accessible

2 Miles from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,

14 MILES FROM NEW YORK

On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

A VIXEN'S CHILDREN

THE STORY OF BABY FOXES BORN IN CAPTIVITY.

Under the Watchful Eye of a Noted Naturalist They Proved Interesting Studies—Actions of Their Parents.

I have told before of the cubs that were born to the Vixen Mad Sprite, which I keep in a cage in my yard, and now I will tell something of the youngsters whose first few weeks of life gave to me an interesting study.

For the first few days after the young foxes were born, the vixen never left them, save for a few moments now and then, when she wanted food or water. She had a ravenous appetite, and ate a great deal of meat. "The Sprite," 'on the other hand, seemed to live chiefly on air, for I could not observe that he ate a mouthful. He was just as eager to get the food, but, instead of devouring it, he set it down on the ground in front of him, and wagging his tail, raised his hand for more. When he found that he had received all that was coming to him, he would pick it up, a piece at a time, until his mouth would hold no more, and then he would run over to the den, put his head inside, and make the clucking sound which I have mentioned before, as though calling his puppies to the feast. Then, finding no response, he would take away the meat, dig a hole, and bury it. And he never tried to take away a piece of meat which the vixen had secured, as he often had done before the puppies arrived, but when the vixen tried to take away any of his food, he tried to prevent her, seemingly that he might offer it to the youngsters in the den. After he had buried it, I often saw the vixen dig it up and eat it.

The only food which "The Sprite" reserved for himself was the candy which we gave him now and then. The temptation to eat a caramel, it seemed beyond his power to resist, and he would sit with closed eyes and calmly chew away until the last atom was gone, and then lick his lips and wag his tail for another.

Every now and then, if she saw anyone watching her, the vixen would take one of the babies in her mouth, bring it out of the den, and hunt for some safe place to put it. Not finding one, she would often deposit the infant on the ground, and then bring the others out, one by one. Here they would instinctively form as close a bunch as possible, lying one across the back of another, like a little heap of grain-sacks. One day I saw "The "Sprite," for the first time, take up a piece of meat to eat it. He chewed it, and was about to swallow it, when he caught sight of a pup lying on the ground near him. Up came the meat in an instant, and, clucking significantly, he put down the food beside the youngster, but the vixen, who seemed to have more sense if less generosity, quickly gobbled it up.

One afternoon, when we were all away, some strangers came into the garden, and stood by the side of the fox-cage until the vixen was in a frenzy of anxiety. The next day she had a fit, and on the following day she had nearly 30 fits, and I was afraid she would die before we could get a veterinary surgeon whom I telephoned for at once. She seemed to waste away to a skeleton in the course of a few hours, her eyes were glazed, and, as she no longer recognized her pups, I took them away. The doctor gave little hope for her recovery, but we carried out his orders to the letter, and, save that she is still quite nervous, she has fully recovered from the attack. But we dared not give her the pups again, and they are now being brought up by hand.

When the young foxes were 13 days old, their teeth began to come through the gums, and three days later they could bite a finger hard enough to make it uncomfortable. Even earlier than this, if they were caught up suddenly, they would give a little "yap" and snap at the offending hand. When they were 15 days old the eye of one young fox began to show signs of opening, but it was not until they were 19 days old that all of them had their sight.

At first their only cry was a wailing whine, but after a few days it became vibratory, sometimes sounding like the usual note of a screech owl, and on the seventeenth day I first heard an uncertain "wow-wow-wow" at the end of the whine.

They are now, at three weeks old, beginning to take a real interest in life. They toddle all about the floor, pausing, when they meet one another, to have a miniature rough-and-tumble fight, growling all the while as if they really mean it. In short, they take very strongly after their father, who was just about their size a year ago to-day.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

There is some talk of a baseball game on Fourth of July between teams composed of clerks from the local grocer and meat stores.

Badgley, of the Lehigh University team, who has the reputation of being one of the best of the college pitchers, has lately been playing first base for the Washington team.

Michael Devlin, who has been manager of the strong High Bridge baseball team for several years past, has resigned, the duties conflicting with his position at the steel works in High Bridge. Ramsey is now pitching for High Bridge and last week he struck out twelve Palmer A. C. batsmen.

Ray Guinn, who was one of the star fielders of the victorious High School team, is trying for a place on the Y. M. C. A. nine. He played a fast game with the schoolboys in right garden. He was in all the big games before the Pingry contest, and got away with as many chances as the other fielders without an error.

BASEBALL CLUB'S SOCIAL

Y. M. C. A. LADS HAVE JOLLY TIME AT ASSOCIATION HALL.

The Y. M. C. A. Boys' Baseball League closed a successful season last evening with a social in the small hall in the Association building. The place was decorated with bunting and flowers. About thirty of the boys were present and enjoyed some clever sleight of hand tricks by Leonard Gavett and H. W. Rankin, of this city.

Refreshments were served about 10 o'clock by the Ladies' Auxiliary. In this league were four teams, the Y. M. C. A. Juniors, Whittier School, who won first place, Plainfield High School second team and Leal's second. The High School seconds won second place.

As the winners of the tournament, the Whittier team will receive the banner offered by Hill & Shupp.

nounced that the annual State convention of the society would be held in the Central Baptist church, Elizabeth, in October.

Rev. W. S. Lumbar, of Newark, was introduced as the speaker of the evening and this well-known divine, who was the former President of the State Union, gave a soul-stirring and helpful talk on the subject of "How We May Best Build Up Our Societies." He directed the attention of the Endeavorers to the crucifixion and in an eloquent manner he pictured the impressive scenes on that occasion. He referred to the things that led up to Christ taking his journey to Calvary and how he was tried and put to death on the cross and the final triumph over sin and death. In closing he urged all to see that divine spirit of Christ to live close to Him so that when the last race is run all might say in the words of Christ "It is Finished."

The services were closed with a word of prayer, the offering and a hymn.

MEN'S MEETING.

Man From India to Speak and Miss Till to Sing at the Y. M. C. A. Tomorrow.

George Benton Smith, who recently returned from Madias, India, will give an address full of interest at the Y. M. C. A. meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. He will relate thrilling incidents to show what it means to give up the Hindu worship for the true religion.

Miss Mildred Till, of the Rock Band

Mildred Till.

Concert Company, will be the soloist. Miss Till so pleased the late D. L. Moody at one of his meetings that he tried to get her to sing for him in New York city. She was unable to sing for him, however, as she was on a concert tour in Indiana at the time. There will also be a chorus of mixed voices at the meeting.

A Clever Newspaper Plan.

The attention of the people all over the United States just now is centred on St. Louis and its universal Exposition. Realizing the hundreds of thousands of dwellers in the East will not get one-third of the way across the continent to see the big show, the New York World has devised a plan to bring the Fair home to its readers. This is to be effected by a special series of color pictures, reproductions of paintings made for this purpose by one of the principal members of its art staff. In another column is The World's advertisement of his plan, in which details are given. The pictures are free to all purchasers of the Sunday World.

OSHKOSH BAND IS IN TOWN

DELEGATION FROM WESTERN HAMLET TO SEE MINISTERS DEFEAT DOCTORS.

Favored by fine baseball weather and moved by the spirit of the ancient Greeks, the ministers and doctors feel keyed up to a red-hot battle on the Alis field, this afternoon. Both sides are sure they will win.

There will be no lack of spectators. Practically every seat in the grandstand has been sold, and there is still call for more. Arrangements have been made for extra seating accommodations, however, so that nobody will be turned away disappointed.

Several features outside of the game itself—which is expected to be full of unique and bewildering specialties—have been provided. For one—and the most important—thing, a delegation of musicians from Oshkosh, close relatives of the famous Glee Club members, have arrived to play sweet music at the game. They will head an impressive procession before the contest starts. Their repertoire is large, and includes a fine, doleful dead march that will be used as an accompaniment to appropriate plays.

There will be some superspleudiferous programmes. Everybody that gets one will sure to want to hang onto it until the bitter end. It has several things that nobody in this immediate vicinity ever saw before.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

Asbury Park has at last what she has been fighting for for thirty years—Sunday trains. There has lately been some talk of this service, but much the same has been heard every summer this time for twenty-five years and over, and so quietly and so unexpectedly has the new order of things came about that half the old inhabitants refused to believe until they saw with their own eyes.

Farmers of Somerset County are in a state of mind over what they call a threatened fox plague. While the State law offers a bounty for the pelt of Mr. Reynard, Charles Pfizer, a member of the Newport colony and of the Essex Hunt, is arranging to turn the county or parts of it into a fox-breeding ground. Mr. Pfizer is an enthusiastic huntsman, and the purpose of his plan is to provide himself and other fellow enthusiasts with foxes to chase. To this end he has just brought over from England a fox expert to start colonies of imported foxes in the wildest parts of the North Jersey hills. As the region is a natural habitat of the red fox, the expert expects the animals to remain. The number of foxes that have been scattered through the hills is a well-guarded secret, but there are enough of them to make the farmers apprehensive for their poultry yards. They are talking of engaging counsel to test the question whether the scattering of live foxes in a neighborhood where the State puts a price upon a dead fox is not such a violation of the game law as to make an injunction possible.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. George Volk, of German Valley, were recent visitors here.

—W. J. Conroy is conducting a bargain sale of 7,500 rose plants at five and ten cents each. The sale is at his greenhouses on Somerset street.

JUNIOR MECHANICS GATHER

SOMERSET COUNCIL CELEBRATES ITS THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Members of councils in Bloomfield, Bound Brook, Philadelphia, Roselle, Summit and Franklin and Benevolent Councils, of this city, joined with the members of Somerset Council, No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., last night, in the thirteenth anniversary of the Council.

A feature was the presence of a trained goat, the property of James T. Boyd Council, of Bloomfield. The members came by trolley and they paraded the streets to the hall. The goat was used in an initiation of one candidate.

After the initiation there was speech-making by the various Juniors and at midnight supper was served. Somerset Council, the second oldest in the city, and one of the most successful, has a large membership which is constantly increasing and many complimentary words were spoken for the Council last night.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Eden Musee is one of the most interesting amusement places in New York city. The management is making a continual effort to secure novelties and attractions that can be seen nowhere else. A number of artists are at work all the time designing new wax groups and figures that will represent important scenes and personages, so as to keep the wax collection thoroughly up to date. Every steamer brings new moving pictures of the war between Japan and Russia. These pictures show the manoeuvres of war vessels, the massing of troops, sham battles and picket lines. An excellent idea is obtained from these pictures, not only of the movements of the soldiers of both countries, but of the country where the war is being carried on.

William H. Thompson, the celebrated American character actor, who scored the most emphatic success at Proctor's Twenty-third and One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Theatres last week in conjunction with his appearances at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. Mr. Thompson presents Clay M. Greene's dainty play "For Love's Sweet Sake," one of the prettiest sketches ever done in vaudeville. Clarice Vance, whose rendition of coon songs has reached the dignity of an art forms the second feature, while Mason and Francis, in a clever sketch "An Old Man's Darling," will have a brisk twenty minute offering. The Brooks Brothers, black face singing and talking comedians, will offer their unique melange comedy and Swift and Barton, will present a musical comedy sketch. The Macbars will have a really clever juggling speciality in which clubs and other objects are kept in the air in a variety of intricate figures.

Cut Off His Finger.

John Fritts, of West Fifth street, met with a painful accident while at work in the pattern shop of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant yesterday morning. As the result, the lad has lost one of his fingers on the left hand, while another finger was badly lacerated. The accident happened while Fritts was plaining a short block of wood on a wood plainer. The injury was dressed at the office of Dr. P. B. Cregar.

Paid for Their Fun.

Leo Ayers, Bert Ayers, Frank Shroffer, Conrad Shroffer and Lewis Coriell, appeared before Judge Runyon this morning in answer to a complaint made by Carl Silbert, the Somerset street jeweler. They were charged with disorderly conduct, having broken a window in Silbert's shop by throwing stones. The Judge lectured them severely and suspended sentence. They will pay for the damage.

Foreclosure Postponed.

The foreclosure proceedings, under chattel mortgage, brought by Frazee Mallen against Howard Darber have been postponed for a week, at the request of William G. DeMeza, Esq., lawyer for Darber.

—Ray Guinn has left the city high school and taken a position in New York.

—The June meeting of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders will be held at Somerville on Tuesday.

UMPIRE USES HIS GUN

Burlesque on the National Game is Witnessed by Jolly Crowd Which Doesn't Care a Fig for the Score —Doctors' Higher Criticism of Baseball Dogma.

As a moneymaking venture and an open-air production of farce comedy the baseball game between the Ministers and Doctors for the benefit of Muhlenberg Hospital, Saturday afternoon, on Alis field, was a great success. As an exhibition of the ball playing it was like the confession of an opium eater.

The Doctors won. Probably that should have been mentioned before, but it really doesn't seem important. 23 to 21 was the score. That doesn't seem important either. Everybody expected it to be that way, and maybe more so. When the way the game went is remembered, the spectator wonders how the score stopped at such low numbers. The game was played so much like a dramatization of a Bill Nye story that the result didn't appear to matter to anybody but the amateur athletes engaged in it. Fully 1,500 people watched the comedy of hits and errors—and vaudeville. They enjoyed the show hugely.

The way the opposing nines marched on to the diamond from the hospital, where they dressed, furnished the keynote of the game. The ministerial athletes came on in single rank, with frock coats and silk hats setting with clerical solemnity above knickerbockers and stockings. They were preceded by the Oshkosh Band, fourteen members of the Hillside Golf Club in blue coats and white trousers, who played lustily on pasteboard zobo instruments. Will Rushmore led the band, with a bat for a baton. At the grandstand the ministers turned their backs to the spectators, and disclosed big oilcloth letters pinned between their shoulders, the line spelling M-I-N-I-S-T-E-R-S. Maybe their captain thought the crowd would mistake them for Alis.

While the reverend ball tossers were proudly making themselves known, the ambulance came onto the field with the bell going full tilt. It bore the Doctors, clad in the full white costume of Red Cross nurses. Dr. W. H. Murray, dressed as an ambulance surgeon, and Dr. Norman Probasco, in the full rig of a feminine Red Cross nurse—topped by a glaring red wig—took their stations near the field to render necessary attendance upon the expected dead and wounded.

There was a grand parade of both nines before the players scattered for practice preliminary to the game. The Ministers shed their frock coats and hits and played in regulation costume, but the Doctors chased the globule in their white rigs. They looked real cute, and caught the feminine fancy at once. In referring to costumes, Umpire William N. Runyon should receive honorable mention. He came on in cowboy rig, with a shotgun and a belt full of cartridges prominently displayed. A regular Roosevelt. And the gun was there for business as he demonstrated in the fourth inning, more of which anon.

How the Doctors won nobody knows —not even "Doc" Doyle, ex-pitcher and captain of the pennant-chasing St. Mary's nine, whose curves and workmanlike playing did more to bring about the result than anything else. They just won, that's all.

To give the players their due, they played a game so evenly balanced that it was interesting. And some of them played what looked like real baseball.

It looked like the Ministers' game at the beginning and considerably beyond. "Doc" Doyle's pitching was the stumbling block that overturned the Ministers. He didn't pitch a star game by even a little bit, but in the last three innings, when the good work was needed, he steadied down and did mighty execution. He passed up seven batters, but he fanned twelve and worked his position for sixteen assists.

It looked like all-day and a part of next week for the Doctors in the fifth. Doyle took the lid off, and the Ministers cavorted around the bases ten times before the spasm ended. The

SLIM ATTENDANCE ON LOCAL GOLF COURSES

Many Contestants Witness Ball Game Between Ministers and Doctors.

H. F. FOX WINS HONORS AT HILLSIDE WITH NET SCORE OF 78.

Weekly Competitions at Park Golf Club Links — Westfield Defeats Cranford in Team Match.

The game of baseball on Saturday between the ministers and physicians had the first call of the local attractions in sports, and in consequence the attendance at the golf links was rather small. There were just seven contestants who posted scores for the Golf Committee cup at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. H. F. Fox won first honors with a net score of 77, while S. D. Lounsbery and Charles A. Stover were a tie for the other honors, making a net score of 78 and receiving a point and a half each. The scores:

H. F. Fox, 97, 20—77; S. D. Lounsbery, 86, 8—78; Charles A. Stover, 93, 15—78; Leighton Calkins, 85, 3—82; E. E. Iremonger, 96, 11—85; T. W. T. Maxwell, 116, 25—91; Frank Raymond, 113, 18—95.

As there were no contestants for the Women's Handicap cup, this competition was not held.

The only event at the Park Golf Club on Saturday was the weekly competition for the President's and Park Golf Club cups. Morgan T. Townsend won first honors for both cups, while George T. Rogers and Samuel Townsend won second and third honors for the President's cup, and J. H. Howell won second honors for the Park Golf Club cup and Mr. Rogers and Mr. Townsend divided the one remaining point for this cup. The scores:

Morgan T. Townsend, 84, 0—84; George T. Rogers, 105, 20—85; Samuel Townsend, 105, 16—89; J. H. Howell, 102, 12—90; J. L. Watson, 121, 30—91; J. B. Betts, 126, 28—98.

The events at the Westfield Golf Club on Saturday were the team match between Westfield and Cranford in the East Jersey Golf Club series, and a ball sweepstakes. Westfield won the team match by 8 points to 2, on the Nassau system. O. E. Halsted won the other event with a score of 88, 10—78.

GRANDSTAND FOR CONCERTS

REVENUE FROM SEATING ACCOMMODATIONS TO BE PLACED IN FUND.

Work upon the erection of a bandstand and grandstand for the free summer concerts has begun. The concerts will be held on the Boice estate, bordering on Tier's lake, and it is there that the carpenters have started to put up the stands.

The lumber for the stands has been donated by J. D. Loizeaux. The carpenters are giving their work to the cause of popular music, so that no expense will cut down the fund in hand for the music itself.

It is believed that the grandstand, admission to which will be nominal, will appeal to the people who, last year, complained because there was no means of escaping the pushing and shoving of the crowd, and no way at all of listening to the music with any degree of comfort. Bandmaster La Vere expects that his stand will be filled every concert night, and if his expectations are realized the money that comes in from this source will be a substantial addition to the music fund, and insure one or two more concerts.

Max Munger's Wedding.

Col. and Mrs. H. K. Weber and Miss Weber, of Springfield, Ill., arrived here today to attend the wedding of their niece, Miss Sue Shepherd Weber, of Cumberland, Md., and Max Munger, which takes place tomorrow night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Ackerman, of West Eighth street.

Mr. Titsworth's Funeral.

The funeral services of Isaac Edward Titsworth, oldest son of the late Dr. Abel S. and Lucy Morgan Titsworth, who died in Denver, on June 7, will be held at the home of L. T. Titsworth, of West Fifth street, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Interment will be at Hillside.

VARIOUS CHURCHES OBSERVE CHILDREN'S DAY

Following Annual Custom Exercises Are Held in City and Borough Edifices.

THOSE PARTICIPATING

RECITATIONS AND SONGS BY THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL PUPILS.

In Some Churches the Exercises Form a Part of the Morning Service—Some Handsome Decorations.

Most important among the observances of Children's Day at the Monroe Avenue church yesterday morning was the christening of five little ones by the pastor, Rev. George Mooney, one of them being Mr. Mooney's baby daughter, Faith Emerson Mooney and the others, Sarah Elizabeth Beekman, Russell Fowler Pound, Violet Elizabeth Lindabury and Evelyn Mary Stine. There were so many present that the church was almost uncomfortably filled. Notwithstanding this fact, the long special song service which constituted the chief part of the programme, was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Miss Avis Aldrich sang a solo, "Roses." The platform was tastefully decorated with wild flowers, palms and ferns. Owing to the length and special character of the services, no regular sermon was preached.

Children's Day exercises at the First Presbyterian church were left almost wholly to the primary department. Special music by the choir and a solo by Elmer Cutting were the features of the service. A considerable number of recitations were delivered by the children. About fifteen children were promoted from the primary to the intermediate division of the Sunday-school.

Special services in observance of Children's Day were held yesterday afternoon at Hope chapel. Beside music and readings from the Scriptures, the following numbers were given by the pupils. Recitation, "Greeting," Jessie Burns; song, "The Bees and Flowers," primary department; recitation, "The Birth of Children's Day," Jessie Duncan; recitation, "Serve Where you Stand," Harry Brandt; recitation, "Suffer Little Children," Margaret Mortimer, Florence Taylor, Mary Alice Duncan and Mabel Pearson; recitation, "Little Ones for Jesus," Clarence Weber; "How to do it," Harry DeHart; solo, "Nearer My God to Thee," Mr Thomas; "Sunshine in the Heart Garden," Josephine Snyder and "Only a Child," Mary Badford. The Crescent Avenue church choir sang "Far From my Heavenly Home." In the midst of a recitation by twelve children, "Climbing Heavenward," the superintendent and school repeated responsively the beatitudes, making a very interesting service. This was followed by seven little girls in a recitation called "Flower Lessons." The address was made by Rev. J. S. Zelie, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church.

Trinity church held elaborate exercises in the morning, the observance taking the place of the regular service. The platform was decorated with flowers. A large congregation was present.

The primary department exercises and recitations were rendered by Lillie Schlief, Clara Lee, Margaret Hope, Madeline Blair, Etta Enander, Edson Day, Ralph Martin, Miller MacAfee, Walter Fisher, Roscoe VanCamp, Jack Rogers, Harold Storr, Ada Smith, H. Roberts, E. Tier, R. Rogers, E. Richards, E. Oliver, M. Storr, R. Hoagland, B. Martin, Beatrice Tier, H. Wooley. Mrs. J. M. Tier, the superintendent, was in charge. The following pupils took part in the Junior Department exercises: Jeanette Neal, Annette Wilson, Ida VanArsdale, Ethel Vail, Agnes Mantz, Gertrude Schlief. Mrs. L. R. Schofield, the superintendent, was in charge. The singing by the entire school was led by W. O. Leek.

A feature of the programme was the playing of an orchestra composed of Mrs. G. W. Saums, Kenneth Smart, violin; Elmer Wheeler, flute; Edward A. Young, cornet; Miss Lillian A. Force, piano; A. L. Titsworth, organ.

Rev. A. F. Todd made the opening prayer and delivered the closing benediction. Rev. W. T. Griffin, U. S. Consul at Limoges, France, who arrived here to visit his family on Saturday, was among the congregation. At the request of Superintendent Smith, who was in charge of the exercises, he made a short address. He is a favorite with the Trinity church children.

Mr. and Mrs. George Benton Smith and their daughter, Barbara Smith, of India, took part in the Children's Day exercises at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, yesterday afternoon.

The Sunday-school has contributed toward the support of the missionaries and especially the little girl and dressed in the native costume she appeared before the school. Mrs. Smith gave the school a talk about the children of India and Mr. Smith also spoke. W. D. Murray, superintendent of the primary department, gave each child a small pig bank in which they are to place their spare pennies during the summer months.

Children's exercises at the First Baptist church Sunday-school, yesterday afternoon, included songs and recitations by Elmer and Lawrence French, Augustus VanDeventer, Jr., Lester Chandler and Ralph Smalley, and songs and concert recitations by pupils in the intermediate department. One member of the cradle roll was welcomed into the primary department. After the exercises Rev. Dr. Seymour, of Philadelphia, gave the school an interesting address. Mrs. J. A. Powlison, superintendent of the primary department, was in charge.

Children's Day exercises at the First M. E. church, yesterday afternoon in Vincent chapel, were in charge of the kindergarten and primary departments, of which Miss Elsie Horne and Mrs. Arthur Crone are superintendents. The little tots presented a programme of songs and recitations, including two solos by Helen Douglass and Blanche McVey. The chapel was prettily decorated with ferns and daisies. James R. Joy, superintendent of the Sunday-school, was in charge.

At Grace M. E. church the Children's Day service took the place of the regular morning service. The platform was banked with flowers.

Those who took part in the programme of exercises and recitations were Elva Lippincott, Blanche Stevens, Bessie Taynor, Helen Nelson, Mildred Harden, Edna Mantz, Gladys Brokaw, Edna Stewart, Clara Bodenheimer, A. Stewart, Martin, Lewis Conroy, Mabel Winans, Leroy Taynor, Myra Lippincott, E. Nelson, E. Stewart, E. Bodenheimer, B. Pope, Edna Lippincott, E. Johns, H. Story, E. Beeching, E. Taynor.

A special feature was the baptism of five infants. Rev. Dr. Earp preached a short sermon on "Education," reviewing the history of Children's Day.

The committee in charge was made up of Miss Mary G. Steiner and Miss Delia Voehl and Andrew Wilson was the decorating committee.

Children's Day and Flag Day were observed together at the Park Avenue Baptist church yesterday morning, the whole service consisting of songs, recitations and special music.

Those taking part were Arline Brown, Florence Smalley, Isabelle VanBrackle, Mildred Odam, Eleanor Stutsman, Autumn DeLany, Edith Lyons, Marjorie Brown, Susie Whitney, Isabelle Moy and Catherine Randolph, William Ponsford, Adelbert VanBrackle, Walter VanWinkle, Rowland Stover, Gordon Moy, Eleanor Stover, Ida Odam, Isabelle Harvey, Hilda VanWinkle, Madeline Moy, Lillian Mattladge, Chester Chamberlin, Irene Doane, Bessie Giles, C. R. Brokaw, Lillian Hardcastle, Violet Van Winkle, Helen Chamberlin, Louise Harral, Helen Stover, Grace Chamberlin, Mabel Kise and Lizzie Van Winkle.

Mrs. VanBrackle was in charge of the organ and Miss Mamie Clark at the piano. The committee: Miss C. E. Brokaw was chairman, her assistants being Miss F. G. Hawkins, Mrs. W. S. Lowry, Miss Elmira C. Runyon and George E. Hall.

The customary Children's Day observance was held at Maroonnier chapel yesterday. There were recitations and singing by the children, and flowers decorated the platform. Rev. George Watts, of Dover, spoke.

Besides special carols at Warren chapel, there were ten recitations by as many pupils. Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, of Grace P. E. church, was the speaker. He was introduced by Superintendent Andrews. Rev. Mr. McKelvey, the pastor, made the prayer. Daisies and white roses were used lavishly, and canaries in cages were hung about the Sunday-school room.

FUNNY SOUVENIR OF BURLESQUE GAME

The Greatest Hit of the Match Between Doctors and Ministers is Made by Score Card.

SOME SIDE LIGHTS

DR. ZEGLIO'S BASE RUNNING BRINGS DOWN THE GRANDSTAND.

Rev. Mr. Lindholm Has No Liking for the Goods Delivered by Doc Doyle—The Pastors Peddle Souvenirs.

There was lots of fun for the crowd in the score card. It was covered with fake advertisements that roasted, more or less gently, some of the ministers, some doctors and a well-known business man. One of the advertisements read: "Herring & Finn, Fish Dealers. Deviled Crabs a Specialty." Everybody bought one and all of them will be kept as unique souvenirs.

The score cards were sold by an industrious band of "boys" composed of ministers and doctors not in the game. The "boys" were listed on the back of the programme as follows: Tommy Davis Georgie Endicott, Oley Jenkins, Johnny Probasco, Ernky Bodman, Winnie Snodgrass, Alty Van Horn and Johnny Zelie.

W. M. Runyon, who used to do something or other in the Yale Glee Club, is responsible for most of the programme of foolishness at the game, and for the advertisements on the score card.

Dr. Zeglio stole bases in his own peculiar way. The style ought to be patented. Funny thing about it was that the Ministers couldn't seem to catch him.

Dr. Cregar was a credit to the training of Brother-in-law "Matty."

Rev. Mr. Lindholm was forced into the game at short notice, owing to the sudden defection of Mr. Goodrich. In the seventh inning, desperate over the threatening pile of doctorial runs, he did make one frightened little swipe at the bulb.

The Doctors have a souvenir of the game in the shape of a jet black foul flag on which a glaring white skull and crossbones shows. The flag is the work of Miss Fritts. The Doctors will keep it at the hospital.

HARRY B. LOVELL IS MARRIED

A TAUNTON, MASS., BELLE IS PLAINFIELDER'S BRIDE.

Harry Borden Lovell, the son of Leander N. Lovell, of this city, was married in Taunton, Mass., Saturday afternoon, to Miss Beatrice W. Swase, of that place. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Swase.

Only relatives of the groom were present from this city. His sister, Miss Phoebe B. Lovell, was one of the bridesmaids. The best man was a Chicagoan, Thomas Mundy.

The couple are on a honeymoon trip. They will reside in Plainfield for the summer, but plans for permanent home have not yet been determined. The groom is in business in New York with his father.

REPEATS BIBLE FROM MEMORY

REV. GEORGE B. SHAW DEMONSTRATES WONDERFUL FACULTY.

Rev. George B. Shaw, pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church, occupied Rev. Dr. Schenck's pulpit in Trinity Reformed church last evening and delivered an excellent sermon on "Neglect," as suggested by the text: "How Shall We Escape, if We Neglect so Great Salvation?" Heb. 2-3 Mr. Shaw is possessed of a wonderful knowledge of the Bible. At last evening's service he repeated entirely from memory the eleventh chapter of Hebrews.

Mrs. Moon Buried.

Funeral services were held over the remains of Mrs. Sarah Moon on Saturday, at the home of her son, Joseph Moon, of Grandview avenue. Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church, of which the dead woman had been a member, conducted the service. He paid a high tribute to the character of Mrs. Moon, who had been a professing Christian since her twelfth year. The body was taken to Clover Hill for interment.

Bets Are Off.

No official announcement of the result being made, all bets in the Alis-Westfield game are declared off.

"SOCIAL DIRECTORY" MUCH IN DISFAVOR

Idea of Publishing Such a Volume in This City is Severely Attacked.

WRONG IN PRINCIPLE

AN INFLUENTIAL SOCIETY MAN VOICES HIS OPINION ON THE SUBJECT.

Says That Publisher Should Get Permission Before Using Any Names—Does Not Want to See His Name in the Book.

Since the announcement in these columns that a Social Registry is being compiled in Plainfield, considerable criticism has been made in various quarters regarding the idea. Much of this is based on the fact that it would draw tighter social lines and cause a greater division among the residents of the city.

By some it has been argued that the social umpire may not be in a position to decree who are and who are not eligable to have their names listed in such a class, but the main opposition is against the whole idea of such a book.

The Daily Press received the following communication today from one of the best known and most influential men in Plainfield's more exclusive circles:

"Editor, The Daily Press:

"It seems to me that the compilers of the 'Social Register,' of which a prospectus has been issued, should refrain from publishing in it the names of families or individuals without the permission or request of the owner of each name. Otherwise some who think the scheme unnecessary and unadvisable may be made to seem to approve it. I do not wish my name to appear in such a list, but it is not convenient to say so personally to the publishers, so I take this method of calling their attention to the matter for myself and for others who may be of the same opinion. Elite."

HORSESHOW BIG ENTRIES

ALTOGETHER 168 FOR PLAINFIELD EXHIBITION, 68 MORE THAN LAKEWOOD.

Everything augurs well for the complete success of the horse show. Entries have been practically completed, and the list is so large as to make it certain that the event will outclass similar shows in other suburban towns by a good deal.

Altogether there are 168 entries. This is sixty-eight more than the Lakewood show attracted, and is much better than most neighborhood shows on record.

Prominent New York and Long Island horsemen have entered horses in the different classes, and there are many Plainfield, Westfield, Somerville and Elizabeth entries. Mr. and Mrs. Ladew, of Glen Cove, the Horse Exchange, of New York, George Watson and H. G. Mellwaine and other prominent horse dealers and breeders are represented.

TELEPHONE CO.'S CHANGES

REPORT THAT C. W. RUNYON WILL BE REWARDED.

According to reports today extensive changes are in contemplation by the officers of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company in which Plainfield is affected. It is understood that this town will be included in what will be known as the Elizabeth district and Charles Root, of Elizabeth, will have charge. This will bring about a change here in management and it is said that Charles W. Runyon, after an excellent service of over twenty years with the company, is to have a more lucrative position as a reward for his faithful and admirable work.

Dunellen Defeated.

The Dunellen B. A. team was defeated by the Clinton Avenue A. A. team by a score of 6 to 3 on the Madison avenue grounds in Dunellen Saturday afternoon.

The line-up:

Dunellen—Giles, ss; D. Smith, 2b; Ettlinger, p; Dailey, 1b; Matthews, lf; Brown, c; O. Smith, cf; Craig, 3b; Alberts, rf.

ALIS WALKS OFF DIAMOND

Questionable Decision by the Umpire in the Ninth Inning Spoils Fine Exhibition.

ALIS TEAM IN THE LEAD

Local Team Plays Almost Perfect Game — Walton's Sensational Catch—Guarantee Refused —Detailed Score —The Dispute.

After playing one of the finest exhibitions of baseball seen in this vicinity this season, in which Alis clearly outplayed its opponents, the Westfield team, a questionable decision by Umpire Kenzie in the ninth inning, after one man was out, precipitated a wrangle which terminated the game with the score 2 to 1 in favor of Alis. Manager Johnston decided to take his team off the field, and while some condemned his action, believing that he should complete the contest, win or lose, there were many who approved of it. It was announced that the game was given to Westfield 9 to 0, but the umpire was spirited away to a place of safety, and the decision cannot be called official.

The summary:

Score by innings:

Earned runs—Rochford. First base on balls—Off McLane, 6. Struck out—By Davis, 3; by McLane, 2. Left on bases—Alis, 8; Westfield, 6. Double plays—Barry, Hickman and Stallings. First base on errors—Alis, 2; Westfield, 1. Hit by pitcher—Stallings. Time of game—1:45. Umpire—Kenzie.

The trouble started in when Westfield was at the bat for the last time. Rochford made a single, was advanced to second on Stalling's out from third to first and scored the only run on Connolly's single. Hickman then drove a grounder to Bradley and the third baseman threw the ball to Walton, who was covering second, to catch Connolly. Walton caught the ball, touched the bag and the baserunner believing he was out, started to walk away. Rochford told Connolly to return to the bag, declaring he was not out. Then the umpire decided in favor of Connolly. This was too much for Manager Johnston and his team and the crowd thronged the field, many losing their heads and making harsh criticisms, while the players indulged in a war of words.

The fact that Manager Denman threw down his regular umpire Caulium at the last minute and took on Kenzie, a new man, caused suspicion, and Manager Johnston told Denman that if any rank decisions were made he would take his team off the field. Caulium received his papers in New York, just before starting for Westfield. He and Umpire Merity watched the game.

Kenzie gave several questionable decisions during the game, but not until the ninth did it become flagrant.

Alis was on its mettle and put up almost a perfect game. Flynn at short made the only error, and this was rather excusable. While the team deserves every honor, Davis and Farmer, the battery, were top-notchers. "Lefty" pitched gilt-edged ball and his assortment of curves completely puzzled his opponents. In all only five hits were made off his delivery, while Alis touched McLane, the Fordham College twirler, for six safeties.

Walton, who played short, covered

If you have not yet completed your summer wardrobe, visit the Boston Cloak and Fur store on West Front street and inspect the fine array of women's suits, plain and fancy shirt waists. You will find just what you want at low prices.

William Lindsay & Company have no difficulty in "making good" with every new customer they serve. The best milk and cream and the promptest service are drawing cards that have proved the biggest business getters for this popular firm of dairymen.

The handsome soda water fountain at L. W. Randolph's pharmacy is not the only attraction at this up to date store. Every department is an attraction, including the prescription, confection and toilet articles. The prices are popular ones and you always get the best.

Nagle's prescription department will compare favorably with any other in the city and his entire business is run on the same lines. The soda fountain even is as carefully looked after as anything about the store and the crowds of patrons are only a natural result of this thorough care.

Pretty shirtwaist sets go far to making or marring the effect of the shirtwaist. Many a tasteful waist has been spoiled in effect by an ugly or cheap-looking pin set. Get some of the attractive sets sold by L. Mosslier & Son, Park avenue. They will improve any shirtwaist. Other silver novelties in profusion.

"The Highlands of Ontario for Your Holidays."

With the knowledge of what America has to offer the summer tourist and the rest and health-seeker, the thousands of summer travellers who spend their vacations in "The Highlands of Ontario," unhesitatingly pronounce the Muskoka Lakes region the ideal, the perfectly satisfying summer resort. Such an ideal is a combination of two features—primeval nature in a perfect bewilderment of beauty, charm and variety, along with the facilities for most of the modern necessaries and conveniences. In addition to these, the even temperature, the high altitude (1,000 feet above the sea), the health-giving ozone from pine, hemlock and fir, and the dark, soft waters of innumerable lakes, teeming with the gamiest of fresh water fish. What more has a weary, nerve-racked man or lover of nature to desire? Handsome, illustrated, descriptive publications will be sent free on application to Frank P. Dwyer, E. P. A., Grand Trunk Railway system, 290 Broadway, New York. 6 6 12

There is said to be developing in Somerset county a contest between Senator Childs and Assemblyman Swackhamer over who shall be candidate for Congress in the Fourth district. Give it to Sam. S., by all means. Let Washington see what Jersey can produce when it tries. Sam C. is all right in his way, which includes his adeptness at mixing sinkers and "beer-ands," and he isn't in a class with the other Sam—Samuel S. Swackhamer, the Elongated Sycamore of the Somerset Sand-hills. Of course that will deprive New Jersey of having the difficult pleasure of saying "Governor Swackhamer," but who cares. The citizen's first duty is to the Union, not the State.—Ex.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

Assemblyman Swackhamer says he doesn't want the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Fourth district. The "Tall Sycamore of Somerset" has a heap of common sense and doesn't propose to court sure defeat in a Republican congressional district, when by lying low he can strengthen his chances of landing in the State Senate or of getting within reaching distance of the Governorship.—Camden Post-Telegram.

Not Thompson for Congress.

Trenton does not warm up enthusiastically to the proposition of Lewis A. Thompson for Congressman from the Fourth district on the Republican ticket. The Republicans in the capital are not entirely satisfied to give up the nomination to Somerset anyway and think they ought at least to have something to say about what Somerset man shall be named. It is safe to say that "Charlie" Reed, of North Plainfield, agrees with his Trenton contemporaries regarding Mr. Thompson's candidacy.—New Brunswick Home News.

LITERARY.

Time has worked a change in Boston until it is no longer an American city. I am told that other cities are stratified, class above class; Boston's compartments are mainly on the same level, each with an ideal of its own. Other cities divide along lines of wealth, or so at least Harry Thurston Peck would have us believe. Boston divides along lines of congeniality, which is, as it seems to me, rather a decent arrangement. (From "The Social Side of Boston," in the July Ainslee's.)

There are two complete novels, and the first installment of a new serial in the July Popular Magazine. The authors of this interesting trio are Francis Lynde, whose book, "The Grafters," is attracting so much attention in this presidential year; Louis Joseph Vance, one of the most promising of the younger set of American authors, and Richard Marsh, an English writer of note. In addition, there are numerous short stories, embracing a variety of subjects, and also seven little stories of the stage by famous actors and actresses. The July number, as usual, contains 194 pages, making it the biggest magazine on earth at any price. (Street & Smith, New York. 10 cents.)

The June number of the Architectural Record Magazine (New York) is one of the richest in the department of illustrations that we have seen. It contains no less than one hundred and four plates. Nearly fifty are given in connection with the description of the Hotel St. Regis. For the third time in the history of the Astor family one of its members has had built a hotel that in its way is better than any other hotel in the country. Before the war, the Astor House, on lower Broadway, was the boast of New York; much more recently the Waldorf-Astoria became a great metropolitan hotel, and now, the St. Regis on Fifth avenue, which is being completed for Colonel John Jacob Astor, fulfils once gain the family tradition of possessing the most distinctively metropolitan hotel of its day. The idea of making another new standard of excellence runs through all the details and dispositions of the building. Just wherein this superiority of quality consists is made clear in the extended article in the June number of the Architectural Record. As the St. Regis is considered the finest modern hotel, a wide circle of people will be interested in reading and seeing what it is like.

Great Naval Battle Off Port Arthur Rumored.

JAP FLEET BOMBARDS MILITARY TRAIN

Russians Were Bringing Troops to and Fortifying Kiachau When Shelled—Russian Dead Buried at Nanshan Numbered 704.

LONDON, June 13.—Advices from St. Petersburg say rumors are in circulation there to the effect that a great naval battle has taken place off Port Arthur, in which two Russian and four Japanese battleships were sunk.

A Tokyo report says that Rear Admiral Togo has reported that the fleet bombarded the west coast of the Liautong peninsular near Kaichau and drove back a military train that was approaching southward. No trains have been seen since.

The enemy was bringing in troops and throwing up works, evidently expecting a landing of the Japanese on that point and making all preparations to prevent it.

Small gunboats sent close in by Rear Admiral Togo bombarded the Russians at work and it is believed caused considerable damage.

The military commission assigned to bury the Russian dead in the battle of Nanshan hill at Ninchau has presented its final report at Tokyo.

It states that 10 Russian officers and 664 men who fell in the battle have been carefully buried and that 30 men were buried by the outposts, making the total number of killed left behind by the Russians 704.

The Russian government has not yet returned an answer to British Ambassador Hardinge relative to his government's protest at Russia's declaration that rice and other foodstuffs are contraband of war, but it has been learned that there is no intention on the part of the Russian government to make modifications to meet the British view.

The protest is based on the rule observed by Great Britain during the Boer war that even foodstuffs destined for a hostile country would be considered contraband of war only if intended for an enemy's forces.

A Tokyo report says the Siberian railway steamer Manchuria, which was captured by the Japanese, has left the Yokosuka naval station, carrying sixty guests of the navy department. The trip of the Manchuria has been arranged for the foreign naval attaches, prominent members of the diet and ten of the foreign correspondents. The itinerary of the vessel includes visits to the Kure naval station, the Sasebo naval station, Chemulpo, Chinampho, the Sir James hall and the Elliott groups of the islands, Talien bay, Port Arthur, the advanced naval bases at the mouth of the Yalu and the army bases on the Liautong peninsula.

A Haicheng dispatch says:

"A flanking movement of the Japanese around the Russian left from Fengwangcheng has been repulsed with a loss of two whole battalions.

"A large Japanese force moved out in the morning along the Fengwangcheng and Haicheng road. The Russians had a force strongly posted in a ravine thirty miles southeast of Haicheng. The Japanese were preceded by two battalions, who walked into the Russian ambush. They received a murderous rifle and artillery fire at close range and were wiped out, only one or two escaping.

"The main Japanese force, which was greatly superior to the Russian force, tried to outflank the Russians, who drew off without losing a man. The Japanese, closing in, found the ravine vacant save for their own dead."

American Killed In Cuba.

HAVANA, June 13.—Alfred Symons of Boston, son of the owner of a farm in Puerto Principe province, who arrived from the United States a few days ago and proceeded to his father's estate, found his father's remains with the head apparently eaten off by dogs. The elder Symons had evidently been dead several days. It is presumed he was murdered, the motive for the crime being robbery.

Block Island Steamer Damaged.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 13.—The steamer New Shoreham, bound down Narragansett bay for Block island, collided off Pomhan point with the barge Edith, coal laden, for this port. The New Shoreham had a large hole stove in her starboard quarter about two feet above the water line and returned to this city, where she has drydocked.

New York Negress Shot.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., June 13.—Rebecca Traynum, twenty years old, a negress from New York, has been killed here by an unknown assassin. She was shot twice in the head, and from the position of the body and the course of the bullets it is thought she was on her knees when the crime was committed.

Vanderbilt at Sandy Point.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 13.—Reginald Vanderbilt, whom New York officers attempted to locate in that city last week in order to serve him with a witness subpoena, has arrived at his home in Sandy Point. He came here from Boston in an automobile.

Collar Button Brings Death.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 13.—Alex. Simons, a small child, swallowed a collar button and before a physician arrived choked to death.

Pardo Peru's President.

LIMA, Peru, June 13.—Jose Pardo has been elected president of the republic.

BELL EXPECTS FIGHT

Adjutant General Says He Has Evidence to Hang Forty.

DYNAMITERS NOW IN THE BULL PEN

Mining Camp to Be Opened For Deported Men In New Mexico—Ninety-one Union Miners Dumped Over Kansas Line Destitute.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 13.—"I ordered Major McClelland," said General Bell, "to take no chances and shoot down the first man that resisted; hence I fear it has been a repetition of the battle of Dunnville. Of course Major McClelland may have captured the men and in the absence of railroad communication may be walking them to Victor. However, as the miners are said to be heavily armed I am fearful that a battle has taken place."

Thus another battle is probably being fought in the mountains. Major T. E. McClelland and a detail of sixteen men went to Clyde, eight miles east of Victor, to round up thirty-five miners reported to be intrenched in the mountains near there. Having failed to hear from the major, General Bell is becoming apprehensive. There is no telegraphic communication with the camp.

General Bell made the following statement for publication:

"I have indisputable evidence which will lead to the conviction of several union men for the murder of the non-union miners who were killed in the Independence explosion. We have between thirty-five and forty men in the bull pen who will swing for this crime. We are only waiting to capture two or three more men before we tell what our evidence is."

A Denver report says a new mining camp will be opened in New Mexico to receive the deported union miners from Cripple Creek. The Western Federation of Miners will work the claims on a co-operative basis and will have entire jurisdiction over their development.

Provision will be made by the federation for all deported miners, and to this end a carload of supplies will be sent to the new camp immediately as a starter. The camp will be located near Tres Piedras, which is twenty miles south of the Colorado line, on the line of the Denver and Rio Grande. There is a district ten miles square of virgin ore, and the work of mining it will be parceled out to the union miners. They will work on the co-operative plan, but the miners will be supported by the federation while prospecting.

From Syracuse, Kan., it is reported that ninety-one deported Victor (Colo.) miners sent out from their state on a special train in charge of half a hundred Colorado militiamen were literally dumped on the Kansas line and left destitute on the prairie. With a parting volley fired into the air the militiamen returned west. Later the unfortunate miners were turned back to Colorado by an armed Kansas sheriff and forty deputies.

Explosion In Chicago Dye House.

CHICAGO, June 13. — Anton Czerminiski was instantly killed and Burto Flen fatally injured by an explosion in a dye house in Halsted street here. The men were operating a dyeing machine when it exploded. Czerminiski, who was bending over the machine, was torn to atoms by the pieces of machinery which flew about him. Flen, who was standing in a corner of the dye house when the explosion occurred, was struck by pieces of the machine, and his back was broken. The dye house was completely demolished.

Soldiers' Bodies to Be Sent Home.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Assistant Comptroller Mitchell in a decision reversing the auditor of the war department holds that the removal to their homes of the remains of officers and soldiers who may die in military camps or at other places while on duty is to be done at government expense, the same as if death should occur in the Philippines or Alaska.

Wanted on Murder Charge.

DETROIT, Mich., June 13.—A photograph of a man under arrest in St. Louis under the name of Burt Pierson and sent to the police here with a request for information as to the man's history has been identified by officers here as William Stevens, wanted on the charge of murdering Ralph Caulkins, a bartender, during a sensational holdup of a Gratiot avenue saloon three weeks ago.

Lux Broke Her Cylinder Head.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The French line steamer La Gascogne, from Havre, which has arrived here, reports that she passed the British steamer Lux of London, bound to Philadelphia. The steamer signaled that she had broken her cylinder head and wished to be reported. No assistance was requested. The Lux was formerly the French steamer Le Lion.

Salvation Army Leader Dead.

BOSTON, June 13.—Richard Evans, holding the rank of lieutenant colonel in the Salvation Army and widely known in the organization, is dead at his home in Dorchester of heart disease. For three years he had been associate provincial officer for the New England district.

Plainfield, N. J., June 13, 1904.

Alis was robbed Saturday.

In counting their blessings, the ministers are not mentioning anything about baseball these days.

In another column we publish a protest against the "society register." Opposition on the part of many members of Plainfield's more exclusive circle is quite strong, the opinion being that the scheme is wrong.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Philip Parsons, pastor-elect of the Rescue Mission, will assume charge on Sunday, June 26.

Rev. J. W. Musson, pastor-elect of the East Third Street chapel, accompanied by his wife, will remove to Plainfield this week, and on Sunday Mr. Musson will take charge of the chapel work. The pastor and his wife will live on West Front street over L. W. Randolph's pharmacy.

The last issue of "Our Bulletin," issued by the St. James M. E. church, New Brunswick, contained the following ten commandments of the church:

I. Thou shalt be at the church door five minutes before the service commences.

II. Thou shalt sit in a front seat.

III. Thou shalt shake hands with at least three strangers every Sunday and shall see to it that there are three strangers with whom to shake hands.

IV. Thou shalt love they neighbor as thyself, and prove it by bringing him to church.

V. Thou shalt be at church before the opening hymn and not block up the vestibule during the opening prayer.

VI. Thou shalt make an engagement to be present in church each coming Sunday, and keep it.

VII. Thou shalt leave thy prejudices, politics and personal dislikes at the door, and enter the church as a member of God's human family.

VIII. Thou shalt do thy part in the church faithfully and well before thou shalt deem thyself fit to judge another's lack.

IX. Thou shalt consider thyself the advance agent of each coming service.

X. Thou shalt regard thine own life and character as the criterion by which the public will judge the church.

Enters Religious Journalism,

James R. Joy, of Washington Park, has been appointed assistant editor of the New York Christian Advocate to succeed Rev. Dr. Stephen J. Herben. Dr. Herben is well known to a number of Plainfielders, having spoken several times at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church.

Badgley to Play Here.

The fast Hoboken team will be the opponents of Alis on Crescent Oval Saturday. It is expected that Badgley, the Lehigh pitcher, will be the slab artist for Plainfield, opposing Linderman. Badgley pitched against Lafayette on Saturday, losing his game 3 to 2.

himself with glory, making a sensational one-hand catch of a hard-hit ball. He handled himself like a veteran and made good. Gauven was put on first, Rothfuss, failing to appear, and he played a perfect game. He gave entire satisfaction and Johnston will retain him for the initial bag. Lynch, the new right fielder, proved himself equally as fast as McGoey and Oregan and he will continue to play here.

While Westfield hit the ball, the team could not do so safely. Davis had perfect control of the leather. McLane pitched a fair game. He gave six bases on balls, and only struck out two men. Bradley took care of third base in great [style, accepting eight chances without an error. Catpain Lauder was not at the game, deciding to stay out of play for awhile. McGoey and Oregan put up the genuine article in fielding and at the bat. Flynn is not a fixture, but Manager Johnston will have a new man for Saturday and the team will then be complete.

Oregan and Davis tallied the runs, one in the fourth and the other in the fifth inning.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Howard Thomas, of Pluckamin, has taken a position with C. O. Smith.

A. Spanginberg, of the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant, is riding a new automobile.

Joseph Bolby, of the Levering & Garrigues' plant, is catcher for the Benevolent Council baseball team.

Berlin Banks, of the Scott Press Company's plant, has returned from a visit with relatives in Connecticut.

Andrew Frederickson, of the Walter Scott Press Company's plant, has returned from New Orleans, where he set up a color press for the firm.

Frank Droll, who recently resigned his position at the Potter Press Company's plant, has taken a position at the Scott Press Company's plant.

Benjamin Scribner, a former employe of the Potter Press Company's works, who is now employed at the Worthington Pump Works, of Brooklyn, visited friends here Saturday.

Reuben Southick, of Somerville, has purchased a beautiful Mathushek & Son piano for his wife's anniversary present.

WOODHULL & MARTIN,
Plainfield, N. J.

Gentlemen:

The John C. Jewett Manufacturing Co. has written me, in reply to information that I wrote concerning their make of refrigerators, that you sell their complete line exclusively. I have used one of their make for fifteen years in Ohio, and upon moving east sold the same and no other make will answer. Will you kindly give me the prices of Nos. 135 and 136. Thanking you for the courtesy of a reply, I beg to remain,

Yours truly,
D. W. GAMMELL.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

The Levering & Garrigues' baseball team were defeated in their first game of the season, Saturday afternoon, by the Bound Brook A. C. team by a score of 8 to 5. Batteries—Bound Brook A. C., Statts and Powers; Levering & Garrigues, Garvey and Schenck.

Children's Day exercises were held in the New Market First Baptist church last evening. There was a large audience and the church was profusely decorated with flowers of many varieties.

The commencement exercises of the township schools will be held in the New Market First Baptist church on Wednesday evening.

The team from Bound Brookgot the best of the Levering & Garrigue's men Saturday afternoon in their game on the Lincoln avenue grounds.

Bernard Siriski visited his brother-in-law, Clement Dixon, at Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday. Mr. Dixon's condition is fairly satisfactory.

Michael Moynihan, of Bound Brook, visited his brother John here yesterday.

Joseph Swolbach has given up his position at the round house.

Robert Snyder, of Somerville, is visiting his parents.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Several nights ago some of the young men of town, taking advantage of the condition two of the residents had gotten into, over a too free indulgence in the cup that cheers, played a number of jokes upon them. Neither have been able to work since and one is said to be under a doctor's care, as the result of the boys' pranks. Now one of the men threatens a suit for damages unless he is reimbursed for his loss of time, etc. The boys will probably settle the case and the matter will end.

Baldwin, at first base for the locals, has played four games without an error being charged against him. The team work of the infield is beginning to show in the work done in the last three games. Twenty-seven innings have been played without a run being scored against the team. This is a record that few teams can boast of.

In the absence of Rev. Mr. Shott yesterday, the pulpit of the Baptist church was occupoied by Rev. George Francis, of Westfield. Mr. Francis is no stranger to a local audience and his discourses were enjoyed by all who heard him. Mr. Shott preached at both services held in the East Third Street Mission, Plainfield.

Manager Hand, of the local ball team, announces the Newark A. C. team, as the locals' opponents for Saturday. This combination is considered one of the fastest of the Newark teams.

The Florodora ball game, scheduled for Sunday, was cancelled Saturday by the Plainfield team, so the fans had no Sunday game unless they went to Elizabeth or Rahway for the sport.

The century run of the Bayview wheelmen, of Newark, passed through town early on Sunday morning. The riders had breakfast and were checked at Lee's Hotel.

Proposals for the township toolhouse were received by the Township Committee at their meeting held Friday night. John Schmidt received the contract.

The junior Scotch Plains ball team defeated the Fanwoods Saturday afternoon by the score of 10 to 4.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnston, of South avenue, were the guests yesterday of relatives in town.

Miss Alyea and Miss Parse, of Newark, have been visiting Mrs. Stiles M. Parse, of Front street.

Mrs. Elias Hyams and daughter, of New York, were the guests Saturday of Miss Susie Parse.

Miss Sadie Wahl has returned from a visit with Miss Lizzie Rielly at Short Hills, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Alberts, of Berkman street, spent Sunday with relatives in town.

Miss Mary Heugler has been visiting friends in Plainfield.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

The Children's Day anniversary last night at the Baptist church attracted a large attendance. The floral decorations about the platform produced a charming effect. Many of the little children spoke and sang their parts well. The most effective part, however, was the rendering of an emblematic piece entitled "A Song of the Heart," by eleven young women dressed in white, carrying flowers, the leader having a string of smilax, interwined with flowers thrown across her shoulders. The flowers were placed upon a staff fixed to a large heart shaped figure so as to represent musical notes of the doxology by the leader, the Evangel of Joy.

Mr. and Mrs. William Silence, of Oak Tree, were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Laing yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Latourette is entertaining a friend from out of town.

UNION COUNTY'S SPEAKEASIES

THE NEWARK EVENING NEWS DWELLS UPON THE SUBJECT.

The Newark Evening News, of Friday, contained this editorial reference to the action of the Union County Grand Jury in indicting alleged speakeasy proprietors in this city and in Elizabeth:

The Union County Grand Jury, after being in session twenty-two days, recently brought in an unusual number of indictments, a great proportion of them being against disorderly houses, "speak-easies," Sunday sellers and those who sold liquor to minors. Some eight or ten proprietors of "speak-easies" in Plainfield were rounded up shortly after the indictments were found, lest they should be informed of what had occurred and should quit the State.

Three or four of the indictments were against Elizabeth saloon-keepers who have hitherto been unmolested, but who have, according to common rumor, been selling to minors right along without hindrance of any kind. The county officers have been notified time and again, the chief of police often had his attention called to the fact that little children frequented one or more of these places and bought beer or liquor for their parents; but aside from a friendly warning to the proprietors or bartenders nothing was done until the Grand Jury just discharged made an investigation and found the indictments.

Plainfield is a high license city, charging $750 a year and limiting the number of saloons. Elizabeth charges $250 license fee with no limit to the number of saloons except such as the Board of Excise sees fit to establish; yet in both the laws have been violated with impunity, and the police have done nothing, even after the facts have been laid before them. Plainfield, with the larger license fee, had the greater number of illegal sellers, but Elizabeth had a worse class of disorderly houses.

A number of years ago, at a national convention of chiefs of police, Elizabeth, through its chief, claimed the distinction of being the only city free from what is most commonly known as a disorderly house, but the work accomplished by the last Grand Jury shows that the city has fallen far below its former standard in this respect, and the reason is not far to seek. The laws are not enforced as they were formerly and as they should be now, and neither the city officials nor the police are doing what their oaths require of them. If the officials acted up to their measure of duty the Grand Jury would not have to sit three full weeks in one term listening, for the most part, to evidence against continued illegal selling and the keeping of dens of vice and immorality.

SANK THE CANADA

Richelieu and Ontario Steamer Rammed by Collier.

WENT DOWN NEAR SOREL, FIVE LOST

Collision Occurred at Early Dawn. Passengers Were Hastily Transferred—Crew Showed Excellent Discipline.

MONTREAL, June 13.—The Richelieu and Ontario Navigation company's steamer Canada, bound from Quebec for Montreal, came into collision with the Dominion Coal company's collier Cape Breton six miles below Sorel in the early morning. Twenty minutes after the crash the Canada went to the bottom. At the time of the collision there were 110 people on board, and all were rescued except five.

Those who perished were: Alfred Thiebault, ticket agent of the company at Quebec, and his two sons, aged twelve and fifteen; Purser Bonneterre of the Canada; a man named Brunet of Sorel. He is missing, and it is supposed that he perished.

The collision occurred just as the first signs of dawn were becoming visible. The Cape Breton lay at the entrance of the Lake St. Peter channel waiting for daylight, so as to find her way through. She was just getting underway when the Canada, making for Sorel at full speed, came into view.

Just how the collision occurred and who is responsible for it has not yet been determined, for the officers of the Canada decline to talk, but from the statements given out it would appear that the Cape Breton had not got headway on enough to answer her rudder and that she swerved across the path of the passenger boat, her bow striking the Canada just forward of the paddle box on the starboard side and tearing its way half through. Then she swung clear, and the two steamers came alongside one another.

There was no necessity for arousing the sleeping passengers, for the shock of the collision had already done that. The Canada at once began to settle, and as the Cape Breton did not appear to be seriously damaged the passengers were hurriedly transferred to that steamer. In the excitement some of the passengers jumped overboard and were picked up by boats from the Canada and the Cape Breton, but generally those on board were composed, while the discipline shown by the crew of the Canada was excellent.

When the Canada went down alongside the Cape Breton, resting on her side in the mud, all the passengers had been transferred to the Cape Breton. Thiebault and his two sons occupied a stateroom just about where the Cape Breton's bow entered the Canada, and it is supposed that they were killed in their berths. The body of the father was recovered later in the day, but the bodies of the sons have not yet been found.

Bonneterre, the purser, was seen after the collision making his way to his quarters on the lower deck with the intention of saving his cash and his records, and it is supposed that he perished in the attempt. Brunet was a second class passenger, and no one saw him after the collision, though it is just possible that he went ashore with the crew of one of the boats which were sent to secure help from Sorel.

The steam barge Prefontaine brought the passengers and crew of the Canada to Sorel. Many of the passengers who occupied staterooms on the upper deck were fortunate enough to save their baggage, but those on the main deck lost theirs. Some of them had but little clothing on, but they were supplied with the necessary garments on arrival at Sorel, so when they arrived in Montreal there was no evidence of the fact that they had just been through a wreck. All the passengers speak highly of the efforts made by the captain and crew of the Canada to save the lives of the passengers, and to their exertions is ascribed the slight loss of life that occurred.

There was much excitement when the news of the sinking of the steamer became known, first reports placing the loss of life at a hundred.

The Lake Traffic Tie-up.

CLEVELAND, O., June 13. — Paul Howell, district captain of the Masters and Pilots' association, disputes the confident views held by the officials of the Lake Carriers' association regarding the condition of the tie-up on the lakes. Captain Howell states that the number of vessels said to be in commission has been exaggerated and that their number does not indicate the number of men at work.

Merchant Shot Himself.

DETROIT, Mich., June 13.—William A. C. Miller, a prominent lumberman of this city, committed suicide here in the basement of his home on Rowena street. He shot himself in the head. Mr. Miller had been suffering for six months from extreme nervousness and stomach trouble, and it is supposed his illness led him to commit suicide.

Cape May Editor Drowned.

CAPE MAY, N. J., June 13.—E. A. Streavig, editor of the Cape May Wave, has been drowned in the ocean here while bathing with three friends. He got beyond his depth and while trying to swim in was taken with cramps. His home was in Hanover, Pa.

Visited Washington's Tomb.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The members of the honorary board of Filipino commissioners visited the tomb of George Washington as the guests of the United States navy, Secretary Darling acting as host.

BATTLE FOR CASH.

Attempt to Hold Up Water Company's Cashiers Near Johnstown, Pa.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 13.—A desperate attempt was made here by highwaymen to hold up Superintendent W. H. C. Ramsey and Secretary Frank Howard of the Johnstown Water company while they were conveying a large sum of money to pay off their 500 men at Dalton Run dam. A pitched battle resulted, in which the two horses in the paymaster's party were killed and during which Secretary Howard escaped to a farmhouse near by with the money.

The officials were riding in a buggy, accompanied by a guard, Chester Milton Berger, on horseback. The men were heavily armed. They had reached a point about five miles east of the city, where the road is thickly fringed with woods, when they were startled by a fusillade of shots. The stumbling of the horse drawing the buggy showed that the fire of the assailants had not been without effect. The party returned the fire, and then the horse which Milton Berger was riding was shot from under him. Deprived of their means of flight, the plucky men decided to fight it out on foot, in the meantime retreating slowly to where the country was less wild.

They fought over a considerable distance in this way, and then Howard, taking advantage of a favorable opportunity, caught up the satchel of money and made a run for the nearest farmhouse, while his companions redoubled their fire to keep the attention of the bandits from the fleeing secretary. When the highwaymen finally discovered that their booty was out of their clutches, they ceased firing and retired, leaving no traces of their identity.

How many there were in the band is not known, as they were screened by the dense foliage, and the party attacked could only catch a glimpse of a head now and then. Mr. Ramsey and Milton Berger arrived at the house to which Howard had escaped and from thence were escorted to the dam, where the paying off took place as if nothing had happened.

It is said that the amount of money in the satchel was $10,000 or more.

Girl Shot Her Father Dead.

NORTON, Kan., June 13.—A. C. Jenkins, a farmer living five miles northeast of this place, was shot through the heart by his eleven-year-old daughter and instantly killed. When shot Jenkins was choking his wife, and the little girl fired to protect her mother. Jenkins had been in Norton during the afternoon. When he went home he began beating his four children, the eldest a boy of fifteen and the youngest a baby. He also threatened to kill the entire family before morning. The mother entreated him not to beat the children, whereupon he sprang upon her. The little girl went to a bedroom, got a revolver and fired the fatal shot.

Seven Held For Meade's Death.

PATERSON, N. J., June 13.—James Meade, twenty-four years old, a bookkeeper, has been shot and killed here. The police have in custody four men and three women who were present when the shooting occurred. Robert H. Plum of Mount Vernon, N. Y., one of the prisoners, admits there had been a quarrel and that he was trying to take the revolver from Meade when the shot was fired. The revolver belonged to Frederick H. Dater, a wealthy coal dealer of this city. Dater, who is under arrest, was a friend of Meade and the latter's employer.

Pedagogues From Porto Rico.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The United States army transports Sumner and Kilpatrick have left here for Porto Rico to bring to the United States 600 Porto Rican schoolteachers. Congress at the last session made an appropriation for the trip. Two hundred of the teachers are to take the summer course at Cornell, and the others will be in Boston and other eastern cities during the summer.

Commits Second Homicide.

HAHANOY CITY, Pa., June 13.—Following a quarrel over a trivial affair at Girardville, Thomas Thompson, a railroad engineer, shot and killed Philip Curley. Thompson fled, but was afterward captured and committed to jail. Some years ago Thompson shot and killed his younger brother, who was rushing upon his mother with a knife.

Cunard In Ocean Rate War.

LONDON, June 13.—The Cunard line inaugurated today the following rates: Third class fare from Liverpool to New York or Boston by the Campania or the Lucania, $25; by the Umbria, Etruria, Ivernia or Saxonia, $13.75; by the Carpathia or Aurania, $12.50; from Rotterdam, Hamburg, Bremen or Antwerp to New York or Boston, $15.

Cardinal Satolli at New York.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Cardinal Satolli after visiting Cardinal Gibbons in Baltimore has returned to New York. He celebrated early mass at the cathedral and later, in company with Cardinal Gibbons, visited several churches and schools. He dined with Cardinal Gibbons and a number of priests at the archiepiscopal residence.

Excursion Train Wrecked.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 13.—An excursion train bearing about 700 people was run into by a switch engine in the Minneapolis yards, about a mile from the Union depot, last night, and it is reported many were killed or injured.

A Whistler Canvas For America.

LONDON, June 13.—It is announced that Whistler's famous painting "The Peacock Room," which is now being exhibited, has been acquired by an American collector.

BEGAN LIFE AS A LABORER.

Republican Candidate for Governor of Indiana a Fine Type of Self-Made Man.

Lafayette (Ind.) Special.

J. Franklin Hanly, who was nominated by the republicans for governor of Indiana, presents a living example of a poor boy who has risen by virtue of his own efforts. Five years before being elected to congress he was a ditcher and common farm hand, working for 70 cents a day. He was born in a log cabin in Champaign county, Illinois, April 4, 1863. His father was an invalid and his mother blind. At 11 years of age he was the sole support of his helpless parents, never seeing the inside of a schoolhouse until 16 years old. At 15 he walked to Warren county, Indiana, and got a job of sawing wood at 50 cents a day. The next five years he worked on a farm and went to school in winter. Later he taught school and studied law, beginning his professional practice at Williamsport. In 1890 he was elected state senator for the counties of Warren and Franklin. In 1894 he was nominated for congress in the old Ninth district. His election gave Indiana its youngest congressman in 40 years. He is married and lives at Lafayette.

The platform on which Mr. Hanly runs pledges new confidence in the wisdom and efficacy of the protective tariff, with a change of schedules as conditions demand, but made consistently with the policy of protection. It advocates the gold standard, approves the course of President Roosevelt with reference to combinations of capital in restraint of trade, approves the reciprocity treaty with Cuba, the Panama transactions, the Philippine policy, international arbitration and a just pension policy.

THE AIRSHIP IN WARFARE.

Its Use Eloquently Urged by M. Santos-Dumont, the Famous Brazilian Aeronaut.

Paris (France) Special.

Santos-Dumont, the noted aeronaut, in his book entitled "My Airships," strongly urges the use of airships for scouting purposes in time of war.

"An airship is able to observe the movements of both a land and a naval force," he says in his volume. "This should be sufficient to convince naval and military experts that balloons have tremendous advantage over scouting ships or outposts on land, and I will not be surprised to see airships used extensively by all the great powers within the next few years.

"The normal place of the airship should be in low altitudes; as then they are in a position to see everything clos-

ly. There is little danger of their being struck by shot or shell, as a balloon can be so constructed that its speed will make it almost impossible for the most expert sharpshooter or gunner to strike the airship."

Santos-Dumont also believes that the aidship might be usefully employed in locating submarines and signaling their presence to battleships.

Japanese Soldiers' Rations.

Rice and dried fish is the uniform food of the Japanese army in campaigning times. This is the way in which the rice is cooked: It is boiled until quite thick and glutinous. Next it is placed on a ceramic slab, rolled out, and cut into squares. The squares are then placed in the sun to dry and often turned. When hard as sea biscuit and greatly reduced in weight, they can be stored. A certain number are allowed each day to the soldier. All he has to do is to break up a square in boiling water and to add the dried fish. In a few minutes he has what seems to him a delicious thick soup. If he cannot procure boiling water he simply eats his rice dry. In the fruit season he substitutes fruit, when he can obtain it, for the fish.

JUNE FASHIONS.

Separate Waists For Dark Skirts. Some Dainty Costumes.

I saw a pretty summer dress the other day. It was made of the faintest pink mull over a slip skirt of taffeta of the same shade. Directly around the foot was a flounce eight inches deep, edged with embroidery in dark red—just a double row of scallops. Above that was a band of insertion four inches wide, and at each edge of this was a row of shirring of the mull, which, being closely gathered in three lines, seemed a shade darker. Six inches above this were another flounce and some lace, with the shirring exactly the same. The skirt was gathered at the hips for about a hand's breadth in depth and joined to the waist under a sash belt of pale pink louisine wide enough to drape prettily. The full waist had a deep cape berths of the flounce, lace and shirring. The flounce portion fell over the sleeves and waist. The novel sleeves had the upper portion laid in tucks around the inner side of the arm, while the outer side was left full and hanging. The shirring extended down the fore part of the arms. The wrists were finished with ruffles.

There seems to be no limit to the variety of separate waists to wear with dark skirts. Some of them are marvels of delicate and dainty grace. The white batiste waists, with insets of lace or fine hand embroidery, are the prettiest and most desirable, because when they come from the laundry they are as fresh as ever. A bit of very pale baby ribbon run through the tiny eyelet holes made for the purpose gives them just the right touch of color. Some of these wash waists are of fine and delicate silk and are laid in narrow tucks from neck to belt. On the outside of this, extending from the bust line to the belt, is a sort of overwaist, consisting of lines of inch and a half insertion laid on pale green ribbon. The ribbon is held together by straps made of folded ribbon, and to these are fastened pendent pearl beads. The sleeves are gathered full to the elbow and are finished with two puffs and two ruffles of the material. The lower ruffle has a fall of lace. The draped belt is of wide ribbon and is fastened at the left under a shirring. This is a particularly attractive model for a young girl.

There is a great demand for gowns for traveling and for mountain and seashore wear. These garments are more or less heavy, and some of them are very handsome, while others are really elegant, though the principal point in such costumes is to have them inconspicuous. Among some especially nice suits for traveling I noticed one of fine black mohair. The skirt was laid in two narrow bias folds at the foot and had strapped seams.

Among the pretty things for the street is the new bolero. This fulfills all the requirements of a short jacket besides being much prettier and more dressy. This shape and style may be developed in any material, even in light silks. The model shown here was of black taffeta and matched the rest of the suit. A rich and heavy silk braid passed across the shoulders and down the seams in front and back, defining the shoulder. The sleeves were exceedingly fine and had cuffs of white silk with pompadour embroidery. Lace frills finished the cuffs. The flat collar was edged with silk lace like embroidery, and below this in front was a deep frill of lace. This was so constructed that it could be worn with any costume. I have seen similar gowns made of light tan pongee, but they are more elegant in the black.

In France they call the pedestrian suits "trotteurs," or trotters, which is a well chosen name. The neatest of these consists of a short skirt just reaching to the instep, and, though generally plain and flaring, stitching being the only ornamentation, there is one style which breaks the deadly monotony of the plain skirt. This has the skirt cut in three laps.

The lowest lap is the bottom, the second reaches the knees, and another is just below the waist. All are made to hang smooth and flare just the least bit. The jacket is in bolero form and quite plain in shape, with coat sleeves. So we are not positively obliged to wear the silly and bungling sleeves seen so often. Tight sleeves always did look well, especially on walking suits.

I saw a gown today that took my breath. It was of purple taffeta gathered at the waist. All down the waist and skirt it was open to show a shirring of ivory white satin, and there were wide shirrings of the silk at each side of the openings. The sleeves were puffed and ruffled.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

AJAX WON THE GRAND PRIX.

Edmond Blanc's Colt Captured the Great French Race.

PARIS, June 13.—Edmond Blanc's bay colt Ajax, by Flying Fox—Amie, has won the Grand Prix de Paris, of $40,000, distance about one mile and seven furlongs, this stable thus accomplishing the rare feat of carrying off three great events of the year—the Prix de Diane (the French equivalent of the English Oaks), the Prix du Jockey Club (the French equivalent of the English Derby) and the Grand Prix.

Everything combined to make the occasion an immense success. President Loubet, accompanied by Mme. Loubet, drove in state to the course and received the heartiest greetings. After receiving a welcome from the authorities of the Jockey club, members of the cabinet and the diplomatic corps President Loubet expressed his delight at the beauties of the new presidential stand and then watched the race with the keenest interest, congratulating the owner of the winner before leaving.

Fourteen horses started for the Grand Prix, about half a dozen being at fairly short prices, though Ajax was a hot favorite. The race was closely contested, W. K. Vanderbilt's Turenne, with the American jockey Ranch up, leading almost to the close, when Stern called on Ajax for a final effort, which landed him some short half length ahead. Third place fell to Macdonald II., of Blanc's second string, the unsuccessful Derby candidate Gouvernant taking fourth place.

The victory of the favorite was naturally very popular, and the youthful jockey received a great and well deserved ovation.

Boston Won Close Game.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—It required sixteen innings to decide the game between the Boston and St. Louis American league teams. St. Louis' only run was scored in the seventh when Kahoe stole home while Dineen held the ball. Collins' life on a fielder's choice, his steal of second and Freeman's single gave Boston the winning run. Score, 2 to 1.

Brooklyn Beat Fair City Team.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Jones outpitched McFarland in the game between Brooklyn and St. Louis, and the local team won by a score of 4 to 3. The winning run was scored in the ninth inning after two of the locals had been put out, the run being made on a single by Gessler, a stolen base and McCormick's safe drive to center field.

New York Shut Out Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 13.—Backed up by perfect support by the New York team, Griffith shut out Chicago in a pitchers' battle. A base on balls, a stolen base with a sacrifice hit and an out scored the visitors' first run, and two singles and a fumble were responsible for their last one. Score, 2 to 0.

Senator Injured Going to Market.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator Cockrell, Missouri's candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, was run down by a bicyclist and badly injured. At his residence it was said that he would probably be laid up two weeks. Senator Cockrell always does the marketing for his family, and, with a basket on his arm, he left his home to go to the market, a few blocks away. While he was crossing Fifteenth street he was run down by a small boy on a bicycle. The Missouri senator was thrown heavily to the pavement and seriously hurt.

Miners Riot on Train.

WALLACE, Ida., June 13.—A riot occurred on the Northern Pacific passenger train near Burke between union miners from the Hercules mine and nonunion men from the properties of the Federal Mining and Smelting company. Several on each side were badly injured. The trouble was the outcome of an argument over the Cripple Creek explosion, in which two former Coeur d'Alene miners were killed and several injured.

Leiter's Body at Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—After the funeral services over the body of Levi Z. Leiter at Pointe d'Arendia, the Leiter cottage at Bar Harbor, Me., the body was brought to Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Leiter and Misses Marguerite and Nancy and Joseph Leiter. During the day a cablegram of condolence was received by Mrs. Leiter from her daughter, Lady Curzon, wife of the viceroy of India, at London.

Russian Steamer With Furs.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—The steamer Redondo has arrived here from Petropavlovsk with a cargo of furs valued at $250,000. The Redondo is under charter to the Kamtchatka Commercial Industrial company, a Russian fur trading organization. This company's steamer Kotik was seized by the Japanese at the opening of hostilities.

New Official For Postoffice.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—President Roosevelt has announced the appointment of William E. Corcoran, now chief postoffice inspector, to be purchasing agent of the postoffice department, an office created at the last session of congress. The appointment takes effect July 1. The salary of the office is $5,000 per year.

Speedy Autoists Held Up.

THOMPSONVILLE, Conn., June 13.—Three automobilists have been arrested here for speeding their machines, one of them being A. B. Hilton of New York, son of Judge Hilton. He gave bonds of $25 and said he would not appear when the case was called in the town court today.

OUR INDUSTRIAL METHODS.

They Will Be Studied This Summer by Prussia's Noted Minister of Commerce.

Berlin (Germany) Special.

In further pursuance of his well-established policy of borrowing for industrial Germany everything good which the United States has to offer, Emperor William has deputized his Prussian minister of commerce, Herr Theodore Moeller, to go to America in August, study the industrial side of the St. Louis exposition, and make an exhaustive investigation of commerce and finance, with a view to introducing in Germany whatever he finds

HERR THEODOR MOELLER.
(Minister of Commerce of the Kingdom of Prussia.)

worthy of recommendation. His trip will be what the Germans call a "Studienreise"—literally, a "study journey." "Studienreisen" to the United States are now considered an indispensable part of the equipment which a modern, up-to-date German business man must have. Dozens of big German merchants and manufacturers from all over the Fatherland will make them this summer, and it is therefore natural that Emperor William, who is the greatest German business man of all, should order his ministers to follow suit.

Herr Moeller, who is a Westphalian and 64 years old, is one of the few Germans occupying high government rank who come from "self-made" stock. Most German cabinet officers and high functionaries are barons, counts or nobles, with "von" attached to their names.

Herr Moeller, however, is the descendant of good old "buergerliche" progenitors. He is known throughout the country as "the long Moeller," on account of his extreme height. Moeller ranks as the leading authority and frankest advocate of the trust system in Germany. He believes that combination is the order of the age and that unless great manufacturing interests pool issues for a common purpose, Germany cannot hold its own in the markets of the world in competition with the great combines of America. He thinks, however, that the American "community of interests" idea is not ideal, because of the over capitalization feature and the placing of too much power in a few hands.

The Prussian minister of commerce will be accompanied to America by four of his department chiefs. He will be the third official the kaiser has sent to the United States for such a mission.

PORTO RICO'S NEW CHIEF.

Judge Winthrop Chosen to Succeed William Hunt as Governor of the Tropical Island.

Washington (D. C.) Special.

President Roosevelt has selected Judge Beakman Winthrop, of the court of first instance, Philippine islands, to succeed William Hunt as governor of Porto Rico. Judge Winthrop is from New York. He is a member of one of the oldest families of New York, a graduate of Harvard and a personal friend of President Roosevelt. He went to the Philippines as the assistant executive secretary to the Philippine commission.

JUDGE BEAKMAN WINTHROP.
(Appointed Governor of Porto Rico by the President.)

He made a record for efficiency and during the temporary absence of Mr. Ferguson acted for several months as secretary of the commission. During a brief sojourn in this country nearly two years ago Judge Winthrop saw much of the president and was entertained by him at the white house. Later he was appointed by the president as judge of the court of the first instance. The Philippine commission has expressed regret at the prospective loss of his services to the Philippine islands. Judge Winthrop will not assume office in Porto Rico until the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1, it having been decided Gov. Hunt shall continue in the office until then.

Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors

BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.

BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.

LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW

BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.

LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT

BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL, or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.

AT RAISULI'S CAMP

Ion Perdicaris Describes His Abduction.

PRAISE GIVEN THE BANDIT LEADER

Letter From the Sultan Has Been Received at Outlaw's Headquarters—It Is Expected Prisoners Will Be Free on Wednesday.

TANGIER, Morocco, June 13.—J. W. S. Langerman, commissioner of the Moroccan section of the St. Louis exposition, has arrived here from the camp of Raisuli, the bandit. In an interview Mr. Langerman said: "I left here by steamer for Arzila in company with a friend and three Moors, the object being to see Raisuli and try to arrange the present difficulties. I met Raisuli and his band, fully armed, and they were very suspicious of the visit. For a few moments the situation was critical, but all passed off well. Ion Perdicaris, the American whom Raisuli holds captive, is much better and in good spirits over the prospect of a speedy release."

Raisuli has received the sultan's letter concerning his demands, and unless the bandit formulates fresh conditions the release of Ion Perdicaris may be expected on Wednesday.

Raisuli is suffering from nervousness and insomnia and is greatly depressed by the desertion of two of his important adherents.

A London dispatch says that a letter received by A. J. Dawson, the novelist and traveler, from Ion Perdicaris, the American citizen who was captured by Raisuli, dated at Tssaradon, says:

"Nothing more startling and unexpected than the circumstances of our capture could be imagined. A quiet domestic dinner without guests, the windows open, the table a mass of flowers, then suddenly, like an avalanche, the yelling onset of Raisuli's men. It was a classic scene of rapine and confusion, nor would it be easy to conceive a picture more wild and gloomy than our present prison in the mountains, held as we are by a band of savage outlaws. We are well treated, but kept close prisoners.

"It is easy now to write in this strain when we are assured that negotiations for our release are concluding, but during that terrible twenty-four hours' ride over rocks and bowlders and through dense thickets where our captors had at times literally to cut their way in order to avoid the villages on the beaten track—well, we had no such consolation then—none of any sort indeed."

After describing the dread which he long had had of being kidnaped on account of his family Mr. Perdicaris says:

"You may conceive my feelings while thus being dragged along by ruffians who began their amiable attentions by clubbing us with rifles and threatening us with their murderous looking curved daggers. I was astonished to learn that our fears were not really well founded. We have learned that Raisuli's chief object is to secure the release of members of his own Kabyle, unjustly or at least treacherously entrapped and imprisoned by the bashaw of Tangier, a former friend and foster brother of Raisuli, who had trusted this man and had been betrayed. Whatever ill he may have done, the fact remains that he was betrayed.

"The ransom demanded is not so much the price of our release as the demand for the recouping of the losses inflicted by order of the said bashaw, from whom Raisuli claims payment.

"Another startling surprise is to find in Raisuli himself the most interesting and kindly hearted native gentleman it has been my good fortune to have known. It is impossible not to like the man, conscious as I am of the injury all at Tangier suffered at his hands."

After dealing with some private matters and referring to the courage of his wife and the mental anguish she has endured Mr. Perdicaris expresses the hope that some good will come of the trouble to Tangier and its people. He then proceeds:

"Meantime you must not worry about us. I am writing this at the mouth of a handsome tent placed at our disposition by Moulai Ali, the wazzani shereef. The brightest episode of our detention here was our first sight of his and his brother's (Moulai Ashmet) caravan, accompanied by an armed escort. Signal guns fired by three Kabyles, leagued in defense of their rights under Raisuli's leadership, announced the arrival of this welcome relief expedition which we saw later on winding along the hillside.

"Moulai Ali himself has remained with us ever since. Indeed he and Raisuli dined with us every evening in the tent.

"The climate is admirable, and a better site for a camp would be hard to find.

"Our release will be very welcome, but it is at hand now, so you must not pity us too much."

Schoolteacher Shot.

FRATERNAL ORDERS' PROSPEROUS CONDITION

Enormous Business Being Done by Secret Societies in New Jersey at Present.

INTERESTING FACTS

ROYAL ARCANUM IS STRONGEST. ITS MEMBERSHIP BEING 20,000.

Sixty-Five Orders With 100,000 Policies in Force—A. O. U. W. the Oldest, Organized in 1868.

The report of the commissioners of banking and insurance contains some interesting statistics concerning fraternal beneficiary associations, which gives a fair idea of the enormous business done by them. These orders are practically insurance societies, but their lodge organization and secret work distinguishes them from the so-called "old line" insurance and they are not required to carry the reserve of the regular life insurance companies.

The State and National laws favor these societies in various ways. The beneficiaries under this system are confined to relatives or dependents of the insured, but the insurance is exempt from execution. So that a man who is insolvent may rest assured that the money will go to his wife and children, rather than to his creditors. On the other hand, these policies are of no value as assets. The holder cannot pledge it, and an assignment to another party payable after the death is not recognized as valid.

The New Jersey commissioner's report, which only covers 65 of the orders working in this State, gives the number of certificates outstanding as 1,492,053, covering an aggregate of insurance of $3,771,607,098. The assets are small, amounting to about $26,000,000, and they depend mainly upon the assessments to meet the death benefits. The report shows that the death benefits paid during one year amount to over $37,000,000. It has often been stated that the orders are based on a wrong theory of life insurance and will not last, but even so the good they have done is incalculable, and they have distributed a great deal of money among the widows and orphans of this country during the past twenty-five years.

About sixty-five of these orders have branches in this State, most of which have lodges in Newark. There are nearly 100,000 policies in force in the State, aggregating $127,971,695, and over a million and a half was paid on in death claims in one year. The assessments collected annually amount to nearly two millions.

These orders are of recent origin. The oldest is the Ancient Order of United Workmen, which was organized in 1868. It has a total membership today of 427,390, and in New Jersey about 8,000. The largest order is the Modern Woodmen. It was organized in 1884, and in recent years has made a very large and rapid increase, and in 1903 they reported a membership of 660,151. The home of the order is in the West, and their membership in this State is small, as they have been here but a few years.

The strongest order of this kind in New Jersey is the Royal Arcanum. They began in Boston in 1877, and have a membership of nearly 300,000, of whom 20,000 live in New Jersey. Other orders that are strong in this State are the Brotherhood of the Union, the Catholic Benevolent Legion, the Heptasophs, the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association, the Workmen Sick and Death Benefit Fund and the Independent Order of Foresters. The last named order has a total membership of 192,086. It is a Canadian society, but has a large following in the United States. The head of the order is Dr. Oronhyatekha, of Toronto, Canada, a full-blooded Indian. He is a leading spirit in fraternal matters and has brought the Foresters into the front ranks. The rates are somewhat higher and it approaches regular life companies more nearly than other orders.

The report of the commissioner of banking and insurance includes only those which may be termed the insurance orders. There are many societies of a secret and social nature that pay death and sick benefits, which have large memberships in this State. In this class are included the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, the Knights of Pythias, the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, the Knights of Columbus, St. Patrick Alliance of America, Improved Order of Red Men, Ancient Order of Hibernians and many kindred societies.—Trenton State Gazette.

'PLAINS SHUTS OUT GARWOOD

ONE-SIDED MATCH IN WHICH SMILING JIMMIE DOES GREAT WORK.

The Scotch Plains ball team journeyed to Garwood Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of getting satisfaction from the Garwood A. C. team for the defeat of several weeks ago. Hegeman, Garwood's pitcher, was touched up for fourteen clean hits.

"Smiling" Jimmy Montrose, slab artist for the 'Plains team, had the goods and delivered them, only allowing four base hits, and keeping them so scattered that the home team were unable to score. Only two Garwood men reached third, and only three got as far as second. During the contest, eight of them cut the air in their endeavors to line it out.

Following is the lineup and score by innings:

'Plains—Baldwin, 1b; Williams, 3b; Allen, c; Flannery, cf; Cruzius, ss; Enright, 2b; Montrose, p; Taylor, lf; Alberts, rf.

Garwood A. C.—Lenham, cf; Serrey, c; Berlin, lf; Schilling, rf; Stuart, 1b; Engel, ss; Hegeman, p; O'Grady, 3b; Hanson, 2b.

SKY PILOTS ARE DEFEATED

score was then 19 to 10 in their favor.

But the Doctors held a consultation and prepared some bitter pills that the clerics had to take in the next two innings. In the sixth the medicos blanked the Ministers and scored seven tallies. Then Capt. McKelvey killed the Ministers' chances by putting Lovell in the box. His globule sermons made no impression on the hardhearted Doctors and they took six more runs in the concluding spasms.

As a whole, the fielding on both sides was wierdly funny. Some of the players handled the ball as if it was greased and had wriggly legs all over it, and their throws were very much like the it-is-to-laugh thing. But one or two of them did some fine work. Howard, McKelvey and Stevenson fielded in workmanlike way for the Ministers, and Doyle, Oregar and B. Hedges had a pretty display of goods to offer.

There was some heavy batting on both sides. McKelvey, Mooney and Lovell got some mighty swats, leading their team in batting, and Oregar, B. Hedges and Doyle shone with the willow for the Doctors. Doyle only got two hits, but one was a home run and the other a three-bagger. Oregar got four hits.

In the fourth inning Umpire Runyon showed that he was there for business. McKelvey disputed a decision at second base, and in an instant both teams, including the substitutes, went out to the bag with bats and clubs for an old-fashioned argument with the umpire. The latter jumped back, raised his shotgun, and fired into the riotous players. Dr. Pittis dropped dead, shot through his hot-air gland with a very weak blank cartridge.

Ambulance Surgeon Murray and the red-headed "angel nurse" put the body carefully on a stretcher and covered it with a white sheet. The band came up with bared heads, and escorted the corpse from the field, playing a sad, sad dirge. There were no more disputed decisions.

Only one other casualty marked the bitter struggle. Rev. Mr. Herring collapsed on second after a fearful run from first.

Dr. Murray and the red-headed nurse revived him with an air pump.

Although the full returns have not been received by Treasurer Lewis Timpson, it is pretty certain that the game netted at least $700. During the game Umpire Runyon read a challenge to play the winners from the Oshkosh Glee Club, the proceeds to go for the same purpose. After the contest Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, captain of the Doctors, said the challenge would be considered. The Doctors know just how badly the hospital needs money, and the game may be arranged.

Died From Diphtheria.

After suffering with diphtheria for nearly a week, Helen Tinsman, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tinsman, of Dunellen, passed away at 7 o'clock Saturday evening. Rev. S. K. Doolittle offered a short prayer at the funeral. Interment was made in Hillside yesterday afternoon.

Alis May Cancel Games.

There will be an important meeting of the Alis Club tomorrow night to decide the question regarding the remaining games in the series between Alis and Westfield. The sentiment of baseball people here is against completing the series.

To Tell of Conference Work.

Dr. H. K. Carroll, of North Plainfield, will speak before the Monroe Avenue church Wednesday evening, on the subject "A Survey of the Recent General Conference at Los Angeles, California."

Mr. Goodrich Not in Game.

Rev. Charles L. Goodrich did not take part in the Ministers-Doctors game Saturday, owing to the fact that he was officiating at that time at the funeral of Mrs. Sarah Moon.

Rev. Mr. Griffin Returns.

Rev. Walter Griffin, of this city, who is U. S. Consul at Limoges, France, arrived in town Saturday to visit his family.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

Pollution of the brook running under the Central's tracks at Aldene is extremely likely to bring the company into conflict with the fish and game laws. The block signal system employed on the railroad are operated by means of an electric current generated in a battery of what are known as gravity cells. These cells contain a small amount of crystals of sulphate of copper and as the inspectors who cleaned the battery at this point on Friday last, threw the old sulphate into this stream instead of on the ground, the fish suffered death by the hundred and were found dead, floating down the steram.

Game Warden Hawkins has communicated personally with Superintendent Higgins, of the Central's signal department and the latter has so far failed to make any move toward remedying the abuse.

Under section 33 of the General Fish and Game Laws the company is liable to a fine of $200 for this offense, especially as they have committed the same offense twice before at other points on the road, at Greenbrook and at Philipsburg.

GEORGE A. BEATON TO ENTERTAIN 4,000

Plainfield Man is to Give the Largest Dinner Ever Taking Place in the State of Ohio.

AT ATHENS TOMORROW

PRESIDENT OF NEW YORK SECURITIES COMPANY ARRANGES BIG FEAST.

What is Required for the Crowd—Nearly Every State in the Union to be Represented—Facts and Figures.

George A. Beaton, of this city, will entertain 4,000 people in Athens, Ohio, tomorrow, he being a former resident of that place. The Plainfielder has grown rich since he left the Ohio town and, to mark his visit to his former home, he has planned a dinner on a gigantic scale. In a lengthy story, the New York World on Sunday said:

"Plans for the first home-coming dinner in Athens are rapidly nearing completion and by Wednesday morning the last detail will have been worked out ready for serving the largest dinner in Ohio and possibly in the United States.

"The idea of the home-coming was conceived by George A. Beaton, a former Athens citizen, now president of the American Securities Company of New York. Every hour the affair is assuming greater proportions and when the day comes for the big dinner it is estimated that 4,000 present Athenians and former Athenians will sit down to the feast prepared by New York caterers, under the special direction of George Stockton, of the Criterion Hotel, New York.

"Hundreds of pounds of non-perishable edibles have already been shipped from New York. Souvenir spoons, souvenir baskets and souvenir books, containing over 300 half-tone engravings, now fill the home-coming headquarters.

"It was the intention of Mr. Beaton to limit the number of diners to approximately 3,000, but it is found that the number will reach more nearly 4,000. The dinner was to have been served under a tent 250 feet long and 85 feet wide, with a seating capacity of 3,200, but it has been found necessary to provide smaller tents to accommodate the overflow.

"The kitchen will consist of a circus tent over four hundred feet in circumference and the dinner will be served by 150 waiters. For the dinner there will be required 250 pounds of coffee, 650 quarts of ice-cream, 500 gallons of lemonade, 4,000 boxes of fancy assorted candy, 4,000 boxes of fancy cake, 1,200 chickens, 4,000 French rolls, 150 pounds of butter, two barrels of olives, one barrel of pickels, 150 pounds of sugar, 4,000 coffee cups, 4,000 glasses, 4,000 plates, 4,000 forks, 4,000 spoons and 700 china pitchers.

"Every State and Territory in the Union will be represented at the feast. Guests are arriving daily from the north, south, east and west. From Maine to California and from the southern shores of Alaska to the Republic of Cuba the guests are coming.

"After the dinner the 4,000 guests of Mr. Beaton will be given a concert by the Columbus Rifles Band, one of the best organizations in the State. At the conclusion of the concert the feast of oratory will begin and the orators will all be celebrities.

"In connection with the centennial anniversary of the Ohio University, Mr. Beaton has had prepared a souvenir plate which will be presented to each guest at his dinner. The plate will bear the inscription, 'Athens Home-Coming Week, 1904.' In the centre of the plate will be a picture of the old university building, which was erected one hundred years ago, and which, though remodelled, constituted the main building until the completion of Ewing Hall, four years ago. At the bottom of the plate is inscribed, 'Compliments of George A. Beaton.'"

Pupil Work Exhibit.

An exhibit of the pupils' work in painting, pen sketches, drawing and artistic needlework, besides specimens of their regular class work, will be given at St. Gabriel's Academy, the school connected with St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, on June 26 and 27.

For Benefit of Fresh Air Home.

There will be a sale on the lawn of No. 306 Central avenue Thursday, June 23, from 3 to 8, for the benefit of Miss Curry's Fresh Air Home.

BOROUGH SHOTS ARE ENTERED

INDEPENDENT GUN CLUB TO PARTICIPATE IN NATIONAL SCHUETZEN-BUND.

Henry Haurand, of the Independent Gun Club, was at the opening of the fourth tri-annual shooting festival of the National Schuetzen-Bund in Union Hill Schuetzen Park, Sunday, to arrange for the coming of a team from the North Plainfield club on Thursday. The festival lasts for nine days.

The Independent Club is not a member of the Bund, but the team will go into one, and perhaps more, of the open shoots. The members are sanguine of bringing home some trophies.

Interest in the big shoot is high among the club members, and there is talk of joining the Bund so that they may participate in the coming festivals. It is probable that the organization will vote to affiliate with the Bund very soon.

CHIEF WOOLSTON ALERT

SAYS HE'LL HAVE RUMOR SPREADERS ARRESTED IF THEY DON'T STOP IT.

In a statement handed out this morning, Chief Woolston, of the borough fire department, declared that certain citizens were telling on the street that they knew who rang the false alarms from Boxes 156 and 145. The Chief asked that these citizens stop talking in their knowledge on the street and give it to him or Chief Weiss, of the police department, in their official capacity. If that is done proper action will be taken against the men accused.

ISAAC C. HARRIS IS DEAD

WELL-KNOWN PLAINFIELDER PASSES AWAY AT HADDONFIELD, N. J.

Isaac C. Harris, aged fifty-six years, of 710 West Fourth street, died rather suddenly at Haddonfield, N. J., yesterday morning. He, accompanied by Mrs. Harris, went to Haddonfield a few days ago for a week's vacation. Last winter he suffered an attack of the grip and this greatly weakened his system.

Mr. Harris was born in this city and lived here practically all his life. During the past four years he was employed as a clerk by R. W. Barnes, the Park avenue grocer, and by his pleasant manner and courteous treatment, made many friends. He is survived by a widow and one son, about seventeen years old.

Funeral services will be held at Haddonfield this afternoon and the remains will be brought to the late home tonight. Other services will be held from the home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and the interment will be private.

MR. DENMAN'S EXPLANATION

WESTFIELD'S MANAGER TELLS WHY HE DISCHARGED CULLOM.

Manager Charles H. Denman, in explaining his position relative to Saturday's game between Alis and Westfield, said to a reporter for The Daily Press today, that the matter had resolved itself in to one of dignity on his part, and that there is no written or unwritten rule of baseball that would permit a manager to take his team off the field as Manager Johnston did on Saturday. He was not disposed to discuss the fairness of the umpire's decision in the case that caused the trouble other than to say that the umpire's decisions should be agreed to as final.

Mr. Denman also said that he had heard that some of the more hot-headed supporters of the Alis Club announced their desire to have the remaining games with Westfield cancelled. Regarding this the Westfield manager said that he is scheduled to bring his team here on Saturday, June 25, and he did not believe that Alis could get any stronger attraction. He declared his willingness to come here and help Alis out if they so desire. He deplored the way the game terminated on Saturday and that it should cause trouble. As for discharging Umpire Cullum, Denman says that his reasons for so doing were that the umpire had been a busy messenger between Westfield and Alis to the detriment of his team and that he told Cullum so. When asked if Hickman had left him because Cullum was discharged, Mr. Denman replied that the short-stop had said nothing to him about it, that he had a contract with him for the season.

PLAINFIELD HORSE SHOW PROGRAMME ANNOUNCED

Official List as Given Out by the Assistant Secretary of the Attraction.

SOME FINE ANIMALS

MUSIC AND OTHER INCIDENTALS HAVE BEEN ARRANGED FOR.

Name of Horse, Owner and Address in Each Instance—The Thirty Odd Classes—Almost Complete.

Only a few details of the entry list for the approaching horseshow are incomplete. But two or three classes, the secretary announced today, have not been filled out yet.

As The Daily Press said yesterday, the show will be bigger and better than most of the shows of similar calibre that have preceded it. A glance over the entries, which, as far as they could be given yesterday by the secretary, are to be found below, will indicate how notable a gathering of fine and showy horseflesh has been provided for.

Pretty nearly every detail of the big event has been arranged. Music and other incidentals have been provided for, and yesterday the full timetable was prepared and handed to the printer for incorporation in the official programme. The table will be made public today.

The list given out at the horseshow office yesterday is as follows. The name of the horse comes first, the owner's name and his address following in order:

RECORDER GIVES TRIO THE LIMIT PRESCRIBED

Moncton, Perine and Barry Are Found Guilty of Sending in False Alarm.

BARRY DENIES CHARGE

ARRAIGNED UNDER PROVISIONS OF THE BOROUGH FIRE ORDINANCE.

They Are Fined $20 Each for the Offence—May Have to Answer at County Court Under State Law.

Frank Moncton, Robert A. Perine and William Barry, captain of Hose Company No. 2, N. P. F. D., the three men accused of ringing in a false alarm from box 154, were found guilty of the charge by Recorder Doud yesterday. They were fined $20 apiece. The trio were arraigned under the borough fire ordinance.

The hearings developed nothing sensational. It is not believed, and there was no effort to prove, that the men had anything to do with the other alarms. All the evidence tended to show that the men, if they rang the alarm at all, rang it simply in drunken skylarking.

Moncton and Perine were arraigned in the afternoon; Capt. Barry at night. The evidence in all three cases was practically the same, except that in his case Barry made a statement denying the truth of the testimony against him.

At the afternoon hearing William Neal and Robert Humphery testified that they were in the company of the prisoners when they left Jensen's saloon, on Somerset street, shortly after midnight last Thursday. Barry, Moncton and Perine were under the influence of liquor. The witnesses testified that they had tried to induce Barry to go home with them, but that he refused. The last they saw of the trio the latter were going in the direction of the firebox. Officer Flack testified to seeing Moncton and Perine very near the box just after it sounded, and to spotting a retreating figure in the field nearby. This figure is supposed to have been Barry.

Chief Woolston, of the fire department, Officer McKeon, of the Plainfield force, and Fireman Campbell gave unimportant testimony. After a brief deliberation, Recorder Doud said he believed the men were guilty and fined them $20. Perine paid. He was represented by City Judge William N. Runyon.

The same witnesses appeared against Barry, and in addition Chief Weiss, of the police force, testified to having examined Barry's shoes and trousers the morning after the alarm, and finding them wet and mud-soaked. The inference was that the mud had been collected in fleeting across the fields from Officer Flack. In his statement Barry said the mud was gathered while he was on his way to work early in the morning.

Barry denied that he had gone as far with the crowd as the witnesses testified. He claimed to have gotten into the house, and fallen in a drunken stupor, before the alarm rang.

After a lengthy review and consideration of the evidence, Recorder Doud declared him guilty. The fine was paid.

In referring to Barry during the trial, Mayor Smalley, Corporation Counsel Reed and Recorder Doud all expressed keen regret over his implication in the affair. Barry has always borne a good reputation.

Corporation Counsel Reed conducted the prosecution at both hearings. William G. DeMeza, Esq., appeared for Barry.

The disposition of the case under the borough ordinance does not free the trio from the possibility of prosecution under the State law, which provides a severe term in State's prison and a severe fine. It was said this morning that the men might be brought before the Grand Jury in September.

Before the trial last night Barry tendered his resignation from the department. It was not accepted, and after the hearing he was given to understand that he was suspended. It is expected that he will be dismissed as soon as the legal formalities can be enacted.

Will Give a Series of Lectures.

Mrs. David P. Hall, of Madison avenue, will on June 28 and 29 deliver a series of lectures at Erie, Pa., and vicinity. She is well known in western Pennsylvania, where flattering receptions have hitherto been given her.

RAILROAD SUES TOWNSHIP

D. L. AND W. WANTS NEW PROVIDENCE TO PUT UP $35,000.

Papers in a suit involving $35,000 have been served on New Providence township. The plaintiff is the D., L. & W. R. R., which is seeking to compel the township to redeem bonds given thirty-five years ago at the time the old Passaic Valley & Delaware R. R. was constructed.

At that time the township officials voted to give the road $35,000 to assist in the work. Summit, New Providence borough and New Providence township were all in the latter township then, but the two former have gone out since, leaving the big sum upon the little township's shoulders. The township is composed of farmers exclusively, and the payment of the money would bankrupt it completely.

PASTOR'S ENFORCED VACATION

REV. DR. CHAMBLISS COMPELLED TO GIVE UP PREACHING FOR SOME TIME.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor of the First Baptist church, who has been obliged to give up preaching on account of throat trouble, left today for his former home in Tennessee, where he will remain for some time.

His physician says that nothing but complete rest of the throat will effect a cure. It has been arranged to have Rev. J. W. Musson, pastor-elect of the East Third Street chapel, take charge of the mid-week prayer meetings at the church during the summer.

BRADLEY AS THIRD BASEMAN

LIKELY THAT WESTERNER WILL REMAIN ON ALIS CLUB'S TEAM.

John Bradley, who is now playing third base for Alis, is likely to be a fixture on the team for the season, Manager Johnston being pleased with his work of Saturday. Mr. Bradley is a moulder by trade and today will probably take a position in the foundry in the Pond Machine Tool Works.

Last season Mr. Bradley played third base for the Winnipeg Club, Northern League champions, last season, having been sent there from the Chicago Americans. He led the third basemen in the Northern League with a percentage of .924.

He played in twenty-six games, had a credit of thirty put-outs, fifty-five assists and made only seven errors. His batting percentage was about .600. Mr. Bradley likes Plainfield and his fellow team-mates. In speaking of Saturday's game between Alis and Westfield, he said that it was just as fast as any he ever saw in the major leagues.

SEEK AMENDMENT TO U. S. CONSTITUTION

The Equal Suffrage League Favors a Law Allowing Women to Vote.

RESOLUTION'S WORDING

MEMORIAL TO CONGRESS ACCOMPANIES THE PETITION.

Closing Session of the Organization—A Few Days Outing at Ocean Grove—Other Attractions for the Season.

One of the most important matters considered at the meeting of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, on Madison avenue, was the endorsement of the memorial to be presented to the various presidential nominating conventions to be held this year.

This memorial, drafted by the officers of the National Suffrage League, requests that his resolution be placed in the plank of the platform:

"Resolved: That we favor the submission by Congress, to the various State Legislatures, of an amendment to the Federal constitution forbidding disfranchisement of United States citizens on account of sex."

Accompanying this resolution is this important statement:

"Although our own United States gave the watchwords of democracy to the world, other nations are applying our principles more rapidly than our own. Women possess the right to vote in all elections, except for members of Parliament, in England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Norway and Sweden. They possess limited suffrage with property qualifications in nearly every other country in Europe. Since the last presidential election in the United States, Australia, by act of Parliament, has out-Americanized America by extending the Federal suffrage in that progressive commonwealth to 850,000 women. Shall the United States continue to be a laggard in the democratic movement to which it has been the most conspicuous leader?"

This was the last meeting of the league before the autumn session and delegates were chosen to attend the State Suffrage League convention to be held at Ocean Grove, July 18 and 19. Mrs. William Riley and Mrs. Anna Rice Powell were elected delegates and it is expected that Miss Alice French, of the borough, will attend. A strong and attractive programme has been arranged including addresses by Rev. Leslie Willis Sprague, of Montclair, who founded a suffrage league in that town; Miss Harriet May Mills, of Syracuse; Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, of Warren, Ohio, treasurer of the National Suffrage League; Mrs. Emma J. Bourne, State President of the W. C. T. U.; Madame Riviera, president of the New York Suffrage League; Mrs. Minola Graham Sexton, State President of the Suffrage League.

In connection with the two days' meeting at Ocean Grove it is proposed to hold other meetings at Manasquan, Point Pleasant, Lakewood, Atlantic City, Ocean City and Holly Beach at which these noted speakers will be present.

The local suffrage league has made rapid strides during the past winter both in membership and interest. At the last meeting eleven new members were received. The fact that one-third of the women of the city are property-owners an interesting discussion as to their rights followed. It was stated that many women had worked hard to possess their homes and not many got them through inheritance. It was shown conclusively that there are many women in the lower walks of life who, through hard work, had earned the money to buy their homes.

The league will not meet again until the latter part of September or first of October.

Land Deal in Dunellen.

The block bounded by Jackson and Jefferson avenues, North avenue and the Central Railroad, in Dunellen, has been purchased from the Central Land Improvement Company by an unknown concern. About three acres of land belonging to Mrs. C. H. Penfield, of Plainfield, and Isaac Brokaw, has been purchased for outside parties by Howard Bird.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

Lawyers who take cases on contingent fees will find much to interest them in a decision that has just been handed down by Chancellor Magie, in which it would seem that lawyers have absolutely no redress should their clients decide to settle their cases over their heads despite the fact that they had already signed contracts with counsel agreeing that fifty per cent. of the amount recovered be retained by counsel. The fifty per cent. contract system between client and counsel often prevented the settlement of cases out of court, as counsel, in order to get as much as possible out of a case often held out against settlement. This condition of affairs had the effect of loading up the court calendar to such an extent, by reason of the frequent trial and re-trial of cases, that extra judges had to be appointed, and the cost of operating the judicial machinery was greatly increased. This situation found its birth in the fifty per cent. contingent fee system, and the drain became so great on the receipts of the corporations that the Public Service Company decided to adopt extreme measures and ignore any service of notice of assignment in suits of that character, and where lawyers held out against settlement, where a fair amount was tendered the lawyer and refused.—Jersey City Journal.

"The Highlands of Ontario for Your Holidays."

With the knowledge of what America has to offer the summer tourist and the rest and health-seeker, the thousands of summer travellers who spend their vacations in "The Highlands of Ontario," unhesitatingly pronounce the Muskoka Lakes region the ideal, the perfectly satisfying summer resort. Such an ideal is a combination of two features—primeval nature in a perfect bewilderment of beauty, charm and variety, along with the facilities for most of the modern necessaries and conveniences. In addition to these, the even temperature, the high altitude (1,000 feet above the sea), the health-giving ozone from pine, hemlock and fir, and the dark, soft waters of innumerable lakes, teeming with the gamiest of fresh water fish. What more has a weary, nerve-racked man or lover of nature to desire? Handsome, illustrated, descriptive publications will be sent free on application to Frank P. Dwyer, E. P. A Suggestion from

STEINWAY & SONS

About Piano Tuning

are continually doing a great deal of mischief to good pianos. It will therefore doubtless be of interest to owners of Steinway and other pianos, residing at not too great a distance from New York, to learn that we are now prepared to take orders for the tuning and regulating of pianos during the summer months at special rates. Not only the members of our large regular tuning force but also those of our staff of experts who, during the winter season, have been traveling with eminent pianists on their concert tours, and who have now returned to New York, are available for this work. The greater the number of orders from any one place or vicinity the lower our charge will be for each piano attended to. Consequently we would suggest to prospective customers in any locality that they "club together" in sending us their orders, whenever feasible and agreeable, as the most economical and satisfactory plan. Your patronage is respectfully solicited.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

QUESTIONS OF THE DAY DISCUSSED BY THE PRESS.

The Clime Incident.

Speaking of the matter of Colonel Collins and Lieutenant-Colonel Clime, the State Gazette gives, editorially, the first coherent statement as to the reputed utterances, about which so much fuss is being made:

"If it is true that on that occasion Colonel Collins said the members of the Legislature were ignorant and played to the galleries, and Lieutenant-Colonel Clime expressed the opinion that the legislators were as narrow as a three-cent piece, they were in defiance and in contempt of the power that created them and should be disciplined."

Admitting the premises, as stated by the Gazette, we are utterly unable to join in the conclusion at which it arrives. The New Jersey National Guard is not an army on a war footing, but an organization of citizen soldiery, each member of which is fully entitled to the citizen's right of free speech, and untrammeled opinion, outside of those matters in which, as soldier, he has surrendered his judgment to the orders of his superior officer.

The Legislature is in no way the superior officer of the National Guard, much less are the individual members of the Legislature. An obedience to law does not involve a surrender of the citizen's right to criticise the actions, or motives, or capacity of the legislators who created it. In fact, the highest form of discipline is involved in obedience to a law, the wisdom of which is questioned.

We have not learned of any refusal on the part of Colonel Collins or Lieutenant-Colonel Clime to obey the law which the Legislature enacted, nor have we heard of any citizen, who seriously denied that the Legislature was ignorant and played to the galleries, or that the legislators were as narrow as a three-cent piece; in fact, this description is really very moderate.

If the National Guard proposes to discipline out of its ranks all citizens who have sense enough to form an opinion, and manliness enough to express it, it will be forced to draw its recruits from the feeble-minded institutions.—Trenton True American.

Lake Excursion.

The beauty spot of New Jersey is Lake Hopatcong and one who visits the place is charmed with the diversified entertainment afforded. The surroundings are delightful in every respect and a day spent in the rarified mountain air of the Jersey foothills will do wonders for the tourist. There are ample facilities for fishing and boating and one who enjoys the rambles in wooded paths and the quietness of the natural pines, to him Lake Hopatcong is the gem of places. On June 19 the New Jersey Central is going to run one of its famous low priced and popular excursions to the Lake. Round trip $1, and special train leaves Plainfield at 9:20 a. m. The run is made in three hours and the entire day can be spent in delightful enjoyment. 6 8 5 eod

Sues for Commissions.

An interesting case was tried before Justice David S. Kitchen, in Somerville, Saturday, between William H. Rogers, of Warrenville, and Mary A. Lee, wife of Councilman Lee, of North Plainfield. The suit was brought to recover some commissions on a real estate deal. Horace Codington appeared for Rogers and Nelson Y. Dungan represented Mrs. Lee. Decision was reserved for two weeks.

He Disappointed the Judge.

William Wilson, also known as "Packer," arrested Saturday afternoon and released later to appear yesterday morning before Judge Runyon, was seen making very unsteady progress through West Fourth street, having apparently forgotten that he already had one drunk to answer for.

A Stag Affair.

An informal stag dinner was enjoyed late Friday night by Sydney Frazee, a few of his comrades in the fire department and some newspaper men. The occasion was his last night on duty previous to going on his annual vacation, and proved a highly enjoyable one.

WAR IS NEARLY OVER

Says Governor Peabody--Cripple Creek Mines Open.

CURT WORDS FOR KANSAS CITY.

Necessity For Drastic Measures Is Proved by Indornation of Train Wrecking, Dynamiting and Murder—Attorney Arrested.

DENVER, June 14.—"I think the war is nearly over," said Governor Peabody. "I have news from General Bell that the Cripple Creek mines are open and running, and there is comparatively little dissatisfaction among the men.

"I don't know how many more men will be deported or whether any will be. I have heard nothing on this point.

"I learn from Captain Bulkeley Wells of Telluride that the union men there concede that their cause is lost and that those of them who are acceptable to the mine owners are at work again. One hundred and fifty capable men, whether union or nonunion, have been invited to go to work, and the invitation will be speedily accepted.

"In Silverton and Ouray peace reigns. The troops have all been ordered from Las Animas county, and only Major Hill remains to look after the closing up of the details of the campaign."

Governor Peabody has sent the following reply to a message from the industrial council of Kansas City condemning his action in regard to military rule:

"The fact that your council indorses the assassinations, train wrecking and dynamiting by the lawless element in the Cripple Creek district but proves the necessity for my present action in suppressing all such persons from the soil of Colorado. Become wise before you attempt to teach."

A number of arrests have been made at Cripple Creek, the most important being that of Frank J. Hangs, attorney for the Western Federation of Miners. The arrest was ordered by General Bell.

Mr. Hangs was brought from Victor to Cripple Creek and placed in the bull pen. Orders were given that he be not allowed to communicate with anybody.

General Bell said in connection with the arrest:

"It was necessary for the peace, quiet and good of the county of Teller and the state of Colorado."

Attorney Hangs, it is said, will be held as a military prisoner, just as President Charles H. Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners has been held at Telluride.

The contemplated withdrawal of troops has called out a protest from the Citizens' alliance and Mine Owners' association, and it is likely that Governor Peabody will be asked to continue the soldiers in the field for an indefinite period. The citizens say that martial law has had a salutary effect.

Saloons have been permitted to reopen.

General Bell has sent out soldiers on horseback to capture a couple score of armed men who are hiding in the mountains north of Cripple Creek and are prepared to resist arrest. The searching expedition is equipped for four days' absence.

President Will Not Interfere.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—President Roosevelt has no intention of interfering in the Colorado labor troubles. There is no constitutional warrant for his interference as president, because none of the conditions has arisen under which the constitution authorizes federal interference.

Land Rushers Lined Up.

CASS LAKE, Minn., June 14.—The advance rush for lands to be opened tomorrow has begun here. Sixty-three thousand acres will be thrown open to settlement in the Cass Lake district, and about fifty men are already lined up in front of the office. They began coming early Sunday night, and the line is growing each hour.

Chrysitis Won the Astoria.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Chrysitis, at 6 to 1, won the Astoria stakes for two-year-old fillies, five furlongs, at Gravesend, leading home a first class field of fillies. Incantation, the favorite, was second, with Schulamite, heavily played, third. Chrysitis went to the front at the lifting of the barrier and, gradually increasing her lead to the finish, won easily by two and a half lengths. J. E. Madden's Councilman, backed down from 20 to 1 to 12 to 1, scored an easy victory in the last race, and a big killing was made.

World's Fair Handicap.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—Three World's Fair handicap candidates met in the fourth race, the feature of the fair grounds racing card. Bernays, from the stable of J. B. Respass, was made favorite at 1 to 3; Terra Firma, making his first appearance in two years, was second choice at 4 to 1, while Flying Torpedo was 6 to 1. Bernays took the lead at the rise of the barrier, winning easily from Flying Torpedo, while Terra Firma was beaten ten lengths for third place by Pettijohn, an outsider in the betting.

Fitz and O'Brien Matched.

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—Robert Fitzsimmons and Jack O'Brien have been matched to fight six rounds in Philadelphia on July 6. The fight will take place in the afternoon at the National league baseball grounds. Fitz and O'Brien have been flirting with each other for some time, but hitherto could not come to terms. Bert Crowhurst, a fight promoter of this city, finally arranged matters. Fitz wanted the winner to take all the receipts, but O'Brien could not see it that way.

Harvard Pitcher Barred.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 14.—Walter Clarkson, captain and pitcher of the Harvard varsity nine, was last night barred from further participation in college games by a vote of the Harvard Athletic committee. Clarkson has signed a contract with the New York American team.

Ward Holds Tennis Championship.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Holcombe Ward successfully defended his title as metropolitan lawn tennis champion on the courts of the West Side Tennis club by defeating the challenging player, Robert Le Roy of Columbia university, in three straight sets.

Kurtzmann Won Graduate Stakes.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The Graduate stakes, the feature at Harlem, was won by Kurtzmann. Gold Enamel was second, a head in front of Pinkerton. The stake had a gross value of $3,240. Kurtzmann was always the favorite, backed from 6 to 5 to 9 to 10.

New Haven Polo Team Won.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 14.—The opening match for the cups offered by the Taconic Polo club was played in this city between the Taconic and New Haven polo teams. It was won by the latter by 5 goals to 3½.

O'Keefe and Mellody Fought Draw.

HELENA, Mont., June 14. — Jack O'Keefe and Honey Mellody went twenty rounds to a draw here for the white welterweight championship.

Et Tu Brute and Autolight.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 14.—Et Tu Brute, at 1 to 3, and Autolight, at 9 to 10, were the winning favorites at Kenilworth track.

Will Erect New Courthouse.

TRENTON, N. J., June 14.—The supreme court has dismissed the proceedings instituted by Colonel S. D. Dickinson, secretary of state, to prevent the Hudson county freeholders from erecting a new courthouse in Jersey City.

Fatal Belt Accident.

NYACK, N. Y., June 14.—While repairing a belt in the factory of the Piermont Paper company here Antonio Macy was drawn into the machinery and crushed to death.

MAY PROVE FATAL.

When Will Plainfield People Learn the Importance of It?

Backache is only a simple thing at first;

But when you know 'tis from the kidneys.

That serious kidney troubles follow;

That diabetes, Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will gladly profit by the following experience.

'Tis the statement of a Plainfield citizen.

Robert Love, of 44 Duer street, member of the firm of Love Brothers, grocers, of 257 West Front street, says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for eight or nine years—pain across the back and a lameness over the kidneys. Colds always settled there and aggravated it. At last my back grew weaker and any heavy lifting or too much standing or sitting gave me additional pain. In the morning my back bothered me greatly until I moved about and took some exercise, when it became better to a certain extent. I doctored and used different kinds of so-called kidney cures, but it was throwing money away. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended in our paper, and, being in bad shape at the time, I got a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. Before taking half of it my condition was greatly improved and continuing their use all the pain left me."

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Mark Twain Sends His Portrait, Better Than the Original.

ST. LOUIS, June 14.—A letter from Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) at Florence, Italy, written prior to his wife's death, has been received by President Francis of the world's fair. In part it is as follows:

"It has been a dear wish of mine to exhibit myself at the great fair and get a prize, but circumstances beyond my control have interfered, and I must remain in Florence. Although I have never taken prizes anywhere else, I used to take them in school in Missouri half a century ago, and I ought to be able to repeat now if I could have a chance. I used to get the medal for good spelling every week, and I could have had the medal for good conduct if there had not been so much corruption in Missouri in those days. Still I got it several times by trading medals and giving boot. I am willing to give boot now if— However, those days are forever gone by in Missouri, and perhaps it is better so. Nothing ever stays the way it was in this changeable world.

"Although I cannot be at the fair, I am going to be represented there anyway by a portrait by Professor Gelli. You will find it excellent. Good judges say it is better than the original. They say it has all the merits of the original and keeps still besides. It sounds like flattery, but it is just true.

"I suppose you will get a prize because you have created the most prodigious and in all ways the most beautiful fair the planet has ever seen. Very well, you have indeed earned it and with it the gratitude of state and nation."

President Francis has received a letter from President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university conveying the information that an anonymous donor had given the university $5,000 "to be applied toward assisting deserving and needy students of Columbia university to visit the Louisiana Purchase exposition during the summer vacation."

About 150 representatives of the National Association of Managers of Newspaper Circulation have arrived and were welcomed by a short address from President Francis.

Killed His Stepgrandfather.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., June 14.—In a free fight at Brands Springs, near the Walton county line and Gwynette county, near Logansville, Bert Smith shot at his antagonist, James Weathers, and, missing his aim, killed John L. Smith, a prominent citizen of Gwynette county. Smith and Weathers began the fight with fists, both being knocked down twice, when Line Braswell came to the aid of Weathers, whereupon Smith drew his pistol and shot, killing John L. Smith, his stepgrandfather. He then fled.

Cannon Found Guilty.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 14. — After having deliberated for less than an hour the jury in the case of Charles K. Cannon, on trial here charged with a serious crime by a thirteen-year-old girl, brought in a verdict of guilty. He was immediately handcuffed and removed to the Hudson county jail, where he will be detained pending the argument of an appeal. The maximum penalty for the crime of which Cannon was found guilty is fifteen years. His lawyers immediately filed notices of appeal.

Found Son a Prisoner.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 14.—As the first news from her son Joseph, whom she has not seen for a quarter of a century, Mrs. Rebecca Van Note of East Haven has received word of his arrest at Belford, N. J., to await the verdict in an inquiry into the death of his wife, whose body has been picked up off Fort Totten, New York. Mrs. Van Note says that her son left his parents' home at Point Pleasant, N. J., over twenty-five years ago, shortly after the death of his first wife.

Capstan Two Thousand Years Old.

ROME, June 14. — Signor Giacomo Boni, the archaeologist who is directing the excavations of the forum, has found a heavy capstan with eight fixed levers of wood. The wood is perfectly preserved, while the iron fixtures have become oxidized. This discovery is considered of the greatest importance as being the first known mechanical contrivance dating back 2,000 years.

Another Perished With Streavig.

CAPE MAY, N. J., June 14.—The clothing of a man who hired a bathing suit has been found in a bathhouse here, indicating that another person in addition to Editor Streavig of the Cape May Wave was drowned while bathing Sunday. The identity of the second man has not been established. Neither body has been found.

Dead Man's Money Missing.

SANDY HILL, N. Y., June 14.—Noel Labirge, aged sixteen, was found in a vacant lot near the railroad tracks here with his skull fractured and died a few hours later without recovering consciousness. Labirge attended a party Saturday night and at that time had some money in his possession, which is missing.

Eminent British Surgeon Here.

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—Accompanied by Dr. J. William White of this city, Sir Frederick Treves, the eminent English surgeon who operated on King Edward before the coronation, has arrived here over the Pennsylvania railroad. Sir Frederick has been on a tour through the west.

Insurrection In Argentine.

BUENOS AYRES, June 14.—An insurrection has broken out in the province of San Luis, and the governor has been imprisoned.

FIGHT FOR CONTROL

Democratic Convention In Session at Springfield.

SCHEME TO DEPOSE HOPKINS.

Adherents of Mayor Harrison of Chicago Are For Williams of Illinois For President—Battle Will Be Three Cornered.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 14.—Followers of John P. Hopkins of Chicago, chairman of the Illinois Democratic central committee, provoked at an attempt by adherents of William R. Hearst to secure control of the central committee when the Illinois Democratic convention convened here today, made an attempt to force Mr. Hearst to forego an instructed delegation to the national convention.

The state central committee selected Frank P. Quinn of Peoria as temporary chairman of the convention. It is thought that Quinn's appointment will be made permanent.

The fight for control of the state Democratic machinery has placed the complexion of the state ticket in the background for the moment.

Hearst adherents purpose, it is said, to depose Mr. Hopkins and to place Millard Dunlap, Hearst's Illinois campaign manager, at the head of the Illinois Democratic machine.

At every recent state convention an attempt has been made to depose Chairman Hopkins, but each attempt has failed dismally.

At present friends of Hopkins think that Hearst, in view of his enmity to Hopkins, should be content with an indorsement by the convention. Adherents of Hearst, however, believe that they will be able to control the convention at all stages.

The fight in the open has begun, and a temporary chairman is being selected. Hopkins partisans hold that the party constitution gives the state central committee the right to select a temporary chairman. This constitution and the particular plank in which the Hopkins people take such pride were written by the men who are now managing the Hearst campaign when they were in control of the party machinery.

The writers of the constitution now say that the convention is sovereign in itself and that the plank was not intended for any such use as that to which the Hopkins adherents now desire to put it.

Frank J. Quinn of Peoria is Hopkins' choice for temporary chairman.

Adherents of Mayor Carter H. Harrison of Chicago are for Congressman Williams of Illinois for president. This makes the fight three cornered. Hopkins and Hearst followers now admit that they are not sure how many delegates each secured at the primaries.

It is not known whom Hopkins wants for president except that he has opposed Hearst.

Women's Congress at Berlin.

BERLIN, June 14.—The women's congress here was addressed by Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman of New York on "The Better Marriage of the Future." Later Countess von Buelow and Countess von Posadowsky-Wehner received the delegates of the congress in their gardens, which adjoin each other. Countess von Buelow reverently kissed the hand of Miss Susan B. Anthony when she was presented. The chancellor talked at length with Fraulein Helene Lange on the objects of the women's movement in Germany.

May Avert Mrs. Valentine's Doom.

TRENTON, N. J., June 14.—Gustavo Tosti, the Italian acting consul general, has visited the executive department regarding a further reprieve for the Valentine woman. A petition has been filed for another hearing by the board of pardons on the question of commuting the woman's sentence to life imprisonment. The opinion prevails that the reprieve will be granted and that the execution of Mrs. Valentine will not take place here tomorrow.

In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Demorest.

LONDON, June 14.—Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson of New York gave a large dinner here in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Demorest of New York at which were present United States Consul General Evans and Mrs. Evans, Sir Thomas Lipton, Hamilton McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Travis, Lord Fairfax, Mr. and Mrs. James MacDonald, Morton F. Plant and many others.

Edwin D. Worcester Dead.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Edwin D. Worcester, secretary of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, is dead at his home here of heart failure. Mr. Worcester was born in Albany in 1828 and had been in the service of the New York Central since 1853.

Lawyers Refused Reinstatement.

TRENTON, N. J., June 14.—The supreme court has denied the application of Horatio N. Barton of Trenton and John Harris of Camden for reinstatement as members of the New Jersey bar. Both were disbarred some time ago for improper practices.

Princes of Bavaria For St. Louis.

BERLIN, June 14.—Prince George and Prince Conrad of Bavaria have left for New York incognito. After visiting the St. Louis exposition and some of the leading cities of the United States they will continue their journey around the world.

David Porter Wins Rhodes Prize.

Dear Chief Doane: Honestly this is Flag Day. Don't you think that banner in your custody would look well at the top of the city flag pole?

One hundred and twenty-seven years ago today, the Stars and Stripes were first raised as the National emblem. Unfurl the flag and congratulate yourself on being under its mighty protection.

Note for Trenton newspapers:—The Westfield baseball team is able to sit up and notice things. — Westfield Standard.

And the Westfield team sat up and watched the umpire rob Plainfield of victory.

Advertisers have many diverse ideas, though virtually all agree that newspaper advertising is the best and, measured by results, the cheapest. Some use posters also, but one prominent merchant says that "men who lounge about long enough to take in a poster have more leisure than money." Another expresses the same idea by saying that "most men who have money to buy things are too busy with their own affairs to study bill posters."—Ex.

No doubt it will be a rub against the grain, but for the sake of the sport the Alis Club should not allow Saturday's robbery to be a means of putting an end to the series between its crack nine and the Westfield aggregation. In the name of true sport let the remaining games be played. Plainfield is thoroughly in sympathy with the Alis Club in its contention, but nevertheless it wants to witness some more of the article of ball that the local nine has been putting up this season. It is too late now to arrange other games and even if this could be done there would not be the same spirit of rivalry exhibited in the contests. Alis has an opportunity to show its sportsmanlike spirit, after having been the victim of a ten man team, including Umpire Kennie, and by all means let it take advantage of that opportunity.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

Herbert Perry, of the borough, has resigned his position at the Aluminum Press Company's works.

Thomas Keefe, who has been living in Jersey City for the past three months, will again take up his residence in this city.

Joseph Krewson, of the Manganese Steel Safe Company's plant, is working on a vault at the Fisk Banking House in New York.

Dick O'Neal, of the Aluminum Press Company's works, has been transferred from the erecting department to the lathe gang.

William Staggard, of the borough, has returned to his position at the Aluminum Press Company's plant after a few weeks' sickness.

Arthur Caleen, who has resigned his position at the Aluminum Press Company's plant, has taken a position as clerk at Edward Laing's store.

It is rumored among the shop men that Dick Waldron, an apprentice boy in one of the West End shops, has sailed for Paris on a cattle steamer.

Ben Snyder, a former employe at the Potter Press Company's plant, has returned to his home in Brooklyn after a few days' visit with friends here.

The strike of the machinists on the Santa Fe system will be materially aided by calling out 300 boiler makers and 100 blacksmiths employed by the road.

Parrick Harrington, of West Fourth street is seriously ill at his home. Joseph Higgins has been selected from the Foresters' lodge to stay with the sick man all night.

A trolley car, carrying a large number of the employes of the Aluminum Press Company's plant, who reside here, ran off the track at Dunellen last night. The men were fully an hour late in getting home, causing not a little excitement in some of the families. Manager Walters, of the West End baseball team, was motorman on the car.

Vice Chancellor Reed has filed an opinion granting a limited injunction against the defendants in the suit brought by the Vulcan Detinning Company against the American Can Company. The injunction restrains the defendants from divulging a trade secret of the complainants to any person not now in their employ, or from giving any further instructions regarding the secret of those who are in their employ.

Refrigerator Talk.

For some time back we've been telling you about "Jewett" Refrigerators—what we thought of them, how many we sell, how they are made, why they were better than others, etc. Now we're going to let you see what other people think about them. Read the following:

New Brunswick, N. J., June 8, 1904.

WOODHULL & MARTIN,
Plainfield, N. J.

Gentlemen:

The John C. Jewett Manufacturing Co. has written me, in reply to information that I wrote concerning their make of refrigerators, that you sell their complete line exclusively. I have used one of their make for fifteen years in Ohio, and upon moving east sold the same and no other make will answer. Will you kindly give me the prices of Nos. 135 and 136. Thanking you for the courtesy of a reply, I beg to remain,

Yours truly,
D. W. GAMMELL.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

The Children's Day exercises that were held in the Dunellen churches by the Sunday-school pupils on Sunday, were well attended. The exercises in the Presbyterian church were held in the morning at the usual hour for preaching services. The following little ones carried the programme through in good order: May Ross, Ethel Morrison, Jeroldine Dunham, Meta Pennock, Violetta Staples, Edith Hamilton, Edna Vail, Mamie Schneider, Edna Baldwin, Willie Dunham, Allen Fredericks and Ruth Voorhees. The pastor, Rev. W. W. Casselberry, talked to the children for a short time, after which he baptised Margaret Caskey, daughter of George Caskey and Ralph Carman, son of Mrs. Anna Carman. The Methodist children held their exercises in the evening. The church was very prettily decorated and the programme was well carried out. Following is a list of those who took part: Sophie Voggel, Hazel Runyon, Gertrude Colby, Ethel Tinsman, Myrtle Smith, Edna Shiverly, Florence Cutting, Daisy Titus, Jessie Stites, Etta Belle Whelprey, Viola Bowlby, Carrie Harvat, Lila Stites, Sarah Hill, Anna Mareinschank, Bessie Jacobs, Jessie Stites, Horace Titus, Stephen Mitchell, Horace Williams and Willie Vogel. The pastor, Rev. S. K. Doolittle, gave a short talk, his subject being "Yes and No," after which the school sang the closing selection and the benediction was pronounced.

The report that appeared in another paper yesterday afternoon to the effect that the item which was published in The Press of Saturday, telling of the resignation of Miss Martha Whitenack, a teacher in the Lincoln Avenue School, was untrue, is incorrect. Miss Whitenack has secured a position in a school in Bayonne, and tendered her resignation to the Dunellen Board of Education on Thursday of last week.

At the commencement exercises of the Piscataway township schools, which will be held in the New Market First Baptist church tomorrow evening, the following graduates will receive their dilpomas, Miss Mary Naylor, of Lincoln; James Harris, of Harris Lane, and Frank Smalley, of Stelton. On Thursday evening a graduates' reception will be held at the home of Joseph Naylor in Lincoln.

Miss Louise Doolittle, who is supervising principal of the public school kindergarten classes in Newark, and Miss May Apgar, a teacher in the Lincoln School at Westfield, both well-known young women of the borough, will leave on July 2 for Europe, where they expect to spend the remaining summer months. They will sail from Philadelphia on the American line steamer Westerland.

Mrs. Louis Tinsman, who has been acting as a nurse during the illness of her niece and nephew, the children of John Tinsman, during their illness with diphtheria, was taken sick yesterday and her case was pronounced as diphtheria, but it is in a mild form. Her niece, Helen, died with the dreaded disease Saturday night.

The body of Isaac Titsworth arrived from Denver, Colorado, yesterday. Rev. L. E. Livermore will conduct the funeral services, which will be held from the home of L. T. Titsworth at 452 West Fifth street, Plainfield, at 3:30 this afternoon. Interment will be made in Hillside.

Mrs. Louis Tinsman's illness has become suddenly so much more serious than was at first expected, that a trained nurse was called in at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, to care for her between the visits of her physicians, Drs. Brakely and Platt.

The fourth grade and eight grade scholars of the Whittier School will give an entertainment in the Presbyterian church this evening. The programme will begin at 8 o'clock.

The Dunellen Silver Leaves went to Bound Brook on Saturday morning and were defeated by the St. Joseph's team of that place by a score of 7 to 1.

Some mean hearted thief stole a porch chair from the piazza of Charles Ross's home, on Main street, Saturday night or Sunday morning.

Mrs. W. P. Luckhurst and son have returned to their home in Perth Amboy, after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Stites.

Charles Adams, of Philadelphia, spent Saturday and Sunday with George Schenck, of Front street.

Herbert Richardson, of Stamford, Conn., is visiting at the home of James Craig on Front street.

Mrs. Bernard Siriski is entertaining Mrs. Massig and her daughter, Miss Mamie, of Elizabeth.

Mayor Wyckoff and family spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Catasaqua, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blanck, of Long Island City, are visiting Ernest and John Peters.

Miss Annie Selvitch has returned home after a visit with friends in Elizabeth.

William Herlich went to Martinville yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Children's Day exercises at both the Baptist and Methodist churches were held on Sunday, the Baptist school holding theirs in the auditorium of the church at 3 o'clock, while the Methodist exercises were held in the evening at 7:30. At both services interesting programmes of recitations, songs, responsive reading and addresses were enjoyed by large audiences, who gathered to observe the day with the children. Rev. Mr. Frances, of Westfield and Rev. Mr. Mulford, of All Saint's Episcopal church, made pleasing addresses at the exercises of the Baptist school. A pleasing innovation here was the introduction of a number of sweet-songed canary birds, which were placed about the room. The songs of the children enthused the birds, and an informal programme was rendered by them in their sweetest notes, the effect being a novel as well as pretty one. The floral decorations at both churches were tasty, a charming effect being obtained by banding of daisies and other white flowers against a background of green leaves and ferns.

Manager Denman claims Scotch Plains' ball team is not playing fast enough ball for the Westfield team. For that reason he will be unable to arrange any more games with the locals. Mr. Denman forgets that first inning in the game at Mount Ararat, when the local team scared Westfield stiff, the score at the close of the inning stood, 3 to 0. Another reference: Westfield, 10; Garwood, A. C., 0; Scotch Plains, 14; Garwood A. C., 0.

Rev. G. M. Shott is attending the Baptist Young People's Union State convention being held today in Peddie Memorial church, Newark. Mr. Shott goes as a delegate from the local Union.

George Vanderbilt, who has been unable to work for a week on account of a badly sprained wrist, returned Monday to his position with the Hall Signal Co., Garwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Robison, of New York, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. Robison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Robison, of the borough.

The Newark A. C. team, which is to cross bats Saturday with the locals, is playing a fast game and is meeting the crack teams of the metropolitan district.

John Edwards, who was recently appointed a special officer, has begun his duties, being out Saturday night and Sunday for the first time.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Parks, of "Homedawn," have been entertaining Judge James D. C. Cleaver and wife, from Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dobbins, of Kearney, N. J., have been visiting Mr. Dobbins' mother, Mrs. Ann Dobbins.

Joseph Schwalbach has resigned his position with the Central R. R. Co. at the roundhouse at Dunellen.

William Borkowsky, formerly of the village, but now of Westfield, has been visiting friends in town.

Fanwood Council, R. A., holds its regular semi-monthly meeting in the Library rooms tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sharp, of Front street, are entertaining relatives from New York.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

A particularly pleasing part of the Children's Day anniversary at the Baptist church Sunday evening was the recitation entitled "Where the Birdies Make Their Nests," spoken by Marian Bigley, five years of age.

Miss Josie Martin and Miss Grace Stevens, of North Plainfield, have returned home after spending a few days with Mrs. M. W. Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Long and daughter, Ada, took dinner last night with Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Payne.

Charles Randolph had the misfortune to cut off the end of his thumb recently.

William Hamilton visited his mother at Perth Amboy, Sunday.

Want Dunellen Streets Sprinkled.

Negotiations are in progress looking to the sprinkling of North avenue, Dunellen, by the trolley company, during the present summer. Howard Bird, the real estate man, has discussed the question with a representative of the Public Service Corporation, and it is probable that a proposition will be made by the latter concern to do the sprinkling if the borough will pay for the water.

Walter Darby to Wed.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Walter Darby, of Alton, and Miss Jennie Drake, of Westfield. The event will be celebrated in the Presbyterian church, Westfield, Tuesday night, June 21, at 7:30 o'clock.

OUTWIT RUSSIANS.

Japanese Made False Retreat to Outflank Enemy.

CZAR LOST EIGHT HUNDRED MEN

Driven Back by Japs to Kaiochau After Having Fallen Into a Trap Near Pulantien Russians Were Again Defeated.

LONDON, June 14.—A Newchwang report says that information has been received through a reliable channel that part of the Japanese force left at Pulantien to checkmate the Russians southward movement to relieve Port Arthur was attacked southeast of Shungnmao.

After slight fighting the Japanese made a false retreat, the Russians hotly following them, when the Japanese made a flank movement, catching the Russians in a trap. The Russian losses are placed at 800 men.

They then fell back on Kaiochau and began to retreat along the Balmatgutsaichou road.

About 2,000 Russian infantry from Kaiochau passed through Newchwang in the morning, accompanied by a large supply and hospital train. Several carts contained bandaged men. The troops appeared to be fagged out and showed every indication of a long, forced march.

The officers refused to furnish any information, but a noncommissioned officer said that all the troops were retreating from Tsaichou. Before he could say anything further he was reprimanded by a captain. Stragglers are closely watched by noncommissioned officers to prevent them from talking.

The Russians have abandoned the ground mines eight miles south of here.

A native messenger just in from the Russian camp east of here reports that there are many wounded men there.

A Liaoyang report says that the Russian army is increasing rapidly, a fresh squadron arriving daily. The officers and men there are very enthusiastic over the driving back of the Japanese on the road between Fengwangcheng and Haicheng.

Only a comparatively short distance separates the Japanese and Russian armies, and the soldiers are all anxious for active operations to begin.

A Chefu dispatch says that according to the captain of one of the Japanese cruisers blockading Port Arthur the Russian cruiser Novik has been out of the harbor on several occasions hunting Japanese destroyers. The captain thought that the obstructions at the mouth of the harbor prevented the exit of the larger Russian vessels.

According to the Japanese the Russians have three submarine boats which have presumably been put together at Port Arthur since the beginning of the war.

The reports of continuous skirmishing along the railway south of Vafandien are taken to show that the Cossacks are keeping the Japanese busy in protecting their rear. While heavy fighting is not regarded as being imminent, a more or less severe brush with the enemy is likely at any time.

Tokyo advices say that the recent Japanese bombardment in the vicinity of Kaiping, south of Newchwang, caused Russian forces to the number of 3,000, with twenty guns, to evacuate Yinkow.

Two men who were taken prisoners by the Japanese report that two Russian regiments, numbering in all about 5,000 men, arrived recently at Manchalin, Vafangow and Vafangtien. The prisoners say also that large numbers of Russian troops are coming south from Mukden.

A detachment of the fleet has bombarded and dispersed two companies of Russian troops who were on Kaiping point. Another detachment of the fleet bombarded the enemy for two hours near Yingchintsu and Tsantiakiao, inflicting much damage upon them.

Liaoyang reports say that the Japanese are fortifying Laodun and along the railway from Pulantien to Tandmafan. Japanese scouts are constantly skirmishing with Russian cavalry south of Vafandian. A strong advance guard is occupying Siuyen, which is being fortified. Japanese scouts have been seen at Haicheng and on the Kaiping road.

General Kuroki remains at Fengwangcheng, where the fortifications have been strengthened.

A Liaoyang dispatch says a Russian correspondent and two officers who escaped from Port Arthur have arrived there. They say that for four days they were crawling through the Japanese lines, the Japanese having picketed all roads at intervals of fifty yards. The fugitives traveled mostly at night and kept to the hills. They were greatly exhausted. They caught a hospital train leaving Vafandian, which also brought a number of men wounded in skirmishes along the railway. The refugees say that Port Arthur is well provisioned, the merchants having managed to get in large quantities of supplies before the railway was cut.

White Star Follows Cut.

LONDON, June 14.—The White Star line announces a cut to $12.50 in third class fares for steamships sailing from Liverpool to New York, the same as the Carpathia and the Aurania of the Cunard line, which has cut the steerage rate to these figures.

Boy Violinist to Tour America.

LONDON, June 14.—Daniel Frohman has signed a contract with the boy violinist Franz von Vecsey, who has this year been the sensation of London and the continent, for a four months' tour of the United States.

FROM RAISULI'S CAPTIVE.

Trenton Lawyer Receives a Letter From Ion Perdicaris.

TRENTON, N. J., June 14.—Lucy T. Hannum, a Trenton lawyer and the legal representative in this country of Ion Perdicaris, who is now held in captivity by Raisuli, the Morocco bandit, has received a letter from Mr. Perdicaris written from his place of captivity.

Mr. Perdicaris in his letter goes into the details of his capture and tells about having been obliged to ride horseback about twenty-four hours. During the riding he fell from his horse and hurt his thigh. Mr. Perdicaris takes a rather humorous view of his unpleasant predicament and says that outside of the detention and some inconvenience he is being decently treated. His nephew, Cromwell Varley, who resisted capture, Mr. Perdicaris says, was rather roughly handled.

Mr. Perdicaris said that he thought at first that he would be either starved or tortured, but that in this he was mistaken and that his captor merely desires to secure the release of certain prisoners taken from among his people and to get $70,000 ransom money demanded.

Mr. Perdicaris says he is in daily communication with his wife and that he and Varley are allowed a tent to live in.

Nan Patterson Indicted.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Nan Randolph Patterson, until recently a member of the sextette in a western "Floradora" company, has been indicted by the grand jury, charged with murder in the first degree in the case of Frank T. Young, better known as Caesar Young, a bookmaker. This action forestalled the coroner's inquest, and the proceedings before the coroner were in consequence merely perfunctory. Before Mrs. Patterson learned of her indictment she was taken from the Tombs to the coroner's court in order to be present at the inquest. When she arrived in the Criminal Courts building and heard of the indictment she collapsed, and Coroner Jackson, who is a physician, was called to attend her.

Colonel Edgerton Is Dying.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 14.—Lieutenant Colonel Wright P. Edgerton, professor of mathematics in the Military academy, is lying at the point of death with an affection of the heart, and as a result all social functions in connection with the graduating exercises will be canceled. Colonel Edgerton has been stationed here for twenty years, during six of which he has been a professor. Secretary Taft, General Chaffee and Sir Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador, have arrived to review the corps of cadets.

Bank Officers Pleaded Not Guilty.

TRENTON, N. J., June 14.—Albert C. Twining, cashier; G. H. Kroehl, president, and David C. Cornell, one of the directors of the Asbury Park bank that was wrecked some time ago, pleaded not guilty to charges in the United States district court here. Twining and Kroehl were charged with making false reports as to the bank's condition, and Cornell was charged with certifying to the report.

MARRIAGE IN JAPAN.

ANCIENT CEREMONIALS STILL IN VOGUE EVERYWHERE.

Grooms of Twenty Usually Wed Maids of Sixteen—Engagements Are of Short Duration and Quite Informal.

Tokio (Japan) Special.

A Japanese marriage is essentially a business transaction, and its celebration is remarkable for a total absence of sentiment of any kind. There is nothing characteristic of a religious ceremony about it. It is regarded by all concerned merely as a civil contract; and the presence of a priest is deemed quite unnecessary even by the most devout worshipers of Buddha.

All preparations for a marriage are undertaken by the friends of both parties, and the couple themselves are about the last persons whose advice is sought.

The engagement which precedes the marriage is of short duration. Such a thing as an engagement ring is quite unknown. In its place the young man gives his betrothed a rich sash of colored silk. The giving of presents is quite a curious feature of the engagement. These are given so lavishly that when the time comes to set up housekeeping the young couple find their resources almost exhausted. A bride receives no dowry, but she is provided instead with a trousseau and the necessary household furniture. Embroidered silks take the place of jewelery, which latter is not worn by the women of Japan.

On the momentous day the bride almost conceals her face under a thick coating of paint, and, in company with the bridegroom and all relations, goes to have the marriage legally registered in the office of the kocho, or mayor of the town. The real celebration commences in the evening, when the wedding feast takes place. This feast is more like a dinner-party than anything else, its chief features being the changing of garments and the drinking of enormous quantities of a rice-wine known as sake.

When dusk is falling the bride is taken to the house of her father-in-law in a palanquin, escorted by a little procession

WHEN DUSK IS FALLING.
(Taking Japanese Bride to House of Her Father-in-Law.)

carrying Chinese lanterns The bride's relatives take their seats in one end of the principal apartment, while the bridegroom's friends sit opposite. The bride, dressed entirely in white, is led into the room by two richly-attired young girls. The bridegroom, who has already taken a seat in the middle of the room, makes no sign of recognition, but keeps his eyes fixed on the ground, while the bride seats herself opposite him. A table is then drawn forward, on which is placed a double-spouted kettle filled with hot sake.

Another table, loaded with eatables, is placed before each person, and the feast begins. The two girls who escorted the bride into the room hand cups of sake to the guests, who are expected to drain them to the dregs for luck.

After this ceremony the bride and bridegroom retire for a short time to change their costumes. When they return the two bridesmaids fill three cups with sake, and hand them to the bride and her parents-in-law. Three cups are imbibed by the father-in-law, who then gives the vessel to the bride. She in her turn drinks three cups, and receives a present from his hands. Another course, usually rice or fish, is now brought forward, and the bride goes through the same ceremony of drinking with the bridegroom's mother, afterwards receiving another present. A thin soup is then served, and three more cups of wine are drunk all round.

Then comes the great event of the evening. This is the almost sacred sake drinking by the married couple, which appears to constitute a kind of marriage service. The bridesmaids bring forward the double-spouted kettle and present it to the lips of the married pair. These drink alternately from it until its contents have been exhausted, the act being emblematical of the way in which they intend to share one another's joys and sorrows.

When the happy couple have partaken of the sake kettle the ceremony is at an end. So well versed are the bride, bridegroom and relations in their roles that the whole affair passes off quite silently. There is no confusion. Each person knows what is expected of him, and does it in a mechanical way that gives the proceedings an air of monotony. After the marriage the bride continues to live in her father-in-law's house; for it is an almost invariable rule that a wedded couple shall dwell during their first months of married life at the house of the bridegroom's father.

Some Women Who Paint

One Makes Miniatures of Cats and Dogs

A FEW American women have made a specialty of animal painting. The most distinguished is Matilda Lotz, not widely known in her own country because she lives out of it for commercial reasons, like so many other gifted American artists. Miss Lotz goes to Egypt in winter, among the native villages, where she paints camels, Kabyle dogs and other animals of that region. She comes nearer being a second Rosa Bonheur than any other animal painter at present living. She loves animals and casts a spell of friendship over them.

Another gifted American woman painter of animals is Georgia Timken Fry. Mrs. Fry makes a specialty of sheep, and many a lifelike painting of these animals has appeared with her modest signature in the corner of it. She has also made some vivid pictures of the vanishing remnants of the Navajo Indians in the southwest.

One woman who lives in Chicago has made her own the hitherto unoccupied field of animal miniature painting. She is Mrs. Eva Webster Russell. Her special branch of work is at present reproducing in miniature the animal pets of persons who desire portraits of their favorites. She has also painted numerous pedigreed prize winners. There are those who actually wear as brooches the painted miniature of a dog or cat for all the world as if it were the picture of a baby.

In the delineating of pet cats and dogs Mrs. Russell is unrivaled. She has naturally that first requisite of a successful animal painter, a genuine love of the animals themselves. To her they are a never ending study as well as a source of income. She finds that animals associated with human beings come in time to display human-like traits, as love, dislike, jealousy.

Dogs are notably jealous creatures, and once Mrs. Russell obtained the portrait of a dog she much desired to paint solely by working on his jealousy. Dogs and cats are the most restless of animals, and when you wish them to remain still dogs are as bad as cats. The dog Mrs. Russell wished to depict was an eminently tough subject. If she petted him he danced all over her; if she stopped petting him he slumped down and ceased to take an interest in things. He simply would not sit up and look alive.

Finally she began to paint the portrait of another dog in the lazy one's presence. That brought him to time instantly. He sprang up in a flash and from that moment was alive all over. It was as if he said to Mrs. Russell: "You shan't paint that other measly pup and leave me out. Here I am. Look at me!" After that the artist had no trouble in getting the portrait.

In general men want pet dogs, women pet cats, painted. Women seem to take to cats in preference to dogs, while cats decidedly like women better than men, probably on account of woman's softer touch and gentler ways. It could not perhaps be because of that old libel which says cats and women are alike, could it?

Mrs. Russell has painted President Roosevelt's terrier Jack. One of the best subjects the artist has had is Maxine Elliott's Boston terrier Sport. Unmistakably Sport shows what an advantage it is to be educated. He has been trained to appear in some of his mistress' plays and does what he is told. All that had to be done with Sport was to pose him upon a chair and tell him to stay there. Occasionally during a sitting he was petted, and something he liked was fed to him. Just to show he was appreciated because of being a good doggy.

One cat of noble blood, Lucy Claire, caught sight of her own partly finished portrait upon Mrs. Russell's easel and from that moment could not again be made to face it. Ella Wheeler Wilcox is a lover of cats and is the owner of three fine ones, of which Mrs. Russell has made miniatures.

Dogs have more vanity than cats. They are also more destructive. Some of the creatures painted by Mrs. Russell were so restless their pictures could only be got by snapshot photographs, from which the artist worked.

DORA BELLE DENISON.

GROUP PLAN OF BUILINGS OF THE "GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY."

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

MEN AND HAPPENINGS AT THE NATIONAL CAPITOL.

PLANS OF THE PRESIDENT

How the Chief Executive Proposes to Spend the Summer—A Scotch Gardener Who Dares Defy Congress.

Washington.—The "George Washington University" is to be the somewhat cumbersome title of the institution now known as the Columbian university, which is preparing for an enlarged sphere of educational usefulness by the purchase of a new site and the erection of new buildings in Washington.

For many years Columbian university has been one of the institutions of the national capital. It has been better known on account of its school of law than for any other reason, but some other of its departments have been doing memorable things in various lines of scientific research. The members of its faculty are men of national reputation and they have added the luster of distinguished names to the record of the university. It is now proposed that the undergraduate department of the university shall become more conspicuous and that the institution shall take rank among the great institutions of learning which hitherto have been magnets for the ambitious youth of the country.

In order that this mission may be fulfilled the name of the university will be changed, not because there is any inherent objection to the present title, but because of the confusion which necessarily arises between the Washington institution and the Columbia university of New York with older traditions and greater achievements.

The new site for the university is to be on the banks of the Potomac not far from the Washington monument and very near the place which Washington himself selected over 100 years ago as the site for the national university which he believed should have its home in the national capital. Washington set forth his ambition in several letters as well as in his will. His motive was one of patriotism rather than personal sentiment or local pride. "It is my ardent wish," he wrote, "to see a plan devised on a liberal scale which would have a tendency to spread systematic ideas through all parts of this rising empire, thereby to do away with local attachments and state prejudices as far as the nature of things would or indeed ought to admit from our national councils." To this university he planned that the youths from all parts of the union might be sent "for the completion of their education in all branches of polite literature, in the arts and sciences, in acquiring knowledge in the principles of politics and good government" and "as a matter of infinite importance in my judgment by associating with each other and forming friendships be enabled to free themselves in a proper degree from those local prejudices and habitual jealousies which carried to excess are never failing sources of disquietude to the public mind and pregnant with mischievous consequences to this country."

The Presidents Plans.

President Roosevelt expects to spend about two months at Oyster bay this summer, and the force at the white house are already planning for the flitting back and forth. The president will leave Washington about July 1, remaining here until the Chicago convention shall have done its work. Then he will go to Oyster bay for a month or so; return to Washington about August 1, which is the time usually set for the beginning of the active work of the campaign and remain here long enough to welcome visiting delegations and confer with party leaders. After that he will return to Oyster bay again for a stay of another month and come back to Washington as the weather begins to grow cool. He will receive the news of the election at the white house.

All this is giving the workers in the executive office a good deal of worry. A great quantity of office stationery, records and implements will have to be carried back and forth every time the president changes base and to effect the transfer smoothly and expeditiously will call for all the executive capacity which Secretaries Loeb and Barnes possess.

Secretary Cortelyou for years under McKinley and Roosevelt managed these presidential marches with a skill almost amounting to genius and Secretary Loeb thus far has displayed equal talent. But all the same he does not relish two flittings within a short time.

The president does not expect a great many people at Osyter bay. The facilities there for entertaining strangers are very meager and it is both the regard for his own comfort and for that of the people who wish to see him that he has decided to make his headquarters during a good part of the campaign right here in Washington.

Dares Defy Congress.

There is one reservation in Washington which is to all intents and purposes outside of the jurisdiction of the United States government. The National botanic garden just at the foot of the capitol where Pennsylvania avenue runs up against the capitol grounds, is presided over by William R. Smith, the superintendent, who is a law under himself.

Smith is a Scotch gardener with a pronounced burr, who got his early training in the Kew gardens in London and he has been in command in his little domain for so many years that members of congress, who are nominally his superiors, would not think of interfering with the old man's wishes. So it happens that with the exception of the white house grounds the botanic garden is the only public reservation in Washington which is now enclosed by a fence.

Years ago high iron fences surrounded every park and public place in the national capitol, but by order of congress they were taken down one by one. Congress finally landed on the botanic garden and somebody thoughtlessly considered in an appropriation bill a provision for tearing down the fence. Smith calmly ignored the law. When the officials came to him to carry the law into execution he ordered them off and informed them that so long as he remained superintendent of the botanic garden it was going to be inclosed by a fence as it had been ever since he was put into control. When congress came back they received the old man's ultimatum with amused tolerance and he received assurances that he would never be annoyed again.

But a few years later somebody else absent-mindedly inserted a second provision for tearing down the fence and again the canny Scotchman ignored the law of congress. This time the thing went so far that the members of the appropriations committee who were responsible for the slip came down to the botanic garden and apologized for their mistake.

The Botanic Garden.

There is no more interesting spot in Washington than this same botanic garden which Superintendent Smith guards so jealously. There is a flavor of old time about it which makes it different from any other spot and which the fond superintendent protects with all of his might.

Every tree in the place has a history. Most of them were set out by distinguished people to whom the old Scotchman has taken a fancy. One magnificent water beech was planted 35 years ago by John A. Bingham of Ohio, nearby it are two poplars, one of which was set out by Edwin Forest, the tragedian, the other by his friend, John W. Forney. The wife of Jefferson Davis dedicated one tree still standing when Davis was secretary of war. In short there are not many men who have gained great distinction since Smith has been superintendent of the gardens who have not been flattered by him with an invitation to plant a tree.

Of equal interest with the garden itself, as may be imagined, is the old Scotchman who is its presiding genius. Not only is he a horticulturist of rare devotion, but he is religiously attached to his national songster, Robert Burns, and he possesses the finest collection of editions of Burns' works which can be found in the United States.

To the mind of Superintendent Smith the greatest of all public men within his memory was William Pitt Fessenden of Maine. He ranks Fessenden on a level with Lincoln as one of the two men who saved the nation at the time of the civil war and he has a standing grievance against every other native of Maine because none of them has yet shown sufficient devotion to Fessenden's memory to write his life.

In Smith's mind the greatest achievement of the Maine statesman was in securing an appropriation for erection of the conservatories in the garden, which are the apple of Smith's eye. Fessenden was chairman of the library committee in the senate just at the close of the war. When Smith went before the committee timidly to get a small appropriation to begin the work, the Maine senator bluntly asked how much it would cost to complete the job and then insisted on making the entire appropriation of $35,000 at once.

Ideal Location
dale and Linden Cemeteries

LARGEST IN THE STATE
LINDEN, N. J.
utiful and Accessible
from Elizabeth, 7 Miles from Newark,
14 MILES FROM NEW YORK
On Main Line Pennsylvania Railroad
Why Lots in these Cemeteries commend themselves to Heads of Families and Investors
BECAUSE of the $1,000,000 Trust Fund provided for by the Trustees in each Cemetery, the income from which will keep the properties perpetually beautiful at NO EXPENSE TO LOT OWNERS.
BECAUSE such a guarantee, not found in any other cemetery, assures lot owners that the grounds WILL BE MAINTAINED PERMANENTLY AS BEAUTIFUL PARKS AFTER THE INCOME FROM THE SALE OF LOTS HAS BEEN EXHAUSTED.
LOTS SHOULD BE PURCHASED NOW
BECAUSE MORE ADVANTAGES ARE OFFERED TO LOT BUYERS in a new Modern Park Cemetery than in those established many years and, in most cases, no provision made for perpetual care without extra expense to lot owners. THERE ARE A GREATER NUMBER OF IDEAL LOCATIONS TO SELECT FROM, PRICES OF LOTS ARE ALWAYS LOWER AND TERMS MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.
BECAUSE life is most uncertain and EVERY ONE SHOULD ANTICIPATE THE INEVITABLE BY MAKING A CHOICE NOW OF A FINAL RESTING PLACE.
LOTS WILL PROVE A GOOD INVESTMENT
BECAUSE they are sure to increase in value and can be purchased NOW at the INITIAL or LOWEST PRICE and upon the most ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.
BECAUSE the properties are ACCESSIBLE TO 4,000,000 PEOPLE, and considering the RAPID GROWTH OF GREATER NEW YORK and its TRIBUTARY CITIES and TOWNS, it is only a question of a SHORT TIME when LOTS in ROSEDALE and LINDEN PARK will EQUAL IN VALUE those of our MOST NOTED cemeteries.
FOR INFORMATION concerning lots in these beautiful Park Cemeteries, and FREE transportation to prospective lot buyers, apply at once to any LEADING UNDERTAKER or offices of the Associations:

Rules of Precedence in the War Department at Washington Would Please a Russian Court Official.

Washington (D. C.) Special.

To be an elevator conductor in most buildings in the United States requires no especial intellectual qualifications. Not so with an elevator conductor in the war department at Washington. He is required to have a knowledge of rank and precedence that should enable him to seat guests at a state dinner at the white houst properly.

The New York Sun correspondent describes the way of it. The carriage of the secretary of war is sighted several blocks away. Word is immediately passed down the line and finally it reaches the watchman nearest the elevator. He rushes like mad to the electric button and presses three quick and fierce rings.

Quick as a flash the elevator descends to the basement as if the rope had suddenly been cut. It makes no difference who is in the car nor what floor it is at now how important the business of those aboard.. Down for the secretary it must go.

By the time Mr. Secretary gets to the shaft the car is waiting for him. Were the general staff on the floors above to ring all at once that elevator would not budge till Mr. Secretary was safely on the second floor.

Nor is the boy's task much simplified after depositing the civil head of the army in his handsome office. For instance, the lieutenant general and chief of staff wishes to visit the library on the top floor. One major general is ringing vigorously on the floor above. A brigadier general is ringing and swearing and threatening to have the boy fired on the floor above that, and so on.

Of course, the lieutenant general goes without stop to the library. On the downward trip of the car the brigadier general is passed for the accommodation of the major general going to luncheon with a senator.

Now the car goes rapidly back to pick up the brigadier general, who is in a hurry to join some friends. Just as it gets within one floor of the bottom with the brigadier general, the lieutenant general finishes his errand in the library and the button of the lieutenant general is pressed, and the already overworked little car again heads for the top of the building and gets the military head of the army, who gets out at the second floor, just as the secretary of war gets in to go up a few flights.

The brigadier general is on board all the time, mind you, and very hungry and very thirsty, for he knows the delightful repast awaiting him. Finally the secretary gets out and allows the elevator man to get the brigadier general to the ground floor, from which he speeds to the nearest cab call and vanishes for the day.

William Alden Smith, of Michigan, described the war department elevator in the house of representatives the other day thus:

"I want to say to this house that a representative directly from the people has no standing in the national capitol, in the estimation of these political cruisers. I know a department of this government where they have issued orders to the elevator man that whenever a bureau chief gets on the elevator he shall be promptly delivered to his floor, whether representatives ever are assisted to their destination or not. He may carry a representative in congress up and down the heights and depths of that building without stopping to let him off, no matter how urgent his mission; and they do not even allow him mileage for what he travels."

And as for the poor, little, everyday, ordinary government clerk in the war department, who does the real work of the department, and whose business is always more urgent than that of army officers, he presses the button with the same doubt that he drops a nickel in a chance slot machine in the hope of getting a cigar, knowing the chances are tremendously against him, yet filled with that natural desire to tempt fate.

Emperor Respects His Jaw.

The emperor of Korea has a tender regard for his royal jaw. While gorging himself at a feast in his palace, a little bit of bone came between his imperial grinders and one tooth was broken. The emperor promptly sent to prison his cook and the entire kitchen force. After a few months, a dentist appeared in Kingkitao, the capital, and he inserted an artificial tooth at an expense of about $500. The kitchen attendants were then set at liberty, but the chef must serve three months without pay.

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

M. H. Giles, of Park avenue, sells the finest cuts of meat to be obtained in the city. Fresh vegetables.

A great deal of praise has been bestowed on the work turned out by the Meissner Laundry. But not enough. It cannot be praised enough.

I. N. Wyckoff, the painter and decorator, of West Front street, is ready at all times to contract for papering and painting of all kinds. He guarantees satisfaction.

Noted for years as careful and painstaking executors of contracts, Woolston & Buckie have reached the pinnacle of trade fame in the painting business here. There is no better house anywhere.

Besides conducting a general express business and doing all kinds of moving, William Hand & Sons, of East Second street, maintains modern storage warerooms. The firm will be pleased to serve you at any and all times.

Henry J. Wierenga received a kick the other day, but it did not come from a customer as other truckmen's kicks usually come, it was a horse that broke a hitherto kickless record in the trucking business. If you want any carting done get him to do it for you.

A. M. Griffen, the hardware merchant, is making a special drive on refrigerators, lawn mowers, garden hose and all kinds of implements for the garden and farm. He also contracts to do first-class tinning, plumbing and sanitary work of every description at reasonable prices.

No, the report that W. W. Warnock had been talked to death in the great Westfield baseball riot last Saturday is not true and the many friends which his uniformly excellent bread, pies and cake have gained for him will rejoice to hear that he returned scathless from that frightful hot-air carnage.

Try to picture to yourself a merchant as anxious to sell the best specimen of any article in his stock, at a reasonable price, as most others are to get the best prices regardless of the quality and when your brain begins to reel under the awful strain. Go and buy something at J. W. Gavett's where you can see and talk to just that kind of man.

More and more The Fair is coming to be known as Plainfield's ideal store for feminine wear. Quality is found there as it is found in no other establishment here, and the prices are not built upon the fine quality of the merchandise. The price sale of The Fair is designed to save the buyer money at every stage of her shopping. Courteous salespeople make it a pleasure to shop there.

Woodhull & Martin's store is just brimful of attractive goods of the latest styles. The dress goods are pretty in design, guaranteed to give the best wear and the prices will compare favorably with those in New York. As for the housefurnishing goods you will find no better assortment anywhere and at low prices. This week the firm is holding a special sale of fine underwear and those in need of such garments can secure great bargains.

"The Highlands of Ontario for Your Holidays."

With the knowledge of what America has to offer the summer tourist and the rest and health-seeker, the thousands of summer travellers who spend their vacations in "The Highlands of Ontario," unhesitatingly pronounce the Muskoka Lakes region the ideal, the perfectly satisfying summer resort. Such an ideal is a combination of two features—primeval nature in a perfect bewilderment of beauty, charm and variety, along with the facilities for most of the modern necessaries and conveniences. In addition to these, the even temperature, the high altitude (1,000 feet above the sea), the health-giving ozone from pine, hemlock and fir, and the dark, soft waters of innumerable lakes, teeming with the gamiest of fresh water fish. What more has a weary, nerve-racked man or lover of nature to desire? Handsome, illustrated, descriptive publications will be sent free on application to Frank P. Dwyer, E. P. AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

William Latlerop has resigned his position at the Pond Machine Tool Company's works.

Robert York, of West Front street, has returned from a visit with relatives in Three Bridges.

John Fritts, who was injured at the Pond Machine Tool Company's works several days ago, is improving.

Jack Kelley, of the Aluminum Press Company's plant, has been transferred from the planer gang to the erecting department.

George Staggard, of the Aluminum Press Company's plant, has been transferred from the lathe gang to the drill department.

John "Plug" Kenny, a former employe at the Pond Machine Tool Company's works, has taken a position at the Garwood Foundry.

Although William McKinley, of West Front street, has taken a position at the Standard Oil Company's plant in Bayonne, he will still reside in this city.

William Laterette, of the Aluminum Press Company's works, has been transferred from the planer gang to the drill department. The planer gang is slack at present.

Edward Bowman, who has been employed at the Pond Machine Tool Company's works for fifteen years, has resigned his position. Mr. Bowman was in charge of the pattern storage room. He will be succeeded by George Martin.

John Dorgan, of Arlington avenue, is confined at his home as the result of an accident which he received while at work at the Central Railroad shops at Elizabethport, yesterday. While Dorgan was chipping out a brass plug, a chip struck him in the eye. The eye became so sore he was compelled to quit work. As brass is poisonous it is feared that blood poisoning will set in.

Fred Norway met with a painful accident while at work at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant yesterday. The young lad was setting up a job on the motor-driven planer, one of the large side heads turned on the swivel, catching his right hand between the upright, severing the index finger, and badly bruising two of the other members. The injury was dressed at the office of Dr. P. B. Cregar.

PERSONAL.

J. R. Martin, of Duer street, is entertaining out of town relatives.

Miss Ada Wilbur, of Fisher's Island, is visiting friends here for a time.

Miss Sadie Winckler, of Westervelt avenue, is entertaining Miss Goelin, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Tinsman, of South Orange, are visiting Mrs. J. G. Miller, of East Fifth street.

W. H. Combs, of Linden avenue, has returned from a visit to his son in Los Angeles, California.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Herring, of Park avenue, leave this week for Lake Champlain, for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stine, of Grandview avenue, have returned from a visit to relatives in Somerville.

Albertus W. Maxson, of Westerly, R. I., is visiting his brother, Prof. H. M. Maxson, of West Seventh street.

Jonathan C. Drake, formerly of Washington Valley, died at his home at San Jose, Illinois, on Friday, June 10.

Thomas W. Morrison, formerly editor of the Evening News, has been spending a few days with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Lewis, of Ashaway, R. I., are visiting Mrs. George H. Babcock, of West Eighth street.

Runyon Walker, formerly of this city, but now of Philadelphia, is visiting his brother, Robert Walker, of New street.

Miss Demarest, of West Fourth street, who was recently taken ill with typhoid fever, is at the hospital under treatment.

Gen. J. Madison Drake, the well-known Elizabethan, and family were the guests of Henry Rogers, at Highland Farm, Sunday.

Arthur Freeman, of Sandford avenue, who has been at Hotel Chamberlain, Old Point Comfort, for some time, has taken a position in New York.

Collector and Mrs. F. H. Smith, of West Fourth street, accompanied by Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Bentley, of Westerly, R. I., left yesterday for Troy, N. Y., where they will attend the graduation of John Bentley from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, which takes place this week.

ILLINOIS TO HEARST

Convention at Springfield Routed Harrison Party.

WAS CONTROLLED BY JOHN P. HOPKINS

Motion by Darrow Pledging Delegates to Hearst as Long as His Name Is Before St. Louis Convention Was Adopted.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 15.—The Democratic state convention here has nominated Lawrence B. Stringer of Lincoln for governor and instructed the delegates to the St. Louis convention to vote as a unit for William R. Hearst for the presidential nomination. The convention was controlled by John P. Hopkins, former mayor of Chicago and now chairman of the state central committee. Mr. Hearst's campaign managers, who attempted to ride into power by the aid of his name, received no consideration whatever from the convention.

The Harrison party, which came solely from Chicago and was pledged to the support of Congressman James R. Williams, was routed completely. Mayor Carter H. Harrison was unseated as a delegate and took a train for home without going near the convention. Both his faction and the Hearst party were as nothing compared to the strength and skillful management of the convention exhibited by Hopkins.

Frank J. Quinn of Peoria presided over the convention both as temporary and permanent chairman.

The report of the committee on credentials indorsing Mr. Hopkins' action and seating his delegates was put through under the gavel in spite of vigorous protests from the adherents of Hearst and Harrison.

Following this Judge William Prentiss of Chicago, a supporter of Hearst, took the platform and withdrew as a candidate for governor. He declared that he desired nothing from the convention, as it did not, in his opinion, represent the Democracy of Illinois.

Clayton E. Crafts of Chicago read the report of the committee on resolutions. He was frequently interrupted by hoots and jeers, and insinuating questions were hurled at him in profusion. The resolution providing for the indorsement of Mr. Hearst was not made a part of the report of the committee on resolutions, but was submitted to the convention as a separate matter. The original resolution provided practically that the Illinois delegation should vote for Hearst until it was convenient to vote for somebody else.

A substitute offered by Clarence S. Darrow pledging the delegates to Hearst as long as his name is before the convention was then adopted by a vote of 936 to 395.

Lawrence B. Stringer of Lincoln and Clarence S. Darrow of Chicago were named for governor. Mr. Darrow declined to run, and Mr. Stringer was nominated by acclamation.

Following is the full state ticket nominated: Governor, Lawrence B. Stringer of Lincoln; lieutenant governor, Thomas J. Ferns of Jerseyville; secretary of state, Frank E. Dooling of Sangamon county; state treasurer, Charles B. Thomas of McLeansboro; attorney general, Albert Watson of Jefferson county.

The delegates at large to the St. Louis convention are John P. Hopkins and Andrew M. Lawrence of Chicago, Ben T. Cable of Rock Island and Samuel Alschuler of Aurora.

John P. Hopkins will succeed himself as chairman of the state central committee.

Mayor and Marshal Failed In Duty.

IRONTON, O., June 15.—The special grand jury called to investigate the Hanging Rock labor trouble has made its report as follows: "We have investigated as fully as possible the recent shooting at Hanging Rock, and we have no hesitation in saying that the mayor and marshal of that village utterly failed to do their duty at the outset and during the trouble. We believe the circumstances existing in that village fully warranted the sheriff in calling on the governor for troops, and we commend both the sheriff and the troops in suppressing the lawlessness then existing in the village of Hanging Rock."

Cut Brings Undesirables.

NEW YORK, June 15.—According to the officials at Ellis island the present influx of immigrants includes an unusually large proportion of undesirables, a total of 243 out of 19,595 having been already ordered deported, while 650 are held in the detention pen awaiting final decision on their cases and 6,647 have been detained for various reasons and may be landed later. The recent cut in steerage rates is believed by the officials to have brought in a poorer class of immigrants, and all are being watched with the greatest care.

A Fake Insurance Game.

CHICAGO, June 15.—Charged with conducting a fraudulent fire insurance business, E. A. Shanklin and Stephen Wesley Jacobs have been arrested by the federal authorities. According to Postoffice Inspector Ketcham their operations have been on a large scale. The prisoners, it is charged, wrote insurance in the names of companies with which they had no connection whatever.

Run on South Framingham Bank.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., June 15.—The Farmers and Mechanics' Savings bank has experienced a slight run, the responsibility for which is placed by the bank officials upon the circulation of a nonsensical and false report regarding the condition of the institution.

FIGHT AT VAFANGOW

Japanese Opened With Heavy Artillery Fire.

RUSSIANS REPORT SEVERE LOSSES

Twenty Thousand Japs Tried to Outflank the Position, but Were Repulsed—Russian Officers of High Rank Killed or Wounded.

LONDON, June 15.—Advices from St. Petersburg say Emperor Nicholas has received the following telegram from Lieutenant General Baron Stakelberg:

"A battle began at noon around the Russian position four and a half miles south of the railway station of Vafangow, the enemy making repeated attempts to dislodge our left flank. The attack was repelled, and we retained our position.

"The first regiment occupying the left flank of our position sustained severe losses. Its commander, Colonel Khavastounoff, and Adjutant Sublieutenant Dragosiaff Nadochinsky were killed. General Gerngross was wounded, a shrapnel bullet shattering the right side of his lower jaw, but he remained on the field."

The Japanese artillery opened the battle with a heavy cannonade upon Vafangow, a station on the railway twenty-five miles above Kinchau. The fighting extended along the entire front, assuming the dimensions of a general engagement. Japanese troops numbering 20,000 tried to pass our flank, but were discovered. We changed our position, flanking the Japanese, and opened a heavy fire.

Lieutenant General Baron Stakelberg is reported to have been so seriously wounded in the leg as to require to have it amputated.

General Kuropatkin has reported as follows:

"The advance of two Japanese divisions was discovered northward from Pulantien. The advancing forces were observed to extend from the village of Vandchou along the valley of the Tassa, one division advancing by the Tassa valley. The enemy occupied the villages of Taotsiatung, Changtsiatung and Luitsiatung and the heights southward of Vandchou. After heavy fighting our detachments have taken possession of the pass and heights near the village of Luitsiatung."

A Tokyo dispatch says that while the Taihoku was engaged in laying mines at the entrance to Port Arthur a mine exploded, killing one officer and eighteen men and wounding two officers and seven men. The Taihoku, which is a naval transport, was not seriously damaged.

The officer killed in the accident was Lieutenant Commander Oda. He was the inventor of the Japanese mine and by his great activity and skill throughout the operations before Port Arthur had added largely to his reputation. The Taihoku at the time of the accident was under a heavy fire from the Russian forts and torpedo boats.

EIGHTY-SEVEN WARRANTS.

Charge of Murder Against Independence Dynamiters.

DENVER, June 15.—A hearing is to be given to C. G. Kennison, president of the Cripple Creek Miners' union, to test the legality of his arrest. The prisoner will be taken back to Cripple Creek for trial if the court finds that he was legally arrested.

Eighty-seven warrants are out for miners who are accused of complicity in the explosion at the Independence station and the rioting at Victor. These warrants have been placed in the hands of Undersheriff Felix O'Neil here and will be given to his deputies to serve.

Among those wanted are the following:

Sherman Parler, secretary of the Altman union, who was acquitted after having been held in the bull pen three months on the charge of having conspired to wreck a Florence and Cripple Creek train.

E. L. Whiting, secretary of the Engineers' union of Cripple Creek.

W. F. Davis, president of the Local Miners' union of Altman.

Fritz Gerry and W. B. Easterly, members of unions in the district.

It is said that some of the men for whom warrants have been issued in Teller county have left Denver for Butte, Mont., to avoid arrest and incarceration in the bull pen.

In each case the charge is murder, based on the explosion of Monday morning of last week at Independence station.

University Honors For Woman.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The first woman to obtain the degree of doctor of jurisprudence at the University of Chicago was presented with her diploma at the annual convocation exercises. She was Miss Sophronisba T. Breckenridge, a member of the Kentucky family which includes Congressman W. C. P. Breckenridge.

Divorced Woman Drew Pension.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Mrs. Martha M. Gray of Marshall, Okla., has returned to the government $1,247, which she illegally drew as a widow's pension. Though divorced from her husband, Miles B. Gray, after his death she applied for and received a widow's pension, which she continued to draw for eight years.

Chicagoan's Gift to Lexington.

LEXINGTON, Va., June 15.—The third day of commencement exercises at Washington and Lee university was devoted to the dedication of the new engineering hall, the gift of a Chicago gentleman to the university and which completed cost over $30,000.

Hereafter the word "American" will be used in the foreign service in place of the words "United States," an order to that effect having been issued by the Government. "What's the constitution among friends?"

Always leave something unsaid in your ad. Telling the whole story is not wise. Judgment is seldom influenced when you rob the reader of his natural desire to find out more about the article than is told in the ad. This desire to find out more often produces a sale.—Ex.

The disagreeable feature of Saturday's game between Alis and Westfield can be avoided in the future by making it a rule to have two umpires instead of one. Each team should be allowed to choose an umpire for the contest, and then the name of the man selected should be submitted to the other team for approval.

The Camden-Post Telegram is right when it says that Lieut. Col. Clime is entitled to the benefit of the doubt when he enters a bold denial of having made the rash utterances attributed to him at Company K's banquet. This is true from a legal standpoint. No man is guilty until a competent court adjudges him to be, and hence Col. Clime is entitled to be the benefit of the doubt for the present. Col. Clime is a "foxy" one, all right. He declares he said nothing which can be construed as a violation of the rules and regulations governing the State militia. He's correct there undoubtedly. So far as we can learn there is no specific rule or regulation covering such an offense.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Mary L. Force, of Duer street, went to Princeton by trolley, yesterday. She will visit friends and return Thursday.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Cornelius Schenck, of West Front street, returned home yesterday from Grand Rapids, Michigan, where they have been attending the General Synod of the Reformed church. On their way home they stopped at Niagara Falls.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Press Want Ads Pay.

—Michael Nevins, conductor on the local trolley, and Miss Mamie Edmundson, of West Third street, were married Sunday night by Rev. Father Egan. They are residing on Lee place.

—The public schools of the city will close tomorrow for the summer vacation. The commencement exercises will be held tomorrow night in the First Baptist church, and there will be the usual presentation of prizes, essays, address and orchestral music.

—D. F. Carrigg, the night ticket agent at the Westfield Station on the New Jersey Central, was recently indicted by the Grand Jury notwithstanding the fact that the company made no complaint against the young man in connection with the robbery of the station. He is out on $1,500 bail.

Scott Post Met.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., met last night, but onstide of making arrangements to attend the Department Encampment at Asbury Park tomorrow and Friday, nothing was done.

SOCIAL DIRECTORY "SNOBBY"

DEFINITION OF "ELITE" GIVEN BY SOCIETY MAN WHO PROTESTS.

It is impossible to publish all the communications received regarding the "social directory" about to be published in this city, but The Daily Press reproduces a letter received yesterday as a sample of the lot. This particular communication is from a well known "society man," who is known by his works. He denounces the scheme in these words:

Editor, The Daily Press:

It is to be hoped that the opinion of the common sense people of Plainfield, who really make it what it is, may be sufficiently aroused to put a quietus to the snobbishness which is back of the scheme of the "Social Register" with its absurd announcement of "reception days" and its advertisement of vanity. Such a result was accomplished quite easily in a former attempt to compile a "religious" census of Plainfield's inhabitants. Both of these schemes are equally insulting and belittling. The "elite" are those who attend quietly to their own business, make no show, pay their bills promptly, and support the charities of the place by annual subscriptions and not by attending social functions designed primarily to contribute pleasure to the participants. The "Social Register" of such can be found in the books of our tradesmen and in the reports of our institutions. Let us have an end of such nonsense. Common Sense.

The compilers of the volume telephoned The Daily Press this morning asking that the following statement be published: "We fully appreciate the feeling in Plainfield in regard to the drawing of class distinction. The present volume has no such object. It is simply intended as a substitute for the business directory which of necessity is more bulky and less suited for use in private houses than a book issued in compact form containing the full names of the entire household. This volume is in no sense a so-called 'elite' directory and is social only as distinguished from the business directory."

Missionaries Here.

Rev. and Mrs. Lewis Bond arrived in New York yesterday on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse. Mr. and Mrs. Bond have been missionaries in European Turkey under the American Presbyterian Board for thirty-six years. The last year has been a trying one, owing to the important part they took in dispensing relief to the Macedonian survivors of the massacres which occurred there last summer. They are now visiting their daughter, Mrs. Grove P. Hinman, 720 Kensington avenue.

Mrs. Randolph Silvers, of Elizabeth, a visitor at the Children's Home, was taken ill on Saturday and upon the advice of a physician, was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Gentlemen:

The John C. Jewett Manufacturing Co. has written me, in reply to information that I wrote concerning their make of refrigerators, that you sell their complete line exclusively. I have used one of their make for fifteen years in Ohio, and upon moving east sold the same and no other make will answer. Will you kindly give me the prices of Nos. 135 and 136. Thanking you for the courtesy of a reply, I beg to remain,

Miss Ella Boice is visiting in New York city.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The public school closes tomorrow for the summer vacation. As there is no graduating class this year, the usual elaborate exercises will not be held. The scholars and teachers meet in the assembly room at 1 o'clock, when the certificates of promotion to those scholars who have passed the examinations will be given out. After this scholars and teachers will bid each other a fond adieu and then vacation begins.

Now that the "hot air" over Sunday baseball seems to have ended, The Daily Press announces that the members of the Township Committee not only never guaranteed protection to Sunday baseball, but were never even approached about the matter.

Those whistles on the through cars are all right but some of the motormen seem to think they are to be used as a play thing. This is what brought forth the wrath of the public when the trolley company tried the whistle three years ago.

The local ball team will be up against a tough proposition in the game Saturday afternoon with the Newark A. C. team. Manager Hand's colts are playing a fast article of baseball, so the fans are assured of a good game.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D Shepard, of "The Gables," who have been staying for a short time in New York, have returned home.

The band concert tomorrow night in Plainfield? Well, I guess Scotch Plains will be there. This is the first of the season.

PYTHIAN MEMORIAL DAY

ALL ARRANGEMENTS ARE COMPLETED FOR HONORING DEAD MEMBERS.

All arrangements for the annual decoration of the graves of dead Knights of Pythias next Sunday were completed at a meeting of Crescent Company, Uniformed Rank, K. of P., last night.

The command will meet at the hall at 1 o'clock. Palestine Company, of Jersey City; Black Prince Company, of Brooklyn; Rathbone Company, of Brooklyn, and a delegation from Portchester Lodge will be present as Crescent Company's guests. Independen Fife and Drum Corps will furnish the music for the march.

The Knights will march from the hall to North Plainfield cemetery, from there to Plainfield avenue burying grounds and thence in stages to Hillside. From there the stages will convey the memorial band to the Scotch Plains cemetery, the last stopping place Supper will be served at the 'Plains.

William Young, Robert Gow and David Bowden are the committee for Crescens Company. W. N. Runyon, Robert Lee, William Feiring, John Cose and Aleck Muir form an auxiliary committee representing Perseverance Lodge.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—The Common Council will hold an adjourned session Friday night.

—Special trolley cars were operated between here and Westfield and on the Arlington avenue line, Saturday, on account of the ball games. The service was quite satisfactory, although on the main line some of the cars were not fit for use, the electrical gear being out of order.

Stallion Does Some High Kicking.

A frisky stallion belonging to James Underhill, of the valley, let himself loose in the shafts of a light wagon on Somerset street this forenoon, and kicked until the dashboard gave way. Then he fell in the shafts and smashed both of them. Mr. Underhill had a narrow escape from being kicked in the face.

CONFEDERATES MEET

Veterans of Southern Army Reunite at Nashville.

NOW HONOR ONE COUNTRY, ONE FLAG

"In Less Than Thirty-five Years Commercial Freedom Has Been Obtained For the South, the Garden Spot of This Fair Land."

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 15.—Under every condition tending to a successful reunion, Nashville has officially welcomed the United Confederate veterans and their friends, constituting a host conservatively estimated at 30,000 people. The exercises took place in the Tabernacle, and every bit of space was taken long before the veterans were called to order by General George W. Gordon of Memphis, commander of the Tennessee division.

It was the first convention in the history of the organization that the Sons of Veterans sat with their fathers. California was represented on the floor, from faroff Montana a delegation was sent and Ohio was on hand with four delegates.

After General Gordon had called the veterans to order, Chaplain Jones delivered the invocation. Governor J. B. Frazier welcomed the delegates to Tennessee in a splendid address. Twice he started to his seat only to be recalled. Governor Frazier said in part:

"When that grand, that patriot, that noble Christian soldier, General Robert E. Lee, surrendered at Appomattox he spoke with a heart too full for deceit, in that no southern mother swore her son to bitterness; she swore him to love and honor. All accepted the finality. When you saw furled for the last time the stars and bars you had followed for four years you sealed a solemn pledge that from that day on you would know but one country and but one flag.

"You came back to take up your old work, to build a new civilization, to redeem a land that had almost maliciously been given to the negro. In less than thirty-five years, unaided by anything except a fertile land and energy, you have attained commercial freedom for the south. The south has already snatched from New England the hitherto unchallenged record of cotton manufacturing. The south is destined to become the garden spot in this fair land.

"We welcome you to the warm hospitality and sunshine of the south, and if that is not warm enough, we welcome you to some of our good homes."

After Colonel A. S. Williams, mayor of Nashville, had extended the city's welcome, General Gordon brought forward General Stephen D. Lee as the permanent presiding officer and commander in chief. General Lee's appearance was the signal for a wild outburst of enthusiasm.

MASTERS SURRENDER.

Great Lakes Traffic Tie-up Is at an End.

CLEVELAND, O., June 15.—After six weeks of tie-up on the great lakes that has directly involved only a couple of thousand men, but indirectly more than 100,000, who have been idle because of its existence, a cessation was brought to the strike last night by the surrender of the masters, who, with the pilots, have been holding out for a more uniform scale of wages this season than was offered by the Lake Carriers' association, whose boats were most affected by the difficulty between the vessel owners and their employees.

The strike was declared off last night by Paul Howell, district captain of the Masters and Pilots' association, who gave out the following statement:

"The Masters and Pilots' association has concluded that it would be good policy at this stage of the game owing to existing conditions over which we have no control to advise our captains to go to work and make the most of a bad situation. Our mates will meet at the earliest possible opportunity and make arrangements along the lines of their own ideas and present them to the Lake Carriers' association for acceptance. In the meantime the mates will remain where they are until this arrangement is made and agreed upon by the two associations."

It is understood that the Lake Carriers' association will soon come to an agreement with the mates and that the full fleet of the Lake Carriers' association will be got under way within a very few days.

The Lake Carriers' association was willing to pay last year's scale of wages, but this was not agreeable to the masters and pilots.

The strike has been one of the most costly in wages and time lost and stagnation to business that has occurred in recent years.

Roosevelt Shows Mercy to Officers.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Executive clemency has saved two young officers of the army from dismissal. They are First Lieutenant Henry L. Harris, Jr., Twenty-second infantry, stationed in the Philippines, and Second Lieutenant Samuel H. Fisher, Twenty-eighth infantry, stationed at San Francisco. The court martials, however, united in a recommendation for clemency, and the president has commuted their sentences.

Land of Clover Got the Duke Cup.

BROOKLINE, Mass., June 15.—Robert C. Hooper of Boston, racing under the name of Mr. Chamblet, won the permanent ownership of the Duke cup with his champion steeplechaser Land of Clover at the opening of the three days' race meet at the Country club. Mr. Hooper himself offered the Duke's cup twelve years ago. Land of Clover was pushed so hard over the entire course of two and a half miles by Mr. Cottins' St. Jude, finally winning by a head, that the record made two years ago by Thomas W. Lawson's Filon d'Or was lowered a full second and now stands 5 minutes 1 1-5 seconds.

Hermis Takes the Brookdale.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Hermis, backed from 3 to 5 to 11 to 20, easily won the Brookdale handicap, one mile and a furlong, at Gravesend. Hermis' race was a public trial for the Suburban, and the Thomas horse was in great form, covering the distance in 1:52 4-5, which is within four-fifths of a second of the track record. Redfern sent Hermis to the front and, making all the running, won by two lengths from Dainty. Africander was third. E. R. Thomas bet $10,000 on Hermis. Reliable, carrying 140 pounds, won the first race easily. He was favorite at 13 to 10.

Jeffries Will Be Ready to Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—The managers of the Yosemite Athletic club, before which Jeffries and Munro are to fight on June 30, declare that there will be no further postponement and that if Jeffries is not in condition by that time he must lose his forfeit of $2,500 and the title of champion. Jeffries' trainers do not anticipate any further trouble with his injured knee.

Racing at Harlem Track.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The third race, a handicap, and the fourth, a condition affair, both at a mile, divided interest at Harlem. Felipe Lugo, "Lucky" Baldwin's American Derby candidate, started in the former, but finished outside the money, while Prince Silverwings, another American Derby colt, finished second to Miss Crawford in the latter.

Icewater at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 15.—Icewater, favorite; Big Ben, third choice, and Autumn Leaves, an outsider, finished noses apart in the feature of the Fair association's card. Big Ben led to within ten feet of the finish, where Icewater got up just in time to beat him in the last jump.

Jealousy Caused Two Deaths.

LEWISTON, Pa., June 15.—William E. Sheaffer, aged thirty-four years, shot and killed his mistress, Flora Wagner, formerly of Harrisburg, last night and then blew out his own brains. Inmates of the house say that the cause of the tragedy was jealousy on the part of Sheaffer. The latter, who was formerly a saloon keeper in Slingsville, O., came here six months ago with the woman. The Wagner woman had been corresponding with a man living in Three Springs, Huntingdon county, Pa., to which Sheaffer objected. She received another letter, and a quarrel followed, which ended in the shooting.

Found Dead In Hallway.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 15.—Julius Klotz, whose father was at one time the German minister to the United States, was found dead in the hallway of a State street block, where he boarded, in this city, at 9 o'clock last night. The other tenants of the block had seen him sitting there since late in the afternoon and had passed him carefully so as not to wake him, supposing that he was asleep. He had been dead all the time.

Italian King's Decision.

ROME, June 15.—King Victor Emmanuel has handed to the British ambassador and the Brazilian minister his decision as arbitrator between Great Britain and Brazil in the Guiana frontier question.

Killed Under a Tree.

GENESEO, N. Y., June 15.—Daniel Riordan of Piffard, N. Y., has been killed by lightning here while seeking shelter under a tree during a heavy storm.
